

OUR GUEST CORNER

From time to time the SUN invites its readers to contribute to "Our Guest Corner." This week's article is written by MRS. RALPH H. TITLEY, 31 Bryant Ave., Springfield.

In these uncertain days of war the problem of our children's activities is most important. It is essential that these interests be wholesome and based on something that has a firm foundation. Times like these it is to the Church that people look for reassurance and encouragement.

es form clubs and have trips and parties of their own small groups. They are also encouraged in doing some definite thing for others. This may be the preparing and giving a food basket to some needy family during the holiday season.

Heading Erroneous

The heading of the article last week in regard to the conversion of oil burners for institutions and business houses was misleading, as there has been no change in the request for conversion in private homes.

EDITORIALS

THE MUSIC IS SWEET

The 16-page Service Men's Christmas greeting edition of the SUN last week has passed into the limbo and the sweet music of praise from so many of our readers has more than compensated the staff for many extra hours required to see it through.

It's A Boy

Mr. and Mrs. John Marcellano of 404 Mountain Avenue announce the birth of a son, Thomas, on last Wednesday, December 9 at Overlook Hospital, Summit.

Editor's Mail

To the Editor of the SUN: Congratulations on your fine Christmas Greetings number for 1942 featuring Service Men's news. You covered a "lot of territory."

MEN IN SERVICE

Robert D. Falzer, second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Falzer of Madison Avenue spent the week-end visiting his parents. He has returned to Long Island, where he is stationed at present.

Happy Birthday!

- Whether your birthday falls next week, or next month, why not have it here by ordering the SUN, Millburn 6-1500, or let it on a postcard? Our files will carry over the date from year to year, so that it needn't be repeated.

Surgical Dressings' Volunteers Needed

To finish the work already on hand, the surgical dressings' project of the local Red Cross in the Methodist Church urgently needs more volunteer services. An average of 1,800 dressings must be made daily if the local quota is met.

Granted Citizenship

Giuseppe Forgione of 54 Main street was admitted to citizenship recently before Judge Edward A. McGrath at the Courthouse, Elizabeth.

Pupils Registering For Victory Corps

Students of Regional High School have been filling out applications for the Victory Corps which is under the direction of Mrs. Harry Ladanyi.

Teachers and students may qualify for one of the five advanced divisions, but under advanced are only able to be General members.

To be able to qualify for any type of membership, the students must be taking part in a physical fitness program, or in a program of voluntary military drill.

It is necessary for those desiring admission to the air service division to have taken one year of physics, three years of high school math, to have a course in pre-flight aerodynamics, or a shop course.

For the applicants in the sea service division, courses in high school math and laboratory sciences are needed. There is a choice between a course in the elements of navigation and ship.

The production service division is to be in charge of occupations in war industries, agriculture, or other essential civilian productive occupations.

The student must be pursuing programs which lead directly to work in agriculture, or in trade and industry. The students must be engaged in voluntary or paid part time work in the production field.

The Community Service division prepares for work in the social studies and is for students who plan to start that type of work right after high school or after further training in college. The students must be engaged in some form of community service, and have programs of study that will lead to a job in the service field.

Last night's donors will solve their shopping needs conveniently by visiting the Springfield SUN Stationery and Gift Store for gifts, special Christmas cards for all members of the family, etc. Open nights until 9:30 p.m. on Christmas Eve. Please call 6-1300 for location.

YOUR RED CROSS

The completion of the current course in Home Nursing was marked on Monday afternoon by a luncheon at Cannon Ball Inn, attended by the class members and the teacher, Mrs. Marjorie Gulick, the chapter's visiting nurse. The day being also Mrs. Gulick's birthday, the occasion was featured by a tribute to her from her pupils, and she was presented with a corsage and a hair comb, brush and mirror set. Class members include Mrs. F. H. Stevens, and Mrs. Harry Quinzel, president and secretary, respectively; Mrs. G. G. Chamell, Mrs. Gladys Eichhorn, Miss Cecelia Landers, Mrs. Ruth Kimmeler, Mrs. Robert B. Slaughter, Mrs. Everett Howell, Mrs. Brenda Whitely, Mrs. Max Schneider, Mrs. Edwin Spier, Mrs. William L. Herford, Mrs. Raymond Forbes, Mrs. Stephan Terrel and Mrs. William Wagner. Volunteers who undertake the care of the children of class members, during the sessions at the Town Hall, were Mrs. Roy Waldeck, Mrs. John Berger, Mrs. Wilbur C. Schander and Mrs. Eric Lund.

Mountainside School To Close on December 22

MOUNTAINSIDE—The local school closes December 22 for the Christmas holidays and will reopen January 4. On Monday evening at 8 o'clock, a program of exercises featuring Dickens' Christmas Carols will be staged.

The following pupils will participate: Laura Sevebeck, Fritz Mundy, David Smith, Harry Perrine, James Bower, Charles Volk, Susanna Trautman, Marjorie Conrad, Gregg Patton, Barbara Patton, Joan Pagano, Rose Mary Honecker, Roberta Keller, Lucille Salvatorello, Robert Shomo and Robert Mateer.

The services of the staff assistance corps are constantly being extended. These volunteers are doing a particularly valuable job in keeping lists and records for the blood bank visit. Mrs. Paul Voelker, chairman of the corps, reports the following additions to the group: Mrs. Charles H. Saffery, Mrs. James Price, Mrs. E. W. Breese, Mrs. G. G. Cook, all of whom received their training in staff assistance by attending the recent course conducted by Summit Chapter and Mrs. Frank Crowe, an experienced staff assistant who did Red Cross work while residing in Rumson, before moving to Springfield.

A total of 50,000 dressings packed in five cartons were shipped on Wednesday from the chapter's workroom in the Methodist Church. This brings the total to date of approximately 75,000 surgical dressings which have been produced since the room was opened in early September. According to Mrs. Lewis E. McCartney, this total earned out in a period covering about three months—now equals the monthly quota which has been assigned to Springfield. Least this task may seem impossible of achievement, it should be pointed out that much time was necessarily consumed in teaching the volunteers; also that beginners cannot produce speed and a perfect job, "skill" comes only after much practice. Mrs. McCartney praises highly the quality of the work now being done in surgical dressings. She says it is beautifully done in every particular, including the packing. Her hope is that the room will be filled with workers both in the morning and the afternoon. "If the room could be filled with forty women every morning—instead of only the afternoon—our quota of 75,000 dressings a month could be filled," she pointed out.

The workroom will close after the evening session of Tuesday, December 22nd, and will reopen on Monday morning, December 28. It will be closed on Thursday and Friday, December 24 and 25, and will reopen on Monday, January 4. Next Tuesday at 1 o'clock the surgical dressing workers will attend a luncheon to be served in the Methodist Church by the Service Club. The charge will be a nominal one; workers who wish to attend the luncheon are requested to register at the workroom, with Mrs. Hatlie Doerries, or she may be called at her home, Millburn 6-0130.

Mrs. Charles Phillips reports that 130 persons have registered as prospective blood donors for the visit of the mobile unit tomorrow afternoon at the Legion Building. This great response to the call for service and sacrifice at a season of the year when most of us are engrossed with plans for the pleasure and joy of our families and friends, proves once more that human nature is fundamentally unselfish. Shall we say that the world would be a much happier place if we took for granted the

COFFEE RATIONING IS IN FULL SWING

Your one-pound ration coupon entitles you to purchase pure coffee, unmixed with "stretchers." But mixtures, like pure coffee, cost a coupon, too. Labels must tell you what stretchers, if any, and how much, in the package. Unlabeled mixtures should be reported to your local War Price and Rationing Board.

Don't ask for green (unroasted) coffee; it's illegal to sell it to you. "Instant" coffee, liquid coffee concentrates, coffee extracts are not rationed, but very, very little of them comes to market.

Stamp No. 27 in your War Ration Book No. 1, good for one pound of coffee for persons over fifteen expires January 3. Stamp No. 28, good for one pound, is good from January 4 to February 8.

MORE RATIONING TO COME. January 1, or thereabouts, you'll have a chance to get your copy of a brand new general ration book. Presses are rolling them out by the million, a copy each for America's 130 million people. (Men in our fighting forces, of course, won't need theirs, except on furlough.)

Each book can provide rationing control for two major groups of commodities for six months. Red coupons can be used for one; blue, for the other.

Which commodities will be rationed with this new style book, Washington doesn't say yet. Meats are a good bet, for one. If you've been cutting down your meat purchases to 2½ pounds per week, in the Share-the-Meat program, you've been getting good training for meat rationing.

FOOD WILL WIN THE WAR. Fruits and vegetables for shipment abroad must be canned or dried. That's the only way we can get these fruits and vegetables to our armed forces and to our Allies. But this processing takes extra labor, the same manpower that's needed to build ships and planes and munitions. And canning uses tin, too, at a time when every scrap of metal the country has is needed to keep the wheels of war production going at top speed. Let's save these "extras," both the labor and the tin, for those who really need them. We, at home, can feed our families with the country's storehouse of fresh foods.

When you do your buying be sure you make the best possible use of available supplies. Use locally grown fresh fruits and vegetables when they are available. Foods that come to you from far away use truck and train space needed for shipping war-materials.

Wide buying means more than buying fruits and vegetables that plentiful. It also means buying those that are crisp and fresh. These, taste better, whether they're eaten raw or cooked. They're also richer in the vitamins that make them necessary for the good health of your family.

Your Garden This Week

By FRED D. OSMUN
County Farming Agent

Times when there is absolutely nothing to do in the garden are rare. When the last bit of protection has been placed about the shrubs, one can begin pruning deciduous trees. December is a favorable time for this work, for the weather is usually more pleasant than during January or February.

The wood of deciduous trees is well ripened now and pruning can be done anytime. Shade trees need very little pruning except to open the center—but not remove the leader—and cut off the lower limbs which hang down in the way. Clear interfering branches, those which rub together and those which may cause narrow crotches. Winter is the time to do this because you can see better which branches you want to remove.

When pruning deciduous shrubs, don't cut them too much. Simply cut out the old wood and stick canes as factories with their neighbors. This applies to all deciduous shrubs which bloom before June 1. If you cut these back too much you will destroy the bloom. And don't "bob" flowering shrubs as you would a hedge! This produces a monstrosity. The idea is to remove the surplus wood—wood which does not contribute to the building of the kind of plant you want. And do not prune evergreens now. If you do, they will be subject to winter-burning.

Hardy roses may be pruned now, but the trimming of the more tender ones should be delayed until late February or March. Most rose Peppinuts for flavor when you crush peppermint stick candy fine, serve on grapefruit slices for lunch.

COOKIES

Six good reasons (add your own) for making cookies for the holidays have been included in a communique from Mrs. Santa Claus, headquarters somewhere at the North Pole:

(1) To give away; (2) To serve well wishers who drop in; (3) To put in lunch boxes as an extra treat because it's holiday time; (4) To have handy for quickly-run-up lunches; (5) Because the children are home for the holidays; and (6) Because it's high Christmas!

SELECT FIRM FLORIDA GRAPEFRUIT

Select firm Florida grapefruit scrub and remove peel in 4 longwise sections. Cover with cold water; boil 12 mins. Drain, re-peat 3 times, cooking the third time 10 peels is tender. Drain, remove softened inside white membrane from peel by scraping with spoon. Cut peel into thin strips with scissors. Measure peel; for each cup peel allow 1 cup water, ½ cup sugar and ½ cup karo. Combine water, sugar and karo; bring to boil, stirring constantly. Boil to 238 degrees F. or when a little dropped into cold water forms soft ball. Add peel to syrup; cook until syrup is almost all absorbed, dropped into cold water again occasionally to prevent scorching. Drain in colander strainer. If desired, the strips of peel into knots. Spread peel out on waxed paper 1½ dry, about 3 hours. Roll in granulated sugar. Store in tightly covered container.

VISIONS

Anybody who ever heard of Billion and Dancer knows about "visions of sugarplums danced in their heads"—the night before Christmas of course. Translating visions into reality is no trick if you dip into your package of cereal and use this recipe to whip up the quickest sweetmeats on record.

DEFENSE NEWS

As Furnished From State Defense Council

V-HOME WINDOW EMBLEM - Does your home have one? Some time soon your air raid warden or your block leader will come to your home. In his hand he will carry a sheaf of red, white and blue "V-home" window emblems. He will ask you five questions.

One of these will be concerned with your preparations to defend yourself and your home against enemy attack. The other four will be about steps you and your home are taking to attack the enemy.

Here, in advance of his coming is a personal check list provided by the Office of Civilian Defense for your guidance. If your answer to each of the five questions is an honest "yes," you are entitled to and will receive the United States government's "V-home" certificate, a badge of honor for families that have made themselves into fighting units on the home front.

Question I - Does your Home Follow the Instructions of Its Air Raid Warden in Order to Protect Life and Property Against Attack by Air? Preparations against air attack vary in different parts of the country. If you aren't sure what you should do, ask your air raid warden - he knows. Defense measures will probably include:

Blackout preparations. Essential rooms of the house should be blacked out so that normal family life can go on for relatively long periods without a ray of light escaping to guide enemy bombers. A safety room. The safest room in the house, blacked out and provided with the necessities for emergency occupation during an actual raid.

Preparations to fight fire bombs. When incendiaries drop they are dumped by the thousands. Showers may fall on your block - a flow on on your own property. You must leave the entire job up to the warden and his fire watchers. They will do their best but each home must be its own first line of defense. Clear readily inflammable material out of attics, closets, basement. Consult your warden for the best fire fighting equipment available and have it ready at all times.

Care for the injured. At least one person in the home should know first aid. Have the most important emergency articles on hand (ask your warden for list). Know what to do when the air raid warning sounds.

Question II - Does your home conserve food, clothing, transportation and health, in order to hasten an unceasing flow of war materials to our men at the front? There isn't enough of everything for our fighting men and us, too. The old New England proverb should be the motto of every V-Home: "But I'm poor, or I'm old, or I'm weak, or I'm lame, or I'm deaf, or I'm blind, or I'm dumb, or I'm crazy, or I'm anything else, but I'm a V-Home!"

will yield the scrap steel needed for 30 hand grenades. Old rags. One hundred pairs of old silk hose will make a parachute. Paper. One hundred pounds of waste paper will provide enough for 30 75 mm. shells.

Miscellaneous. Kitchen fat and grease make explosives. Eighteen tin cans will make a portable flame thrower. One 12-inch photograph record contains enough shells to waterproof the primers on 60,000 29 caliber cartridges.

Question IV - Does Your Home Refuse to Spread Rumors Designed to Divide Our Nation? Hitler's basic rule is "Divide and Conquer." His stooges in this country listen to the Nazi short-wave broadcasts from London, if you can stomach the stuff, then pass on Gobbels' lies to try to arouse fear, distrust, suspicion - of our leaders, our Allies, our ability to win.

That stuff doesn't fool you for a minute when you know where it comes from. But what if you heard it from your next door neighbor - your life-long friend? Or what if he heard it from you - without identifying the source? Have a healthy skepticism of reports that start out with "They say" or "I heard" or "Who says? Where did you hear it? How does he know? What are the facts? 'Sonny, that ain't the way I heard it!"

Question V - Is your Home Buying War Savings Stamps and Bonds Regularly? How about some freedom insurance for your children? What is it worth to you? Ten per cent of your income? Ten per cent of what? Income? Hitler wins this war? Maybe you can't quite make the grade with 10 per cent. You know what you can afford. But nothing less than the utmost is enough.

That is your check list. These are the questions of the V-Home Pledge which your warden or block leader will bring you. How do you measure up? Can you honestly sign your name to it and put it in your window to tell the world: THIS IS A V-HOME?

SIMPLIFICATION - An older, easier way of explaining for a married couple the Senate's tax proposal is this: If you make $624 to $1000, you pay for the first time. If you make $1,000 to $2,000 taxes will quadruple. If you make $2,000 to $5,000 taxes will triple. Between $5,000 and $10,000 taxes will be up 250 per cent, and from $10,000 to $25,000, taxes will be 175 per cent higher. The bottom line is that the House will soften the blow before the proposal becomes law.

ACCEPTED - The exchange system for foodstuffs and sharing means failure is faced in some sections of the industry that they are predicting it will stick after the war.

LIABILITY OF MEMBERS - of the Civilian Defense Corps. At the request of the State Office of Civilian Defense Director, the Hon. David T. Wilentz, Attorney General of the State of New Jersey, has given the following opinion regarding the liability of members of the Citizens Defense Corps:

By my opinion, if the air raid warden or the auxiliary fireman acts as an agent or representative of the State or of any political subdivision thereof, in compliance with, or attempting to comply with, any order, rule or regulation promulgated pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 251 of the Laws of 1942, or in the performance of any authorized service in connection with any such order, rule or regulation, then and in that event such air raid warden or auxiliary fireman, or other persons acting for the state, or any of its political subdivisions, would be free from liability for injury or death to persons, or damage to the property as the result of any activity performed in carrying out any such order, rule or regulation so promulgated.

MEMBERS who have not been riding on trees which have not been registered with the Office of Price Administration will be subject to prosecution under Federal law. Saturday was the deadline for listing trees with local war price and rationing boards, and for certifying that only five trees are owned for each automobile.

On another rationing front, Saturday was the last day for sugar purchases with stamp No. 9, of the general food rationing book. Stamp No. 10 became valid Monday for the customary three pounds.

THE WAIF'S need stenographers. Women from 21 to 45 years of age, who can take dictation of chiefly words a minute and transcribe shorthand at thirty words a minute or better, may apply for enrollment, and if they pass a mental alertness test and a physical examination, can do their country a service by relieving a man for combat duty.

There are many other positions open. Drivers are needed - jeep, ambulance, or command car. There are schools to improve one's cooking, and for teaching administrative and technical subjects such as radio.

Since all future officers will be commissioned from the ranks, everyone who can qualify may apply for officers' training. Headquarters for the Corps is located in Room B-53, Newark Post Office.

Lesson-Sermon For Christian Science

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, December 20, in all Christian Science Churches and Societies throughout the world.

The Golden Text is: "Know unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world." (Acts 15:18). Among the Lesson-Sermon citations is the following from the Bible: "Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness." (II Pet. 3:13).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The true theory of the universe, including man, is not in material history but in spiritual development. Inspired thought, intelligible, a material, sensual, and mortal theory of the universe, and adopts the spiritual and immortal." (Page 547).

Are you serving in any Defense Council activity? Your help is needed.

RED CROSS RUNS HOTELS ABROAD FOR U. S. SERVICEMEN ON LEAVES

Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles written by Ernie Pele, special writer for the Scripps-Howard newspapers. They deal with the Red Cross hotels established by the Red Cross in all parts of the world for American troops on leave. We feel that parents and friends of servicemen in the services will read these articles with the greatest interest.

LONDON - For a few days now I'll be writing about the work of the American Red Cross. And I warn you, don't say to yourself, "Oh, that stuff; I'll stop reading until he gets onto something else." You'll be making a mistake. For the Red Cross to this war is doing something brand new and wonderfully interesting.

The Red Cross is actually running a lot of big hotels all over the world for American troops on leave. It isn't running them for profit, and it doesn't hand out any sermons with its bed and board. It is running them to help keep soldiers happy.

Some months ago the War Department designated the Red Cross as the one and only civilian organization to serve American troops abroad. It was a wise decision. Instead of a lot of little organizations doing a lot of half-way things, one big thing in a colossal way.

The Red Cross has not set up canteens or entertainment facilities in the camps. That is handled by the Army itself. The Red Cross is almost solely concerned with soldiers on leave. The Red Cross is home and fireside when they come to town to rip and roar. The Red Cross has set up these "leave-hotels" all over the world, wherever we have large numbers of troops abroad.

They are called "clubs," but that is a poor word for them. They are actually huge hotels, where you have a room and clean sheets and all your meals and a hundred other things. Nearly all these clubs were re-leave. Soldiers stationed in London, for instance, cannot live at one of the London clubs. That would take room away from the men on leave.

The Red Cross limits any soldier's stay to five days. But exceptions are made when circumstances are justified. The clubs are open to any American soldier, sailor, Marine or merchant seaman. They are financially for enlisted men, but because of hotel shortages, officers are allowed to stay in some of them.

The Red Cross surgical dressings project needs workers. Every week day at Methodist Church, 10 to 4; Tuesday nights, 7:30 to 10. Last minute shoppers will solve their shopping needs, conveniently, by trying the Springfield SUN Stationery and Gift Store for gifts, special Christmas cards for all members of the family, gift wrappings. Open nights until 9 up to Christmas, 8 Plumer Ave., 2 doors from bank - city.
