Phillips Proposes Planning Board To Town Committee

Charles Weeks, Township attorney, has been instructed to investigate the possibilities of appointing a planning board to preserve the natural beauty of Springfield and in arrange for the making of a recreational center, particularly for winter coasting.

This was suggested at the Township meeting Wednesday night by Committee-man Charles Phillips. He took exception to the erection of a gas station in close proximity to one of the more historic churches in town.

School Commissioner Henry Schmitt, endorsing the suggestion, said that just when a child had been killed while coasting, and said that it was possible that such an occurrence could have been prevented by the setting aside of a proper recreational center.

A delegation from the American Legion Post, pointing out the financial deficit under which they operate, asked for tax exemption for the Legion Home. Taxes owed total $160, while the deficit from September, 1942 to June, 1943, is $330. The figures were presented by Ralph Tiley, treasurer of the Post.

As an alternative, the delegation suggested they make a 30-year lease on the building, paying rent to the Township, Tennants, they said, have been forced to vacate because of the pleasure-driving ban, and the Post is now "morally" the only tenant.

Mr. Weeks was instructed to ascertain in what manner the Post could be aided at the present time.

THE JULY FOURTH CELEBRATION

The success of last year's July Fourth celebration to promote neighborliness among our townspeople has prompted the Springfield Defense Council to repeat its performance.

Defense Council Chairman Ralph H. Tiley, at the request of Mayor Wilbur M. Selander, has sent an invitation to every religious, civic and patriotic organization to send two delegates to a meeting Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the Legion Hall.

It is intended to organize, without delay, a committee to handle the entire Independence Day program. The Defense Council will aid and assist in every possible way, but in keeping with the desired development of community spirit, the program will be kept in the hands of the proposed celebration committee.

Since time is short and several organizations will be unable to meet between now and Tuesday, they should permit their presiding officer or executive boards to select two delegates to attend next week's meeting, even though they are unable to commit approval of their respective groups.

July 4 is about three weeks off. If any delegates are able to furnish constructive suggestions toward continuing as enjoyable a show as Springfield experienced last year, they should be ready and willing.

Machine Shop Turned Down For Addition

The Board of Adjustment reported to the Township Committee Wednesday night that it had refused an appeal of Harry Muehsung of 18 Marcy avenue, who sought permit to annex to his existing garage building, known as a machine shop, erection of an office building now existing at the Anshore Realty Co., Henshaw and Mountain avenues; which would have moved to the Marcy avenue site.

Muehsung asked for permission to transfer the additional building, nine by eighteen feet, for needed office space at his present location.

Residents appeared at a Board of Adjustment hearing June 1 and opposed the move on the grounds that it would violate the Class A residential zone.

Before the present zoning laws were enacted and adopted in 1938, Muehsung conducted his present machine shop in the rear of his dwelling and was not affected by the new legislation.

The Adjustment board, in its report this week, claimed the granting of permission "would constitute an expansion of a condition not consistent with the true concept of the present zoning ordinance."

Muehsung at the hearing last week claimed he was engaged in what work and had promised that to remove the building, after the war was over. Arguing residents pointed out the difficulty or disinterest of neighbors to ask for its removal at that time.

Smart Victorious In 3 State Track Events

Regional's speed artist, George Smart, gave the outstanding performance in all groups Saturday afternoon at the New Jersey Intercollegiate track and field championships at Woodman Field, Montclair, when he capped three 200-yard dashes and broad jump. He was the only triple winner of the meet.

Cranford's dash entry, Mike Schatz, who had defeated Smart in one of the few events he lost early this year, the 200, trailed the Regional boy in both sprints. Smart's times were exceptional, 1:01 for the 100 and 2:23 for the 200. His broad jump leap was 29 feet, 2 inches.

At Nelson, second in high jump, and Bruce David, third in pole vault, also placed for Regional. Chiefly through Smart's efforts, the Bulldogs finished third in Group 2 team standing with 22 points, trailing the winners, Palmyra, with 51 1/2 points and Cranford second with 40 points.

Committee Airs Bus Discontinuance Here

Township officials on Wednesday night, advised that residents in the section south of the Railway Valley Railroad and in the vicinity of Henshaw avenue, had been deprived of service on Route 142 of Somerset Bus Co. direct to Irvington, were at a loss as to what action to follow.

The bus company, which discontinued its bus 142 service May 31 in compliance with the DOT order to reduce mileage, restored service on this line only Sunday and will continue every Sunday thereafter. A company official said 25 buses formerly operated west weekdays and 28 east, serving several defense plants in the area.

Building Inspector Reuben H. Marsh, who is employed by the Union County Coal and Lumber Co., Mountain avenue, near the vicinity where most of the residents have been complaining, told the committee Wednesday night that at least 50 telephone calls had been made by waiting patrons to the Somerset office during this week, inquiring what steps had been taken to resume.

The Irvington line ran from Westfield through Mountaintop, Springfield and Vaux Hall and Maplewood. Passengers to Irvington must now board Bus 141, which travels part of the same route anti-Springfield Center and runs on Morris avenue to Union, via Route 29 to Hillside and on to Newark.

Passengers who travel to Irvington, on week days, must change at Springfield Center, under the new reduction order, and board Public Service Bus 70.

Council Charles W. Weeks explained to the committee that "this is war," adding that since the bus lines have an overlapping service, the town fathers are unable to pursue any action on complaints.

Sorting Effects In Sarah Bailey House, Public May Buy Some

The ladies of the Springfield Board of Library Trustees, constituting a committee to handle the personal property inherited under the terms of the late Sarah Bailey will and the estate of Rev. William Hoppaugh, have been working to conclude their efforts by the latter part of this month, in order that the interior changes to make the Bailey residence available for library purposes, may be completed.

On Monday, Miss Ethel Brown of the State Library Commission spent the day with Mrs. Dorothy Bunnell, trustee, going over several thousand volumes of books of all kinds, to examine what was valuable, what was useful or what could be disposed of as not suitable for library purposes.

During the week, Mrs. Nicholas C. Schmidt, Mrs. Charles Smith, and Mrs. Ralph H. Tiley, trustees, have been working on old papers, furniture and such personal property, to segregate what will be retained by the Library board for museum pieces from that which may be sold for the Library Equipment Fund, to the public at large.

Whether there will be a sale for the public of these things will be decided but the trustees feel that some such disposal will be made to build up the fund for purchasing new equipment needed after the Library has moved to its future location on Main street.

The Building Committee, consisting of Mayor Wilbur M. Selander, August H. Schmidt and A. R. Anderson, have progressed to the point where they expect to make recommendations to the Library trustees at a special meeting to be called shortly.

Their work is based on the preliminary duties of an advisory committee composed of James M. Durand, J. Stanley Werner and Frank E. Meisel, who drew up a tentative plan with the advice of Archdean Fred A. Elsaspe. It is expected that the Library will move to its new quarters in the latter part of September.

FROM GARDEN TO SHELF Garden Greens and Peas

There is a variety of vegetables to choose from: Spinach, cauliflower, mustard and turnip greens, hot tubs, kale, and Swiss chard. You will need to harvest a least a bushel of young, tender leaves to fill six quarts.

One of the most important steps in the preparation of the greens is a very thorough washing either under running water or in at least four cold water baths from which the leaves are lifted each time.

When the jars are packed half full, add one-half teaspoon of cooking salt and complete filling the jar. With a stainless steel knife, make cross cuts through the leaves. Then run a blunt knife down the sides of the jar to remove air bubbles.

Peas In spite of the tedious task that it is to shell a bushel of peas in order to obtain seven or eight quarts of canned or frozen peas, it is worthwhile to save this nutritious food.

Prepare the peas by shelling and washing. Grade into the larger and older peas for table use. Cover the washed peas with boiling water and simmer them for about five minutes.

Put the peas into a one-half gallon jar and add one-half teaspoon of cooking salt to each pint. Using the cooking water, fill the jars up to one-half inch of the top, screw on the cover after removing air bubbles with a knife, and place in the pressure cooker for processing 45 minutes at 10 pounds pressure.

If you plan to freeze peas, Thomas Laxton, Little Marvel, and Laxton's Progress are varieties that will give good results. Just as in canning, only the youngest, most tender peas should be used. The graded, washed peas should be blanched in boiling water for one

2. Although forms of leets were known as early as the third century, cultivated and improved leets were not introduced into Europe until the sixteenth century.

3. Limes spoil easily. Do not buy more than you need immediately. Store in a cool, dry place or in a covered container in the refrigerator. If limes or lemons are run under hot water just before cutting, the juice is more easily extracted.

4. Save the pot liquors from vegetables and use them for soups, sauces and gravies. The liquors are always best in nutritional values when freshly extracted. Do not keep pot liquors more than two or three days before using.

5. Tomatoes make an especially delicious dish if wrapped around with strips of bacon, topped with small onions which have been previously barbecued and then baked.

6. The best way to preserve the vitamins and minerals in vegetables is by dry baking. Potatoes, squash, turnips, carrots, onions and pumpkins can be baked in a hot oven in their skins.

7. Never soak silk and synthetics. Don't rub, twist or wring the garments either. They just can't take it, according to home economists. Instead, wash gently in lukewarm suds, and if washing by hand, squeeze suds through garments. Rinse quickly at least twice to get every bit of soap out.

8. Frozen meat will lose its flavor and may also spoil unless kept solidly frozen until ready for use. Keep in the original container and store until time to cook. If in doubt, which is the refrigerator shelf, feel for the one with coils.

YOUR RED CROSS

National Red Cross Aquatic Schools, stressing wartime swimming techniques, will open in South-Hamilton, Mass.; Chautauque and Narrowsburg, N. Y., the middle of June. James J. Tattersall, director of First Aid, Water Safety, and Accident Prevention for the North Atlantic area of the Red Cross, announced today.

"With so many men serving in the armed forces and many more to be drafted, women are taking over jobs as life guards, water front instructors in summer camps, and directors of community safety programs," said Mrs. Tattersall. "The number of women enrolling this year indicates their increasing interest in water safety.

"Since many of the young men who will attend the Aquatic Schools are within the draft age, emphasis this year will be on wartime emergencies, such as swimming through oil and debris, leaping from docks of sinking ships, and swimming across rivers keeping a rifle high and dry.

The Red Cross wartime swimming course stresses eight fundamental swimming skills: floating, breast stroke, side stroke, elementary back stroke, submerging and swimming under water, treading water, jumping and diving into water. In addition to the water safety training, Aquatic School students will also receive instruction courses in first aid, accident prevention, canoeing, boating, and recreational swimming.

Information concerning enrollment in the Aquatic Schools may be obtained at the local Red Cross Chapters.

The Nurse At Home

Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series of ten articles on Home Nursing prepared by the Public Information Service of the American Red Cross. For complete details about the standard course in home nursing, inquire of your local Red Cross chapter.

Remember that what you call a simple cold is a communicable disease! Over-heated dry air, chilliness of the body surface, wet feet, loss of rest and sleep, over-eating and poor elimination help to lower resistance to cold infection. If you would avoid colds, protect yourself against these conditions.

As in all communicable diseases, much of the danger of the cold lies in its possible after-effects. If symptoms of a cold make their appearance, begin treatment at once. Several days of early care may prevent many days of illness and absence from work. Since the early stages of a cold are the period in which germs are most easily passed to other people, be very careful that you do not give your infection to members of your family or business associates.

The best treatment for a cold is to go to bed when the first symptoms appear. Keep the room comfortably cool, at an even temperature, with attention for air circulation. Drink abundantly of water and fruit juices, eat lightly and sleep as much as possible. If the throat is sore, gargle a pint of hot salt water (half a teaspoon of salt to one pint of water) every hour or two.

If symptoms are severe, temperature in high or persistent, if any kind of skin rash appears, call a doctor at once. Failure to do this may mean that you are giving a dangerous communicable-disease a chance to take advantage of your carelessness. So many communicable diseases begin with symptoms similar to a cold that such an illness should always be regarded with suspicion and treated with respect.

(The fifth in the series, entitled "Prevention of Communicable Diseases," will appear next week).

Our Library

Every afternoon, 2:30 to 5 P. M. and Fri. evenings, 7:30 to 9 P. M.

The best book any woman has written on this war is probably JOURNEY AMONG WARRIORS by Eve Curie.

Into a volume of 500 pages Miss Curie has given a vivid account of every major battle field front of the war. Because of her family background Miss Curie, on her 40,000-mile trip to the battlefields found herself well known wherever she went as the daughter of a man and woman whose devotion to science made a great contribution to humanity.

In Russia she was allowed to see more of the front than any other of the correspondents at the time. Her book gives details of the Red Army, its equipment, morale, and its attitude toward the war and toward the Soviet regime.

Civilian life too is clearly illustrated as she takes to peasant women in the war torn fields, to wounded soldiers returning from the front, to girls working eight hours a day as welders and crane operators in the desert and also to great leaders in the United Nations camps. The book is for those who would understand the people who would fight our battles; the Russian peasant, the Polish exile, the Free Frenchman, the Chinese coolie and the ordinary citizens who are behind the gun.

This book is brilliantly written and warmly human.

Judges for the library essay contest ending on June 16, will be Mrs. Edward Hansen, Mrs. John M. Pfeuffer and Milton Keshan, editor of the Springfield SUN.

Courage Without Weapons Is Futile

There is no question about the courage of our fighting men. But it takes more than courage to defeat a well-equipped enemy.

Let there be no question, then, about your buying war bonds to speed the day of victory.

The bonds you buy, perhaps at the sacrifice of some personal pleasure or luxury, can turn the tide of battle in our favor.

There is no question that pure water contributes to the well-being of this community.

SPEED UP MAIL SYSTEM INSTALLED

Large City Postoffices Initiate Plan Of Numbering Zones In Respective Places; To Help Sorting

The new method of speeding up postmasters, business concerns and mail-deliveries, through addition of a branch post office, number to the address on mail for delivery in large cities, is being placed in operation rapidly. Reports from many cities indicate that it has been received enthusiastically by the press.

Within a few days after the initiation of the plan under instructions of Postmaster General Frank C. Walker, nearly all postmasters in the large cities affected had assigned postal unit numbers to their branch offices, millions of residents had been advised of the number to be added to their addresses, and a considerable volume of mail already was carrying the numbers assigned.

The new system speeds up the separation of mail for distribution to branch offices and permits much more rapid handling of mail by experienced postal clerks, thousands of whom have been employed to replace personnel who have gone into the armed forces and into war industries.

Rapid increase in volume of mail and the loss of some thirty thousand postal employees to the armed forces made it necessary to adopt the plan in the interest of accurate, efficient mail service and for the relief of postal personnel who are carrying an extremely heavy burden of work. The average work week in the service is now about 52 hours, and in many post offices, employees are working 10 and 12 hours a day, seven days a week, because of local shortages of personnel.

An example of the new type of address is:

John C. Smith
222 Mattapan Ave.
Boston 8
Massachusetts

The number after the name of the city indicates the branch post office (or "postal unit") through which delivery is made. Each resident of the large cities is asked by his postmaster to add the postal unit number to his return address, and to notify all to whom he writes that his address is not complete without the number.

Residents of small cities, towns and rural regions should inquire of their correspondents in the large cities concerning the number assigned to the city residents branch post office so that the mail may be expedited. The degree to which mail will be expedited depends upon the extent to which the numbers are used by mailers.

Under the new plan, mail that is sent to large cities carrying the postal unit number, will be distributed more quickly than is possible now and with much less strain on postal clerks. While mail which does not bear the number will be delivered about as rapidly as at present, it will not receive the benefit of the speedier distribution and may not avoid possible delays caused by inability of the depleted force of experienced employees to handle all the mail.

Postmasters, the press and the radio in the cities affected are cooperating to bring the plan to the attention of the public. Hundreds of articles in newspapers, some postmasters have made radio talks advising the public of the advantages of the plan, maps showing the districts in cities, with their numbers, have been published, and chambers of commerce have assisted in bringing the plan to the attention of businessmen. In one large city, the Mayor, who is unfamiliar with postal work, personally arranged the separation of the new system by making a separation of numbered mail rapidly and without a single mistake. At the request of postmasters, scores of large companies are submitting their mailing lists for addition of the numbers and millions of addresses have been so corrected.

Postmasters throughout the country are publicizing the plan, since its success depends on the degree to which the public realizes the fact that the mails will be speeded up by this new plan.

The following cities in New Jersey have been selected to install the postal unit number system: Atlantic City, Camden, Elizabeth, Jersey City, Newark, Paterson, and Trenton. Cities of their size throughout the country have similarly been so designated.

Rumors of a buy on manufacture of baby pins are false. WPA officials have declared. Even though the pins are made of vital high carbon steel, their production will be permitted.

TOWN and FARM WARTIME

The average American family should and must be investing 25 per cent of its income in war bonds by the end of 1943. Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., said recently in announcing a new "streamlined" bond campaign. "Of the 45 billion dollars still necessary to complete our war financing needs for 1943," Mr. Morgenthau said, "at least 18 billion dollars, or almost 25 per cent of the national income for the remainder of the year, should come from purchases of bonds by individuals. From these workers earning $1,000 to $5,000 net, who will have seven-eighths of all the current available individual savings, 25 cents of each dollar is not too much to expect. In fact, they should and must invest more if our goal is to be met."

Retailers may lower the point values of rationed meats and fats which are in danger of spoiling until July 31, OPA has decided. These emergency reductions must be accompanied by a cut of at least 25 per cent in the established ceiling price of the item. If the point value is lowered more than 25 per cent, the price must be reduced proportionately, but never more than 50 per cent below the ceiling.

A total of 239,575 ice-boxes are to be produced in the next three months for civilian use, according to a new order of WPB. Despite limited factory capacities and scarcity of materials, the production rate is expected to reach about 75,000 units a month.

According to a new WPB priority regulation a dealer must furnish farm supplies if the farmer signs a certificate stating: "I certify to the War Production Board that I am a farmer and that the supplies covered by this order are needed now and will be used for the operation of a farm." A total of 140 items are affected by this order. Such certification will enable the farmer to buy up to $25 worth of any of the items on the list, and more if the certificate is approved by his local Country Farm Rationing Committee.

A reduction of five to six cents a pound in the retail price of butter went into effect yesterday, June 10. The OPA intends to effect the roll-back with a minimum of financial loss to the dairy industry, from the farm through the retailer. With the subsidy paid to them by the government, buyers of butter-fat will get as much for their butter as before, and will be expected to continue to pay going prices to the farmer. "Butter shall include butter manufactured by a farmer on his farm from milk produced on his farm" according to an amendment to Maximum Price Regulation No. 289 under which maximum prices were established for creamery butter.

Victory gardens destroyed by excessive rains should be replanted immediately, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture in urging gardeners to replant with "late" rather than "early" crops. Crops that can still be planted in flooded areas include tomatoes, snap beans, lima beans, beets, Swiss chard, summer squash, peppers, eggplant, sweet corn, and sweet potatoes. Cool weather crops such as potatoes, peas, early cabbage, spinach, and lettuce cannot be expected to give satisfactory yields if planted this late in the spring.

New flags for Flag Day, June 14, are still available, but there will not be enough to meet the demand, says the War Production Board. Manufacturers are still permitted to use four types of cotton fabric and two types of rayon in making flags for civilians. Silk, commonly used for high-quality flags before advisable, the War Department has warned. Replies tend to become anthologies of military information, and a custom that arose from innocent motives to create a security hazard.

Sales of wheat for feed have been discontinued by the Commodity Credit Corporation. However, farmers may still obtain some feed wheat through dealers and County AAA Committees to whom shipments have already been made. Additional orders will not be accepted by the Corporation unless the State U. S. Department of Agriculture War Board determines that the wheat is needed to feed livestock during June.

Persons renting Class A typewriters (standard size machines made since 1934) will be given until June 30 either to purchase the machines or to return them to their owners, the OPA has announced.

In 16 of 17 states in the Eastern gasoline shortage area, bicycles will be issued without quota-reservations in June, the OPA has announced. In the Eastern shortage area where gasoline rations for automobiles have been cut, bicycles are rationed to anyone gainfully employed in any occupation or doing work necessary to the war program or public welfare. Children are also eligible if they need a bicycle for transportation to and from school.

Women have proved such a success as inspectors of Army Signal Corps equipment that they now make up 40 per cent of the inspection force, according to the War Department. The women do the entire inspection job, from the mechanical work on the assembly line to the final inspection of the extremely complex electrical equipment.
