School Vote Ousts Bailey; Cunningham Tops Victors As 2 Women Are Elected

Cost of New School Seen as Chief Issue

School Commissioner Herbert O. Bailey, lone incumbent among four candidates for the Board of Education, was defeated Tuesday in his bid for re-election finishing more than 100 votes behind his trio of opponents. A telephone campaign among residents of the Third District generally is considered to be responsible for his defeat.

The final tabulation showed Alan Cunningham, of 18 Clinton place, in a surprising display of strength, as top candidate, with 376. "Fishlight" second was Mrs. Gretchen Forbes, of 164 South Springfield avenue, with 349 votes. Mrs. A. Russell Miller, of 22 Park lane, was third with 332. Commissioner Bailey, who lives at 98 Henshaw avenue, had 224 votes.

Ballooning on the various budgetary items found the electorate approving them generally by margins of six to one. The yes and no vote respectively was: current expenses 276 to 40; repairs and replacements, 278 to 40; manual training, 278 to 40; capital expenditures, 264 to 54, and transfer of funds, 220 to 37.

The vote cast did not establish a record, even for an election at which there was no referendum. The previous high for a school election without a binding referendum or measure which involved a large appropriation was set in 1951 when 737 turned out. Tuesday found 465 votes cast of a total registration of 5,753.

Ballooning at the Raymond Chisholm School where voters of the third and sixth district cast their ballots was heavier than at the James Caldwell School, voting place for the first, second, fourth and fifth districts. Votes cast at Chisholm totaled 240 as compared with 225 for the Caldwell compilation. As a result balloting in two districts produced more votes than did the other four districts combined.

It was no secret that Third District residents, especially women, were very active in behalf of Mrs. Forbes, Mrs. Miller and Cunningham. Many worked zealously in the latter's behalf, fearing that he would lack support since they believed he was not as well known as Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Forbes, who are active civic workers.

School Costs a Factor

The group supporting the triad has been opposed to Bailey and several other school board members. The feeling of its members is that the board is unduly dominated by certain of its employees. Whether this contention could be proved is conjectured but this has been the basis of their opposition to one faction of the board.

This group has complained that

Red Cross Plans Change of Dates

MRS. RUSSELL POST who heads Red Cross Drive in Springfield

A discussion of the proposed change in the date for the annual chapter meeting from November to June will feature the regular monthly meeting of the Springfield Chapter of the American Red Cross on February 18 at 8 p.m., in Town Hall. The meeting will be open to all Red Cross members.

Annual Fund Drive will be held on February 28 through March 2. Springfield's quota is $3,600. Mrs. Russell Post, general chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Paul Wells, residential chairman, Grant Lennox, business section chairman, and the following 10 district captains:

District 1—Mrs. Thomas Doherty, District 2—Mrs. Bruce Evans, District 3—Mrs. Dean Widmer, District 4—Mrs. Don Hawkins, District 5—Mrs. Robert Hayes, District 6—Mrs. Charles Beardsley, District 7—Mrs. John Schaump, District 8—Mrs. Morgan Williams, District 9—Mrs. George Briggs, and District 10—Mrs. Azeleto Pancani.

Tax Collections Hit High Mark

Tax Collections in January totaled $169,821. It was revealed today by Tax Collector Charles H. Huff. This is $37,185 higher than the figure for the same month last year, he reported. The total for January, 1952 was $132,636.

Of the total figure, the collections for 1953 were $162,226. Collected for last year was $83,911 and for 1951, $41,833.

The total of delinquent taxes was $6,953. The auto bus-receipts were $404 and interest and costs on taxes totaled $191,955. Tax search fees totaled $45. There were no assessment title liens.

The increase of the first month of last year is significant, it was pointed out, in view of the fact that the 1952 collections established an all-time high.

Cardinal Case Is Set for Tuesday

New evidence, new witnesses and the summation of counsel are expected to attract another large crowd to the Town Hall on Tuesday night when the final round of the now famous Cardinal case will be staged. Frank Cardinal, former tax assessor, was suspended last October and the case thus far has produced some interesting testimony.

Tuesday night's hearing will be a special meeting of the Township Committee. Those interested in the case should attend. The Township officials hope to reach a final decision at that time.

McNaughton Rites Are Held Here

Funeral services for Mrs. Flora Blanchard Beebe McNaughton, of 142 Linden avenue, who died Sunday after an illness of several months, were held Tuesday at the Smith and Smith Suburban Funeral Home, 415 Morris avenue. Rev. Hugh W. Dickinson, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Millburn, officiated. Interment was in Palmwood Cemetery, Newark.

Mrs. McNaughton was the wife of the late Robert McNaughton, a native of Newark, who had lived here for the past year. She formerly resided in Bloomfield. Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Rudolph C. Schroeder, with whom she lived; a son, Theodore Beebe, of Scotia, N. Y., four grandchildren and a great grandchild.

G.O.P. Split Seen Over Case Bid

Beardsley Backs Paul L. Troast; Mayor Says No

With Congressman Clifford P. Case firmly established as one of the leading G.-O. P. candidates for the gubernatorial nomination a wide split is developing not only in the Union County Republican organization but here in Springfield with Mayor Robert W. Marshall staunchly supporting the Case candidacy and Charles F. Beardsley, of 163 Tooker avenue, County Republican chairman, backing the bid of Paul L. Troast, of Clifton.

Mayor Gets Support On Stand for Case

Mayor Robert W. Marshall today revealed he has received a number of telephone calls and several letters commending his stand in support of Rep. Clifford P. Case.

The chief executive told the editor of The Springfield Sun yesterday that during six years as a public official he has become impressed with the work of the Congressman as the representative of the Sixth District.

"I have taken into consideration Congressman Case's splendid voting record and the manner in which he has scored on Election Day not only here but throughout Union County. I am sure most of our voters agree with me that he would make an outstanding governor," the Mayor said.

New Jersey Turnpike Authority chairman

Newspapers throughout the State called attention to the action of Mayor Marshall in this week declaring his support for the popular Congressman who had represented the Sixth District in Washington for a number of years. However, there are many observers in the county who feel that possibly Beardsley, together with Froehlich or Albert J. Benninger, are the real contenders for many as the road major dome in county GOP politics, may be backing the eventual chief executive of the State.

Will Affect Primary

Beardsley and Marshall's difference of opinion, some observers claim, can have an important effect on the primary election here. It is expected that Mayor Marshall may have opposition in the primary and Beardsley's attitude conceivably could have an important bearing on the chief executive's bid for another term.

Marshall, in announcing his support of Case, joined with the Mayors of Berkeley Heights, New Providence, Union, Rahway, Clark, Fairfield, Fairwood, Kenilworth, New Providence and Westfield, in backing the Congressman.

Apartment Project Nears Completion

Billural Gardque, garden apartment project on Morris avenue, near Ballast-avenue, is nearly nearing completion and expected to be available for spring occupancy.

The plan by William G. Chergols, of this township, who was architect for the project, provided five buildings with sixteen apartments of 3 1/2 rooms and thirty-two of 4 1/2 with 100 per cent on-site parking facilities and twenty-one garages.

The site is close to the Short Hills station, convenient to schools and shopping and with bus service to New York and Newark.

Local Man Pays Fine of $223

Kenneth Davis, 55 years old, of 97 Diven street, was fined $200, assessed $23 costs and his driver's license was revoked for two years in Municipal Court yesterday by Magistrate Henry C. McMullen.

Davis was arrested Tuesday afternoon by Patrolman Earl Hendrickson after a truck he was driving crashed into the rear of a car at Mountain avenue and Shunpike road. Police said he knocked the car into a vehicle, waiting for a traffic light to change.

Police said the truck—traveling east in Shunpike road, struck the auto operated by Anthony Nicols of 128 Orchard street, Summit.

Davis was examined by Dr. Jimmy H. Dangler who pronounced him under the influence of intoxicants.

The contest is sponsored by the National Association of Department Store Photograph Studios.

Capacity Throng Watches Dedication of New School

A capacity crowd attended the formal dedication of the Florence M. Gaudineer School in South Springfield avenue Friday night. The audience heard Dr. Arthur L. Johnson, of Cranford, county superintendent of schools congratulate the township for astute judgment in providing the new school. Similar words of praise came from Leonard Best, president of the Best Pencil Company and former chairman of the Citizens' Advisory Committee and from Kenneth E. Woodbury, assistant commissioner of the State Department of Education.

A Timely Letter To the Editor

Last night's long meeting brought a letter, printed below, which is self explanatory. It was brought to the site of the Township Committee with a request that it be printed. Here it is:

Editor, SUN:

Once again history repeated itself. A meeting of the Springfield township resulted in another notorious "closed door" decision. Just what went on behind the door, I cannot say. That is the point of this letter. Why important township matters be decided in secret when we hold public meetings for such purposes?

As far as I could tell, this is what happened. Remember, this is one man's opinion, that without benefit of facts that were not made available. At ten minutes past nine, Wednesday, February 11, the committee recessed the open meeting for "ten minutes." The subject of discussion, important to town welfare, centered around retention of Police Chief Thompson, eligible for retirement, but who might be retained for further service.

Apparently the course to follow was difficult to determine. But was the discussion held in public, before the many interested citizens in attendance? No! At twenty minutes to eleven, thirty minutes later, the "ten minute recess" ended, and the open meeting was continued.

A letter was read, and a motion was passed, and in two minutes the question was decided, at "open meeting." By my way of thinking, the issue, the discussion of it, and the final decision, clearly took place behind closed doors. Such tactics do not make for better government.

Township Committee Votes Unanimous Approval

Chief of Police William J. Thompson will retain his office as head of the police department until March 1, 1954, it was unanimously decided at last night's meeting of the Township Committee. This action set at rest the many rumors of retirement by Chief Thompson and all day yesterday there was speculation as to the members of the local police force who would be moved up into the top spot in case the governing body should not decide to extend his term.

Chief Thompson, who reached the retirement age of 65 on February 5, recently wrote a letter to the Township Committee requesting that he be retained "pending" to associates and friends that he was

Cites Progress of Heart Appeal Here

This week marks the midpoint of the third annual Heart Appeal campaign here. Mrs. Helen M. Glaser, chairman of the drive by the Union-County Heart Association, pointed out today.

It has been predicted by Miss Helen Blankenhorn, regional director of the American Heart Association, that this campaign will be the most successful in Union County because for the first time all municipalities in the county are organized.

In many communities, including Springfield, a house-to-house canvass has replaced the more expensive mail solicitation. A campaign is being placed on campaign tag days especially on Saturday, St. Valentine's Day, because it also marks conclusion of American Heart Week.

The local workers include: Mrs. William Kline, Mrs. J. Schader, Jr., Mrs. D. Bailey, Mrs. L. McDowell, Mr. S. B. Heas, Mr. Ed Lindauer, Mrs. J. L. Schrupp, Mrs. N. Stiles, Mrs. G. Janisko, Mr. E. L. Mulling, Mrs. H. O. Bailey, Mrs. W. W. Baldwin, Mrs. H. W. Robbins, Mrs. R. Hitchings, Mrs. J. L. La Brie, Mrs. G. Grimshaw, Mrs. E. E. Furkhalan, Mr. E. E. Spear, Mrs. C. H. Kilburn, Mrs. J. L. seeking to hold his job for another year. There was considerable talk although none of it was official that some action would be taken at last night's meeting. This speculation gradually started a series of rumors and all day yesterday friends of various members of the department sought to speak for their favorites.

The expected fireworks, which brought out an unusually large crowd at the town hall last night, failed to materialize. Chief Thompson's letter was read immediately after a caucus in which the five officials participated and a motion was made to retain the chief for another year. The vote was unanimous in favor of the motion.

Since this full year extension complies with the request made by Chief Thompson it is a certainty that a new police department head will be named on his retirement after next March 1. The department has many aspirants for the job and the governing body will have a full year to consider various applicants before naming the new chief.

DECLARE WAR ON SPEEDERS

"The Parents of Lower Hawthorn Avenue" is the name of an unofficial organization in Springfield comprised of irate mothers and fathers who intend to do something about the speeding cars in their section of the town.

soon it might be unless the speeding is curbed. Here is their complaint and plea to car drivers: "Those of you in the upper part of this development probably don't realize the problem that we of lower Hawthorn Avenue have with speeding cars."

PLEASE! SIGN YOUR LETTERS TO THE EDITOR Several more "letters to the editor" lie on the desk and challenge to be printed—but, again, they are unsigned.

One of the letters is merely typed at the signature. "Simplicity Association." It deals with the new proposed tax rate of $3.15 and, as can be expected, speaks harshly of the Town Committee but asks Springfield to "encourage some nice office buildings or clean industry to bring taxes down lower, so that we one family owners, etc. etc."

There is another letter, properly signed, and we are printing a portion of it without using the name of the writer. The lady who wrote the letter below is a very civic minded citizen of Springfield and believes there should be greater interest and participation in the affairs of our town.

"Might I pose a question? Why isn't there more complete coverage (by the Sun) on local civic affairs of great interest to the citizenry? The Board of Education meetings—the Town Committee meetings, etc., are of great interest but are not covered and enhanced with local color."

If the writer of the above means by "enhancing with local color" the offering up a controversy or putting the spotlight of publicity on differences of opinion, the Sun pleads guilty. There is no meeting, no gathering of people where a newspaper reporter could not find some innocent remark or a deliberate statement that could transform an otherwise peaceful session into a controversial donnybrook.

True, officials will be more alert to the actual needs of the citizen if more complete coverage is given all meetings. However, newspaper space is a great problem especially the cost of producing even a weekly at the current wage scale.

Editor, SUN: It would give me great pleasure if you would print the following letter in your paper this coming week.

On behalf of the Boy Scouts and Cubs of Springfield—I would like to express my sincere thanks to all who participated and contributed to making the annual drive held on Saturday, February 7, such a grand success.

Mrs. Lee L. Andrews, Jr.

Editor, SUN: In the course of the preceding week, a drive was held for used clothing for the Holland Food Relief. The response has been most gratifying.

A special word of thanks is extended to Roger Shotwell for his readiness to supply his truck and together with M. Tutaco take the goods to the Holland-America Line Pier, which Company had offered to transport all goods collected, in their ships to Holland.

No doubt many more of our towns' people would have wished to contribute but were not given the opportunity. To them we wish to apologize, but news regarding this drive was purposely limited. The response to the request for clothing was far beyond all expectations and it is believed that the immediate requirements have been more than met.

Of interest may be the information that 2,544 packages were shipped last Saturday on the Holland-America Line's B.S. "Westerdam". A similar quantity is now awaiting shipment.

Sincerely, Mr. and Mrs. W. Fenard, 30 Lyons Place, Springfield.

SCHOOL VOTES (Continued from page 1) the price paid for the Gaudinier School was excessive and claims that other municipalities received far more for their money with their recent school programs. The election of all three candidates of this group may indicate a change of board policies, especially if another school is constructed. This group has urged that a new architect be engaged. However, the board has retained Fred A. Ebbinger, who has designed schools here as well as Regional High School and schools in a number of other Union and Essex County municipalities. The board will organize Monday.

Rutgers Publishes New Collection of Lincolnia

The one-time backwoodsman who became the nation's 16th President and led it through one of its greatest crises, was given new immortality today with the publication by the Rutgers University Press of a new nine-volume collection of his writings.

The most complete collection of Lincoln's writings ever compiled, the Rutgers-Collected Works contains 50 per cent more material than has been published in all previous editions. It is expected to stand as the final work of its kind on the great Civil War leader.

The set which went on sale today at $115 per set now contains eight volumes but a ninth containing the index is now being completed. The Rutgers-Collected Works of Abraham Lincoln contains 6,870 items of which 3,312 have never before been published. Among these new items are a great many important letters, memoranda, endorsements, and even a considerable number of speeches not known of before.

Approximately 75 per cent of all the items in the works have been edited from original manuscripts. In the absence of a manuscript, the remaining 25 per cent have been edited from the best copy or printed source which could be found.

Cost Over $185,000 More than $100,000 was spent on the editorial research which made the Collected Works possible. It was begun 26 years ago by the Abraham Lincoln Association. Its financing was provided by that organization and by the Rockefeller Foundation which contributed approximately half of the costs of editorial preparation. Publication costs will approximate an additional $85,000.

Lincoln scholars throughout the nation have heralded the new Collected Works as a "monumental achievement." Adlai E. Stevenson, who is as well known as a Lincoln scholar as a statesman, wrote, "Lincoln belongs to everyone. Any of us will be privileged to delve into The Collected Works for the flashing epigram, the tight-logic argument, the home-spun figure of speech in which Lincoln could so graphically illuminate his meaning, and for the wisdom as solid now as it was then."

Allan Nevins, distinguished American historian, wrote, "The publication of the definitive edition of The Collected Works is an event of international importance. At last we have the complete writings of the greatest of American exemplars of democracy, edited with an admirable combination of scholarly expertness and humanistic breadth, and presented in a format worthy of the fame of Abraham Lincoln."

The Collected Works was edited by Roy P. Basler, well-known Lincoln authority who is now Chief of the Reference Division of the Library of Congress. Assistant editors were Marion D. Pratt and Lloyd A. Dunlap, also well known

PLENTY OF FREE PARKING AT THE NEW SPRINGFIELD SAFEWAY

March 21 Set For Overlook Dedication

Dedication of the new $2,500,000 addition to Overlook Hospital has been scheduled for March 21, almost a month earlier than originally planned, hospital officials announced this week.

The new building is a six-story red brick structure designed by the architectural firm of Eggers & Higgins to blend with the existing buildings of the hospital plant. It is connected by a passageway to the original hospital which was built in 1903. The new unit faces Morris avenue and will have its main entrance at first floor level.

Painters are now completing the decoration of rooms in light pastel shades and equipment, furniture and other furnishings are arriving daily and being installed.

The new building increases the total bed capacity of Overlook to 296 and serves an area with a population of 150,000.

On dedication day the community will see the last word in hospital facilities. Contained in the building will be departments for pediatrics, surgery, urology, X-ray laboratory; also isolation units, private, semi-private and ward beds; nursing administration offices and a fully air-conditioned tea room and billiard.

The X-ray department, located on the first floor, will have an examining room, one fluoroscopy room, two general radiological rooms, superficial and deep therapy room. The most modern X-ray equipment will be used and so such that it will be able to keep in stride with future techniques for the treatment of cancer and other deadly diseases. The department will be air-conditioned and its walls lead lined as a protection against radioactivity. It is planned to have two radiologists on full time duty in the near future.

The laboratory department, formerly in one room, will now have three medium size rooms, each 20' x 50' and one large room for chemistry, solutions and sterilizing. The smaller rooms are to be used for hematology tissue pathology and blood bank. The latter will have a circular refrigerator with a capacity for 320 pints of blood.

Soda Fountain Included

Rounding out the first floor area are the tea room and the administration suite. The former, open to the public and staffed by volunteers from the Hospital's Women's Auxiliary has facilities for hot and cold food, a soda fountain and gift shop. The administrative headquarters will have rooms for the business manager, general business office, two admitting offices, as well as offices for the administrative staff.

Rooms for patients are located on the second, third, fourth and fifth floors, totaling 66 single rooms and 51 two-bed rooms making a total of 174 beds. Each room has its own lavatory or bath room and will be decorated in a restful and homelike fashion, featuring new furniture made available through the donations of local organizations and individuals.

The polo suite on the second floor consists of a utility room and a two-bed patient and treatment room equipped for the hot pack treatment for polo made acceptable by the late Sister Kenny. Isolation suites are located on the fourth and fifth floors, each with one private and one common room and a utility room.

The surgery department is made up of four major operating rooms; one minor and one convertible room that can be used for anesthetic induction. Provision has also been made for a six stretcher recovery room. It is interesting to note that at Overlook Hospital patients undergoing operations will be transferred directly to the operating table from special stretchers, and after the operation they will be placed directly back on the Stretcher which will be wheeled alongside of the operating table.

To Remodel Maternity Wing

Alterations will take place shortly in the maternity building. These consist of modernization of the pharmacy, autopsy, central supply, nursing formula, labor rooms and doctor's lounge facilities. Also the present kitchen area will be partially modernized. Two existing boilers in the central heating plant have been converted to oil usage. Two new boilers have been installed so that facilities are now available to provide heat and power for all future building expansion.

The new building was constructed at a cost of $2,500,000. Fred J. Brotherton, Inc., Hackensack, was the general contractor. The architects have made provision for future expansion for three additional stories to the main building and the extension of the building into a wing for new kitchen and service facilities.

The first alphabet is said to have been carved in stone around 1500 B.C.

Town Properties Auctioned Off

Four parcels of township property which were advertised for sale were auctioned off at the regular meeting of the Township Committee last night.

The property described as Block 70, Lots 100 and 101, and known as 10 Meekes street was sold as advertised to Lloyd Nelson for the sum of $280.

Ulric Jelinek purchased for $75 the property described as Block 10A, Lot 29A and known as 93 Selovna avenue.

On the property of 22 Baltuorway Anthony Scarpono entered a bid of $1,000. Public bidding on this particular piece of property became very spirited and Scarpono finally gained possession for $1,400.

The 53-69 Evergreen avenue property also received heavy bidding and was awarded to the Midvale Regly Corporation, the original bidder, for $4,050, $1,550 over the original asking price.

Warn Car Owners About New Law

Compliance with New Jersey's new automobile security responsibility law which becomes effective April 1 will give motorists and pedestrians in this area the highest degree of protection from financially irresponsible motorists of any law yet devised it was asserted today by the Gerald Bryson Agency, a local insurance office.

Mr. Bryson pointed out that any uninsured driver or owner of a motor vehicle who is involved in an accident from April 1 on faces loss of his driving and registration privileges unless he can post cash or security up to $11,000 immediately following the accident.

"The law is very stringent on this point, and the one way to be sure you are protected is to make certain you carry automobile liability insurance," explained Mr. Bryson.

"The coverage must be at least $1,000 for property damage and $10,000 for personal injuries or deaths. A policy like that will be accepted by the State as evidence of financial responsibility without the need to post cash, bond or anything else.

"Our office will be glad to explain the new statute to anyone interested, and is in a position to provide service that will protect all from running afoul of the law."

Griffith Music Offerings Told

The Griffith Music Foundation has scheduled a number of important musical offerings for the future weeks in addition to the performance of the Mozart opera "Così Fan Tutte" in concert form at the Woman's Club of Orange on Tuesday evening, February 24, with Brenda Lewis, Metropolitan Opera soprano, and other operatic artists in the cast.

One of the most important will be the third concert in the Foundation's symphony series at the Mosque Theatre, Newark, on Tuesday evening, March 3. At this concert, the eminent pianist, Rudolf Serkin, will appear as guest soloist with the Little Orchestra Society of New York in a symphony program which will include works by Pergolesi, Brahms, Schumann and Beethoven.

Solomon, the highly regarded English keyboard virtuoso, will return to Newark on Sunday afternoon, March 8, for a final concert in the Foundation's piano series.

Coming Foundation events will also include the appearance of the brilliant New York Quartet for Piano and Strings. This group which includes Mieczyslaw Horowitz, well-known pianist, will give a concert in its Chamber Music series on Thursday, February 26, in Griffith auditorium.

Another interesting coming event will be the presentation of an original children's opera, entitled "Babar," based on the popular animal stories of the same name in the Young People's Orchestral Concert series at the Mosque Theatre, on Saturday morning, February 28, at 11 a.m. This opera was specially written by Nicholas Berzowski. The libretto is the work of Dorothy Heyward of "Porgy and Bess" fame.

Regional Cagers Close With Rahway, Jefferson

Regional winds up its regular season basketball schedule this week, facing its arch-rival, Rahway, in the final appearance on its home court tomorrow (Friday) night and Jefferson in Elizabeth Tuesday afternoon. The Regional-Rahway game preliminary is slated to start at 7 p.m.

The Bulldogs, who stopped Rahway by 62-47 earlier, are always tough at home and figure to take the Scarlet, despite the fact that quality of basketball in Spantown has been on the upgrade in late. In Jefferson, the locals encounter the top-rated team in the county tourney.

Regional played its best and worst games of the season last week, bowing to Pingry, 55-34, Tuesday afternoon and beating Linden in the biggest upset of the county scholastic basketball season, 63-44, Friday night.

Regional led momentarily in the Pingry affair, the prep-school five gained the lead at 5-3 and did not let up till the final whistle. Pingry won by 24 markers.

Superior rebounding and all-around hustle under the boards, neither of which the locals produced in the first meeting at Linden when the Tigers won by 60-38, contributed heavily to the success of Coach Lou DeLorosa's men.

Coupling their edge in rebounds with a fine night on

Sports In The Sun

By DONALD ROSSETT

FUNDAMENTALS START AN EMPIRE

The success in basketball in the early years of Regional High School was due, mainly, to the tireless efforts of a Garwood grade school physical education instructor, Vic Leonard, who drilled the fundamentals of the hoop sport into his boys.

RHS won two Union County basketball championships in its first three years of existence, because Garwood came up with boys like Frank and Johnny Wanca, Bill Glouacki, Nick Druzek, Babe Puszman, Art Bley, Tommy Casale, Hal White, Pete Warchol, and Johnny Zabelski, all of whom had been trained by Vic Leonard.

Zabelski now is a resident of Springfield, is married to the former Jean Dambrés, and has three children.

Garwood produced fine talent for years afterward but their players were overshadowed by the Belliveau brothers' area. First came Bill, who played while the Garwood boys listed above were starring for the Bulldogs. Seven years ago, Bob appeared and it is generally accepted that he was the big factor in putting Regional back on top of the county in basketball. Bob was Coach Walt Hohn's key agent in the 1946 county championship season.

Roy and Don Belliveau broke into the varsity squad the same year that brother Bob was leading the locals to the US title. With the former pair paving the way, Regional advanced to the Group 3 finals in the State tournament the following year, only to have its bid turned aside by Englewood and the great Sherman White.

In 1948, Hillside upset the Bulldogs in the sectional Group 3 state finals. Phil Amato and Ange Fortunato sparked for the inspired Comets in the farewell game for Roy and Don Belliveau.

After a year's lapse, the Bulldogs were knocking on the championship door once more. And this time they found the combination—Little Johnny Murray and another Belliveau, rugged Ken, with big Cliff Smith, Sandy Gonczlik, George Fisher, and lefty Jim Sevebeck, whom many observers claim was the cash register for the championship, tallied a 40-38 upset-overtime win against powerful Union Hill. The Hill team had played as a Group 4 team in years prior to its loss to RHS. Since then, Union Hill has been strictly a Group 4 outfit. Possibly Regional had something to do with the Hill's return.

The State championship final of 1950 was a memorable affair for the Bulldogs. Humany and eger, Coach Hohn's club delighted its following by out-fighting and out-hustling a star-studded Union-Hill quintet, which was headed by the top player in the State that year, Yopo Palazzi, who since has turned star for Holy-Cross-University.

The point of these echoes from the past is simply that the work of one man, teaching the fundamentals of basketball, was part of the foundation of a court empire at Regional. In the past two seasons, however, the foundation has been disintegrating because the coaches have had to teach fundamentals in the stead of offensive and defensive patterns.

But if the boys were to learn the basic parts of basketball before they entered Regional... then, it might be a different story.

The local recreation commission has taken a big step in that direction. More help is urgently needed. All interested parties—players, coaches, and officials—are invited to attend Saturday afternoon's session beginning at 1:30 p.m.

Jeff Top Tourney 5; Regional Seeded 8th

Union County Conference basketball tournament seedings have been awarded to Jefferson, St. Mary's, Union, Linden, Plainfield, Scotch Plains, Pingry, and Regional in that order, the committee announced yesterday.

None of the ratings came as a surprise, although many observers did not figure Pingry could be ranked alongside the other teams. The prep-school's triumph over Regional apparently was enough to swing the tide in favor of Pingry.

In first round games, Jeff will be paired with Westfield, St. Mary's will play Roselle Park, Union will take on St. Patrick's, Linden will face Roselle, Plainfield will meet Sacred Heart, Scotch Plains is pitted against Rahway, Pingry will battle Cranford, and Regional will encounter Edison.

Regional is well satisfied with its draw for it will give the Bulldogs a chance to square accounts with Edison for victory instead of defeat. The Bulldogs took a hotly disputed win from the Tech-men on January 8, because Jack Kolth sank a foul shot. The difficulty arose over a foul call while which came almost simultaneously with the final buzzer. It was ruled that the whistle sounded first.

The Bulldogs played the game without the services of big Joe Schaffermoth. In height, the teams were evenly matched, but the tourney game, with Schaffermoth present—probably will be a different story.

Have you seen the S. S. Springfield? It is an ocean liner we made out of large blocks. We painted, snipped sticks to make it look real. Some of us made sailor hats and the crew's uniforms.

Before our classes changed for the second term, the mothers were invited to school to hear us sing and watch us dance. We were happy about our visitors, some of the things we've been doing every day. We played the Raythym band, too. The leaders were: Lonnie Johnson, Tony Kaplan and Steven Rosenblatt.

Last Monday on Ground Hog day, Karl Roetger brought a stuffed and mounted ground hog to school. We talked about the ground hog seeing his shadow and going back to sleep for six weeks more. We studied the shape of his head and body. Most of us decided that he looked like a very large rat.

We are all very busy making Valentines. The Valentine mail boxes in our rooms are literally full.

We made alphabet books in our classroom. Each boy made a picture under the letter. First we wrote A-a in apple. Then we drew a picture of an apple. We made one paper for each of the twenty-six letters of the alphabet. After we finished A-a in apple, we made a beautiful cover for our booklets. We hung them on our bulletin board. Next week we will take them home.

Our class has a nice time at the assemblies. We are learning many new songs. Betty Watkins read the Bible our week.

We decorated a Valentine box and neatly filled it. We made Valentines for everyone in our family. Our teacher brought books from the Springfield Library. We can take one home and when we have read it we may change it for another. This way we can read two or three different books a week. We wish to thank the library for allowing us to borrow them.

Welcome back to Terry Johnson! We certainly missed him when he was sick.

We were pleased with our last week's spelling record. Our star spellers were: Virginia Deane, Diane Pacer, Gregdon Fong, Karen Kaver, Jane Mandi, Carol Milton, Susan Rivkin, Lynn Taffe, Diana White, Brigitte Bischoff, Jeffrey Norris, Barry Patterson and Alan Yablonsky.

We enjoyed a varied program in Tuesday assembly. Eliot Finckhorn

"I like it myself, John, just as the boys do—except that chocolate cream-refrigerator cake makes me put on weight. And it may interest you that I figured out the cost of this meal for the four of us. If the children had been steak-eaters in 1939, the meat and groceries would have cost $1.96. Today they cost us $4.93.

"But then I found out another thing—surprising, too—the cost of gas for cooking this meal is about the same today as it was in 1939!"

It's true—the cost of gas served in the kitchen has increased very little since 1939.
