Card Party, With Prizes, Is Taboo

The innocent little card party, with prizes of homemade-seersucker aprons or jars of Mrs. Williams' preserved squash, is being eliminated from the Springfield-Date Book because the sponsoring organizations were notified yesterday that "such functions come under the category of gambling."

Police Chief Albert A. Sarge said yesterday he is merely complying with the law-enforcement agencies of the county and state and hopes all organizations and churches will cooperate with him in planning any such events in the future in which prizes are to be awarded.

Two postponed affairs were announced yesterday after receiving word from other sources. The American Legion Auxiliary has postponed its annual card party scheduled for Legion Hall one week from tomorrow (May 22) and the Springfield Republican Club has called off its annual card party which was to be held Monday, May 18, at the Legion Hall.

"For nearly 25 years," said Chief Sarge, "has been held these card parties by assigning police men to regulate traffic at their meeting places but since these same card parties have been classed as violating the gambling laws if they award prizes and direct nothing we can do but comply with the law. We do appreciate it if all civic, patriotic and church organizations cooperate with us to plan any such parties. If no prizes are to be awarded and it is a social affair, we want them all to enjoy themselves."

Chief Sarge said he believes that all laws should be enforced but that they should be clarified to legalize such harmless events under the strict interpretation of the law. He continued, "All these innocent parties are illegal and something should be done to clear up the ambiguous laws which make card parties taboo under the present code."

Carl T. Helmers, President of the Springfield Rotary Club, has announced that the club will sponsor a hobby contest open to children of grammar school and high school age, who reside in Springfield. This contest will be open to holders of model airplanes, automobiles, boats and ships, trains, wagons, houses, as well as to woodcraft, sculpturing and modeling in clay, leather craft, drawing, painting and various other hobbies of this type. Entries will be classified as to age groups as well as to the type of model or work submitted.

The committee in charge of this enterprise is made up of the following Rotarians: Co-Chairmen, Jean Mott and Ludwig Stark; Chairmen, Edward R. Baird and Gerald Belmont; Display and prizes, Harry Borker and Charles Mayer; Planning, Charles Rominger; Publicity, Ray Bell, Benjamin Newsinger and Adam LaSala.

Local merchants have already agreed to donate prizes and window space for the purpose of displaying the entries prior to the final judging, Saturday, June 27. The entries will be judged. Application blanks, along with further details, will be published in the Springfield Sun.

The first examination for Postmaster, Springfield, N. J., $3,770 a year, under new, more exacting eligibility requirements recently agreed upon by the U. S. Civil Service Commission and the Post Office Department will be open for receipt of applications until May 26, the Commission announced.

Complete information about the examination requirements and instructions for filing applications may be obtained at the Springfield post office for which this examination is being announced. Application forms must be received in the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C. not later than May 26.

New Grade School May Be Planned

Local Doctor Now Serving in Korea

The Citizens Advisory Committee during the past week has taken first steps towards its projected proposal for a new lower grade school in Springfield recommended by the first session of this group in 1951.

Several new schools in this area built by various architects, were visited by the construction committee and the outstanding features of each were studied. Several more trips are scheduled for the near future.

The finance committee has contacted proper authorities and expects data for the Board of Education and Township borrowing capacity in a short time.

The Unmet Needs Committee is analyzing from present school population and survey of preschool children how many pupils there will be in each grade and how many classrooms will be needed.

All efforts are being made to the best of their ability.

The question of whether to have sidewalks and curbs or not on Cambridge terrace kept the Township Committee especially busy at their meeting last night when residents of that area came to Town Hall to present their story.

Cambridge terrace residents had built their homes, spent literally thousands of dollars, they stated, on landscaping right down to the road and now the planning board has decided that sidewalks and curbs should be installed.

It is a problem that goes back nearly seven years when Harry Rothberg of Camptown, Inc., developer of the street, signed a bond which legally told him that sidewalks and curbs were to be installed by him. He never completed the complaint continues, and now the home owners are up in arms that all the money they had spent in beautifying their property will be wasted, for if curbs and sidewalks are to be constructed, it will take away seven feet.

Cambridge terrace residents will meet with the planning board to try to make some alternate agreement. However, Committee member Rominger pointed out that this move and all moves are considered for the betterment of the town and nothing personal is intended.

Meantime, Rothberg was having his own problems. He evidently has applied for building permits to construct six or seven new homes, and he was denied the permits. Rothberg didn't like this decision almost to the point of being thrown out of the meeting, but Mayor Marshall pointed out that in the past, Rothberg was bound to put in sidewalks and curbs on property he developed on South

Bus Terminal Plan Is Again Being Revived

The often discussed plan to eliminate the bottle-neck at the intersection of Main street and Morris avenue by extending Main street and cutting off the right and left turn into Flermer avenue, is once more being revived.

Various programs were under consideration by the Township Committee in 1944 and 1946 which included the construction of the attractive sounding Revolutionary Square but nothing ever came of this plan. The owners of this centrally located property are said to have given the Township assurance, accompanied by preliminary engineering blue prints, that such an improvement would be made after the Committee had voted

A rumor—and this one seems to be pretty well nailed down—has it that a three store combination shopping center will be constructed on the Flermer property, Morris and Flermer avenues.

This rumor says that there are already architect's plans and that contractors have already been preparing figures for construction bids. But so far, nothing official about it has been as the Township Committee is concerned which puts it right back in the rumor class.

a paper street which would have been the continuation of Main street.

The most accepted plan is to extend Main street so that it cuts across the present corner plot into Flermer avenue. This would leave enough property at the corner of Morris and Flermer avenues, opposite the First National Bank for a proposed terminal and a municipal parking lot.

While the entire plan is still in its embryo stage many of the Township officials have been exploring such a project and Police Commissioner Albert G. Binder has already stated that extending Main street across the Flermer property might alleviate the traffic snarl at the corner.

The bus station at that point would render a great service to all.

Springfield to Raise $700 in Palsy Drive

A goal of $700 has been set for the 1953 campaign of the Springfield committee of United Cerebral Palsy of Union County, which is being conducted in this area during the month of May. It was announced today by Community Chairman Wilbert W. Layne.

This fund was accepted by the Springfield committee as its first share of the county-wide goal of $40,000 established by the Union County office of the national United Cerebral Palsy Association.

United Cerebral Palsy is the first nationwide organization devoted exclusively to a united attack upon cerebral palsy, one of the oldest, most crippling, and least understood of all major health disorders.

"Because of its destructive and baffling nature, cerebral palsy is one of the most expensive of all the ailments which beset mankind, and a large amount of money is needed to train personnel, and furnish facilities for care, treatment and education for more than a half-million children and adults born with cerebral palsy, and untold hundreds of thousands affected later in life. There are an estimated 504 cases in Union County."

In the newly established Cerebral Palsy Center at 636 Salem avenue in Elizabeth, which is open to residents of all communities in Union County, over 25 per cent of the known cases are being treated; but unfortunately in an inadequate, part-time basis.

Colonial Gardens Association held its annual meeting and social on Friday, May 1st at the Chateau Ballroom at 8 p.m.

The following were elected for officers: Arthur C. Dwyer, President; Henry Graybar, Vice-President; Bert Pals, Treasurer; John Kelly, Secretary.

A social followed after the meeting and refreshments were served.

The Springfield Fourth of July Committee is meeting on Wednesday, May 20, at 8:30 p.m. at Chateau Ballroom on Balfour street. Representatives from the various local civic, church, and service organizations have been requested to attend. Edward Holt, heading the committee, also extends the invitation to all residents who would like to actively serve on any of the committees.

The very popular annual baby parade and fireworks display and other featured events and entertainment can only result from active participation and support by Springfield residents. The turnout at next Wednesday's meeting could well determine the success or failure of this year's program.

Latora Family Expects Visit From Returned POW Soon

The Latora family who received the good news recently that their boy, Philip L., was in a Communist prison camp instead of being missing in action as previously reported by Washington, expect a visit from Pvt. Joseph Picerno, of Queens, L. I. recently released prisoner who gave the Springfield family this information.

Nicholas Latora, the father of the boy, couldn't wait for Picerno's visit and made the trip to Queens last Sunday to get first hand information on their boy. Picerno reassured the parents that he saw their boy recently and that he was "all right."

The reunited prisoner told the Latora family that he is busy with a round of family parties and celebrations but that he will definitely visit Springfield next week at which time he is anxious to relay full information to all members of Philip's family. The Latora household is planning an elaborate party of their own to welcome Picerno.

ON THE SUNNY SIDE

Perhaps it's the first real breath of Spring or it may be just opening the safety valves and letting off a lot of steam—at least, that seems to be the explanation for the wave of pranks and half-serious riots staged by Yale, Michigan State, and Ohio State students as well as local schoolboys as reported in the last few days.

It is hoped that "just a schoolboy prank" can be applied to the burning of a wooden cross at the home of two Pingry School teachers living in Springfield. If it were anything more serious the authorities, who investigated the matter, would have taken other action.

Just what prompted these boys to burn a wooden cross cannot be explained except that questioning of some of the boys revealed no prejudice or maliciousness that usually inspired such demonstrations of hate and ill will. We believe the parents of the boys can make certain that these students will be more careful in the future although this is the time of the year for pranks and other schoolboy antics.

"That ole debbil," traffic is always with us and, with the necessary painting of white and yellow lines on our main streets yesterday, this local problem was even more accentuated. Police Commissioner Albert C. Binder is fully aware of the situation and is always exploring cures.

"Problems come and problems go but the subject problem is ever with us said Binder. Whether it be New York City or a suburban town like Springfield the condition is relative in proportion. We in Springfield have our own peculiar problems when it comes to traffic and parking, and if we are to solve them, or even to keep abreast of them, we must conscientiously strive for improvements in regulations and facilities. To ignore the problem is to invite ultimate business and residential deterioration. If only from a selfish viewpoint we should make every effort presently and keep planning for the future to cope with the conditions.

"Springfield has often been referred to as the hub of Union County. Everything on four-wheels 'coming from or going to' seems to cross the town. Some years ago a traffic count was taken at our main intersection, Main street, Morris and Flermer avenues. The count, on a normal day was approximately 15,000 cars for an eight-hour period. If it was that high then you can make your own estimate as to what it is today.

"We have two main state-highways trisecting our town, Routes 22 and 4. The latter going through the heart of our business district and creating a local problem that must be given constant consideration. I have always taken the position, as Chairman of the Police Committee, that we must ever concentrate on this problem if we are to maintain stability in the community as a whole.

"We have taken steps in the past few years to regulate parking in certain areas and the results, from a traffic standpoint, are very satisfactory. I appreciate such steps often create temporary hardships and inconveniences on some businesses and residents, but in the long run the city benefits greatly. We have municipal and semi-private parking lots and they are constantly proving their worth. We should have more such areas.

"Old traffic lights have been replaced and additional lights installed at critical intersections. Efforts are now being made to obtain permission from the state to install lights at other key points.

Residents in the neighborhood of the Henshaw and Hawthorn avenue playground are wondering just what the Playground Commission has in mind. A hard surface area has been built—close up against the spill rail fence which is neither suited for tennis nor basketball. There appears to be considerable room in other parts of the area but the playground authorities, for some reason, moved the hard surface as close as possible to the homes and all the kids are attracted to this one playing space.

Every home in this area—all one-family homes—has a yard suited for playing. The General Greene Village with 252 families could make use of a playground better than the one family homes.

ARTHRITIS?

I have been wonderfully blessed in being restored to active-life after being crippled in nearly every joint in my body and with muscular soreness from head to foot. I had Rheumatoid Arthritis and other forms of Rheumatism, hands deformed and my ankles were set.

Limited space prohibits telling you more here but if you will write me I will reply at once and tell you how I received this wonderful relief.

CLUB NIGHT

Mrs. Russell Hillier addressed club members on the subject of "Mental Illness" and explained the vital part the National Association for Mental Health played in the research, treatment, prevention and cure of mental and emotional illness. Mrs. Hillier also discussed the aims of the organization in connection with National Health Week.

The Springfield Girl Scouts were admirably represented by two alternate intermediate scouts; namely, Stella Byam and Barbara Heerwagen, from Troop 1 and two alternate intermediate scouts; namely, Paula LuVar-Varakj and Lois Hoching, from Troop 2. Stella and Barbara spoke on the compilation of their troop's Scrapbook entitled "Young People in Church and Town." Paula and Lois described the very interesting trip the two groups took to Trenton. A vote of thanks goes to the four girls for doing such a wonderful job and to their leaders, Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. Lee Andrews.

Mrs. Arthur Stender, chairman of the Youth Conservation Department presented the six counselors for the Junior Volunteers. They were: Margaret Heard, Edna Kuz, Ethel Lucy, Alice Cosgrove, Gladys Beardley and Gretchen Forbes. Mrs. Stender then introduced the first group of Junior Volunteers to complete the required course at Overlook Hospital. They were: Pat Binder, Jackie Hansen, Betsy Funchen, Betty Ann Dammig, Nancy Pfitzinger, Edith Toomey and Mickey Doherty. The second group of Junior Volunteers to complete the course were also introduced. They were: Lois Walker, Dorothy Walker, Evelyn Pedersen, Gracelyn Telfer and Pat Allen. The Junior Volunteers and their counselors deserve a great deal of credit for giving unparal-lingly of their time and effort in making this project a tremendous success.

A highlight of the evening was the Drama Department's presentation of a play entitled "Second Best." Jean Williams was excellent in the role of Evelyn and was ably supported by Ann Schneider as Aunt Lucy. Agnes Andrews was very convincing in the part of Miss Adams and Jane Trout made a charming Cynthia Dean.

Members of the Music Department sang "The Bells of St. Mary" to a most appreciative audience. Mrs. George Lancaster was the accompanist.

Mrs. Thomas Doherty of 131 Baltusrol Way was welcomed into the Club as a new member.

(Continued from page 1) Springfield Avenue and Cambridge terrace. Since he failed to live up to the agreement, the Committee and the Building Inspector felt it was unwise to issue him the permit. The situation, representing 27 property owners on South Maple Avenue, offered to purchase a parcel of land on the east side of South Maple near Riverside drive at a cost of $1380. The resident felt that it was an undesirable piece of property for building purpose and therefore would restrict any construction and would take upon themselves the problem of drainage and mosquito control. It will be taken under consideration by the planning board. Sergeant Harold D. Searies was presented with a clock by Police Commissioner Stinger on behalf of the Township committee in token of his years of excellent service on the force.

New Grade

(Continued from page 1) get the committee's recommendations in shape by Fall. Every effort is being made to double the amount of part-time double session which will have to be started again in the Springfield Schools as of September, 1953. A study has revealed that by transferring some children from one school to another, class size can be more favorably equalized.

part-time will be distributed as equally as possible between the grades involved in each building and the number of classes on part-time double session will be cut in half. This procedure, therefore, has been authorized by the Board of Education. In addition to reducing the number of pupils who will have to be on part-time, the plan provides another advantage. No child will have to be on part-time for more than one-half of the school year transferring some children from one school to another, class size and others February through June.

These advantages are accomplished by shifting approximately fifty-five children, grades two, three and five, from the Chatham to the Caldwell School. They will be from the streets closest to the Caldwell School, namely the Henshaw, Hawthorne, Tooker, Clinton, Waverly and Oakland area. The individuals directly involved will be given further information as the details are completed.
