"Good Luck, Al" ---

The Polls Just Closed -- Harmony Prevails!!

Yes, readers, the feudin' successful Republican and unsuccessful Democratic office seekers and party leaders in the local political arena gathered in The Sun office 10 minutes after the polls closed Tuesday night to pose for this series of extraordinary pictures. On the left, wearing glasses, Al Binder, receives congratulations from Tim Sheehan. In the center, Fred Brown and Binder, seated, are surrounded by their own Republican party heads and

Republicans who lambasted the Sheehan-Turk split recently as the "worst form of political trick-. If anything, results of the election are conclusive proof the break was authentic . . . the difference in votes between Sheehan and Callahan definitely were of the throat cutting variety . . . despite anything Turk says to the contrary the Democratic party in organized form in Springfield is on the brink of collapse!!

Further proof of Democratic turbulence was in evidence in the third district just a couple of hours after the polls opened . Edna Cardinal, Frank's sixter, was said to have upset Turk by releasing to Sheehan records of who had voted up until that time . . . as an appointed election worker, "Edna _didn't_stick to the rules and George told her son that a matter of fact Turk was said to have gotten gulle rough about it.

So, we are told further, Turk's brother-committeeman. Fran Keane, decided to phone George and give him a piece of his mind for the way Edna was allegedly treated . . one word led to another and Keane is said to have told his former bosom pal that "if you insist upon disturbing the peace I will personally paste you in the jaw and knock out every tooth in your mouth, one by one!!

Turk, when told some of this juicy stuff would make its appearance in this column, said the whole story was "exaggerated 100 times, which is the usual Cardinal procedure" . . . Screams George: "That's why he's out of the club and I have witnesses that they are a bunch of dam liurs. Edna js no differont thun her brother.'

Screams Turk some more: "That fellow Kenne hasn't the nerve to put up his hands . . . he's like the guys behind him . . . just plain yellow . . I don't go in for physical violence, but you'll find no one who can say I ever stepped back or will ever step back."

And there's another story about coffee and doughnuts for the election workers in the third district, which Turk says the Democrats always supply . . . somebody said Turk openely announced the refreshments were everyone but backers of (Continued on Page 2)

Parking Ban Question Up For Approval

Morris Avenue Setup Slated For Adoption Approval of a proposal to ban

ush hour parking in the Morris avenue business area appeared cortain this week following a series of conferences on the subject in which every conceivable counter recommendation was considered and finally ruled out. The Township Committee probably will act on the subject at next Wednesday night's meeting.

Notwithstanding the governing ody's contemplated action; every effort will be made to insure of minimum of harm, if any, to merchants, according to a statement yesterday by Mayor Wilbur M. Seall-possible assistance in their move to promote off street parking, the mayor declared.

Further indication of the committee's efforts in behalf of Morris avenue businessmen, who have aw went into effect, was a conference last night between the governing body, and a representative of the State Motor Vehicle Department. Slicing the no parking time to a bare minimum was the topic of discussion.

As a result of the committee's planned action, Springfield would receive a complete new set of traffic lights in—the business area from Meisel to Mountain avenues. Saving to the township for equip- structor of Systematic Theology. (Continued on Page 2)

300 Parents Attend Regional Program More than 300 parents attended the "Back to School Night" program of the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School PTA last Thursday night in the school auditorium.

Parents visited the classrooms met the teachers and participated n 10-minute class sessions. A ocial hour was held in the cafeteria at the close of the program. During the business session, pre elded over by Mrs. Paul K. Davis of Mountainside, Mrs. Fred Wolff of Kenilworth presented the budget for the coming year which was adopted. Supervising Principal Warren W. Halsey welcomed the parents.

Plans were discussed for a card party to be held in the Baltusrol Country Club Nov. 8 for the benefit of the PTA college scholarship and. It was reported that the association is contributing towards the expenses of two students in college, and this year hopes to raise an extra $600 so that two more graduates may be given scholarships.

BROWN AND BINDER PLEDGE THEIR BEST

Editor, SUN: We would like to thank the people of Springfield for their unprecedented interest in their government as shown by the large vote at the polls on Tues-

We are deeply indebted to the people of Springfield for their confidence in us, and pledge to do all in our power to justify that confidence

We can assure you that we will give our best efforts to make Springfield a town of which we can all be proud. We ask all of the citizens to lend us their support and cooperation to attain this end. Albert Binder.

When there was no word for "earth," for "water," for "food," who made the identification and the sound for it?

Today there are volumes on volimes of words, many of them too little to be sure, and many that may well confound the beginner in the study of languages. The following verses from "Word Study' are an example of how far we have come (or are they?) The Adman's Horace ent and future maintenance has peen estimated at between $12,000 and $14,000. The State Highway Department will install the lights when the township's rush hour parking ban is approved.

At a general meeting in the town hall last Thursday night on the subject I. J. Freedman, electrical field assistant for the State Highway Department, pointed out that Springfield has been asking for signals to replace the present worn out devices; that it would cost the ownship much more to replace them on its own; and that if the proposal is turned down it wouldbe a matter of years before requests for triuffic light assistance here would get to the top of a long State-aid waiting list. He said no parking regulations in business districts have proven time and again to have no ill effect on business. The Chamber of Commerce and merchants voiced strong objections to the proposed no-parking ban. They said they would suffer tremendously more than you people can imagine." The Chamber, through Lew Sandler, its president, presented a 8-point long range business section improvement proposition, including widening of the roadway through the business section so parking could be allowed and yet not obstruct traffle flow, and the proposal that parking facilities be offered behind present store buildings.

Police Chief-M. Chase Runyon declared that it has taken years to get the Highway Department to give Springfield consideration; that it would cost the township $35,000 to install the same light system; and that the present offer of the State is a real opportunity. He intimated that parking would be restricted in the business area on one side of the street only from about 8 to 9 in the morning and 4:30 to 6 in the evening. After Freedman had explained the State's offer, the group conment of off-the-street parking in

TIMOTHY SHEEHAN THANKS SUPPORTERS

Editor, SUN: I wish to express my thanks to all those citizens of Spring: field who voted for me in Tues day's election. I wish also to acknowledge a special debt of gratitude to all those who in any manner supported my campaign. Throughout the past week their loyalty and untiring efforts have been a constant source of inspiration.

To Mr. Binder and to his associate, Mr. Brown, I wish to extend my sincere congratulations and best wishes.

Ground Is Broken For Chapel Annex

MOUNTAINSIDE - A groundbreaking ceremony for a new addition to the Mountainside Union Chapel, which will be used for a Sunday School and recreation room, was attended by more than 140 children and teachers of the Sunday School Sunday. Work on the new building started immediately and the first unit will be completed by the first of the year. Adam Valentine of Plainfield is the contractor and Joseph A. C. Komich of Mountainside is the architect.

the regular Sunday School session. Dewey G. Knoll, who has been superintendent of the Sunday School since 1941, turned the first spade of dirt for the new addition. The ceremony was brief, opening with the children einging 'Faith of Our Fathers" and a prayer by the pastor, Rev. Milton P. Achey. The Rev. M. Achev announced that the Mountainside Union Chapel has acquired the parcel of ground adjacent to the present chapel property on the west side of the church, formerly owned by the Newark Orphanage. This ground, which was planted with dogwood trees by the state in connection with the Blue Star drive, will be left intact. The center portion, which is now clear of plantings, will eventually become an additional-parking-lot for the Plans for the new addition, according to the Rev. Mr. Achey, call for an addition-60-feet-by-32-Teet to be erected on the north side of the present structure. Your Home and You

By BETTY TELFER, Short Hills BACKGROUNDS AND THEIR TREATMENTS:

Mr. Webster defines background as the ground or sur face that is represented in the rear or distance; specifically, in a picture that part which is farthest from the spectator. As a synonym he suggests setting. To a decorator a background means just that, a setting for the furnishings, draperies, and accessories; in other words, the walls and floor.

Plain walls show marks easily

There are many treatments for walls, such as paint, wallpaper, paneling, plaster, and even glass. The treatments for floors are carpeting, rugs, linoleum, wood, and stone. The treatment used depends upon the type of home, the particular room, family living, and the ever present budget. Which treatment you use for your walls depends upon what you wish to express, but all have their advantages and disadvantages. Weigh one against the other, together with your likes and dislikes, before making your final decision. To know what you want before you have the work started is important. Colonial Home that Offers Year-Round_Livability

By PAUL DRAKE

Despite the trend toward "modern ranch type homes," there is today still a demand for the more conventional yet always in good taste, colonial home.

In this instance, the modern colonial home illustrated, has the advantage of suiting well its wooded site and living in harmony with its neighbors. For it does not clash, architectur-

Official approval to proceed with plans for their housing projects were contained in a letter to the muyor of each municipality signed by William T. Vanderlipp, Deputy Administrator of the Public Housing and Development Authority of the New Jersey Department of Economic Development.

Vanderlipp explained to local officials that the $1,400,000 bond Issue to provide omergency housing for veterans had been delayed because of Governor Driscoll's illness. Without this amount, enabling the State to contribute its share of the cost, municipalities could not complete work on the housing projects planned for their communities. Sale of the bonds is expected to be completed by December 1, and State funds will then be available for the awarding of contracts.

season "Years Ago" will open a weeks engagement at the next Monday night, November 8 with matinee performances on Wednesday and Saturday. Starring will be Sidney Blackmer of the stage and screen and Hazel Dawn, the famous star of the unforgettable musical comedy success "The Pink Lady."

Frankly autobiographical, "Years Ago" is the charming and amusing account of Ruth Gordon's adolescent life in the prim and proper environ of Boston, Wollaston, Massachusetts, shortly before the First World War. The now famous actress-playwright had become obsessed with the desire to be an actress to the despair of her conventional parents and the envy of her less adventurous contemporaries, "It was an era when nice

. Joining forces with my two fa orite character portrayals at the Playhouse, those by Andzia Kuzak and Paul Reed, is a newcomer Ruth Gillette, who in this show portrays the part of Mrs. Van-Dare, wealthy widow. She is certainly the best woman comedian to be seen in recent shows at the Paper_Mill._

It was too bad that Clarence Nordstrom's part was not as neaty as some of his previous ones. As always, he tries hard to extract all the humor possible from his part but he is rather overhadowed by Miss Gillette. If Miss Gillette and Nordstrom are ever cast in equally good parts in the News Photos Are Compact.

Another thing you can learn from news photos is compactness. They must tell an entire story in very small space. Every element in the must contribute to the story; there can be no waste detail.

Making your pictures tell a story is a big key to success. That is why news pictures always show someone doing something, feeling some emotion or acting out some story A fourth important lesson news

Here is the sensational parlor football game which is entertaining football fans of all ages. ALL-STATE QUARTERBACK was devised by a high school football canch as a training method for his quarterbacks. It is based on actual statistics from hundreds of football games. It requires alertness and the proper sequence of play just as in a real contest. There are no dice, no splaners. The outcome of the game depends on football knowledge and skill, not on chance.

Other factors are low cost, convenient locations of school buildings, and suitable times for meetings. But the survey does reveal the widespread appeal adult education has for New Jersey citizens. The findings disclose a number of interesting facts: 1. Adult education appeal is found to be approximately the same regardless of size of community. Sentiment for further education is just as strong in rural areas as it is in small towns and hig cities.

2. Manual workers, white-collar workers, and farmers have about the same inclination for further schooling.

3. People in the 21,29 year age group express the greatest demand

Any show which can boast such light opera favorites as "Sym-"Giannina Mia," and 'Donkey Screnade" could hardly go wrong. These and other good numbers were effectively sung in "The Firefly" and were well recolved. It is the first show, however, since "The Mikado" in which the words were difficult to under stand. At least part of the fault lies in the orchestral accompaniment. It seemed that Charles Sacco, musical director, tried to overcome the limitations of the smallness of the orchestra by having his andful of instrumentalists play wice as loudly, thereby, drowning out the singers.

This production, except for the doubling of a few of the smaller parts nresents the most capable Playhouse since I've been attendall-around cast to be seen at the ing-their shows. The sets-and costumes are as good as we have come to expect of the Paper Mill.
