PRICE FIVE CENTS

Rambling Around Town

SHOULD THE TOWNFATHERS proceed to divide the Town Hall auditorium into offices as contemplated shortly, only one place would be available in town for a public gathering, the James Caldwell School... unless United Singers Park is to be considered... the rental fee in the school is now $25 nightly but some provision would probably have to be made by the school authorities if the school auditorium was the only centrally located available space... The Town Hall rental cost is $15 but school officials evidently set a higher rate to encourage only certain type of affairs which could afford that amount... the Rambling Reporter was the recipient of unusual praises from almost all sources last week after "Muzzling the Press" was absorbed by the public... the barber, baker, storekeeper, gas station attendant, almost everyone along business row, expressed their opinion against tactics employed by a "third-rater" politician who has still lots to learn in the art of public affairs... the surprise of all was the reaction from a prominent Morris avenue personage who three weeks ago almost "lynched" us for our attitude in saloons in the center of town... was he pleased? ... and were we gratified? ... if public sentiment means anything, Undersheriff Rigby is in for some surprises in the near future... Springfield citizens, regardless of their political affiliations, are opposed to tactics of "Machine-politics" and the lid may soon be flying off the pot... all local newstands sold out additional copies of the SUN plus their regular supply, proving that the public was keenly interested... this week, a still larger circulation is anticipated and our circulation department is prepared to handle all orders... Jim Teller at the bowling alleys Tuesday night was in a "trance" judging by the scores of 221, 232, 234 which he rolled... it was the highest total for three games in the Municipal League this season... Springfield's quota on the C. W. A. projects in town and throughout the county has remained almost intact since the quotas were filled... one dismissal and an addition here and there has kept the number the same... who stole the sign in Academy green? Is the mystery concerning Methodist Church officials... it seems a sign, sunk in concepts, was removed by vandals recently on the property and it perplexes the churchmen as to who was the guilty party... since our last issue, the local fire company calls attention to the fact that their annual Washington's Birthday dance, which is planned on the eve of the holiday, will be held in United Singers Park... in other years, the Town Hall was used but a different place is selected this year...

Methodist Ladies Will Hold Supper The annual Washington's Birthday supper of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, an annual fixture in town, will be held this year in the lecture room, on the eve of the holiday, Wednesday, February 21, instead of February 22. Mrs. Hattie Dorricks is general chairman assisted by Mrs. Manning Day, Jr. and Mrs. Robert D. Treat, vice-chairman. A hot turkey supper will be served at 6 and 7 P. M. To avoid persons "straggling in" during the supper, the committee urges that tickets, at seventy-five cents each, be purchased in advance so that the hall will be able to accommodate all. Additional committee members will be announced in the SUN next week.

REPUBLICANS TO MEET TOMORROW The Springfield Republican Club will hold its regular monthly meeting Friday at 8 P. M. in the Legion rooms 240 Morris avenue. President John J. King will preside.

Four in Contest For School Board James Callahan Opposing Incumbents for Re-Election

There will be a contest for three seats on the Board of Education at the school election February 13. The three members who seek re-election are John Potts, vice-president; Charles Phillips, Sr., and August H. Schmidt. The deadline for filing petitions was midnight last Wednesday. The fourth candidate is James A. Callahan, who resides at 414 Mountain avenue. He is finance chairman of the Parent-Teacher Association, and has three children in the township public schools. He has lived in Springfield nine years. Mr. Callahan is employed by the New Jersey Manufacturers' Casualty Insurance Co., of Trenton as an adjuster. Mr. Potts, a member of the board six years, succeeded G. Arnold Wright as vice-president in 1931, when the latter was elected president to succeed Alyn H. Boss. He resides at 67 Severna avenue and is an attorney by profession with offices in New York City. Mr. Phillips, a member three years, resides at 89 Battle Hill avenue. He is secretary of the board of trustees in the local Free Public Library, a vestryman in St. Stephen's Episcopal Church and former master of Continental Lodge, F. and A. M., of Millburn. He has one child in the Springfield schools and a son in Roselle Park High School. He is an accountant by profession. Mr. Schmidt has been a member of the board four years, filling out an unexpired term for one year and later elected for a full term. He has resided in Springfield ten years, now living at 33 South Maple avenue. He was active in the former Home and Teacher Association at one time occupying the position of president. He is employed by the Public Service Corp. in Summit, where he is an executive of the company's branch.

Find Hidden Names For Movie Tickets

"How many I receive a free movie ticket?" "What must I do to get a free ticket to the theatre?" Questions from readers who anticipate a pair of free tickets to the Roth-Strand Theatre in Summit came to our attention frequently and the details are once more explained. Every week five names are hidden in the SUN on different pages in small type. Persons upon identification, whose names appear in the newspaper, should come to the SUN office, 10 Plomer avenue where a pair of free tickets are theirs for the asking. No obligation. No strings attached to this free offer. Merely something for nothing to be given readers of the Springfield SUN. Look for your name and if it's not there, don't lose patience. We'd like to give tickets to everyone so be patient and wait your turn. The names are selected at random from a township directory and residents must not necessarily be subscribers to share in the free movie ticket offer.

Methodist Ladies Will Hold Supper

The annual Washington's Birthday supper of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, an annual fixture in town, will be held this year in the lecture room, on the eve of the holiday, Wednesday, February 21, instead of February 22. Mrs. Hattie Dorricks is general chairman assisted by Mrs. Manning Day, Jr. and Mrs. Robert D. Treat, vice-chairman. A hot turkey supper will be served at 6 and 7 P. M. Additional committee members will be announced in the SUN next week.

STORE IS MOVED Removal of a dry goods, novelty and notion store from 21 Morris avenue to 240 Morris avenue adjoining the Legion rooms is announced this week by Mrs. M. Pinner, proprietor. Due to the need of larger quarters, the change is being made to the Center.

Public Aroused by SUN Expose of Dictatorial Methods Used by Undersheriff Lee S. Rigby

Public opinion aroused by Springfield citizenry against the vicious attack of Undersheriff Lee S. Rigby to muzzle the editorial policy of this newspaper by political interference, is most gratifying to the publishers of the Springfield SUN. Letters from citizens expressing their support of the stand taken by the SUN are reproduced as follows:

School President Reveals Past Moves

To the Editor of the Sun: I have just read your front page article regarding the attempt to throttle your right to express yourself in an un-biased manner for the benefit of Springfield. Your paper has always been fair and I know from actual experience that when you reported or commented on the proceedings of the Board of Education, that you did so in an exact and truthful manner as the English language permitted. That anyone should have the temerity to attempt dictation of your editorials indicates that he cannot be much farther than the third reader in his book of politics. I suggest for the next lesson, "Aesop's Fable on the Frog and the Ox."

Your article appears on the heels of the writer's refusal to permit his name to be used as a chairman of a committee in the Republican Club. I did not know, until I read it in your paper that I was even a member, much less a chairman of a committee and I have therefore asked the club to make the correction.

There are too many public-spirited men and women in the Republican Club to permit any such instance to go un-noticed or to countenance it. It should result in many resignations, and if I were a member I should resign immediately. Personally, I appreciated your previous editorial expressing confidence in the Board of Education. We enjoy that confidence because the township knows that no member can be controlled, pledged nor dictated to.

For the past three years we have consistently lowered the Springfield tax rate, a total I believe of close to 53 points during a time when our high school population has nearly doubled, increasing tuition paid to surrounding towns as well as transportation.

I should like to know too, why this sudden and intense interest on the part of those who, until recently, hardly know a Board of Education existed? About two weeks ago, a local organization had as its guest speaker an outside gentleman, from whom they expected to get the story of Springfield and its relation to the Regional High School. That was fine, and a proper thing to do but they could have gotten it from the Board of Education.

Close on the heels of this, another meeting was hurriedly called at which every organization was invited except the Board of Education. The purport of that meeting was to express their approval and confidence in the Board of Education--ostensibly Mayor Cannon had the courage to demand of the chairman, why, at such a meeting, the Board of Education had not been invited.

Many of those present came away with a false impression and not until the following Tuesday night at a meeting of the Board of Education at which 60 people were present did they get the full and complete picture of the Regional High School situation. And, at any time, the people of Springfield can get a full, complete and truthful picture of any school matter, even if it is desirable to call a special meeting.

In its meetings with the Regional Committee, Springfield delegates have refused absolutely to be led, cajoled or to take dictation. For this reason, and because the township would look to its own school-board for advice we have insisted on full knowledge of costs, methods of operation, etc. Some form of regional association is undoubtedly the best but we were always pressed forward with the threat of the time-time-time. Mr. Editor, we will have no white elephant saddled on Springfield. Application to the government for a loan and grant does not mean you are compelled to accept it and for that reason it is not necessary to receive answers to some questions now. But before our people vote on it they are going to know to the last dime, what it will cost and every bit of information we can gather.

It was stated about town that we were in danger of losing the high school here because we had made no offer of a site. I am informed that this was publicly so stated. Yet, at the last regional committee meeting in New Providence, when Springfield again expressed what it had already offered at every previous meeting, the chairman stated that up until then no municipality EXCEPT Springfield had made an offer and on the plans submitted to Washington the building is located on Springfield ground.

You will recall that the writer told you after the very first regional meeting that the building would undoubtedly go to Springfield. I have enjoyed working with the presidents of the other boards and have found everyone of them most reasonable and fair.

However, I certainly resent the "help" which others have been so anxious to offer and I am most interested in knowing why they feel the Springfield Board is in such need of that help. We want no politics and will take no politics. Up until this instance, no political organization had ever interfered with the Board of Education.

What our people should do is to let it be known that no political organization CAN interfere with their Board of Education. It is incumbent on the Springfield Republican Club that it demand of its member a public apology and there are men in the club who have the backbone to make this demand. Otherwise I do not see how any man can offer his candidacy under its banner unless this stigma is removed.

Unless a correction is made I feel quite sure that the Republican Club will disintegrate through the rise of a third party. You have my personal thanks for your unqualified honesty in the past and my sincere hope that you will not falter in that policy. G. ARNOLD WRIGHT

(Editor's Note. Mr. Wright, who is president of the Springfield Board of Education and vice-chairman of the temporary Regional school committee, presents these facts to the public in his position as a citizen and not as an official spokesman of the offices he holds. His opinion, therefore, is to be treated in that light.)

"Thanks"

To the Editor of the Sun: Congratulations on your splendid editorial, "Muzzling the Press." I have good reason to believe the people of Springfield will continue to support your paper and the stand you have taken.

Sincerely, trust steps may be taken to insure your paper again obtaining sheriff's foreclosure notices. Yours for success, EDWARD M. COOK.

"Strongly Supports Board of Education"

To the Editor of the Sun: Due to the frailty of human nature we are all prone to criticize acts of which we disapprove, and dilatory in expressing our approval of acts which meet our favor. With this fact in mind, it is with pleasure that I inform you that your attitude on local affairs as expressed in your editorial columns, is most gratifying to many of the citizens of our community. Realizing the pressure which is invariably exerted by those "having an axe to grind," one cannot but admire the manifestation of the courage of your convictions in the recent hotel license and Regional High School propositions.

Any effort by outside sources to discredit our Board of Education should be emphatically resented by those citizens of our town who appreciate the time, effort and intelligent handling of the problems which have confronted it.

Your paper is unquestionably deserving of the support of the thinking people of the community. Very sincerely, J. G. THOMAS.

January 28, 1934.

Thanks Again!

To the Editor of the SUN: You are to be commended upon your attitude in regard to "Muzzling the Press." Rarely in these times does one come across a man of your calibre who is willing to sublimate to a financial personal gain for the general cause and general welfare. We, who are of the opinion that politicians should maintain a "laissez-faire" policy in regard to newspapers, salute you. A LOYAL SPRINGFIELD CITIZEN

"Keep Up the Good Work"

To the Editor of the Sun: That was a mighty fine fight you put up on that Rigby question and I'm doing my wee bit to talk up your side of the story. We sure begin to look like Tammany-ruled citizens, when a man will threaten to do as small a thing as that because of difference of opinion. Keep up the good work! R. P.

Comments Stand As Well Taken

To the Editor of the SUN: It is a pleasure to know that Springfield has a newspaper that is not awayed in its opinion by the loss of revenue because expression in connection with the proposed Regional High School do not coincide with those of every individual in Springfield. I congratulate you for the stand you have taken. WILBUR D. SCHUSTER January 30, 1934.

PRESIDENT'S BALL HELD IN GROVE

Springfield joined in with 5,000 communities throughout the nation to honor President Roosevelt's birthday Tuesday night in United Singers Park at a card party and dance, sponsored by the Springfield Democratic Club. Proceeds will be given to the Warm Springs Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. James A. Callahan was chairman of arrangements. Music was played by Don Gibson and his College Club Orchestra.

Town Hall Auditorium Will House Offices As Local C. W. A. Project

Public Budget Hearing Set For Monday Night

The 1934 budget of the Township Committee, calling for $94,569 to be raised by taxation, an increase of $12,336 over last year, will be given a public hearing Monday at 8 P. M. in the Town Hall. The budget this year totals $159,424 compared to $136,218. Debt service charges on the sanitary sewer plays the leading part in the budget increase. Due to delinquent assessments, interest costs to finance the payment of bonds must be provided in the budget among general taxation. A complete detailed report of the budget, in legal form, will be found elsewhere in this issue.

Pierson Predicts Drop in Tax Rate

Assurance Given to Mayor by County Treasurer

Assurance from County Treasurer Arthur N. Pierson to Mayor Charles S. Cannon this week in a letter dated January 29 indicates the probability that taxpayers throughout the State will not be obliged in 1934 to pay the State School and Soldier's Bonus Taxes, which are to be omitted this year, thus eliminating "between forty-five and fifty points loss to levied in local taxes."

Pierson's letter follows: "A number of municipalities have felt uneasy about prospects of the first two instalment payments of taxes under the quarterly payment plan, feeling that the amount to be raised by taxes this year being in excess of the amount last year, that the first two quarterly payments this year would be less than would have been the case had the levy been fixed prior to the issuing of this year's February and May payments. (Beginning this year, taxes are paid quarterly in February, May, August and November. The tax rate is not struck until April after the tax bill has been issued for the first two payments. Therefore, the amount levied for those payments is based on the 1933 tax rate. Adjustment is provided in the August and November payments, bills being mailed after the 1934 rate is fixed, thus allowing for either a rebate or added charge, depending on whether the tax rate rises or decreases.)"

"I have given considerable thought to this matter and don't if it will be the case in any instance, because the tax-point of Mill Road tax, which was a part of your levy last year, has been abandoned. At this present writing, there is every prospect that the State School Tax and Soldier's Bonus Tax will likewise be omitted this year, in which case there will be between forty-five and fifty points loss to be levied in local taxes when levy is fixed for 1934.

"Taking these factors into consideration, I doubt if any municipality will find that their first two quarterly payments are in excess of the last two, which of course will be determined when the rate is struck and prior to the issuing of the corrected tax bills covering the last two payments."

Springfield had a 4.12 tax rate last year and judging by the local school and township budgets, there would have been a 25-point increase to 4.37. The county tax rate is expected to increase seven points, making the local rate 4.44 and a few point increase in the first district budget, not yet announced, is anticipated. Thus, should the State levy be eliminated according to County Treasurer Pierson, Springfield would still have a tentative rate of approximately $4.00 or twelve points loss this year over last year's figures.

Await Final State Approval Before Starting on Job--$1,000 Amount Involved

PAINTING OF EXTERIOR ALSO INCLUDED

Awaiting final approval from C. W. A. authorities, plans of the Township Committee contemplate altering the auditorium on the second floor of the Municipal Building to house various township offices and a committee chamber. The county C. W. A. technical advisory committee on civil works approved the project last week, conditional however to continuation of the C. W. A. program with sufficient funds, and secondarily to approval of the projects by the State administration at Newark.

The project, if authorized, will not provide any additional jobs; it was pointed out. It will be started as local C. W. A. men already employed become idle through the completion of earlier projects.

Committeeman Wilbur M. Selander grounds and building chairman, is in charge of alteration plans being worked out in co-operation with Arthur H. Tomox, township engineer. The amount being sought for labor will represent about $1,000 which will be equally matched by the Township Committee for materials. In addition to building rooms in the present auditorium, the project includes painting of the exterior of the Town Hall.

Describing what the Governing Body has under consideration, Selander stated plans include four rooms and a committee chamber. The hall now has three swinging doors. The center entrance will lead into a corridor separating two rooms on each side, present doors leading into each of the front compartments. Two of the rooms will probably be used for the township clerk and tax collector's offices. The other two offices will house the assessor and emergency relief storeroom.

At the end of the corridor, the hall will extend back beyond the present stage which will be removed to the floor's level. This will be used as the committee chamber and seating capacity is allowed for about seventy-five spectators comfortably seated. One present room adjoining the stage will provide a private caucus room. Selander stated that the Governing Body has not definitely decided on the disposition of the offices on the first floor to be vacated by the clerk and collector, should they be moved upstairs.

Reports indicate the Police Department may be given the collector's office and the Fire Department have the room used by the clerk. Until such time as the C. W. A. approval is received, no steps will be taken to vacate and the sole fraternal organization using the auditorium, the Daughters of America, will continue to meet twice monthly there.

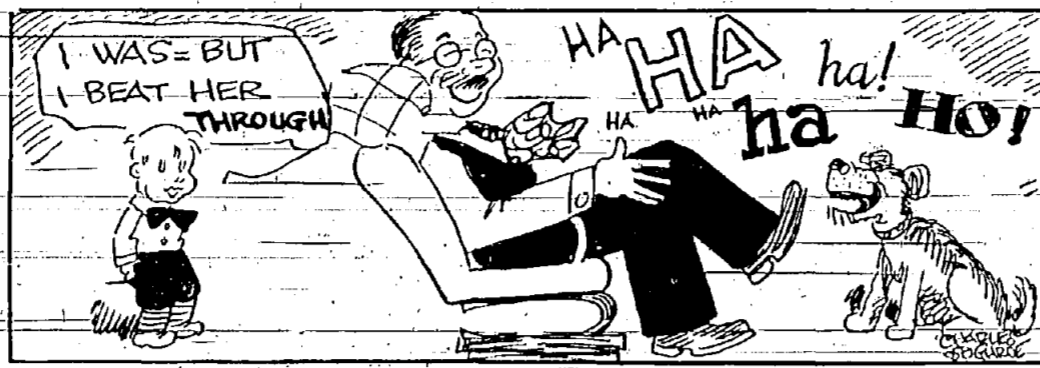

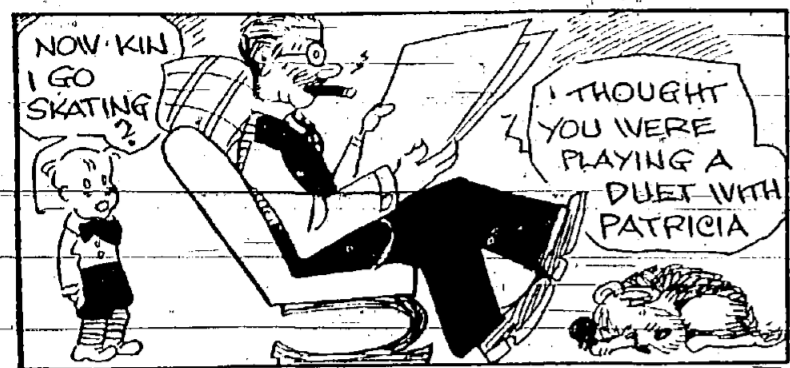

LEAGUERS HEAR INSTITUTE PLANS

Details of the Winter Institute of the Epworth League for this district were discussed by members of the Springfield Epworth League Sunday night in the Methodist Church. K. Schaeffer of Union Village, business manager of the Institute, attended and announced that classes will commence the evening of February 23 in the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Summit.

On March 1 the Institute will meet in Summit and for two weeks following on Thursday nights the place of meeting will be in the Irvington Maplewood. Dr. Neff of New Providence is dean this year and announcements of class schedules will follow.

The local league session Sunday night was led by Miss Helen Nelson and the topic discussed was "The Christian and His Criminal." The next meeting Sunday night will be under the leadership of the Misses Frances Fincheon and Emily Stone on the topic, "Ideals." Arthur R. Schramm

IMPROVED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for February 4

PUTTING GOD'S KINGDOM FIRST

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 6:1-34. GOLDEN TEXT—Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you. Matthew 6:33.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Tells of God's Care. JUNIOR TOPIC—In Search of Riches. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Serving One Master Only. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Putting God's Things First.

Having set forth in the previous chapter the standards of the kingdom, Christ the King now exhibits the underlying principles which control the subjects of the kingdom.

I. As to Giving (vv. 1-4).

Dolgy-ahs-before men is not condemned as that would contradict Matthew 5:16, but the doing of them before men to be seen of them. To seek publicity in doing our alms is to miss the reward of the heavenly Father.

II. As to Praying (vv. 5-15).

The spirit of self-advertisement frequently displays itself even in the holy exercise of prayer. In order to correct this evil tendency he sets forth 1. False prayer (vv. 5, 7). This consists in a. Praying to be seen and heard of men (v. 5). Many of the prayers uttered in public are false, for the thing uppermost in the mind of the one praying, is what the people think rather than what God thinks.

b. Using vain repetitions (v. 7). This does not mean that we should ask but once for a given thing. We have examples of both Christ and Paul praying three times for the same thing (Matt. 26: 39-40; II Cor. 12: 7, 8). It means rather the using of meaningless repetitions.

2. True prayer (v. 9). Since real prayer is a transaction of the soul with God, there should be a real desire for fellowship with him which moves one to meet him in the secret place.

3. The model prayer (vv. 9-15). This involves

a. Right relationship—"Our Father" (v. 9). Before one can pray so as to be heard he must, through the regenerating work of the Holy Spirit, become a child of God.

b. The right attitude—"Hallowed be thy name" (vv. 9, 10). While God is our heavenly Father he is more than that. He is the Almighty. We should go before him then with reverent adoration.

c. A right spirit—"Give us this day our daily bread," "Forgive us our sins," "Lead us not into temptation" (vv. 11-13). Those who would pray effectively must have such faith as would trust him for daily bread, and such love as would forgive those sinning against them, and such hatred of evil as to desire not to be led into temptation.

III. As to Fasting (vv. 16-18).

The true reason for fasting is to be found in the opportunity it gives for a clear vision of God.

IV. As to Earthly Riches (vv. 19-24).

The Lord knew the temptations which would befall his children in their pilgrimage and the anxiety to get forth they would lead; therefore he set forth the proper attitude toward earthly possessions.

The nature of earthly riches (vv. 19-23).

1. They are uncertain (vv. 19, 20). Earthly treasures corrode, and may be taken from us.

2. They are seductive (v. 21). Christ called riches deceitful (Matt. 13:22). It is not wrong to possess earthly treasures, but when earthly treasures possess us they become a snare unto us.

2. The effect of earthly riches (vv. 23-24).

a. They blunt the moral and spiritual perceptions (vv. 23-24). Those who become enamored with the things of the world soon become insensitive to spiritual things.

b. They render service null and void (v. 24). As soon as one's heart is stolen by riches, he is unfitted for spiritual service.

V. As to Faith in the Heavenly Father (vv. 25-34).

1. Be not anxious about food and clothing (vv. 25-27). To be filled with anxiety concerning food and clothing shows distrust of God (v. 30).

2. It is useless (v. 31). Anxiety brings us absolutely nothing.

3. It is healthful (v. 32). Those who know God as the loving Father will be free from anxious care.

4. Be sincerely anxious to seek the kingdom of God and serve him (vv. 33, 34). This means that world affairs should be subordinated to spiritual affairs.

WIFE'S PART IN MATE'S SUCCESS

World's Failures, as Seen by Psychologist.

While every normal man and woman strives to learn the secrets of success in life, how many pause to consider the causes of failure? Dr. Bernard Hollander, the psychologist, says the London Daily Mail analyzed the reasons for failure while speaking at the London meeting of the South Place Ethical society.

They ranged from sheer laziness and over-venting ambition to the handicap of a bad marriage—the wife who is a millstone round her husband's neck.

"A man fails," said Doctor Hollander, "if his ideas are larger than his purse; if he trusts unworthy people; if he puts pleasure before duty and has too many or too expensive amusements; if he does not do to-day what he can possibly put off until tomorrow; and if he risks all his eggs in one basket when he is not in a position to watch or control it."

"Some men fail because they are given to dawdling, indecision, worrying or fretting, or have over-ambitious expectations."

"A man is bound to fail if he has no sense of humor, lacks cordiality, does not know how to approach men, cannot take a rebuff good-naturedly, does not carry confidence or conviction, and when he is too long-winded in his conversation so that people tire before he gets to the point."

A good sunny-futures in life, said Doctor Hollander, were due to over-active impulses, but the man whose animal nature was weak had no right to pose as virtuous, because temptation did not exist for him.

Success or failure in life depended also to a great extent upon the kind of partner in marriage.

"There is the nagging wife, the clinging wife, the dominating wife and the dull-witted wife who is something of a millstone round her husband's neck," he said.

"There is bound to be failure when an aggressive, masculine woman marries an effeminate youth; when an independent and courageous man marries a helpless, stupid woman; and an athletic, vigorous woman marries a dried-up bookworm."

"I have known girls go to marry a man for such trivial reasons as that he dances divinely."

"Neither society, the state, nor humanity can continue to exist without the old-fashioned wedded couple bound together by a bond of love and affection."

And He Believed It—"He made me swear that he was the only man I had ever loved."

"Yes, and I even added that he was the handsomest of them all."

The Household

By Lydia Le Baron Walker

This Handsome Sofa Is One Suited to the Incoming Styles.

IT IS interesting to note that the vogue for ultra-modernistic furniture is passing. This does not mean that it is gone, nor that no more pieces will be made. Far from it, but that a new style of furniture is beginning to put in its appearance with an uncertain sound. And as this style advances, what we have termed modern no longer will be the latest thing. It will become a past vogue, and finally be old-fashioned. This is the fate of all pronounced styles. The modernistic has had a full-time run.

While the vogue termed "modern" features simplicity of line, it is an austere simplicity, in which straight lines and sharp angles are characteristics. In it, is a grand gesture of eliminating curves. But now that curves are again finding favor, as so notably instanced in individual costume, these graceful lines are coming into their own in furniture also. In art the curve is known as "the line of beauty."

JAPAN'S HEIR

By LEONARD A. BARRETT

Japan celebrated with characteristic jubilation the birth of an heir to the throne of the ancient dynasty of the world. The press reports that the processions were composed of persons from all ranks of social life marching all night long toward the royal palace. Besides the glitter of the procession, prayers were offered by millions of Buddhists in gratitude that a mikado was at last born in the imperial household. The present Mikado and his empress have four children, but they are all daughters. Now that a son has been born to them, the one hundred million Japanese point proudly to the fact that he is to be the one hundred and twenty-fifth mikado.

"Curse-Ridden" Tomb Is Visited by 100,000

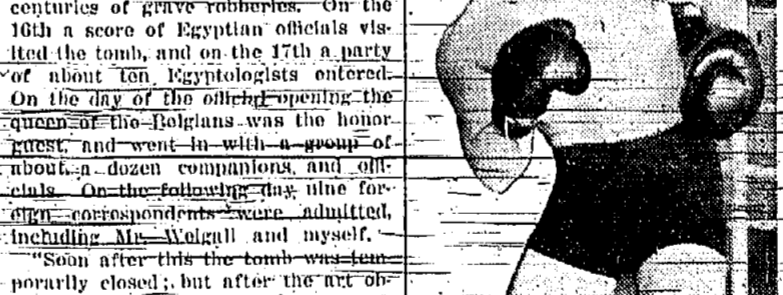

Death of Writer Recalls "Tut" Superstition.

Washington.—The death in London of Arthur E. P. Welgall, writer and Egyptologist, who entered the tomb of King Tut-Ankh-Amun shortly after it was opened in 1923, has recalled the superstition in regard to "Tut-Ankh-Amun's curse," believed by the credulous to pursue those who had a part in uncovering the Pharaoh's last resting place.

Tourists View Chamber.

The official opening of the inner chamber was on February 15, 1923, writes Doctor Williams. Prior to that time, probably a dozen workers and supervisors had been in and out of the chamber containing the king's mummy, though none of them then knew that the shrine, sarcophagus and rich coffins had actually survived 33 centuries of grave-robbing.

Citizens Want Free Press

THE citizens of Springfield have expressed their feelings toward a free-thinking independent press in this community and the SUN is most gratified to learn the public's favorable reaction to our front-page editorial last week exposing Under-sheriff Rigby and his "Tummy-Hall tactics" to suppress our editorial policies, particularly on the proposed Regional High School.

Since the appearance of this article, expressions of confidence from Springfield citizens has been most encouraging in our fight to continue publishing unbiased opinions on township topics. The Springfield SUN has proven on past performances that its interests are primarily concerned with the betterment of the community and our future policy will not falter despite attempts by dictatorial Under-sheriff Rigby to interfere and direct that our editorial comment be in accord with his wishes.

This newspaper, in fair play, offers comment from both sides on any subject. Under-sheriff Rigby has failed to express his attitude on "Muzzling the Press" and his prolonged silence leads us to believe he realizes, as do most of his supporters, that of all the political blunders ever made, his ill-fated role on the Regional High School subject has been the most glaring. There is no room for politics to be injected in our school system.

Never in the history of the local Board of Education can it really be stated that any political influence was so openly exposed as that of Under-sheriff Rigby's presence in this case. Instead of gradually rising in political circles, Under-sheriff Rigby's star has reached its climax and is slowly fading.

The voters of Springfield who represent true Republicanism, are disgusted at the spectacle of Under-sheriff Rigby displaying the significant role he has been playing. They thoroughly realize the futility of machine politics in a community the size of Springfield, and our prediction that he will gradually eliminate himself, by his own hand, is based safely and without prejudice, on his past experiences.

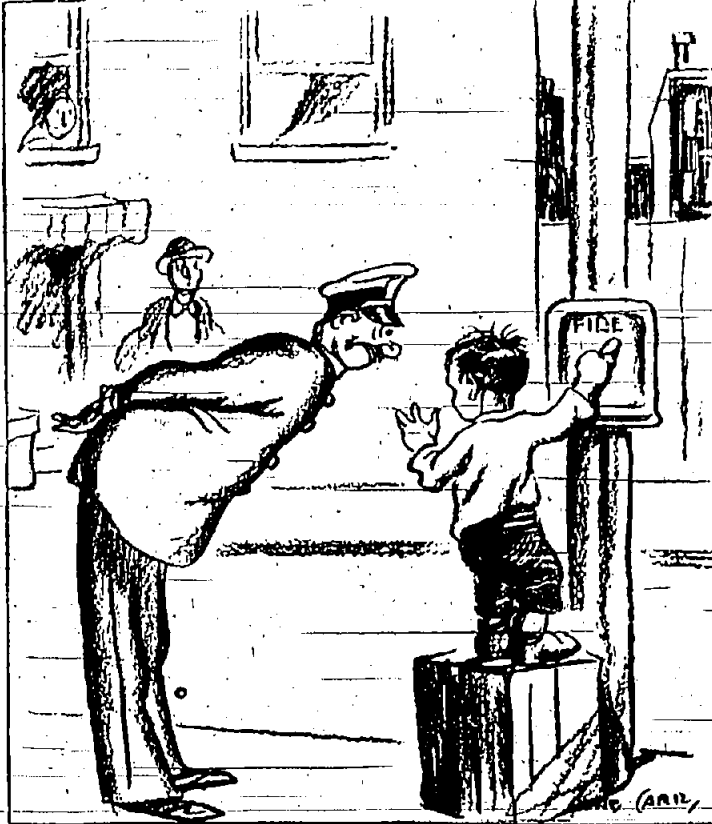

Happily, the Springfield SUN will have done its duty in exposing Rigby's vicious pressure to eliminate a considerable loss of revenue to this newspaper. The SUN is pledged to serve the public in maintaining an editorial policy untempered and unbiased.

Town Hall Offices

What the SUN Advocates

Believing that the following improvements are vital necessities to nourish Springfield's betterment and substantial progress, the SUN advocates:

- 1. A high school.
2. Removal of dilapidated buildings which are "sorespots."
3. Sidewalks wherever needed.
4. Encouraging clean factories, to increase the taxables.
5. An active Board of Trade to stimulate "Buying in Springfield."
6. Postal-carrier delivery.
7. Reduced bus fare within town limits and to Millburn R. R. station.
8. Full time position for the township clerk's office.
9. Set of Building Zones, before township is developed.

local officials will seize a chance to do the work at this time.

Springfield will pay for materials used and the C. W. A. will furnish the labor. The project is sorely needed. Township offices are unnecessarily crowded under present conditions and citizens are obliged to jam like "sardines in a can" to attend meetings of the Governing Body.

Agitation to move the principal offices of collector, township clerk, assessors and council rooms, upstairs in the building, has been steadily progressing. Commensurate with the growth of local township offices, additional space is required. Should the auditorium be divided soon, citizens will feel more at ease to attend sessions of their Township Committee in more spacious quarters. Thus, not only will local labor benefit from this "made-work" project, but the taxpayer stands everything to gain. It looks like an all-around sound bargain.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORS TO GIVE PLAY

Considerable interest is being shown in the three-act comedy, "Who's Grandma" to be presented by the Christian Endeavor Society Wednesday and Friday nights of next week in the chapel of the Presbyterian Church. There will be special vocal and instrumental music and the Young People intend to give the audience a barrel of laughs during the play. Tickets are thirty-five cents.

PLAN CARD BENEFIT

A card party for the benefit of the Rosary and Altar Society of St. James Catholic Church will be held February 12 in the South Mountain Estate office of Harry J. Stevens, Millburn and Wyoming avenues, Millburn. Mrs. John Stevens, Mrs. Charles Hone and Mrs. Joseph Galpin are in charge of arrangements. The committee urges that early reservations be made to attend due to the limited capacity of the office.

Emergency Relief Report Is Issued

Activity During 1933 Given by Director Selander

High spots in relief figures provide a partial picture of the activity carried on during 1933 by the Emergency Relief Administration for unemployed in the township. Committeeman William M. Selander, present director, announced the figures this week. Lewis F. Macartney, present overseer of the poor, preceded Selander as local director, retiring early in the fall.

In January, 1933, there were 179 cases with 810 persons receiving relief at a cost to the State and township of $1,725.51. The peak load was reached in May with 214 cases, a total of 896 persons receiving relief at a cost of $2,237.15 monthly.

Toward the end of November, the Civil Works Administration provided employment for those on relief lists and December showed a sharp decline in cases. During December, many not on relief, but who had reached the end of their resources, were placed to work on C. W. A. projects. This activity of C. W. A. is reflected in rent, light, fuel and clothing, and the drop to 98 cases comprising 388 American Red Cross played a large part in township relief. Springfield Chapter, Red Cross, distributed to relief recipients quantities of new and used garments, consisting of underwear, socks, shirts, trousers, overalls, sweaters, coats, yardage, blankets, etc. There were also 1,110 bags of flour distributed to the needy.

The average cases per month during the year was 169 families, comprising 693 persons and the average monthly cost was $1,817.66. Expenditures of relief for the entire year totaled $23,857.73. Out of this, Federal and State governments contributed $19,442.28, the balance being met by township and "Block-Aid" funds.

The Emergency Relief Administration also distributed 1649 pounds of pork and 228 pounds of butter during November and December to relief recipients, these last being direct gifts from the Federal government and the cost of same not being included in above figure.

In addition to the above sums spent by Federal, State and local governmental agencies for food, medicine, medical treatment and hospitalization, activity of C. W. A. is reflected in rent, light, fuel and clothing, and the drop to 98 cases comprising 388 American Red Cross played a large part in township relief. Springfield Chapter, Red Cross, distributed to relief recipients quantities of new and used garments, consisting of underwear, socks, shirts, trousers, overalls, sweaters, coats, yardage, blankets, etc. There were also 1,110 bags of flour distributed to the needy.

"DESIGN FOR LIVING" DUE AT MILLBURN

Ernst Lubitsch's "Design for Living" will be shown at the Millburn Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

It has for leading players Frederic March, Gail Cooper, Miriam Hopkins and Edward Everett Horton and was brought to the screen by Ben Hecht from Noel Coward's sensational stage success of the same name.

Motion pictures have rarely attempted pictures dealing with the subject of "Design for Living."

On a Paris-bound train, Miriam Hopkins, vivacious young artist, first meets the two men who are to change her life. They are George Curtis, also an artist and Tom Chambers, playwright, played by Cooper and March respectively.

Tom and George both fall madly in love with her. To further complicate matters, Miss Hopkins falls in love too. Only she is too fond of Tom to tell him she loves George, and she loves George too much to hurt to tell him about Tom.

After lengthy discussions, the problem is solved. She is to live with them, but she will be a mother of the arts. Sex is out entirely.

So with this goal for their happiness, the three of them settle down together in their triangular love-nest. But happiness isn't won so easily, but the manner in which they eventually do get-together brings the picture to a most amusing ending.

Also on the same bill is the powerful continental drama, "Madame Spy" with Fay Wray in the title role and opposite her is Nils Aather. The cast also includes Edward Arnold, Noah Beery and John Miljan. The story concerns the hectic days of 1915 on the German-Austrian-Russian border, when all of Europe was aflame. The beautiful Russian girl who sacrifices everything, to serve her country in the only way she knows, how and the cross-roads she comes to when love crosses her path, makes one of the most absorbing pictures of the season, and Miss Wray gives a performance in characterization which will surprise many of her followers.

"Convention City" and "Dinner at Eight" Due at Roth-Strand

JOHN BARRYMORE, LIONEL BARRYMORE, MADE DRESSLER, LEE TRACY, BILLIE BURKE, WALLACE BEERY and JEAN HARLOW AT EIGHT

Wallace Beery, Jackie Cooper in "The Bowery" Playing Friday and Saturday

First National's comedy of the century, "Convention City" comes to the Roth-Strand Theatre in Summit tomorrow and Saturday, starring a flock of screen celebrities with Joan Blondell, Adolphe Menjou, Dick Powell, Mary Astor, Guy Kibbee, Frank McHugh, Patricia Ellis, Ruth Donnelly, Hugh Herbert and Grant Mitchell.

To make the bill more attractive to the Strand management is also offering Wallace Beery and Jackie Cooper in "The Bowery" supported by George Raft and Fay Wray. The picture brings Beery and the youthful Jackie back together again since their first success "The Champ" and "The Bowery" is said to be even more entertaining.

Never in the history of the screen has a cast of the magnitude of "Dinner at Eight" been presented to the film public. The group in "Grand Hotel" fades by comparison with the list of stars in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's cinema-version of the Broadway play hit, which will be shown Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Here we have Mario Dressler as a flamboyant retired musical-comedy star, John Barrymore as a "has been" matinee idol now penniless and on the verge of suicide, Wallace Beery as a vulgar but powerful millionaire who can wipe out his competitors with a jerk of the thumb, Jean Harlow as his cheating wife, Lionel Barrymore as a shipbuilder facing business catastrophe, Lee Tracy as a Broadway theatrical agent, Edmund Lowe as a society doctor with a weakness for his feminine patients.

And more to come! Billie Burke as a Park avenue hostess, Madge Evans as her daughter, engaged to one man but in love with another; Jean Harlow as a play producer, Karon Morley, as the wife of the "fickle" doctor, Louisa Clowry Hulo as a "poor relation," Phyllis Holmes as Miss Evans' uninterested suitor, May Robson as the cook on whom falls the actual responsibility for the success of the dinner.

Each star in "Dinner at Eight" has a bit scene with the various sub-plots woven into one grand smash climax. The story concerns a dinner at which a varied group of people are invited, and the individual adventures which befall each between the time of the invitation and the event.

Latest Development in Man's Conquest of Air

The dream airplane of every pioneer of flying since Leonardo da Vinci—a machine which can reproduce, in their almost perfect, all the motions of a bird—is awaiting, at a day in the near future when it will make its first demonstration flight before an audience of experts from all countries, states a writer in News of the World.

The secret of this wonderful new development in man's conquest of the air lies not in range of engine power, nor in any new aerodynamic principle, such as the rotor or windmill plane, but in the brilliant flexibility of the wings themselves.

The idea of a flexible wing—or to be more technical, the variable camber wing—is not new, but the difficulties of putting it into practice have hitherto proved insurmountable.

To vary the camber of an airplane's wing while in flight means to alter the direction of the air flow over the wing surface, resulting in an increase or diminution of the lifting power and retarding forces.

This would have to be done by a mechanism of some sort—but a mechanism that would have to be installed inside the wing itself, be so light as to be negligible in the construction of the wing, and sufficiently strong to pass the rigid stress-tests imposed by the authorities.

The mechanism would also have to be controlled by a lever in the pilot's cockpit.

Now Signor Antoni claims that he has evolved this mechanism. He has, he says, triumphed in his lifelong quest of the real bird-airplane, and he has called the serious interest of the leading aeronautical experts of the world.

The French Academy of Medicine reports a new cure for some forms of insanity. It consists of a serum developed by Dr. Gabriel Petit. Noting that injections of radio active material into horses tended to accumulate in the nerve centers, altering their structures, Doctor Petit tested the blood serum of these horses on various animal and human diseases and found that it was useful in treating insanity of the mania type, 52 cures being reported. The theory is that the radioactive materials damage some of the horse's nerve cells, setting free a chemical into the blood. This chemical is found to have stimulating and curative action on other nerve cells, even in human brains. Pathfinder Magazine.

Here's Newest on Fashion's Program

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

OF ALL fascinating pastimes among style-minded women, there is none more so than that of prying into the secrets of changeable, fickle Dame Fashion. Here's the latest move of that capricious arbiter of the mode, namely, whereas shoulder lines have been occupying front-page space in fashion's news columns, henceforth hiplines are going to compete for like honors.

That same enthusiasm with which designers have been playing up the and attractive shoulder-line treatments is shifting this season in the direction of designed and accented hipline effects. In consequence of which the newest frocks, likewise two-piece suits, are flaunting the most pert and audacious little flanges and flares imaginable. For the most part they call them poptums. So, please to remember poplum's the word when it comes to the smart silhouette for the immediate future.

The real news about poplums which should be kept in mind when you go touring the shops for a mid-season frock or an early spring suit is that the smartest models on the boards, are those made with a poplum.

See, in proof thereof, the good-looking two-piece dress which the young woman seated in the picture is wearing. Note the circular-cut poplum, which flares out atop a slim straight skirt. It is an up-to-the-minute style detail. The large-in-the-arms hole sleeves also register 100 per cent chic. Green wool crepe is the material for this modish two-piece with a brown velvet for the wide crutch belt and choker collar.

Another number on the new program

Which is being played up most dramatically, yet in ways conspicuously novel and out-of-the-ordinary is the scarf. The latest gesture of fashion is the coat, suit or ensemble which has a generous scarf of self-material which is made to "do tricks" according to the whim of its wearer. We are picturing just such a model to the right in the illustration. This stunning coat is one of several Schiaparelli costumes ordered in Paris by Duchess d'Ayen, who recently visited in America. Note the wide neck-width border each side of this scarf. The fact that corresponding tucks trim the sleeves is significant in that a most important step in the new scheme of things is to stylize the scarf with the self-stimulating treatment as the rest of the costume, so that it becomes an integral part of the coat or dress, as the case may be.

Frequently, scarfs of material matched to the coats they trim are so fashioned as to permit lapping them over and buttoning in smart gilet effect, which at front-view gives the impression of a two-piece garment since the scarf drops down over the skirt portion and is belted in like a blouse.

There is no doubt but what the furless coat will stand forth conspicuously this spring. It may be collarless or not, but in either event, some sort of a scarf is inevitable. Particularly in evidence will be the scarfs of matching woolen, or if not that, then of some one or other of the new intriguing novelty woolen weaves. It is this type of scarf which is being insisted upon for the forthcoming sports coat or suit.

BEAUTY TALKS

By MARJORIE DUNCAN

STOUT, THIN OR NORMAL?

THE beauty world is at war again—oh, not a very serious war—but just enough to make it very, very interesting. There are some that feel the whole world is reducing, others that say curves are in vogue. In fact, the latter group contends that reducing ended when the Empress Eugenie had started. Whether or not the bread and butter loaf is to replace the lettuce leaf only time will tell. Time changes, women with it, and fashion is more fickle than the fanny.

My personal opinion is that women are becoming plump, quite some in the business of fashioning the figure. Yes, some have gone to the extreme in attempting to achieve sylvan-like proportions. With the boyish, flapper form as the result. But, happily, they are comparatively few. And certain it is too that the South African type of beauty is pronounced "far too fat" by Americans.

Slender hips, and squinting to keep them trim, are still in vogue. Scrawny shoulders and chests are talking on some human flesh and better feminine form, thereby.

Women will soon be the normal healthy and beautiful specimens that Nature plus Art can make them. And how is this new beauty to be achieved? As far as the figure is concerned, there's one magic word—"exercise." More and more women are squinting and twisting and arm-swinging their figures into fluttering proportions. For though chest and shoulders take on the needed padding, abdomens must remain flat, and hips trim.

You can, if you wish, massage arms and shoulders with a tending cream to enhance the rounded pads to form; or slap hip bulges into shape with camphor and alcohol solution. But in themselves these mediums cannot work magic. Only when accompanied by exercise are they resultful.

Which side are you on—stout, thin or just right happy and healthy norm? I had a letter a few days ago from a woman who told me that her friend had reduced a great deal of weight by the thyroid gland treatment, and so she was going to have them too. The treatments may have been splendid for her friend, but that is no indication that she needs them. Only a reputable physician after a very careful physical examination should recommend and administer any glandular treatments.

EXPERT DISCUSSES ROUGE

ROUGE is such an important factor in the make-up ensemble. Used properly, in the right shade and blandly cleverly it can soften hard lines, make contour defects less apparent and enhance one's natural color and spirit and that look that says "I'm alive—and glad to be."

Properly applied rouge can make your make-up and make you more alluring, interesting. But poorly applied, it had better be left off entirely. Before choosing your rouge decide whether you wish a liquid, cream or compact rouge. Also make sure that the color you choose is right.

There are three types of rouge—liquid, cream or paste, and dry or compact rouge. Each has its advantages. The liquid stays on longest. But it is most difficult to use.

Cream or paste rouge is not drying, blends more easily than liquid rouge, and gives a warmer, "under the skin" quality that comes closest to natural color. Take a wee bit on the middle finger and dab it on near the cheek bone where your natural color is. Now blend with another finger—upward and outward along the natural color area. Remember that a little is enough. It is better to start with too little and add a bit than to start with too much and attempt to tone down the color. That is too difficult.—Remember, too, that too much rouge will make the face look harder and older, just as sharp edges will. Rouge spread too low on the cheek has the same effect. Keep it hanging high. Compact rouge, with which we are all familiar, is simplest to apply—and is used to "touch up" the make-up.

Too much emphasis cannot be placed on choosing the right shade. With so many colors offered—with rouges ranging from a light coral to a deep warm yellow, with make-up experts and beauty savants ready to help, there is no reason why every woman should not have her own shade of rouge. After exercising or after patting the skin with tonic you can tell where your color naturally appears, but also your own color tone.

I have found that cream rouge is easiest to blend, and gives the most natural, delicate and warm effect. Over it lightly blend powder, patting and blending. Do not rub. Then apply your lip paint or lipstick and remember that cream rouge for cheeks and make-up for lips should harmonize exactly. That is one of the important rules of make-up.

Learn the art of applying perfume. Become a devotee of the atomizer. Spray it lightly on your skin, your lingerie, the lining of your hat. Rub just a bit on the palm of your hands, touch a bit behind your ears, on your brows and lips. But always remember that just a little is enough. Also make use of the delightful perfume tricks that smart women know.

Modern Relations of Parents and Children

The more I see of the ingratitude of children," writes one of my readers, "the more I wonder how parents put up with it and keep right on sacrificing themselves. Mothers and fathers give up every luxury, even ordinary comforts and pleasures to which they are entitled, to lavish things on their children, and the children take it all for granted. Parents think of them before they think of themselves, think for them before they think for themselves, and what return or even acknowledgment do they get—thoughtfulness, consideration, gratitude? Not that I have noticed.

"I have not married, but I have several friends with children. And from my observation I can't help concluding it is the fault of the parents themselves, that is the modern attitude of parents that children are entitled to—everything. The old-fashioned parent made no less sacrifices for his or her children, but the child knew it. Children then were brought up to be thankful, to revere and honor their parents for what they did for them. No bones were made about the struggle and sacrifice involved in bringing up a family, so the children could not remain thoughtless of the debt they owed. And with anyone question what this did in building character? In some ways there's a lot to be said for the old-fashioned parent."

The famous writer to whom this indignant plaint was addressed thus answered it: "I do not agree with the reader that the way to produce considerable, thoughtful appreciative children is to try to impress them with how much their parents do for them, to remind them how much they owe their parents and keep them conscious of the debt. In fact, I can think of no more certain way of souring a child's life. But then I do not agree either with the reader that most children are ungrateful. They may not express their appreciation of their parents' unselfishness observably to an outsider. But I think most parents know that joy of little acts of thoughtfulness and devotion, even from the least serious-minded children, that makes everything they do more than worth while. In a recent symposium, among college women on the relative merits of the Ten Commandments, I think an overwhelming majority chose as the most important to be observed, 'Honor thy father and thy mother.' So the devotion of parents seems to be not unknown.

"I believe the greatest consciousness on the part of children of their parents' devotion is not brought about by the parents affirming this. I think it is the natural response, according to the sensitiveness of their natures.

LOOK at them . . . and your cheeks, too, without make-up. Do they possess the natural glow of health, which comes from a sufficiency of rich red blood? If they do, make-up is simple. . . If they don't read on . . . you may find one of the reasons why your skin is not clear and rosy.

You cannot have red lips, rosy cheeks, energy and cheerfulness if your blood is in a run-down condition. Lack of hemo-glo-bin, the red coloring of the blood, may also indicate a weakened condition of the body—loss of strength . . . poor appetite.

S.S.S. is not just a so-called tonic but a tonic specially designed to stimulate gastric secretions, and also having the mineral elements so very, very necessary in restoring a low hemo-glo-bin content. If your condition suggests a blood tonic of this kind, try S.S.S. Unless your case is exceptional, you should soon notice a pick-up in your appetite. . . your color and skin should improve with increased strength.

S.S.S. is sold by all drug stores in two sizes . . . the larger is more economical.

DOES NOT HARM THE HEART

BLACK SUIT USEFUL IN ANY WARDROBE

No matter how large and important your wardrobe may be, you'll find that there is a constant use for a black fur-trimmed suit.

The suit of black cloth or woolen with plenty of black Persian lamb or ermine is grand for those who have to be out all day, and it is only a matter of a change of blouse to make it fit for dinner wear.

One shop shows the same suit with different blouse; a simple shirtwaist of white satin, a dressy crepe and then a tulle of white and gold lure, so that it can be worn for lunch, afternoon tea and bridge and then on to dinner—with perfect assurance.

Backward Draping on New Coats for Early Spring

Coats made of soft wool for mid-season and early spring wear are designed on slender fitted lines with large fur collars draped backwards. Their sleeves, often enlarged at the top, show a tendency to backward draping between the shoulder and elbow.

Lining of contrasting color occasionally appear. One unadorned model of gray green wool is lined in dark green, satin and worn with an afternoon frock of the same shade.

Gold Jewelry

Gold is a high favorite for the staple close fitting necklets which go with the high necked frocks. They gold pyramids fastened on a narrow bib of net make one striking necklet.

Year-Round Velvet

Velvet has become a year-round fabric and the new cords, flingonals, twents and capelle velvets are as practical for summer wear as they are for fall and winter.

FEATHER CAPE

This evening gown of outstanding distinction drapes a two-tone coral crepe sash so as to form a soft flowing panel to the left. The bright coral color of this picturesque gown contrasts the dull whiteness of the crepe of which the frock is created, most effectively. The cape of coral crepe and feathers is a high-style evening fashion.

Desires Are Not Won by Wishing

The year is still young, too young for those who made New Year resolutions to have become discouraged with their forgetfulness of them, and still young enough for those who want to make the year show progress in any definite lines, to still make plans for their fulfillment.

It is said that if you want a thing enough you will have it. Now is the time to remember the saying and apply it to the coming month. It is something that cannot end with the expressing of the desire, although to formulate the wish is important. It crystallizes the idea in your own mind. It helps to weed out the non-essentials in the wish, and clears the vision to see not only some openings whereby the desire can make progress, but also whether we actually want what we want enough to pay the price for it.

It is a mistake to think that what we want will fall to our lot without our doing anything about it. A wish which is completed with expressing it has no deep roots in our minds. It is just a casual voicing of a superficial desire. This is the most common sort of wish. It is heard every day as:

"I wish I could paint."
 "I wish I could sing."
 "I wish I could write."
 "I wish I were on the stage. I know I could act."

And so a whole category of wishes could be given, with the knowledge that "in every Middlesex village and farm" many persons are making such wishes. Also there could well be the realization that most of the wishes would prove futile, although they could come true.

The reason for this is that so few persons want a thing enough to pay the price to get it. This price to which I refer has nothing to do with money. It is the toll of time and of work, of keeping one's self physically fit through exercise, through giving up social life except what could be sandwiched in between hours required for the work, and keeping the focus always on the wanted thing.

The old adage "There's no royal road to success" gives the pronouncement. Those who want a thing enough to have it will be willing to take the long road, and what is more they will find satisfaction and a certain pleasure in their progress on it. They will surmount difficulties. Eventually they will be envied by others who wanted to do similar things. Success can be attained in the things one wants but the person must not get easily discouraged, not be turned away from her purpose.

How Acid Stomach Makes Itself Known to You

HERE ARE THE SIGNS:
 Nervousness Frequent Headaches
 Nouralgia Feeling of Weakness
 Indigestion Sleeplessness
 Loss of Appetite Mouth Acidity
 Nausea Sour Stomach
 Auto-Intoxication

WHAT TO DO FOR IT:
 TAKE 2 teaspoonfuls of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in a glass of water every morning when you get up. Take another teaspoonful 30 minutes after eating. And another before you go to bed. Order the new Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets—each containing one teaspoonful as directed above.

If you have Acid Stomach, don't worry about it. Follow the simple directions given above. This small dosage of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia acts at once to neutralize the acids that cause headache, stomach pain, and other distress. Try it. You'll feel like a new person.

But—be careful you get REAL milk of magnesia when you buy genuine PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia. See that the name "PHILLIPS" is on the label.
