

OUR CHRISTMAS CARD

Please let this be our Christmas card — the greetings of The Springfield SUN to that best friend of any publication, its Gentle Readers.

We won't try to address everyone of you personally. If we tried to do that we'd surely leave out one of our best friends by pure accident and oversight and then we'd feel very badly.

We would particularly like to wish a Merry Christmas to our severest critics. This is not said out of a sense of false humility. It is good to get stiff criticism. We believe in freedom of the press, in frank publication of peoples' opinions so long as they aren't vicious or libelous.

But, to get back to our starting place: On behalf of the staff of The Springfield SUN, we wish you a very happy Christmas.

DANGERS FOR POLICE

Police Chairman Lewis W. Macartney has been chairman of the Police Committee since 1936, and has faithfully performed his duties in that respect.

Two weeks before his retirement from the board, he recommends to future township committees that two policemen be permitted in radio police cars as a safeguard since "one man in a car is not enough."

IN THIS DAY AND AGE

We wonder about many things in life and are often perplexed about other people. Sometimes because of that contact, we get a warped view of people and the various aspects of life.

Five years ago Patrolman Lamb loaned a passing motorist a dollar because he was in need of it. Years went by and Lamb forgot about the loan.

It wasn't the payment of the amount due that concerns us as much as it was the restoration of our belief in human conduct.

Paralysis Fund For President's Birthday

For the fifth successive year Joseph F. Fitzgerald of Carteret has been named New Jersey Chairman of the Celebration of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The 1944 campaign to raise funds in the unending fight against the ravages of infantile paralysis will open January 1 in the State's 21 counties and will continue until President Roosevelt's birthday on January 30.

"The threat of this baffling, un-conquered disease still hangs ominously over our vital welfare," the President wrote. "There can be no amnesia with the Cripple."

"You and I have seen the great deeds accomplished with the funds raised in previous drives," said Mrs. Fitzgerald.

"The sight of maimed youngsters walking again is reward enough for the polo fighters." "The 21 days of isolation no longer are hard on the family breadwinner because of the efforts of the County Chapters of the Foundation, which rush stricken children to isolation hospitals where expert care and treatment is given, leaving other members of the family free to continue normal pursuits."

"However, this type of cure is more expensive. We now spend $1,600 annually for each victim of infantile paralysis. Hundreds of sufferers, some of whom were stricken as far back as 1916, are being cared for by our County Chapters. The funds raised annually in this state—$277,000 in 1943—are not sufficient for our ever-increasing needs."

"County Chapter funds, in addition to funds from the State, also have been used to train doctors, nurses and technicians in the Sister Kenny method. This year we have sent trained nurses to epidemic areas throughout the nation and they have saved many lives and prevented serious deformities. For this, New Jersey is being blessed in many states throughout the Union."

"The great crusade against infantile paralysis goes on all year. It does not begin with the drive or end with it."

"It is a spirit such as this that makes me confident of a great campaign in New Jersey this year."

The drive will use the customary expert care and treatment is given, leaving other members of the family free to continue normal pursuits. The Union County Chapter will participate in this year's drive.

Planning Board Adopts Official Map, Regulations

The first step toward regulating the sub-division and plotting of land was taken by the Springfield Planning Board last night when it adopted an official map and regulations.

The rules and regulations governing the sub-division and plotting of land within the township has been so arranged as to enable the sub-dividers within the confines of the township to present his plan in such a form that it may be handled expeditiously as possible.

Want Lighting in Spring Gardens

Members of the Spring Gardens Civic Association, comprising residents in the southern end of Linden avenue, have appealed to the Township Committee for street lighting in their thoroughfare.

Mayor Selander also spoke at a meeting of the Governing Body last Wednesday night, was told by Mayor Selander to take the matter up directly with Jersey Central Power & Light Co. officials.

Another request by Dohy for shade trees was satisfied when board members said Linden avenue was due to be given trees in the next planting program.

Mayor Selander said the foot bridge plan was approved by the Board of Education where it was defeated, over objections of the Springfield board members who voted for the measure.

Township Will Set Aside Land As School Sites

Legal steps toward setting aside three tracts of township-owned land to the Springfield Board of Education for future grammar school sites are being studied by Counsel Charles W. Weeks, as a result of a conference between Harry B. Nulph, of the school board and Finance Chairman Arnold Wright, who said "our committee feels the action is desirable."

The Board of Education six months ago studied the school-site situation and found the following three tracts as the only suitable locations, owned at present by the township: Riverside tract, at Cain street and Riverside drive, lower end of Houshaw avenue, between Railway Valley Railroad and Houshaw avenue, and in the E. A. White tract at Springfield Heights, at Wentz avenue between Edgewood avenue and Jefferson terrace.

Corporal Herbert J. Rolstad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rolstad of North Hillside avenue, Chatham, formerly of 241 Morris avenue, who has been reported missing for twenty months, is listed as a prisoner of the Japanese.

After the fall of the islands his parents heard nothing from him until last August, when they received a card from a prisoner camp in the Philippines stating he was in good health and uninjured. Three more cards containing the same information from the same camp arrived last week, but a month ago the War Department notified his parents that through the International Red Cross it had been confirmed he was a prisoner at a camp in Okinawa, Japan.

Complains Poultry Issue Here As "Unneighborly"

To the Editor of The Sun: By there, neighbors — what's cooking? I thought everybody in the old town of ours were real neighbors, yet in reading one of your articles in this week's SUN I am beginning to wonder. I see where some one has put in a complaint about keeping a back lot flock of chickens in residential sections. Do these complaining neighbors really deny to themselves the right to complain about unsanitary reasons or is it just because they do not like the idea of their neighbor getting some joy out of life by indulging in his or her hobby? Have these complaining folks spoken to their neighbors directly, and in a nice way suggested that unsanitary conditions be remedied? Or have they, in the way of a coward, gone and made a complaint to the Governing Body, without their neighbor knowing what is going on until too late?

It seems that anyone advocating restriction on back-lot or backyard poultry keeping is trying to create a town that has no heart. As many folks in town know, I do have a lot of time studying nature, the handiwork of God, and then give my findings to the world. Most folks know of lectures to the Scout children — our community — and delicate no funny get for Uncle Sam down in Washington a request that I preach during my talks at promotion of an idea that every family who has a bit of ground should keep a few hens. And then find that in your own town someone is trying to pass an ordinance to prohibit it. I keep a few hens as a sort of pleasure and for scientific study, but whether I am allowed to keep them or not does not bother me. However, I think anyone advocating their neighbor be denied their pleasure, is using a selfish attitude. My own neighbors, I know, do not object to my having a small flock. I'm thinking of other folks neighbors. It would be just as selfish on my part, being a non-smoker, to ask for an ordinance to prohibit my neighbor from smoking just because I didn't smoke.

Now for a few suggestions to the complaining folks: If your neighbor keeps chickens under unsanitary conditions, speak to him frankly. Don't try to create un-friendly feelings. If, however, you have no success, then get in touch with the health authority. But, just because of one or two violators, do not condemn a neighbor who keeps poultry under clean and scientific conditions and who may be a mile or more away from you. Try to educate your neighbor that sanitation pays great dividends. All animals and birds want to be clean if man will help. The old belief that pigs are filthy creatures, has been proven fallacious. In keeping their quarters spick and span, even pigs can be clean. But to let them care for themselves they can be filthy. Man, too, would be filthy if sanitation is not practiced. A dog or cat can breed disease, even the chicken, if neglected, can transmit disease.

To Consider PBA Request For Pay Raises in Budget

CHARLES PHILLIPS, Sr.

The Township Committee will consider the request of the Springfield Patrolmen's Benevolent Association for a bonus of "at least 10 per cent" and provision for township cost of uniforms in its 1944 budget, Finance Chairman Arnold Wright declared last Wednesday night.

In October, the P.B.A. made its plea, pointing out increased cost of living made pay raises necessary, and the committee replied by asking the police group to show by specific State statute how increases could be given. A referendum was held on the salary referendum, setting up the following maximums: Chief, $4,200; three sergeants, $2,700, and seven first class patrolmen, $2,500.

It was the consensus of committee members who were not openly desirous of approving raises, that the referendum prevented granting raises unless such increases were made by referendum. The P.B.A. in its last reply, furnished cause of legislation enabling such raises.

In October, the police petition was tabled after Police Chairman Lewis F. Macartney explained no funds were available in the current budget for pay raises.

Dangers Cited Of Cops Alone In Patrol Cars

Recommendation to the Township Committee that radio police cars be staffed with two men, following two recent cases where policemen pursued speeding cars with gunfire involved in both, was made last Wednesday by Police Chairman Macartney.

"I would suggest the new committee study the matter," Macartney said, "and added, 'We can't do it without spending money, but personally I think it should be done.' Police officers are in a very dangerous position to send one man out in a police car, as is done under the present arrangement, since 'anything might happen.'"

The police chairman did not disclose whether he favored additional policemen in one radio equipped police patrol cars to combine both, by sending two men in a single machine and "keeping one car off the road."

Hospitals Hard Hit; Overlook Running At Capacity

During the year 1942, according to the Hospital Bureau News, nearly one tenth of the population became a hospital bed patient. One person entered a hospital in the United States as a patient every two and one half seconds.

Surgeon operations were performed at a rate of one to every 64 seconds and the hospital birth rate exceeded three live babies to the minute.

According to the Office of War Production there is a hundred bed hospital in New York State which has the services of only one graduate nurse. All the others are practical nurses. A recent visitor to a hospital in a war-production area in Virginia, found the hospital in active labor lined up in the hallway waiting until a nurse was free to care for them.

Shortage of nurses is compelling some hospitals to turn away many persons in need of medical attention. Patients are being discharged earlier than they would in normal times. Wards and clinics are being closed and beds left empty because no nurses are available.

In checking the situation at Overlook Hospital with Howard G. Turner, superintendent, it was learned that the hospital still has a staff of nurses and doctors sufficient to care for the hospital at capacity. He further stated that the hospital has been running at capacity for the past six months and expressed the opinion that if the hospital is to meet the normal increase of patients from the 29 communities served more bed space must be provided.

YOUR RED CROSS

It is Christmastime and most of our workers are taking time out to celebrate—with their families—the birthday of the Prince of Peace. The hands of our sewers and knitters are resting for a few weeks. For them we have an eloquent and moving story written by the director of Civilian Relief in the Middle East for the American Red Cross, Charles E. Bailey. Mr. Bailey, whose home is at Newton Center, Mass., writes as follows:

You Should See Their Faces

"From the shores of America to the shores of Sinai Peninsula, the American Red Cross is sending aid to save thousands of refugees, mostly women and children, who have escaped from the horrors of war-torn Europe. At Moses Well, where in Bible times the children of Israel first found refuge after escaping from Egypt, across the Red Sea, these modern refugees also have regained freedom. The faces of the little children are faces of adults, reflecting the hardships and suffering they have experienced and the horrors they have seen. Their loved ones are the most forlorn, nameless graves in their homelands. In these young-old faces a hope is dawning that soon they will return to their native shores and start anew the life wrenched so savagely to a stop.

"The ecstasy on the faces of these ragged little ones when they receive their first issue of volunteer chapter-produced clothing would repay the American women who have worked so faithfully at their Red Cross knitting and sewing. For days after arriving at the camp, the children cannot keep their eyes or fingers off the beautiful sweaters and dresses. Their hands caress the soft wooliness as a woman would stroke her first fur coat.

"The daily routine of the refugee camp, the chores that go with feeding, clothing and providing medical attention, sanitation, and hygiene—is interesting; but most interesting, most heartrending, are the people. Thousands of refugees, hope flickering in their faces, line the way through which each new contingent arriving from the homeland passes into the camp. Every face is scanned by little children searching someone beloved and familiar, hoping against hope that perhaps a mother, a sister, a little brother may be a member of the new band. And then, the lost person has passed, and no familiar face has been detected. Then hope changes to utter despair. "But occasionally you see total joy. It is in the scorching tears that roll down the cheeks of the reunited as they rush into each other's arms or yours, "Coke and Chickens," produced by Swift and Company.

other could still be alive. "And gratitude glimmers in little faces in the American Red Cross storeroom when shiny new shoes are fitted on blistered, calloused little feet that have trudged weary miles across desert lands and mountains.

"For me it has been a blessed pleasure to represent my countrymen in the States. I have had the joy that should have been yours, you who have been giving time and energy and money to enable the Red Cross to serve these sorely stricken people."

To this heartwarming story the column adds: Bless you, dear workers, helpers, contributors. Whether you have given money, time, or work, it has all helped to make possible the wonderful humanitarian service the Red Cross is doing in so many, many ways all over the world to alleviate pain, suffering, privation, loneliness and despair.

Considerable shipping was done by the chapter last week. Seventy-two kite balloons were sent out. These will be handed to men in the Navy as they embark for overseas service. A large quota of hospital shirts, bed jackets, pillows and pillow cases, for use in hospitals where service men are being cared for, was also sent out.

Notice: The surgical dressings workshop will reopen on the second Tuesday in the new year, January 11.

Sewing hours will be resumed on Wednesday, January 5, in Legion Hall.

Our wish for one and all is that peace and good will may reign in the hearts of all of us now and always. Whatever the state of the world that is the meaning of Christmas. Peace and good will must originate in the mind and the heart of the individual.

Shown with his picture, "Drunken Farmer," now being exhibited at the new Bamberger art gallery, James Chapin has just completed a series of seven pictures titled "The Seven Ages of a Physician" for the CIBA Pharmaceutical Products, Inc. The pictures took Mr. Chapin two and a half years to complete and were commissioned by Lieut. Comdr. Douglas A. Brewer, whose idea they were. The pictures will be shown at the New York gallery of the Associated American Artists on Fifth Avenue, beginning Monday. The series is intended as a tribute to the medical profession and will be exhibited all over the country for art galleries and medical groups. CIBA plans to reproduce them in full color and send them in portfolio to all physicians in the country.

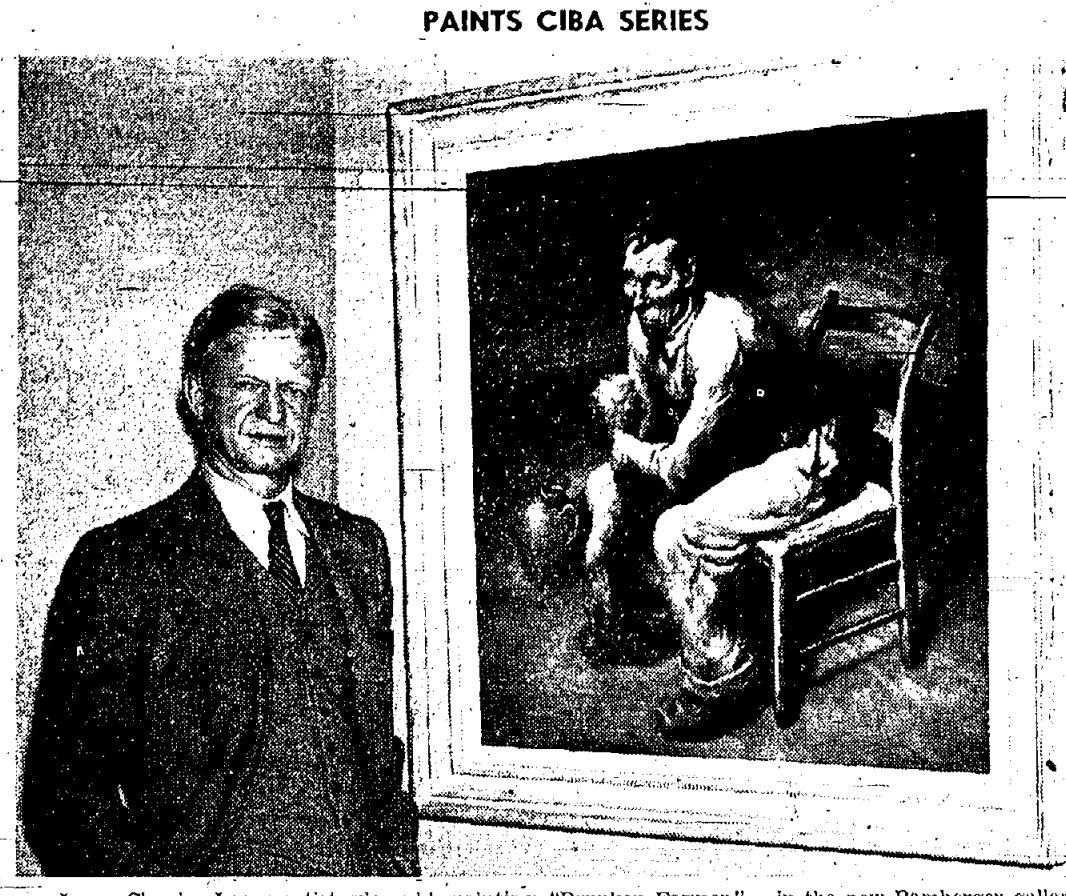

Another exhibit of Mr. Chapin's work is now being shown at the State Museum in Trenton in the Special Exhibits galleries. The Bamberger gallery is the first branch of the Associated American Artists Galleries and will be devoted exclusively to the exhibition and sale of the work of living American artists. County Budget Parleys Start Departmental conferences on the budget have been started by the Board of Chosen Freeholders, but Charles E. Smith, chairman of the finance committee, said that a tentative total has not been struck nor has the board determined its policy on pay raises or a bonus.

As each requisition is considered by the Freeholders, the executive responsible is invited to confer with the board on the details. These parleys usually lead to revisions and the probable total consequently will be delayed until all estimates have been reviewed.

Several Freeholders have declared informally that they are cognizant of the advances in the cost of living, the heavier tax increases, and circumstances to which this condition has brought many county employees. They are willing to acknowledge this situation by providing more compensation in the budget, but other members of the board consider the plight of the taxpayers, many of whom are not

Alarm Record of Firemen Praised

Mayor Wilbur M. Selander, fire committee chairman, paid tribute at a Township Committee meeting last Wednesday to three Springfield volunteer firemen for outstanding record in answering calls during the past year.

Of a total of 116 alarms, Enos Parsell responded to 86, and James Funcheon and Herbert Fay answered 85 and 79, respectively. With other volunteer firemen, they share in the annual distribution of $1,000 which is divided proportionately among the entire squad, according to alarms answered by each.

Dear Sir:—It occurred to me that perhaps your readers and my many friends in town may be interested in knowing from first hand information and by a former silent picture actor how movies are made. Back in the "silent" days I did some acting at Astoria, L. The director, George Marshall, was very much surprised to hear I was formerly with Paramount.

He also said that he would be glad to discuss the matter with anyone interested in such an organization.

The Weather—Believe It or Not

This month of December, 1943, has been warmer than December of last year. The temperature through Dec. 20 has been only 31 degrees below the normal, compared to 25 degrees below in December, 1942. All our cold this month occurred between the 11th and 18th. Last December we had sub-normal temperatures from the 2nd to the 20th, the lowest being 5 below zero. This year the coldest has been 9 above.

Precipitation has been abnormally low this month. There has been scarcely a snow flake, and only .15 inch of rain, which is 2 inches below the normal.

In December, 1942, we had 10 inches of snow in five snow falls, by this date in the month. The 75-mile gale recorded on this Dec. 11 was the strongest one ever recorded for any December, and one of the greatest wind storms this vicinity has ever had.

These facts are all gleaned from the records of Horace Moody of Pembroke road, Summit, who has long studied the weather as a hobby.

If it happened in town, you'll find it in the SUN.

Meeting Is Advanced

MOUNTAINSIDE—The Boy Scout meeting will be held tomorrow night instead of Friday, at 7:30 in the school. The next Scout Committee meeting will be held the first Thursday in January at the school.

Rhubarb leaves are one of the few exceptions to the rule "Eat it all." They are not edible. All of the rhubarb stalk, especially the skin, is edible. The younger and fresher the stalks, the more palatable rhubarb is.

Lettuce has a refuse of 31 per cent in stalks and outer leaves, three-fourths of which is estimated to be preventable waste. Leaves otherwise marred can be shredded and used with tossed salads.
