Your New TELEPHONE DIRECTORY NOW BEING DELIVERED

You'll find your new Directory slimmer, lighter, and much easier to use than the previous combined Union-Middlesex-Morris-Somerset Counties Directory.

And here's a suggestion:

Because so many new telephones have been added and so many numbers changed since the last Directory was printed, it's a good idea to consult your new Directory before making calls. And, of course, if you have a personal numbers list, it's a good idea to bring it up to date by checking with the new Directory.

P.S. Incidentally, if you would like a new Personal Numbers Booklet, your Telephone Business Office will be glad to give you one without charge.

If you need a Directory for any other area, please call your local Business Office.

ON THE SUNNY SIDE

THE MARCH OF DIMES MUST NOT FAIL

In all the excitement of inauguration ceremonies and a new administration in Washington, let us not forget that the March of Dimes campaign is with us and Springfield, as usual, is expected to reach its quota to combat this dread disease.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis reveals that since 1928 a total of $4,083,981.25 has been spent for the cure of polio patients who are residents of New Jersey.

The need for funds to combat this scourge has never been greater than it is now and the tragic history of this disease calls for generous support.

THIS MAY BE THE START OF RESTORATION

The few paragraphs in this column in last week's issue regarding the restoration of historic sites in our Springfield has inspired two...

business men proceed with plans on altering their Morris avenue front store to conform with the accepted Colonial design of Williamsburg.

The two progressive men are James Funcheon and Leslie Schulman, owners of the Springfield Mark on Morris avenue, and if they are permitted to carry out their plans, they may be the start of a series of architectural changes that may be the beginning of a better looking Springfield.

Even though a market doesn't have any place in the historical picture of Springfield, it is very commendable that these two business men should plan the kind of architecture that is in keeping with the historical values of the township.

SPRINGFIELD CONSIDERED FOR TEACHERS COLLEGE

While there is nothing official or definite, the rumors still persist that Springfield may be the site of the Teachers College which is being moved from Newark.

Springfield, however, is being favorably considered because of its location and the many available sites. One place mentioned as the probable location is the Flesher property on Mabel avenue.

Why not policewomen for school traffic duty? With the opening of new schools, the problem of added traffic duty by special police is again confronting the governing body.

BUSINESS WAS GOOD AND WILL BE GOOD

Russell Lyons, general proprietor of Russell's, the fine haberdashery on Morris avenue, believes we're for a great year of prosperity and his statement has nothing to do with the new administration.

Kids' Movie

Because of George's high position in the enterprise, his home was selected as the site for the big show and immediately the heating of the public drums started.

A total of $340 was realized as profit and yesterday, without the blare of trumpets, the three youngsters turned over this amount to the local March of Dimes committee.

Mrs. Seltzer, who shared the boys' enthusiasm as did all the parents, is still finding discarded crumbs of pop-corn and bottle tops about the house but the thrill of having these fine youngsters respond to the call of those afflicted with this dread disease, more than compensated for the extra hour of so with the vacuum cleaner and even a broken bridge chair.

Regional Contests

M. Bonifante, the incumbent, is not seeking reelection. The only municipality electing a board member which will not have a contest is Berkeley Heights. H. Gordon Faulstich is seeking the one-year unexpired term created by the resignation of Richard N. Southgate, board vice-president, whose resignation becomes effective next month.

Mrs. Helen Smith, secretary of the Regional Board, said she did not recall a recent election in which there have been contests in more than two municipalities.

In addition to the contests, residents of the four communities as well as those of Clark and Mountaintide, will vote on the 1933-34 budget.

Since 1847, when gas first flowed under the streets of Newark, this company and its predecessors have been continually engaged in supplying gas, the most convenient of all fuels.

Since its beginning—with only eight miles of main in Newark—the gas operation of this company has grown to serve a large part of New Jersey and to be one of the more important ones of the industry.

We are now serving more than 1,000,000 customers through more than 6,000 miles of main and involving an investment of a great many millions of dollars. The growth of this great gas property reflects the development and expansion of the State of New Jersey. It likewise reflects the far-seeing plans of management to be ready as the steadily increasing demands for gas arise.

Regional Drops, 2 Court Verdicts, Faces N. P'field

Roselle Park, which broke a long-standing Union County scoring record Tuesday afternoon as it routed Harrison, 103-64 at the Park, and North Plainfield are the next headchoppers for Coach Lou DeRosa's Regional basketball team.

The Bulldogs are the game's high scorer.

Regional led for the first time momentarily in the third period. Pete Witkowski dropped in two fouls with 48 seconds left to give the Bulldog quintet a 35-34 advantage, but Linden tied it, 36-34 at the three-quarter mark and rolled back into the lead to stay as the fourth can open.

Sports In The Sun

The Death of One-Half and the Birth of One

It seems that the biggest news dealing with a sport breaks during the off-season. Accordingly, the latest exploit of the National Collegiate Athletic Association is no exception.

That body outlawed free substitution in college ball and the move has created widespread furor in the coaching ranks, for it means the end of the two-plateau game.

The rule says a player who is removed from the game during the first and third quarters may not return during that period.

It has completely banished the plateau system, whereby one group of eleven men play offensive ball and another eleven play defense exclusively.

Unfortunately, or fortunately, depending on which side you happen to be, the rule will not apply to the high school for this year, at least.

All of which brings us to the present basketball "one-and-one" rule, which seems to us to be pointless. The thing that puzzles your columnist is that it has not already been withdrawn by the court solons.

The decree awards a player a second chance to make a free-throw in the event he misses his first opportunity. Of course two shots are automatic in the case of a foul committed in the act of shooting and all fouls draw two throws in the final three minutes.

We noticed recently that many referees are taking a liking to the rule, so maybe it's here to stay. The officials who favor the rule explain that the players are not relying on the second shot, but instead, they are making the initial effort.

We understand the rule is to eliminate the excess fouling. How the rule does—or is supposed to do—it is beyond us.
