Of course, Republican party members don't hesitate the slightest in predicting Springfield will smash GOP vote records in an all-around victory. . . on the other hand, Democrats, party splits taken into consideration, scoff at any mention of the word "defeat" . . . and so, if you plan wagering a buck or two on the local outcome, we hear on good authority that smart money is riding on the heads of Brown and Sheehan ... that's only heresay, mind you, and we say again, only a fool makes elecpredictions and bigger bet their hard earned on the same!!

Suppose for example "Big Tim" on the Township Committee Jannary I would be three Democrats and two Republicans . . . there would be more newspapedmen at that reorganization meeting than have ever congregated at one place in this town before . . . lots place, including the naming of a the mayor . . . and if you don't think there'll be lots of hootin' and howlin' over that you're all

Just between us, anti-Turk Democrats blame George's burning desire to become mayor as the real reason for the party

We don't think Al Binder enhanced his chances for victory the other evening at the Citizens' League candidates' night when he failed to admit that "well-located" light industry" would help in trimming the tax rate.

Received this note from a fellow who calls himself "a Reg-Istered Democrat": . . . "Would you be good enough-to-inform Mr. Fred Brown that I can tell him of twelve votes he'll be receiving that would have ordinarily been cast for the Dompcratic candidate. If he cares to thank the responsible party, he may thank Mr. George Turk, our town committeeman. Mr. Turk is doing more to help the Republicans than some of the best Springfield Republicans."

A real estate man in a neighboring community complained to Town Clerk Treat last week that he lost a sale because his prospect noticed chickens being raised on an adjacent property . . . Treat quoted himself as making this reply: "Springfield is a rural community and we intend to keep it that way. If your prospect doesn't like chickens better let him buy a house in the city."

From here on out all sidewalks in various areas throughout the township will be uniform or the Township Committee will want to know why . . . before laying sidowalks contractors must submit plans and specifications to Town Engineer Lennox.

The new Smith & Smith Home for Services in Morris avenue will be completed about January 1 . . the old house in front of the new establishment, a Springfield landmark, came down this week.

With election time only a few days off, might be smart once again to make mention of the fact that we're still waiting for that picture of "Mystery Man" Symington . . . can't tell, there might be another tie vote!!!

Harold Kelly, president of the Springfield Democratic Club, and published in the papers last week. I also wish to state my reasons for being inactive in local politics during the past year.

"Last week Mr. Kelly published anarticle under his name inferring the land donated by, Springfield that I was supporting Republican for recreational and park pur candidates upon the promise of receiving a lucrative township job. Doubting Harold Kelly's ability to write such an article, I challenge him or his ghost writer, George M. Gilbert G. Anthony, president of the group and-a captain in the Roselle department, will be in charge.

Large Attendance At Candidates' Nite

More then 100 of Springfield's civic minded residents received first hand impressions of the four men running for the Township Committee at a Candidates' Night, ponsored by the Citizens' League, last Friday evening in James Caldwell School.

The heated charges and counter charges reported in newspapers did not result in the expected-fireworks. The skillful and impartial chairmanship of O. C. Cool, selected by the league as moderator, was said to have stymied_this.

Following introductory remarks in which Cool stressed the non-partisan work being done by the eague through its, board of directors, and the need for greater citizen participation, each candilate made a general campaign statement. Unsigned questions submitted by the audience were screened on the spot by a committee to eliminate uny aimed at single candidates They were then passed to the moderator who asked the question of each candidate in turn. First, in prepared addresses, Republicans Albert Binder and Committeeman Brown took the netional GOP lines of unity and accused their opponents of playing up dissension and partisan polities. They stood on the record of oust GOP-controlled committees. Democrats Paul T. Callaban, or ganization-backed, and Timothy J. Sheehan, who withdrew from the Democratic Club, feuded only The latter condemned party-line voting and said if elected he would vote as he pleased. Sheehan contended he was "committed to no one" and

New Union Plant May Be Boon Here

Local real estate men are look ing forward to a miniature-boom in home buying which may come about as a result of the announcement last week by Purolator Products, Inc., of Newark, concerning its purchase of a 30-acre site in Union, near the Springfield line, for a new plant it which it expects to employ about 1.000 persons.

The property, a section of the Battle Hill Golf Course, is a Liberty avenue and Spruce street, between Morris avenue and Route 20, and was bought from the Springfield Golf Club.

The golf course has been redesigned to permit its continued use. The site has a historical association. On it was fought the Battle of Springfield in the American Revolution.

The company, which manufactures oil and fuel filters, is observing its 25th anniversary. It plans to construct on the new site a one-story plant containing more than 200,000 square feet of floor

Until three weeks ago the local campaign pitted solid Republican forces against solid Democratic forces, but then Timothy Sheehan dropped a bombshell in the ranks of the Democrats by announcing he would continue in the race as an Independent candidate. Previous to Sheehan's declaration the campaign had been very ordinary, ut at this writing it has developed into an interesting battle.

Sheehan-Binder? The Sheehan-Albert Binder conflict for the two-year-term on the governing body is the subject of much speculation. For the most part observers believe the race will be very close. Sheehan definitely has won many Republican votes as a result of his outbursts against Committeeman George Turk, local Democratic leader. The Dewey trend, however, is believed by many to be so great as to sweep with it many Republican officeseekers who otherwise might have a difficult time.

Fred A. Brown, veteran among veterans when it comes to local officialdom, probably will defeat is Democratic opponent, Paul T. Callahan, by a comfortable margin, it is predicted. Initially Callahan and Sheehan were "buddybuddy" in the campaign, but Sheehan ended that with his resignation from the Democratic Club. Organized Democrats meanwhile are throwing the full weight of their support to Callahan

Service Called Key To Rotary Success

Nearly 200 Rotarians from six clubs in the 183rd District Tuesday noon at Hitchin' Post Inn heard Herbert Schofield, past president of Rotary International of Great Britain and Ireland, urge them to conduct their lives along a standard of ethics which will con tribute to-an international plan for the future characterized by a renaissance in many fields. The interclub conference was conducted by the Springfield Club. Milton Keshen, president of the host club, welcomed the diners.

Mr. Schoffeld, who is president of the Crabtree Electrical Indusirles of England and president of Lufborough University, expressed appreciation of what the linited States is doing for England as part of the European Relief Program. He said that despite some criticism, the bulk of British people are extremely grateful for the ald they are receiving.

According to Mr. Schofield, two turning points in world history may be marked by the atom bomb the signing of the United Nations Charter. He said the first event may terminate world history, whereas the other can bring the millenium of world peace. Men, today, he told the Rotarians, are facing the problem of ethics, not physics. He urged them to recognize the merits of such elements as honor, truth, mercy, trust and sanctity of pledges. He sald that totalitarian ideals would cast these aside and devalue human life to attain power.

The character of men called to use power today is the key factor n world life, the speaker asserted. He told the gathering that they, as part of the world, are confronted with wonderful opportunities. Rotary must advance or rereat, it cannot remain static, Mr. Schofield asserted. Too many peopla today are poorly informed on current events which thus leads to confusion, he said. He attributed much of labor's unrest today to a lack of knowledge of concise facts. Rotary is of great potential importance as a focum minding that the life of a true

PAUL T. CALLAHAN For Efficiency in Government

CALLAHAN PLEDGES ..

BUILDING CODE 1. Immediate adoption of a modern building code to outlaw abuses of Springfield's antiquated and outmoded construction regulations.

PARKING

2. Immediate action to solve the Morris avenue trafffic problem in a manner which will meet with the approval of all of interested parties.

ROAD DEPT.

3. Immediate steps to have the Road Department_ready_for_ any emergency. This means a termination of the policy of fighting snow storms with a "wait and hope" program.

FINANCES

4, Immediate investigation of the financial situation of the Township with a view toward investment of idle funds in short term, interest bearing, government securities. This means no more fence-straddling on the opportunity to earn substantial returns on Township funds paid by taxpayers.

PURCHASES

5. Immediate inauguration of a policy of careful analysis of all bids so that the Township may benefit from selection of the lowest. I will never have to apologize, after making contractural recommendations, for failure to notice a lower bid.

RECREATION

Girl Scout Corner | Molly Selander By Teresa Doherly

Sunday, October 31, is Juliette Low's birthday. It is the day on which all Scouts pay honor to her who organized the first Girl Scout troop in the United States. From a handful of girls who formed the first troop, there has grown the largest organization of its kind for girls in the world-the Girl Scouts of the United States of America whose total membership now is almost a million and one-

WHEN the thermometer starts dipping downwards, don't take a chance on having your water pipes freeze.

YOU can save yourself a lot of trouble and expense if you take a few simple precautions while there's still time.

HERE'S WHAT TO DO:

- WRAP exposed pipes in newspapers, rags, or burlap.
- TURN OFF and drain outside fixtures.
- PLUG UP drafty cracks and repair broken window panes to make your basement snug against the cold.

TO THE EDITOR

Letter to Mr. Handville Editor, Sun:

Your letter enswering my son Paul's letter of several weeks ago although short and snappy does not answer his question. This leaves me in a quandry as to whether as a father I gave him everything in the way of education and training that I should. I have been rather proud of him as he has a good reputation as a man and for having a very level and sensible head on his shoul-3 at 2 p.m. in the chapel.

After four years of combat duty all-over the world he was selected by the Navy to teach future officers at the University of Pennsyl vania. We all know that the standards of the Navy are rather high so it would seem that Paul has considerable administrative

I have known his opponent for great many years and person ally I like Fred Brown but in all the years he has been on the Township Committee he has never proposed a single thing that would have benefited the Taxpayer of the Township.

His vocabulary at the committee table has been limited to yes and no, yes to all proposals made by members of his own party and no to those of the Democrat member: of the committee regardless of their merits.

I am sure that Paul will do much better than that, and vote yes to any proposal that will bencfit his fellow taxpayers and no to anything that will not regardless of which side of the fence it comes

I also remember that Mr. Brown was on the Township Board when the sewer was put in Springfield and, while the sewer was very much needed, it was not neces sary to put it through swamps and other places in the Third District where many people lost their property and life savings because of the unfair method of assessment in their cases.

Now what is troubling me as a father is, are you comparing Paul and Fred Brown with what you thought of Fred at Primary time or has Fred in a few months be come "Alert and Progressive,"

Sincerely, JAMES A. OALLAHAN.

Ordinarily I would not bother to answer a letter composed of half-truths and pure fiction, but I think that a man in Mr. Beardsley's position should be brought up to date in matters pertaining to Springfield.

In his letter to the editor of the Sun, he makes a great play upon the Republican's interest in the welfare of Springfield. He also states that they (the Republicans) place Springfield first and party

Has he forgotten the attempted deal which would have placed Mr. Bauer of Elizabeth in the position of Townshin Attorney in payment of a -committeemen | ye why they preferred Mr. Bauer York City, a cattle firm, where he over Mr. Darby.

I will refresh Mr. Beardsley's memory for him. The answer was "We have our reasons." I presume that this is Mr. Beardsley's idea of a logical answer.

• Ever see telephone poles inside a building with telephone men working on them while standing on the floor? We have them here in

New Jersey-and they play a big part in giving you good telephone service.

• Along with other types of telephone equipment these poles are located in one of our telephone schools. Every day you'll find groups of telephone people in the "classrooms" learning the latest methods for doing work skillfully and safely.

• Some of these students are youngsters in the telephone business—some are experienced telephone men. But they're all there for the same reason: To get the training and retraining necessary to assure efficient operation and maintenance of New Jersey's telephone system.

TO THE PEOPLE OF SPRINGFIELD:

As the important day draws near, we invite your attention to the qualifications of the men selected by the Republican Party to conduct the affairs of our Township.

> MR. FRED A. BROWN, candidate for the three year term, needs very little introduction to the citizens of Springfield. As head of the Street Department he is a familiar figure-in-all-sections of the community. Considering the limited amount of equipment available his work during the snow storm last winter was truly a marvel of efficiency. He is a hard-working public official, giving practically twenty-four-hour service to the people and we heartily-recommend him for your support.

> In selecting the candidate for the two-year term the Republican voters have wisely chosen a man entirely new in the political field yet vitally interested in the affairs of the community.

> -MR. ALBERT_G. BINDER, of 37 Tower Drive, is a business man of unquestioned ability and sound judgment. His decision to accept the nomination was motivated by no desire to build up a political organization, but to do his part as a public-spirited citizen by endeavoring to keep Springfield the kind of community we all wish it to be. He has made no commitments or promises to any group and we feel assured that his decisions on any problems that may arise will be made for the benefit of the entire community.

We respectfully solicit your favorable consideration for these two candidates in order that Springfield may continue to go forward in becoming one of Union County's foremost home communities.

In order to avoid the usual evening rush and standing in line, we urge you to vote EARLY, in the morning if possible. (Polls open 7 a. m. to 8 p. m.).

MOUNTAINSIDE — The Mountainside Community Association Blue Star Post this year will ask the people of the Borough to contribute in larger proportions than ever before for the support of local social agencies. On Tuesday night, the budget for the year was established at $4.245. This is an increase of $825 over the amount raised last year. This increase is due partly to the rapid growth of the Borough and the resulting expansion of the programs of the various agencies. Two factors, however, have more specifically caused the increase: (1) Under the guidance of the Civic Council, a recreational program with a full time director has been organized to provide activities after school hours for the young people of the Borough. To enthusiastic supervision Menerth and James Hoag; entersupply and sufficient facilities for this program, adequate funds will have to be obtained. (2) In the past several years, funds have been raised and set aside for the eventual purchase of new ambulance for the Mountainside Rescue Squad. The vehicle now in operation is twelve years old and major repairs are immediately required. In view of these conditions, the Mountainside Community Association, after considerable investigation and deliberation has included in its budget a separate fund of $1,000. This amount will be added to the balance now on hand for the immedlate purchase of a new ambulance.

The total budget is as follows: Boy Scouts ..... $ 539.00 Girl Scouts .....* 606.00 (Includes $200 for local Brownle & Girl Scout activities)

Bus Law Violators Face Police Action

MOUNTAINSIDE-Dr. Minor C. K. Jones, representing the safety committee of the Mountainside School PTA, complained to the Board of Education last week school buses when they stop to load and unload school children. He said he thought some definite action should be taken to enforce of standing buses, Rolf Christiansen, president, said the matter would be referred to the Police Department. Because of the number of requests which have been received by the board from various teenage groups for the use of the school auditorium at night, the board will ask representatives of the Civic Council, the Boy Scouts, the PTA and the Bugle and Drum Corps to attend the next caucus meeting of the board on Nov. 16 to discuss the matter with a view of coordinating the night activities of school children.) The board discussed the possibility of putting into use again the underground passage that goes under Route 29 near the Orphans' Home. The passage has not been kept up and needs repairing. The matter will be discussed with the borough engineer. A suggestion for the revision of the salary guide was presented by the Teachers Association and is now under consideration, Mr. Kristlansen reported.

football team literally rolled Roselle in the mud Saturday as it racked up its 12th straight victory, piling 20 points in the first period and coasting to a 47-0 trlumph.

Ken Belliveau's flying cleats churned the rain-swept field for 174 yards and three touchdowns Frank Chorniewy raced 52 yards for one score and took Belliveau passes for two more. Frank Vicendese tallied on a pass from Chor-

Belliveau opened the scoring by bucking one yard to cap a 62 yard drive with the opening kickoff. Midway in the period he registered another 6 points, this time on a 10 yard foray through center as the Bulldog line tore the Roselle forward wall to shreds, In the waning moments of the initial period the Bulldogs took over on the visitor's 48. Belliveau plunged 14 yards before Chorniewy rifled one pass for 5 yards, then faded and lofted another 21 yards to Vicendese who took it on the ten and continued over the line.

As the second period opened, Belliveau passed 18 varde to Vicendese who sped 32 vards to the Roselle 11. Belliveau bucked for three, then tossed to Chorniewy who took Regional High School's unbesten for 8 yards to the 39. He then exploded through the middle, veered slightly to his left, and raced 61 yards to score standing up. Later in the period, Vicendese grabbed a Roselle pass and took it 32 yards to their 28, but here four passes fell incomplete.

> Belliveau, midway in the third period, lofted 24 yards to Chorniewy who twisted his way 27 yards to pay-dirt. This play climaxed another 62-yard drive.

As the fourth period opened, Roy DeBerjeous intercepted a visitor pass on the homester's 24 and brought it back to the 48. Chornlewy swept right end, cut back and using his blockers to perfection sped 52 yards to the end Chorniewy's run closed the scoring as the subs replaced the remaining varsity members. The subs however put on a 50 yard drive of their own to move the Roselle 18 in the closing moments of the game.

From Coffee Pot to a Boiler, Story of Firm in Madison

units of unique design were or-dered from the Madison firm of Westcott-Alexander for installation in a new veterans' home project, financed by the government, in Springfield, Mass.

The order, while not startling, exemplifies the manner in which this new type heating unit, called the Percoflash, because of a patented percolating mechanism, has gained popular acceptance since Carl Z. Alexander, the designer, first received a patent for his boiler in 1939.

The secret of the boller's success an the firm's 61-year-old leader Alexander, explains it, is the percolating action of the water with in the boller itself.

In the Percofiash, there is small reservoir of water directly over the fire from which the patented percolating mechanism sends a geyser of water to an upper level. A second percolating unit then forces a stream of water to the uppermost steel compart ment. Only one inch of water is maintained in each of the unper steam generating compartments. CATCHING UP

Instead of catching up this week, it is an appropriate time for this observer to go out in front for a change and make a few predictions on the results of next Tuesday's elections. As we see it now, it looks almost like a pat handthe kind that sometimes gets the holder in more trouble than if he had to draw.

First off, there's the question of Good Reasons Why You Should the size of the vote. Although the vote NO on the Bond Issue." population of these United States is higher than ever before, no record will be set at the polls. The all-time voting high was back in voting yes, one for each person 1940, when FDR beat Wendel! now living under improper condi-Willkie by 27.2 million to 22.3 milllon, but four years ago, because of the war, the total dropped and young Jerseyan who is unable to it was 25.6 for the old master and 22 million for Thomas E. Dewey.

Considering the anathy of the public, we'll be surprised if the total vote this time, including NJTA are an imposing collection Thomas, et al, hits 49 million. And whose opinions, in our view, carry if that ly true the two major party more weight. We're not going candidates will share around 44 name them all, but it is significant million, with Dewey out in front that both major party U. S. Senaon his second try. Here-in-New Jersey, we should go over the 2,000,000 mark for the ander, have come out in favor of first time, the population and registration being what they are, but again we'll be surprised if we do it. In 1940, the total was 1,974,214, with Roosevelt getting 1,016,404 and Willkie 944,876, and in 1944, it was 1,963,761, with FDR leading young Tom by 987,874 to 961,835.

On Tuesday, Dewey will pick up Jersey's 16 electoral votes with some case. Our guess is that he'll poll close to a million, and that Truman will take around 800,000 ia good margin but short of that 300,000 figure which Democratic Chieftain Frank Hague threw up when he was trying-to get Happy Harry out of the race.

The Bonds Issues A lot of people, we're afraid, will forget about the two bond issues at the top of the ballot, but it is our prediction that the $50,000,000 question for a building program at state institutions and educational centers will be approved.

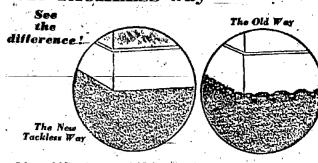

This was a hot subject in the summer session of the Legislature and it's still hot, judging from the pounds of stuff about it which comes to us thrrough the mails. Chief opponent seems to be the New Jersey Taxpayers Association which came through a few days ago with a pamphlet entitled "15

Tired of Apartment Living They Built "Vacation" Home

Short Hills Architect

The house illustrated was designed to meet the limited budget and requirements of a young married couple and small child who, tiring of apartment house living, decided to move to the more enjoyable surroundings of one of Northern New Jersey's many enchanting lakes.

The compact plan incorporates living in an area of approximately 880 square feet, Provided in the plan are a large Living-Dining area, an alcove adjacent to the fireplace with a built-in studio couch for the occasional week-end guest, and a kitchen containing all the modern-mechanical equipment so popular with the housekeeper including a washing machine, dryer and counter size hot water heater. At the owner's request, the bedrooms were kept to a minimum size, one large enough for hullt-in double deck bunks, and the other for either double or single beds with dressers and dressing table built into the space under the long West windows.

Rock and Red Cedar Because of the extremely rocky nature of the site, an excavation for a basement was impossible without extensive and coatly blasting: For this reason a small automatic_hot_water furnace was located next to the chimney and is used to heat the house through radiant heating colls embedded in the concrete. This slab forms the floor of the entire house and will be covered with colorful asphalt

Materials to harmonize with the rustle nature of the exterior will be used in the interior, as can be seen in the accompanying sketch of the fireplace wall and study. The chimney and five foot fireplace opening with its partially raised hearth are constructed of native stone and thin slabs of flagstone. The vertical boarding around the fireplace and the built in Book case and radio cabinet of clear cypress, waxed and polished to a satin finish, are used to create a dramatic contrast between the sand finished adjacent walls and brightly colored homespun curtains at the triple window.

The south wall, built entirely of glass from floor to ceiling opens onto a stone terrace, both glass and terrace being protected from the weather by the generous roof overhang.

COLOR IN YOUR HOME

Interior Decoration is an art and like all other arts has a language of its own. A finished room should present a good picture. A decorator paints with materials-andfurniture, uses highlights and shadows, light and dark, planes and spaces to make good composition, using the same principles an artist does.

Few people have the time to | study the basic color systems and a good background for you thoroughly, but a mastery of dy- than it is to be in the latest style. namic color is very necessary to For example—if green walls are originate color schemes. However,

Color plays an important part In making a room interesting and charming. Mose people notice color before they become aware of form, line, or scale Color can make e room gay and lively, quiet and restrul, or dresry and dowdy-the choice is yours. How to begin. You begin with pattern. By that we mean whatever has a number of colors in its composition-s picture, wallpaper, fabric, or rug. If you are planning plain walls and figured draperles, select the fabric first. From a patterned linen, cretonne, or chintz you find the color of your walls, floor covering and upholstery fabrics. This is especially true if you wish to have the background of the draperics match the wall color. It is much easier to mix the paint to match the fabric than it is to shop for the wall color. "Paper Sets Color Scheme Whon a patterned willpaper is used....this_sets the color scheme for you. From the paper you select the rug color, plain drapery fabric, etc. An Oriental rug is a hard taskmaster. It dictates the color ideas whether you like it or not. To do. s charming room around an Oriental rug is not impossible-it may be more difficult than using a plain carpeting, but the result oan be interesting as there are so many fascinating usable colors in such ruge.

If you have a ploture which atbracks attention because of the coloring, use that as the basis for your color scheme. Place the plature in an important spot and build your room around it. Not long ago I read an article which said, "When in doubt about the colorings for a room, buy a paintlng."

One thing that you must decide for yourself is the category in which you belong. Are you the type of person who must have the latest in everything? Must you have what "THEY" are using, or are you willing to accept original ideas? If you must have the latest, be prepared to redo your room every year or two. The latest never stays with us very long. Don't Let Style Dictate

Color schemes as dictated by style, fashlon, or current mode may or may not be in good taste, may be right or wrong for your home and you. It is far more important to select colors that make our room charming and attractive the latest mode and a green backother hand, you have beautiful auburn hair, a fair skin and green eyes, what could be more enchanting than a green wall which pre sents you as a gracious hostess and be complimented by your guests, who say, "How well you are looking." Do you really want something individual in color schemes and are you willing to accept new ideas, or are you a Mrs. Milktoast and prefer to do as the others are doing? Give yourself an honest self analysis.

Sinclair Lowis has written many satires on the American way of doing things. In one of his books he describes an American living room of the time. This is not an exact quotation, but as I remember it. "Walk down the main street -of-almost any suburban town when the lights are on-and-the shades not drawn and look into the living room. What do you see? The walls days to find a fabric that matches are a tan color of a material known as craftex. The rug is taupe. You are a sofa, a wing-phair and an edsy chair done in taupe me hair. The curtains are poness. In front of the fireplace is the bota behind which is a rectangular sofe table. On the table are two lamps and the lamps have gold shades." What monotony, Yet that was the latest fashion in those days. We have come a long way since then, but there are still many rooms which do not have any more originality than the one he described. Do use color. Don't be afraid of it. We have so much lavish color in nature that it seems a pity not to bring some of it inside the home. Good color schemes are better for you than tonics out of a bottle. They cheer you, make you happy, and work miracles for amperatures, many home gardenwho have not yet made their fail planting of spring bulbs acsume that it is too late for this work. This is not so, for as long as the soil, will orumble and can be packed properly about the bulbs the planting can be made with very assurance of success. It makes little difference to a bulb whether it is November or December as long as it can be well installed in its new location. A crust of frost on the surface of the soil will not interfere with planting but when the soll has been frozen deeply then planting must coass.

Daffodils Live for Years Daffodils are growing in popuarity in this country. They are he first major flowers to bloom in the spring preceded only by the ninor bulbs such as Crocus and Snowdrops. They provide the sarliest large flowers for cutting u well as for garden display. Great improvements have been made in sise and color and you now-have a choice of the best varicties of both American grown bulbs and those imported from Plantings will endure for years in-most gardens and particularly where the soil is well drained. There are few locations where daffodils will not live and multiply. They may be left in the ground for several years until they begin to crowd, then taken up and re-planted to cover more space. They flourish in shaded situations coming into bloom under early apring sum before the trees have formed eaves. As the season advances and the trees come to full lenf this provides the shade necessary to slowly ripen their foliage and mature the bulbs for the following rear's bloom.

Another most effective practice s to plant groups of bulbs in vaant spots all around the garden, between perennial flowers and under the edges of shrubbery, so

When we begin to get freezing | that in their season the deffodils give character and brightness to the entire garden. This method also provides concealment of the unsightly daffedil leaves, during their, maturing period, by the foliage of the perennials and the bedding flower plants set in these vacant spots for aummer bloom. Daffodils like to grow among the roots of other plants and seem to live longer in such situations, probably because these root systems carry off the excess water and keep the built in a well drained condition.

Winter Protection for Roses To provide good winter protection for your rosss, especially the Hybrid Tess, bring in soil and mound it up about alx inches above the normal soll, level around each bush. This will thoroughly protect the lower part of the stems. Don't yield to convenience, however, and use the soil around each plant for the mounds. Doing so will leave too shallow a covering for the roots and also afford a hollow where ice will form and possibly damage the rose bushes.

An Interior Which Wraps Itself Around Beautiful Exterior View

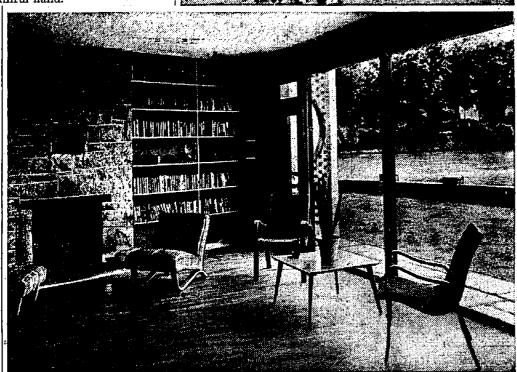

By MARION CLYDE McCARROLL

A good architect enjoys solving special problems. The task of designing a house that must take into account certain out-of-the-ordinary provisions challenges all his ingenuity, and successfully carried out, it stands as a monument to his clever imagination and skillful hand.

The waterfront home pictured here, designed by an outstanding New York architect for building on a lot situated along a cenal leading into Long Island Sound, was planned to solve two basic problems. One of them was to take full advantage of the scenic possibilities of the irregular waterfront plot while at the same time reserving utmost privacy for the occupants of the house both indoors and out. The second was to design the interior so that it would be as easy as possible for the mother in the home to keep an eye on her four small children while busy about the house.

The result was an all-on-onefloor home, with four bedrooms, a kitchen off which both a dining alcove and a utility-playroom open so that anyone working in the kitchen can keep watch over what is going on in either place, and a large living room, one end of which, facing on the canal, is entirely glass between doors that give access to a terrace outside The location of the terrace, between an angle of the house and a wall screen, keeps it completely private, while a round open space in the screen affords a pleasing

Welfare Costs Show

Although August decreases in the cost of public assistance were slight, they continued for the fifth consecutive month the downward trend begun in April of this year according to Charles R. Erdman, Jr., Commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Economic Development where public assistance funds are administered.

Slight but Steady Drop

The total of 6.944 cases granted assistance funds during August was 19 fewer than in July, and 1,530 less than the all-time high reached in March of this year. Individual persons aided numbered 14,675 in August, 48 less than the preceding month. Cash commitments of $374,629.35 were $2,-087.39 lower than in July.

Unemployed "covered" workers reached a low figure for the year with 85,800 individuals reported by the Unemployment Compensa tion Commission as unemployed

In addition to the routine cases, welfare workers in 204 New Jersey municipalities listed a total of 12,652 different special service contacte during August. Twothirds of these required service only and no public financial ald.

Program Assures Better Meals for Children

Approximately 175,000 New Jersey residents, most of them school children, get a "second helping" of more nutritious meals this year through the continued operation of the Bureau of Commodity Distribution in the State Department of Economic Development.

Under the federal-state program, food is made available to supplement children's lunches in public schools in New Jersey and in private schools of secondary grade or under, providing the schools are not operated for profit. State, county, municipal and private welfare institutions also receive monthly-allotments of available foods through the state agency.....

New Jersey's State Department of Education, which administers the school lunch program in this state, reports that total food expenditures of the school year justpassed amounted to $2,746,714.88. This amount represents only food purchased within the state, in acordance with the National School Lunch Act and exclusive of commodities supplied through the Denartment of Economic Development. The cost of having the food prepared, cooked and served in the school lunchrooms and cafeterius brings the total expenditure to $3,808,714.72. More than 000 schools in the state were aided under the National School Lunch Act last year, and 132,411 school children were also benefited by lunch programs which made use of agricultural commodities supplied through the State Department of Economic Develonment.

for-the population to reproduce itself. In suburban areas the rate is more than one, or more than enough for the population to reproduce-itself. If the sociologists are borne out by future events. suburban areas will not only increase because of migration but ilso as a result-of-their own inreasing birthrate.

New Markets

The business man too is watchng this shift in suburban areas t follows that if there are fewer esidents in the cities there will e smaller markets for their comnodities. Conversely, it means new ind broader suburban markets.

In this suburban area, populated by a high percentage of white ollar workers (41 percent of the total) over $13 million is spent yearly to house the influx of new residents. Important to note is the fact that 74 percent of the suburbanktes, a potentially rich market, live and are building one family residences. Another goodly perentage live in high level apartment units. Higher income bracket groups living in suburban areas ive in homes valued at double the State average. The average values of homes in this area as given by the U.S. Department of Commerce s $8.883. The State average is estimated at $4,451 per individual Another group of statistics graphically demonstrating the growth of the suburban area is presented by the expansion of elephone exchanges. After V-J Day there were 42,000 telephones in this area. On October 1 of this year the number of phones had jumped to over 57,000. And in the ease of two suburban exchanges, Union and Linden, the number of phones has practically doubled in the past three years.

What social effect will this rise of suburbanism have in the future? According to Park, it may mean that the family will once again become a functional unit in society. Since a suburban environment, he ays, encourages family solidarity, is opposed to family disintegration n the cities, it may be that suburoan society centered around the amily will become—a source of greater richness—and emotional atisfaction.

Ask Driving Caution Near School Buildings Motor vehicle fatalities exceed all other classes of accidental death among children of school age, warn safety experts of the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies in their annual plea for driving caution near achool buildings and buses.

School signs take on a renewed neaning at this time of year with classes opening again, The month of October is especially hazardous, occause drivers have not yet become accustomed to slowing down at school signs after a summer of comparative safety. Unless proper care is exercised by drivers and unless parents discipline their children to be careful while crossing streets, another 2,300 children beween 5 and 14 years will lose their lives in street accidents this year, the Association sald.

Time to Consider Christmas Gifts; Aprons Are Attractive By LOUELLA BELDEN REDDA

It is not too early this week to start thinking about the Christmas gifts you are going to buy . . . and to begin well in advance so that you have sufficient time to select the right ties for Dad, hubby and brother Joe; also the right aprons for Sister Sue and Aunt Mary.

The apron, by the way, is one of the most practical and attractive presents you can give. Every year it stands high in popularity because it is something that every woman, no matter what age, will enjoy getting. And this season the New Jersey stores of this area, including the Oranges, Newark and Elizabeth, seem to have more than their share of unusually attractive aprons. For household chores, it can be available in a black, cob-webby found in a sturdy, gay-flowered lace as fragile and delicate looking cotton. To be worn in the evening as the gown beneath. For tea time over a formal gown when you are or the bridge game when you are serving that midnight snack, it is a hostess it is attractive in organdy, frilled with foaming lace. And for the times when you really mean business, and are going to splatter with water or juices, you' can obtain your apron in plastic, to protect carefully the dress you are wearing. Plastic is far more interesting this year than ever before because it has so many clover designs and patterns. There are flowers, geometries, and lazy motif -all to lift the apron right out of its functional utilitarian mien, and make it smart looking as well. Class Mittens

Latest on Campus

A new item is sweeping the high school and college campuses, tak-

Changes in Shoe Styles

Fashlon glides forward continuously with the restlessness of a moving tide. It is as impossible to think in terms of the styles of a year ago as it would be to return to the newspaper of that period.

The Princess silhouette, the Empire influence, the new shoulder line and fitted waist are part of today's story. With them, comes the tremendous accent on closed toe shoes, often featuring a high front line. So you can feel that you are right when you recommend the classic opera with slightly longer vamp, the higher front line and the closed allhouette, is the advice being given this week by Harrison Brothers, designers and retailers of footwear, to their receptive consumers at the East Orange store, 551 Main street.

A large part of every fashion | made with a striped bodice was worn with a plain stole lined with cots and stock ties, which are Beauty is Often category are the high collars which Neglect may not be a part of one's dress pattern, but the effect might be achieved by tieing a velvet ribbon at the throat under the collar making it stand up in petal fashion.

Cuffs and pockets are important style details. Sults and dresses and that these possibilities are wear their pockets low, and cuffs often lost through neglect, the appear on sleeves of all lengths, wrong kind of treatment or diet They are usually narrow little turn-back cuffs, except in the case of coats where they may be of flaring fabric or fur.

Rich Trimmings

Trimmings are richly applied and with great care. Sally Milgrim embroiders motifs asymetrically on a crene dress or solidly all-over a bolero. --- Embroiderles - emphasize the line of the dress rather than merely decorate it. Sometimes allover embroidery stitching is used to add weight to the fabric.

Black velvet bow-knots appliqued on baffeta is a favorite Sophie detall. Hand - embroidered mono grams are smart on ascots and hodices. Black soutache breid beis returned to point up the Victorian aspect of clothes, and even appears n borders of little hats. A simple black braid design trims a red jacket worn with a black skirt and black jersey blouse. Black wool and jet embroidery carry out the Victorian theme, also as a collararound the jacket of a suit.

Buttons alone may dramatize simple dress. Novelty styles, gold and silver, metallic rhinestones and interesting plastic buttons are available in fascinating motifs. And, note that the plunging neckline bodice is sometimes fastened with gold type hooks and-eyes instead of buttoms.

The film version follows the play almost to a cue, perhaps a wise decision since it is hard to see how the play could have been improved upon. Fortunately the producers felt it unnecessary to inject. a lot 1 "damn" in the film Gersion, but of fancy, technical thingamabobs into the filming which so often detract from, or attempt to replace, genuinely good plot.

Irene Dunne is masterful in the representation of Mother, who wraps blustering Father around her finger, much to the Father's onsternation. Father never did inderstand the ways of the weaker ex, and in a sentence sums up his philosophy toward women in general when he tells his eldest son, You must be firm with them son." In practice Father is firm, and logical but in the Mother's case it is to little avail. Her female illoric invariably gains right of way.

Thus it is that at the film's end, Father finds himself in the carringe which will transport him to his own baptism, an act which he had always stoutly told Mother he would never be a part.

Robert Fellows, who will produce Paramount's "Wings of the Navy," story of jet pilots, has returned to Hollywood from Washington where he conferred with Navy officials on plans for the production.

Test of Photo Gadgets—Are They Worth Added Expense?

The photography industry probably produces more gadgets than any other; some are good and many are useless, or the next thing to it. The good ones catch on and become standard equipment, of course, and the poor ones drop by the wayside—but not before too many people have bought

The unfailing test of a new gedget is this: is it worth the cost something like the old extinction of buying it, and the trouble of type, but said to be much more using it? Some gadgets may do accurate than the popular photothings a truly amazing way, but electric type. It is based on comif you stop and think about it, you may find you can do the same thing more simply.,

Using some photographic gadgets is something like buying a one-ton machine which will write your name for you. It's cheaper and easier to write it yourself with a five-cent pencil. Among the new devices which promise to be valuable for special uses are these:

A remote control flashgun has been put on the market. It is set off-by-the-light-from enother flashbulb, which is picked up by a photo electric cell. The lightvelght gun will pick up the light from the bulb as much as 250 feet away, and set off its own bulbs promptly.

Why can't a cheaper flashbulb be made? They don't have to be like household bulbs, do they? A. It is handy to be able to crew them into household sockets, ilthough any base could be used for which a matching synchronizer socket could be manufactured. Manufacturers are said to be considering something else, but nothing has come of it yet.
