SPRING-LIKE WEATHER HERE yesterday makes the Rambling Reporter drowse upon the light fantastic to dream about the consequences of what would happen in Springfield if some day the F. & F. Nurseries, occupying choice ground in the center of town, should be converted into use of business and residential property if the long awaited postal carrier should ever reach us before many years to come if the Township Committee had not granted an appropriation to the Free Public Library to carry on its work if Snack's emporium should abandon its free-speech liberties and does that place permit it if almost 125 high school pupils would stop using busses and walk to Westfield and Roselle Park as several intelligent (?) taxpayers would like to see them do if the resident of the outlying sections in Springfield will be totally connected to the township proper by receiving their entire mail at the local post office if partisan politics in local office was abolished and Township Committeeman elected without titles of "Republicans" or "Democrats" if the residents of the "south" neighborhood and the more densely populated areas agreed not to disagree on everything except a common dislike for Bolsheviks if inspectors had been engaged to carefully examine the construction of the sanitary sewer system if the tax rate should be as low as $3 per $100 of valuation and residents enjoyed the conveniences now accessible were it not for the debt service charges now being taxed at large to offset delinquents who are not paying assessment costs the rate would be almost that low if this column were eliminated (did someone murmur that "It would be a pleasure") If Jerry Potter stopped kidding the fellows around police and fire headquarters if that antiquated plan of a team of horses for road maintenance and sewer inspection should be supplanted by a more modern method of transportation if the Rahway River overflowing would be corrected by concerted park and county governments if Recorder Spinning failed to remind a certain newspaperman of typographical errors whenever he discovers them

P. T. A. to Hold Minstrel Tonight

The Parent-Teacher Association will hold a revue, minstrel and dance tonight in the James Caldwell School under the direction of Freddy Steckman, popular orchestra leader of this vicinity. Dancing will follow the entertainment and be held until 1 A. M. Specialty dances will be given by Lorraine Smith and Peggy Ammerman, Katherine J. Gunn, Lillian Searles, Betty Sorge and Adelaide Deiter. Members of the local Choral Society will

TAXPAYERS GROUP TO MEET THURSDAY

The Springfield Taxpayers Association will hold its regular monthly meeting Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the Municipal Building. Thomas J. Hankins, president, will conduct the meeting. Directors and members of the association are expected to attend the public hearing on the municipal budget Tuesday night. They will report on their activity at the regular meeting.

Panzer Students Give Exhibition at P.T.A. Session

A delegation of fifty men and women students at the Panzer School of Physical Education in East Orange, gave a demonstration of the type of work taught there, before a large gathering at the monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association in the James Caldwell School Monday night. Mrs. Charles G. Nelson, president, presided.

Dr. Kilander, a member of the Panzer faculty, spoke in the absence of Miss Margaret C. Brown, president of the school, who could not attend.

The attendance banner was won by the 7A class of Miss Ila Hess for having the greatest number of parents and friends present.

Supervising Principal Fred J. Hodgson announced that plans will soon be under way to hold a Block Aid movement in Springfield as a means of financing emergency relief assistance. He explained that originally, under the state-wide organization, Springfield contributed forty per cent toward the cost of relief matched by the state's share of sixty per cent, until through the efforts of Lewis F. Macartney, municipal relief director, the township received its present special Class "B" grant by which the state expends about $1400 per month, the entire burden.

It is planned to seek a higher grant, Class "A"; Mr. Hodgson said, and the township must show its willingness to seek town-wide contributions under the Block plan, which will be matched by the state in a certain ratio.

Refreshments were served after the meeting with Mrs. Alfred G. Trundle, hospital chairman, in charge of arrangements.

M. E. Pastors to Exchange Pulpits

The Rev. Dorsey N. Miller, D.D., pastor of the Fifth Street Methodist Episcopal Church of Harrisburg, Pa., will preach the morning sermon in the Springfield Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday, February 13.

As an exchange, the Rev. William I. Reed, local pastor, will occupy the pulpit of the Harrisburg Church on that day.

Mr. Miller, a college classmate of Mr. Reed, will be spending a fortnight on a visit to this vicinity to his daughter, Mrs. Alvin Henry of Yonkers, N. Y. Mrs. Henry sings in Dr. Fosdick's Riverside Baptist Church in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller and their daughter will be remembered as having given a concert in Springfield several years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Miller are in charge of the Camp meetings in Ocean Grove. The Harrisburg pastor is a frequent speaker over the radio in Central Pennsylvania.

take part in the minstrel and a chorus of about thirty-five high school girls will be seen in the cast.

$6,545 Raise in Ratables

Tax ratables in Springfield for 1933 exceeded those of last year by $6,545, according to unofficial figures filed with the County Board of Taxation by Frank E. Meisel, clerk of the local Board of Assessors.

This year's net total, $5,488,310, which will be used to compute the 1933 tax rate, compares to last year's net total of $5,481,774.

The valuations this year compared to 1932 figures follow, the 1933 totals being listed first: value of land, $2,080,355—$1,081,870; value of improvements, $2,085,650—$2,060,800; totals, $5,066,005—$5,042,670.

Personal property this year totalled $569,700 compared to $587,030. Deductions of household goods this year were $66,700 compared to $66,100 and $56,970 in soldiers' and sailors' exemptions this year as compared to $58,050. The total deductions this year were $153,670 compared to $154,150 in 1932.

There were 617 polls assessed, according to the report. The value of second-class railroad property remains the same, $6,224.

Eastern Star to Present Comedy

FIRE TAX REDUCTION TO .16 HELPS TO LOWER LEVY

Public Hearing on Town Budget Set For Tuesday

The Township Committee will hold a public hearing on the Municipal Budget in the board rooms in the Municipal Building next Tuesday. The tax ordinance, as the budget is termed, was introduced and passed on first reading January 23. It provides that the amount to be raised by taxation in 1933 shall be $82,533.38 and that the total expenditures total $136,218.38. A copy of the budget will be found elsewhere in this issue.

50 Men and Women Display on Physical Training Monday Night

The Springfield tax rate for 1933 will be approximately $4.14 per $100 of valuation, a decrease of fourteen points, as a result of the budget appropriations adopted this week by the Board of Fire Commissioners after prior announcement of the municipal and school budget figures.

The fire budget totals $8,825 of which $2,000, a fixed charge, will be final payment on a fire truck. Thus, the voters on February 18 at a special fire election will be asked to approve a budget of $6,825 as compared to last year's total of $11,300. This will reduce the fire tax from .25 to .16, a nine-point reduction.

A surplus on hand of about $4,000 reduces considerably the fire levy, the actual saving, being made in the elimination temporarily of an appropriation for hose and supplies. Other charges such as water hydrant rentals, compensation insurance, volunteer and paid men's salaries are fixed costs and could not be tampered with.

This year's payment on the truck will be the final one, thus completing the payments for apparatus which totals over $30,000. Therefore, the budget next year will not have to include the hitherto $2,000 item.

Charles H. Ruby and T. C. Davidson, Jr., members of the Board of Fire Commissioners, will be candidates for reelection at the annual election.

The annual report of the company's activity in 1932 as prepared by Chief Charles Pinkava, lists a total of seventy-one alarms, distributed as follows: dwellings, seventeen; barns, four; brush fires, forty; inhalation emergency, one; garages, two, and automobiles, seven. The fire loss for the year was $4,070.

The department used 1,142 gallons of chemicals to fight fires and laid about 12,000 feet of hose. It was necessary to use 414 feet of ladders.

The 4.14 rate is arrived at by the following table, in which the figures are estimated and not official:

Municipal rate	$1.51
School rate	1.57
Fire Tax	.16
State rate	.43
County rate	.53
	$4.14

An increase of $6,545 in tax ratables may tend to reduce the rate further, perhaps by one point.

MATTER of OPINION

The fact that party lines were forgotten in the passing of the bills suspending for the term of one year mandatory appropriations which have obliged local governing bodies to raise by taxation sums of money which, in the present economic situation, they are finding it impossible to collect, shows that the members of the state legislature fully recognize the importance of giving relief to the municipalities of the state. A condition, and not a theory, confronts all local governing bodies. All pension and tenure of office rights are preserved on the basis of present day salary schedules. The bills were passed to provide immediate relief, and will lose their effect at the end of a year, but it is probable that from this movement, a revision of the state taxing system will evolve so that the costs of operating the courts, prosecutor's office and election machinery will be taken from state funds and not from county and municipal funds as at present. Whether there will be a permanent change, so that governing bodies will have the power to reduce, as well as to increase, salaries, depends upon conditions next year, but it seems improbable that we shall then be "out of the red." It is pertinent to remark that lobbyists are now forced to park in the galleries and that the representatives of the organized minorities who have in the past bedeviled the legislators must now largely confine themselves to "absent treatment."

A continuance of the team-work shown by the several Springfield boards will do much to bring confidence to those whose sole stake is in Springfield real estate. It is not necessary to harp on the fact that our per capita debt is large, but the taxpayer is justified in losing patience if this condition is ignored or minimized. The long hard pull ahead of him will be eased somewhat if he feels on the rope the helping hands of the township officials.

Mythological Creature

The sphinx was a mythological monster variously described, but usually with a lion's body, the head and sometimes the breasts of a woman, the wings of a bird and a serpent's tail, supposed to represent some ancient symbolism. The Egyptians called the sphinx "Hu" or "Neh" (Lord).

How U. S. Sleuths Track Down Watch Smugglers

Trail to International Rings May Start With Innocent Purchasers

NEW YORK CITY—The tangled trail to a great international ring of watch movement smugglers may start right in your own watch pocket! This startling fact, revealing many innocent purchasers to be innocent, unwitting dupes of keen criminal Upper right—Even the ultimate consumer who buys a smuggled Swiss watch from a retail store is not exempt from seizure of his watch. Center—Agents of the U. S. Customs service in unearthing smugglers resort to disguise. Here are three "longshoremen" aboard a Customs cutter. Lower left—Master mind of watch smugglers, Paul Rabkin, who last year was released from Atlanta Prison for defrauding the Government out of millions recently was convicted again.

S. Customs Service, Rabkin was convicted and sent to Atlanta Penitentiary. Released on March 17th, 1932, in the short space of two months, special agents of the Customs Service under John W. Roberts by watching his activities, ascertained that he was again engaged in smuggling watches and watch movements into the United States.

How the smuggling ring's activities were uncovered reads like a chapter from an imaginative detective, best seller. Disguised as truck drivers, as stevedores, as smugglers themselves, secret agents of the U. S. Customs service discovered that the ring was importing cases of stationery from Switzerland; each case containing about 150 boxes. About 15 or 20 boxes of Swiss watch movements were concealed in the center of each case, the boxes containing the watch movements being identical in appearance to those containing stationery.

In spite of the ingenuity of this scheme the U. S. Customs Agents soon were hot on the trail and once again Rabkin was brought before justice. Prosecuted by Assistant U.

S. Attorneys, Alvin McKinley Sylvester and William Peggler, Rabkin's son, August and an accomplice, Murray Dubofsky were brought before Judge John C. Knox on January 25th and their removal from the scene of smuggling is now assured for some time. In the meantime, according to Assistant U. S. Attorney Sylvester, additional smuggling watch movements were discovered in bags of rabbit fur imported from abroad and many other ingenious plots for the smuggling of watch movements were unearthed. Purchasing a standard, well known brand of watch from a legitimate jeweler, according to authorities, is the one way to assure that the movements of the watch have not been smuggled into the country, and that the purchaser has not been duped by the ring. The investigation of the watch smuggling ring, according to the district attorneys, will continue at an end, and the agents are working on this matter all the time against the importation of watch movements into the country. Illegally bought Paul Rabkin

St. Michael's basketball outfit defeated the St. James passers of Springfield this week. St. Michael's took the lead from the beginning and piled up a score of 35 to 12 at the half. Then the regulars were taken out. The passing combine of Otto and Burns was a main factor. Burns was high scorer for St. Michael's. The game was played at St. Michael's gym.

Union Case Settles Question Who Must Pay Constable Fees

A recent issue of the New Jersey Advance Reports and Weekly Law Review, a service issued for lawyers, contains the decision of Judge Salvatore La Corte of the First District Court of Union County, in a local case in which the court ruled that the lien of a garage keeper does not include the constable's fee incurred in attaching an automobile.

In other words, if a garage keeper employs a constable to seize an automobile, the garagekeeper has to pay the constable's fee and cannot add it to his bill against the person whose automobile is seized.

The case in question was that of Albert S. Keshen, formerly business manager of the Union Register, against Nat Olsan, proprietor of the service station at 1701 Struyvesant avenue.

Keshen, who was successful in his suit for the recovery of his car was represented by Attorney Harrison B. Johnson, and Olsan was represented by Carl Olsan.

Olsan had employed a constable, Carl Fisher, to seize Keshen's car and two others, for a bill for gasoline and oil.

Keshen paid the actual amount due for gasoline and oil, but refused to pay an additional $30 demanded as constable's fees. He then deposited the $30 claimed by Olsan, plus an additional sum to guarantee costs, with the court clerk, instituted a replevin suit and got his car back.

In ruling that Keshen, who had paid his bill, was not obligated to pay the fees of the constable, Judge LaCorte said, in part: "If the Legislature had intended that the owner should be charged with such fees it would in no uncertain terms have fixed the amount thereof and designated who was to be charged with the payment thereof, and would have directed what person could detain, seize and sell such motor vehicle on behalf of the garagekeeper. Therefore the constable in this matter acted as the agent of the garagekeeper and there is no legal obligation for the owner of the automobiles to pay his fees."

"20,000 Years" to Show in Millburn

The story of "Twenty Thousand Years in Sing Sing," which comes to the Millburn Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, was hailed by many critics as a sensational human document when it appeared in book form. It is said to have gained in sheer thrilling intensity in its dramatization for the screen, as it presents the amazing story of 1,000 men without women and 1,000 women who can not get along with their men.

The original story is by the only man with a wide enough knowledge of criminal character and sympathetic understanding to have conceived and written it, Warden Lewis E. Lawes of Sing Sing, the man who has been sitting on the lid of a human volcano for many years past at the famous New York state prison.

Spencer Tracy who has portrayed the grimness of prison-tragedy in "The Last Mile" and its touches of comedy in "Up the River," portrays the leading role of a convict who goes to the chair to save his sweetheart and to protect the warden who had been kind to him, in what is claimed the greatest picture of film life ever offered.

There is a strong supporting cast which includes Bette Davis, Arthur Byron, Lyle Talbot, Grant Mitchell, Warren Hymer, Louis Calhern and Sheila Terry.

Taxes Eat Up 12 Per Cent of Farmer's Income

Agriculturist Must Raise Three Times as Many Bushels Of Potatoes, Wheat, or Other Crops With Which to Pay Taxes on His Land

TAXES on farm property absorb nearly 12 per cent of the gross farm income of the United States as compared with only four per cent before the war, Horace Bowker, president of the American Agricultural Chemical Company,

"In paying 12 per cent of his income in taxes, the farmer bears a very unjust portion of the taxes of the United States. The farmer is the one class in our population who is hearing the full brunt of the depression. Not only does he pay a substantial part of his income in direct taxes, but he also pays the many indirect taxes the same as do the other elements of our population. Farm products are selling at pre-war prices, yet the prices he pays for manufactured products are considerably in excess of the pre-war level. In other words, his dollar is worth much less than is the dollar of the general public."

"There is no question but that the general tax system now in effect discriminates against the farmer, who constitutes one of the most important parts of our population. The system," continued Mr. Bowker, "was unjust even before and after the War; now under the extraordinary economic conditions prevailing in the United States, the tax system is unbearable and intolerable to the farmer. He must be relieved of this discrimination, which can be accomplished only by revision of methods of state and local taxation. Such tax revision will require substitute taxes—income, sales, excise—in lieu of the excessive general property levies now imposed. This shifting of the burden will naturally evoke opposition, notwithstanding its fairness. However, such revision of state and local taxing methods must come; the farmer cannot be expected to bear the tax burden of the country forever."

asserted in an interview in New York City. This means, he said, that a farmer must give three times as many bushels of corn, wheat or other products for the support of the government than he did in the years before the war.

As questions of public interest are presented to our view there should be some place where one may find collateral reading on the subject. Frequently our conception of a subject may be wholly changed, were we to turn to the fundamentals. With this thought in mind, we cruised among the volumes for some ideas on the Philippine Independence bill recently passed by Congress. Why did we take over the Philippines? What was originally the diplomatic side of the war which gave us the Islands? What did the Philippines think about it all? "The Martial Spirit" by Walter Mills, reviews much of the Spanish-American war history with many sidelights of history. This will help bring us back to the original intent in these matters. On the other side of the story is "Aguinaido" by Edwin Wildman. This is a narrative of Filipino ambitions. Thus one may view both sides of the controversy. "In the Days Before Columbus" by Francis Rolt-Wheeler, is a readable, well illustrated work on the origins of our own primitive population. Such reading is never tiresome to the inquisitive mind groping for fundamentals. In such relics as can be found we have a key to the life, culture and religions of peoples long non-existent. It will be noticed that there are striking points of similarity to our present-day institutions and beliefs, too.—F. P. L.

Lion's Skin for Monarchs The principal use of a lion's skin is for rugs with the heads mounted. In some parts of Africa, however, they are still the insignia of royalty, and their use as cloaks or garments is restricted to the reigning monarch.

Five Aces and Recreation Bowlers Share Pacing League

Former Averages Brilliant 900.24

The Five Aces took the odd game from the Gypsies in a close match Tuesday night to grab first place in the Municipal league and drop the losers to third place. Meanwhile, the Recreation bowlers came into a tie for the lead by sweeping three games from the Hose Company.

The Aces have the distinction of being the first team in the league ever to average at least 900 at this late stage, possessing a brilliant average of 900.24. Their anchor man, Dave Thornton, league president, is now leading the circuit in averages for pinners eligible to cop prizes. Several bowlers, higher in averages, entered late in the season and will not be able to participate in the necessary three-quarters of the schedule to share in awards.

The boys seemed to slacken in big team scores as they had the week before. One team of "back-up" bowlers is seriously thinking of firing them to make way for three new "hook" artists. Guess which?

One bowler whose team was scheduled for an early match, walked in nonchalantly at 10 o'clock to discover his mates were too far gone to make any difference. He expected to begin his match at 9:15. Another case of the need of schedules for each individual bowler, many of whom are out-of-town and not able to visit the alleys between league nights.

Battle Hill won two out of three from Hook and Ladder. The Indians swept three from the Juniors. Ludwig's All-Stars is the new title of the rejuvenated Gypsy quintet.

Westfield Whips Local Five, 27-23

Failing to stem a last-quarter rally by the Roosevelt Junior High basketball quintet of Westfield, the Springfield Junior High team lost its second game of the year on its home court last Friday, 27-23.

The game was hotly contested from the start, the locals leading at the half, 13-12. They drew ahead in the third quarter to lead 19-16 but were outscored in the final session, 11-4.

Pieper and Bandomer led the Springfielder in scoring with nine and eight points, respectively. Joe DiFrancisco, Westfield captain, sank six goals for a total of twelve points.
