Mental Health Drive Begins On May 8th

Mayor Albert G. Binder today issued a proclamation designating May 8-14 as Mental Health Week and called upon the citizens of Springfield to support the Mental Health Fund Campaign, which will last through the month of May.

The local Mental Health Fund drive is part of a nationwide campaign conducted by the National Association for Mental Health and the Union County Association for Mental Health. The Springfield Association for Mental Health, according to its Chairman, Mr. Arnold C. Hutchinson, "has participated very well in the past in this national program, and will make an 'all out' effort this year to beat last year's record!"

Plans for the fund raising campaign were mapped at a meeting held in Mr. Hutchinson's home, where block captains and supervisors were named to carry on the fund drive on a house-to-house basis. Mr. Carlisle Richards of the First National Bank of Springfield was named as Treasurer; Miss Christine Ungam as Secretary of the Fund; and Mr. Morton R. Adell, active in Springfield Scouting, is in charge of publicity. Mrs. Russell Miller of the Springfield Board of Education, Mrs. Arnold C. Hutchinson, Mr. Vincent J. Bonadies, Eugene F. Donnelly, Town Attorney Max Sherman, Township Clerk Eleonore H. Worthington, Committeeman Charles Reminger, Plumbing Inspector Arthur L. Marshall and Committeeman Frederick A. Mauldin, Eagle Scout Gerald Lambert of Woodside Drive is on the extreme right. Both Boy Scouts are from Troop #62. (Bob Jones Photo)

New Shopping Center Here to Open May 26

The General Greene Shopping Center is expected to be ready for a formal opening and ribbon cutting exercises May 26.

This date has been the target set by Max J. Levine, head of the general contractors and developers of the shopping center, and all the stores are aiming for that general opening day. There is considerable interior work to be done but the contractors feel confident that it all can be completed by May 26. The signs for the Grand Union store have been in place for several days.

Nagel's Window Dresser Honoring Mother's Day

Ernie Nagel, proprietor of the meat market on Morris avenue bearing his name, is a great believer in the rule that "it's just as important to appeal to the eye as to the palate." The displays in the windows of Nagel's establishment on Morris avenue have been attracting considerable attention and his latest, honoring Mother's Day on a field of pink carnations keeps pace with all the others.

"These window decorations," said Nagel, "have been done by Frank J. Fritzen, of 25 Johnson avenue, Newark, who is just as clever in window dressing as he is in mixing a martini, which is his regular and chosen profession."

Ask Law to Ban Dumping Of Circulars In Town

With the thousands of visitors expected here for the celebration commemorating the 175th anniversary of the Battle of Springfield to be observed during the month of June, the Township authorities are beginning to insist on some needed housekeeping chores to impress those attending the ceremonies. War on the "litterbugs"—that untidy habit of littering the

Legislation Introduced To Control Selling Of Certain Goods Sundays

While the New Jersey Council of Churches has been doing considerable work throughout the State in battling the growing menace of Sunday selling of unnecessary merchandise, there hasn't yet been organized effort on the part of the Springfield and Union churches to support public sentiment and opposing legislation.

However, announcements from the public have made Springfield residents aware of the increasing Sunday selling practice.

Rev. Marvin Green, Pastor of the Springfield Methodist Church, read the following statement on "Sunday Observance" to the worshippers attending the 9:30 and 11:00 o'clock services last Sunday:

"Having served for several years on the Methodist Newark Annual Conference Sabbath Observance Committee, I know there is a great deal of importance attached to citizens voicing their convictions in a united way at the right moment, rather than voicing them in a dispersed way when the accumulative effect is dissipated.

It seems to me the time to speak up concerning the Christian view of the Sabbath as a day of rest and holiness, consecrated and set apart for recreation of the spirit and body is just now.

One of the features that makes Springfield an "oasis for jangled nerves" is that of a quiet Sabbath day and a tradition of family fellowship unbroken on the whole by the mad rush of Sunday traffic as far as we ourselves are concerned.

Clean-Up Weeks Start Here May 1

The first two weeks of next month—from May 1 to 15—have been officially designated as "Clean up, paint up, fix up" for the Township of Springfield.

Residents of Springfield are asked to clean out cellars, attics and garages and place everything on the curbs so that the Township trucks may cart it away. The trucks will cover all sections of the Township throughout the clean up period and trips will be repeated as often as necessary.

This is an annual clean-up and fire prevention program in Springfield and all residents are urged to cooperate by collecting and disposing of all rubbish, papers, and unwanted material during the coming two weeks.

Sunday Selling Bill

Below is the full text of Assembly Bill No. 454, introduced in the New Jersey Legislature by Mr. Hauser and referred to the Committee on State, County and Municipal Government.

An Act authorizing municipalities, by ordinance, to prohibit the sale, on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, of certain goods, wares, and merchandise, and to fix penalties for the violation thereof, and authorizing the restraint of violations thereof.

Be it Enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

1. The governing body of any municipality may, by ordinance, prohibit the sale on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, of goods, wares and merchandise except the sale of farm products, oil, gas and automotive supplies, and the preparation and sale of drugs, meals and prepared foods and the sale and delivery of milk, and the sale of non-alcoholic beverages and alcoholic beverages, if such alcoholic beverages are authorized by law to be sold within the municipality upon that day.

2. Said governing body may fix penalties for the violation of any such ordinance, and any person or corporation who is convicted of a violation of any such ordinance, and who again violates the same, shall be deemed to be guilty of maintaining a public nuisance and the municipality may institute a civil action in any court of competent jurisdiction to enjoin and prevent the further violation of such ordinance, which court shall have power to enjoin and restrain any further violation of said ordinance by order or judgment according to the practice of said court any violation of any such order or judgment shall be punishable as a contempt of said court.

3. This act shall take effect immediately.

Sunday selling, with Springfield and Union as examples of this rapidly increasing practice, is running into organized opposition from official sources as well as from church and civic groups.

The first official shot has been fired with the introduction of a bill in the legislature, Assembly No. 454, by Col. Hauser which is "an act authorizing municipalities, by ordinance, to prohibit the sale, on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, of certain goods, wares and merchandise, and to fix penalties for the violation thereof, and authorizing the restraint of violations thereof."

Kindergarten Registration Starts May 4

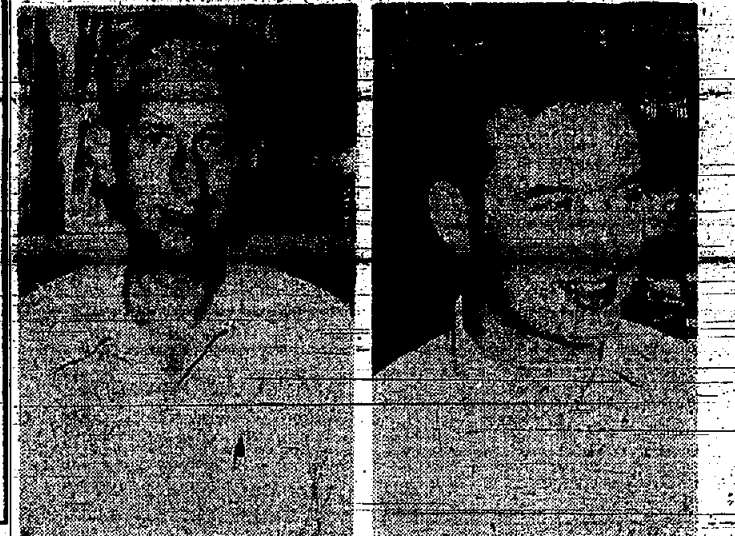

Parents of children in Springfield who will be five years old on or before December 1, 1955, are again alerted to register them for kindergarten starting next Wednesday, May 4. Superintendent of Schools B. F. Newswanger announces that the first day's registration will be from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. at the Raymond Gaudineer School.

The bill does not ask a ban on the sale of all goods on Sunday. It further states that it prohibits the sale of goods, wares and merchandise except the sale of farm products, oil, gas and automotive supplies, and the preparation and sale of drugs, meals and prepared foods and the sale and delivery of milk, and the sale of non-alcoholic beverages and alcoholic beverages, if such beverages are authorized by law to be sold within the municipality upon that day.

The campaign against Sunday selling has no definite leadership as yet but opposition is springing up from various sources in Springfield and Union. "There are many places on Route 22 in Springfield," said one merchant who is being hit seriously by the Sunday selling; "we're not aiming (Continued on page 3)

Accepted Into Rotary

NEW ROTARIANS—Ike Freedman (left) and Lou Kravitz (right) were elected into the Rotary Club of Springfield at ceremonies held at the last regular meeting at the Baltusrol Golf Club on Tuesday. Freedman is owner of the Springfield Paint & Hardware and Kravitz owns Kay's Stationery, both Morris Avenue business establishments.

PLEASE REGISTER ALL DATES

In order to avoid conflicting dates for the many worthwhile events in Springfield, the Chamber of Commerce, with the cooperation of the Springfield Sun, is setting up a bureau which is to serve as a clearing house for definite information on the dates to be selected for all fund drives, civic functions, meetings, etc.

There is no charge for registration and information is FREE. Here's the way it will work: Register the date you have already selected for any event by telephoning Millburn 6-5000. It will then be placed in the DATE REGISTRATION BOOK.

If there is some event already booked for the date your organization has selected—we will give you that information and you can decide then whether or not to make a change. Registration of a date does not necessarily mean that this particular time has been allotted to a specific organization. It will merely serve notice that some affair has already been scheduled on that date.

This service will enable all organizations to arrange their functions without discovering, too late, that one or more other affairs have been booked for the same evening.

Letters will be mailed by the Springfield Chamber of Commerce, calling attention to this free date book service.

If your association or organization does not receive one of these letters, will you please telephone the Springfield Sun, Millburn 6-5000 and register whatever dates you are planning. Again, we repeat, there is no charge for registration nor is there anything to be paid for the service.

FROM HIS FRIENDS AND ADMIRERS—Felix G. Torney General. Shown in the group are (l. to r.) Forlenza, local attorney receiving a gift gold watch Isaac Freedman, Thomas Lyons, Judge Felix Forlenza, "Phil" Forlenza, Howard Flammer and Chateau to honor his appointment as Deputy At- Vincent J. Sermon on Selling Church Choirs

 "All with whom I have talked in the business world certainly do not want an 'open' Sunday—they do not want to keep their places of business open—they finally resort to such practice through competitive pressure to maintain their standing in the business world. In short, an 'open' Sabbath with businesses doing business as any other day is almost always the result of the clamor of our general citizenry."
 "May I urge you to think through on this problem carefully in the light of our Christian convictions and then boldly join hands with all forces working throughout the County to help maintain quiet and rest on the Sabbath day. Our children will be the beneficiaries of such a policy as well as ourselves. The time to speak up is now. Speak frankly with our Township committee-men and all officials in public office. Let them know our views. God bless us in our endeavor to keep the Sabbath Day holy!"

Franks Auto Cops First In Bowling

The pin-boys set them up and the bowlers knocked them down for the last time Monday night as the municipal bowling league came to its finale. Franks' auto service finished first by a comfortable six-game margin by taking all three games from H. Anderson and Son.

The Community Shop, second placers in the final standings, lost two to the Regional Shop as Shop-Rite, last year's winners, failed in their attempt to at least grab a tie for second by losing two games to Suburban 5&10 and wound up in third place.

Bunnell Brothers and Corzolino each won two from Clara Mould and Suburban Liquor respectively. Cameron's Tydol took two games from the American Legion. Individual honors also went to Franks' Auto. George Schwerdt had a 190-381 and 253 for a 614 series. Richard Schwerdt hit for a 202 and 297 and R. Ziegenfuss had a 202 and 211. Baumann of Corzolino Furs 217; Sidorowski of Clara Mould 211; Freddy Kugelmann of Community Shop 201 and Wood and Grabau of Cameron's Tydol 222 and 203, respectively. Charley Davis of Bunnell Bros. 203 and 210.

140 Turn Out for Baseball League

An additional practice was held at Melsel Avenue Field on Tuesday evening and another is scheduled for this evening at the same field.

Over this coming weekend, all statistics on each boy will be thoroughly analyzed by League

Ban Dumping

 bundles of circulars on the lawns of our homes and leave our sidewalks and streets littered with these handbills and other literature.
 "To add insult to injury, these circulars are distributed throughout Springfield with offerings of merchandise from neighboring towns, in direct competition with Springfield's shops where the same quality goods can be obtained. The out-of-town merchant prints a large handbill, hires what is known as door-to-door distributors to flood Springfield.
 "They are thrown by the handful on our lawns, our hallways and into the streets. If there isn't a law against this, one should be passed. It would fight unfair competition from out of town merchants and the Chamber of Commerce is certain that local store owners will cooperate in every way possible to help stop littering the streets."
 "We're making people aware," said Righy, "that throwing paper and refuse on the sidewalks and streets means a messy looking town and if laws are needed to stop it, let us have the necessary ordinances passed. In the meantime, the Township should place wire receptacles in all sections of Springfield where the civic minded citizen may deposit an empty bag, paper or other refuse."
 "The blame is not all aimed at local merchants and residents. Artists, traveling through Springfield, have been seen tossing banana peels and discarded paper bags on Morris Avenue. I understand there is a state law prohibiting this and, perhaps, the local authorities can make an example of a few offenders and thus discourage using Springfield as a garbage heap for their car outings. It's a difficult task to police the long lines of cars speeding through the Township but the news that Springfield will not tolerate throwing of paper and debris from cars might be just the kind of publicity the Township needs. We must have a clean looking Springfield when the big invasion comes for the celebration."

Minuteman . . .

180 YEARS AGO this month a small group of men gathered at Concord Bridge and took a stand for a way of life they believed in.

They called themselves Minutemen—ordinary citizens willing to protect their freedom and their families with their lives. And in a less dramatic but no less essential way, the spirit of Concord Bridge is evident today. Millions of citizen soldiers are now training in our armed forces and in volunteer reserve units. Like the Minutemen who preceded them, they are prepared to protect their homes if they have to.

Let the Minuteman in the Savings Bond symbol remind you of the necessity of constant vigilance—and of a way we can all contribute to our nation's strength and preparedness—through the systematic purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds.

Security—for ourselves and our country— is simple with the Payroll Savings Plan

Eight million working people just like yourself are profiting by steady investment in Savings Bonds through the convenient Payroll Savings Plan. Why don't you join them? Just tell the people in your company pay office how much you want to save each payday and sign the card they give you. Then that amount is put aside for you each payday. When enough accumulates, you get an interest-earning Series E Bond.

For your future—and the future of America—sign up today for the Payroll Savings Plan or buy Bonds regularly at your bank. If you want your interest as current income, ask your banker about 3% Series H Bonds that pay interest semiannually by United States Treasury check.

Ila and Elmer, Andrew of 21 Cottler Avenue are bearing over the new arrival, Eric, born at Overlook Hospital, April 20 and boasting of a weight of seven pounds and seven ounces. The Andrews have two other children, Phyllis age six and Edward age seven.

Another new addition to Cottler Avenue is the Phipps family. Mr. and Mrs. Olin L. Phipps have moved into their home at 10 Cottler Avenue. Oddy enough, they moved to Springfield from Springfield, Pa. The Phipps have two daughters—Betty, Jane age 20, who is a junior at Grove City College, Grove City, Pa. and Geraldine age 15, who is finishing her junior year in high school in Springfield, Pa. Mr. Phipps is general accountant for Westinghouse in Hillside.

Mrs. D'Angelo was also surprised with a diamond ring given to her by her husband, and a statue of the Sacred Heart given to her by her son, Ronald.

Woman's Club News

American Home Department members enjoyed a real culinary treat on Tuesday evening, April 19, when they held their second "Recipe-Exchange" dinner at the home of Mrs. Vincent Bonadies, 12 Sherwood Road. The Executive Board officers were special guests at the dinner which was served at 7:00 p.m.

Twenty-three department members and guests were seated at an over-sized table which was tastefully decorated with lovely spring flowers and yellow candles. Delicious casseroles of chicken and asparagus, Hungarian goulash, stuffed mushrooms, scalloped potatoes and frankfurters, lobster creole, meat-potato burgers, La-sagne, eggplant, chicken creme de Valille and Spaetzle were served. Frozen fruit salad, strawberries and raspberries in jello salad, and a pepper-hush relish accompanied the meal. Nut bread, freshly baked was a treat. Desserts were tempting, too, and included strawberry ice cream cake roll, angel food filled cake, Swedish almond tarts, and coffee cake.

All of the dishes were prepared by the department members at home and the recipes used to make them are now being compiled into a booklet form by Mrs. Elmer Arnold to be distributed at the next month's meeting. The Recipe Exchange Dinner is one which we hope will become a tradition with the American Home Department.

The Garden Department gave a "Charm Party" last Wednesday evening, April 20, in the American Legion Hall and invited everyone to see and hear Grace Truge demonstrate the art of applying make-up correctly. Miss Truge holds to the theory that "Every woman is beautiful—she just needs help in selecting good cosmetics and in applying them correctly." Individual help with problems involving skin care and make-up was given by Miss Truge and her associates. Special attention was given to the teen-agers in the audience.

Free lipsticks and powder packets were distributed to everyone who attended. A $10.00 door prize was awarded to Mrs. Vincent Carney, 194 Milltown road, and a $3.00 door prize was won by Mrs. Henry Wasing 65 Woodcrest Circle.

At the conclusion of the "Charm Party" delicious refreshments of cookies, fancy cakes, and brownies baked by members of the department were served with punch and coffee. Mrs. George Rau and Mrs. Louis Schneider were in charge of Hospitality and were

Babe Ruth League To Meet Tonight

The Springfield Babe Ruth Baseball League will hold a meeting at 8:15 tonight at the Municipal Building, with League President Gene Donnelly going over the details of the combined Youth Baseball and Babe Ruth Baseball Fund Drive which will be held this Saturday morning.

Adults who have been supervising the tryout sessions are invited to attend the meeting. The makeup of the teams will be made known after noon Monday as the selection committee will screen all candidates on their ability. Report cards will be cross checked, with the thought of establishing a balanced four-team league. Any boy who fails to make either of the four clubs will be placed on a minor league team, filling any vacancy that might occur.

All four clubs will be completely uniformed as well as insured for any injuries. No selections will be made until all tryout sessions have been completed.

Ruth League Gets Its New Uniforms

The Springfield Babe Ruth Baseball League will be completely attired in brand new baseball uniforms. Each team will bear the name of their sponsor, numbers on the back of the uniforms identifying each boy. Each boy will be insured for injury, as well as those who are participating in the Minor League program. The well organized baseball league will operate on Monday and Wednesday evenings, using the new Florence Gaughier diamond as well as the Regional High School Athletic Field. All games will start at 6:30 p.m., with capable umpires officiating. A schedule of all games will be posted in next week's Springfield Sun.

Softball League

The organization and tryout session for the Springfield men's softball league will get under way for the coming season at a meeting to be held at the town hall on May 3 at 8 p.m. Anyone within the town interested in playing in the league or any merchants and industries interested in sponsoring teams in the league are invited to attend. For any further details, contact Ed Ruby at Millburn 1616-1.

PROTESTANT FORUM

Do Protestants have to go to church? "You Protestants are lucky. You don't have to do anything if you don't want to. Why, you don't even have to go to church. You have such an easy religion."

How many times have you heard a remark like this, a remark made, perhaps, with a touch of envy, even bitterness. Most Protestants, realize, of course, that anybody who makes such a statement is obviously misinformed. But at the same time, it makes a person wonder. What exactly is an easy religion?

As far as we're concerned, there just ain't no such animal. It's not easy to be a devout Christian, any more than it is easy to be a devout Jew or a devout Moslem. Trying to be a good Christian—day after day—is, as every Christian knows, a full-time job. Yet, for some strange reason, Protestants are supposed to have a pretty easy time of it.

Some people, in fact, act as if Protestants have invented a whole new religion and make up new rules whenever it suits their fancy. Protestants, needless to say, have done no such thing. Christianity was not "invented" by anybody. It was founded on the teachings of Christ and spread throughout the world by his early disciples, who, by the way, did not always agree on what He meant even then.

No wonder there is still some disagreement among Christians today as to what Christ wants us to do, or not to do.

Some Christians, for example, claim that a person must go to church every Sunday in order to save his soul from Hell. Most Protestants, on the other hand, believe that salvation lies mainly through faith in Jesus Christ. Protestants do not deny that church attendance is most important, but neither do they claim it is the only path to salvation.

Which brings us back to the question—do Protestants have to go to church? If you mean are Protestants forced to attend church, the answer is plainly No. Yet many Protestants do believe they have to go to church. Here's why: Every Protestant pledges to support his church when he becomes a member. That's why Protestant children aren't counted as members of their churches until they are old enough to understand their duties. You support your church, of course, with your service, your offerings and your faithful attendance. You can't do this when you're out playing golf Sunday morning, no matter how hard you pray. So in this sense, many Protestants feel obligated to attend church.

Protestants, however, are also proud of this fact: The people who go to their churches are there because they want to be, which is probably the best reason of all.

SUNNING SPORTS

By BOB DUBOW

Continued rains have been forcing the postponement of four of their first seven baseball contests. In spite of all the April showers Coach John Brown's crew of tracksters have really been making a name for themselves. The Brownmen scored two consecutive victories over Linden and Hillside. Tomorrow on their home grounds they will take on Summit. The Summitters should provide strong competition for the well balanced Bull Dogs but the Regionallites will probably overcome them.

In the Linden meet Curt Merz, went on a scoring rampage tallying three first places for a megal total of 15 points. Curt took first in the shot put, javelin, and discus. Putting in fine performances were Butch Anderson, Ike Williams, Bucky Brown, and a host of others. In the Hillside meet the Comets provided rugged competition losing only by 11 points.

After speaking with Mentor Brown we learned that although the team is proficient and strong the absence of two boys, expected to set the team back a bit. Kurt Rahenkamp, who just recently was released from the hospital and Karl Ford, were two fine up and coming runners. Ford had been one of the returning Tetermen, and Rahenkamp had been expected to break five minutes for the mile.

Back to the diamond situation we find a contest scheduled for tomorrow at Linden. The Orange always put out a well rounded squad and the game should be close and interesting. Coach Muller charges have a 2-1 record. Since nothing else is news in the field of sports at Regional we will end with a wish for some hot dry weather, a few baseball games, and continued track triumphs.

Jewish Community Group Surprises With Professional Presentation of "Blithe Spirit"

By S. O. Sarokin

When our date book showed the innocent entry that "on Saturday evening, April 28, the Dramatic Workshop of the Springfield Jewish Community Group was presenting "Blithe Spirit," an improbable farce by Noel Coward in the auditorium of the Regional High School—and that I was to attend, come taxes, high water or what not—I remembered exactly how I felt the first time I reluctantly kept a professional appointment with my dentist.

Or, was it that empty void feeling I had when I waited for some word from the nurse, while I paced indifferently, up and back, the length of the ante-room of the maternity ward?

I confess that I have always been the rather timid soul who actually shuddered at the thought of sitting through a seven course menu of amateur theatricals but, to add further sound and fury to the sinking feeling, the cast of characters showed, in the order of their appearance, that the part of Charles, heavy with dialogue and monologue, was to be portrayed by an up-start in histrionics who signs his golf scores, as Julian Sarokin.

Having "won World War Two in the air force," I may have, at times, painted him as a chap with some courage—but never would I admit that I would dare get his toolies wet, up to here, in amateur theatricals unless he were paying off an election wager or that the casting director, "Blithe" Fisher, had caught him in a weak state of mind and sold him a bill of goods.

Carried to School

Beating him in golf was never cause for the ringing of bells and I could always "schneider" him in gin rummy. But this was a side of him I hadn't yet discovered and hated to. There was no use fighting it—it was evidently bigger than all of us — and I yielded. For the records, I announced that I would attend under protest and, with serious misgivings and much apprehension, I was practically carried to the school.

As surreptitiously as is possible, under the circumstances, I slumped down low in my seat and explored the room underneath for the possible need of sliding completely under. I held on to the arms of my seat—the impressions of both hands are still visible to the naked eye—as the curtains parted for the opening lines of the little fantasy by the other Coward.

The beauty of amateur theatricals or even the serious dramatic workshop was the fluffed line, the missed cue, the utter despair that comes with an entire forgotten down-stage speech—but this group stopped me completely.

There were no flubs, no missed cues to speak of, no real forgotten lines; it moved along with precision, like "pro performers." The Martini glasses shattered according to the book, the doors opened by the spirits to the proper moment.

With each spoken line without the expected flubs and laughter when there were no jokes—I elevated the position in my seat. By the time Madam Arcati had given her first seance, I was sitting boldly upright, glaring about me to see anyone who dared not enjoy this presentation.

No Talent Scouts

There were apparently no Hubbywood or Broadway talent scouts in the well-filled high school auditorium since nothing has been announced that would indicate contracts and ten per cent business managers. However, those who saw the performance and waited to the last enthusiastic curtain call, agreed that it was a great artistic success and only the beginning of greater things in that direction.

Sari Hockstein played Edith, the maid, and did it so well and convincingly that it wouldn't surprise anyone if she has already received several offers for similar work in some of Springfield's homes. Selma Seroff, as Ruth,

Thomas Campion, local attorney and insurance man, Mrs. David St. Stanislaw of the P.T.A. and Mrs. Wilbur Ego former School Board member will assist Mr. Hutchinson in the fund raising campaign. Volunteer workers are urgently needed in the collection drive.

It was also planned to have a Continuing Committee to carry on the Mental Health program throughout the year. This committee, to be made up of community leaders and delegates sponsored by local civic and community organizations, will continue the educational work of the National and County Committees in giving aid to local Mental Health agencies or programs already established, and to help in starting new agencies where needed.

Mrs. Russell Hiller, in an address to the D.A.R. of Whippany, Tuesday evening, April 28th, stated: "Do you know that mental illness took a greater toll during the past year than ever before in our history? People used to think that mental illness couldn't be cured. But now we know better. If your town has an epidemic of polio or typhoid, you'd certainly do something fast, wouldn't you? Well, mental illness is practically an epidemic in our country today. There are more people in hospitals with mental illness than with polio, cancer, heart disease, TB, and all other diseases

Had Pro Touch

The entire presentation had a professional touch and the scenery, built by local talent, furnished in the finest of taste, equalled anything on Broadway. Following are those who comprised the production staff for Saturday's performance although a great many others whose names do not appear below, pitched in and helped stage this artistically successful Noel Coward play.

Chairman, Ruth Gold; Stage Manager, Felix Gold; Business Manager, Marvin Simon; Production Committee, Lorraine Lewis, Robert Hockstein and "Chuch"; Kessler, Tricketts, Paula Sussman and Irene Weiss; Treasurer, Sari Hockstein; Program, Millicent Kramerman; Publicity, Morton Weinstein, Mimi and Mickey Bidleman; Costumes, Thelma O. tenstein; Make up, Belle Straver, Frank Brown and Ruth Mendin; Set Design, Ania Breier; Props, Corrine Greenstein; Special Effects, Robert Hockstein and Seymour Weinstein; Construction, Lou Lamberg and Joseph Bender.

put together. Yet few of our mental hospitals have the trained workers or the treatment facilities needed to give the victims of mental illness the right kind of help. Give now to your Mental Health Fund in order to help those who are leading the fight against mental illness by working for better mental hospitals, more clinics, more research in order to save the victims of mental illness.

Local Physician to Head Essex Co. Medical Society

A Springfield resident will receive high honors in the medical profession on May 12 when, it is announced, Dr. Jerome G. Kaufman of 29 Forest Drive, will be elected president of the Essex County Medical Society.

Dr. Kaufman is one of the leaders in medicine with offices at 299 Clinton avenue, Newark.

RE-ELECTED CHAIRMAN—Leo Moran was named Democratic Municipal Chairman at a meeting of the Springfield County Committee held Monday evening. Mrs. Michalena Wasung, County Committeewoman of the second district, was elected secretary.

Moran served as municipal chairman for the Democrats here last year and his re-election was a vote of confidence in his ability to lead the party in the important elections next November.

Troop News
 Troop 6: Miss Adeline Gehl, Leader; Mrs. R. Grant, Co-Leader.
 Soon our big show will be ready for the entertainment of our younger brothers and sisters, cousins and invited guests! We have not only written the play, but we are making all of the scenery and the puppet-actors as well. Working on the puppets has been lots of fun and helps us earn the "Dabbler" badge. This also takes us one step nearer to our first class rank. Lynn Thompson is moving and will have to leave our troop at the end of the year. She has just returned from Indianapolis where she saw her new home. We will miss her very much.

Troop 22: Mrs. John Dreher, Leader; Mrs. L. Field & Mrs. E. Haggerty, Co-Leaders.
 Ice cream cones in hand, we took a tour through the new Sip & Sip restaurant. It was very interesting to see how they prepare the food for their hundreds of customers. We have started on the work for the tenderfoot rank so that we will be ready for the big "Fly-Up" ceremony in late May. We have already made a fire and toasted marshmallows. Although the Strawberry Festival isn't until the 4th of June, we have already started making ceramic articles for our booth. Later, we will make felt pictures suitable for framing. Folk dancing has kept us busy this spring and we are now ready to pass the Folk Dancing merit badge.

Troop 27: Mrs. H. Brucker, Leader; Mrs. E. York, Co-Leader.
 Mr. Joseph Roper arranged to have our troop taken through a big leather factory. Mrs. Roller and Mrs. Lyons drove us to the factory where we saw huge hides before and after processing. It was very interesting to see soft pink and blue leathers made out of the rough hides. For Valentine's Day, we made sachets which we sent to the ladies at the Belvedere Home. They were most appreciative and wrote us nice thank you notes.

Parents Hear Talk On Report Cards
 Report cards as an integral part of scholastic years, and progress reporting as used in the local system, was the subject of the meeting on April 21 of the Parent Education Group of Raymond Chisholm School.
 Daniel R. Murray, school principal, described the marking system used in the Springfield Schools, pointing out that in kindergarten a check list is used in connection with a conference between parent and teacher. In the primary grades report cards are sent home which list studies and character traits marked in terms of outstanding, satisfactory, or unsatisfactory progress. Conferences are held with parent and teacher during which time markings can be explained and readiness and potential abilities of the child discussed. In the intermediate and upper grades report cards are marked on a literal basis for subject areas and character traits are marked in terms of outstanding, satisfactory or unsatisfactory. Conferences with parents for clarification are desirable.
 Records of progress were agreed to be necessary both for current and future uses. It was stressed that each child is marked as an individual and on personal achievement. In addition to basic objective standards many factors are considered in marking. The meeting was held under the chairmanship of Mrs. S. B. Haas.

 A summer wedding is planned.

Sunday Selling
 at. But we cannot compete with those places open seven days a week night and day.
 "Everyone knows," continued this merchant, "that one of the larger places on Route 22 is now enlarging its sales rooms and the story is that it plans to sell merchandise not in the least related to goods and wares originally offered to the public."
 "It is also a known fact that one of the largest retail organizations in the world will soon come to Route 22 in Springfield as a tenant with Sunday selling as the attractive bait for locating in this area."
 "Springfield has several high-class food markets and another, the Grand Union is opening one of its newest establishments in the township in a few weeks. The competition between the local markets is fair enough but they cannot hope to compete with food stores open just over the line in neighboring Union. Housewives who might otherwise take time from their duties to shop in Springfield, during the week, follow the line of least resistance and decide to wait until Sunday when the husband can be drafted to carry the bundles.
 "Some merchants are forced to open for a few hours on Sunday in order to hold some of the regular customers who might otherwise drive down to Route 22—but all of them have repeatedly stated that they would like to have Sundays to themselves as a day of rest. But they will not be able to remain in business if Sunday selling is permitted without any controls as to the merchandise offered.

Holy Cross Ladies To Hear Curator
 Dr. Harold N. Moldenke, Director of the Trailside Museum and Supervisor of Nature Activities for the Union County Park Commission, will present a lecture entitled "Plants of the Bible" to the Ladies Guild of Holy Cross Lutheran Church on May 4th at 8:00 p.m.
 Dr. Moldenke is the former Curator and Administrator of the Herbarium of the New York Botanical Garden, Bronx Park, New York City and is an outstanding botanist. He is the author of the article on "Plants of the Bible" in the Encyclopedia Americana.
 Dr. Moldenke's lecture is copiously illustrated with beautifully colored slides. He will discuss 60 of the 242 different kinds of trees, shrubs, herbs and flowers mentioned or referred to in the Bible. The lecture is based on many years of research on the subject by the speaker and his wife, during the course of which over 800 books and papers on the subject have been studied, including most of the ancient, medieval, and Latin translations and versions of the Old and New Testaments and Apocrypha. Dr. and Mrs. Moldenke are also authors of a book on the subject.

After the lecture which will be held in the church, the Ladies Guild will hold a short business meeting followed by coffee and cake.
 At last week's meeting of the Ladies Guild, the following new members were welcomed: Mrs. Ruth Lodato of 166 Henshaw avenue, Mrs. Gertrude Pfeiffer of 31 Country Club lane and Suzanne Wilner of 122 Salter street.

The Word We Dreaded

My husband and I were together when the phone rang. He got up to answer it and I held my breath as I heard his quiet, "Yes, Doctor?"
 Then he put the receiver down carefully. His face, when he turned to me, was gaunt and lined, but he was trying to smile.
 "Was it—the laboratory tests?" I asked.
 He nodded. "We'd better get my bag packed," he said gently. "They want me in the hospital this evening."
 We had realized for months that something was wrong. But the pressure of his business postponed action. "Guess I'm a little off my feed," was all he would say. It took our family physician only ten minutes to change that attitude. He made an immediate appointment with a specialist. And at the end of an anguished week we knew. The laboratory tests confirmed the word we dreaded—"Cancer."

 That was a year ago. Modern cancer research saved my husband. That... and the surgeon's skill, the strength of our faith and his own fighting heart. He is alive and well today. For us the story has had a happy ending.
 Yet it isn't ended. When we think of the thousands of other families tragically broken every year, we feel we still have work to do. Many types of cancer can be cured if caught in time. We tell our friends, "If there are symptoms you don't understand, see your doctor at once." And we give to support the constant research of the American Cancer Society in finding the causes and reducing the incidence of cancer.
