The General Electric Co., Springfield, was one of the 47 firms in the Union County area awarded certificates of merit Tuesday night at a dinner sponsored by the Union County Safety Council in the Elizabeth-Carter Hotel, Elizabeth.

The certificate was presented by Carl Holderman, commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Labor and Industry. The presentation concluded the 27th annual Statewide Interplant Safety Contest conducted by the State Department and represented the first safety records during the first quarter of 1955.

E. N. O'Grady, safety director of Hyatt Bearings Division, General Motors Corp., Clark, was chairman of the dinner. Lowell F. Johnson, of American Home Products, New York City, was the speaker. The chairman was assisted by R. A. Breur, personnel manager and director of safety of the Wood Newspaper Machinery Corp., Plainfield.

NBC To Furnish Sound Effects For Pageant

"The Miracle at Springfield," the pageant to be staged on the Regional High School grounds the evening of June 23, looks like one of the high spots of the elaborate program being arranged to commemorate the 175th anniversary of the Battle of Springfield.

A very important rehearsal will be held Monday evening, June 6, in the auditorium of the Florence Gaudineer School at which time all members of the cast are urged to be present.

Women Voters Push Freedom Agenda

The League of Women Voters of Springfield is engaged in plans for organizing a Freedom Agenda Project for the fall.

The first meeting was held recently at the home of Mrs. David T. Stamenman where Mrs. Peter Schuyler, Individual Liberties Chairman for South Orange and a member of the State Committee of the League, was the main speaker.

Presiding over the meeting was Mrs. Roy Gertmanian, president of the local league, while assisting in the discussion was Mrs. Clarence Selzer, chairman of the Freedom Agenda Project for the Springfield League.

Every town and city in which people are concerned about the preservation of our American constitutional liberties is encouraged to participate in the Freedom Agenda Program.

Mrs. Selzer, chairman, is now organizing an initiating committee of prominent local citizens who are willing to give time to this program, in cooperation with the League of Women Voters.

Plans are underway for small discussion groups as well as outstanding speakers for public meetings who will cover a study of the Constitution, the Bill of Rights and the main principles of American Liberty.

"We're practically ready for the pageant," said Ralph Feldman, in charge of this particular event. "None of the members of the cast will be called upon to speak any lines since the whole pageant is being presented with a narrator, who happens to be the Town Crier 'Bill' Jensen and who does a remarkable job. The rest of the show will be dramatized with sound effects, unusual lighting effects with all members of the cast having definite parts to play but no lines to speak. We do need more Minute Men to complete the picture and presentation, and we hope some volunteers will report at Monday's rehearsal in the Gaudineer School."

The National Broadcasting Company, through Charles F. Beardsley who is associated with NBC, will cooperate with the pageant committee in supplying special equipment to produce the needed sound effects for the battle scene scripts. NBC technicians have also promised to help Mr. Beardsley's home town with some unusual and dramatic lighting effects which is to be installed and operated under the direction of the pageant committee.

Wanted: Girl Who Wowed Man on Bus

This is a human interest, romantic story concerning a rather timid, shy but stary-eyed young man who vows to dedicate his life to finding "that Springfield lovely who rode the 2 p.m. bus from the New York bus terminal to Springfield last Thursday, May 26." The young man's feat hasn't yet touched the ground.

The young man's name isn't important except he hopes, to this dream girl. He came to the Sun office with a request that the "Personal Advertisement" below be published:

Time: May 26, 1955, on the bus leaving New York Terminal at 2 p.m.

Will the lovely girl who asked to be awakened at Union because she was getting off at Springfield, please get in touch with me. Homely awakener still in a trance.

Write P. O. Box 261, Union N. J.

The shy guy's explanation is that he tried to muster up enough courage to start a conversation with the vision of loveliness but she seemed exhausted and tried to sleep. By the time he threw caution to the winds and informed her that the bus was approaching Springfield, he had passed his own bus stop in Union and the young girl had alighted in Springfield and disappeared.

Now he hasn't been able to rest, he has no peace of mind, he can't forget the "lovely face" and he wants her to write that Springfield gal who made the 2 p.m. bus from New York can save this guy's life.

Store By Main St. Sought For P.O.

Postmaster A. V. Del Vecchio has announced that the Post Office Department is seeking an agreement from a proprietor of a store to conduct a Contract Station of the local post office in the vicinity of the intersection of Main Street, Morris and Flamer Avenues.

Contract post office stations are those facilities located in places of business and operated under contract by persons not employed by the postal service. The successful bidder must provide sufficient space in his establishment for the transaction of postal business, consisting of money order, registry, parcel post and the sale of all necessary postal items. The proposition must agree to provide a sign, safe, heat, light and all clerical service necessary for the conduct of this business.

Lumbermen Laugh At Snappy Signs

Two signs on the premises of the Columbia Lumber and Millwork Co. in Maple avenue, display interesting personnel and human relations. One is a sign, tacked in a very conspicuous place, and is a "Notice To Employees," as follows:

EXCUSES FOR TIME OFF on account of sickness, death in family, funerals or weddings must be reported to the management before 11 o'clock a.m. on the day of the game.

The other sign announces that Columbia Lumber "sells Davy Crockett lumber—cut by Davy, himself."

Ernie Sells Miles Of Frankfurters

Since no previous records have been kept, Ernie Nagel, proprietor of the popular market, bearing his name, on Morris avenue, is claiming to have set a mark which deserves some prominent place in the record books.

With the weatherman promising sunshine over the week end, Ernie said his sales staff sold 658 pounds of frankfurters which, if laid end to end, would reach from Springfield to goodness knows where. Ernie's was sold out of hot dogs by 10:30 Saturday morning but the rush on hamburgers continued until closing time. There were no figures available on the acres of hamburgers sold but Ernie believes even this barbecue delicacy made new records in the quantity disposed of for a single weekend.

Nagel's, as usual, kept pace with the calendar with his attractive window dressing, substituting the 175th Anniversary theme this week for the Decoration Day signs which attracted attention last week.

Nurse Problem Is Again Discussed

Members of the Board of Health thoroughly discussed the matter of furnishing nursing services to all school children in Springfield at an adjourned meeting held in the Town Hall Tuesday evening.

There was nothing official stated by Township Committeeman Frederick A. Handville, president of the Health Board, but announcement will be made in July which is expected to solve the problem of nurse medical attention for all schools in Springfield not now receiving nursing services.

Nicholas Angleton, whose name has been prominent in the rapid development of Springfield with the construction of Short Hills Village and General Greene Village, is anxious to make clear his position and interest in the request to rezone the North Jersey Quarry Company which he recently purchased.

The Township Committee, at its last regular meeting, introduced and passed on its first reading an ordinance authorizing the changes. The ordinance will be considered for the final reading and passage at a public hearing to be held next Wednesday, June 8, at the Township Hall.

"My dealings with the present members of the Township Committee," said Angleton, "have been on a very high and business like basis and I am happy to say that I have found the present governing body very eager to be constructive in planning for the future of rapidly growing Springfield."

Now Largest Taxpayer

Mr. Angleton stated that he was now the largest taxpayer in Springfield and "that I certainly wouldn't want to do anything that would affect the investments in the Township." He said he has held several conferences with members of the Township Committee because the development of the quarry property presented so many different problems and zoning changes, exceptions and variances which had to be thoroughly discussed before proceeding too far with the many angles of such an ambitious program.

"I told the Township Committee what my plans were," Mr. Angleton continued, "and I emphasized that there couldn't be too great a delay in their decisions. I have dealt with many governing bodies and I want to make this public statement that Springfield's Township Committee gave me sufficient time to present the many sides of my problem, asked many questions and weighed the entire development from all angles but they didn't put me off indefinitely."

"So I had assurances that my overall plan appeared to be acceptable and that everything would be done to expedite the matter for me. The Committee took its time in considering my requests for changes but it didn't delay the decision and I believe that it's good business."

Mr. Angleton pointed out that in his dealings with governing bodies in the past, matters of (Continued on page 5)

Town Expansion Program To Be Heard June 8

Final steps in the expansion and modernization program of Springfield's municipal buildings will be taken at the regular meeting of the Township Committee next Wednesday, June 8, when the ordinance providing for the general improvement and financing of the costs will be submitted for final passage.

The program calling for an expenditure of $325,000 is the result of recommendations made by a Citizens' Committee, named by Mayor Albert G. Binder to make an exhaustive study of municipal needs.

The report of the Mayor's Committee stated that "the recommendations were arrived at after a systematic and comprehensive study of the problem—the present and future needs of municipal physical facilities."

The report of the Mayor's Committee urging the expansion program gave a detailed explanation of the survey to the members of the Township Committee, part of which is as follows:

After Long Study

"The recommendations herein set forth were arrived at by the Committee after a systematic and comprehensive study of the problem presented for its consideration."

"In order that all concerned may be fully aware of the nature, complexity and scope of its task, the Committee deems it advisable to include in its report its method of approach to the study of the problem and the many ramifications involved."

Civil Defense Asks More Volunteers For Job Here

With the increasing population of Springfield, many more reserve policemen are needed to meet the standards required by the State plan in conjunction with the Civil Defense and Disaster Control program.

Those who respond will find that in addition to fulfilling a civic duty they are at the same time undertaking an interesting and gratifying activity.

The Police Department of Springfield is a basic and important part of the Civil Defense and Disaster Control organization. This latter group is established under state law and, as the name implies, must be prepared to function in the defense of the community and its neighbors against any enemy attack and, in time of peace, to assist the community to overcome the dangers and hardships resulting from disaster from natural causes.

TO OUR ELECTRIC CUSTOMERS
whose service was temporarily interrupted recently!
We regret very much any inconvenience suffered by our customers in this and several other communities when electric service was temporarily interrupted on Wednesday, May 25th.
Here's what happened:
At 3:45 P. M. a short circuit developed in one of the main distribution cables at the company's substation on Chatham Road, Summit, after it had been hit by lightning earlier that afternoon. At the same time a circuit breaker inside the substation, which normally would have cleared the short, caught fire causing extensive damage to service equipment and interrupting power on lines feeding out of the substation.
Fortunately, no one was seriously injured although three company employees on duty at the time received superficial burns and slight cuts. They were released after treatment at Overlook Hospital in Summit and returned to their posts.
Damage to equipment was so severe that practically all of it had to be replaced. New equipment and additional personnel were rushed from the company's shore area and from various points in the Morristown-Summit areas. In all, 8 new circuit breakers and 9 regulators, each weighing as much as 2 tons, and other equipment, were dispatched to replace damaged facilities. Sixteen line, substation, cable and relay crews joined in the restoration work.
Of the 15,000 customers affected by the power interruption, 6,000 had service restored within 40 minutes. By 8:05 P.M. all of the remaining 9,000 customers who were without service, except 600 in two sections of Summit, had their electricity restored. By 8:35 P.M. service to all but 100 customers had been restored and full restoration to these customers was made by 10:45 P.M.
In some cases there were recurring interruptions for short periods due to necessary repairs and damage sustained to equipment not disclosed immediately. There may also occur scheduled interruptions for short periods to permit the making of permanent repairs. In this case we will notify all customers where possible.
The company appreciates the patience and understanding of customers affected by the temporary interruption resulting from this unfortunate occurrence.
It also wishes to express publicly its gratitude to city officials, fire companies, regular and auxiliary police, first aid squads and all others who gave assistance. Their cooperation made it possible to restore power much earlier than originally anticipated.

Fathers Prove Ball Is Youngsters Game

The Bengay fathers tripped the Sloan's Liniment Dads, 8-7 in a Meisel Avenue Field game last Sunday when the CYO fathers tried to show their sons how softball was played in the good old days.

After watching the spectacle, the boys are keeping quiet. No sense in hurting dad's feelings. However, the following account was left at the SUN office.

... as for the winners, Ted Schuss started on the mound, but was relieved by Tom DeFranco, who picked up the victory. Tom Doherty's shortstop play featured the Bengay defensive play. Bob 'Shell-shocked' Miller made up for his fielding errors by hitting two triples. The rest of the Bengay offense was largely Paul Bodnar's timely hitting, a double by Stan Zabrycki, and the play by Rocky 'Speedy' Sammartino.

Angleton

this nature were seldom rushed to a decision and he believes the present Township Committee should be commended for making possible the development of a piece of property, which, he believes, might be a great loss in the matter of ratables and sources of taxes.

Followed Advice
"My plans for this development of the quarry property," continued Angleton, "are still subject to the usual procedures in Springfield before actual operations can be started by me. And the decision of the Township Committee to expedite this plan is in accordance with the advice given by Theodore T. McCrosky, the consulting engineer, who made a thorough survey of all of the Township, especially the quarry property."

"In Mr. McCrosky's Land Use and Rezoning book which accompanied his new zoning ordinance," continued Angleton, "he wrote, on Page 33, that 'worked-out and abandoned' quarries very usually present difficult problems and the Springfield quarry is no exception. As long as any other land is available for building development, a quarry is the least likely and attractive alternate rock extraction site already ceased on so many acres north of Shunpike, and as this northern tract is understood to have been recently offered for sale, the problem has immediate and demands prompt attention."

"I merely point this out," said Angleton in concluding, "that members of the Township Committee are merely following the advice of the planning experts and there was nothing personal or sinister in the quick approval given my proposal. I just think Springfield has a more business like way of handling the problems that will affect the future of the Township than a great many other similar governing bodies."

CATHOLIC FORUM

Let's go light a candle!

Let's go over to the Catholic church and light a candle up at the altar before the statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary or Saint Joseph or some other who, we know, is close to God.

Many the non-Catholic, in pain or trouble or sorrow, has done just this, and has come away comforted.

Cheap, little candles, not even blessed, burning before statues—perhaps crude, gaudy statues! What good can they do?

What good? Other little candles from the five-and-ten! Don't they make an ordinary cake a celebration in honor of someone's birthday?

So—cheap little candles before a statue can honor, can be symbolic of our prayer of petition, continuing heavenward long after we have left for home.

So let's go over to the Catholic church. Let's pray first at the center of the altar rail to God Himself, present in the tabernacle. Then let's light the candle in honor of a saint of God—a creature like ourselves who, by a life of prayer, sacrifice, and perhaps martyrdom, has gained God's special favor. Let's ask that long departed brother of ours to add his strong prayer to our weak one, that God may grant our worthy plea.

Let's go over to the Catholic church, now or any time. It is open all day, all evening, all week. Let's light our candle with full understanding that the little flame can have no power in itself but with faith that it can strengthen and continue our prayer, if we will have it so.

Candles! Millions of them down the ages. Some faintly illuminating the crude, stone altars in the catacombs, where the early Christians—assisted at Mass at the risk of their lives. Other candles of wax, blessed by the church and used through long centuries in all the services of the liturgy. Symbolic? Yes, and how inspiring! So! Light of candles—pure, penetrating darkness, fostering life, illuminating all about—truly symbolic of God—the All-Pure, the Giver of Life and enlightenment—representative also of our Savior, the Light of the World. What an aid to devotion for him who understands!

Angletons Seize BR League Lead

The Angletons took over first place in the Springfield Babe Ruth Baseball League by nipping the Drakes 10 to 9 on Wednesday, May 18.

The league leaders won despite a five-run flurry in the first inning and a four-run burst in the last inning by the Drakes. Skousen relieved Meyers for the win. In the opening round, Davenport and Puorro led off for the Drakes with walks. Iorio advanced them on an infield error, and then Springle singled in a run. Burt then boomed a base clearing triple to make it 4-0, and scored himself on Tidaback's single.

The fifth and final inning opened also with Davenport and Puorro getting on base, this time due to errors. After two men struck out, Springle, Burt and Tidaback singled in succession. The bases were loaded, the score 10-8. Iorio then worked Skousen for a walk forcing in another run. But Skousen settled down and threw his 11th strike-out to end the game.

The Angletons got 4 runs in the bottom half of the first inning when Meyers walked and Haubold followed with his fourth homer of the season. The other two runs scored on singles by Coan and Besch sandwiched around two walks. Two runs in the third and four more in the fourth gave the Angletons enough to withstand the Drakes' assault in the fifth. Springfield Babe Ruth Baseball League

Is Your Name Listed Here? These Fought That Battle

There may be a dozen or more families in town who rate as descendants of the heroes who fought the local "Battle of Springfield" back in 1870. If so, the Springfield Historical Society would like to have them say so, for there are plans to have them participate in some form or other, during the commemoration ceremonies which will mark the month of June.

The Society will publish a booklet on the battle which is the result of considerable research, some of the material being dug out of obscurity since 1870, in the form of a diary of a Hessian soldier who took part in the battle, and whose comments came to light during the occupation of Germany when one of the American soldiers located a branch of the family who descended from the diary-writing Hessian.

Covered Big Area During Revolutionary days, all the area now known as Springfield, Vauxhall, Millburn, Short Hills and the lower parts of Summit were known as "Springfield", which makes it an "area" celebration, rather than a purely local affair in Springfield.

As a matter of fact, the battles there were two: June 6th, and June 23rd—started at Elizabeth Town and came to their climax at Springfield, overran all of the center of both Springfield and Millburn, for the British were not stopped until at Millburn, they found themselves opposed by Generals Stark and Maxwell, posted in the Short Hills.

At approximately the present Town Hall, the British under Knyphausen, decided they had enough. Similarly, in Springfield, British and Hessians under Gen. Mathews advanced beyond Springfield Center, and halted when they found General Greene with Dickinson occupying strong posts on the rising ground just east of Bryan's Pond.

So, the homes burned and pillaged by the British and Hessians included as many in the Millburn-Short Hills area, as they did in Springfield proper.

Family names which survive, of those known to be residents of this area are:

Allen, Baldwin, Ball, Bets, Black, Brian, Brookfield, Budd,

Burnett, Crane, Deanna, Dickenson, Durand, Egbert, Egbertson, Edwards, French, Gardner, Halsey, Hand, Hedden, Higgins, Horton, Jeffries, Littel, Looker, Lyon, Meeker, Miller, Morehouse, Milford, McGee, Osborn, Parul, Reeve, Reid, Robbins, Ross, Salmon, Shtman, Skinner, Smith, Stinson, Suttin, Swalm, T. Taylor, Tompkins, Tucker, Tyler, Van Arsdale, Wade, White, Whitehead, Wilans, Woodruff, Woolley.

Obviously, many of these names occur among present residents of the area, and the Committee on Organization of the Anniversary of the Battle of Springfield, 175 years ago would like to recognize descendants in their proceedings.

Plans under way indicate that Governor Meyer has been invited to attend part of the ceremonies. The present Governor of Rhode Island, it is hoped, will also be among those present, since a contingent of the Rhode Island troops held the British at bay for several hours when they tried to cross the Rahway river. This force lost quarter of their men in the battle.

A. Ross Meeker, of Whitney road, (who carries two of the names listed above) is the official Short-Hills representative of the anniversary committee. Steps are under way to determine if Admiral of the Fleet, William Halsey can be induced to attend the part of the ceremonies, which will also include a pageant during the week of June 20th.

If your family name appears among those listed above, why not get in touch with the Committee.

tee, writing to Magistrate Henry McMullen at Springfield, for the committee is anxious that anyone whose forefathers took part in the battle may enjoy some participation in commemorating the battle which saved Washington's stores at Morristown, from being destroyed, for that was the objective of the British.

DANGER

There's danger lurking in that old, discarded ice box or refrigerator that you may have in your back yard.

Every year children die from suffocation because they love to play in these dangerous cabinets. Here's what you should do if you see a discarded box in your neighborhood or in the junk yard:

Remove the door. It's the best way to make such a cabinet safe.

Remove the latch on the door by taking out the screws on the door plate.

Drill holes in the door and remove the rubber gasket.

OR

Tell the policeman in your neighborhood about this dangerous menace.
