FOWLER'S APPEAL AGAIN LAID OVER IN COUNTY COURTS

Ex-Congressman's Son, Convicted of Drunken Driving, Granted Postponement

JUDGE DECLARES CASE MUST BE READY SEPT.

Another postponement was granted Charles N. Fowler, Jr., of 618 Salem avenue, Elizabeth, from a drunken driving conviction Monday morning by Judge Stein in Common Pleas Court. The appeal must be disposed of by September 15, the judge declared. Fowler, the son of ex-Congressman Charles N. Fowler, of Elizabeth, was convicted in Springfield by Recorder Spinning April 6. No further postponement will be permitted, the court ruled.

Fowler has been granted three postponements on statements of his counsel, Palmer Bradner, of Newark, since efforts were being made to secure another witness for the defense.

The defendant is making an appeal on the excuse that he was under treatment with a physician for two years, and that he was taking medicine, which the examining doctor, Dr. Henry P. Dengler, at the time of the arrest had evidently mistaken for liquor.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN INVITE JOHNSTON

Surrogate George H. Johnston, chairman of the Union County Republican Committee, will be the guest of honor on the outing August 12, of the Union County Women's Republican Club to Rye Beach, N. Y. The excursion, which will be made on the steamer Clermont is the first large summer event of its kind planned by Republican women of the county, and the first time that the women will have Surrogate Johnston as their guest.

Fully 2,500 members of the party and their friends are expected to make the trip to the playground on Long Island Sound. The steamer, the largest excursion boat in N. Y. waters, will leave the Recreation Pier, Elizabethport at 9.30 A. M. August 12 for the three hour sail to the beach. The return trip will start at 6 P. M. bringing the party to Elizabeth about 9 o'clock.

Surrogate Johnston accepted the invitation of the club to be its guest of honor when waited upon by a committee of club members composed of Mrs. Florence K. Simpson, President of the club and Mrs. E. M. Seaman and Mrs. W. T. Steele of Rahway; Mrs. W. W. Friberger, Mathilda Nanz and Mrs. Richard Glendonning of Union; Mrs. Florence B. Curtis of Hillside and Mrs. Hubert Austin of Fanwood.

Springfield's Water Coming From Original Source, Contrary To Rumors

(Exclusive SUN Story)

Springfield's water supply is coming from the old Short Hills pumping station, and not from other places, it was stated at a meeting of the Board of Health Wednesday night. Rumors have been circulated Springfield was getting water from some other place, and the Commonwealth Water Company to curb these unwarranted rumors, claims Springfield, is still getting the same water supply as it had prior to the sale of the old Short Hills Water Company to the Commonwealth company last year.

Secretary Robert D. Trent reported no communicable diseases for the month of July, as compared to 5 in June, 16 in May and 49 in April. There were, during July, four births and one death.

It was announced that the Board of Plumbing Examiners, consisting of Plumbing Inspector Harry C. Anderson as chairman, and Arthur L. Marshall and Edwin Lambert as the other members, will meet the first Thursday of every month on the second floor of the Municipal Building at 8 P. M., to examine applicants for plumber's licenses.

In answer to a request made by Mrs. C. D. Herster, chairman of the local Red Cross branch, as to when some definite action would be taken on providing an office for a local nurse, the Board informed her that it will be considered at the regular Township Committee meeting August 13.

An invitation was extended the board to attend the bazaar being held by Union, August 8 to 13, under the auspices of the American Legion Post 70, at that place, at which time and place notables from the entire state would be present, including Governor Larson.

A communication was received from the United Singers of Newark asking permission to discharge fireworks Labor Day, September 1, in Evergreen Park, for the 4th Annual German Day of the association, to be held on August 31 and September 1. The request was granted, since the president of the association, A. F. Prosch, promised the board that caution would be exercised while the fireworks were being exhibited.

St. James Church Summer Vacation School Holds Closing Exercises

The first annual Vacation School, held under the auspices of the Mt. Carmel Guild of the St. James Catholic Church, was brought to a close last Thursday afternoon with special exercises on the playgrounds adjoining the rectory in Morris avenue.

The school was held in connection with six other units, all under the direction of the Central Guild, and also included, Berkeley Heights, New Providence, Stirling, Short Hills, Summit and Union. Mrs. Kathryn M. Blake, of 32 Battle Hill avenue, recording secretary of the Mt. Carmel Guild for the entire district, was the local supervisor and was assisted by the Misses Belle Cardinal, Winifred Debbie, Anne Conley, B. McDonough, Anna Samantno, Virginia Warta and Katherine Blake, who also taught soap carving and splattered pictures at each of the seven playgrounds.

The program opened with the singing of "America," followed by a welcome address by Dorothy Blake. The entire school then sang a cheer song, to the tune of the "Stein Song," in which rousing ovations were given for the Rev. Thomas B. Larkh, rector of the church and his assistant, the Rev. John P. Duffy, as well as for Mrs. S. Miller of Short Hills, general supervisor of all the seven guild playgrounds, who financially supported each of the various recreation centers. The baby girls of the first grade then sang, "How Would You Like to Be a Baby?" and ten girls of the confirmation class sang "Jaunting Down the Lane," in which Mary McDonough and James Corby, each attired at little Irish boy and girl, portrayed the characters. The intermediate boys sang, "Humpty-Dumpty," and the boys of the baseball nine, gave a drill and sang a baseball song. The program closed with the singing of "God We Praise Thy Name!"

The awards to the members of the school for their participation in the different activities was next, and the following were the winners: for general excellence in the catechism class, Arthur Staehle, Dorothy Blake, Margaret Staehle, Rensley Pieper, Angela Sclossela; Lena Regorio, Rocco Samantno, Rose Salizzi and Clara Regorio; for soap carving and splattered pictures, Dan Staehle, Carol Gordon, Dorothy Mayer and Rocco Samantno; basket weaving and sewing, Dorothy Mayer, Dorothy Blake, William Lawrence and Anna Salizzi; for cut outs, John Corby, Junior Betelle; and Lena

Burton-Brownell

The marriage of Miss Lois Burton, daughter of the Rev. John S. Burton, former pastor of the Springfield Methodist Church, and Mrs. Burton, to Harold Brownell, of Rochester, N. Y., was held late Saturday afternoon at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, in Hacktettstown.

The Rev. Mr. Burton performed the ceremony, and the bride was given in marriage by her brother, John S. Burton, Jr., of Hacktettstown. Mrs. Ronald G. Paunell, of Springfield, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Dr. Frank Brownell, of Rochester, the groom's brother, was the best man.

Mrs. Ogden Brown, of Bellville, and Miss Ruth Winkler, of Plainfield, played the wedding march. The bride wore a gown of white satin and her mother's wedding veil of tulle capped with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of lilies. The matron of honor wore a green tulle and tulle with shoes and stockings to match. The house decorations were in lavender and yellow.

A reception for about 75 guests followed. The young couple are spending their honeymoon on a motor tour through the West, and upon their return, will reside in Rochester.

Does Anybody Know Where That Runaway Freight Car Went?

We have never heard mention of finding a needle in the haystack, or a collar button under the bedroom dresser, but does anyone know where a runaway freight car on the Rahway Valley R. R. went Wednesday morning, when it broke away from the end of a line of cars going into the Commonwealth Quarry Company, near Summit?

About 11 a. m., there was considerable commotion along the line. According to some witnesses, the car, which was empty, was a low carrier, and reached a speed of 50 miles per hour. Some say 60, and others said 70, and one witness exclaimed that the freight car had skipped an open switch, and kept on its way.

At any rate, no one knows where the car went, and the old timers say that no freight car had ever travelled so fast through Springfield, since the railroad was opened in 1906!

CHARGES HUSBAND WITH DESERTION

Mrs. Nina Hoernig, of 202 Morris avenue, filed a criminal complaint of desertion against her husband, George F. Hoernig, 32, a mechanic, in police headquarters yesterday morning. Hoernig has been missing since July 16. His wife filed a civil complaint of non-support and desertion on August 1.

She declared she was not pressing the complaint to take her husband back, but to force him to provide for her two small children, a boy and girl. Police are searching for the man.

The other officers, recording secretary, treasurer and corresponding secretary hold their positions for the year, and since the election was a semi-annual one, they are not to be installed.

POST OFFICE AIDE TO BE ADDED, IS REPORT OF HEAD

Postmistress Smith States Department's Growing Needs Requires Extra Help

ELECTRIC CANCELLING MACHINE IS INSTALLED

(Exclusive SUN Story)

The local post office force is to have an extra member soon, making the total of four, the Postmistress, Mrs. Belle H. Smith, stated yesterday. The increasing demands of the department necessitates that Mrs. Smith be made actual supervisor instead of clerk in charge, and that her present position be occupied by someone else.

The post office was granted an addition last November when James J. Deltz, of Berkeley Heights was put on, after he had taken first place in a civil service examination. Besides Mrs. Smith and Mr. Deltz, the third member of the force is Miss Anna Denman. She has been in the post office since 1920. An inspector was to have made a visit to the township the latter part of this week, to make arrangements with Mrs. Smith for the set of hours which the proposed four persons would work, but until this morning, he had not appeared.

A new electric cancelling machine was installed in the post office Tuesday, and is capable of cancelling 400 envelopes per minute by electricity, as compared to the hand method of cancelling only 30 per minute. An advantage of the new machine other than hastening cancelling is that it will print a clear impression upon every envelope. Since the local post office will not do 400 envelopes per minute for some time to come, the machine will meet the requirements for many years.

Miss Denman will have charge of the post office, beginning Monday in the middle of September. Mrs. Smith will commence a six weeks' vacation next week. She and Mr. Smith will spend next week at Ideal Beach, and will return home to prepare for a motor tour.

Scouts Start Week Vacation Tomorrow

Sixteen members of the local Boy Scout group, Troop 66, will start their fifth annual summer vacation for one week to-morrow at the troop's camp in Brookside. Scoutmaster Greenville A. Day, and Assistant Scoutmaster Edward J. Hoagland will have charge of the camp.

The program for the week is outlined as follows: Saturday, pitch camp in the morning open camp in the afternoon, camp fire at night; Sunday, Sunday School and church in the morning, welcome to parents and friends in the afternoon and evening; Monday, camp chores in the morning, investigation hike in the afternoon, and games at night; Tuesday, camp chores in the morning, and an overnight hike from Tuesday afternoon to Wednesday morning; inner troop rally Wednesday evening; Thursday camp chores in the morning, and a bee line hike in the afternoon; Friday, a baseball game in the afternoon with the Brookside boys and a regular weekly meeting at night; Saturday, break camp for home.

The troop will make final arrangements for the camp trip at a meeting in the James Caldwell School tonight.

The Baltusrol Building and Loan Association will meet Monday night at 7 o'clock in its headquarters in the office of the Lyons-Conley Company, at 277 Morris avenue, three doors west of the Post Office.

A DREAM

By Janet Reger

Last night I dream't the call of the sea. Came winging its way direct to me I wept as the waves resounding cried. As the winds o'erhead mournfully sighed. Pierced was my sorrow, as the shrill gull piped to his mate of a life not so dull. Changed he the meaning of life for me. Life that follows the paths of the sea. The uncharted spots where lives were lost.

To save a nation?—perhaps the cost. Fate, can't you send to the gull and me A partners' pass to sail on life's sea? To soar o'er the billows ceaseless roll, To mourn with the wind the human toll! What Fate foretells, no mortal may break— Dreams of the sea are all I may make! JANET-REGER, Morris Ave., Springfield, N. J.

WHEELER'S CIRCUS

WILL SHOW TUESDAY

Street Parade Is Feature of Combined Attractions

Another glorious page will be written in the amusement history of Springfield when the Al F. Wheeler's New Model Show give their spectacular exhibition on Tuesday, Aug. 12, in Mountain avenue opposite the R. V. R. R. depot.

This all new and different circus is now bigger and better than ever. Al F. Wheeler combined his own shows with those of Jethro Almond and Tiger Bill's wild west show, uniting Belmont's Wonderful and Wild Animal Arena, also Chief Running Elk's Indian Village, making one immense big circus under the Al F. Wheeler banner. It is now the greatest show of this modern motor-age.

This national organization is under the personal management of Al F. Wheeler, the circus veteran who was born and reared under the flapping canvas walls of a circus tent, and looks after the multitudinous details with loving care. Beginning with a small wagon show 27 years ago, each year has seen a steady growth, until today the mere announcement of the appearance of Al F. Wheeler's show is synonymous with the fact that the patrons will see a clean high-class entertainment, free from objectionable features.

All records for pretty girls, both in number and degree of loveliness, are broken in this year's program. Among the performers are noted Spanish, English, French, Belgians, Russians, Chinese, Japanese and Portuguese. Making the greatest aggregation of circus stars ever assembled under one tent, traveling with a motorized show. Among the features of the big show are the only dancing ponies on earth. The only goat tight-rope walkers in the world. Largest black maned Nubian lion in captivity. Tigers, leopards, laughing hyenas, baboons, the menagerie even has a stork—sure they perform.

One of the outstanding domestic animal acts is the tiny Shetland ponies under the tutelage of Lloyd Kirkley, these small equine actors go through many intricate stunts with a willingness and accuracy that is little short of amazing. And the finale is most beautiful when they wind around and around and slowly mount higher on the massive pedestal.

There is an army of funmaking clowns with their ribtickling paraphernalia in stunts that take place in spurts all around the hippodrome track, expert and artistic acrobats, gymnasts and aerialists together with scores of lady and gentlemen riders, and never-before-seen arenic novelties.

Al F. Wheeler's New Model Show, is the only circus of its magnitude in all the world that still retains the parade feature of circus day that will leave the show grounds promptly at noon. The parade is all there, from the wonderful band wagon ablaze with scarlet and silver and green to the ridiculous clown with his donkey cart fussing with the too intimate youngsters who impede his attempts at dignified progress. And in between comes all the highly ornate and decorated animal cages with all of their sides removed to give glimpses of the furry bodies moving restlessly to and fro. The brass bands are stationed at proper distance apart to produce a continuous fanfare without interference and all in all the spectacle is one so reminiscent of the good old days that when it is all over more than one grown man will rub his eyes and be sorry.

Performances are scheduled for 1:30 o'clock for the afternoon and 7:30 o'clock for the night show. The doors will be open one hour earlier so that all may pay a leisurely visit to the menagerie and Indian Village.

Jack Phillip's military band is the musical feature.

Dusty Sidewalks.

A disagreeable and provoking condition has arisen from the installation of Springfield's sanitary sewer system. The usual complaint has come from property-owners that the contractor has failed to remove a pile of dirt from his sidewalk, or his lawn, or from the curb gutter in front of the respective dwellings. After considerable pressure, the dirt is removed, and lo, dust deposits about never to be swept away or corrected in any possible manner.

In scrutinizing the appearance of our township streets, one judges the cleanliness of the sidewalks as well as that of the dwellings adorning the thoroughfare. Not every one is guilty of failing to provide for a clean sidewalk. There are those who have a community pride in maintaining a neat and tidy passing place for all who walk in front of their homes, and it would be a wise example to follow. Sweep that dusty sidewalk now.

156 Years Old

A WITHERED being arrives from Turkey and claims to be 156 years old. Columnists and reporters use the incident as a peg for their quips, while scientists ply their probes, stethoscopes and x-rays to see what revelations concerning human anatomy may be uncovered.

Centenarians are not uncommon. Biologists see no reason why men should not live to be 250 years old. There is nothing in tissue structure to prevent it. Sections of vital organs have been segregated, and have been kept alive indefinitely, long beyond the average known to experience. Tissue by itself can be kept going. But combined into organs, and united to make a unit of species, some delicacy of balance is created that seems to have, under present conditions at least, a certainty of dissolution after a definite time.

Maybe when dust, grime, noise, germs and the fierceness that goes with making a civilized living have been eliminated, the limit of the Psalmist's three score and ten may be extended, and we may grow to estimate life by centuries, instead of decades. Just now, however, claims of age much beyond a hundred are accepted dubiously.

The theme of one of George Bernard Shaw's plays centered around the tenet that the way to improve politics, government and things generally was to have men learn to live three hundred years, so that instead of dying just about when they acquired some glimmering of understanding, they might remain awhile, to make use of it. Shakespeare said some men might live a thousand years, and all that could be said of them would be that they ate so many thousand meals.

Some insect life is inconceivably short. The insect is not conscious of curtailment. Turtles live longer than men, and trees live longer than turtles. But probably neither a turtle nor a tree, if it had individual consciousness, would have an awareness of enlarged living.

Life is lived in moments, and each moment is supreme and full in itself. To measure life by duration is a mistake. Rocks and vegetation have a duration which is different from the sense of this experienced by animate human beings. The measure of living is not through hours, but through feelings, thoughts, deeds. By that measure a poet like Keats could have lived much in his scant twenty-six years, while someone else may have just existed during a vastly longer period.

There is a natural desire for long life. This is made up partly from the positive inclination for existence, and partly from the negative revulsion against being shunted from the scene. Length of life has been augmented. Diseases that used to claim countless victims have been conquered. Medicine, science and advancing common sense continually open new paths to health, and discover new means of combating the foes of longevity.

We would be foolish not to take advantage of what is ours for the asking, and try to keep expanding the cycle of animate duration for us. But longer living has no more import than an extra century to a Sequoia, if estimated by time alone. The added years get their value from the intellect, emotion and accomplishment that can be compressed in them. Existence can be measured by time. But life should be rated by quality.

COMMENTS FROM SUN READERS

To the Editor of the SUN:— Perhaps many of those opposed to the changing of the name of Welgand street to another title are not as conversant with the facts connected with the history of the origin of the name, as is presented below:

In the spring of 1926, the Spring Development company was formed by George W. Welgand (then a resident of Springfield eleven years) and others of Newark and vicinity. This company purchased a tract of land, lying north of Morrison road, at which time a layout was presented the Township Committee for its approval, showing the tract bordering on and including Morrison road, Marey avenue, Severna avenue and Evergreen terrace; the latter connecting Morrison avenue and what is now Severna avenue. The Township Committee objected to the name "Evergreen" as there was another street in Springfield called "Immergruen" in the southeastern section of the Township from Melrose avenue to the Railway River.

In view of this objection, the president of the company, ordered a civil engineer and surveyor, John J. Kentz of Summit, to prepare a map of the tract, using the name of Welgand street, in place of Evergreen terrace, which was done accordingly with the recommendation, and placed in the records of the County Court House in Elizabeth, July, 1926.

The President's decision was based on the fact that Mr. Welgand was their resident representative to develop the tract and erect dwellings thereon, which was returning to this Township a yearly income of at least $1865 in taxes, and this represented only one-third of the tract.

Welgand street is shown on the present authorized map of the Township of Springfield, made by Arthur H. Lennox, in January, 1928, and all deeds and Registration of sales of property are recorded by that name.

Very truly yours,
A. READER.

Five Years Ago

Samuel Long, who operates busses from Springfield to Irvington through Vaux Hall, asked permission from the Township Committee to make stops at Springfield Center and in Seven Bridges road. The traction company was opposed, but a majority of local residents favor the contemplated stops. Mr. Long told the committee he was planning to supplant his present three vehicles with extra ones, if the demand warranted it.

Continental Lodge 190, F. & A. M., of Millburn paid its last respects to Alfred Archibald Thompson, popular local resident, who died August 7. Mr. Thompson, 45 years old, was a veteran of the Boer War in South Africa, and maintained scars from the battles there. Robert S. Bunnell is master of the Millburn lodge.

Over $1,000 was netted from the luncheon of the Women's Club, of the St. James Catholic Church. Two hundred suppers were served, and seven outside busses were required to bring the many persons to the affair. Jersey City was victorious over Springfield in a baseball game held as a special attraction.

The American Magazine recently carried an article, commenting upon the growth of a Springfield concern, the Kree-Mee Fudge Company, and related the progress of the firm since its founding in 1924.

NEW FANGLED LIGHTS

(From Cranford Chronicle)

In spite of the wide publicity which has been given the modern automatic traffic signal lights at the corner of South and Walnut avenues, there is an occasional motorist who unwittingly puts them out of operation for a time. The lights are controlled by impulses which a passing vehicle imparts to a pad in the paving, one on each side of the crossing on both streets. Last night some one reported to the police that the light was not functioning properly. On one of the streets, traffic was halted by a red light for nearly half an hour and there was the usual confusion, some cars pulling out against the light and other drivers sitting tight and wearing down batteries by blowing horns. An officer went to the intersection and located the trouble at once. A car was parked with its rear wheels on the impact pad.

MINIATURE GOLF "MENACE"

(From Linden News)

Legislators in each hamlet, village, town and city throughout the country are busily engaged enacting legislation restricting and regulating the miniature golf courses which have sprung up like mushrooms—and which, we believe, will be as short-lived.

Seriously speaking we believe in regulating them—but not to the extent that they are hampered or restricted in any great degree.

After all this new find provides clean, healthful, outdoor recreation for millions of people at present, at a cost that is not prohibitive, even in these days of the depleted pocket-books.

Come now, don't you quite agree that the way some of the enterprising proprietors of these courses have taken drab, dirty, unsightly lots and turned them into picturesque replicas of the "old mill" and such other artistic scenes as their fancy can create, in this manner have more than recompensed the municipalities where in they have been erected.

"Ye Editor" has watched with interest the creative genius of a group of boys—and girls—build their own miniature course in an empty lot on the very corner where we reside—and it strikes us that this form of amusement is a healthful and pleasant outdoor occupation which we should encourage our young folks to cultivate, rather than encouraging the idea for children's tree-sitting, pole climbing, and bicycle riding contests which are now prevalent throughout the country.

Regulate—but don't discourage—the miniature golf course epidemic.

ORIGINALITY NEEDED

(From Westfield Standard)

If we could only think up something original to do it would not be so bad, but the worst of these endurance contests is that anything we might think of has already been tried. Yes, everything, from a month in the air to a life behind the bars. There is apparently nothing new under the sun.

Zara Agha, the Turk, comes to this country claiming an endurance record of 156 years. So that's out for most of us. There are already too many tree-sitters, and it's a difficult matter to find an uninhabited pole. Some human fish has ruined our chance for an under-water try, it's no use trying to keep a dollar bill unbroken, we don't like bicycle riding and the man who has owed us a bill for eleven years has the bad debt record clinched. Certain members of the Senate have a long term talking record beaten to a frazzle but at the same time we are impelled to doff our hat to the Sussex County woman who has not spoken to her husband for twelve years.

What this country really needs today is some originality in its endurance contests. About the only untried possibility we can think of is a long term sit on the business end of a tack.

POWER OF ADVERTISING

(From Rahway Record)

Beyond all question the most potent creator of business demands is the newspaper advertisement. Millions upon millions of dollars are expended every day in the stores of America because well written advertisements have directed public attention to convenient, becoming, attractive, useful, ornamental and suitable merchandise. The sale of all necessities, all luxuries, is more powerfully stimulated by the newspaper advertisement than by any other agency. Only hunger, cold and nakedness are comparable to the advertisement as a promoter of sales—and even purchases of food, fuel and clothing are directed more largely by the business columns of the press than by any other influence except immediate necessity.

The largest stores in our greatest cities have built up by their advertising, their persistent and clever invitation to the public—in the press to share in their bargains. Imagine what would happen to daily sales of merchandise, real estate, theatre tickets, insurance, books and other things, if newspaper advertisements were prohibited by law for six months. It is not exaggeration to say that they would drop fifty per cent.

CLOWN IN WHEELER'S CIRCUS

One of the many comical next Tuesday, at the grounds clowns in the Al F. Wheeler opposite the R. R. Depot in Circus, coming to Springfield Mountain avenue.

Cougar, Hunted Without Mercy, Almost Extinct

The western "cougar," termed variously according to local practice in different parts of North America as "panther," "mountain lion," "catamount," etc., is our largest member of the cat family. It is considered a predatory animal and as such has been hunted so persistently that it is almost extinct in the United States except in a few remote districts of our western mountains.

Considerably smaller than the cougar, the true lynx is still quite a bit larger than the common bobcat or bay lynx. The real lynx is a very shy animal and rarely thrives where the land has been ranched or farmed to any extent. The bobcat, more like the coyote, often lives right under the nose of some harassed farmer, being especially adept at stealing chickens or other farmyard birds.

Of the three felines mentioned, the bobcat can be said as having the most tractable disposition, as neither the lynx nor the cougar submit readily to human training. The cougar somewhat resembles the female African lion in appearance, yet it is rarely used as a show animal, chiefly because it is a most unruly subject for training, sullen and treacherous to the end.

Reed Made Substitute for Absent Bridegroom

The strange ancient custom of marrying a bride to a reed was revived in a Sind village a few miles from Hyderabad, India, recently when, for some unknown reason, the bridegroom failed to put in an appearance for the wedding ceremony. The wedding was between the son of a Banla merchant and a Banla merchant's daughter from another village. The bridegroom went with his relatives in the marriage procession to the bride's village, where the round of preliminary ceremonies and preparations for the forthcoming wedding were duly observed. When the hour arrived for the bridegroom to go to the bride's home for the wedding it was discovered that he was missing. After a fruitless search the waiting procession left for the bride's house. A reed was substituted to represent the missing bridegroom and the bride was then "married" to the reed and brought away to the bridegroom's home.

Perfect Safeguard

"Sandy, my son," said the fond father, "ye're getting married the morn, so I ha'e bocht ye a present ye'll find verra usefu'."

"Thank ye, father," murmured Sandy.

But when the old man produced a mousetrap and laid it on the table Sandy almost fell backward with amazement.

"Whatever's that for?" he inquired.

"Weel," his father explained, "if there's one thing a wumman hates waur a mouse it's a mousetrap. Jist ye set it last thing at night, pit your loose money oot o' your pouch under the spring, and it's shair to be there in the morning."—London Answers.

Timber in Commerce

Not so many hundreds of years ago each nation had to depend largely on its own timber to satisfy the ordinary needs of its population. Today, modern transportation permits timber to be marketed at greater distances from its source, says Forests and Mankind. China obtains large amounts of timber from North America, and South Africa gets much of hers from northern Europe. But in the long run it is best economy for a nation to grow timber on its own soil and to put to use those rough, less fertile sections where for one reason or another agriculture is either impossible or unprofitable.

Onion Is Fastidious

The lowly onion, popular as a food even back to the days when the pyramids were built, may be common, but it is, nevertheless, a highly particular vegetable, so far as growing conditions are concerned.

It requires especially good soil of high fertility and well drained. It will not grow if weeds be present, and it needs cold, moist soil while growing, and warm, dry conditions at maturity.

He's Learning

Robert, who has rounded out a dozen years, was taking swimming lessons not long ago at the Y. M. C. A.

"Well, Robert, how are you getting along?" the youngster was asked after the third lesson.

"Oh, I can swim about twelve feet," he answered, "seven forward and five down."

DAIRY VINDICATED BY CITY OFFICIALS

License of Eastern Farm Firm Has Not Been Revoked

The Eastern Dairy Farm, of Union has been fully vindicated by the Health Department of the City of Newark after Health Officer Craster had previously recommended that the dairy's license be changed to allow sale of only Grade B pasteurized milk.

Juvenile Court Judge Joseph Siegler, head of the law firm representing the dairy, issued a statement reading:

"The Eastern Dairy Farms of Union Township has conducted its plant for many years in strict compliance with the regulations of the Health Department and the milk ordinances of the City of Newark and such other municipalities as it serves. The unusual heat spell of the last few weeks occasioned a heavy demand for milk, creating a country-wide shortage. This demand had to be met by the purchase of milk from sources which this company felt it could rely upon.

"No Desires to Deviate."

"The Eastern Dairy Farms never intended or desired to deviate from its policy of furnishing the public with the same high grade of milk as heretofore and takes this opportunity of assuring the municipal authorities and the public of its intention to continue its rigid adherence to that policy."

With the statement was incorporated a letter to the dairy from Health Officer Craster. It read: "This is to certify that the Eastern Dairy, Union avenue, Union, N. J., owned and operated by Mr. Samuel Schenkman, has a license issued by this department to sell milk for consumption in the City of Newark as Grade A pasteurized and that such license has not been revoked."

According to Samuel Schenkman, owner of the dairy, the trouble arose when he purchased what was purported to be Grade A milk from other distributors to take care of the heavy demand during the heat wave. As soon as the milk was delivered to the Eastern Dairy it was found to be Grade B instead of Grade A and was not distributed.

When interviewed, Schenkman said that this misunderstanding with the Newark authorities was the first of its kind he has ever had with municipal or state officers since he has managed his dairy. He stated that only tuberculin tested cows are used on his farm and that the cows are constantly under state inspection.

He extends a cordial invitation to the general public to inspect the dairy premises at all times and to see how the milk is produced and distributed.

Remarkable Opal

A magnificent black opal, discovered on the Waigett fields of New South Wales, has been valued at between $15,000 and $25,000, and christened "Light of the World." The distinct outline of a woman's figure may be seen in the middle of the gem.

Have Had Many Owners

The bronze horses surmounting San Marco cathedral in Venice were made in Corinth nearly 20 centuries ago. They were taken from Corinth to Rome by Nero, to Constantinople by Constantine, thence to Venice, and then to Paris by Napoleon, being restored to Venice after his fall.

AT THE STRAND

Dorothy Revier's popularity has been so pronounced that the Columbia star rarely has an opportunity to visit her own lot. Just before finishing "Call of the West," the all-talking attraction coming to the Roth Strand tomorrow, she finished an important part opposite George Bancroft in "The Mighty," a Paramount picture. Other productions in which she has appeared recently are "Drop Kick" for First National; "Red Dance" for Fox; "Iron Mask" for United Artists; "Dance of Life" for Paramount.

"The Sea Bat," a corking adventure yarn staged at Mazatlan, Mexico, a daring location for pictures, with Charles Bickford and Raquel Torres, is announced as next Monday and Tuesday's chief screen offering at the Roth Strand.

"The Sea Bat" is unusual as a picture. Because of its novelty in the adventure line. It will find particular appeal among men and young folks, and the women will be entertained through the romance and human call-bre of the hero.

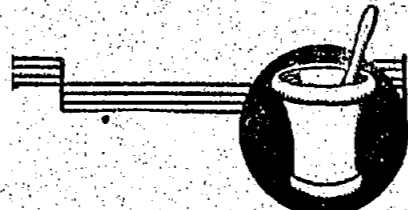

Aileen Pringle, who plays the leading feminine role in "Prince of Diamonds," coming to the Strand Summit Theatre next Wednesday, was born in San Francisco, California.

Later she studied music and languages in Paris and London. At the outbreak of the world war, she entertained in canteens. She broke into the motion picture field while peddling some scenarios she had written. Spending most of their time wrapped in blankets over a period of three days was the experience of Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks while filming "Taming of the Shrew" which is to bring the popular stars to the screen together for the first time. The taking of one of the scenes in the Shakespearean comedy made it necessary for Mary and Doug to wallow in mud and rain. While the cameras were being lined up for the new scenes, both remained under blankets sipping hot coffee. "Taming of the Shrew" comes to the Roth Strand next Thursday and Friday.

Earth's Weight

There is nothing to indicate that there has been an actual change in weight in the earth. The experiment of Dr. Paul Heyl in reweighing the earth merely gave a more exact result.

Springfield Deadlocked With 5 Teams For County Circuit Lead

LOSE TO BRAVES, BEAT ROSELLE PARK NEXT DAY IN 12 INNINGS TO HOLD PLACE

The race in the Union County Baseball League provided more upsets last week-end, and the standing shows five teams deadlocked for first place, Springfield, Elizabeth A. A., St. Joseph's, Westfield Hawks, and the Elizabeth Braves.

The Stars were tied with the Braves and the Elizabeth A. A. prior to last week-end's games, but the latter took the lead when they beat the locals, 2 to 0, and the Braves were nosed out by the Westfield Hawks, 3 to 2. The Braves beat the Elizabeth A. A. by the same score on Sunday, and the Stars won out in 12 innings over Roselle Park, 9 to 3. Meanwhile, St. Joseph's and Westfield both captured a pair of wins and rested in a tie with the other three contenders.

Hillside and Linden, are one game to the rear of first place, while the Springfield Acmys and Garwood are two games away, and the Roselle Park Cardinals are hopelessly in the cellar, with only one win in eight games.

The Stars expected an easy win over the Cardinals, and scored first in the third-inning. Roselle Park came back with three runs, and the locals evened it up in their time at bat. The score was tied, 6 all, at the end of the ninth inning, after Springfield had scored three runs in the seventh inning, and Roselle Park had retaliated with two runs in the first half of the eighth.

Both teams scored two runs in the eleventh inning, and Springfield ended the game in the next inning by scoring a run. Jack Allen, newcomer to the local hurling staff, started the game, and was succeeded by Jack McHugh. Miller was an the mound for the losers.

Each team collected seventeen hits, and Miller had the better of the local pitchers in strikeouts, getting ten to the locals' eight. Miller gave five walks, and McHugh issued three, while Allen allowed none. "Artie" Lamb led the batters with four singles. The Thorne brothers, "Duke" and Walter, each collected three hits, two singles and a triple apiece. Woods and Hemmler led the losers, both getting three safeties.

BACHELORS WIN BALL GAME, 6-4

Defeat Married Men's Team at Flemer Oval—Latter Fail to Make Full Appearance

A team made up of single men defeated a married men's squad at Flemer Oval last Thursday night by the score of 6 to 4. Several members of the loser's team were single men, who substituted when the married men failed to "offer a good excuse to their wives to get off early and make the game", and as a result, interest in the contest waned.

Enos Parsell pitched for the winners, and "Itchy" Anderson, a member of the Springfield Stars outfit, hurled for the married men. Both gave nine hits and fanned five. "Doug" Macintosh collected a pair of hits for the single men, while "Ed" Hoffert, "Happy" Widmer, and Morrison of the married men, made two hits apiece.

The married men scored one run in the third, fifth, sixth and seventh innings, and the single men made two runs in the fourth, fifth and sixth frames.

Rose in All Ages Has Lent Itself to Legend

Every language seems to have its legends of the rose. A Hindu myth says that Vishu discovered his wife in the heart of a rose. A Greek myth tells how Cupid exacted from the god of silence a promise that the loves of his mother, Venus, be not betrayed; the oath was taken "under the rose," and to this day we use the idiomatic phrase "sub rosa" to denote secrecy. A Persian legend relates that when Nimrod commanded the infant prophet, Abraham, be thrown upon the pyre and destroyed, the flames turned to roses "whereon the child slumbered sweetly." As charming is a parallel story related by Sir John Mandeville: a maiden of Bethlehem was accused by a jealous lover and thrown to the flames, and when she implored proof of her innocence the fire turned to red roses about her feet.

HITCHECOCK RETURNS

With Capt. Tommy Hitchcock back in the saddle after a ten-day layoff, the American polo forces have resumed their practice games to select a team to meet the Britishers.

Statesman's Son Hanged

Phillip Spencer, a midshipman in the American navy, was hanged at sea while his father, John C. Spencer of New York, was secretary of war in the cabinet of President Tyler. Young Spencer was convicted of attempting to organize a mutiny on the U. S. S. Somers with a view of converting her into a pirate ship. On December 1, 1842, Spencer, the boatswain's mate, and a seaman were hanged at the yardarm of the brig-of-war while she was on her way from Liberia to New York via St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands. The execution took place about 525 miles out from St. Thomas and the Somers arrived at the Brooklyn navy yard thirteen days later. A naval court inquiry and a court-martial decided that the commander of the vessel, Alexander Siddell Mackenzie, had simply performed his duty.—Pathfinder Magazine.

"Cecil" Spittler, crack right-hander of the Springfield Stars, lost a brilliant duel to the Elizabeth A. A. at the local diamond last Saturday, by the score of 2 to 0, and with the defeat, the Stars relinquished first place in the Union County League to the winners. Spittler was up against Vohmoutka for the Betsyowners, and gave five hits, but his opponent went him one better, and yielded four hits. No team can make many runs with four hits, and the locals dropped their second loss in three games. Spittler fanned ten batters, and his rival, four. The winning pitcher issued three bases on balls, two more than Spittler.

Elizabeth scored in the fifth and sixth innings. Walter Thorne, hard-hitting local right-fielder, made half of Springfield's hits, including a double, and led the batters of both teams.

The defeat marked Spittler's second within one week, and his second in fourteen games. The score:

Tuscans Whip Josie Caruso In Thrilling Game, 8 to 7

The largest crowd of the season saw the Tuscan Farmers, representing the Tuscan Dairy of Union, defeat Josie Caruso and Her Eight Men at the Olympic Park stadium Sunday morning, 8 to 7.

A sensational triple play in the eighth inning saved the game for the Farmers, who were trailing 7 to 6. With Doyle on second and Kenny on first and Manley at bat the Caruso outfit looked ready to pile up a few more runs. But Jacobus, in the Farmers' right field, made a running catch of Manley's fly, made a perfect throw to Conlan at first base, catching Kenny off, and Conlan threw to Dunlap at second to put out Doyle.

From then on Josie and her men were unable to cross the plate, while the Tuscan nine brought in two runs in the last inning to overcome their opponents' lead and nab a victory by a margin of one run.

In the last inning Eckmeder found first on a bunt to start the works. Kenneth Denton singled and Dunlap walked to fill the bases. Jacobus bunted safe and Eckmeder and Denton, who were working on big leads, both came in.

Kenny scored one for Josie in the initial frame, which opened with the visitors at bat. When the Farmers seized the willow, McGovern walked following Masson's strike out, Dunlap singled and McGovern went to third. After Dunlap stole second, Jacobus singled and McGovern crossed the plate for the Tuscan's first run. Dunlap got home on Conlan's sacrifice.

In the sixth inning M. Denton at third base made a sensational running catch of a foul ball. Galloping up on the embankment and running with the ball he spiked it as it came down across his face. Miller's hitting kept the Farmers in the running in the early innings.

Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock the Farmers will cross bats with the strong West Orange A. C. The visitors will probably have Horowitz, Syracuse University star behind the plate and either Sanford or Savacool on the mound.

Saturday at 3:30 P. M. at the Essex County Park in Irvington the Tuscan nine will play the Liberties in an Irvington Municipal League contest.

Venerated for Strength When you consider venerated furniture you usually consider it as a cheap and economical method of using expensive woods. But strength, as much as economy, is the motive, points out the American Architect, citing the famous desk used by Napoleon as an example. The desk accompanied the Corsican conqueror to the ends of Europe, packed on muleback or jolted over the country on artillery caissons. But now, more than 125 years old, it is on exhibition at Pontaleneau in perfect condition.

Bi-Lingualism in Finland Before Finland was seized by Russia in 1808 to become a grand-duchy under the czars, it belonged to Sweden. Swedish remained the sole official language until 1880 when Finnish was given equal rights. Today both languages are on an equal footing, but Swedish is the commercial language of the maritime towns, including Helsingfors, the capital, where it is the mother tongue of a large portion of the population.

Community Advertising Industry and commerce ceased 1664 ago to ask if advertising pays. The presence in all towns and cities of whatever size of chambers of commerce, boards of trade and other bodies, a part of whose function is to stir community pride, testifies that the value of public advertising is equally demonstrable. It is helpful, no matter how haphazardly or incompletely projected. When put upon a sound, thoroughly businesslike basis, when a city is advertised as intensively as a commodity reaching out for world markets, results are astonishing.

The Decorator's Letter Box Expert Advice on Home Decoration

The Upholstery Material of the Davenport May Be Used to Set the Dominant Color in the Decoration Scheme.

Beth dear: You seem to think I can do anything. I know it is my business to do things with furniture and interiors, but there is one thing I won't do for anyone—select a color scheme and inflict it upon them. People are too temperamental in their reaction to colors. What I like, another person couldn't stand. As well as I feel I know you, I'd hesitate to select a color scheme for your living room without consulting you at every step. The only help I can be to you in planning the colors for your living room is to suggest some possible combinations. There is one thing, however, you should remember in arranging colors—decide what colors you are going to use to bring it out, and then stick to them. Don't be led off your path even by an alluring object of the wrong color. For a quiet, livable living room you might use brown, blue and buff. This can be worked out very attractively and very inexpensively. You could have plain tan walls, or two tones of tan. This will make a nice, neutral background for the furniture. A brown rug with a dull buff border would make a firm foundation. The floor around the rug could be dark brown. Furniture of walnut, brown mahogany or brown oak would fit into this color scheme. Upholstery materials harmonizing with these colors might be brown, solid blue, blue and brown striped, or blue and yellow. You might have a davenport and one chair in brown and another in blue. A third chair might be blue and brown or blue and yellow. The draperies could be of figured material in which sapphire-blue predominated with a little dull pink on a tan background. A piece of deep blue pottery would help to accent the dominant color, blue, and lampshades of dull pink would give the room a warm appearance. A room in which blue is correctly used is always a restful, comfortable room. You are fond of blue and it is very becoming to you and I should think you would want it in your house—but you may think quite differently, and it is you who are to live in the house. Some persons consider blue very depressing and if it is not carefully used, it certainly is. Tell me what colors you "just love" and perhaps I can help you more. Fondly, Fern Eture.
