Rambling Around Town

NOT MANY PERSONS WERE optimistic of the Block-Aid campaign when the pitfalls of banking holiday and economic stress planted itself in its path for the collection of funds to alleviate relief in the township but since then it appears the campaign will prove successful. Rev. William I. Reed, Block-Aid president, encountered plenty of obstacles in arranging the campaign but fighter that he is, as evidenced by those who know him, he finally won out in his persistent demands and the fruit of his labors, it seems, will reap their reward. The organization under Mr. Reed is a well-lubricated machine and A. B. Anderson, the right hand man to the Block-Aid president, has also come through with his part on the executive committee. Former Committeeman Lewis F. Macartney, a regular spectator at Township Committee meetings lately since he is in demand as municipal relief director and poormaster, seems to enjoy proceedings immensely. Why shouldn't he with all the headaches of the present Governing Body off his mind? Russell Morrison and his half-dozen silver dollars bulging in overcoat pockets, unearthed due to the bank holiday, jokingly offered early this week to cash any check drawn upon the local bank as a convenience to friends in need of currency provided he was to retain a small five per cent as compensation. The last feature, of course, was the joker. No one was expected to take advantage of his generosity until a request was finally put up to him. Russ was all set for any unexpected demand by explaining it had to be $100 or over. Well chance of finding such a rarity these days. The prominent township official who enlightened fellow workers at the Block-Aid dinner last Friday night that township relief mainly benefited the greater portion of colored residents when those who are in a position to know, realize the proportion is greater for white persons, certainly has never learned the expression, "Talking comes by nature, silence by understanding." Figures announced this week by Director Macartney reveal that out of a total of eighty-five men and women available for handy work, about town such as carpenters, plumbers, electricians, etc., there are sixty-three whites and twenty-two colored applicants on the list. Now will you be nice and not misquote that which you do not know? Glimpses here and there: Mayor Cannon and his constant practice of slowly chewing gum. Bill Conley whose only words to a certain newspaperman is "Keep off the grass." Al Sorge at police headquarters with that familiar greeting, "Hello, fella." Gene Parsill's brisk walk along Morris avenue compared to the deliberate jaunt of the popular bowling-alley proprietor, Charles Woodruff, who walks with eyes glued straight downward to the ground. The storekeeper, exactly five doors away who did not know the local bank was open to make change until at

NOT CANDIDATES FOR REELECTION

WILLIAM HOPPAUGH, who ends fifteen years of service as Tax Collector December 31, will not run for reelection, he has announced. Mr. Hoppaugh, who will be 76 years old at his next birthday in August, feels his age prevents giving the necessary time to the tax office. He is expected, however, to retain his position as district

GEORGE B. GASKILL, sole Democrat on the Township Committee, will not be a candidate to succeed himself at the primary election, he announced this week. Advancing age is the reason, he declares. He has served one term, clerk of the Board of Education, which position he has held since 1914.

Block-Aid Campaign Pledges Total $3,000

$975 in Cash Collected to Date as Additional Affairs Await

About $3,000 in pledges of which $975 is in cash has been realized by workers in the Block-Aid Campaign for emergency relief, according to figures reported to the Township Committee Monday night by A. B. Anderson, executive secretary of the campaign. The amount represented collections until that day received by Louis J. Winman, treasurer.

The campaign opened Friday after a supper in the Presbyterian Church chapel. Rev. William I. Reed, chairman of the drive, presided and introduced John W. Mace of New York City, national director of Near East Relief.

A tentative goal of $6,000 had been set. Pledge cards will be distributed and weekly collections made for twenty weeks. A large proportion of collections represents in cases the total amount for the period of twenty weeks.

The money will pay the township's share of relief work which is carried on with state aid by Lewis F. Macartney, municipal relief director. A series of affairs, in cooperation with township organizations to raise additional funds are being arranged through the special projects committee headed by Dr. Stewart O. Burns.

A good-will offering will be taken at the "Community Sing" on the evening of March 29 in the Municipal Building for the benefit of the Block-Aid Campaign as no admission is to be charged. Dancing will follow the musical program.

The College Club Orchestra of Springfield, led by Don Gibson, will play music for dancing. The Walker-Sippell banjo and guitar duo, Kenneth Shev, cornetist, and Miss Juanita Gross, violinist, will assist in the program.

"South" Neighborhood Sewer Appeal Stated on Monday

The long-awaited appeal of property owners in the "south" neighborhood against sanitary sewer assessments levied by the Board of Sewer Assessment Commissioners and later approved by the Township Committee, will be heard Monday morning in the Circuit Court in Elizabeth before Judge Frank L. Cleary.

Jacob R. Mantel, Summit attorney, will represent property-owners involved and Charles W. Weeks, township counsel, will handle the case for the township.

Inspectors Nab Motorists Here

Twenty-five motorists were summoned to police court Tuesday in a drive conducted in Morris avenue that day by eleven motor vehicle inspectors from the State Department. Recorder Spinning fixed fines totaling $50 in addition to costs, upon sixteen alleged violators. The remaining will be up for appearance Monday night at regular court session.

Fines ranged from $3 to $5 with a $10 penalty made against a driver who had improper plates. Motorists with no 1933 driver's licenses found themselves out $5 and costs. They represented the highest proportion of cases. Several with no license in their possession but actually owning driver's licenses were given suspended sentences and charged costs.

One driver with improper brakes was penalized $3 and costs. Although a number of cars were held up for inspection, little or no delay was experienced in traffic along the avenue.

Set Wednesday to Hold Trial of Policemen

Charges of Inefficiency and Cross Neglect Made Against Searles and Joyner

Hearings against Police Sergeant Harold D. Joyner and Patrolman Leslie Joyner who have been charged by Police Chief M. Chase Runyon with inefficiency and gross neglect, will be held Wednesday night at 8 o'clock before the Township Committee. Charges were filed with the board Monday night and a date set for a hearing. The officers were suspended Monday night and a date set for a hearing. The officers were suspended until then.

Charges against the two men are inter-related. There are eleven against Searles and three against Joyner. Eight of the counts against Searles concern the early morning of February 17. Periods are cited when the sergeant is alleged to have left his post on desk duty at police headquarters and failed to report his absence.

Other charges are leaving his post at headquarters January 20 at 8 P. M. and at Morris avenue and Main street February 20 at 1:10 P. M. and failure to report the latter incident.

Among the February 17 charges against Searles are five concerning Joyner. The sergeant is charged with having allowed Joyner to take desk duty for specific periods and having failed to report the change, having falsely reported Joyner to have made calls from the box at Morris avenue and Main street and having ordered the patrolman to take desk duty from 3:30 to 3:52 A. M.

All the charges against Joyner deal with February 17, when he is alleged to have failed to make calls from his regular box, to have made calls from another box and to have been in headquarters when he should have been on his post.

Outnumber Withdrawals About 2 to 1 at Close of Business First Day

The First National Bank of Springfield opened Wednesday morning for regular business upon notification from the Federal Reserve Bank in New York as word permitting reopening was received early in sufficient time for regular opening hours. In the first few hours, deposits exceeded withdrawals which had been the case throughout the day.

The Secretary of the Treasury has issued the following statement: "The first duty of banks reopening under license of the Secretary of Treasury for the performance of their usual functions is to see that the primary needs of the people for funds for the necessities of life and for

Music Hath Its Charms

Patrons at the local bank Wednesday, the first day in which it opened after the nation-wide holiday, were somewhat surprised to hear strains of music pouring forth from a radio hidden out of view in the rear of the front cages.

The explanation satisfied the curious: the bank was open, of course, during the holiday, to make change, allow access to safe deposit boxes, etc., but monotonous it was indeed for the clerks to sit around all day without work to do so the temporarily-borrowed radio served its purpose. Needless to say, Thursday found the musical box removed due to the resumption of normal banking business.

normal business undertakings are met. Accordingly withdrawals for hoarding have been prohibited and the Secretary of the Treasury suggests that until more normal conditions have been established transfers of funds by banks or their customers be limited to necessary purposes.

At the close of the first day's business, deposits in the local bank ranged about 2 to 1. Normal transactions in commercial accounts were made throughout the day. More cash was on hand at closing time than when the bank opened.

Merchants with accumulated deposits kept the bank clerks busy all day. In only several instances were withdrawals asked of considerable amount but an explanation revealed they were either to pay taxes or to be converted into a cashier's check to pay for merchandise out of town.

Local bank authorities are conforming to regulations which have been designated to assure depositors that their savings are secure.

"OUR LIBRARY" OPEN

Monday, 7:30 to 9:30 P. M.
Wednesday, 2:30 to 5 P. M.
Friday, 7:30 to 9:30 P. M.

This week marks the close of our first year of service to the townspeople of Springfield. We are proud of our library and the service it has given the community. We started, of course, at zero below as to books and borrowers.

Through the public interest both here and in nearby towns we have been able to provide a library of excellent reading which is now nearing 4,000 volumes of fiction, biography, travel, poetry, philosophy, essays and all other classes of non-fiction. Also literally there are hundreds of children's books, dictionaries and encyclopedias.

About 750 readers' cards have been issued. Think of the number of pleasant and instructive hours spent because free reading has been made available!

The major portion of the work of cataloging and making these books ready, falls upon the shoulders of the comparatively few ladies who give much of their time and strength for this purpose. Others are always scouting for more books or checking up on donations. The repair committee also comes in for its share of work when books commence to be worn. The librarian staff is committed to definite days and hours. These are but a few of the voluntary efforts that Springfield may have a Free Public Library service.

The N. J. State Library Commission stands ready always to supply special requests of any nature. Little wonder we are able to help with the school work and thus fulfill still another important function. —F.P.L.

Theatre Notes

ROTH-STRAND

"Mysterious Rider" adapted from the novel by Zane Grey will be shown at the Strand Theatre in Summit tomorrow with Kent Taylor in the leading role. The second attraction is a Moran and Mack feature entitled "Hypnotize."

An impressive cast includes Frederic March as the police prefect of Rome, Elissa Landi as the Christian girl martyr, Charles Laughton as Nero, Claudette Colbert as Poppeya with numerous other stars, in less important roles.

Settings for the picture are on a colossal scale and highlights of the film are depicted in the burning of Rome, street scenes, the attractions at the Roman arena and the worshipping hideout of the tormented Christians.

"Goona Goona" as conceived and directed by Andre Roosevelt, a drama of weird and grotesque customs, witchcraft, sorcery and charms of savage sirens, will be shown Wednesday and Thursday. It has been classified by the Better Films Committee of the Oranges and Maplewood as "Excellent" and suitable for "Family audience." A native Balinese cast is seen in the picture. Warner Baxter in "Dangerously Yours" is also on the program.

Confidence Deserved

In our President's inaugural address to the nation we were all inspired with his faith in our government, in which he stressed the point that our greatest fear was "fear itself."

During the past few days that fear has rapidly vanished and we are taking on real courage and faith which was so clearly indicated in our local bank at the close of the first day's business after the holiday when it was shown that the amount of funds deposited was many times greater than that withdrawn.

That fact dispels gloom and if we can show that courage in the future we will endure as we have endured and we will revive and prosper. The nation-wide bank holiday was a valuable lesson to all of us and the unreasoning and unjustified terror has slackened in a brief space of time from the front to an inconspicuous place in the background.

The days of closed banks must have impressed the residents of our community of the many advantages of a local bank for it is the means of extending credit to the merchant, the manufacturer, the builder and buyer of property and all these factors contribute to employment which in time starts us on the road to better times.

The danger to our banks is past and the battle was won in a short period of time. It must and it will restore confidence in the soundness of our economic foundation.

Springfield needs a bank and with a sturdy progressive growth ahead of us, we can realize more and more that it is the very center of the business of our community in which we are all so vitally interested.

The officers and directors of the local bank can well take pride in their achievement of weathering this financial crisis which just passed and further can feel credit is due their many friends and neighbors who have kept faith and carried on with full confidence and courage to maintain a

Springfield is essentially a township of homes. It is 55 minutes from New York City on the electrified D. & W. Railroad and has excellent bus connections to Newark, Elizabeth, Summit and Plainfield. The railroad stations at Millburn and Short Hills are less than a mile from Springfield Center. The Rahway Valley Railroad has a freight station in Springfield, giving service for factories, commercial and industrial purposes. State Highway Route 29 makes it convenient to reach New York in thirty minutes by car when completed. Numerous state and county highways pass through the township. It has good streets, water, gas, electricity and a newly opened sanitary sewer system. Of interest in Revolutionary history with its historic Presbyterian Church where Rev. At Music Hall Theatre

The report that artists have fun in Paris is confirmed on the stage of the Radio City Music Hall this week, where "Artists' Life," an elaborate and fast moving number in four scenes, is featuring the stage show accompanying first screen showings of James Dunn and Sally Eilers in "Sailor's Luck."

"Artists' Life" calls into play still more startling technical features of the immense stage. Among the leading performers are Irene McBride and Roger Dodge, dancers; Maria Samson, soprano from the Royal Hungarian Opera, and the Stanley Twins, young dance stars, together with the Roxyettes, the Ballet Corps and the Choral Ensemble.

Von Grona, the young German dance creator, assisted by his own group of twelve girls and by Leni Bouvier, interprets Rachmaninoff's "Prelude in C Sharp Minor." The "White Ballet," sensation of the Music Hall's opening bill last December, is being repeated this week by popular request, danced by Patricia Bowman, premiere danseuse, the Roxyettes and the Ballet Corps.

How Can . . . These Expensive Coffees COST YOU SO LITTLE?

A&P Coffees are expensive coffees — at the plantations in South America. As the world's largest coffee buyer, we always have first choice of the crops. We pay an extra premium, when necessary, to obtain the quality we insist upon.

But these fine coffees cost you little because we bring them to you from the planter direct — bought, shipped, distributed, roasted and sold — all by A&P and all at one small profit. And because they are roasted in our widely distributed local roasting plants, we are able to deliver them frequently to your neighborhood A&P Store, inexpensively packed, still in the bean, with all the flavor of freshly roasted coffee protected by nature's unbroken seal.

Genuine amber beads may be brightened by rubbing with a soft chamomile skin. No liquid or chemical should be used.

Stump His Rostrum

The phrase "stump speaking" originated in early days when the stump of a tree was not only used as a platform by the political orator but as a pulpit by the traveling preacher. In pre-Revolutionary times the padre on horseback frequently found no other cathedral in which to hold services than the wide-open spaces dotted with tree stumps. Like the politician, he spoke from a stump.

Franklin's Great Idea

About 1780 Benjamin Franklin suggested that the members of the Junto club "club" their books into a common library. This was done. After about a year the members took back their books. "And now," writes Franklin, "I set on foot my first project of a public nature, that for a subscription library. Later," he adds, "this was the mother of all the North American subscription libraries; now so numerous."

MATTER of OPINION

There never has been any question of the soundness of the Springfield Bank, but there was nevertheless a great feeling of satisfaction when the institution opened on Wednesday for regular business, in line with all other suburban banks which were certified by the license of the government to be in absolutely sound condition.

It should be a matter of pride with all the citizens of Springfield that the "sterling" mark has been placed upon their bank, and the officials and directors of the bank are to be congratulated upon the fact that through their steady steering the local financial institution has weathered so well the storm and the stress of the recent years.

We are not going to embarrass a certain Good Samaritan of this township, by publishing her name. Suffice it to say that she lives along the banks of the Rahway River and has suffered from its uncontrolled fury, along with her neighbors. Last week the wind from the North blew a gale, and the men who were working in the river—they numbered forty-three—found it hard to endure the icy blasts. Our Good Samaritan appeared on the scene with hot coffee and cookies, and on following days with hot cocoa and cookies. Did this act of kindness make a hit? Well, we have it on the authority of Mr. Volpe, the Park Commission's Engineer, that it had a fine effect on the men's staying power. They worked with a will, and the entire outfit was filled with good cheer.

Mr. Volpe, by the way, tells another story which shows the sporting spirit with which some of the unemployed men are tackling the hard and disagreeable work which must be done in digging a new channel, and changing the course of the river. One of the workers asked him one day, "Do you want to make some money? If you hire a bus and bring my lodge brothers up from Elizabeth, they'll pay you a dollar apiece to get a look at me working with a pick and shovel."

The heart-warming fact about the Block-Aid campaign is that many of those who pledged themselves for a weekly payment for the next twenty weeks, are themselves out of work, have not asked for relief and are giving out of their meagre resources, by personal sacrifice.

That was fine public spirit, displayed by the Mount-Holly citizen who drew his life savings of $10,000, and offered it to the Township Committee, which was finding it impossible to meet current expenses and pay rolls. And Mount Holly must be a good town to call forth such loyalty.

So we are to have legalized selling of beer again, for the sake of the revenue. No one can tell whether this will work out as planned. Expected revenues have not materialized from other tax levies. We are still experimenting with the liquor question and a year from now, we shall know a little more about the claims which have been made by the wets and the dries on this vexed question.

THEFT SUSPECTS GET 30-DAY JAIL TERMS

Two men found strangely wandering in the vicinity of farm property in Route 29 and Turkey lane last Friday and unable to give satisfactory explanation of their actions were committed to the county jail for thirty days—Saturday by Recorder Spining.

The men, Mike-Bozokowski, 43, of 547 South Twelfth street, Newark, and Harry Cokosci, alias Rodnicki, 47, no home, were arrested by Patrolman Stiles, carrying large bags. Following reports that chickens had been stolen recently from the vicinity, the policeman suspected larceny and took them to headquarters where they were held until Monday morning when taken to the county jail.

Why Not?

"Mother, I want to ask you something," said Steve. "The world goes around doesn't it? Well, then, when the endurance days are up in the air for several days, why can't they see China as it passes?"

the CASH REGISTER

THE delicate clang of the cash register keys, accompanied by an insistent obligato of cash drawers opening and closing is music to the merchant's ears. What annoys most merchants today is the extremely slow tempo in which this commercial music is played on their cash registers. Today, as yesterday, accelerating the pace of your cash register is accomplished by tuning up on your advertising. The SUN reaches the Home, those purchasing markets that still make purchases, that still builds for merchants, that still read the local paper for news of bargains, seasonal merchandise, innovations, and competitive prices—markets that will keep your cash registers busy. STRIKES AND SPARES

A new high team score of 1056 was established by the Recreation bowlers Tuesday night but the Diner Indians, their opponents, took the match, two games to one, which resulted in a second-place tie for both teams. The Indians were steady, averaging 950 for the night, and won both games with comfortable margins.

The leading Five Aces surprisingly lost a game to Battle Hill but maintained a four-game lead. Only three matches are left on the schedule.

The fast-moving Hose Company topped the Juniors in three high games over 900 while the A. & P. Gypsies took the odd game from the Hook and Ladder bowlers.

The contenders in the league race, the Aces, Indians and Recreation and Hose Company are beginning to figure out the mathematical possibilities at this stage. Next week the Aces have the Gypsies to hurdle and the Indians the following week, then ending with the Junior Order.

Heinie Sievers with a 254 had high score for the night, followed by Van Lambert and Joe McCauley with 246 apiece.

Laughter

The person who knows how to laugh, when to laugh, and what to laugh at, has achieved a philosophy all his own.

Arthur H. Lennox, township engineer, gave an interesting talk on mapping at the meeting Friday night. A speaker always adds interest to meetings and thus helps to increase attendance.

Board of Review will be held Monday night. Fellows—A free week-end at camp for nothing but a little effort. This trip can be yours easily because

A free week-end at camp will be awarded the Scout who submits the best six-meal menu. In judging the prize, the menu will be based according to not only the price but nourishing value, and don't submit just what you particularly like.

The answer to last week's example of the quiet, corpulent, etc. type of scout was Elmer Ackerley. This week it's a scout, one of the older boys, who is a real strong and silent brute (?). Think hard and until next week when the answer will be found here.—NEWS SCOUT. (P.S.) Don't forget the meeting tonight.

thirty-five years, was born in West Chester, Pa. Previously he resided in Roselle. He was a communicant of St. James Church and a member of the Holy Name Society.

Block-Aid

mittee of the Springfield Republican Club are furthering plans for a Block-Aid benefit to be held sometime after Easter, April 16, in the form of a concert and dance. Thomas F. Cushing is in charge of details.

In appreciation of the work performed to date, the Township Committee Monday night directed that a letter be sent Mr. Reed for the efforts expended thus far. Signed by Mayor Charles S. Cannon, it reads as follows:

"Last night I received from Secretary A. B. Anderson a report on the Block-Aid Campaign pledges made to date. It seems to me that the returns have been remarkable, considering the adverse conditions under which the campaign has been made, and I feel that the excellent showing was due entirely to the systematic organization perfected under your guidance and to the spirit of cooperation which you instilled in the workers.

"Through you I wish to thank the officers and executive committee of your staff, the Block-Aid workers and those who successfully handled the arrangements and service at the Campaign supper. "I know you are fully aware of how much the contributions, so generously pledged by our neighbors, will do toward helping our unemployed, their wives and children during these trying times. "I feel it is quite impossible to thank you and the other workers adequately for the services you are rendering the township through this campaign."
