Library Accepted By Township Officially, Now Open To Public

Work of altering the two-year-old Tomstead of the late Miss Sarah A. Bailey on Main street at Academy green was completed and officially accepted at a meeting and inspection by the Board of Trustees and the Township Committee on Sunday afternoon. Miss Ethel Brown, assistant librarian of the N. J. Library Commission, was the principal guest. Miss Brown, who has served with the Library Commission many years, helped organize the Springfield Library.

James M. Durand, Frank E. Melsel, J. Stanley Verrier, members of the Advisory Committee; Fred A. Ebsasser, architect of Union who submitted the plans for the alteration and Valfrid Palmer, president of the Residence Construction Company of Springfield, contractor and A. B. Anderson, chairman of the Building Committee, which included Library Trustees Wilbur M. Selander and August H. Schmidt, were all given a vote of thanks for their personal interest and co-operation during the alterations.

The total cost of repairs including—foundations and fixtures was covered by Miss Bailey's gift of money and securities; the sale of household furniture; and a gift of $500 realized from the sale of scrap and donated to the library by the Springfield Defense Council.

The library was founded in Springfield in 1932 by a committee appointed by the P.-T. A. consisting of Mrs. A. B. Anderson, chairman; Mrs. Ralph Tittle, Mrs. Edward Cook, Miss Frances D. Wahl, Fred J. Hodgson, Mrs. John E. Gunn, Mrs. Frank C. Geier, Mrs. Benjamin Wandhoff, Dr. George A. Liggett and Mrs. Nicholas C. Schmidt. Mrs. Schmidt is now President of the Board of Trustees.

The library was supported by public subscription during the first six years and grew rapidly. On January 1, 1938 by referendum it was taken over by the Township and the affairs were then administered by a Board of Trustees appointed by the Mayor and confirmed by the Governing Body. The library continues in this manner, a new trustee being appointed each year.

During the fall of 1940 the late Miss Sarah Bailey, a staunch supporter and large contributor of books, left her home to be used to house the library which had outgrown its quarters on Morris avenue. The late Rev. William Hoppenough who resided with Miss Bailey many years was given a life right in the estate and at his death, the home was then turned over to the trustees. Mr. Hoppenough left many valuable religious reference books which were added to those now in use.

The main floor of the building will accommodate adult fiction and reference material. The children's room, librarians' office and historical room will be found upstairs. Here will be displayed the original Watts Hymnal which was donated by Mrs. Marina Stillwell.

The library opened its doors to the public on Monday and will continue to operate as usual except that the children's department will be closed evenings. Books may be left on the main floor at any time during opening hours.

GAVE 4,924 BOOKS

A total of 4,924 fiction books No. 1 were distributed in the three-day period ending Friday at the James (Crittwell) School, under direction of Fred J. Hodgson, site administrator.

WAR FUND REPORT

Springfield's National War Fund collections total $2,300, still shy of the $3,000 goal, it was reported last night by Roy Waldeck, chairman. The committee is concerned over completing its work by next week and urges that all residents who have not contributed, do so in the next few days. If the collector missed any residence, checks may be left with Charles H. Huff, treasurer, at the Town Hall.

Outlines Indian Life To Parent-Teachers

Before an audience of 250 parents and teachers in the James Caldwell School Monday night, Charles Phillips, supervising principal of Westfield schools, gave a sketch of Indian life in New Jersey, particularly in Springfield and vicinity.

Addressing the Springfield P.-T. A., Mr. Phillips, who is an ardent enthusiast of Indian lore, described early New Jersey Indians as follows: The first white settlers, he said, called them the Delaware Indians. He spoke several words in Lenape language, showing how the Indians were misunderstood by the whites.

He displayed a collection of Indian relics he had dug up himself, or had given to him by full blooded Indians still living in the United States or Canada. One, in particular, was a bejeweled, inlaid tomahawk, with a steel blade. Another was a war club, given to him by an Indian friend, who, he said had no use for it, since the Indian's wife had been dead for three years. In his collection were moccasins worn by the braves while performing war dances, moccasins made of corn-busks, axe heads and many arrow, spear and javelin heads. Miss Elaine Left, accompanied by Mrs. Grant Thomas on the piano and Mrs. N. Kuffner on violin, sang airs from "Indian Love Call" and "Deep in My Heart."

Attendance banners were won by Mrs. Alice Hart's third and fourth grades in the James Caldwell School and Miss Mabel Jakobson's seventh grade in the Crittwell School.

The membership drive has reached 500, with another week to go. Results will be announced at the "Fathers' Night" meeting November 22. Cider and doughnuts were served with a genial Jack O' Lantern looking on approvingly during the social hour.

Canning Exhibit In School Successful

The first Canning Exhibit sponsored by the Nutrition Group of the War Service Committee of the Defense Council, held Monday night in the James Caldwell School in conjunction with a P.-T. A. meeting, met with considerable success. A total of over 200 jars of fruits, vegetables and novelty packs were entered by 28 exhibitors.

Mrs. William F. Strubel of 66 Washington avenue, outstanding winner in the vegetable class, entered 33 jars, each of a different variety. She was ably assisted by Mrs. Anthony Brandner of 144 Tooker avenue, who entered 24 jars of assorted packs.

Mrs. Joseph Kovalek of 34 Balsoral way was general chairman of the exhibit. Exhibit tables were in charge of Mrs. W. Wallace Duseberry, assisted by Mrs. Milton Koshay. Decorations used consisted of a huge basket of fresh vegetables, including tomatoes, lima beans, green beans, red cabbage, brussel sprouts, onions, yellow tomatoes, cherry tomatoes and snow berries, all from Mrs. Duseberry's garden.

Mrs. Alice Linder of the Red Cross Canteen Corps, one of the committee workers, added to the decorations, kale and winter pointsettias, taken from her garden. Oak leaves, ferns and chrysanthemums completed the arrangement.

Miss Carolyn Left and Miss Charlotte Sorg judged the entries and awards were won by Mrs. Strubel in the vegetable class, $2.50 in war stamps; and by Mrs. Alois Kraemer of 167 Tooker avenue, Mrs. Adlyn Boardell of 70 Henshaw avenue and Mrs. Henry McMullen of 27 Muller avenue, a triple tie, in the fruit class, dividing $3.00 amount among them in war stamps.

Mrs. Robert Champlin was in charge of award ribbons and assisted Mrs. Kovalek with general arrangements and publicity.

Mrs. J. Grant Thomas was in charge of posters, and Mrs. McMullen, Mrs. Laman S. Borstler, Mrs. Charles Heardsley and Mrs. Roland W. Nye checked in entries as reported.

CITIZEN MEMBERS NAMED TO PLANNING BOARD

ALBERT B. FLEMER HENRY C. McMULLEN CECIL BENADOM Three of the citizens at large named to the Planning Board by Mayor Wilbur M. Selander Wednesday are shown above. Missing is Frank Cardinal of Milltown road, whose picture is not available at this time.

Planning Board Chosen

Appointments of citizens at large to the Planning Board were announced Wednesday night by Mayor Wilbur M. Selander at a Township Committee meeting as follows: One-year-term, Cecil Benadom of 41 Colfax road. Two-year-term, Frank Cardinal of Milltown road. Three-year-term, Albert B. Flermer of 24 Melrose avenue. Four-year-term, Henry C. McMullen of 87 Muller avenue.

Township Engineer Arthur H. Lentz was chosen township official member, as provided by the ordinance, creating the Planning Board, and Committeeman Charles Phillips, who was instrumental in bringing the legislation into existence last past few months, was appointed as the representative from the Governing Body.

The seventh member of the Board will be Mayor Selander, himself, who automatically serves by virtue of his office. Members will be sworn in by Township Clerk Trout Wednesday night, but it was reported will not organize until January 1.

Appointment of the personnel concludes the final step in the Planning program before actual study is made of township problems for future development. It had been an issue in the primary Republican election, in which proponents had argued for a larger personnel and more representation from respective election districts.

As an indication of complying, Mayor Selander's appointments, which did not require ratification by the Township Committee, but were voted upon unanimously, made provision for a Democratic minority member in Cardinal, but did not provide for a citizen at large from the second election district. Benadom and McMullen are fourth district residents, Cardinal is in the third and Flermer is of the first district.

After Mayor Selander announced his selections, Committeeman Macartney moved for their acceptance by the committee and Committeeman Wright seconded the move. No objections were raised by Committeeman Brown, who originally opposed the terms of the Planning ordinance, but not the issue of planning itself.

Alter Board Meeting

EDITORIAL

WHY WE'RE FOR A NEW STATE CONSTITUTION

Next Tuesday you'll have a chance that you may never get again.

On that date you can say that you want a new constitution for the State of New Jersey—that you want to take a look at a new model.

You may not get another chance because every possible means has been used to prevent this question from being submitted to you and the forces clinging desperately to the old, draughty, antiquated constitution may succeed in keeping the question off the ballot again for generations.

Frankly we don't see how there can be two sides to this one. You are not being asked to vote against the present constitution and in favor of a new one. You are simply being asked whether you would like to take a look at a new one.

Some pretty decent and thoughtful citizens are ardently urging us to vote "Yes." As a matter of fact it appears that the need for a new constitution is so great and so obvious that there is almost no open opposition. The opposition is all secret—and, we understand, frantic.

The fact of the matter is that the present constitution helps men who want to play politics and hinders men who want to get things done in the public interest.

Very simply, no one has the gall to say that the present constitution is any good and a whole lot of decent people are saying: "Let's at least have a look at a new one."

We think you should vote "Yes."

WALTER E. EDGE for governor

your vote is important this year! Sons and brothers, husbands and fathers, are fighting on every battle front for us—dying to preserve our right to be free, to be self-governing, to elect the public officials we prefer, to say what their policies shall be.

Nor dare good Americans at home relax their watch over these blood-bought privileges! The ideals for which our men are fighting can be destroyed behind their backs. Indifference can shatter the highest purpose. Neglect can undermine it. Protection against all internal dangers is our responsibility.

Civic Council Will Sponsor Dances For Teen Age Youths

MOUNTAINSIDE—Starting with Halloween dance Saturday night, October 30 at the Borough Hall, the Mountain Side Civic Council will sponsor a program of entertainment for the teen ages of Mountain Side.

At a special meeting of the Council Monday night at the Borough Hall, Mrs. Joseph H. Hershey, secretary of the group, spoke of the need for some place for the youngsters to get together locally. The Civic Council was formed last June to promote civic and social activities in the borough and provide facilities for such activities.

"While it will be impossible to erect a civic center until after the war," Mrs. Hershey said, "there is, however, a need at the present time for a social center for the younger set and there is no reason why we cannot use the facilities available."

Permission has been granted by Mayor John Moxon and Councilman Woolley to use the Borough Hall on Saturday nights for a Youth Center and the Civic Council has announced to the teen ages that on Saturday, October 30 a Halloween Dance will be held to start off the weekly entertainment series.

Herman Honecker, president of the Civic Council, has appointed Mrs. Joseph Hershey, chairman of the Temporary Entertainment Committee with Mrs. Gilbert Pittenger and Theodore Mundy as assistants. At the dance it will be announced to the youngsters that the teen ages are to take over, appoint their own committees and make their own rules and plans for these weekly affairs, and that the Civic Council is merely standing by to give advice and lend a helping hand where necessary. Tentative plans have been made by the temporary entertainment committee of the Civic Council, subject to approval by the teen age set for dances at the hall each Saturday night with possibly a break in the program now and then for skating parties at Echo Lake Park this winter, hay rides and other affairs of interest to the younger set.

The borough hall will be open to the teen ages each Saturday night from 8 to 11:30 P. M. At the present time they will dance to electrical recordings of their favorite bands and refreshments will be served by the Civic Council, members of which will chaperone the affair.

RED CROSS

"Angels of Mercy," that's what they are. This tribute to the Red Cross nurses' aides still rings in our ears as we recall recent experiences in a hospital ward. Five of us were patients in that room, each case a surgical one. Who can equate the benefit a sick person derives from the spirit which imbues the nurse in her ministrations? We can only say, from our own experience, that as we were bathed, rubbed, fed, given drink, made comfortable by these women, young and approaching middle age, giving so unselfishly of their time and energy to their beneficiaries in that ward was revivifying spiritual and physical uplift.

In the face of such devotion to high ideals of service we would have been astounded to white about our ills, our aches and our pains. "Everybody happy?" our nurses' aides would call out, after we had been readied for visitors' hour. They would turn and wave to us from the door as they left the ward where every patient had been bathed, rubbed with alcohol, freshened, made as comfortable as possible while awaiting the visits of relatives and friends. Please do not mistake us. Every nurse who faithfully carries out the duties of her profession is engaged in a noble work.

However, you will better understand our feeling about nurses' aides after we have told you about Mrs. Whitney, which is not her real name. She was young and her good looks were of the wholesome kind that do not come out of a box; at once you had the feeling that she was there because she liked people; that she liked you, liked doing things for you; that one of the joys of her life was being able to be of use to others. As she changed the sheets on the bed, we talked about her training. She was one of a class of 28 nurses' aides, about to graduate; they were on the home stretch, as it were, their Red Cross teacher, a graduate nurse, was in constant attendance, supervising and observing, preparatory to examination; grading them as to their ability. Mrs. Whitney was worried because she had been compelled to break training in the middle of hospital routine, when she became ill with grippe. Her husband, it appeared, had not permitted her to resume training as soon as she would have liked, so she was making up the required hours by coming in daily and working more hours. She eagerly agreed with our suggestion that she might receive additional credits if she recorded details of making our bed—a difficult process, because complicated curative equipment being used rested on the bed.

As we talked, mention was made of her two little boys, two and four years of age. We exclaimed, "Why, how can you do all this?" Very simply she answered: "My mother takes care of them for me. She wanted to take the courses herself, but she's beyond the age limit."

Working in other parts of the hospital, Mrs. Whitney did not again enter our ward until the day we left. She came in hurriedly just as we were being wheeled out to the elevator. There was only time for a quick good-bye, and as our hands clasped we said "Is everything all right? Did you pass?" Her face beamed. "I got it!"

This recital of our experience with nurses' aides has been put in this column because the American Red Cross is concentrating this month on an intensive promotion of a three-way Nursing Campaign. Our chapter is organized by Mrs. Denzelle Van Dyke, a student in the three-year nursing curriculum of Summit Chapter. Mrs. Van Dyke and her husband have been teachers of the first aid classes in this town since the inauguration of first aid training on a community basis; she has been an active volunteer in many phases of Red Cross service. In her nurses' aid training she is attending three sessions a week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings from 9 to 12, at Hamilton School, Summit, where lectures are being given by Mrs. Warren Garsess, R.N., of Summit. After four weeks of these lectures, training of another four weeks in hospital routine at Overlook Hospital will follow. Our chapter officers hope that this community will continue to send volunteers to the classes of instruction for nurses' aides. They should register for these classes under the auspices of their home Chapter, Springfield. Nurses' aides are now indispensable—hospitals just could not carry on without them; it is impossible to over-estimate the importance and value of the work they are doing. Are you interested? Are you under 50? If so, call the Springfield Red Cross office, Milburn 6-2900.

He didn't quit his war job...

Do I dare quit mine?

Ask yourself this:
Suppose one out of every ten soldiers tried to quit the Infantry for a "better" job in the Navy. And one out of every ten aviators tried to go over to the Tank Corps. And so on. And so forth.

Fantastic? It's just about true of this local war production area right now.
Because some war workers give up their jobs today — many soldiers may give up their lives — tomorrow!...
