

The New Jersey State Supreme Court, in a ruling shortly before noon today, set aside objections of the Township Committee and approved application of Springbrook Gardens, Inc., for erection of a garden apartment in Morris avenue at Short Hills avenue in Springfield. The builders plan a 60-unit, $600,000 structure of 3½ and 4½ room apartments to rent for upward of $85. The apartment would have a frontage of 568 feet in Morris avenue and a maximum depth 285 feet.

LISTEN

FRIENDS!!

Miami Beach with its bathing beauties and Springfield with the return recently of "George Washington" have something in common insofar as publicity stunts are concerned. . . never before in the township's history, including the famous tie-vote last year, did Springfield find itself in so many newspapers, magazines and periodicals throughout the nation. . . the Washington idea was the offspring of the Rotary Club and was carried to a wild finish by the Chamber of Commerce at the July 4 celebration.

Perhaps there are two spellings, but we think not, so we'd suggest one of the Bunnell brothers check the sign near the Sun office in Morris avenue. . . doesn't look good at all!

More than five weeks have elapsed since Chief Pinkava recommended a sweeping series of safety improvements for a dozen business establishments along Morris avenue, but nothing has been done. . . an item in this column months before called attention to the existence of hazardous conditions, but the only result was lots of cheap talk. . . patrons of several local stores fall stepping into a place with only one combination entrance and exit. . . even a small fire at the front of anyone of these places could result in panic and death. . . authorities, of course, have called proprietors' attention to their "responsibility," but with little response. . . revision of the fire ordinance is a necessity and it should be done without delay. . . that means now and not after the inevitable happens!!!

A couple of columns ago we jumped all over Ralph Parse for failing to show up for a physical examination in connection with his application for permanent appointment to the police department. . . Parse now claims he stopped at the office of Dr. H. P. Donglar, town physician, as scheduled, but was told by a nurse he was too late to have a complete physical in the time stipulated. . . Guess the chief doesn't approve of me anyway. . . Parse said, "he wants handsome looking men and it's too bad 'til a little short and fat." . . Parse says he'll turn in his special officer's badge this week.

The Board of Education is in receipt of an anonymous letter objecting to the rule requiring teachers to stay in their classes an hour after pupils have been dismissed. . . the request has been rejected. . . If teachers have to stay anyway, say board members, then they won't be reluctant to hand out detention slips.

A ruling banning the raising of pigs most likely will be adopted at the next session of the Board of Health. . . two residents of Diven street are seeking permission to raise pigs, but board members feel there should be none in well-populated sections.

We're sending copy of the paper to the New York City residents who wrote the Chamber of Commerce the following letter: "My wife and I are interested in renting a small bungalow for the summer in Springfield. . . would you please tell us what the altitude is, and how to get there by bus or train? . . . Answer: There are no bungalows to rent so there's no need to come, but the altitude is 208 feet above sea level.

HOME FOR SUMMER
Alfred Winters, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Winters of Route 29, has completed his freshman year at Rutgers University and is spending the summer with his parents.

Rotarians Hit Red Menace at Session Here

Delegates from 108 Clubs Attend Local Meeting

Baltusrol Golf Club was the scene Monday of an indoctrination meeting of the 183rd Rotary District sponsored by the Union Township Rotary Club. Twenty-eight of the thirty-five clubs in the district, including Springfield's new club, were represented. There were a total of 108 delegates present from seven central Jersey counties.

Albert R. Smiles of Union, district governor, was presented by Albert Brunner, president of the Union club. Registrations were handled by Charles T. Hassard of Union, district secretary. Principal speaker was David Boswell, secretary of the Ridgefield Park Rotary Club. He cited the menace of communism and said that persons who are misled by it should be informed of its fallacies. Other speakers were Fay S. Mathewson, of Plainfield, retiring district governor; Rev. Charles A. Ross, Elizabeth; Charles Philhower, Westfield; Rev. Cordie Culp, New Brunswick; Philip T. Reigger, Metuchen; Rev. Herbert K. England, of Dunellen; Ernest Truenterbach, Cranford; William Walsh, Metuchen, and Robert Harden, Westfield, district treasurer.

Warns Veterans On Home Buying

Springfield veterans planning to purchase homes under the GI Bill were urged today to avoid "hand-to-mouth" financing and the making of short-term, high interest loans to meet financial emergencies after they have begun to make GI loan payments.

This warning came from Joseph F. O'Hern, Manager of VA's New Jersey Regional Office at Newark. Mr. O'Hern said a study of the very few GI loan defaults in New Jersey to date reveals that they could have been avoided if veterans had heeded the dangers he cited.

"A typical default story," he said, "shows the home-buying veteran when he budgets his GI loan payments, failing to allow himself sufficient reserve to meet unexpected expenses. . . .

Major difficulties, illness in the family, temporary unemployment, emergency repairs to the home, or unforeseen increases in living expenses, were cited as the main causes of the defaults. . . .

LOCAL RESIDENTS TO VISIT EUROPE
Sojourning this summer in the Netherlands will be Mr. and Mrs. Hendriks W. Post of 228 So. Springfield avenue. They will leave on Saturday, July 24, on the Nordam of the Holland America Line for Amsterdam.

Marshall's Absenteeism Irks Recreation Members

Township Committeeman Robert Marshall, the governing body's representative on the Recreation Committee, was bitterly criticized last night for failing to attend meetings of the recreation unit.

Edward E. Kisch, who told Mayor Selander he was delegated by the Recreation Committee to bring the complaint before the Township Committee, said Marshall had not attended any meetings of the unit and therefore was "not fulfilling his obligation to Springfield's youth."

Kisch, active in Democratic circles, was told by Selander his charges "smacked of politics" and that he had no right to bring the subject before an open meeting of the Township Committee.

Marshall, obviously angered, told the mayor, "the more fact I don't attend meetings of the Recreation Committee is no indication I am not fulfilling my obligations. I am

County Playground Directed by Brown

Reopening of the county playground took place last week under the direction of Coach Bill Brown and Miss Jeanne Pine, his assistant. Activity this year was sponsored from 10 a. m. until 6 p. m. Mondays through Fridays.

The first week's attendance is an indication of future participation, all former records will easily be broken. The average number of boys and girls has been over 150 each afternoon.

The program of the playground is being coordinated with all of the town play areas. Handicraft activities are carried on from 10 a. m. until noon. A feature contest takes place at 2 p. m., a story telling hour at 4 p. m., and the week's activities are highlighted on Friday when Mrs. Mildred Rillon, supervisor of nature recreation, presents a popular topic of nature study. Children recently enjoyed her story of the flying squirrel and baby racoons.

Feature contests for next week are: Monday, hopscotch for girls, checkers for boys; Tuesday, hand tennis for boys, checkers for girls; Wednesday, bicycle races for boys and girls; Thursday, foil shooting for boys, hand tennis for girls; and on Friday, foil shooting for the girls and table shuffleboard for the boys.

Boys and girls have shown much enthusiasm in handicraft. This week they painted hats and glasses for various uses; made walnut shell face pins, and contest posters. Future handicraft activities will include making whistle cords, bracelets, and key holders.

SOJOURNING IN MID-WEST

Several days will be spent visiting friends and former neighbors in Fort Wayne and South Bend, Ind. They will spend the balance of their vacation at Fremont, Ind. On return trip, the Chapins will stop in Ann Arbor, Mich., where their eldest daughter, Lois, will remain to enter the university in the fall. It will be her fourth year.

Darby's Ruling On Town Clerk Upsets Mayor

Previous Blunder On Retirement to Cost About $3,000

Failure of the Township Committee to certify Township Clerk Robert D. Treat under the state employees' retirement act when it was approved by referendum will cost Springfield taxpayers an estimated sum of $3,000, prorated over a 25-year period.

Following a ruling from Robert Darby, township attorney, that Treat was entitled to retirement under the act, the governing body last night unanimously certified his back service of 19 years and five months, prior to June 1, 1946.

This action was taken on motion of Committeeman Turk despite bitter opposition by Mayor Selander. It was Selander's opinion that Treat was not eligible under the act previously because he was receiving only as a part-time township clerk. But, Darby last night said Treat was an employee of the township whether he served full time or otherwise.

When Selander and Committeeman Fred Brown sought to delay action until Darby submits his opinion on the subject in writing, Turk said the "injustice" had lasted long enough. To Turk's remark, Selander declared he felt Treat had been amply paid for the services he rendered Springfield "especially in view of Treat's other full time position in New York."

Treat was retired several years ago from Western Union Telegraph Company. "This is a case of getting everything we can out of the taxpayer legally," Selander declared as Turk moved compliance with Darby's recommendation. Committeeman Marshall who voiced no opinion on the subject, seconded Turk's motion.

Asks Top Standards For Education Head

The post of Commissioner of Education should be a career position, with the highest professional qualifications, the Hon. Clyde W. Struble, Mayor of the City of Orange City and chairman of the Educational Planning Commission, said here today. He urged that the State Board of Education be empowered to fill that position. In the proposed reorganization of state government under the new constitution.

"The commissioner is the professional educational leader of the whole state school system," he said. "He should be chosen for his ability to provide the best kind of educational leadership, not for political considerations or for personal contacts with a new governor. For that reason the Assembly should amend Senate Bill 19 so that the commissioner will be selected by the State Board of Education rather than appointed by each governor as the present bill provides.

"The position of commissioner should offer a career to the finest educators available," he concluded. "If a commissioner knows that he will go out of office after a four or eight year term, there would be little incentive on his part to initiate long range programs. He might be more inclined to concern himself with political considerations.

"Nor is four years a long enough period to work out broad long range policies in a state school system. Improvements such as the consolidation of school districts or new courses of study have to be carefully worked out. For such programs, a commissioner needs plenty of time."

Mayor Struble was a delegate to the Constitutional Convention last summer and worked on many of the major committees.

Famous Boxer Pays Fine for Speeding

Freddie Cochrane, former world's welterweight boxing champion of Hillside, was fined $18.50 on a charge of speeding by Recorder Everett T. Spinning in Police Court Monday night.

Cochrane, who served in the Navy in World War II, lost his welterweight crown to Marty Servo. He now operates a tavern at 1274 North Broad street, Hillside.

Patrolman Nelson Stiles arrested Cochrane for traveling 80-miles-an-hour in Morris avenue. John J. High of 824 Highland avenue, Westfield, paid $13.50 on a speeding charge. Also fined $13.50 for speeding was Eugene Leonard of 864 North avenue, Westfield.

William Umbrecht, of 915 Grand street, Elizabeth, paid $13.50 for driving a motor vehicle with fictitious license plates.

Thanks Supporters Of Wage Increase

Postal employees of Springfield this week expressed their thanks and appreciation to citizens for their support of the recent pay increase granted them. A bill granting all postal employees $450.00 pay increase was recently signed by the President.

Henry Anderson, Perth Amboy, chairman of the New Jersey Affiliated Postal Employees Legislative Committee stated that without public support we of the postal groups would not have been granted this pay increase. In the past the general public in this state have always rallied behind the legislative campaign of the postal employees for higher wages and better working conditions, stated Anderson. We do appreciate this fine support and we who deliver the mail will always give the American people the best postal service that is in our veins, continued Anderson.

We are also appreciative to the two United States Senators and the fourteen Congressmen from this state. In the past years we have always had the entire New Jersey Congressional delegation behind our legislative drives for higher wages and betterment of working conditions, continued Mr. Anderson. Without their help and influence we too would have many other obstacles to overcome, continued Anderson. Their endorsement of our recent pay increase was not a token gesture. They all contacted their colleagues in both Houses of Congress to back the campaign to a successful conclusion, stated Anderson. They all testified before both the House and Senate Committee on Post Offices and Civil Service and urged a permanent increase of $800 for us, stated Mr. Anderson. In the final week of the last Congress it was agreed by leaders of the House and Senate to grant a raise of $450.00 to all postal employees. We are hopeful that in the next session of Congress that the committees will give due consideration to a reclassification of our salaries to bring them up to the present levels to meet the ever increasing in the high cost of living, concluded Mr. Anderson.

Keane's Accusations Halt Macartney's Reappointment

RAPS' ASSESSORS

Township Committeeman Francis J. Keane's statement that he could prove "inefficiencies" on the local Board of Assessors resulted in a delay on the part of the governing body last night in filling a board vacancy.

Committeeman Robert Marshall, who withdrew his vote in favor of reappointment of Lewis F. Macartney's reappointment to the board, when Keane leveled his charge, said today he would demand a complete investigation to determine the correctness of the accusations.

Meanwhile Keane said he was prepared to back his statements to the limit and would do so orally at a planned special meeting of the committee on the subject and later on in writing if necessary. Present members of the Board of Assessors are Wilbert Laying, Republican, and Frank Cardinale, Democrat. Macartney's post-expired on July 1. The salary is $650 a year.

Committeeman Turk's effort to name Russell B. Stewart, Democrat, figure in Springfield's famous tie vote, to the assessment board touched off the fireworks. His motion was lost three to two. Committeeman Brown then moved reappointment of Macartney. A split vote in favor of Macartney was apparent and Mayor Selander called for a roll call. It was at this point that Keane hurled the "inefficiency" charges.

He said the board was not doing a job for the best interests of Springfield. "The thing about Township Committee affairs which disgusts me is their patronage business," Keane said. "I look only at a man's qualifications and I want an open mind on the assessment board," he added.

Referring to Macartney, Mayor Selander commended him as a "faithful township servant" and pointed to his service as relief administrator during the depression years as an example.

Selander accused Keane of being in a "poor position" by favoring a Democrat for the job on the assessment board. "Your position certainly would appear better if you favored a Republican," the mayor asserted.

Keane denied political affiliations had anything to do with his backing of Stewart and challenged Selander to hold a special session of the Township Committee to "pass on the efficiencies" of the Board of Assessors.

Marshall then asked the matter to be tabled pending the investigation.

YOUR LIBRARY

Summer seems to have arrived with considerably less fan-fare than usual, but with its usual encircling results. No need to sink into the doldrums though there are many interesting and quiet ways to pass your leisure time during the hottest weather. A new mystery is just the answer sometimes; there is a new Crime Club selection, "Map of Mistake" by Allan MacKinnon and an Inner Sanctum mystery, "Too Good to be True" by J. F. Hutton, also "Tremolo" by Ernest Borneman and "The Three Roads" by Kenneth Millar, both novels of suspense. New non-fiction includes, "We Need Not Fall" by Sumner Welles; "Now Television" by Raymond Yates; "The Magic of Believing" by Claude M. Bristol and "Washington Witch Hunt" by Bert Andrews. Anyplace is "next door" by Long Distance
● If you haven't used Long Distance lately, you're due for a pleasant surprise. New circuits have eased the load so that 95 out of 100 calls go through while you hold the line. Improvements in transmission have made a difference too—you'll find it hard to realize that you're not talking to someone across the table from you.
● Long Distance is a good example of the way your telephone service is constantly increasing both in quality and value. In 1918, a daytime station-to-station call to San Francisco cost $18.50 for three minutes of conversation. By 1928, the cost had been reduced to $9. Today the same type of call costs you just $2.50, exclusive of tax.

Your Home

By Frances Athaworth

Did you know that approximately ONE MILLION SEVEN HUNDRED THOUSAND couples will be married this year? Well, I was just amazed when I heard that figure—and I began thinking that a lot of us will have friends among this year's brides-to-be and will be planning showers. So I thought you might like to have a few ideas for different kinds of showers.

Just for fun, how about a "pair shower"? Have every guest bring gifts in pairs—anything from a pair of stockings to a pair of matching guest towels. The bride will receive some unusual gifts, and, of course, your prizes will be in pairs, too. So everyone will have a great time!

Another type of shower that will bring many welcome gifts to the bride is a paper shower. Especially if many of the guests have been to several showers, they'll appreciate the inexpensiveness of paper gifts, and the bride will be glad to get some of the actual necessities she'll need in her new home.

Here are some paper gift ideas, great for that "paper anniversary", too—playing cards, bridge sets with invitations, tally cards, place mats and paper napkins, the latter, welcome laundry-savers. Maybe you'll select a big picnic basket as your own gift, and then it can be filled with the gaily wrapped packages from everyone else.

To make your paper shower complete—and, incidentally, to save yourself a lot of work—you'll want to serve luncheon on a paper cloth with paper napkins, paper cups and spoons, etc. Your guests will enjoy the informality of your table, and you'll have more fun at your own party because paper accessories make entertaining doubly easy!

A dog's best friend is his man

In all of Nature, there is no counterpart for the deep, age-old friendship between man and dog. A dog is a social creature. He is a member of human society. In return for a little kindness, he is ready to give a family all his love, his devotion, his labor, and—if necessary—his life. Just as people need dogs, so do dogs need people. And that is why the work of the Humane Societies of this country is so important. Your local Humane Society helps families who are looking for dogs, and dogs who are looking for families. It offers expert advice to dog owners on the intelligent care, feeding and training of their pets. In some cities it provides skilled veterinary services for sick pets, regardless of the owner's ability to pay. And it performs an important safety service by caring for hundreds of strays that would otherwise wander the streets, a potential menace to health.

Your Humane Society stands always ready to help you. It, in turn, deserves your help. For this reason, the Chrysler Dealers are sponsoring a radio program, "The Animal World Court," designed to make you better acquainted with the activities of these useful groups. As an organization devoted to service, we are proud to be able to help the country's Humane Societies in their generous and kindly work.

Officer Salzer Suspended Pending Council Hearing

MOUNTAIN INSIDE — Officer Frank Salzer was suspended without pay pending a further hearing, by resolution of the Mayor and Council Tuesday night. The resolution reads: "Whereas there has been a suspicion that Officer Salzer has been guilty of a crime in which some member of the Police Department was involved, and whereas Chief Charles Honecker of the Police Department has made an investigation which discloses that Officer Salzer may be responsible for some of the thefts and where-beat to beat Salzer, and the serial numbers of the bills were recorded before being placed there last Thursday night, Honecker said. The Chief said he and two other officers returned to the gas station and found the money gone. Salzer was searched after he had gone off, his beat in the morning, after having reported "everything in order," Honecker said. Borough residents have expressed their disbelief in Salzer's guilt. Many of them repeat that he was one of the finest men serving the public, and it just can't be true." Salzer, who is 35 years old, spent most of his younger years in the borough. Raised by the Newark Orphan's Home he spent his summers here at Coles Memorial Home, and when he left the Home, finally settled here among his friends. He was one of the founders and the first Commander of Blue Star Post 386, American Legion, active in many local affairs, including the presidency of the local Soft Ball League. His one known unhappiness has been the fact that, due to the housing shortage, he could not settle his wife and two young sons here in the Borough, where he was able to obtain only a room. His family lives in Jersey City. Salzer's record was good before he went into the Army. He served in Europe with the military police. He entered service in April, 1942, and went overseas in February, 1944. He served with the combat Intelligence force attached to the infantry and saw action in Germany and France, and was awarded two battle stars for major battles at Metz and Aachen, Germany. Captain E. T. Berry of New York City, Salzer's commander in England and in the United States, came out from New York to the Council meeting to see that "Frank gets a prompt and fair hearing." Berry, upon questioning, stated that he was abashed and disturbed at the charges made against "Frank." Berry stated that he had had no better man in his group and as far as Salzer's character and integrity he was concerned "I considered him an excellent soldier and friend. I just can't understand how this could have happened. I still hope he gets a prompt and fair hearing." No mention has been made by Mayor Thorne as to when the special hearing will be held, nor of the resignation Salzer was said to have submitted.

Nature Program Starts This Week

MOUNTAIN INSIDE — The nature programs scheduled for Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, under the direction of Mrs. Mildred Rullison of the Union County Park Commission get under way this week. Mrs. Rullison's services have been obtained by the Mountaintide Civic Council as part of their recreational program for Borough youngsters this summer. Key mothers in each neighborhood called other mothers in the area early this week to advise of the nature gatherings each Friday afternoon in the playground area at the Mountain-avenue entrance to Echo Lake Park. They were also reminded of the story-hour each week this summer on Wednesdays at 3 p. m. in the library. Both of these programs are open to youngsters of all ages, with the mothers of the younger ones welcome to stay and view the proceedings after seeing that their children arrive at the starting time. Both recreational programs will continue throughout July and August, though the story-hour will close on August 16 due to the vacation of the librarian, Mrs. Louise Jennings, who serves as story-teller.

Questions Council On-Bid for Land

MOUNTAIN INSIDE — Benjamin Haines of the Lafayette Development Corporation Tuesday night questioned the Mayor and Council as to the decision on his bid for fifty acres of land fronting on Mill Lane and on the Highway. Haines said he had offers from several light industries interested in locating on that particular tract if clear title can be obtained. Mayor Thorne informed Haines his bid had been lower than the assessed value of the land. He recommended the light industries go through the regular procedure of appearing before the Board of Adjustment for exception to Zoning Ordinance. Haines said this particular time the only concrete plan was a golf driving range on ten of the acres. The Mayor told Haines to submit an offer for this particular plot, and the Council would consider the offer. Bids for road work throughout the Borough were read with the Pressure Asphalt Co., of Union receiving the contract on the lowest figure, $6,110. That of Orange Contracting Co., at $6,072 was ordered held in case of default on the part of Pressure. Birch Hill Developing was next low bidder at $10,287.20, with the high bidder being J. Cuzzano at $16,421. Acceptance of Emerson Wilson as a member of the Volunteer Fire Department was approved by the Council. Tax Collector Wilton F. Lanning reported June collections at $2,752.08, and a total for the year of $80,352.09. Approved by the Council was the map of Watchung Foothills Development. Also adopted by resolution was the foreclosure of Herman E. Honecker, Sr.'s property on Beech Avenue and Popular Avenue, as well as several Mill Lane tracts. Thorne informed the audience, which was larger than usual, that he had received a phone call from Lloyd Manley, president of the Planning Board, the group had worked out a compromise on the house number question. Manley informed Thorne that the plan would be ready for approval at the next Council meeting, and would differ only in that numbers at the Springfield line would start at 200 instead of 1,000, and at 100 instead of 200 at the Highway. A letter received from Franklin Paicannis of Tanglewood Lane requested a street sign, and another from Donald Maxwell regarding the incomplete curbing on the road project in front of his stores was a hazard. Both matters will be checked. Building Inspector H. S. Honecker issued new permits during June and turned over fees to the Borough of $231. Recorder Albert J. Beninger reported 32 cases heard during June with total fines and costs of $377. Federal civilian employment increased during March at the rate of more than 600-employees per day, says the New Jersey Taxpayers Association.

Berkeley Heights Nips Springfield

In a spectacularly played baseball game Sunday the Springfield Athletic Ass'n. Baseball Club and the Berkeley Heights A. C. were deadlocked in a tight ball game. Both teams played heads up ball making a slight change over the fourth week-end game.

The local team started Carl Post on the mound and George Morton doing the plate work. The Springfield club got off to a flying start with singles by George Morton and Bill Deitrick which gave them a two run lead. Then the Berkeley team retaliated with two in the third to tie up the game on a single and a homer. They kept the ball rolling with a four run rally in the fourth making it 6-2. For the first time Springfield showed some power in the fifth inning when a single by McLean playing left field and a home run by Russ Schramm sparked up some new morale making it a six to four game.

Then with some more power George Morton beat out another single in the sixth and Herb Penoyer smashed out a terrific home run to even up the score six to six.

The game stayed at that pace from the sixth frame. Penoyer relieved Post on the mound in the fourth and exhibited some fine bit of pitching. He struck out some 10 batters and pulled out of three or four spots with three straight strikeout victims. The game went 10 innings only to be broken with a 3-run homer by the Berkeley first sacker over the fence in center field Tony Vincendese ending it there, 9-6.

Playground News

Congratulations to the Springfield Red Cross Chapter for its promotion of National Water Safety. Its members have not only gaining the gratitude of 207 Springfield children and parents, but are protecting the boys and girls of this town from future water accidents.

On Tuesday and Thursday swimming parties are popular with youngsters. Four buses are packed to capacity, but can always stretch to accommodate one more. The little ones are given instructions on these mornings and to passersby, it looks like a school of porpoises are frolicking in the Rahway Pool.

Every day from noon until 1 p. m., older children perfect swimmers and breast strokes. The following aquabellies and beaux have passed their Red Cross preliminary water tests: Walter Kratt, Jackie Binder, Patty Binder and Mickey Doherty.

We would like to express appreciation to Mrs. Hans Kraft who has volunteered to go with this special instruction group.

It was with mingled feelings of regret and joy that we withdrew from Raymond Chisholm school to accept the hospitality of Regional Playground. We hated to leave the neighborhood but Regional facilities are excellent. Swings, slide, paddle-tennis courts and horseshoe pits are enjoyed by the youngsters. Arts and crafts are being developed. Pins made of walnut, were featured this week.

Wentz Avenue Playground
It was a sad day last Friday when our team played the Riverside boys and were defeated 13-4. It is rumored there was slight interference in the infield. Members of the team are: A. Hector, H. Heimbach, B. Johnson, R. Wengler, G. Campbell, J. Rahenkamp and K. Rahenkamp.

One consolation was that Bob Jamison, our checkers champ, proved himself by beating Gerald Reddington of James Caldwell playground. Albert Hector and Herb Heimbach also won their games by forfeits.

The children are now busy working on woodcarving. We wish to thank Bob Jamison for our handsome new bulletin board.

Another hike is scheduled for Friday (tomorrow).
Next week a horseshoe tournament will begin. Many have already signed up to play.

Riverside Playground
With the Riverside Playground only opened for three weeks, the boys and girls can look with pride to their baseball team which has defeated two visiting playground teams, the Lions and North Springfield Playground.

With Henry Walton giving up one hit, the "River Rats" routed the North Springfield Playground boys in a game by a score 13-4. In the infielding of Willie Stehler, Fritz Punthgam, Lolan Beers, Danny Wendland, and the outfield trio of Art Wendland, Richie Stehler and Gordon Benker, the team took little time in deciding who would win the ball game.

The story was repeated on Monday afternoon when Henry Walton pitched a no hit, no run game for three innings and was retired with his team out front by six runs. Barry Lydickson and Paul Lydickson came in and ended a long game with a score 14-4.

After two weeks of trials, four boys have remained in the Senior Division Foul Shooting contest. They are Harry Lydickson, Henry Walton, Fritz Punthgam and Richard Benkerick.

In the chicken tournament, four boys have remained in the finals. They are Lolan Beers, Richard Stehler, Wilbur Stehler and Bob Marthl. These boys will enter play-offs, and the two victors will challenge each other for playground championship.

SOURCES OF revenues anticipated by the State of New Jersey during the new fiscal year are illustrated above. Budget officials call attention to the proportion of "non-recurring revenues" which will not be available again for the following fiscal year.

Sources of State Tax $

Second of four weekly features on the current State budget presented as a public educational service by The Sun.

The State expects a total revenue of $162,411,162.25 during the new fiscal year of 1948-49 which started July 1, according to the Budget Bureau, Department of the Treasury. Automobiles, in one way or another, will account for approximately one-third of this anticipated revenue to the State during the 12-month period just begun.

Newest of the tax fields represented in the budget is the cigarette tax, which is expected to contribute $14,200,000 or 9 per cent of all State revenues.

Two entertainment taxes make up 16 per cent of the total. Anticipated beverage revenues add up to $14,000,000 or 9 per cent, and racing is expected to bring in $12,250,000, or 7 per cent.

Railroads and corporations will also contribute their shares, adding up to $19,000,000, or approximately 12 per cent.

Another portion of the New Jersey tax dollar consists of inheritance taxes, which will amount to $9,000,000, or 5 per cent of the total.

Close to 8 per cent is expected from departmental and miscellaneous taxes. This category includes such familiar revenues as hunting and fishing permits, fertilizer taxes advertising space permits, revenue from correctional and penal institutions, rentals from housing, banking and insurance taxes, and many other minor sources.

All of the above taxes are counted upon as revenue sources for future years. However there is a portion of the 1948-49 budget which will not be available again. It is in so-called non-recurring taxes which total 17 per cent of the budget, and amount to the sizable sum of $28,139,809.

General and highways taxes make up 14 per cent of this non-recurring revenue. These two taxes showed surplus balances at the beginning of the current fiscal year, but this money will probably not be available next year.

The State's share of past due railroad taxes will definitely not be available again. This amounts to $5,070,000, or 3 per cent of the total.

Vet Hits Pay Dirt—$40,000

It was just such a World War Two veteran as those shown above who took $10,000 worth of tungsten out of a Mojave Desert claim in one week recently, according to an article in the July issue of Cosmopolitan magazine. Where the old-time prospector, crudely equipped, sought only gold, his present day counterpart seeks molybdenum, titanium, tungsten, beryllium, chromium and a dozen other valuable metals, and he does it many times with the aid of a small plane and aerial map as shown above.

Nothing New

Our present ability to give fine service at lower prices is NOT something new. It is the result of about half a century of careful planning, study and experience.

Those who call us get the benefit of many years of experience and the perfected system that we have evolved during that time.

Don (Chet) Searles pitched a no hitter over the week-end with excellent support to bring victory for the Hawks against the Warriors by a score 16-0. The Hawks were in the lead throughout the entire game. The winning team put five hits together in the first inning for five runs and the Warriors made their only error in that inning. Searles struck out (9) walked (4), Martin struck out (4) walked (5), Keith struck out (2) walked (4).

Summit Scientist Played Key Role in Transistor Research

An amazingly simple device, capable of performing efficiently nearly all the functions of an ordinary vacuum tube, has been developed at the Murray Hill Laboratory of Bell Telephone.

Known as the Transistor, the device works on an entirely new physical principle—discovered by the laboratories in the course of fundamental research into the electrical properties of solids. Although the device is still in the laboratory stage, Bell scientists and engineers expect it may have far-reaching significance in electronics and electrical communication.

Summit Scientist

While many scientists and engineers were associated with the work during the project, key investigations, which brought the Transistor to reality were carried out by Dr. John Bardeen of Summit and Dr. Walter H. Brattain of Morristown. The general research program leading to the Transistor was initiated and directed by Dr. William Shockley of Madison. All three men are members of the Bell Telephone Laboratories technical staff.

The whole apparatus is housed in a tiny cylinder less than an inch long. It will serve as an amplifier or an oscillator—yet it bears almost no resemblance to the vacuum tube now used to do these basic jobs.

To the layman, the little tube's most amazing attribute is the fact that it permits one to turn on a radio or television set and immediately get reception. As in the old battery radios, there is no warm up delay when these tiny devices are used in place of the conventional vacuum tube. The reason for this, according to Bell scientists, is that it has no vacuum, no plate, no cathode and therefore no warm-up delay.

Since the device is still in the experimental stage, no data on cost are available. Its essential simplicity, however, indicates the possibility of widespread use, with resultant mass-production economies. When fully developed, the Transistor is also expected to find new applications in electronics where vacuum tubes have not proved suitable.

Tests have shown that the Transistor will amplify at least 100 times (20 decibels). Some test models have been operated as amplifiers at frequencies up to ten million cycles per second.

WITH THIS APPARATUS some of the first investigations leading to the discovery of the Transistor, a tiny gadget which will perform almost all the functions of a vacuum tube, were made.

CATCHING UP WITH THE WORLD

By GREGORY HEWLETT

Regardless of who may be the next President of the United States, the No. 1 domestic problem on his hit-parade will be the high cost of living, familiarly known as HCL.

It's not a new subject in any way, seeing as how it's been going on for many months, but from recent conversations we've had with a great many folks, it has long since ceased to be funny. There was a time when people joked about the cost of steak; now the same people have a tone of desperation in their voices. They see their savings dwindle and disappear, and their standard of living go down, and they're worried.

HCL affects everyone, regardless of his take-home pay, but the people who're getting the real squeeze are the low-to-middle income white collar folks whose salaries haven't come close to keeping pace with the increased prices of food and other essentials. They've been given raises, sure, but they're worse off than they were in 1939-40 if the figures on their pay checks haven't almost doubled since then. You can figure it out for yourself if you're in the group we're talking about.

Along with the lack of making both ends meet now, the same solid citizens are disturbed, we find, about the future. Remembering, perhaps vaguely, the crash of 1929 and the depression years which followed, they're afraid that we'll go through the same cycle once again . . . and that again

Our Neighbors

These events made front page news last week in the nearby community papers.

Bees was news in Ridgewood last week. A swarm of the little devils broke loose in the postoffice and had themselves a gay old time for a while using the "Money Order" desk as their landing field and from there flying to such other points of interest as "Stamps," "Parcel Post" and "Please Deposit Trash Here."

Postal employees were apprehensive for a bit, but the buzzing insects evidently were enjoying their frolic too much to molest a mere human. No one got stung.

Then to the rescue came the chief clerk of the Glen Rock Branch post office. Something of an apirist himself, he scooped up handfuls of the Apis mellifera (bees to you) and put them back in the container from whence they came. From there they were dispatched special delivery to the consignee—a local bee-keeper with an RFD address.

NOTES ON THE FOURTH

In Ridgewood the two squadrons of army fighter planes which were supposed to fly over and around during the parade turned out to be one Piper Cub and a Beechcraft. (Army reorganization you know.)

World War II vets were critical of the marching by Reserve units. (Don't be too critical boys you may get your chance yet to don O.D.'s again—and it won't be half as enjoyable as a Fourth of July parade.)

Some crafty firemen marchers in the Ridgewood parade brought milking stools with them. Whenever there was a halt the firemen promptly parked their posteriors.

And in Bloomfield their celebration was rained out, but it was held on Tuesday instead. Everyone had a bang-up time despite the change in dates. You just can't keep people from enjoying themselves.

SOFT DRINKS

The term soft drink, generally accepted to mean carbonated beverages, consists of sweetened water to which coloring and flavoring are added. If prepared under conditions of cleanliness, these drinks are relatively harmless when taken in moderation.

There is a stronger man, could have taken affirmative leadership to prevent inflation, but it must be remembered that the spiral started only after price and wage controls were removed by Congress over Truman's objections. And we must remember, too, that sentiment was strong among the people that those controls be lifted, that we get back to a "free economy" in which the law of supply and demand would work to keep prices down.

It was our feeling then, and it still is, that price and wage controls were junked prematurely. And we'll bet that more people feel that way today than they did then.

Vet Families Living in Temporary Units Happy — Others Just Wait

MRS. ROBERT MORTENSON and son Robert Jr. in front of their Wallton Avenue veteran's unit. They like it very much after a year and a half's occupancy.

JOHN COAD

A little over a year and a half ago newspaper headlines were full of veteran's housing. It was one of the major problems of the day. Now those headlines have largely disappeared. That, however, doesn't mean the problem has disappeared too.

For in Linden there are still something like 700 applications on file—they have erected 104 units for veteran families. South Orange still has well over 100 on its waiting list. But the fuss and long impatient-waiting lines seem to have subsided.

Ray Hurley, the youngish manager of veteran's housing in Linden says now it is a busy day if more than three home seeking vets a week come into his office. A year ago it was a different story. Then it was one long stream of young veterans; all demanding a place to live.

No More Funds

One of the major reasons for this decline, he says, is the fact that new veteran's housing is practically non-existent. There just aren't any more appropriations to build new units.

Vets who were lucky enough to be selected as occupants in those units erected seem to be tickled pink with their fortune.

Mrs. J. E. Rock, who has been living for about a year and a half in one of the four-room units on Walton road in South Orange bemoaned all over when we asked her how she liked her veteran's settlement.

"We like it very much," she said, "and we are going to stay here as long as possible."

Her husband is an engineering student at Newark College and will graduate in about two years.

Emergency Case

She, her husband and three week old baby were an emergency case a year and half ago when they received notice to move into their Walton apartment. They had no place to live and her husband had been just recently discharged from the army.

Now they have four rooms—a living room, kitchen, two bedrooms and shower—all for $32 a month plus utilities. And says Mrs. Rock the fenced in lawn in front of their home is a wonderful place for their child, now a year and a half, to play. They feel they are very lucky people.

Mrs. Robert Mortenson, the Rock's next door neighbor agreed. "They have done a wonderful job here," she said, "and we too are going to stay as long as they will let us."

For the second year that this survey has been conducted, Union County roads were included to the full length of their 150 miles with the cooperation of the Board of Chosen Freeholders, County Engineer and the County Agricultural Agent.

As chairman of the state-wide survey, Mrs. Chester Schomp of Whitehouse presented the representatives of the cooperating groups who, as a whole, congratulated the winners of awards and stressed the rigid compliance with the high standards set down as a guide in determining the winners.

Keep Waiting

None of the veterans complained of maintenance difficulties. It's been a lucky break for them and they appreciate it.

"As Mrs. Mortenson said, 'If we had to move now I don't know where we would go.'"

As for the other vets, many of whom are probably still living under difficult housing conditions, Hurley has the answer for their seeming disappearance from the picture.

Says he, "It's like me. I put in an order for a car a long time ago. Haven't gotten it yet. You just keep waiting."

Workshop in Human Relations Opens for Second Year

The second annual Rutgers-University Workshop in Human Relations opened last week with 45 participants from all sections of the state.

The workshop, co-sponsored by the university, the New Jersey Region of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and the Division Against Discrimination of the State Department of Education, develops and teaches modern techniques in eliminating tensions between population groups with differing racial, religious and economic backgrounds.

Emphasis is being placed this summer in the six-week course on special training for teachers, guidance workers and other community and civic leaders to aid them in avoiding pitfalls in de-segregation and to promote better inter-group relations both in the classroom and in general community life.

Methods by which industrial workers and professional persons may improve inter-group relations in their spheres also will be a feature of this summer's workshop. Industrial and professional workers are joining teachers and other community workers in the course for the first time this year. The first industrial worker was sent by the Passaic Welfare Council. A member of the nursing profession has been sent by the New Jersey State League of Nursing Education.

The Teen-Ager . . . . . Looks Around

By S. ROBERTSON CATHER

A friend of mine was coming home from a party late one night when he fell asleep at the wheel and wrapped a widow around a very hard tree. His mother was already for foliage. All about him are other carved stones resting on the grass and giving the place a look of barbaric splendor.

There is something tranquil and solid about a very old cemetery and the epitaphs make you smile. But their modern counterparts will never age and mellow into anything kindly and venerable. They are hard, brittle and showy. Age may dim their glory but it will never transmute anything in the way of serenity or peace to their look.

And, oh yes, I almost forgot. There were hundreds of dollars worth of floral pieces banked around the grave, left to wither and die. Their cost could easily have built and paid for a hospital room or given a year's care to an invalid.

They tell me this was a Christian burial. They say that cost should be no object at a time of grief. They say it was a correct—dignified—right. But I wonder.

Very Expensive

His remains in their shiny-box with the shinier handles, were placed in a large cement lined hole over which was placed a large stone monolith of a sad gray color. Cost: more than his mother could afford.

Now he lies under a stein of green grass and elegantly cared

WHAT SHOULD BE DONE WITH DOGS?

From time-immemorial a dog has always been looked upon as a boy's, and, often, a man's best friend. We do not quarrel with this belief, we think dogs are fine, also.

But we must all remember that the ownership of a dog places a responsibility upon the owner of such an animal.

Have you dog owners ever stopped to think of suits and claims for damages that could be brought against you in the event that your dog should ever decide, for one reason or another, to bite somebody?

If such a thing should happen, and more particularly if your animal has developed rabies, do you realize the expenses you would be faced with from those people who were bitten by your dog?

Do you realize that, under the old style owners, landlord and tenants public liability policy, such a loss is not insured against unless your dog is careful enough to bite someone on your own premises. If he or she, as the case might be, decided to bite someone in front of your neighbor's home, around the block, or anywhere away from your own premises, the policy referred to does not cover either the expense of defending any suits brought against you nor the verdicts granted against you in connection with such suits, unless and until such a policy is endorsed with a so-called "dog endorsement," which calls for an additional premium.

We do not blame you if you didn't have a proper knowledge of the above facts. A great many of our competitors don't know it either. If your agent comes to you at this late date and asks questions concerning your ownership of a dog, you will realize what prompted him to venture forth from his office on such an errand, won't you?

Incidentally, the policies issued by this office always cover you properly, we do the thinking for you, and, what is most important for you to bear in mind, we do it before any loss happens. Why not have this office make a review of your present insurance policies in order to find out if they cover you against every kind of possible loss. Such an analysis by us will cost you absolutely nothing, and will entail no obligation on your part.

By the way, a homeowner, if properly advised, hasn't bought the old style owners, landlord and tenants public liability policy referred to above, for years. Ask us why.

We do not sell real estate, bonds or mortgages, BUT we do sell EVERY kind of insurance written in this country today.

Next Monday, the Paper Mill Playhouse will celebrate its 2,000th operetta performance with a revival of Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Mikado" which was given there first in 1940. As in their initial season, the part of Nanki Poo will be played by Donald Gage.

As early as 1928, Antoinette Scudder and Frank Carrington were discussing the idea which was eventually to grow into the Paper Mill Playhouse as we now know it. Over the years, many changes have taken place. Originally, Miss Scudder and Mr. Carrington brought plays to Millburn which were replaced in 1940 by operettas and the season has grown from 15 to 46 weeks. They can now boast of 73 different productions, with a total of 36 different operettas including "The Desert Song," the most performed operetta, "The Student Prince," "Naughty Marietta" and Blossom Time, which have had over 100 performances each. Both Clarence Nordstrom, featured comedian, and Donald Gage, male lead, have played over 1,000 performances. David Tall, of the singing ensemble, holds the record with some 1,500 performances.

Park Theater Features "Blood and Sand"

The Park Theater is featuring "Blood and Sand" and "I Wake Up Screaming" Friday and Saturday, "Heart of Virginia" and "The Argyle Secret" are playing Sunday and Monday.

Don't forget the big Midnight Harvest Show at the Park, Friday, July 16, at midnight. Asylum of Horrors with the Frankenstein Monster taking over the stage and "The Brighton Strangler" showing on the screen. Come and howl and scream with the rest of the crowd.

TB COMMUNICABLE

Tuberculosis is a communicable disease and now that it has been almost completely eradicated from cattle it is safe to say that each new human case comes from some other human case. However, because the infection may remain latent in the human body for years this task presents difficulties which are not found in the control of more acute communicable diseases.

A recent analysis of U. S. Navy personnel figures shows that over 40% of the present Regular Navy officers are former enlisted men.

"Chirpy" Dies in Tragic Accident

THOSE WERE HAPPY days when Geraldine Vitelli and "Chirpy" the tame sparrow, played together. But it was "Chirpy's" hunger which led her to meet an untimely death. She was smothered while trying to attract the Vitellis' attention to the fact that breakfast time was at hand.

"Chirpy," the entertaining little sparrow who boarded and lived with the Vitelli family of Millburn for the past few weeks died a week ago last Monday morning. "Chirpy" died because she liked to eat too well. "Chirpy's" passing leaves a hole of sadness in the Vitelli family.

Mrs. Vitelli expressed family sorrow when she said: "I feel awful now that 'Chirpy' is gone. She was so cute."

And Geraldine Vitelli, age 6, feels particularly sad about her tiny playmate's death. Her mother says that Geraldine wants another tame sparrow who will eat out of her hand and go on walks with her.

"Chirpy" met her untimely death perhaps because she had absorbed the all too human penchant of greediness in her short association with her earth-bound friends. She was too greedy for her breakfast. It was her death.

Wanted: Breakfast

Mrs. Vitelli said that on Monday morning "Chirpy" flew to her where she lay still sleeping. And, as was her habit, pecked on Mrs. Vitelli's cheek to let her know that it was time for breakfast. But Mrs. Vitelli paid no heed to "Chirpy's" insistent demands for food. Evidently then "Chirpy" flew to Geraldine's bed where she tried to attract the child's attention.

According to Mrs. Vitelli, Geraldine must have awakened and accidentally rolled over on "Chirpy" smothering the friendly little bird. Geraldine came running to her mother tearfully crying: "Mama I've killed 'Chirpy.'"

The Vitellis aren't the only ones who will miss "Chirpy." Customers at the New Millbrook restaurant, operated by the Vitellis, will also miss her cheery friendliness. No longer will they be amused by the gay abandon with which she used to throw checks on the floor from her perch by the cash register. No longer will "Chirpy" fly to them begging for scraps of food. "Chirpy" lived a short life, but it was a good one. She made many friends.

U. S. Navy recruiting stations in San Francisco and Los Angeles placed first and eighth respectively in nationwide percentages of quotas enlisted during the first quarter of 1948. San Francisco's 341.7% of quota was 8% better than its nearest challenger, while Los Angeles was not far behind with 115.4% of quota.

Players from all over the country come to the Paper Mill but there are many local and neighboring artists also used. Some of the local performers are: Milton Schauler, Louise Hoffman, Nancy Kellogg, Elaine Hausmann, Franklin Spivey, James Bird, and John Henson. Janice Bodenhoff of Maplewood went from the Playhouse to Broadway for "Anne Get Your Gun" and Gladys Justesen of East Orange, another Paper Mill alumnus, is now in "Showboat" in Chicago.

The Paper Mill has not only helped people on their way to success, but also has featured many who were well known, among them Dorothy Kirsten, Wilbur Evans, Dorothy Sandlin, Rosemarie Brancato, Lucille Manners, George Britton, Andzia Kuzak, Harold Patrick, Ralph Riggs and Helen Glendon.

John Charles Sacco, a Summit resident, is Musical Director for the Paper Mill. Before coming to the Playhouse, he was the Associate Director of the St. Louis Municipal Opera Company. He has also composed a number of songs. Dennis Day has recorded Sacco's "With This Ring I Thee Wed" and Eleanor Steber and James Melton have recorded his song "Rapunzel."

The Paper Mill Playhouse has definitely put Millburn on the theatrical map and it has gained a position of great prestige as well.

RECORDS

Seventy-one years ago, New Jersey's Thomas Edison developed the first machine to reproduce the sound of the human voice. Many great improvements and changes have been made since then in recording. There were cylindrical records followed by flat discs, single-sided then double-sided. Now tape and wire are also used.

In 1939, Columbia Records started experimenting with an idea which would allow for more music listening from a single disc. A short time ago, they made their discoveries public with what they call LP (for Longer Playing) Microgroove records. With these LP records, we can now hear up to 45 minutes of music from a single 12" disc. This is made possible by the use of a groove 1/3 the size of the present standard one, with the disc played on a turntable rotating at 33 1/3 revolutions-per-minute instead of the present 78 rpm.

There are several advantages in these new LP records. They are made of nonbreakable Vinylite, allowing longer needle wear, supposedly better fidelity, and admitting less distortion of sound. It will be considerably easier to store these LP records than our present albums. The two most important advantages are in their price and that it will now be possible for us to listen to a full symphony or concerto with no or only one interruption. The prices range from $2.85 for a 10" Popular record to $4.85 for a 12" Classical Masterworks. Ordinarily the latter would be equivalent to 6 shellac at $3.00 or Vinylite ($13.00) records.

The only apparent obstacle in the way of using LP records is that a different type of player is needed. So far Philco is the only manufacturer of these new instruments. The player Philco is putting out can be attached to any radio or phonograph and will cost $29.95; this can be used in addition to the older type, therefore our present records will not become obsolete.

Columbia has an initial catalog of 101 LP records covering more than 325 classical, semi-classical, and popular compositions. They plan to add most of their new releases to their list and add other selections from their present catalog as demand warrants. The present list of available LP recordings is very well chosen. It

Theater Showcase at Frank Dailey's Meadowbrook presents its second attraction, Moss Murt's and George S. Kaufman's "The Man Who Came to Dinner," Tuesday, July 13 through Sunday, July 18.

One of the principals in the cast Marcia E. Wilson of South Orange plays the role of Maggie. Theater Showcase's third production will be "Petticoat Fever," opening Tuesday, July 20.

Young People's Concert to Be Given at Mosque

As a feature of its forthcoming 1948-49 season, the Griffith Music Foundation will present a series of six Young People's Concerts at the Mosque Theater, Newark, starting October 30.

The concerts will be presented by the Little Orchestra Society of New York—one of the most enterprising of the newer musical organizations to win public acclaim in the last two seasons. The concerts will be held from 11 a. m. to 12 noon on the following six Saturdays: October 30, November 12 and 27, December 11, January 15 and 28.

An outline of plans for the Young People's Concerts was made by Thomas Scherman, director and conductor of the Orchestra Society, at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Parker O. Griffith, president of the Foundation, at her home, 425 North Arlington avenue, East Orange. Members of representative parent and teacher groups in the North Jersey area attended the meeting and gave the proposal their enthusiastic support.

Scherman explained that the concerts would be a welcome departure from the traditional type of youth concert and would be planned on much more imaginative lines.

Many novel ideas would be incorporated, he added, to lend objectiveness and vividness to the programs through the interpolation of solos, interpretative dance numbers and so forth. Attention would also be paid, he said, to such problems as letting the music speak for itself, reducing narration to a minimum and compressing each program into a one-hour period.

Milton Cross, who will be narrator on the Young People's Concerts, was another speaker. At the close of the discussion, Mrs. Griffith declared that the Griffith Music Foundation had always recognized the great value of youth concerts as a means of developing musical appreciation. She declared that the interest shown in their revival was most gratifying.

"The Mikado" to Mark 2,000th Show At Paper Mill

One of the Paper Mill's most notable productions of all time, "The Mikado" with Frank Carrington's own colorful costumes will be revived to mark the 2,000th performance of musical shows at the Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburg, Monday, July 19 following the close of the extended engagement of "The Vagabond King" on Sat., July 17.

Andzia Kuzak, one of the most popular of all Paper Mill performers will make her first appearance on the Millburn stage in nearly a year when she is heard in the role of "Yum-Yum" singing the notable music of Arthur Sullivan and carrying out the satirical role of a Japanese maiden. Opposite her will be Donald Gage as "Nanki-Poo," the heir to the throne of Japan.

The principal part, that of "Ko-Ko," the Lord High Executioner has been assigned to Clarence Nordstrom, whose outstanding performance in the last edition of this tuneful work two seasons ago won him the highest praise of his long Paper Mill career. In the title role will be Frederic Persson who returned to the Millburn theater after a five year absence with "The Vagabond King."

The extraordinary career of "Pooh-Bah," known as the Lord High-Everything-Else, will once again be in the capable hands of Robert Eckles. Dorothea Berthelsen, whose contralto voice has been a highlight of Paper Mill productions this season, will play the whimsical assignment of "Katisha," the lady whose affections brings on the flight of "Nanki-Poo" and the sequence of events in the opera.

Other roles will be played by Nancy Kollogg and Miriam Walker as "Peep-Bo" and "Pitt-Sing," respectively, and by Warren Brown and Charles Fuller alternately as "Fish-Face" and "another extraordinary gentleman of 'The Mikado's' court."

John Charles Sacco will be in charge of the musical direction of the Gilbert and Sullivan score, while Peter Birch, whose work may be seen in "The Vagabond King" will again do the musical numbers.

Following the record-breaking engagement of "The Voice of the Turtle," The Montclair Theater will present another famous Broadway production, "For Love or Money," starring The Hollywood screen star, Janet Blair, in the leading role, for one week beginning Monday, July 19.

Offering its patrons leading stars of the stage and screen in famous Broadway plays, the Montclair Theater will continue its popular-price policy for the remainder of the season. Supporting Miss Blair in "For Love or Money," will be Francis Lederer, the noted stage and screen star.

 Theater will continue its popular-price policy for the remainder of the season. Supporting Miss Blair in "For Love or Money," will be Francis Lederer, the noted stage and screen star.

Last seen hereabouts on the screen in "The Fuller Brush Man" opposite Red Skelton, Janet Blair will also be remembered for her film portrayal of the title role in

My Sister Eileen

Appearing opposite Miss Blair, in the leading male role is Francis Lederer, who, prior to making his New York stage debut in "Autumn Crocus" in 1932, had been a favorite of the continent and in England. He has been in numerous motion pictures among them, "Confessions of a Nazi Spy" which he completed just before he replaced Laurence Olivier as the romantic lead opposite Katherine Cornell in "No Time For Comedy" on Broadway. Others who will be featured in the comedy are Ralph Douglas, Nat Burns and Kathleen Phelan. Director Charles K. Freeman will stage the production.

Designer William De Forest whose settings for the recent productions at the Montclair Theater have created such widespread comment, has been signed by Albert H. Rosen and Lassar H. Grosberg to do all the settings for the remainder of the season.

The film is now at the Palace Theater, Orange, in addition to Wallace Beery in "Atlas a Gentleman."

SEE THE LITTLE CARDS
 Practically every player with any pretense to knowing the game at all will notice your high card signal on his lead, and make some deduction regarding why you used it. But those of low ability—or of such supreme confidence that they are weakened by their own carelessness—will often pay no attention whatever to the message given by a small card. Yet the key to successful defense against many contracts is exactly that—the news given by the tiny newshy who in affect says: "Don't do this, do do that."

At the other table, West shifted after seeing East's 4 on the diamond lead. He laid down the heart A and then led his spade 2. With two tricks already gone South had to lose two more, so was set two tricks for a bad score as compared with the declarer who went down only one—incidentally a good score for the defenders with an alert West.

Just as there was no difference between the bidding at two tables of a pair duplicate, so there was none between the initial tricks at the two. West opened the diamond K. East play ing the 4-spot. In one case West noticed the 4 and drew conclusions which influenced his next action; and at the other he need was paid to it. Where the low card meant nothing to the non-observant West, the diamond A was led to the second trick. South ruffed that, finessed the spade 9 because of West's double, and discarded the club 2 on the diamond Q, a discard which the declarer at the other table was never able to obtain. It will be noted that South could not afford to ruff out both of his clubs in the dummy, as that would

Pictures, Plays and People

By PAUL PARKER

REVIEW OF THE WEEK: If you're looking for entertainment, pure and simple, better not see "Another Part of the Forest." On the other hand if you would like to watch some Grade "A" acting, this morbidly fascinating film should be just your meat.

It's the story of a very busy family during one of the nastiest periods of American history—the Reconstruction era following the Civil War. The film preaches no sermon, it has no moral; rather it's a well done characterization of a seething, unscrupulous family. For the Hubbards are without a doubt the most unscrupulous family group we have ever seen on stage or screen. Frederick March, the father, and a Civil War equivalent of today's black marketer, has three loves; money, money and more money. In between he manages to mix a little Aristotle and music without convincing anyone that these cultural interests are anything but purely subsidiary. His loving family consists of two sons, one an imbecille coward and the other a genius, the other a grotesque replica of himself, a promiscuous daughter and a half-dead wife.

This charming family constantly schemes, playing one against the other, to swindle their father's ill gotten gains. The eldest son finally succeeds when he discovers his father was not only a black-marketer but also a traitor to the Southern cause, and is wanted by a group of Confederate patriots who would like to play hot at his lynching party. By the simple stratagem of threatened blackmail the eldest son succeeds his father as head of the household and controller of the finances. The rest of the vulturous family then leave papa stranded and flock to the son's camp.

The film perhaps shows what can happen after any war; not merely the Civil War. It also caused us to speculate what with a little dressing up with modern settings, the Russians could have done with it. It would be a perfect vehicle for depicting the American capitalist at his worst.

The widely acclaimed French film, "The Well Digger's Daughter," will be the next special presentation in the Maplewood Theater's parade of international hits. It brings to the Maplewood screen for the first time the celebrated French star, Renée, whose numerous fine portrayals place him in the very first rank of screen artists. With him is the easy-to-look-at Fernandel whose continental charms must be seen to be appreciated.

It would be an overstatement to write that only the French could have made the "Well Digger's Daughter" since it is universal in theme. On the other hand none will gainsay that they have done it superbly well. On the same program will be "Life with Junior," in which Mrs. R. H. Colley of Maplewood appears. This revealing film shows in detail the work of the Child Study Association of America, and deals in part with the problem of the "difficult" child. Parents who wonder what makes a small child tick, who want to know how children are affected by war, comics, the radio, the atomic age and allied influences will find it an absorbing study. Both these films are scheduled for July 21-22.

Cecil B. DeMille, Paramount producer-director, recently presented with the Belgian "Oscar" as the most popular producer of the past year.

A Summer Handicraft Hobby

If you aren't already hard at a summer handicraft hobby, then you might like to investigate the possibilities of rug-making.

Not rag rugs, this time, nor hooked rugs, though both of these, of course, are interesting to do and lovely to look at when finished. But the kind made with a few balls of wool and a crochet hook, these being easy as pie to pack, take up little room in your luggage and add no weight to it at all.

Crocheted rugs make wonderful Christmas presents,
and they work up quickly,
too, so that before you know it, you have two or three small ones ready to tuck away in a box for tying up in Christmas wrappings when the proper times comes.

Direction for rugs, all worked in cotton rug yarn, are in a booklet, obtainable at your local dime store or at the handwork counter of department stores. We'll be glad to tell you the number of the booklet upon request, but please don't ask us for the booklet itself. We have none to give away!

BECAUSE IT'S CROCHETED IN SEPARATE squares, the rug makes fine summer picnic work. Each square takes four balls of cotton rug yarn, and you can make the rug any size merely by crocheting the right number of squares.

Begin Planning Now
For Summer Picnics.

Summer months mean picnics galore. It's time to enjoy outdoor suppers on the porch or backyard, doggie roasts or fish fries along the brook or in the park.

The family that keeps the picnic equipment and supplies of paper cups, plates and napkins in one place is ready to take off at the drop of a hat; nothing will be forgotten.

Of course, the food must be included. A collection of picnic menus kept on hand saves time and thought.

The "let's go" picnic would be the kind where the food is bought at a store on the way. But you'd have a menu already prepared, to remind you what to buy. Buns or rolls with hamburgers, frankfur-ters or bacon and tomato combination serve as the hearty part of the meal. Potato chips, celery or radishes add something crisp.
Fruit or perhaps cookies complete the picture. A beverage will be needed—milk for the children and coffee for adults. This same type of menu also fits the back yard picnic lunch, with the hamburgers cooked in the house if you don't have an outdoor grill.

The more elaborate picnics really take much more preparation and thought. Here's a menu that is fine for the out-of-doors, or the dining room table if the weather turns bad. Fried chicken or baked ham, several types of bread for sandwiches, mixed green salad to be made at the picnic, coffee and watermelon.

Two Best Recipes

Editors Note: Send in your favorite recipes to the "Two Best Recipes of the Week" Contest. All entries should be addressed to the Home Editor of this paper. At the end of the month Mrs. Mary W. Armstrong, Union County Home Agent, Rutgers University Extension Service, will again judge the recipes submitted.

Mrs. Homer Butler, Union, this week submitted one of her favorite recipes for cherry jam. The cherries for Mrs. Butler's jam come from a cherry tree in their back yard.

Says Mrs. Butler concerning this cherry tree:
"When we built our home in Union 23 years ago we planted a sour cherry tree in our back yard. Fortunately we chose a location near our porch or I am sure the birds would have had the lion's share of the fruit. As it is, they eat the fruit on the top of the branches while we make a mad scramble for the lower ones in order that we may have a few for pies and jam."

CHERRY JAM
submitted by
Mrs. Homer Butler
Union

Cook 5 cups pitted sour cherries in kettle over low flame about 5 to 8 minutes, and pour off juice.
Add 1/2 cup sugar for each cup raw fruit and cook 20 to 25 minutes. Pour into sterilized jars and seal with paraffin. The extra juice can be used for jelly made with Certo.

POTATO-RISK ROLLS
submitted by
Mrs. E. S. Willis
Summit

1 cup mashed potatoes
1 cup sugar
3 eggs
4 cups flour
1 cup lard
1 teaspoon salt
1 yeast cake
Mix potatoes and sugar while potatoes are hot. Dissolve yeast cake in 1 cup of warm water (or potato water). Let sugar, potatoes and yeast stand over-night.
In the morning add salt and egg well-beaten (the whole egg). Mix hard and add it to the above mixture and enough flour to make it stiff but not too stiff. Let rise 2 hours, make into rolls and raise

Many Growers Picking
Corn in Early Morning

Many more New Jersey families and those in Philadelphia, New York City and Washington will be able to get garden fresh sweet corn thanks to the early-morning sweet corn marketing program being carried on by many growers in the Garden State.

Members of the Beverly Co-op are expecting to market at least 75,000 bushels of sweet corn this year, and many other growers in the state have arranged to supply their local markets with freshly picked corn.

Realizing that it's only a matter of hours before the sugar in corn turns to starch unless the corn is refrigerated, many growers are picking their corn in the early morning. They have the corn in nearby markets ready for sale as soon as the store opens. Corn that is shipped some distance is often processed and canned in California trucks. Some roadside stand operators are picking corn several times during the day, so their customers get fresh corn.

Whether folks disagree on the merits of young or mature corn, they all agree that corn's appeal is its sweetness. And that's what these improved marketing practices are preserving.

Don't Forget Indoor Shots—
Any Camera Can Take Them

Too often, people think the only place to take pictures is outdoors in bright sunlight. That is the most convenient place, but indoor pictures shouldn't be overlooked.

The light from a direct beam of sunlight streaming through a door or a big window, unobstructed by any roof or trees outside, is almost as strong as the sunlight outside. The exposure often is only a little more than for outdoor snapshots, and you can take pictures even with a box camera.

It is well to take the picture with the light source as close behind you as possible. The reason?
The side of the picture away from the sun will be in deep shadow.
You don't want too much of it in the picture, but some lends striking contrast.

The shadow side, incidentally,
can be lightened by use of a reflector. Hang a sheet close-by so that it reflects the light back onto the subject. The sunlight will "bounce" off the sheet onto the subject.

Take Advantage of Sunlight
In taking advantage of sunlight coming through a window, the subject should be close to the window, within three feet or so.

Pictures further inside the room, where the light is considerably less, require either fast lenses or long exposures. The light varies so much that it is well to use a photo-electric exposure meter. If one is not available, an exposure of Super XX film of 1/5 second at f: 4.5 or more is a good guess in a normally lighted living room.
The photo flood lamp opens new
