G.O.P. Blasts Both Tickets

Classifying the Democratic candidates as "having had no experience in government" and the Independents as "waging a campaign replete with negativism and contradictions," the Republican organizations opened up all twelve cylinders in a statement issued today.

Following is the complete statement: "Let us evaluate with you the candidates running for Township Committee. The Democrats offer you Bonadies and Moran, neither of whom has ever had any experience in government."

"They talk about township rent control. We ask whom do they expect to control? They want to run Springfield's government, yet they do not know there are only a handful of properties that could be lawfully controlled."

"They talk about a non-partisan recreation commission. The Republican Township Committee has organized such a commission. They say it is a political plan. The fact is that the members of the Commission serve without compensation and were appointed solely on their recreational background."

"They talk about a 'Baby Kocp Well Station. Obviously they do not know that we had such a program, staffed by a physician and a nurse. The program was discontinued because the owners preferred this service on a personal basis through physicians of their own choosing. Moreover, we have been providing visiting nurse services which are available not only to children but to adults as well."

"They talk about a 'Citizens' Budget Committee. We tried that. Each year there was less interest. Why? Because the citizens who did serve learned that the budgets as prepared by the Republican...

Democrats Make Serious Charges Against G.O.P.

The campaign committee for life two Democratic candidates, Vincent J. Bonadies and J. Leo Moran, trained their guns on the Republican organization today with serious charges against the present administration.

Following is the statement in full: "Vincent J. Bonadies and J. Leo Moran as Democratic Candidates for Township Committee to this day continue to be the only candidates with any program, put forth in the interests of the town and its people. Again we must repeat, it's not a program proposed to cure all our ills nor is it a solution of all our problems; but this program will serve as a guide and pattern for future action and planning."

Independents Will Present Tax Program

Thomas A. Argyris and Francis J. Keane, candidates for the two places on the Township Committee on the Independent ticket, believe the tax bill is the most important thing to be considered by the Springfield voter when he goes to the polls on November 3.

Following is a statement on their proposed method of handling Springfield's financial program: "The primary local concern of the citizen taxpayer of Springfield is his tax bill. After years of Republican mismanagement of our financial affairs, the Independents have prepared a plan providing a sound business approach to Springfield's financial future."

"To insure the necessary control of income and expenditures, and the planned capital improvements needed to properly improve our town, we pledge ourselves to sponsor and support the adoption of a Capital Budget. A 'Capital Budget' covers five or more years ahead—in terms of capital expenditures, while the current budget covers only the cash outlay for each year."

"The three main objectives of a capital budget are: 1.—The scheduling of necessary capital improvements in the order of their importance. 2.—A careful weighing of future needs against the ability of the community to pay for them. 3.—The stabilization of the tax rate over future years."

"Under this plan, the Township Committee would appoint a qualified Board of Estimate, which would work with the department heads and would recommend expenditures in line with urgency and estimated income. The plan would allow the community to plan needed improvements and maintain the cash flow in line with our ability to pay. This plan would eliminate ill-conceived or ill-timed extravagance and inefficiency."

"The people of Springfield have given the political parties many opportunities to prepare and present a sound financial program, but every time the people have been disappointed. Only Independent candidates can successfully develop this program, unhampered by party struggles and directives."

Defends School Board In Selection of Architect

Dr. Stanley K. Freeman takes issue with a letter appearing in last week's issue of the Springfield Sun in which Clifford W. Zimmer, local engineer, who found fault with the method used in the selection of an architect for the new proposed school. Following is the letter.

I read with more than usual interest Mr. Zimmer's highly critical letter appearing on the first page of last week's Sun. As a member of the Citizens Advisory Committee and one who is deeply concerned with the future of our school program, I must emphatically take issue with his bald and entirely unfair attack upon the sincere group of men and women comprising our School Board. The exceptional achievements of the architect recommended by the Citizens Committee and selected by the School Board were described in the same issue of your paper. No crude aspersion with the deliberate intent of impugning Mr. Schmidlitz's ability can carry any weight in the light of the facts outlined in your article. Mr. Zimmer apparently has substituted his own...

ON THE SUNNY SIDE

Springfield's political scrap has reached the name-calling stage which is to be regretted—but the tempo of the now rather bitter campaign has been threatening for some time to "burst out all over."

By this time a great number of the voters have made up their minds and the indications are that there will be a great deal of ticket splitting—which may produce some unexpected results in the forthcoming elections.

However, everything that happens up to the time the polls open on election day is just the preliminary, the rehearsals. The real job starts when the workers of the well-oiled machine—the polling places to get out the vote. That's where the Republican organization will have the edge on the other candidates.

The seasoned political prognosticators are watching one candidate—Vincent Bonadies, a young, personable chap who has everybody worried except his rapidly increasing number of friends. Bonadies, head of a local industry, has been shaking a lot of hands and saying "hello" to many people and his personality has made him the "hottest" thing in the campaign.

Springfield is losing the services of a very lovable and civic-minded citizen with the announcement that Mrs. Eva P. Brown has resigned her position in the local Public Library after ten years of faithful and efficient devotion to her duties.

Mrs. Brown wouldn't say just what she intended to do to replace her duties in the library but Springfield can rest assured that she will continue to give of her time and services to the many organizational and civic affairs in this area.

There is talk—and with some basis of fact—that a very elaborate alteration job is being planned on the fronts of the Quinzel property on the north side of Morris Avenue near the center.

Once again—may we ask all those who write letters to the Springfield Sun to sign the missives and give address and telephone number. It is not necessary for the Sun to publish the name of the letter writer but we want to be certain that it was written in good faith.

We are inspired to make the above announcement because we have before us a letter merely signed, "An Interested Tenant of General Greene Village." It is a very controversial subject but our policy has been that we cannot print it unless it is signed—even though the name need not appear in print.

Springfield was the locale for artists in the past two weeks, two of New Jersey's well known painters having set up their easels at the center to paint the First Presbyterian Church and the Springfield Sun building next door.

Maxwell Simpson, an artist who lives outside of Plainfield, has been putting the church building on canvas which he plans to exhibit, among other subjects, in a one man show under the auspices of the Maplewood Woman's Club. Mr. Simpson has been planning to come to Springfield for some time as he has always been interested in old buildings and especially likes the character and style of the First Presbyterian Church.

The other artist, Homer Flemming, well known as an illustrator, was born and raised in Maplewood and is still a resident there. He has always wanted to come to Springfield and get a sketch of the church building as he is interested in all buildings of historical value.

Another story—which also carries with it some doubt but which bears repeating—is the one concerning the young couple who came to a recent rummage sale held in Springfield, wheeling their baby. They brought the carriage into the rummage sale, lifted the baby into their arms out of the carriage, and started to do a little shopping of their own.

By the time they had made a complete tour of the rummage sale and returned to where they had left their carriage, some energetic member of the committee had sold the baby's carriage. This speaks well for those engaged in running the rummage sale—but it was three days, the story continues, before the carriage was repurchased for the young couple.

SPRINGFIELD SHORTS—The Springfield Chamber of Commerce Business Directory for 1953-54 has a category under the title of "Attorneys," with four Springfield members of the bar listed. But Magistrate Henry C. McMullen's name does not appear—although he is listed under township officials.

of Dr. N. F. Vogel's office at 297 Morris Avenue is further evidence what Colonial design means to a building. The door gives it a lot of eye appeal. The Gerald Bryson Agency, specialists in insurance, gives those over sixty a little hope. Bryson has a hospital-surgical plan for persons age 60 to 80. Max (Doc) Rappaport, proprietor of the pharmacy bearing his name on Morris Avenue, is putting the final touches to changes on the front of his store—and it looks well even though it isn't of Colonial design.

chase of an old street cleaner for $95.00 which was disposed of by the Town of Madison. A street cleaner that will never leave a street clean and which eventually will wind up as junk. They don't talk about the fire truck now laid up for repairs and painting for many months because of improper advertising for bids.

"Of course the Republicans talk very little about a very few members of the police department and the breakdown of police morale. They say very little about the few men who have demoralized the reputation of one of the finest groups of policemen any town has ever had. No, they say nothing about the covering up for certain individuals who have left behind a trail of smashed police cars, broken homes, broken hearts and shattered lives. The good upright policemen of our town are crying for a clean-up at the top of the ladder and a breath of fresh air in the department. The Democratic candidates have urged the immediate adoption of a civil service program to cover the police and fire departments. A system where merit and not politics ascertains the future of two important service departments.

The Republicans inform us that they are exploring the possibilities of locating a service road in the rear of Morris Avenue for garbage collection, deliveries and parking. They don't tell us though, that this would now provide the private scavenger with the only valid excuse for collecting tribute from merchants and all business people. Such a collection would be a deviation under the present garbage contract and would be an aid and comfort to the squirming town officials who have permitted the private scavenger to assist business men and merchants for the normal twice-a-week pickup of garbage.

The Democratic candidates have urged a study and adoption of a plan for a joint-meeting commission with neighboring towns for the collection of garbage. Hence, ending once and for all the political abuse and neglect attached to the present arrangement with a private scavenger.

The Republicans are basking in the dimmed glory of the off-street parking ordinance. They point out that the ordinance is designed to benefit merchants, shoppers and pedestrians. They don't say though that at its final hearing the ordinance was blasted by over 75 merchants and other interested people. They don't say that the township committee stenrolled the ordinance without paying heed to objections and inequities in the ordinance as compared to neighboring towns.

"They ignore completely the fact that as a direct result of the stringent requirement of the ordinance several of our old industries are packing up and looking elsewhere for space. Little do they say about future industry eliminating landscaping and beautification of property in favor of enormous parking areas that will find little use. The Democratic candidates advocate strongly an off-street parking ordinance with fair and equitable provisions protecting both merchants and the interests of the town. They also advocate and support the expansion and improvement of municipal parking lots.

The Republican hierarchy lays claim to the fostering and promotion of light industry and business growth in Springfield. They completely lose sight of the fact that their type industry, i.e., motels, playlands on highways, car hops, Dairy Queens, hot dog stands and the such bring only added burden to the town while produce no appreciable increase in our taxables. These are the kind of business other towns discourage while they are gobbling up desirable industry with high ratings. The Republicans lose sight of the fact that we need desperately high ratings that are little and to offset the terrific increase in population and increased demand for town services by this new influx. Poor planning and no vision has again plunged the town into an abyss of helplessness.

The Democrats advocate immediately the drawing of a genuine Master Plan to cover the next five or ten years so that we may not again be caught short. In conjunction with this plan we advocate the establishment of a permanent Industrial Commission to encourage and study new industry and its desirability.

What About Floods
The Republicans have again pulled out the file marked "floods." Each election time they drag out the completely worn out reports and talk about alleviating flood conditions. During the year though, they turn deaf ears to constructive proposals, but continue to sit on their do-nothing hands. The Democratic candidates propose not the ultimate solution but a permanent flood commission whose members can place their fingers on the problem continuously throughout the year. With this approach and a true cooperation with county and state officials, a solution to the problem will certainly be forthcoming in the very near future.

SPRINGFIELD SKETCHES

BEVERLY RAFFAPORT

Several years ago some famous doctors stood around a bed in the government hospital on Ellis Island. These were the doctors of a man who a few hours before had come in direct contact with a high tension electric power line and had been toppled headlong 18 feet to the platform of a steel pier.

It was impossible, they agreed, that life could be sustained for more than a few hours in that burned and broken body.

Two weeks later, when the stubbornly persisted in the still unconscious form, the doctors concluded there might be a chance of a medical miracle. The man who had sustained an electric shock nearly equivalent to that used in the electric chair and whose skull had been cracked in the fall to the pier might live. But he undoubtedly would be a helpless cripple. This was the only hope they held out to his anxious family.

Doctors Weren't Aware

But the doctors were not aware of the amazing vitality of the man whose associates on the McAdoo Tunnel and Panama Canal building projects already had named "the unkillable man." Nor were they aware that a Christmas custom of his forebears would play a large part in his recovery.

The man, whose medical history is considered by doctors one of the most amazing on record, is Harry E. Speicher, of Evergreen avenue. Mr. Speicher, after several painful years of recuperation, moved to Springfield with the avowed intention of rebuilding his broken body and shattered nervous system. In this, he has been aided constantly by the government and his gratitude for the help he has received is unbounded.

He first earned the name "unkillable" when he survived a black water fever, a dreaded disease of the tropics which took the lives of many during the building of the Panama Canal. While still in the Canal Zone as the youngest supervisor on the project, Mr. Speicher escaped virtually unharmed when twenty-seven tons of dynamite exploded prematurely and killed thirty-six men. He was the only man in the immediate vicinity to escape with his life.

Refused Defeat

When Mr. Speicher finally emerged from the hospital after the Ellis Island accident, it appeared certain the doctors had been right in their second prediction, that he would be helpless the rest of his life. But he refused to accept the verdict and, in this stand, was supported by rehabilitation agencies of the government. For months he just did simple little exercises to help him regain the use of his hands and coordinate his faculties. Then he turned to a hobby.

The son of John Speicher, an associate of Thomas Edison and inventor of more than fifteen railroad appliances and fire alarm system improvements, Mr. Speicher is descended from an old Pennsylvania Dutch family. The practice of that section is to build a model village each year as part of the Christmas decorations. It was somewhat natural, therefore, that he should select as his hobby the building of a model village.

The village became the mental and physical therapy that helped him through his long, painful recovery. But his interest lessened after a while and he neglected his village and even gave some of it away. After his first wife's death Harry Speicher married Anne Drew, cousin to his wife and formerly a Broadway and Hollywood star. Together, they began rebuilding the tiny town which appealed to Anne's imagination and artistic sense. They have spent thousands of dollars and thousands of hours on their village which enchants all children, whether they are babies or grandparents.

The Village

In an article by Pat Scillit was revealed that like Manhattan, the village is built on rock—1700 pounds of painted cement hills and valleys beneath a burlap-bag city. The winding roads are lined by street lamps Harry made from Pitt gun sprayers. Their tiny light globes were sent to him from Japan. Town planner Harry built ponds from the insides of old refrigerators and stocked them with goldfish.

A stone bridge, made from pebbles he and Anne collected on the Jersey shore, arches gracefully over one stream. Crossing a second is a span Harry built from corkscrews. Since he leans on them when he does repair or construction work, the bridges, in spite of their size, will support 150 pounds. Signs were once alphabet noodles. Walks, parks and gardens are studded by "trees" that grow in the Speicher's own garden and are preserved by a process they invented.

There are two churches. The Catholic Church Harry modeled after one in Germany. He built it in honor of a friend of Mrs. Speicher and has even equipped it with an organ, made from parts of a toy organ, a harmonica, a sewing machine and an erector set. The other church is a miniature of the lovely old Presbyterian Church of Springfield.

A large hotel invites guests. The tiny houses are all hinged so that Harry can redesign them, and are built from pictures of houses he and Anne liked. Those in the distance are larger, rather than smaller. Otherwise they would be hard to see. Mirrors set in the wall make the town seem even bigger than it is.

Villagers are everywhere. They relax beside the pond or at the bar on the boardwalk. They hurry along the roads or wait in the railroad station for one of the two trains that run through the town. A bride and groom mount the steps of the church, while a priest waits inside for them. Others gaze at the shrines, the bronze statue in the park, read the plaque Harry took from the abandoned French dredge when he was working on the Panama Canal, or look at the war memorial, a stone from Gettysburg flanked by two cannons.

Stones Set Into Grounds

Into the grounds and bridges Harry set, one by one, hundreds of stones. Some, he and Anne found. Others, ranging from ordinary pebbles to a piece of glowing Indian amber, were sent to him from Europe and Asia. He has tones from George Washington's tomb and one that, according to the notarized statement accompanying it, came from King Arthur's castle.

Lighting, according to Harry, makes or breaks a town. By pulling switches, he makes 24 hours pass in about 15 minutes. Two-

Harry and Anne Speicher admire the intricate work of their miniature village complete with mountains, railroads and vacation spots. The resort of 20 square feet in the Speicher basement at 11 Evergreen avenue probably has more visitors for a place its size than any other town in the world.

To complete its reality, night changes into day and day into night by means of a lighting system. When she won a beauty contest and a contract from Charles driver once went down on his knees.

A thoroughly up-to-date town planner, Harry even anticipated the rainmakers by inventing a rainstorm complete with thunder and lightning. It is so real that two women once thought it was a storm.

While Anne and Harry accept donations, they don't charge admission to their village. Their like the youngsters who bicycled all the way from Newark, or the old man who collected and sold junk to earn the fare so he could bring four ragged spellbound little kids to the village.

Anne, who started her career

Frohman, finds in the village an outlet for the talents she once displayed in silent movies opposite "greats" like Mary Pickford and Francis X. Bushman.

Anne Loves Circus

Anne is fond of the village but her favorite project is the three-ring jeweled circus. She painted the scenery and the posters for the circus and stitched the elephants' blankets. But Harry made the tents from sailcloth and rigged a turntable to give the effect of a continuing show.

After completing the model town of forty or forty-five houses and buildings, Harry turned his attention to other activities and in the years that followed rebuilt from an old barn the house in which he and his family now live.

When the house was completed he built a number of chicken coops and has developed a poultry farm. In this connection he has experimented extensively, particularly with a view to preventing and curing ailments that take a heavy toll among poultry.

According to the Speichers, the best thing about the village is the people who come in to look around. "Often the neighborhood kids arrive on their steps early in the morning for a personally conducted tour by Harry. 'We have helped ourselves as best as we could,' said Anne. And a large sound of applause is due the Speichers who have had the courage and faith to overcome seemingly impossible handicaps in order to bring joy and happiness to others as well as themselves.

Plan Historical Society Here

Those interested in organizing a Springfield Historical Society are invited to attend a meeting to be held in the American Legion Hall Thursday evening, October 23, to start at 8 p.m. P. Wiseman, Assistant Director of the New Jersey Historical Society, one of the state's leading authorities on New Jersey's history, has consented to attend this meeting and help to organize the local group. Magistrate and Mrs. Henry-C. McMullen, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene

F. Donnelly, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Tallau and several other Springfield citizens have already expressed their willingness to become members of such a society. The only requirement for membership is an interest in historical matters as it relates to Springfield with the idea that such an organization might aid in preserving some of the Colonial and historic sites now falling before the advance of commerce.

Everybody is invited to attend this organization meeting to hear Mr. Wiseman point out the objectives and need for a local historical society.

Painting By Bill Jensen Accepted

"Bill" Jensen, of 126 Meisel avenue, who is recognized as a top flight artist in addition to his other aptitudes, has been notified that his pastel, a study in blue, entitled "Portland Light," was accepted by the artist jury at the 23rd annual New Jersey state exhibition for New Jersey artists to be held at the Montclair Art Museum from November 22 to December 13, inclusive.

The exhibition is being held under the auspices of the Montclair Art Association and is open to artists now living in New Jersey, or who were born in the state. Those who have seen Jensen's entry believe the five-man jury panel, selected to study the exhibits, will place the local artist's entry high on the list for the awards.

BULLDOG BITS

By DON HALBSGUT

Coach John Brown's Bulldogs learned a big lesson last Saturday, and they were awarded a great victory over previously unbeaten Caldwell. They were taught that if they didn't fumble, throw bad passes, and get penalized almost continuously, they could put together a good long drive for a touchdown.

Up until last week, the Bulldogs had ruined every drive they had started with a fumble, penalty, or interception, and had failed to even score from a sustained drive. But Saturday, it was different. Regional didn't fumble, get penalized, or toss bad aerials, and when the final result was in, the Bulldogs had turned in their top performance of this campaign. Two long drives gave Regional a 13-6 triumph over Caldwell for the "birth time" in succession, barring the 19-19 tie in 1952.

Regional rolled off nine first downs to Caldwell's four, and was penalized only ten yards to the Chiefs' 35 yards.

A new star may have been born Saturday, and at least he was good enough to take the "Back of the Week" award. He's Freshman Ronnie Coles, brother of Bobbie and Chick Coles, past Regional stars. The 200-pounder scored the tie-breaker and pounded the Caldwell line. As good as he was, he had a tough time nosing out George MacKenzie for the award. Georgia is a certainty for all-county honors and possibly state recognition. Harold Bolick, the "Line-man of the Week" turned in a great performance, both offensively and defensively. Hal set up the game-winning touchdown by intercepting a Caldwell pass, in the fourth period.

The whole Regional line, led by Ed Ruby, Ernie Bearfield, Jack Wyckoff and company, was responsible for the "Defensive plays of the Week." In the second stanza the forward wall barreled in on two successive plays for a total of 20 yards lost by Caldwell. What a line!

THIS WEEK'S GAME

Regional	Roselle
12 Hillside	6 Scotch Plains
2 Morristown	6 Somerville
6 Somerville	32 Harrison
15 Caldwell	7 Union
53	31
Won 3	Lost 1
Won 3	Lost 1

Compare these records and judge for yourself. It's going to be another thriller. Somerville had to score two last minute touchdowns to nose out the Boro eleven 13-6. Of course you all know what happened when Regional tangled with Somerville. Roselle also topped a pretty fair Union club, Regional's Halloween-Day opponent. Two weeks ago after the Somerville game, I didn't think the Bulldogs' chances were any too bright. It's slightly different now, and unless Regional falls back into its old shell, Roselle is going to have its hands full.

The Orange and Blue had to go to the last minute last year to upset Roselle 7-6. In fact Roselle is another team which hasn't beaten Regional in nine years.

THIS WEEK'S PREDICTIONS

Regional at Roselle—All the Bulldogs have to do is repeat last week's performance. No fumbles, no penalties, no interceptions, (and a little luck). Regional 12-7.

Hillside at Cranford—One consolation, someone has to win. Both teams sport 0-4 records. The Comet in a good one. Hillside 19-7.

Jefferson at Union—Union could rebound from last week's loss to Roselle. The Big Red, however, will be tough. Jeff 19-7.

Scot at Rahway—Rahway's 18 game winning streak is on the line. This is the big one for both clubs, for both need this one for serious little consideration. Rahway 18-14.

Roselle Park at Harrison—The unbeaten Panthers walked over Westfield last week 46-0, and Harrison isn't much better. Roselle Park 41-6.

Columbia at Westfield—The Blue Devils are playing a murderous schedule. Now if they only had a team. Columbia 21-0.

Regional scoring to this point stands 18 points for MacKenzie, six for Robert Hill, seven for Coles and two for Joe Holiday. . . . Anyone know how Springfield Regional's first football season came out? If you're interested, here it is. The locals played only six games, won just one, but the scores were amazingly close.

Yes, Caldwell was Regional's very first gridiron opponent, with their records showing Highland Park as Regional's first victim.

Regional High Wins 13-6

Caldwell High, with an unbeaten record in three games, found Regional High of Springfield a bit more than they could handle, as the Bulldogs pounded out a 13-6 victory last Saturday.

After three exchanges on punts, the Chiefs began to move, on a pass to little Bobbie Robbins to the Regional nine yard line. Three plays up the middle netted only four yards as the Bulldog line dug in. On fourth down Robbins again carried, this time for a five yard touchdown. The extra-point pass play was broken up, but Caldwell led 6-0.

The rest of the first half was evenly matched with each club punting three times and neither team threatening.

The start of the third stanza produced the first long drive this season. Bu Hubbinger took the kickoff and returned to the Regional 40. Ron Coles went for seven and Larry Robinson drove for four more and a first down. A 16 yard penalty took the ball to the Caldwell 39, where Coles again hit the line for three. Then George MacKenzie took as handoff from George D'Blasio and broke off tackle for 36 yards and the tying touchdown. Robinson's try for the conversion was wide.

Caldwell almost jumped ahead again as Robbins raced from mid-field to the Regional 16. However, the Bulldog line held and Caldwell lost the ball on downs on the line.

The fourth period started with Regional moving the ball 20 yards before punting to the Caldwell 20. Two plays later, Harold Bolick intercepted a short pass on the 26. MacKenzie went to the Chiefs' 19, Coles drove to the 16, and Mac again carried to the 12. D'Blasio lost to the 16 where MacKenzie swept wide around left end to the two, finally being knocked out of bounds. Coles then went off tackle for the touchdown and a Regional lead of 12-6. Coles added the point on the same play.

The Bulldogs attempted three passes, none completed, while Caldwell tossed nine, completing two, and having two intercepted.

Regional line-up:
Ends—Ruby, Hull, Hubbinger, Gellini
Tackles—Barefield, Yannotta, Holley, Wyckoff, Buttius
Guards—Bolick, Venice, Santanello, Eskas Seaver
Centers—Minda, Gauthier
Backs—MacKenzie, Robinson, Betz, Reid, D'Blasio, Clendrea, Arthur, Coles.

HOW Water Works

If the great Polar Ice-Caps were suddenly to melt away...
Our Coastal Cities would be buried under 130 FEET OF WATER!

Do You Know... WHY PINE TREES ARE OFTEN PLANTED AROUND RESERVOIRS?
Because the fallen needles help to hold the rain water, thereby lessening the erosion and providing more uniform drainage into the reservoir.

Gulliver's Travels

LITTLE CLASSIC FROM JONATHAN SWIFT'S FAMOUS STORY

PART I: Voyage to Lilliput

LEMUEL GULLIVER WAS A RETIRED SURGEON LURED BACK TO THE SEA FOR A TRIP TO THE SOUTH SEAS.

AT FIRST, THE VOYAGE WAS VERY PLEASANT-- BUT LATER THE SHIP WAS DRIVEN AGAINST A HUGE ROCK, AND WRECKED.

EVERYONE ON BOARD WAS LOST, EXCEPTING LEMUEL GULLIVER. WHEN THE LIFEBOAT HE WAS IN WAS UPSET, HE STARTED TO SWIM IN A RANDOM DIRECTION.

FINALLY, HE WAS ABLE TO SAFELY REACH SHORE.

IN GULLIVER'S OWN WORDS, "I LAY DOWN ON THE GRASS AND SLEPT. WHEN I AWOKE, I WAS UNABLE TO STIR. MY ARMS AND LEGS WERE FASTENED TO THE GROUND; MY HAIR WAS TIED DOWN."

HE HEARD NOISES ABOUT HIM. SOMETHING ALIVE, ADVANCING. ALMOST UP TO HIS CHIN, IT WAS A HUMAN CREATURE, NOT SIX INCHES HIGH.

HE HEARD NOISES ABOUT HIM. SOMETHING ALIVE, ADVANCING. ALMOST UP TO HIS CHIN, IT WAS A HUMAN CREATURE, NOT SIX INCHES HIGH.

FORTY MORE FOLLOWED. I ROARED SO LOUDLY THEY RAN BACK IN FRIGHT, LEAPING FROM MY SIDE UPON THE GROUND.

THEY SOON RETURNED! I LAY ALL THIS WHILE IN GREAT UNEASINESS.

I TRIED TO CATCH ONE OF THE SMALL PEOPLE.

I FELT ABOUT A HUNDRED ARROWS DISCHARGED ON MY LEFT HAND.

STRAIGHT ARROW

STEVE ADAMS AND PACKY McCLOUD ARE RIDING HOME TO THE BROKEN JOU RANCH...

HOOF PRINTS, STEVE! SOMEBODY'S BEEN RIDING ALONG THIS RIDGE-- MAYBE A COUPLE OF RIDERS, GOING INDIAN FILE! PERHAPS A DOZEN OR MORE, PACKY!

THAT'S A TRICK OF LONE DOG AND HIS CHEYENNE RENEGADES... TO MAKE THEIR BAND LOOK SMALL! THEY MUST BE STALKING SOMEONE!

YOU'VE HIT IT, STEVE! THESE TRACKS MUST BE THAT PARTY OF RAILROAD SURVEYORS!

ROUSE THE RANCHERS, PACKY, WHILE I RIDE AHEAD!

RACING AHEAD INTO THE HILLS, STEVE ADAMS REACHES A SECRET CAVE AND ENTERS...

ONLY TO EMERGE AS HIS OTHER SELF: STRAIGHT ARROW, REASSUMING THE QUEST ON FURY, HIS GREAT PALOMINO.

FASTER, FURY BOY! WHATEVER LONE DOG IS OUT TO DO, IT'S FOR NO GOOD-- AS WE KNOW FROM OLD!

MEANWHILE, UP AHEAD, CHIEF SURVEYOR RUXTON FACES A PROBLEM...

I SEE WHAT? ONLY ODD THING IS THE NAME "WAKON TONKA"?

WHY ARE YOU QUITTING NOW, NOMICITSIS? YOU LOOK AT MAP; YOU SEE WHY?

THAT IS ENOUGH! "WAKON TONKA" MEANS EVIL SPIRIT! HE STRIKES DOWN THOSE WHO ENTER HIS VALLEY! WE CHEYENNES WILL NOT GO THERE!

GO YOUR OWN WAY THEN! WE WON'T NEED YOU!

SURVEY PARTY IS ON WAY HERE, LONE DOG! YOU MUST PREPARE FOR THEM!

THE PREPARATIONS ARE READY! COME, SEE!

LOOK, LONE DOG! STRAIGHT ARROW COMING TO WARN THEM!
