PRIMARY DAY

Item No. 1 on the list today is this note: "Go to the polls on Primary Day, September 15, and choose your party candidate." If you are fretting because you cannot give sufficient aid and comfort to the cause of Democracy in the far corners of the earth, you might recall that it is to protect this right to vote and to choose candidates, that we are fighting in the far corners of the earth.

SALVAGE

We hear people complaining today about the way the war, national affairs, the peace and other matters are being handled. We don't say there isn't room for criticism. We don't say that criticism should be stopped or even toned lower. We do say that all of us can criticize with a much freer conscience if we have first of all combed our homes for salvage—and have included in the salvage pile some items that it hurts us a little to give up. Salvage is becoming part of the lifeblood of the war effort. Give.

SOCIAL, PERSONAL AND WAR

From the camps and outposts we get letters from Springfield boys and men in the nation's service—and again and again they express a warm, real, believable appreciation of their home newspaper. They like to get it, no doubt about that.

Besides this fact we place another, the objection of a very courteous reader that news about a member of his family was not news. (It was a very brief item reporting that the member of his family had a new job.)

We insist that people who say they don't want their names in the paper—and there aren't very many of them—are mistaking our purpose. We publish the news because of the friends of the person whose name appears in the paper. They will be interested to read about the new job.

The things that interest the men in service are not the monumental, earth-shaking events of Springfield (or perhaps of the world, for that matter), but the simple, homey, personal news of people they know.

And so it is with all of us.

OUR GUEST CORNER

From time to time the SUN invites its readers to contribute to "Our Guest Corner." This week's article is written by MRS. JOHN MOXON.

New Providence Rd., Mountside

The small town has taken a lot of teaching; perhaps this is a good time to make some observations of our own. Fifteen years ago flashy prosperity and the quest for sophistication made the big city the place to live. Now people who have been moving back to "a home, in the country" have found that, admit it or not, everybody does like to be needed. War can give people that satisfaction, but residents of a small town seldom require a war to find it.

One of the joys of life in the borough or the township is the constant challenge of things to be done. In a large city only the occasional citizen really feels necessary to his community. Most institutions have been organized long ago and are running smoothly on large (though probably inadequate) budgets, for all the average man knows or cares. He is asked for his money, but rarely for his time, his efforts or his ideas.

Any lively small town, on the other hand, needs everybody's talents. However generously the residents give, no community pocket-book can be fat enough to buy the services a spirited town wants for itself and its children. To get such things, plenty of volunteer effort must be expended, more than a little of it involving physical as well as mental exertion. No man can be forgotten unless he graciously insists on it.

Take the town library. In recent years fewer and fewer model libraries have been the gifts of wealthy foundations or individuals. Consequently, if the town really wants a library it has probably been obliged to set one up through the concerted efforts of a group of townpeople; the shelves have been built by local hands; the first books have come from local homes; the staffing and responsibility have been carried as long as possible by volunteers.

But the members of the library board that meets for long hours, surrounded by its thirty-stacked shelves of worn and elderly books, work in anticipation of the day when that town must come day have, little by little they hope to build up speed and power on the wheels of more interest, more and better books, more users.

The town library—free and public already from its ideal location. The shelves are filled with bright rows of the best books, chosen to fit the needs of that community; the children have their own room; perhaps the building is white, green-shuttered, set in a little grass plot; anyway, its sign swings invitingly. This is the dream they, their predecessors and those fellow-townsmen who will follow them on the board, hold firmly in their hearts for the town. Other groups, working equally selflessly for other things, build up their dreams. The town of the future lives in the minds of its residents, who work and fight for the causes they, as individuals, have chosen to "take up."

And are those causes worth any more than the dream of a pretty library building, an attractive Community Center, a better-equipped Rescue Squad, more Boy and Girl Scout troops? In the library, books that have been burned publicly elsewhere in the world, are honorably shelved, for anyone to read and to compare with the ideas expressed in "Mein Kampf," if he is interested. It is a free library and public, and its governing board has no dictatorial powers that may be questioned by Mr. X or Mrs. Y.

The Community Center, when it has been achieved, will house the activities of the townspeople. These they will plan for themselves; no present planning group dreams of laying down rules of what may or may not be discussed there. The Rescue Squad, will continue to go to the aid of any man, woman or child who is injured, never thinking of such things as race or creed or color. The Boy and Girl Scouts will spend their time studying nature as scientists and poets describe it, not as one man interprets it.

This is the kind of liberty Americans always have taken for granted. Happy the residents of the town so small that indifference cannot be mistaken for the exercise of freedom; where any individual can and does have an active part in democratic life; can go before the town government himself to plead for a cause; can question the elected representatives on their actions; can feel that his vote is not just one in several hundred thousand cast for or against a name and a strange face and a few catch phrases on a billboard.

The small-town resident comes closer to knowing what the responsibilities of freedom weigh than the urban dweller. He has learned to seek with care to know his neighbors, aware that he and they are really equals, that their interests and his are tied up together. With their help he can dream a thing, work for it and see it come true.

He understands in his heart the privileges which make a free life worth living. He knows for what things Americans must now be ready to die.

Board Meets Thursday

A meeting of the Executive Board of Regional High School Parent-Teacher Association will be held Thursday at 8 P. M. in the school. All standing committee chairman and officers are expected to attend, to outline plans for the coming year's activities. Mrs. Gilbert Pittenger of Mountside, P. T. A. president, will be in charge.

Wedding Tomorrow

MOUNTAINSIDE — Miss Edith "Boll" daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley B. Bell of Mountain Avenue, Springfield, and Fred Musson, who is in the Army, will be married tomorrow afternoon at 5:30 o'clock in the Union Chapel.

Did you write this week to someone in the service? It builds up morale—especially if the news is good news.

Lester Goodwin Is Named As Regional School Head Coach

The Regional Board of Education Friday night appointed Lester Goodwin, assistant football coach and head basketball coach at Linden High School, to assume the post of football and basketball coach at Regional High School. He replaces William F. Brown, who is at the Navy Pre-Flight School, Chapel Hill, N. C., where as Lieutenant, (J.G.) he is training naval aviation cadets. Goodwin will teach physical training, similarly to the duties of Brown.

Resignation of Joseph W. Hughes, science and assistant-coach, was accepted, as he enters into war work. Other appointments were Jennette L. Tracy as English teacher, and Miss Florence Thorne and Miss Doris Gulliver in the commercial department.

Miss Alvina Schaffernoth of Springfield will replace Mrs. Faith Shraw Handville, assistant district clerk of the board, who has joined her husband at Chicago where he is in the Army.

Goodwin, who has been assisting Coach Ted Cooper at Linden High, took over his new duties as football and basketball coach this week. Ed Ruby of Springfield has been helping with football coaching and will probably assist Goodwin during the season.

The new Regional coach compiled an excellent record at Linden. A graduate of Linden High School, he earned three major letters in his last two years. Goodwin attended Panzer College last began coaching in Linden in 1927 in the grade schools. The next year, he was appointed physical training director in the Junior High.

He was advanced to high school assistant in all sports in 1937, and took charge of basketball and track in 1938. Regional court followers recall the keen rivalry in recent years between the crack local team and Goodwin's squads. His 1937 Linden five won the county title in 1937 and the North Jersey Group 3 championship in 1940 and 1941.

Linden's track team, under Goodwin's tutelage, won the State Group 3 title in 1941. Assistant Coach Ruby formerly aided Coach Brown and is expected to be of considerable assistance to the new gridiron mentor.

Injuries From Auto Fall Cause Fatality

MOUNTAINSIDE—Mrs. Blanche Wallace, 44 years old, who resided at the Hotel 29, a tourist hotel, died Sunday noon in Elizabeth General Hospital, ten hours after she fell from a motor automobile and struck her head on the curb in front of her rooming place. She suffered a fractured skull.

Mrs. Wallace, police reported, had got out of a car driven by Edward Honecker, 38, of Poplar avenue, accompanied by his brother, Fred, 34, of the same address. Both are brothers of Police Chief Charles Honecker.

The woman, said to be estranged from her husband, had attended a party at the Echo Lodge, Route 29, at 11:45 a. m. she started to walk to her home, a quarter of a mile distant, but accepted the Honecker's invitation for a ride home.

As the car slowed up in front of the tourist house, police said, Mrs. Wallace opened the door of the car and either stepped or fell, striking her head against the curb.

Both Honeckers picked up the injured woman and took her to Westfield, seeking a doctor. They could not locate a physician and went on to Garwood where Dr. Leon Anson gave first aid and had the woman removed to the Elizabeth hospital in the Garwood Rescue Squad ambulance. She never regained consciousness. She was pronounced dead at 12:30 p. m. Police Chief Honecker requested Dr. A. Martin, chief of Union detectives, to assist in the investigation. Edward Honecker, as driver of the car, was held in his own recognizance to await action before Prosecutor Abe J. Davitt, on a technical charge of causing death by operation of a motor vehicle.

The body was taken to Haines' Morgue, Elizabeth, and from there to Phillipsburg.

Expect About 600 Voters At GOP Primary Tuesday

Observers of the Frost-Phillips contest at the Republican Primary Tuesday, the first contest in three years, believe that the winning candidate must poll at least 350 votes to win the one-year Township Committee berth, based upon predictions of about 600 voters coming to the polls.

In 1939 when Committeeman Fred A. Brown was opposed by John King, a total of 741 votes were cast. Brown winning, 441 to 243. In 1937—in a three-cornered race for two positions, Committeeman Alfred G. Trundle and Lewis F. Macarney went out over Herbert H. Day, first assistant, 528 and 496 respectively, to 300 for Day.

MEN IN SERVICE

From far off Hawaii, comes the following from Sergeant Russell B. Frost:

"For almost two years, the SUN has come to me every week, following me through training camp, on maneuvers and now to active duty. It has been the one link between me and Springfield and the town news, keeping me up on the little details which, I suppose, all soldiers crave. There are so many things which I in turn would like to tell you but censorship does not permit. You may well rest assured that the SUN fills a real void in my every-day life."

Sergeant Frost, son of Township Committeeman and Mrs. Gregg L. Frost, was one of the first Springfield boys to volunteer for service in the present World War. He enlisted in the 105th Field Artillery, 27th Division (New York National Guard) on October 15th, 1940. He was sworn into Federal Service the next day and sent with his regiment to Fort McClellan, Alabama.

By sheer coincidence, this was the same camp in which his father received his training in 1917 prior to being sent to France. After Pearl Harbor, Sgt. Frost was sent to California to await embarkation and arrived in Hawaii last March where he has since been on active duty.

Edward W. Poetsche, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad L. Poetsche of 139 Linden avenue, reported Friday for the Navy, where he will aspire for service in the Air Force.

MOUNTAINSIDE — Sergeant Francis J. Lendon, son of Councilman and Mrs. Francis J. Lendon of Apple Tree Lane, has been

Asleep At Car Wheel, Youth Crashes Porch

Falling asleep at the wheel of his car, Henry Eberly, 17, of Mountain Avenue, crashed Friday morning at 8:45 into the front porch of a residence at 310 Morris avenue, as his machine swerved diagonally across the roadway, crossed the curb and landed against the dwelling.

The car, a 1935 sedan, was considered damaged and towed across the street from the scene of the accident, to Briggs' Garage, Morris avenue and Keeler street.

Richard Allen occupies the house, which is owned by Thomas H. Lyons. The front porch was badly damaged. Patrolman Plunkava investigated.

assigned to the 83rd Division, at Camp Atterbury, Indiana.

Aviation Cadet William Edward Conklin, 19, U. S. Naval Reserve, son of Pallice C. and Mrs. George D. Conklin of Kenilworth, has entered Alfred University, Alfred, N. Y., for flight training. A graduate of Regional High School, class of '41, he was well known as a member of the wrestling team. From the "Regionals" of 1941, he was prophesied to become "a G" man, a sailor or a flyer." The last two came true.

Victor Converso of Kenilworth, a Regional graduate of 1941, has enlisted as an aviation cadet in the Naval Reserve and was scheduled to leave recently for Syracuse University, but due to a serious foot injury received while swimming, has been deferred for two months. He was senior class president, and vice-president of the Student Council.

Edward Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans E. Meyer of 25 Morris avenue visited his parents over the holiday weekend. He is a pharmacist-in-training in the Navy, but is stationed with the Marines in Guadalcanal. Mrs. Meyer recently has been stationed at Hingham, Mass., since mid-winter. Another son, Raymond G. Meyer, is with the U. S. Army with a bombardment group overseas.

First Class Seaman William McGeehan recently spent a five-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry McGeehan of 104 Tooker avenue. He is with the U. S. Navy.

Harvey Conley, of 205 Morris avenue, has reported to the U. S. Naval Training School at the Butler University "Edinburgh" at Indianapolis, Ind. He is undergoing an intensive 18-week course designed to train him as a Navy signman. While there, Conley will receive training in four kinds of signaling, blinker, search lights, semaphore and flags. Upon completion of the course, he will be assigned to ship or store station.

Pvt. Augustus A. Kline of 18 Renner avenue, with the 52nd Technical School Squadron at Kessler Field, Miss., writes: "Just received three weeks' edition of the SUN. Thanks a million. It seems good to get the home town news after being away over a month and not know what is going on in Jersey, especially Springfield. Springfield is well represented down there, in fact, I believe, all of August's draft call are down here, doing their bit."

Little Margin Seen In Frost, Phillips Race For Committee

One of the most evenly divided primary campaigns in Springfield's history, in which neither side would acknowledge confidence in too great a majority for the candidate, comes to a close Tuesday when Committeeman Greg L. Frost and Charles Phillips, seek nomination for one-year term on the Township Committee. Polls will be opened from 7 A. M. to 8 P. M.

Statements were issued by candidates on the eve of election. Frost's statement follows: "Having been brought up in Springfield and a graduate of the Old Springfield High School in 1916, my one and only interest has been local welfare and the progress of the town from a quiet village to a prosperous suburb of family life, its protection, welfare and mutual interest.

"In running for the office of Township Committee, I must frankly confess that I am assuming an obligation which is over and above the realm of partisan politics and becomes one of mutual interest and understanding. Since January 1 of this year I have had the pleasure of serving on the Township Committee and assisting in some small way in the proper administration of township affairs, and cooperating to the fullest with my colleagues in all local problems.

"I seek the office with no individual sponsors but with a real request from many who are interested as I am, in Springfield and its future. An unbiased, dependable service of each and every citizen I dedicate my services. I wish by the voters to carry on. I will at all times represent them as they would be represented."

Phillips' statement is as follows: "The Township of Springfield is proud to number among its honored citizens Charles Phillips, who for twenty-three years has resided in our community and has been a leader in the civic, fraternal and religious activities of our town. As a home owner and taxpayer his voice has always been raised on the side of economy and good government.

"He has fruitfully served you as a member of the Board of Education for twelve years; six of these as finance chairman. During the last two years he has ably administered the office of president.

"The Parent-Teacher Association and its predecessor are proud to claim Mr. Phillips as one of their founders and, in starting the Free Public Library movement, he was chosen one of the first trustees and the secretary.

"Mr. and Mrs. Phillips and their six children are a credit to the Springfield environment he has so fully helped to create. An intelligent, conscientious administration of our public finances can be expected from him as he has been a director and secretary of the corporation where he has been employed for many years and has developed a keen insight into methods of public and private finance.

"Mr. Phillips promises when he takes office that:

"He will thoroughly check our present public traffic control and will provide safe crossings for our citizens and children wherever possible.

"He will always stand against any and all unnecessary expenditures of the taxpayer's money and will work to eliminate all existing expenditures wherever he finds that they are not basic essentials for adequate, safe township government.

"He will do all in his power to lower and keep to the lowest possible position the tax rate of our township government.

"He will make a careful study of road conditions existing in Springfield and do whatever can be done to create an improvement.

"He will cooperate with the present able administration of sewer maintenance.

"Mr. Phillips' past record and present desire to administer the public trust deserves the support of every fraternalized citizen of our town at the primary election on September 15, 1942. Vote for Mr. Phillips for the one year term as Township Committeeman."

Permanent Rank For William Ward Smith

The name of William Ward Smith, U.S.N. of Springfield was sent to the United States Senate this week by President Roosevelt for confirmation to the permanent rank of rear admiral.

About a year ago, he was raised to rear admiral, and this week's action follows a procedure of permanently fixing his rank.

Rear Admiral Smith is a brother of Arthur H. Smith of Milltown road. He maintains residence, with Mrs. Smith, at San Diego, Cal. He was born in Newark February 8, 1888 and came to Springfield at the age of two. He graduated from the old Springfield High School and from the U. S. Naval Academy, where in 1909, he graduated third in rating, in a class of 247 men.

A specialist in codes and cryptanalysis, he was stationed in Washington from 1915 to 1917. He was later in Ireland as a lieutenant commander.

After further promotions and varied assignments, Smith was chosen chief of staff of the Pacific Fleet, a position he held before war broke out.

Charged with leaving the scene of an accident and having no driver's license, George Xenos, 37 years old, of 612 East 161st street, Bronx, N. Y., was fined $25 and $10, respectively, and court costs, after being arraigned before Recorder Everett T. Spinning Saturday.

He was arrested by Special Officer Mumford Saturday at 2:07 p. m. on Morris avenue, 37 minutes after his car struck a vehicle operated by Emil L. Stahl, of 33 Rose avenue, as the latter stopped for a traffic light on Morris avenue.

Upon questioning by the officer, the youth was taken to police headquarters where Stahl quickly identified him.

TWO MOTORISTS, both being within three blocks of each other in East 123rd street, New York, will address to their neighbors that Mountside is a place to stop clear of. One, residing at No. 354, paid a $15 court bill Friday, and another, whose address was No. 74, was fined a total of $121 the next day. Two different cases, perhaps strangers, but they should get together to spread the news of the Mountside gardener.

BETTIQUETTE SAYS

Fashion is always peeking around corners and today's peek finds uniform and college days-in-view once more.

War days have brought sobering sense to the college girl in the matter of clothes. Fall fashions reveal that the days of silly, sloppy clothes are gone. They're wearable and practical now and they'll be just as "right" when college days are over. That's a consideration these days.

Durable coats and suits, for instance, show the trend. They're in plain and plaid tweeds to mix and match. Day dresses at one time were college fashion show, had a timeless look. Black crepe seems a leader; purple will be a new high note for college wear. One purple dress in wool was very effective, with matching sequenced flowers on the shoulder.

SHORTS ARE LONGER
With cool weather coming along, knees are not going to be quite so exposed for the wearers of shorts. Shorts are longer, oddly enough. Smart ones are in black and white checks, to go with a black sweater worn under a white shirt, for warmth.

War mania are coming into style for college clothes. Take the "doughboy trench coat," modelled on the regulation military trench coat, and the "Churchill" jacket, a double breasted woolen plaid in brown and blue, topped brown flannel slacks.

PLAIDS GOOD
Plaids are still very good. They've even been extended to slacks, shown with a vest of the same material in a teddy bear "paddock coat" lined with quilted plaid.

A way to save money for the purchase of war bonds would be to acquire a new bathrobe which can double for a sport coat. It's a beige gabardine robe made like a polo coat and reaching just below the knees. It's a natural.

And getting down to basic facts, take a Russian nightgown, a flannellette with cross stitch embroidery.

HINTS FOR HOMEMAKERS
To peel tomatoes, without holding them over a flame, scrape the skins firmly with the back of a knife to loosen them. They will peel readily. When a portion of one lemon has been used, keep it cut side down against a plate in the refrigerator. It will stay fresh until the remainder can be used.

Don't forget to save waste cooking fats and grease. Strain into a container and when you have a pound, take it to your butcher. It's a patriotic service.

A meal-time delight is egg, potato and bacon salad on the same plate or packed in the lunch box. Mayonnaise, vinegar and sweet pickles add flavor along with chopped onion and pineapple. French hard cooked eggs are delectable and nutritious. This is one of the last summer salads.

VARIETY IN SANDWICHES
For variety in sandwiches, our home economist has listed this list of tasty fillings:

Whole wheat bread, enriched white bread, rye, nut or raisin bread may be used.

Chopped bacon (broiled until crisp) and hard-cooked eggs.

Diced cold meat and celery with salad dressing.

Mixed dried beef—with mayonnaise.

Bacon, minced and mixed with mashed bananas, peanut butter and tart jelly.

Chopped round steak, Bermuda onion, mustard and chili sauce.

Sliced ham, American cheese, paprika.

Chopped beef, ground fine, mixed with Roquefort cheese, seasoned with Worcestershire sauce.

WACKER POINTS TO LAW EXPERIENCE
Experienced in analyzing, interpreting and applying statutes, lawyers can reduce the loss of taxpayers' money spent for amendments to correct mistakes by serving on the law-making bodies.

Achilles A. Wacker, Elizabeth and Union attorney, declared today in discussing his bid for a Republican Assembly nomination in next Tuesday's primary.

At least half of the Union County Assembly delegation should be lawyers, he said. If the two present members seeking renomination are returned by the voters, one of the other vacancies should go to an attorney.

"I firmly believe that a lawyer, who of necessity is a student of the law, is best qualified to serve as an Assemblyman whose main duty is to make laws to govern the State," said Wacker. "In my own case, I know the experience I have received in the thirteen years that I have practiced New Jersey law. Most of the hours of the day for all those years I have studied, interpreted, applied and seen the effect of the statutes passed in the New Jersey Legislature by the Assemblymen who have gone before."

"It certainly would be a very familiar task for me to take part in the making of the laws that will be added in the coming year and I would have the benefit of knowing how present legislation would fit in with the existing statutes with which I am so familiar."

"Amendments are frequently signal lights that there was some error in the law as passed which later was seen when lawyers attempted to apply the new statute. Amendments waste time and cost taxpayers money just as mistakes in every day life waste time and money. Lawyers in the Assembly can help reduce this loss by clearing up the law."

A WEEK OF THE WAR

A summary of information on the important developments of the week made available by official sources through the Defense Advisory Committee of the National Editorial Association.

President Roosevelt asked Congress to enact by October 1 legislation under which he would be specifically authorized to stabilize the cost of living, including the price of all farm commodities. In a special message to the legislature, the President said "Inaction on your part by that date will leave me with an inescapable responsibility to the people of this country to see to it that the war effort is no longer imperiled by threat of economic chaos. In the event that the Congress should fail to act, and act adequately, I shall accept the responsibility and I will act."

The War Front

After 16 straight raids without a loss, two U. S. Flying Fortress bombers were reported as missing September 7 following the greatest American aerial attack of the war on Nazi-occupied France. Three squadrons of the big bombers attacked the airframe factory at Montluçon, France, for the second time, while a fourth squadron bombed the St. Omer airfield. In the raids the Fortresses destroyed five enemy fighters and probably destroyed 12 more, and damaged another 25. The bombers were escorted by 100 Allied fighters, three of which were shot down.

Gen. MacArthur's Australian headquarters reported September 7 that heavy Allied bombing planes attacked a Japanese cargo ship southeast of New Guinea which was believed to have been attempting to supply the trapped enemy forces in the Milne Bay area. Australians were mopping up the remnants of Japanese forces in this area. U. S. Army Air Forces in China, continuing their offensive, scored a direct hit on Japanese military headquarters in Nanchang, sank at least seven steamers, blasted a railway station and warehouse and strafed a troop train.

Two Navy vessels, the destroyer Blue and the auxiliary transport Colhoun, have been lost in action in the south Pacific in the past two weeks, the Navy announced. There were few casualties. The Navy also announced the sinking of nine more United Nations merchant vessels by enemy submarines in the Atlantic.

War Aims and Foreign Relations

President Roosevelt, in an address broadcast to an International Student Assembly in Washington and short-waved to other parts of the world, stated the war is "going to be long and hard and bitter... (but) this time we shall know how to make full use of victory" to build a better world. He said the Government will see to it that men returning from the front can resume their interrupted careers and education and that work is provided for those willing and able to work.

Reciprocal Lend-Lease aid to the U. S. already covers a range as wide as the requirements and geography of a global war, and is being provided to other countries on the same basis as we are providing Lend-Lease help to other countries, the Office of War Information reported. Such aid is being provided without dollar payment under the terms of similar agreements with countries receiving U. S. Lend-Lease help. Reciprocal Lend-Lease aid "for American forces abroad... ranges from squadrons of Spitfires to new fan belts for Army trucks... from building airbases and naval bases to 'D' ration chocolate bars and bananas at the soldiers' mess... from convoy protection for U. S. troops arriving in British waters to filling the gas tanks of U. S. ferry planes at airports newly laid out in jungles or deserts."

Army and Selective Service

Assistant Secretary of War McCloy said that between February 1 and August 30, U. S. Army planes destroyed 234 Japanese planes in the air, compared with American losses of 109. This record, together with the "Flying Tigers" record of 218 Japanese planes destroyed as against losses of 84, is due mainly to the performance of the P-40 fighters, he said. The Army said it has developed a system of technical inspection and maintenance supervision of aircraft that is undoubtedly the finest in the world. The War Department sent 36,000 dependents' allowance checks totaling $4,500,000 to relatives and dependents of enlisted men in the four lower grades of the service. Selective Service Headquarters instructed State SS boards to place their calls so that most men right now will come from local boards with the most single men or men with dependents other than wives and children.

Navy and Shipbuilding

Navy Secretary Knox said the submarine menace "is not by any means solved," but there has been a "steady diminution of ships sunk off our own shores." A shipbuilding competition for Labor Day showed 174 launchings and 49 keel layings during the day for many kinds and sizes of combat and cargo ships. The Maritime Commission reported 68 new vessels were put into service in August and there is "every indication" the goal of three completed ships a day will be reached in September.

Rationing

The War Production Board released 50,000 of the refrigerators which have been frozen in the hands of dealers and distributors since February 14 for sale to the general public after finding that they were not needed for "essential" purposes. Another 50,000 will be released by authorization of WPB for delivery to dealers and transfer to ultimate consumers. The WPB Food Requirements Committee recommended to the Board the following meat conservation program: (1) Limitation of the amounts of meat packers may sell to the civilian trade so that each civilian will be able to buy 2 1/2 pounds a week; (2) direct consumer rationing to be started as soon as possible in about four months; (3) an interim voluntary conservation program.

Purchase of War Bonds

The Treasury Department announced sales of War Bonds in August totaled $697,255,000, compared with a quota of $815,000,000. In August 13,000,000 persons bought $225,000,000 in Bonds through the 10 per cent payroll savings plan, compared with 18,000,000 persons and $200,000,000 in July. Treasury Secretary Morgenthau announced State War Bond quotas for September, totaling $775,000,000 for the country.

Taxation and Profits

The Treasury Department recommended to Congress a reduction in individual income tax exemptions to $500 for single persons, $1,000 for married couples and $250 for each dependent. The Treasury also proposed a 10 per cent tax on consumer spending and high penalty rates for luxury spending. At the request of Congress, the Treasury outlined a sales tax levied against the retailer who would pass it on to the consumer. War expenditures in August were $1,900 million, more than three times greater than the amount spent for national defense a year ago. Income payments to individuals in July were 21 per cent more than July 1941 and were at the record annual rate of $114 billion a year, the Commerce Department said.

"A Week of the War" summarizes information on the important developments of the week made available by official sources through noon EDT, Monday, September 7.

Recorder Charles A. Dunn tried him several hours later and set up a fine of $100 and $2 costs for driving after his license was voided, and added $10 and $2 costs for the speeding count. The defendant pleaded guilty and paid the fines.

PLEASE CONSULT Your Telephone BOOK

Before you call "INFORMATION"

"INFORMATION" switchboards in New Jersey today are crowded with requests for telephone numbers. Nearly 100,000 of these daily calls should not come to "Information" at all, for they are for numbers that are in the telephone directories of those who make the calls.

THESE CALLS WASTE a lot of telephone service at a time when the full capacity of the system is needed to handle the rising volume of necessary wartime calls.

PLEASE CONSULT your telephone directory before you call "Information" for nearby telephone numbers.

A WEEK OF THE WAR

A summary of information on the important developments of the week made available by official sources through the Defense Advisory Committee of the National Editorial Association.

President Roosevelt asked Congress to enact by October 1 legislation under which he would be "specifically authorized to stabilize the cost of living, including the price of all farm commodities." In a special message to the legislators, the President said "Inaction on your part by that date will leave me with an inescapable responsibility to the people of this country to see to it that the war effort is no longer imperiled by threat of economic chaos. In the event that the Congress should fail to act, and act adequately, I shall accept the responsibility, and I will act."

Mr. Roosevelt said the purpose of the legislation "should be to hold farm prices to parity, or at levels of a recent date, whichever is higher." He said "At the same time that farm prices are stabilized, wages can and will be stabilized also. This I will do."

The President recalled that two points of his original seven-point anti-inflation program required legislation—"an adequate tax program, and a law permitting the fixing of price ceilings on farm products at parity prices." He said delay in enacting this legislation "has now reached the point of danger to our whole economy. We cannot hold the actual cost of food and clothing down to approximately the present level beyond October 1. But no one can give any assurance that the cost-of-living can be held down after that date. . . . He renewed his request of last April for an individual net-income limitation of $25,000.

The War Front

After 10 straight raids without a loss, two U. S. Flying Fortress bombers were reported as missing September 7 following the greatest American aerial attack of the war on Nazi-occupied France. Three squadrons of the big bombers attacked the aircraft factory at Meaulte, near Albert, for the second time, while a fourth squadron bombed the St. Omer airfield. In the raids the Fortresses destroyed five enemy fighters and probably destroyed 13 more, and damaged another 25. The bombers were escorted by 400 Allied fighters, three of which were shot down.

Gen. MacArthur's Australian headquarters, reported September 7 that heavy Allied bombing planes attacked a Japanese cargo ship southeast of New Guinea which was believed to have been attempting to supply the trapped enemy forces in the Milne Bay area. Australians were mopping up the remnants of Japanese forces in this area. U. S. Army Air Forces in China, continuing their offensive, scored a direct hit on Japanese military headquarters in Nanchang, sank at least seven steamers, blasted a railway station and warehouse and strafed a troop train.

Two Navy vessels, the destroyer Blue and the auxiliary transport Colhoun, have been lost in action in the south Pacific in the past two weeks, the Navy announced. There were few casualties. The Navy also announced the sinking of nine more United Nations merchant vessels by enemy submarines in the Atlantic.

War Aims and Foreign Relations

President Roosevelt, in an address broadcast to an International Student Assembly in Washington and short-waved to other parts of the world, stated the war is "going to be long and hard and bitter . . . (but) this time we shall know how to make full use of victory" to build a better world. He said the Government will see to it that men returning from the fronts can resume their interrupted careers and education and that work is provided for those willing and able to work.

Reciprocal Lend-Lease aid to the U. S. already covers a range as wide as the requirements and geography of a global war, and is being provided to this country on the same basis as we are providing Lend-Lease help to other countries, the Office of War Information reported. Such aid is being provided without dollar payment under the terms of master agreements with countries receiving U. S. Lend-Lease help. Reciprocal Lend-Lease aid "for American forces abroad" . . . ranges from squadrons of Spitfires to new fat belts for Army trucks—from building airbases and naval bases to D' ration chocolate bars and bananas at the soldiers' mess—from convoy protection for U. S. troopships arriving in British waters to filling the gas tanks of U. S. ferry planes at airports nearby. It includes aid in engines or diesels, the OWI said. The President announced a special U. S. technical mission will leave for Brazil soon to assist the Brazilian government in expansion of its war machine.

Army and Selective Service

Assistant Secretary of War McCloy said that between February 1 and August 30, U. S. Army planes destroyed 234 Japanese planes in the air, compared with American losses of 109. This record, together with the "Flying Tigers" record of 218 Japanese planes destroyed as against losses of 84, is due mainly to the performance of the P-40 fighters, he said. The Army said it has developed a system of technical inspection and maintenance supervision of aircraft that is undoubtedly the finest in the world. The War Department sent 36,000 dependents' allowance checks totaling $4,500,000 to relatives and dependents of enlisted men in the four lower grades of the service. Selective Service Headquarters instructed State SS boards to place their calls so that most men right now will come from local boards with the most single men or men with dependents other than wives and children.

Navy and Shipbuilding

Navy Secretary Knox said the submarine menace "is not by any means solved," but there has been a "steady diminution of ships sunk off our own shores." A shipbuilding compilation for Labor Day showed 174 launchings and 49 keel layings during the day for many kinds and sizes of combat and cargo ships. The Maritime Commission reported 65 new vessels were put into service in August and there is "every indication" the goal of three completed ships a day will be reached in September.

Rationing

The War Production Board released 50,000 of the refrigerators which have been frozen in the hands of dealers and distributors since February 14 for sale to the general public after finding that they were not needed for "essential" purposes. Another 50,000 will be released by authorization of WPD for delivery to dealers and transfer to ultimate consumers. The WPD Food Requirements Committee recommended to the Board the following meat conservation program: (1) limitation of the amounts of meat packers may sell to the civilian trade so that each citizen will be able to buy 2 1/2 pounds a week; (2) direct consumer rationing to be started as soon as possible—in about four months; (3) an interim voluntary conservation program.

Purchase of War Bonds

The Treasury Department announced sales of War Bonds in August totaled $697,255,000, compared with a quota of $315,000,000. In August 19,000,000 persons bought $225,000,000 in Bonds through the 10 per cent payroll savings plan, compared with 18,000,000 persons and $200,000,000 in July. Treasury Secretary Morgenthau announced State War Bond quotas for September, totaling $775,000,000 for the country.

Taxation and Profits

The Treasury Department recommended to Congress a reduction in individual income tax exemptions to $500 for single persons, $1,000 for married couples and $250 for each dependent. The Treasury also proposed a 10 per cent tax on consumer spending and high-penalty rates for luxury spending. At the request of Congress, the Treasury outlined a sales tax levied against the retailer who would pass it on to the consumer. War expenditures in August were $4,900 million, more than three times greater than the amount spent for national defense a year ago. Income payments to individuals in July were 31 per cent more than July 1941 and were at the record annual rate of $11 1/2 billion a year, the Commerce Department said.

("A Week of the War" summarizes information on the important developments of the week made available by official sources through noon EDT, Monday, September 7.)

In voting, they will express their opinion as to the fitness of candidates and the method by which they wish to be represented.

All The People Of Springfield and not for any group, clique or individual. There being no substitute for experience or proven ability, they ask support for

FRED A. BROWN

(for the three year term), who has served earnestly and well for each and every one of us over the past six years and who has given unstintingly of his time and energy. And

GREGG L. FROST

(for the one year term), who only nine months ago was unanimously elected by the members of the Township Committee to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Alfred G. Trundle. Recommendations on methods for releasing hundreds of youth from schools to help relieve farm labor shortages in harvesting fall crops were announced today by William H. Evans, executive secretary of the State Commission for Student Service.

Farmers seeking school youth to work on their farms were advised to file their applications with their county agricultural agents or with the U. S. Employment Service. Before students can be released from school for farm work, the County Commission for Student Service, set up by state law, must certify that all other available sources of labor have been exhausted. When this situation exists, the schools may release students who are 14 years of age or older for a maximum of 15 school days per year.

Many farmers have had the benefit of school youth during the summer months, and under this arrangement it will be possible for help to be continued to finish the harvest season.

According to William C. Lynn, administrative assistant for the State Department of Agriculture and chairman of the State Commission for Student Service, farmers in a number of counties have already signified their need for additional help during the autumn months.

Apple and sweet potato growers in Atlantic County will need about 500 additional workers and Hunterdon County farmers hope to have the services of school youth in completing the harvesting of tomatoes now being delivered to canneries. Vegetable growers in Bergen County and other sections, and fruit growers throughout the state are depending upon school youth to supplement other workers in picking this year's harvest.
