Nation Is Shocked By Death of PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

Police Beginning Nation-Wide Brake Campaign April 15

Plans by all police in Union county for participation in the nation-wide brake check program beginning April 15, are in the final stages. Chief Brennan of Elizabethtown, coordinator for this county, announced today.

"The morning of April 15 will find all the police in Union county ready to go," Chief Brennan said. "Check blocks have been distributed and we feel confident of the full support of our county motorists."

On April 15, Chief Brennan explained, and continuing through June 1, police throughout the nation will conduct, simultaneously, a brake check program designed primarily to focus attention on the need for car conservation.

Brakes have been selected as the medium to impress motorists with the necessity for car care, since they constitute a vital part of the car's mechanism. At the same time, they present equipment which the police may check quickly without undue inconvenience to the motoring public.

All passenger vehicles involved in accidents, those involved in traffic violations in which cars are moving, and those operated in a manner indicating faulty brakes, will be checked by the police.

"The entire program is based on the fact that our cars must last for the duration and for some time thereafter," Chief Brennan said. "And on another point, it is going to take the automotive industry some time to re-tool and re-convert for production."

The State coordinator in New Jersey is Colonel Charles H. Schoeffel, superintendent of the New Jersey State Police. Assistant State coordinators are Chief Inspector George W. Zeigler, of the State Motor Vehicle Department, and Police Chief Fred A. Roff of Morrisville, vice-president of the International Association of Chiefs of Police. Assisting these officials are 5 district and 21 county coordinators.

An honorable discharge has been given to Private First Class John MacKenzie from the United States Army. Pfc. MacKenzie of 62 Mayland avenue, left Thomas M. England General Hospital, Atlantic City on Saturday.

Pfc. MacKenzie entered the service over four years ago and spent 8 months overseas. He was wounded in Germany on September 28. He arrived back in the States on December 12 and since then has been confined to Army Hospitals.

Two Grads From Regional Listed As War Prisoners

Two Regional graduates have recently been listed by the War Department as prisoners of war of Germany. They are Pfc. Edward S. Schieferstein, '39 graduate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schieferstein of Madison Hill road, Clark Township.

Pfc. Tripka had been previously reported missing since November 9. Five days after his parents received the original word from the government, they received a large number of letters and cards from all over the country stating that their son had been heard over short-wave radio from Germany, stating that he was a prisoner and requesting that his parents be notified. Months before the War Department wired the parents that he was a prisoner. Mr. and Mrs. Tripka received mail from him in a German prison camp.

Entering the Army on May 4, 1943, Pfc. Tripka was assigned to the Infantry and went overseas more than a year ago. After intensive training in England he was with the forces which breached the continent on D-Day. Before entering the service he was employed by the American Type Founders in Elizabethtown.

He was wounded in action in France in July of last year, for which his parents received the Purple Heart awarded him. After being hospitalized three months he returned to his unit and within five days was reported missing in Germany.

Pfc. Schieferstein had been previously reported missing in action on January 11 in Germany. His parents have received word from the American Red Cross that he is a prisoner at Stalag 3-A.

Rusiniak served with the New Jersey National Guard, Elizabethtown, and was mustered into active training when the troop was Federalized prior to Pearl Harbor. He was in a heavy machine-gun squad of the 114th Infantry, Forty-fourth Division, Seventh Army, and had been overseas six months. He had received his training at Fort Dix, Fort Lewis, Wash., and other camps before going overseas.

Wounded last December 8 in France, he received shrapnel in his right hand. He received the Silver Star for gallantry in action February 10 near Marseilles, France.

Born in Kenilworth, the soldier was employed by his father as a carpenter before he went into the service. He was a communicant of St. Teresa's Chapel and was a member of the Fire Department Reserves.

Besides his wife and parents he is survived by four brothers, John Rusiniak, who completed 30 missions as a Technical Sergeant in the Army's Eighth Air Force before being given a medical discharge; Pvt. George, with the Air Force at Channahoe Field, Ill., and Philip and Vincent, both at home.

This is the third successive year that Mr. MacDonald comes to the First Baptist Church. He is a young man with a message that fits into the spiritual need of our present day circumstances.

In early life he was a popular stage comedian formerly associated with some of the well known stars. He was saved at the Pacific Garden Mission in Chicago, the spiritual birthplace of Billy Sunday, Mel Trotter and many others.

Saturday evening, April 21, will be Young People's Night. Mr. MacDonald will have a special message for them.

County Farmers Held Barn Dance

A successful barn dance was held at Singers Grove on Wednesday evening of last week by the Union County Board of Agriculture, reports Wilfred Haines of Union, chairman of the dance committee.

The group held a meeting on Thursday night of last week in the farmhouse in Clark Township. John J. Burke, a member of the Newark Farmers' Market, spoke to the group. Many of the farmers throughout the county use the Newark distribution center for marketing their products.

Ten new members were added, making a total of approximately 225 now enrolled in the drive designed to include every farmer in the county.

County Agricultural Agent Fred D. Osman provided popular motion picture film of special interest to the farmers. President Walter M. Ritchie of Rahway, was in charge of the meeting, with Charles H. Brewer of Clark, secretary and Walter Essex of Fanwood, Treasurer.

Many of the farmers expressed concern that fruit trees blossoming much earlier than usual this year might be affected by frost and crops ruined.

The Weather—Believe It Or Not!

A week of normal spring weather has passed, with high temperatures between 60 and 70 degrees. The aggregate degrees for the month so far has added up to plus 69 over the normal. The departure from the normal since January 1 is plus 445 degrees.

Precipitation this month to date, 5.4 inches. Normal precipitation, 2.34 inches.

Scrap Paper, Tin Will be Taken in Sunday Collection

The next collection of paper and tin scrap under the auspices of The American Legion post and by direction of the local Salvage Committee will be held on Sunday, April 15. The Boy Scouts of the Township, who are striving to secure the badges with the General Eisenhower medalion have been busy gathering paper so that each member of the local Scout organization may win one of these prizes.

This, with the fact that each troop will receive an empty shell for their trophy case if the scouts are able to show that the goal set for this purpose has been met, has spurred the boys on to do their best.

It should be understood that nothing but tin cans and paper will be taken during this collection. The tin cans must be processed for easy handling and placed in cartons along the curb with your paper which should be tied in bundles for easy handling. Anything but the materials asked for, will be left on the curb. It is urged that everyone comply with this request and leave only paper and tin cans. The collection of paper should be the largest ever gathered in Springfield since a period of six weeks has elapsed since the last drive. Every mother and dad of a Boy Scout or Cub is certainly interested enough in this matter to make it a big success.

Victory Garden Meeting Held

A large turnout of Victory Gardeners was present at the James Caldwell School Monday night to view some interesting pictures of the "right and wrong way" to work a garden. The films were shown by Wilhelm N. Peljogbeck, instructor at the Regional High School, who followed the showing of the films with an interesting talk on gardening. Due to other attractions the attendance was not as large as expected, but what it lacked in numbers it made up in enthusiasm.

Many questions were asked and answered in a satisfactory manner. The question of whether or not to conduct a short course in gardening on the plan of that conducted so "right" last year during twenty seasons that started earlier in the year was not so well received because many believed that they could profit from what was gained in planting a Victory garden last year and with what pointers could be obtained from the agricultural course circulars that were given out.

Postmaster Heinz read off a list of the vegetable garden schedule which will be part of the Dahlia Show in the Regional High School, September 15 and 16. The schedule calls for the exhibition of some thirty or more products of the garden as well as basket arrangements. There will also be an exhibit of canned fruits and vegetables.

PROCLAMATION

Whereas, it is obligatory to preserve the rapidly dwindling supply of passenger automobiles for vital war transportation; and

Whereas, it is necessary as a patriotic and humanitarian duty, to reduce the frightful toll of automobile accident fatalities and injuries to an absolute minimum; and

Whereas, it has been determined by authoritative investigators that faulty brakes are a contributing factor in most automobile traffic accidents; and

Whereas, the Police Officers of the nation, under the direction of the President of the United States, have instituted a "Nation-wide Brake Emphasis Program"; and

Whereas, the Nation-wide Brake Emphasis Program, to have its fullest measure of success in saving lives, reducing injuries, and extending the usefulness of irreplaceable automobiles, must have the complete support of all the public.

Now, Therefore, I, Wilbur M. Selander, Chairman of the Township Committee of the Township of Springfield, do hereby proclaim the period from April 15 to June 1, 1945, as a period for the correction of faulty automobile brakes; and I do advise the citizens of this community, both individually and through their organized groups, to cooperate with our Police Officers by having the brakes of their cars checked, and put in proper working condition, during this significant period.

Dated at Springfield, New Jersey this 12th day of April, 1945. WILBUR M. SELANDER, Chairman, Township Committee.

With meat supplies short, ingenious homemakers are spreading the meat to make one pound taste like two.

Because meat is such a flavorful food, when the ration is small it's important to stretch the meat savor as far as possible, and to step-up appetizing flavor in other ways. Some of the flavor-spreading possibilities for a pound of meat in combination with other foods are suggested:

Add seasonings. Well-seasoned stuffings are excellent extenders. Garden herbs, onions, curry powder, or Mexican spices can pep up flavor in dishes sparse in meat. With vegetables: Two pounds of lean raw meat without bone make 5-8 servings of a good all-around stew, but one pound can be combined with vegetables in any desired combination to make that many servings. To bring out all the flavor of the meat in a stew, cut it into small pieces, sprinkle with salt and pepper, roll in flour and brown in fat, with or without onion. Browning the meat well before adding moisture is the flavor trick. Another way to add flavor is to brown the flour to be used for thickening the gravy, in the oven or in a heavy skillet over low heat.

Putting a "lid" on the stew and baking it as a pie stretches the servings still farther. Make the meat pie cover of pastry, or a layer of mashed potatoes, rounds of biscuit dough, or corn-meal mush brushed with melted fat, and brown in the oven.

A little meat goes a long way also in stew scalloped with macaroni or spaghetti, stew with a border of rice potatoes or flaky rice, or between shortcake or bun or meat shortcuts or a hot meat sandwich with gravy.

Plus cereals or soya. A pound of ground meat makes enough for 4 servings, when broiled or sauteed "straight." But the meat goes farther, and texture is often better, combined with milk and bread crumbs, oatmeal, or cereal flakes; Soya flour and grits, are especially good extenders. For example, a soya meat loaf stretches 3 1/2 lb. of ground meat from 3 to 6 servings.

Ground raw potatoes mixed with ground beef, seasoned well, and shaped into balls or cakes makes "potatoburgers." Potatoes puff up when cooked so you have more meat rather than less when ready to serve. It is moister, too, and more tender.

Selective Service Clamping Down On Farm Workers

Cpl. Edgar N. Bloomer, State Selective Service Director, disclosing information had come to him that farm workers found unfit for military service had quit their essential farm jobs, declared today he was taking steps to secure their induction into the armed forces, through waivers of physical disability.

The announcement met with the approval of Herbert W. Voorhees, president of the State Farm Bureau, who described Colonel Bloomer's action as "a very definite attempt to stabilize our agricultural manpower situation."

"In February," said Colonel Bloomer in a statement, "all persons under 25 deferred because of their necessity to essential agriculture were given an examination to determine their fitness for military service."

"Since that time it has been noted that a number of these young farm workers, after being found disqualified, had left the farms for better paying occupations, feeling secure in the fact that they could not be taken into the armed forces as a result of their physical limitations."

Colonel Bloomer noted that present Selective Service Regulations provide that men who leave essential war production jobs for which they have been deferred may be inducted into the armed forces under drastically lowered physical standards but that no such provision has been made for the man who leaves the farm.

"However," he explained, "in industrial cases the Army and Navy will grant waivers of physical limitations and it is under this procedure that we intend to make every effort to see that such persons do not escape entirely their obligation to the country's war effort."

Where such cases are found, said Colonel Bloomer, the facts will be forwarded to National Headquarters of the Selective Service System for negotiation with the War and Navy Departments looking toward their induction. A number of such waivers already have been secured and the individuals concerned taken into the armed forces.

Commenting on Colonel Bloomer's action, Voorhees issued the following statement:

"This action on the part of Colonel Bloomer is a very definite attempt to stabilize our agricultural manpower situation. There is no reason in the thinking of the farmer that a farm worker should be treated any differently than an industrial worker."

"The Selective Service Committee of the New Jersey State War Board concurs wholeheartedly in this action and hopes that, if there are registrants who leave their agricultural employment as a result of recent preinduction physical examinations these cases will be drawn to their attention."

"We believe Colonel Bloomer fully appreciates the manpower situation on our New Jersey farms, and that he is doing everything possible to sustain our agricultural manpower."

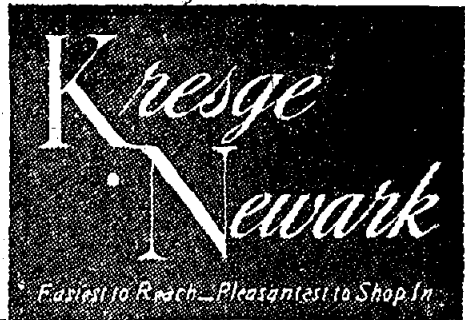

War Prisoners Aid

Work for war prisoners in India was begun in May, 1941, by War Prisoners Aid of the Y. M. C. A., a participating service of the National War Fund. The interned men were mostly Italians and practically all of the Roman Catholic faith.

Therefore the Y. M. C. A., consistent with its policy of serving men of all faiths without discrimination, strove to help the priests among the prisoners to serve their communicants in the farthest East, by supplying necessary religious materials, either through cooperation with their church, or, where necessary, as a gift.

A broad educational program was also organized, and this culminated in a prisoners' university, with an excellent faculty composed of teachers and professors among the officers. Here some 4,500 prisoner-students were offered 42 different courses, including law, science, mathematics, engineering, literature and fine art, with excellent laboratory and research facilities.

The Y. M. C. A. is proud of this achievement, which lighted shadowed minds and planted seeds of international goodwill for a post-war harvest.

Street Opening Ordinance Being Changed in Boro

MOUNTAINSIDE — Several changes in the construction of new borough highways, grading widths and inspection procedure are featured in an amendment to an ordinance introduced by the Borough Council Tuesday night.

The measure provides that the graded street widths be increased from 30 to 50 feet wide, paved surfaces widened from 18 to 20 feet and the depth of bituminous macadam roadways jumped from 6 to 7 inches.

Whereas the original ordinance stipulated street building plans must only be examined by the borough engineer before commencing a project, the new act requires that the engineer supervise the work and that he furnish a certificate of compliance with all specifications before the Council accepts the job officially.

The amendment conforms to recommendations of the Planning Board, and will be given a public hearing May 8.

An offer to purchase two lots in Poplar avenue for $300 was accepted and will be sold at public auction May 8. Bids for construction of a recreation room in the new firehouse were ordered advertised to be received at the May meeting.

Clark Robert Laing reported receipt of census figures, which showed Mountainside's 1940 population at 1148, compared to 985 in 1930 and 493 in 1920. Collector Laing's report indicated $27,369 in total receipts to date, of which $22,385 is current taxes.

A revised map of Birch Hill development, setting up four lots on which two-frame dwellings and another two are to be built, subject to new restrictions of size, as ruled by the Planning Board, was accepted. It marks the first such adoption since the sub-division regulations were passed.

Property Left to Son in Borough

MOUNTAINSIDE — Samuel W. Knapp, who died March 17 in Westfield, will bequeath at 1646 Downer street, Westfield, to a son, Russell, of Springfield avenue, this borough, according to a report from the Surrogate's office.

Bank deposits were willed to a daughter, Mrs. Helen K. Ehrnholt of Westfield and the residuary estate to Mrs. Knapp, Mrs. Ehrnholt and another daughter, Mrs. Katherine Kelderling of Sparta.

Saved paper saves lives.

Fire Is Threat To Dump Truck

MOUNTAINSIDE — While Fritz Honecker was dumping garbage in Summit road last Saturday afternoon, he drove too close to the edge of the bank and a fire, which was burning the refuse, threatened the rear tires on the truck. Fast work on the part of firemen saved the two truck tires from burning.

Shortage Noted Of Manpower on Fires During Day

MOUNTAINSIDE — Shortage of daytime fire fighting manpower was brought to the attention of the Borough Council Tuesday night by Fire Chief Herman Honecker, who claimed that insufficient volunteers are available when calls are received.

In a written report, he pointed out that there has been difficulty in locating the fire station in all sections, and that several of his own men failed to respond because of inaudible sounds.

"If it was not for some outside help, I do not know what we would have done," he wrote. "In the past two weeks we have had five alarms at which there was only one or two firemen present."

"The police have not been responding to alarms as planned. The police chief has been helping us, however, the other police officers have only responded when in uniform and on duty."

The question was referred to Police Chairman Norman Woolley, who said he would study the matter with Police Chief Charles Honecker.

Councilman Theodore Mundy requested his colleagues to attend a joint meeting with the Planning Board Wednesday night.

Fire Department To Present Play

MOUNTAINSIDE — The Volunteer Fire Department will present its annual play in the school auditorium this evening and tomorrow evening at 8:30 P. M. The play, "The Hot Water Hero" is a three-act comedy, under the direction of Henry Seveco, and Miss Jynne Dwyer, as assistant.

REGISTER NOW!

Since Father Time has foregone his leaden shoes and taken to traveling by airplane one in his everyday work has to keep up with the procession. But this does not always obtain in things other than everyday labor.
Take, for instance, the matter of one's registering to vote. There are a few, when Presidential election rolls around, who get busy and register early; on the other hand, there are those who do not. This is particularly noticeable in the "off" years. They do not register today, but will do it tomorrow, and as the old song says, the train that goes tomorrow is a mile upon its way, and they eventually miss out.
If you are not registered and want to vote this year in the primary election—register today. June 12 will be here before one is aware of the fact.

WEAF Seeks Plan to Stimulate Interest

Radio Station WEAF has included the SUN in a campaign intended to stimulate the interest of the women of Springfield in NBC radio programs. The SUN was chosen as one of a selected group of first class weekly newspapers to test the responsiveness of weekly newspaper readers to WEAF's advertising of special programs. The test will cover a period of about two months. This is the first weekly newspaper advertising schedule ever undertaken by a national network.
The first series of advertisements feature morning programs including James Stevenson, Lisson to Lewis, C. F. McCarthy and Rod Hendrickson. The second series features various daily programs of top-notch news commentary such as Don Goddard, Don Hollenbeck, Eyle Varg and Clyde Kiffel, the latter on Sunday mornings only.

CHINA'S FUTURE

Farmers in the United States made up 72 per cent of the whole nation's population back in 1820. That was just half-way between the invention of the iron plow and the mechanical reaper for small grain crops. Only 23 per cent of our people live on farms now. China still has the "good old days" if you like that kind. Eighty per cent of her people are farmers even yet.

If an American farmer's hired man earned 50 cents a day in 1820 he had to be a good one. The farmer was not to blame. In order to pay better wages he had to get better prices for what his hired man produced, or manage some way for the worker to produce more. Even then both developments had begun. The plow and the reaper improved farm income and farm wages also.

Using improved machinery one workman could do the work three had done with crude tools, so two out of three farm hands quit the farm. Some of them went to work at transportation, taking farm products to cities where there were quick markets. Others got jobs in factories making desirable things to sell to the farmer who, by this time, had quite a little money to spend.
The two farm workers out of three who left the farm did not quit using farm products. Wherever they worked they bought and consumed farm produce, also made more profitable work for people in transportation. This is a sketchy outline of the growth of American prosperity, and it is a rough sketch of what must take place in China, starting after the war, if China is to prosper.

A Unification Plan
High-brow students of political economy talk about "social, political and economic unification of China." These are 35-cent words, trying to say that China is all broken up and needs to be made one. Nothing that is broken can be welded again until the pieces are brought close together. China's dismembered parts need to be brought together close; close in time; close in spirit.
China already has everything needed to live well: meat animals and grain, timber and fiber, coal and oil, iron and copper. China has supply and demand also—450 million people anxious to earn more and live better. One trouble is, there are 360 million farmers when 12 million with good tools would be enough. There is much other work to do: ore to mine, timber to cut, roads to build.

Hidden Treasures
Roads will bring the Empire's far-flung segments near in time. Business dealings will create mutual confidence and make China's remote tribes close in spirit. There is money in the Orient—most of it hidden, but it's there. More, much more, will come from other lands as soon as investors learn of the empire's rich resources, and great markets. Only fear of robbery and fraud can keep it away. These fears can be removed by a strong central government, able to maintain order and security for investment at home, and able to command the respect of other world powers. Chiang Kai-Shek has promised these things for post-war years and rebel rulers already are learning to trust him and work with him. The United States should help him, for China is America's natural ally in the East; for mutual profit in time of peace, protection in time of war.

YOUR VICTORY GARDEN

SETTING PLANTS
By FRED D. OSSMAN

Union County Agricultural Agent

The unseasonably warm weather in the middle of March made it possible to dig some gardens earlier than usual. However, if it has not been possible to dig yours, remember that the condition of the soil and not the calendar determines when the soil may be worked. It must be free of excess water so that it will break up readily when a handful is squeezed—and not remain in a lump. Digging too wet usually means trouble later on.

Some vegetable plants can be set out about as soon as the soil can be worked properly. These include cabbage, broccoli, kale, Swiss chard, lettuce, endive, and zucchini. Do not set plants of New Zealand spinach, tomato, pepper or eggplant until danger of frost is past.

It is better to buy plants, as most people cannot raise good plants in the house, and have them in proper condition to set out. Greenhouse and house-grown plants must be hardened off so they can stand the cold weather.

Transplanting
If the plants are in flats or boxes, water them well 2 or 3 hours before setting, so that the soil will stick to the roots. The old method is to make a hole deep enough so that the plant will be a little deeper than it was in the flat, and wide enough so that the roots will go in without cramping. Place the plant, fill in the soil. Then get down into the soil with the fingers and press it against the roots. Do not simply firm the top and leave the soil in the bottom of the hole loose. The soil must have tight contact with the roots if the plant is to grow well. If the soil is pressed when too wet, it is apt to dry out and become like a brick so the roots cannot develop.

The Starter Solution
A method that has given good results is to use starter solution. The salts for these can often be purchased ready for mixing in water, or you can use Victory Garden fertilizer—5-10-5. Place a teaspoonful of the Victory Garden fertilizer in 12 quarts of water the day before you are going to plant. When ready to plant, open up the hole, set the plant in place and fill the hole with loose soil. Then pour in a teaspoonful of the starter solution. After this setting, hold the plant upright and fill the hole with loose soil. Do not compact this.

Plants set in this manner will establish themselves very quickly and will start growing at once. Cutworm and Cabbage Maggot Where soil is turned under for a garden, cutworms may be serious. An easy way to control them is to place about the stem and extending 2 or 3 inches into the ground a collar of heavy paper. For large plantings use poisoned bran bait.

Cabbage maggot may cause damage to cabbage, broccoli, radish, etc. The eggs are laid about the time that sour cherry trees are in bloom. If the soil about the plant is stirred every day to a depth of 1 inch, control is possible. Another method is to dust the stems of the cabbage and broccoli, as they are being set, with calomel dust.

Husband: Great Scott! You do nothing but lay eggs. I wanted to go to a movie tonight. Wife: But darling, I just can't help it. You know I was raised the Larrow way.

Lola Wagner was received into Troop No. 3 at its last meeting. Lola had finished her Second Class work.

The group is working on their Personal Health Badge, which project is near completion. Next month they will begin work on "My Community Badge." By working on this badge they will learn how the township is run and the points of interest—as well as learning what a historic place Springfield is.

Plans were made recently for an overnight stay at the Girl Scout cabin at Lake Surprise this week-end. Leaders in charge will be Mrs. Lee L. Andrews Jr. of Troop No. 3 and Mrs. Joseph Kovalick, leader of Troop No. 2.

THOSE G. I. LOANS—PART II
A comparatively unknown provision provides that two or more people may obtain a guaranty together. A husband and wife, if they served with the colors may finance a small business. Ten Air Force veterans may organize a feeder airplane service, carrying mail, express, passengers. They might consist of four pilots, four mechanics, a salesman business manager. They could get a guaranty of $20,000 on their loan.

In no case of this kind, however, will the Government underwrite more than $2,000 apiece. And they will be held responsible for payment as individuals, not jointly or as a corporation.

In determining the soundness of a loan for which a federal guaranty is sought, the same general factors that surround a private transaction will apply. The veteran—himself—and the banker should take every precaution to see that the money is spent wisely, and for the ex-soldier's permanent welfare.

The applicants' present welfare and prospective earning power will be weighed if he wants to buy a home or build one. The prices merchant as a result of Army or Navy training.

Here are a few bread and butter realities for the veteran to consider:

The demobilized and ambitious youngster might want to open a grocery, notions or specialty store in his home neighborhood. But it may be that already there are enough or too many retail outlets in that area. Then it would be up to him to find a less competitive district. The same considerations apply to the launching and location of any business or industry.

Commercial congestion, however, need not be a final barrier to a loan or guaranty. The ex-soldier might believe that he could give the customers a better and less costly service than existing rivals. Perhaps he could, after his experiences in trading his G. I. shirt for eggs or oranges with North African Arabs. But he must prove that to the satisfaction of the Veterans' Administration, and for his own good.

A would-be farmer might select a homestead of poor land for sentimental or for neighborly reasons. Washington might refuse to underwrite a loan for that dubious experiment and suggest that he

The first presentation of "Maytime" the Sigmond Romberg operetta of 19th Century New York City, in more than 25 years will be seen at the Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn when the new season opens Monday, April 23.

Seats are now on sale for the first four weeks of the run and in keeping with "Millburn" tradition, no seats are held out. All orders are filled in the order in which they are received.

Dorothy Sandlin will return to sing the role of Otilie Van Vandt and, as her leading man, the Paper Mill will present Charles Yearlesky. To this pair will be added the comedy of Clarence Nordstrom.

Agnes Morgan will again assist Carrington in staging the production and they will be joined by Richard Allan Gordon, new musical director. Kenneth Lloyd Mapes continues as scenic and lighting designer.

Augmenting the cast will be Edgar Kent and William Sutherland who were seen last season and established favorites from Broadway who will include Esther Mitchell, Marjorie Cameron, Harold Dyerforth, Patrick Henry, Geraldine Deays, Edward Nannery, Nancy Newton and Elizabeth Crozier. Miss Newton will appear as the featured dancer in the ballet sequences of the production. The selected voices of 32 singers of the chorus will be available to make "Maytime" a well-rounded production. "Maytime" will be the first of a long series of productions planned for the season which will run into the winter.

Opportunity to Hear Cello Artist Play Will Be Here Soon

The coming Millburn concert of Maurice Eisenberg will offer an opportunity for people in Northern New Jersey to hear him perform on the cello. The concert will be held at Millburn High School, April 28, at 8:15 p. m.

Those who know Eisenberg intimately tell many a story about his personality, his powers of conversation, his philosophical turn of mind and his many cultural interests. Important among Eisenberg's qualities is his ability to make and keep friends. Among Mr. Eisenberg's close friends is Dr. W. T. C. Swann, Director of the Bartol Research Foundation of Franklin Institute. This distinguished physicist finds time on his schedule to take cello lessons from Mr. Eisenberg.

The inside story of a MIRACLE!

THIS IS A WAR STORY that few people know about. It's the story of a modern "miracle"—and how it happened.

When this country entered the war... when all over the land the wheels of production began to whirl faster and faster... no industry faced greater problems than the American railroads.

Confronted by the challenge of providing transportation for the greatest outpouring of war supplies and passenger traffic in their history, the railroads actually had less equipment... fewer cars and fewer engines... than in World War I!

Yet the job had to be done. And they did it!

Just one simple fact explains the whole thing... the remarkable technological progress made by the railroads of America in dealing with the problems of wartime transportation. Translate "technological progress" into... during 16-wheeled locomotives whose power exceeds anything dreamed of 25 years ago. Think of it in terms of freight cars with greater capacity than ever before. Cars and engines which, when called upon to perform, broke all existing records for ton-miles hauled!

It's a stuffy term... "technological progress." But when it results in higher speeds, greater power, more capacity and fewer failures—it really means something!

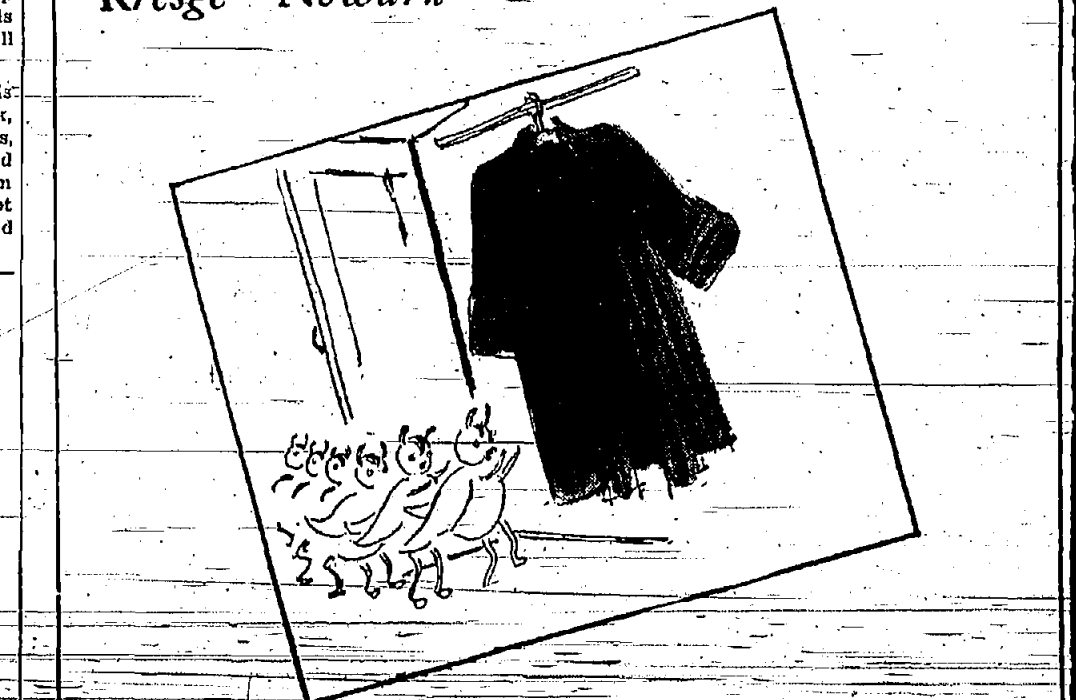

It means just this... the self-created ability of the railroads to perform a miracle... the miracle of America's wartime rail transportation!

Taverns, Bars Must Display Ceiling Lists

Operators of bars, taverns, saloons, and other drinking places were reminded today by District OPA that they have until Monday, April 16, to prepare and display a ceiling price list on drinks.

The posters upon which each hotel, tavern, bar and other drinking place must list its prices have been supplied to all establishments by local War Price and Rationing Boards. Extra copies are available at the boards.

The following instructions were outlined:

- Two posters must be displayed. One will list beer, ale, porter, or stout—sold by the bottle or glass, and the other will show 14 types of alcoholic beverages.
- The beer poster must show the brand names, sizes by ounces of the bottles or glasses served, and the ceiling prices of all malt beverages served for consumption on the premises.
- The alcoholic beverage poster must show the sizes by ounces, and ceiling prices of any of the following types of drinks served: rye whiskey and highball, bourbon whiskey and highball, Scotch whiskey and highball, gin, martini, cocktail, Manhattan cocktail, old-fashioned cocktail, sherry wine, red wine, and white wine.

The posted prices must be the ceiling prices for your cheapest bar drink of each type. For highballs, the listed size refers to the amount of whiskey in the drink. For all other drinks list the total number of ounces in the entire drink.

4. The ceiling prices of malt and alcoholic beverages sold for consumption on the premises is the highest price charged during April 4-10, 1945.

To these prices may be added the following amount of federal excise tax: 1/2 ounce and not more than 1 ounce of distilled spirits, 80 proof or more, 2 cents; more than 1 ounce but less than 1 1/2 ounces, 3 cents; 1 1/2 ounces or more, 4 cents; 1 ounce or more of distilled spirits of less than 80 proof, 2 cents; 2 1/2 ounces or more of still wine, more than 14 per cent alcohol but not over 21 per cent, 1 cent; 3 ounces or more of champagne, sparkling wine, carbonated wine or wine based cordials, 3 cents; 8 ounces or more of fermented malt beverage, 1 cent.

5. Please fill in your poster as neatly as possible. Your letters must be printed in ink and must be large and legible. The poster must be placed in a conspicuous spot, in plain view, where it can be read easily by your customer.

6. File three copies of the list of prices on the posters with your War Price and Rationing Board by April 16.

If your serviceman or woman is not getting the SUN each week, whether in the States or overseas, send the correct address now and notify the home-town paper when it is changed. Newspapers are not forwarded and must be addressed properly to insure their delivery.

Proceeds of the scrap drive enable the Legion to send the SUN free every week to service men and women. Save a bundle a week.

SEND IN YOUR NEWS

Readers of the SUN are invited to send in news.

Clubs, organizations and other bodies are also extended an invitation to make use of the columns of this newspaper.

There is no charge for news items. The only requirement is that the article be signed. Your name will not be published. This is required as evidence of good faith.

When writing news, be sure to mention the proper names in full—first name written out and also the place and when the event either took place or is scheduled to be held.

The SUN is your home-town newspaper. Help make it more interesting.

Address your envelope to the SUN, and mark "News" in the lower left-hand corner.

To insure publication, all articles must reach the SUN office, 229 Morris avenue, not later than Wednesday noon. Articles may also be telephoned to the office, Millburn 6-1256, but it will be appreciated if written notices be submitted as early in the week as possible.

At Local Library

MOUNTAINSIDE—The following two books are among many new volumes now obtainable at the Public Library:

"A Walk in the Sun" by Harry P. M. Brown, is the story of an American platoon, landing on the beach in Italy. It loses its lieutenant and other leaders. Finally a corporal takes over and they accomplish the mission they were sent to perform. It is a brief novel, but a vivid one.

"The Tollivers" by Mabel Howland Farnham is about the turbulent Tolliver family, with no money and no worldly cares, who invade the sleepy little town of Olsego on the banks of the Susquehanna, settle in a fine house and corner the market in eligible males. They keep the town boiling mad. This is good entertainment.

Proceeds of the scrap drive enable the Legion to send the SUN free every week to service men and women. Save a bundle a week.

IS YOUR SERVICE MAN GETTING THE SUN EVERY WEEK?

The SPRINGFIELD SUN is mailed free of charge to all service men and women in this country and overseas, upon request. Through the assistance of Continental Post No. 228, American Legion, and the Defense Council, funds from the scrap drives under its supervision, will hereafter be used to pay for such papers under special arrangements made with the SUN. It is our goal to see that EVERY local man and woman in the service with the SUN. It is our goal to see that EVERY local man and woman in the service with the SUN.

IF YOUR SON, BROTHER OR HUSBAND is not getting the paper, send his address-by-mail-or-in-person-to-the-SUN. To insure accuracy, we won't take them over the phone, and let us know if it's a new request.

IF there's any delay among the service men who are on the list, it may be due to a change in address never given to the SUN. The Post Office Dept. does not forward newspapers, as they do letters. Such names are removed from our mailing list and not restored until the folks at home give us the new address.
