If the Supreme Court rules favorably on the now_famous Callahan ballot then Russell B. Stewart, Democrat, automatically would become a member of the Township Committee and Springfield again will make the headlines and wire services—But this is considered arare possibility-Republicans say they will seek dismissal of the appeal on the grounds it was filed too late-It is slated to be heard Tucsday before the Supreme Court in Trenton.

When Committeeman Turk appeared at the postponed reorganization session last week he brought with him a onehalf gallon thermos bottle, which he claimed contained milk, and a bag full of tasty sandwiches. "I'm prepared to stay all day and all night this time," -ho declared-Turk's buddy, Committeeman Keanc, openly announced the governing body's difficulties weren't doing his ulcers any good-"That milk certainly will come in handy," he said.

Cops Request 10 Per Cent Salary Hike

Ask Immediate Action on Cost Of Living Bonus

Police-Committee Chair man Francis Keane is in possession of a letter from the Patrolman's Benevolent Association requesting a 10 per cent cost of living bonus for

The letter, signed by Patrolman Vincent-Pinkava, president of the Springfield PBA chapter, was forwarded to Keane this week by Chief M. Chase Runyon.

Another letter sent to Keane recently by Chief Runyon has not yet been acted upon. It contains the chief's recommendation for an increase in department personnel and the creation of the office-of licutenant in the police department. Runyon has pointed to Springfield's population growth and the "absoute necessity" for two policemen in a radio car at

Pinkava's letter which probably will be duplicated by the fire department, follows:

Robbery Series Disclosed; Police Nab Thief in Act

Police this week disclosed for I sel and Morris avenues and Gibhe first time the details of a series of robberies of merchants along Morris avenue. The breaks occurred during a 48-hour period about January 1.

Elmer D. Smith, 38, whom police list on their report as having no home, was nabbed in the act of breaking into one of the establishment by Patrolman Vincent Pinkava. He was committed to the County Jail this week on charges of breaking, entering and larceny to await Grand Jury action, but authorities are re ported to have sent him to the State Hospital at Marlborough. Smith, whom police say admitted the breaks, launched the series of thefts on the night of December 29. At that time he broke into the G. & J. gas stution at Morris avenue and Seven Bridge road, where he took $12 in cash. The next victim was Marge's

Sweet Shoppe at 161 Morris avenue. There he was reported to have stolen $35 in cash, several cartons or eigerettes and a flush light. Entry was gained through Morris Avenue Motors at Mei-

Democrats Hit Insurance Plan As "Very Unfair"

Wilbur M. Selander, whose appointment last week as the fifth member of the Township Committee solved Springfield's tie vote problems for the time being at least, last-night-was unanimously renamed chairman of the governing body.

"I'll walk the middle of the . road," Selander said as he assumed the chair, "and I wantevery one of you to bury your knives and battle axes for the next six months or until such time as this thing is settled in court or at the polls. We've got to get this business out of the way because plenty of it has piled up." -Selander pulled no punches and nade it plain that his votes with regard to patronage would be strictly along party lines.

Breaks Previous Tie The mayor started right off by preaking the previous tie vote on building inspector. Republican Reuben H. Marsh was renamed by a three-two vote. Charles Huff drew a unanimous ballot for reappointment as tax search official, Democrats sought to name Emanuel Holms as building -inspector, but the move only eached the nomination stage and then hit a stone wall, Despite severe Democratic criticism_the-committee, by three-two vote, authorized acceptance of a $15,000 renewal treasurer's bond from Bunnell Brothers, local real estate and insurance firm.

Committeeman Turk, Democrat, pointing to the fact that Bunnell Brothers get all of the township's insurance business, demanded someone else in the insurance field in town get a crack at some of the business, too."

wanted to_also." Keane Hits Mayor Committeeman Keane, Demorat, lashed at Sclander for

Regional High Lad Dies of Gun Wound

Norman Schade, 14 years old. freshman pupil in the home coom of Miss Dorothy Kay at Regional High School, was fetally wounded last week by an aceldental shot from the rifle of his companion, Jay Heyman, 14, of 14 Beechwood road, New Providence Township, while they were hunting equirrels. Norman lived at 59 High street, Metuchen.

According to Police Chief Russo, the boys were in back of the Heyman house, using the rifle which had been given Juy about three months ago. The Schade boy was in the lead as they walked along an ley trail, the chief said, when Jay slipped and tell in an ice-cast footprint, His .22 caliber rifle was discharged and the bullet struck his companion in the back of the head. Jay ran to his home, from which police were called. Chief Russo responded with a rescue squad. After first aid, Norman was taken to the hospital in semi-consicous condition. He dled about seven hours later.

Norman was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Schade, When they moved from New Providence, they arranged for Norman to reside at the home of Herman Schroeder, a friend, so that the youth could remain with his friends and continue to attend Regional High.

Former Town Counsel Figures in Divorce

An order for a writ of seques tration on the seven-room house at 338 Main street. Chatham, owned by Charles W. Weeks, former Springfield township attorney, now residing in Reno, Nev., was signed last week by Advisory Master Hillenback in Newark:

The order was on application of Frederick C. Vonhof, counsel to Mrs. Carol Crane Weeks of Summit, who stated that her husband had started a divorce action against her in Reno. Joseph A. Hayden, Newark attorney, was named sequestrator and authorized to accept a $10,000 bond from Weeks, in lieu of levying on the property, to assure his apnegrance in his wife's action in Newark, Mrs. Weeks said the couple were married at Succasunna n 1922 and that Weeks deserted her in 1937. # Ever row a boat against the tide?

GAINST THE TIDE ... and wind? You bend your back to the oars...work as hard as you can. But you don't move ahead . . . you actually slip back.

That's exactly what is happening in New Jersey. At year's-end we're worse off than when we started because every year our New Jersey tax bill is more than our total earnings in the State itself ... and in the past 12 years taxes have been TWICE AS MUCH as earnings!

In New Jersey the railroads bear a tax burden far, far heavier than they do in any other state. In 1946latest figures available-railroad taxes in New Yersev were $2,996 for every mile of track. Compare this with $1,716 per mile... the tax of New York, next highest state! The average for the 17 northeastern states is $860.

On top of this staggering tax load, we face tremendously increased costs—the same as other industries. In your own business you're probably able to do something about it: such as increasing prices enough to cover costs and show a profit. You might wonder why railroads haven't done the same thing.

The snawer is, they can't.

Passenger and freight rates are rigidly controlled by law. In no case have we been permitted to adjust them to anywhere near the increases of other services and commodities.

Any business would consider this situation intolerable. Only by a fair approach to the entire TAX problem can your railroads hope to give you the kind of transportation New Jersey needs for continued prosperity.

State Unit Inducts Springfield-Chief

Police Chief M. Chase Runyon was inducted last week as president of the New Jersey Association of Chiefs of Police. He told the organization he plans to ask. U. S. Senators Smith and Hawkes to sponsor legislation clarifying the right of police to search automobiles.

Runyon, who succeeded Chief Vandervalk of Hawthorne, said The recent United States Supreme Court decision makes an automo bile an adjunct of the medieval home or castle protected us it should be by our Constitution. This liberal interpretation of the Supreme Court is indicative of the difficulties under which police officers work. There should be no need for a warrant to search an automobile where, the police offier suspects there is a criminal."

Runyon also said that traffic control continues to be a "paranount consideration" in every municipality. He said, "It is more than a problem that Jersey City. Newark, - Camden and -- Trenton need to worrk about." He an ounced the association will hold a traffic course for police from Northern New Jersey this month at Wood Ridge.

Springfield Wants to Know Why?

It is heartening to know that an investigation of the week-long power debacle in the Springfield area is promised by the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners. Such a hearing is an absolute necessity after what so many consider Jersey Central's apparent failure to freat the storm with broad emergency measures and of allowing the repair work to get out of hand by not having sufficient manpower in the stricken area to speedrestore service a day or two after the storm.

Nowhere have we heard any complaint-against-the men in the field from division manager down to linesman. But the people are convinced that the top management of the company failed miserably in its duty to grasp the magnitude of the damage and to quickly take steps to prevent the hardships that thousands endured for a full week - or longer.

The customers of Jersey Central want to know, and have a right to know, why they had no power for seven days while Public Service customers had_their nower restored within one to four days after the storm. The Jersey Central customers want to-know why they were the worst sufferers; why their respective officials and others had to appeal for aid; why the Army's offer of skilled men and vital equipment was not accepted. All these questions and many others must be answered by this investigation.

If satisfactory answers are not given, the people' will ask that the company's francise be taken away. They already have petitions circulating demanding this drastic-action. Otherwise there will not be a vestige of confidence in the utility and the name Jersey Centralwill be a byword for electric utility unreliability and in-

That is why the Public Utility Commissioners-must deeply probe all-these questions and rumors. Particularly the specific charge of lack of efficiency in handling the storm, but also the broader ones of management and policy. The people of Springfield will be most carefully watching the testimony and results of the hearing. They want a diagnosis, followed by enforced treatment and final cure. If the Commissioners can't do this then a special legislative commmittee can-and

There will be a merchandise display room, operating room, and dressing-room, which will be private and apart from the public rooms, access to which will be shielded from public view. There will be a smoking lounge, and assembly room for fraternal orders_when they are to participate in funeral services. The building will be air-condied for summer and winter.

Attractive Landscaping The building will be set back approximately 60 feet from Morris avenue and 30 feet from Proffit avenue, to provide attractive lawn and landscaping. The rear portion of the property-will be developed as a parking garden with accommodations for upward of 100 cars for those attending funeral services. There will be driveways from both Morris and Proffitt avenues.

In deciding upon Springfield as a location for a suburban establishment, Smith and Smith are following the population trend. A survey covering the last five years | Books, Indicates that approximately 30% of the families-they have-served at their Nowark establishment, live outside of the city of Newark. A large proportion of those families are Nowankova who have moved to the suburban areas of Essex. Union and Morris Countres. The staff consists of thirty mor side, Summit, Short Hills, Millson, Union, and the smaller outlying villages.

TO THE EDITOR

Editor,_Sun:

Through-the columns of your newspaper I would like to express my appreciation to the scores of residents in Springfield who assisted me materially in making roads and highways passable during the recent snow and ice storms. I want to particularly thank those residents of Battle Hill avenue, Warner avenue and Severna avenue for their spiendid cooperation.

· I also-would-like-to-take-thisopportunity of requesting residents of town to cooperate in the future in the event of similar weather conditions by keeping their cars off the streets.

FRED. BROWN Road Dept. Chairman

Editor, Sun: Miss Katherine Johnson was art supervisor at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School at Springfield from the date of the opening of the high school in September, 1937. Over this period of years she won a place of high esteem among students and teachers. The Board of Education, teaching-staff, and student body unite in paving tribute to her ability in the field of art and to her devotion to the interests of her students. Many graduntes of Regional High School are earning a living in commercial art-or allied fields because she had the insight to discover their talent and develop it.

For many years Miss Johnson prepared the art lay-outs for the vearbook and largely because of her skill the yearbook has been consistently rated in the first division by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. She regularly entered numerous samples of students' work in the art exhibit conducted by Scholastic Magazine at Bambergers. Many of the pieces won prizes and some were selected for display at the national exhibition. The murals with which the gym was decorated for all of the school dances held each year won glowing praise from parents, stuients and visitors.

Miss Johnson's death is felt as an irreparable loss at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School. She was a friend to all both students and teachers. Her knowledge of art and her understanding of human nature made her an invaluable_counselor to all of her art students. The respect-which-she built up for the art department and her willingness to serve made art a real aid in teaching in all departments of the high school. Everyone who knew her will have-pleasant memories of the significant contribution which she made to the life of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School.

Two days ago we lost a friend.

Principal.

WARREN W. HALSEY,

Editor, Sun:

None of us can yet realize what a great loss the death of Miss School tax bill to increase by Johnson means to each of us peronally and what it will mean to High School Board set to buy the hundreds of young people who school site. Snow land adjoining will be students of Regional High School in the years to come and who will not have the privilege of knowing her. No one can ever typify the fine spirit of Regional scoretary treasurer and attorney, No two persons have ever or probably will ever work so hard for the school that she loved so much. Sho-was a great person and a great teacher. Every student and faculty member benefited from her genius and her energy; bothof which were seemingly inex- in-the-chain. The prevention of the United Service organization and haustible and both of which she Victory gave unstintingly and graciously. The Yearbook, senior play, all our dances, tens and parties and dinners,- decorations for bulletin boards and for the show Window in the main corridor, Commencement all of these became superor activities when they were exposed to the magic of her talent. She oven found time to act as counselor to both students and faculty members. And now she is gone ... and vet she has left us so much beauty; she has taught us so much by her own example that a part of her will always live in each one of us. She taught us that understanding. generosity, sincerity, and love, are the only lasting foundations on which we can build our lives. And because our lives were made hanpier and more beautiful by her presence her friends have decided that they would like to create a living memorial for her- a memorial in the form of a scholarship for art students-to be awarded annually and to be known as the Katherine Johnson Scholarship. conations will be accepted by Mrs. Mentgomery and Miss Romano rom students, alumni, faculty and all those who are interested in perpetuating Miss Johnson's memory and her work. We believe the Katherine Johnson Scholarship would please her very much and it gives us pleasure to know that in a small way we can help repay our great debt to her.

This great Ripley cartoon shows the pitiful plight of the common man, as divested of all rights and property_ander that vicious form of organized larceny which is Communism. Therein a cruelly-disciplinedminute minority is forced to enslave the energies of the greater mass of productive people. There government, so-called, owns everything. But government cannot invent—cannot create. It can only consume. To invent is solely the function of the individual. With the people's incentives suppressed—and with ruling gangsters satiated with loot—there can be no mounting surge of invention, as has made and kept America great and her people free. "Working from behind her iron curtain," says American Fair Trade Council. "Russia strives to reduce to her level the unshackled peoples of the world, first by destroying their national obstructions to commercial piracies. Through misguided Americans, she labors now to break down our Fair Trade Laws, our Trade-Mark Laws, our Patent Laws—and all our great network of protective laws which provide, for our people, compelling incentive to create and produce—to make and keep our Nation strong."

The suppression of insects and household vermin is essentially a question of cleanliness; the most important measure in a household is to starve out these pests, protect food so that insects, mice and rats cannot gain access to it, by having floors and other surfaces clean so that they do not have the least film of organic dirt upon which insects feed, and to carry out such , measure there should be no cracks or crevices to collect dust and dirt, which offer comfort for insect life and actual breeding places for some types, like the

YOUR LIBRARY

The book and the printed page will always be the principle tool the library for spreading knowledge, but today the film is an important factor too. Many large libraries have tilm and record lending departments and the supply is never equal to the demand.

Good films are a great step forward in education, through them tolerance may spread and predjudice be explained away; the past can be brought to life in all its truth and glory and the present authentically recorded for posterity.

A good film is a book in action appeal. Although smaller libraries cannot afford film lending departments, many patrons make a practice of reading the particular books from which new movies are made and then comparing the merits of the two.

Some of these books to be found in your library which have been made into movies during the past six months are "Green Dolphin Street" by Elizabeth Goudge-Cass Timperlane" by Sinclair Lewis-"Daisy Kenyon" by Elizabeth Janeway-"That Hagen Girl" by Edith Roberts-"The Snake Pit" by Mary Jane Ward - "Black Narcissus" Rumer Godden-"Green Gress of Wyoming" by Mary O'-Hara-"Nightmare Alley" by William L. Greshman-"The Black Arrow" by Robert-L. Stovenson "The Sign of the Ram" by Mar garet Ferguson - 'Gentleman's Agreement" by Laura-Hobson-"Miracle of the Bells" by Russell Janney- "Ton Roots" James Street-"Coronor Creek" by Luke Short "B.F.'s Daughtor" by John P. Marquand-"Winter Meeting" by Ethel Vance-

Among the pictures now in production is "Deep Water," from the book "Spoonhandle" by Ruth Moore. It was filmed during the past summer and fall in Vinalhaven, Maine, a locale famelther owner, agent, or occupant, illar to many residents of Springfield. Others are "The Walls of Jericho" by Paul Wellman-"Maneaters of Kumoan" by James Corbett-"Mr. Blandings Builds His Dream House" by E. -Hodgins. .

Take time to save time

Have you ever mapped—with pins and thread, or with pencil on paper—the daily "chore route" of your farm-or-ranch?—Have you figured how much back-tracking you do, how many unnecessary extra steps you walk in a day? Have you taken time to save_time, and steps, and labor?

A number of agricultural colleges and experiment stations have made practical work studies on farms and ranches, with some astounding results. For example, one dairy farmer (who thought himself pretty efficient) adopted improved machine milking techniques, rearranged his barn to save steps and time in feeding and watering. He saved himself two miles of walking per day, cut his daily chore time by two hours and five minutes. That's 730 miles of walking-and-760-hours of work in a year. In making the changes, he spent less than $50. Indiana tells of farmers who, by planning their work, are raising hogs with one quarter their for-mer hours of labor... There's a report of men making hay in 90 man-minutes per ton; while others using similar equipment—but older, harder ways of working-spend twice that time . . . There are scores Perhaps you cannot make such-great savings in your operations. Maybe you can make more. It's certainly worth looking into, for even little savings.

are important. Five steps saved a day makes a mile in a year. Five minutes a day gives you three extra days a year. There's no master plan to fit every farm and ranch, because no two are exactly the same. You have to work out your own plan of improvement. But the time it takes may well be the most profitable time you've ever spent. four-step scheme is suggested. First, consider each job or chore separately. Break it down into its parts. Check each part with a watch or tape measure and see if steps or time can be saved. Scoond, compare your work methods with those of your neighbors. Third, examine and check the details of your work methods. Fourth, develop and apply the new method. In a nutshell, "Plan your work and work your plan."

Time studies and job analysis have helped Swift & Company increase efficiency and make important savings. That's why we so confidently suggest similar studies in your-operations. One excellent bulletin on the subject is Number 307, published by Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana, It's interesting reading and well worth writing for. Your county agent or state agricultural college can tell of other bulletins on the same subject.

OUR CITY COUSIN-City Cousin connot see Why "you" is spelled E-W-E Neither can well

Farmer's Choice-Whon I was in high school, I spont summer vacation on my grandfather's farm in Indiana. From my city-brod standpoint, his seemed a particularly dull and unrewarding life. Rising before dawn and working till after dusk, with little or no opportunity for urban asures, he was an object of pity to my adelescent eye. Why didn't he sell his farm and move to town? How did he ever get into this rut in the first place? "Grandpa," I asked one evening at milking time, "Why did you become a farmer, anyway?"

He paused a moment, leaned back on his stool and ooked slowly around the barn—at the livestock, at the huge havmow in the east corner, at the farm tools, at the broad beams that supported the roof. What he saw seemed o reassure him, and I shan't forget his answer: "Just -Contributed by George H. Chann Reprinted by permission of the Render's Digest

The three main factors for successful feeding-under this system are: (1) well-bred-cattle; (2) an abundant supply of good winter-roughage; (3) plenty of good pasture in summer

Compared with the customary full-feeding method of beef production, it is estimated that about 65 bushels of grain per head is saved by the Missouri system.

Track Down the Facts

A great family "man" is Fiber Zibethicus, better known to American' farmers as the muskrat. He raises his many offspring in marshes, and about streams, lakes and ponds. Muskrat tracks are easily recognized by the drag of his knife-like tail, which shows up well in soft mud. The muskrat-trapper works hard to make a living out of muskrat skins, and generally his efforts are rewarded. But there is one fact about his business that he tracked down long ago. He knows the price he can get for muskrat skins depends on the popular demand for finished polts.

In the business of processing livestock into meat for people's use, we at Swift & Company have to keep track of the domand for meat everywhere in the nation. We must know, too, the weights and grades of cuts preferred by housewives. Experience has taught us that the price the produce receive for their livestock is governed by what the meat packers can get for the meat and by products.

The American Way

In the livestock-meat industry, as in all American business, profit provides the basic incentive for work, enterprise and action. Profit makes the mare go for livestock producers, meat packers and retailers. Too little profit by one section creates an unbalance in the industry. If one part of the livestock-ment industry suffers continued loss, all of us are hurt in the long run. However, a margin of profit fair to one section of the livestock-meat industry might be quite unfair to another. For instance, we at Swift & Company know perfectly well that both livestock producers and retailers require higher margin of profit, because of their relatively small volume. On the other hand, nationwide meat packers must build up a tre-mendous volume of sales to-make up for a very small margin of profit per unit—a margin that has been consistently lower than that carned by any other manufacturing industry in America. Over a period of years, Swift & Company has carned, on the average, less than two cents on each dollar of sales (a fraction of a cent per pound of product handled). Over the same period, the average amount returned to producers for agricultural raw materials, including livestock, wool and hides, has been 75 conts out of each dollar we received. This is not a profit. Out of this 75 cents producers must pny the cost of production.

Whether livestock prices are high or low or whether meat is high-priced or inexpensive-Swift & Company can carn a reasonable profit only by adding together many tiny savings on a large volume

ARE YOU PREPARED FOR Zero Weather?

When the weather forecast says—"cold wave coming"—don't run the having your water pipes burst. . .

Save yourself money and trouble by doing this:

 On freezing cold nights let a small stream -about a quart a minute-trickle from the faucet located highest in your house.

This simple precaution will cost very little but may save you expensive repairs and damage to your property.

DO THIS, TOO:

If you haven't already prepared your water pipes for cold weather, do it now before it's too late. Here's what to do:

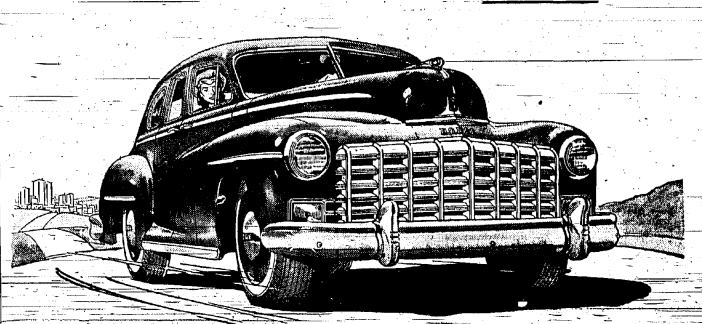

- Wrap exposed pipes in old newspapers rags, or burlan.
- Turn off, and drain outside faucets.
- Plug up drafty cracks and repair broken window panes in your basement.

New Regional Budget Shows $24,340 Jump

Public Hearing Planned Friday Night at School

Estimated tax increase under the proposed new Regional High School budget for the school district would be six points, from 49 to 55 cents per $100 of valuation.

The tentative budget for 1948-49, which shows an increase of $25,340 over the current year, totals $283,645 as compared to $258,305.

Public hearing on the measure is slated for tomorrow (Friday) at 8 p.m. in the school library. The budget will be voted on in February by the six municipalities comprising the school district.

Increase By-Towns
Increases for communities range from a high of $8,268 in Springfield to a low of $2,322 in Mountainside. Figures for individualmunicipalities, with 1947-48—first, are: Springfield, $34,215, $42,481;
New Providence; $16,785 $29,424;
Mountainside, $10,529, $12,851;
Clark $19,584, $23,741; Garwood,
$23,102, $27,216, and Kenilworth,
$18,338, $23,891.

The board cited increased teachers salaries as the main reason for the increase. Salaries go from $95,000 last year to an estimated $113,000 for 1948-49. Other factors cited are the increased cost of text books and other supplies, food for the school cafeteria and for repair and replacement.

The board also adopted a resolution approving the state aid plan proposed by the State Education

Planning Commission. Adoption of the plan would mean an additional $22,000 in state aid to the high

HARMS BROS. NEW STORE OWNERS HERE

The Harms brothers, John and Fred, veteran owners and operators of retail stores, recently became partner-owners of the former Gessner Delicatessen at 19-23 Morris avenue, near the Union line.

Under their guidance, the stors has been revised and now the liquor department is entirely separate from the meat, grocery and vegetable sections. The Harms brothers plan to run a series of weekly special advertisements in the Sun effective next week.

Fred Harms has purchased his own home at 10 Prospect place in Springfield and plans to take an active part in community affairs. He has two children. John Harms, tather of three children, lives in Cranford.

JOINT PAPER DRIVE WILL START SUNDAY

A paper drive, sponsored jointly by four organizations, will be held in Springfield on the third Sunday of every month until further notice. Members of the committee in charge have asked residents to cooperate by placing bundles of paper and magazines on lawns or curbs.

Sponsors of the campaign, first unified drive ever held in the township, are the Boy Scouts; Continental Post, American Legion; Battle Hill Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the grammar school lunch rooms committee. Chairmen of individual units will be announced shortly.

GOP TO ELECT

The Springfield Republican Club will hold its annual election of officers Monday night at a meeting in American Legion Hall. The session will be followed by a card party.

The Facts About the Ice Storm

A personal message to Customers of Jersey Central

Power has been restored. We have received many favorable comments and some criticism. We know there was suffering among our thousands of customers who were without light from one to ten days.

So-we take the opportunity to give customers and neighbors this report of the steps taken by Jersey Central Power and Light-Company to restore service after the worst emergency and greatest amount of damage suffered in the company's history.

Bear in mind that this storm was not local in character. Every electric company within a radius of seventy-five to one hundred miles was experiencing similar difficulties and was compelled-to-operate under emergency conditions and employ every man available for restoration of its own facilities. It was impossible for us, prior to January 4th, to get any bona fide assurance of a release of crews to assist us in our troubles; however, in a good many instances, utility companies jeopardized-their own services by releasing men to us.

Prior to the time we began receiving assistance from outside companies, we had 23 heavy line crews at work on the restoration of service. On and after January—4 when outside help began to arrive, the total number of such crews was rapidly expanded until 71 total heavy line crews and tree trimming crews were engaged in the work of restoration of service.

The utmost effort was made from the very first to obtain the services of additional linemen, who had to be men with experience in this dangerous work that developed under storm-conditions, with the result that our own force was materially added to by those from the following locations:

mose more end comparine.
Salisbury, Md.	York, Pa.
Boston, Mass.	Elmsford, N. Y.
Contesville, Pa.	Binghampton, N.
Jenkentown, Pa.	Wilmington, Del.
Harrisburg, Pa.	Atlantic City, N. J.
Newfoundland Pa	Elizabeth, N. I.

The Company furnished adequate supervision to its own and the foreign crews.

Store Department Supervisors and Purchasing Department representatives were dispatched to the scene so that there would be no shortage of needed materials. Manufacturers cooperated, and adequate materials were obtained, and at no time did we experience material shortage. Additional personnel from the Power Sales Department was dispatched to answer telephones and contact newspapers and the public.

The storm damage in our territory was more concentrated and the coverage more complete, and a higher percentage of our customers were affected, than in territories of our neighboring utilities with but one exception.

At no time were we able to accurately estimate the total number of customers out of service, nor when it would be possible to restore service to individual customers who requested such information. The Company guarded its official statements to the press and to customers so that such statements would not be too optimistic.

We felt that it was cruel to give out inaccurate and optimistic public statements in the face of the catastrophic conditions that existed.

Nor was preferential treatment given, no matter how great the pressure.

In over a quarter of a century as the operating head of a utility company, I have never been called upon to face a greater emergency than occurred in our Northern Division. I have never seen such devotion to duty or such an understanding of their public trust as was shown by the faithful performance of their duties by our employees under such adverse conditions. They worked long hours and under-extremely bazardous conditions. Their loyalty cannot be equalled anywhere or in any industry and we have received the highest praise from a great many of our customers who have observed this feeling-of responsibility for the restoration of service on the part of the men.

We also wish to acknowledge the great help given us by the various Police and Fire Departments, many focal civic organizations and the American Legion, the American Red Cross and innumerable private homes which assisted with feeding our men and giving many of them a place to sleep during this emergency.

We also wish to extend heartfelt sympathy and understanding to our customers who were without light and power.

Madison's Rose Growing Industry As Complex As Scientifically-Run Manufacturing Plant

Old-time Gardeners Now Replaced By Mass-production Methods

If you happen to be traveling, and stop in to buy some roses for that girl friend of your in Baltimore, or in Boston, or Norfolk, chances are the flowers you pick will be as New Jersey-ish as you yourself,-In-fact, wherever you go along the Atlantic seaboard, you are bound to buy roses originally grown in your own back yard, for most of these popular buds were freshly cut in one of the many greenhouses located at Madison, "The Rose City," scarcely more than 24 hours before they appeared in the far-off florist's

Most residents of northern New Jersey have heard about Madison's rose growers, but to get an idea of the immensity of this dellcate industry one must go behind the scenes and view the machinery which controls hundreds of thousands of rose plants beneath acres of glass that produce well over 25,000,000 roses annually.

Madison is considered one of the largest rose-growing areas in the country, although there is no one, company that can boast of being in the "largest" category. Within five miles of the center of Madison-there are about one mllllon rose plants, grown under approximately 60 acres of glassend-in territory by 10 different companies -all about the same size. There are other smaller growers as well, which increase the total.

When you break down the above figures, you find that each individual company has about 100,000 plants and produces around 2,500,-000 roses a year in an average of six acres of greenhouses.

As Complex as a Factory The business of growing roses is just about as complex as that of running any mass-production munufacturing plant, according to Robert W. Nichols, vice-president and general manager of the Watchung Rose Corp., a typical Madi-

At the Watchung Rose Corp., the rose plants are laid out in beds in four rows which are staggered so as to get the maximum benefit of the soil. There are 20 beds-to a greenhouse, each bed accommodating 1,000 plants, making 20,000 plants in all in a greenhouse 500 feet long by 60-feet wide. In the five greenhouses of the Watchung company there are 100,000 rose plants.

In the past the growing of roses was mostly a human task, necessitating the employ of gardeners who had spent their lives in the care and study of the popular flower. Although many of these men are still employed by Madison rose growers, their tasks are fast being supplemented by sclentific growing methods and mechine control. Madison growers consider themselves fortunate to deners on hand-to-care-for-theirplants, but they are mostly old men now, and the industry is new chemical called "Formula where the lose of this skilled help will not affect production.

Scientific Approach This scientific approach is emphasized at Watchung Rose Corp., where many experiments are now being undertaken in cooperation with Ohlo State University, Cornell University, and industrial concerns.

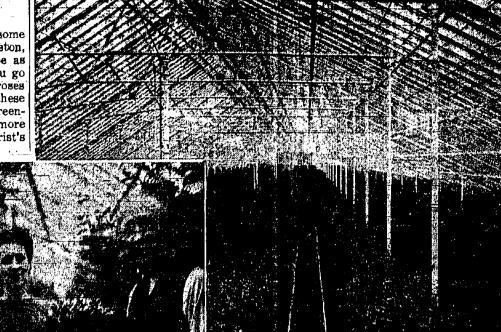

One of the most intricate tasks is the watering of rose plants. Because of the immensity of the job, and the constant danger of by men, rose growers are constantly on the alert for mechanical means to do the watering for under-watering or over-watering them. All rose companies now use a machine called a "tensionometer" which measures the dampness of the soil in all the beds at regular intervals. In the past, says Mr. Nichols, "ten men could stick their fingers in the soil and comeup with ten different opinions as to the amount of water needeed.". -I'wo different types of pipe-line sprays are being tried just-now, as well as an underground con-watering problem. Science and industry techniques enter the picture in other phases of rose growing as well. A plant covering six acres of greenhouses will have about 12 and a half miles of steam pipes running through it so that temperatures can be kept constant at all times. Roses are grown in temperatures ranging between 58 and 71 degrees Fahrenheit, and huge quantities of coal are consumed annually for this purpose.

Tons of Coal Used As can be seen from the ple ture above, enormous coal supplies are kept on hand. A rose grower's boilers will consume about a ton and a half of coal a day, or between 2000 and 3000 sure that the temperatures in the g. Forhouses are correct, a speciul machine called a "Prometer" records every 12 minutes the exact temperatures throughout the glassed-in areas being heated. There are many other scientific approaches to growing roses. Soil testing is done regularly: the soil is 'completely storilized whenever new plants are, to be planted; and fertilizers are constantly added.

The nemesls of the rose grower is the spider, which sems to dote on a diet of rose plants, sapping the strength from them. In order bleved had been legally purchased resent the first open outbreak of Deed.

The tremendous influence of shall (or European Recovery) he $$$ sign in American thoughts | plan, but used a figure..of $6,800,-000,000 as the cost for the first and actions, and the increasing 15 months instead of the $17,000,tempo of our own warlike moves a stricken Europe—those are the generalizations which emerged this week from a review of a world jam-packed with developments of vital interest and concorn to every thinking citizen.

-A lot of things happened in the state, the nation and the world. but a goodly portion of the activties of note fell into one or the other of those patterns. Folks everywhere, it seemed, were talking either about money or about war-and were doing things to support their talking. _$$$ and ccc

Here in New Jersey, the Leg-islature opened its session Tuesday, a session destined to be a distoric one as the first under he new Constitution but one in which money was to play an important part. Not only are the egislators due to increase their own salaries from $500 to $3,000, but they have the job of finding millions of -dollars somewhere and somehow. Millions .- many-of thom, are needed to close the gap between anticipated revenues and anticipated expenditures, and there seems to be little chance for the session to end without the imposition of new taxes.

Speaking of millions, the Unemployment Compensation Commission (headed by the ox-governor who'd like to be governor again, Harold Hoffman) reported that its balance at the end of 1947 was $47,167,032, a new record, and that wages paid during the year to workers covered by the inemployment compensation law exceeded even those paid during 1944, boom year of the war,

And State Highway Commissioner Spencer Miller, Jr., who will go down in history as-the man who built New Jersey's first parkway and freeway systems, reported that $7,610,294 worth of coad building had been completed n '47, and that work on $24,518,000; worth of contracts was under way at the first of the year.

Butter and Bandits Butter and bandits also conributed to the story on the financial side of things. The price of butter dropped 1014 cents at wholesale last week, largely as the result of consumer resistance to high-cost butter, and bandits got into the "easy money" market in their own innimitable way. Up in Cambridge, Mass., two gunmen got away with $30,000 or more from-a-store run by the Harvard Co-operative Society, and down-in-New Orleans, four bandits netted $130,000 in a bank holdup.

First prize in the big money stakes, however, goes to China. Reporting that the national Chinese finance minister said China spent 40,000,000,000,000 dollars last year and collected only 13,000,000,000,000! Those astro nomical figures are translatable into American $$$ by applying the formula of 12,000 CN to one, which shows what has happened to China's economy since we were here three years ago. The exchange rate was 200 to one when we got there. 800 to one when wo left, and has been going more and more haywire ever since.

WAR AND PEACE Money, too, was an important factor in the developments related to war or peace in Europe. In his address at the opening of the last session of the 80th Congress, President Truman called once nore for adoption of the Mar-

000,000 tag which it had carried for the full 4%-year program. Secretary of State Marshall followed up his chief by telling the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that "this unprecedented endeavor" was a "calculated risk," that the "way of life that we have known is literally in the balance," and that-we-"either-undertake to meet the requirements of the problm or don't undertake it at all." "A world of continuing uneasy nalf-peace' will create demands for constantly mounting expenditures for defense." Marshall "This program should be viewed as an investment in peace. In those terms, the cost is low." While the Marshall Plan was being debated, however, the U.S. took even more direct steps almed, t seemed apparent, against Communism. We sent a detachment of some 1,000 marines to reinforce personnel aboard U. S. warships now in the Mediterraneam; we announced we were giving Turkey is vessels, including four fleet-type submarines and eight motor mine sweepers; we transferred six moor gunboats to Greece and indicated six submaries would later go to that country, and we strengthened Greece's military forces by permitting increases in irmy and national guard strength. . No matter how you feel about the over-all U.S. foreign policy, it seemed apparent that such teps as these might be construed as putting chips on our shoulders. It is to be hoped that no one takes it in his head to knock the chips off!

Russian Scientists Find Girl in "Deep Freeze"

Russian scientists announced their latest discovery last week: The "almost perfectly preserved" bodies of a beautiful young girl and her slain male companion buried -the Russians said-2,000 years ago in the lcy wastes of Siberia. The couple was found in a tomb 25 feet below a burial mound in the Altai district of southwestern Siberia. A crack in the tomb's wall admitted the wind and created the "ice box" which preserved the bodles.__ With the bodies archaeologists found cheese and other food which, they said, could still be eaten. They thought the girl died of natural causes, was given a murdered companion to accompany-her-inthe after-world. Both bodies were clothed in furs.

The find, said Archaeologist S-I. Rudenko, has "exceptional significance in the history of world culture." It may prove relationship of the Altai tribes to peoples of Contral and Middle Asia and perhaps even those on the Black Sca coast.

The area involved in this transaction was purchased for 400 pounds of wampum, and appears to include the present territory of Caldwell, Verona, Livingston, Cedar Grove and portions of Little Falls, although the document is rather indefinite in its description of boundaries. The deed was executed by, a group of twelve Indian chiefs who have signed with their marks, each a different one, and with imprints of their thumbs in seeling wax - perhaps the first occasion in history where a thumbprint was used as a means of identification. The times were unusual all right, and our behaviour was even more unusual. The disillusioned youth of the last war had become the middle-aged isolationists of this one. Who can blame them? The same signs of war, the same line of blerney was being thrown at them, everything was being staged just as kt had been in 1917. Then the war came. It was rought, and won.

Now that the fighting has seased people have started raking up the muck from the gutter. All the rotten schemes frauds and diplomacy of the war years is being pawed over and judgment passed on it. Schools Compete In Radio Contest

A radio script writing contest limited to New Jersey and open to students in sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth grades is attracting entrants from schools in all parts of the state, according to Commissioner Charles R. Erdman, Jr. whose Department of Economic Development is sponsoring the competition for the second succassive year. The contest closes February 16. Schools and individuals planning to compete should notify the Department of their choice of subjects not later than February 2.

Commissioner Erdman explained that the weekly radio program THIS IS NEW JERSEY, prepared by the Department of Economic Development, and presented over seven radio stations in the state, has become a regular in-school listening project in a number of schools. "The regular programs are dramatizations about past and present-day industries. individuals and events of importanus to New Jersey," he said. "The final-broadcasts in the spring series of programs will feature the three best scripts submitted by New Jersey school classes or individual students in the four inermediate grades."

The class from which the best script comes will be given an allday outling by bus to some historic spot in the state. Classes or individuals submitting the ten best scripts will receive certificates ofmerit. ### Seton Hall's cagers, who have surprised everyone by winning nine in ten games up to this writing, are insuring themselves a few bids to various post-season tourneys if they continue their good play for the remainder of the season. In spite of the loss of Bob Wanzer, the Pirates clinched the mythical New Jersey college crown by tripping Rutgers two weeks ago, and won the admiration of the nation's basketball followers through their successful tour of the midwest. # CHOCOLATE FAVORITES

By MARION CLYDE McCARROLL

In any taste-test election, the shocolate flavor always wins hands down as the People's Choice. Whether it's ice cream or pudding; cake, cookles or candy. any sweet with the smooth rich chocolate taste has first place in popular affection.

Here are three new recipes, each of which makes its bid for attention by reason of an adroit use of a chocolate sirup piquantly pepped up with a dash of chocolate. Two of them are glorified versions of rice pudding; the other an unusual type of parfait. First, the sirup:

CHOCOLATE MOCHA SIRUP: Place in a saucepan, over low heat, package chocolate hits, 4 sup sugar, 1/8 teaspoon salt and 1 cup double strength coffee. Stir until chocolate bits are melted. Increase heat slightly, bring to boil and cook 3 minutes. Yield, 2 cups sirup.

CHOCOLATE RICE SUNDAE: Thoroughly wash 1/3 cup rice. Place in top of double boiler with 2 cups milk and % teaspoon sait, and cook over hot water about 1 hour, or until rice is very tender. Stir in 2 beaten egg yolks and cook 5 minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Cool. Beat 2 egg whites until stiff but not dry, Gradually beat in 1/3 cup sugar and 1/4 teaspoon vanilla and fold into rice nixture. Spoon into dessert dishes sirup. Makes 4-6 servings. RICE ROYALE: Whip I cup

whipping cream until stiff. Beat in 1/4 cup confectioners' sugar and I tenspoon vanilla. Fold in cooked rice. Spoon half of mixture into dessert dishes and cover each with 2 tablespoons sirup. Spread on remainder of rice mixture and dribble rest of sirup over the tops. Chill before serving. Makes four servings.

CHOCOLATE MOCHA PAR-FAIT: Whip 1 cup whipping cream to custard consistency. Fold in 1 tablespoon sugar, 1/8 tenspoon sait and 1 teaspoon-vanilla. Alternate layers of whipped cream, graham crackers rolled fine (use about 10 crackers in all) and chocolate mocha sirup (1 cup in all) in parfait glasses. Chili thoroughly. Makes 4-6 servings.

A last-minute gift that will give pleasure to the receiver is a magazine subscription or a membership in one of the several book clubs.

In finding the proper amount for each case, the dose is gradually increased until the child becomes distracted or uncooperative. When this happens, the dose is then decreased until the child's behavior is more normal.

Sixty-nine children, varying in age from 16 months to 17 years, were observed over a period of six months. Before they received the glutamic acid, more than onethird of the children had convulsive-disorders, and two-thirds were mentally retarded. Before they received the preparation, thorough intelligence tests were given. It. was found that during the six months of treatment, the entire group gained 13 months in mentalage, or an average of seven points in intelligence quotient or I.Q. When the intelligence quotlent was quite low before treatment, a gain of a year in mental age occurred.

Better Behavior

The parents of these youngsters ilso-reported better behavior. For example, one child nine years old, whose intelligence quotient wentup from 69 to 87, learned to jump rope, bounce a ball, became interested in her school work and started to read. A boy of 16, who, was a bad behavior problem, began to get along better in school and became interested in many activities, while his intelligence quotient went up from 50 to 56 in the six-month period.

ALL STEEL HOUSE

THE LIVING ROOM OF THE ALL-STEEL HOUSE is amply large, | dining alcove beyond, make it a bright and cheerful place for family being over eighteen feet long and more than thirteen feet wide. Its own spacious windows, and the broad window arrangement in the life.

Still another step in the trend toward the production of better homes for less money is the new all-steel house, one type of which is pictured at the right.

The selection of steel for exterior construction of the house -conventional materials are, of course, used in the interior-was made, according to the producers of the home, because of the fact that use of this material in the automotive, refrigeration and home appliance fields had resulted in decreased costs. Why wouldn't it be possible, they then reasoned, to accomplish a lowering of costs in the housing field by employing steel for construction here also? The answer to this question has turned out to be a satisfactory one for company and home buyers-alike.

The houses which are completepre-engineered, are sold to authorized builders who lay the foundations, erect the houses landscape and resell to the public. Shipped in a knocked-down condition, all parts of the house are assembled on the site, and the construction, from the foundation up, requires approximately four weeks. There are both two-bedroom and three-bedroom etyles, and prices, exclusive of land or garage, range from about $7,000 to $8,500, depending upon-locality, condition of land and labor costs in the various parts of the country. Bathroom and kitchen fixnray kitchen cabinels, het water heater and warm air thermostacontrolled furnace are in cluded in the purchase price. Kitchen range and refrigerator are not included.

> Study Shows What Women Want in Slips

What women want in slips has een discussed and voted on in homemakers' groups throughout the country during the past few years. The nationwide survey, in which many New Jersey women have taken part, has been sponsored by the American Home Economics Association,

Here are some of the things these ladies want, reports Inez LaBossier, extension specialist in clothing at Rutgers University. The fit of slips was one of their main concerns, and they wished that all slip sizes could be standardized; even in the less expensive types. Slips which would not ride up and which had ample room, especially at the bottom, were voted a necessity for everyday use or for wear with housedresses. The women wanted everyday slips that had good seams, that were colorfast and pre-shrunk, and that could withstand laundering in the washing machine. Reliable labels should tell the last three things. The labels should also include the kind of fiber used In the garments, the proportions of the slip, and directions for tak-

-t-nce trimmings on mexpensive slips were considered unnecessary, mainly-boomse they were likely to be cheap and inferior. Whet trimmings are used, they should last the lifetime of the slip.

To sacrifice durability even for attractive and simple decorations was voted poor buymanship. Many women thought that slips should be reinforced where the shoulder straps join, and that the straps should be placed so they will not slide off the shoulders. The homemakers also felt that double yokes or reinforced tops added much to the durability of all types of slips, and they wanted shadow panels to be put into slips, again.

Whenever they talked of knitted slips, they deked that such slips retain their shape, that they not sag, and not require any ironing

"Student Prince" Opening Monday At Paper Mill

Operetta in its greatest form, Sigmund Romberg's unforgetable musical setting of "The Student Prince," will be the final production of the season at the Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn beginning Monday, Jan. 19 following the end-of the current engagement of "Girl Crazy.

"The Student Prince" will mark the latest opening date in Paper Mill history and when it concludes its run, the season will have continued for a record-breaking 46 weeks. Continuation of the season has been undertaken by Director Frank Carrington in spite of recont setbacks by the weather with the optimistic belief that the winter will be normal from now on.

A strong drawing card in its own right, "The Student-Prince" in its Millburn edition will be presenting new personalities and old feverites. Frank Hornaday, who has played performances on Broadway and in every city of the land, will be on hand for the role he knows so well.

Edith Fellows in Cast Edith Fellows, universally known for her many motion pictures as s child and teen-age star, will make her Paper Mill debuttin the role of "Kathie." She was recently seen on Broadway in "Marinka" and other musical productions. She is frequently heard over network radio programs and at leading peretta theatres. With Hornaday and Miss Fellows in the principal parts will be George Britton, returning after an bsence of two years during which he played on Broadway and "in London in "Gypsy Lady," to give his able portrayal of "Dr. Engel" again. No Paper Mill production, is complete without the ubiquitous Clarence Nordstrom and he will be seen as the imperious "Mr. Lutz," valet to "The Student Prince". Directed by Mr. Carrington and Agnes Morgan, "The Student Prince" will be given a major Paper Mill production with musical direction by John Charles Sacco and sottings by Kenneth Lloyd Mapes. It is expected to be a fitting climax to an outstanding season of operettas, TOCK McALLISTER was to be hanged at midnight. "Your only chance," the warden told him, "is to get a last minute reprieve from the governor. He's at home in Albany. Better wire him immedia ately.'

The hanging took place at the scheduled time, however. When the guards came to get McAllister, they found him frowning over a telegram blank, still trying to boil his plea to the governor down to ten words.

When Harold Ross, the magzine editor, was married, his friend Dave Chasens, the restaurateur, sent-him a case of two hundred books as a gift. Ross pried the case open eagerly, and found that every one of the two hundred books was a Gideon Bible. (Chasens traveled extensively in the old days.)

Ross gravely put the Bibles on the shelves of his new study. The last time I visited him, his stock was down to less than forty. Ter-

With all the motion picture polls hat make the rounds during the first few weeks of January, it is interesting to note that the only distinctly different one in the matter of pictures listed is the rural poll conducted annually by Country Gentleman Magazine. Where most polls contented themselves with "Gentlemen's Agreement," "Crossfire," and "Great Expectations" as the leaders. -the-ruralites decided to stick to the wide open spaces. They gave "The Yearling" first place on the list of top ten. The others, in order, were: "The Jolson Story," "Welcome Stranger," "The Egg and I," "The Best Years of Our Lives," "The Farmer's Daughter," "Dear Ruth," Father," and "Margie." They all have one thing-in-common, too. All ten pictures had ordinary, humanistic life—as the bases of—the stories. Discounting the farm influence-involved, and the questionable dramatic worth of some of the pictures, it becomes a very good list for portraying the every day American scene.
