Wabeno-Flemer Avenue Area Is Being Improved

The Union County Park Commission has started a program of improving some park areas in Springfield, the section at the corner of Wabeno and Flemer avenues receiving their first attention. The high grass and weeds have been cleared away and a great deal of fill has been spread in the low spots.

1st Aid Squad May Get Land From Township

Just how much the Park Commission intends to do with the various park properties in Springfield is not known but members of the Township Committee are happy that any improvements have been started. Springfield has been ignored by the County Park Commission despite the fact that a great deal of property here belongs to the park authority. A meeting of the Township Committee and the Park Commission was held several weeks ago at which time the local officials protested that Springfield was receiving very little consideration in the development of parks and expenditures of money for such purposes.

The following letter from the Union County Park Commission to Mayor Albert G. Binder is self explanatory:
Dear Mayor Binder:
Referring to our conversation of August 4th regarding the inability of this Commission to provide a

Wilber Binder, No Relation, Is Named

Wilber Binder of 558 South Springfield avenue is stated to be the new building inspector for Springfield. He was named as assistant to the present Building Inspector Henry Grabarz by the Township Committee at the last regular meeting but it is understood that he has been recommended for the permanent appointment when Mr. Grabarz is ready to resign.

When first named to the office, Grabarz told the Township Committee that he would accept the job of building inspector only on a temporary basis. He served as a member of a three man committee to select another qualified resident for the position. Township Engineer Alfred Swenson and Township Committeeman Charles Remlinger were the other two members of the committee who interviewed several candidates for the building inspector's job.

Mr. Binder, who is not related to Mayor Binder, was selected as the most qualified of the candidates for the position. He will also serve as assistant to Township Engineer Swenson since the office of building inspector is now a full time job in Springfield and there will be many opportunities for Binder to help in all matters relating to building in Springfield.

Receives Service Button

A 10-year service button was presented to Edward J. Landrigan, 49 Keeler street, at Esso Standard Oil Company's Bayway Refinery in Linden, during August. Landrigan is employed in the Electrical Department.

NEW BRANCH POST OFFICE—The establishment of a new post office sub-station at the J. J. Newberry store became official at swearing-in ceremonies held at the store last week. Performing the rite is Abel Graziano and Assistant Postmaster William Corby V. Del Vecchio, Springfield Postmaster. Being look on.

Red Cross Flood Relief Appeal Brings In Checks

HELP FLOOD RELIEF

Mayor Albert G. Binder yesterday issued a plea for contributions to the Red Cross for flood relief and asked for all checks to be sent to ARC Flood Relief, care of Postmaster A. V. Del Vecchio.

"The American Red Cross," said Mayor Binder, "has allocated two million dollars for flood relief in New Jersey and its neighboring states and has notified all chapters that it needs more flood relief funds at the local level."

"Springfield is fortunate in not having been in the path of this flood disaster but our residents know of the havoc flood conditions can cause. You can help by sending your contributions to the Springfield Red Cross Chapter. Make checks payable to ARC Flood Relief and mail or deliver to Postmaster Del Vecchio at the local post office."

"All such contributions will be used by the Red Cross in caring for the immediate needs of disaster sufferers."

The need for flood relief funds by the Red Cross for the disaster victims brought immediate results here in Springfield with the announcement that checks had been received without even announcing a public appeal.

Among contributions already received was a check for $100 from William G. Chirgotis, well known local architect, and a $25 contribution from the Springfield Rotary Club.

The National American Red Cross has authorized the Springfield Chapter to accept contributions for a special "flood appeal." Over 100,000 persons were left homeless due to the recent flood disaster and the Red Cross has set aside a great deal of money for feeding, housing and clothing the sufferers.

All contributions for this special appeal are to be made to ARC FLOOD RELIEF and mailed to Postmaster A. V. Del Vecchio at the local post office.

Local Official Escapes Floods In Conn. Area

Harry Fox, chairman of the Springfield Board of Adjustment, is leaving tomorrow for his summer home in New Hartford, Connecticut, in hopes of bringing back Mrs. Fox and her sister who are safe but who have been practically marooned in that flooded area.

Mr. Fox himself escaped the ravages of the rampaging flood waters last Monday in his attempt to get back to Springfield and his business offices in New York City. But he needed the help of a courageous neighbor with an automobile who drove him through almost washed out roads to the north where Mr. Fox was able to take a train to New York City and home.

The Fox family has been using this summer home in New Hartford almost 55 years, said Mr. Fox, and this is the first time there has been such a disaster in (Continued on page 8)

League of Women Voters Ask Everyone to Register

Are you registered? Will you be able to vote at the General Election on November 8?

One of the many outstanding services rendered by the League of Women Voters of Springfield is the yearly drive conducted by the group to register as many citizens as possible.

Mrs. David T. Stameiman, Voters Service Chairman, is reminding everyone that the last day to register for the General Election is September 23.

"Don't Just Vote. Cast an Informed Vote" is the slogan of the League and with this in view, another Candidates Night is scheduled for October 20 at the Florence Gaudineer School. At this time everyone will be given the opportunity to hear each candidate for township committee discuss his platform.

"Are you registered?" asks Mrs. Stameiman. "In order to vote you must be registered at least 40 days before the election, Tuesday, November 8. Any U. S. citizen may register who on or before the next General Election will be at least 21 years old and a resident of New Jersey for 1 year and of his county for 3 months; who resides in the district in which he expects to vote.

Fall Festival For CYO

The CYO of St. James' Parish plan to hold their second Fall festival on Oct. 1 on the church grounds, according to Mrs. Gordon Walpole, the publicity chairman.

She says a big day is being planned to start at 2:30 p. m. and games, rides, "fun for all" will continue until 10. The following committee has been announced: Mrs. Lee L. Andrews, Jr., Chairman; Mrs. Fred Brown, Co-Chairman; Mrs. Thomas Doherty, Treasurer; Mrs. Charles Schaffernoth, Prize Chairman; Mrs. Fred Ronecker, Donation Chairman. Messrs. Henry Walters, Alfred Neidermier and Alfred Mesler are Ground Chairmen.

Merry-Go-Round By Grand Union

There is another attraction for the children of Springfield this weekend. Grand Union is sponsoring a merry-go-round giving each customer who purchases a carton of Pepsi-Cola a free ride.

There are eight small horses of all colors and different sizes for small children, with accompanying music from an automatic record player. The carousel will be in front of Grand Union in the General Green Shopping Center Thursday and Friday, from 11 a. m. to 9 p. m., and on Saturday from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Question Of Colonial Design Plays Part In Naming Of Architect

Building Code Appeal Board Is Named Here

Those who find that the new Springfield building code is a bit too severe, may now bring their troubles to a newly created Board of Appeals whose job it will be to "listen and give relief for good reason."

The members of the new board were named at last week's adjourned meeting of the Township Committee. It is headed by Dean Widmer, well known local builder, as chairman. Other members are Max Schneider, Albert Van Ripper, Otto Sessler and Erick Ericson, all active in the building or related fields.

A meeting of the new Board will be called after Labor Day to organize and plan procedures.

The question of "Colonial design architecture" is delaying the selection of the architect to handle the proposed $300,000 municipal building expansion program in Springfield.

At least, that is the position of Township Committeeman Eugene F. Donnelly who happens to be one of the very sincere champions of Colonial architecture for Springfield and who has fought to have all construction here conform, in some measure, to this design.

Name Chirgotis Or Pancani As Job Architect

"If the Township is going to spend this kind of money for additional municipal facilities," said Mr. Donnelly, "we should set an example by insisting on colonial design where ever feasible. There have been some glaring instances where architects and owners have utterly disregarded the suggestions of those who seek to improve the appearance of Springfield.

"I am particularly referring to the new shopping center. The original plans and sketches submitted to the Township Committee emphasized Colonial design but the completed job is as far away from Colonial as anything could be.

"I haven't indicated my final preference for the architect to design and supervise Springfield's expansion program," continued Mr. Donnelly, "because I want to dramatize, as much as possible, the need for a uniform type of construction style in our community where tradition and historical values will help increase civic pride. I appreciate that architects are subject to the whims of those who put up the money for construction, but the shopping (Continued on page 8)

Springfield Fire Reserves Again Answer Call for Help

Civil Defense officials and other volunteers have been alerted and "standing by" here in Springfield ever since the state wide alarm was sounded asking for help.

When the flood disaster alarm was sounded throughout New Jersey, local Civil Defense Director Dan Lucy and his Springfield delegation reported to headquarters in Trenton that they had prepared for any emergency call. Union County was on a volunteer basis during the height of the floods since there was no emergency in this area but the local CD members were ready.

As a sequel to their experience in pumping out flooded cellars in Springfield, on August 18, members of the Springfield Reserve Fire Corps had another opportunity to distinguish themselves in the same type of work this week, going all the way to the State capitol with their pumps.

Shortly after 4:00 p. m. last Monday, the following message was received by teletype at Police Headquarters, relayed from Trenton by the Union County Civil Defense Headquarters in Westfield:

"Please advise how many auxiliary pumps with crews are available and can be sent to Trenton this date."

As a member of the State Civil Defense and Disaster Control organization, the Corps was obligated to respond to this call, and at 6:43 p. m., Deputy Fire Chief Ormond Mesker and seven members of the unit started for Trenton. Alfred A. Niedermaier Jr., whose father is a member of the corps, volunteered to tow the pumper with his truck.

Upon arriving in Trenton, the Springfield unit was met at the Brunswick Street traffic circle by members of the State Civil Defense staff and immediately placed by a C. D. Radio car to a flood relief headquarters on the Island, in the residential district of Trenton northwest of the State House, along the Delaware River. The men were then assigned to a huge apartment building which had but recently emerged from the flood waters of the river, the high water mark showing a height of six feet on the walls of the first floor apartments. (Continued on page 8)

Plan Program For Constitution Day

The local chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution and other patriotic societies are preparing programs for the observance of Constitution Week which starts on September 17 and continues until September 23.

Announcement of a definite program by the various patriotic organizations will be made in a few days. Saturday, September 17 is Constitution Day but activities, meetings and other forms of observance are planned throughout the week.

Jail Couple Who Fail to Pay Fine

Springfield Magistrate Henry C. McMullen sent a man and his wife to jail Monday night for failing to pay traffic fines. They were committed to Union County Jail for 15 days.

William Cooke of 409 Cottage Pl., Plainfield, was fined $103 and his wife was fined $53 for allowing him to drive her car while his license was revoked. When they failed to pay the fines and then ignored a summons, police jailed them on Saturday. Judge McMullen counted the three days prior to the hearing as part of the jail terms.

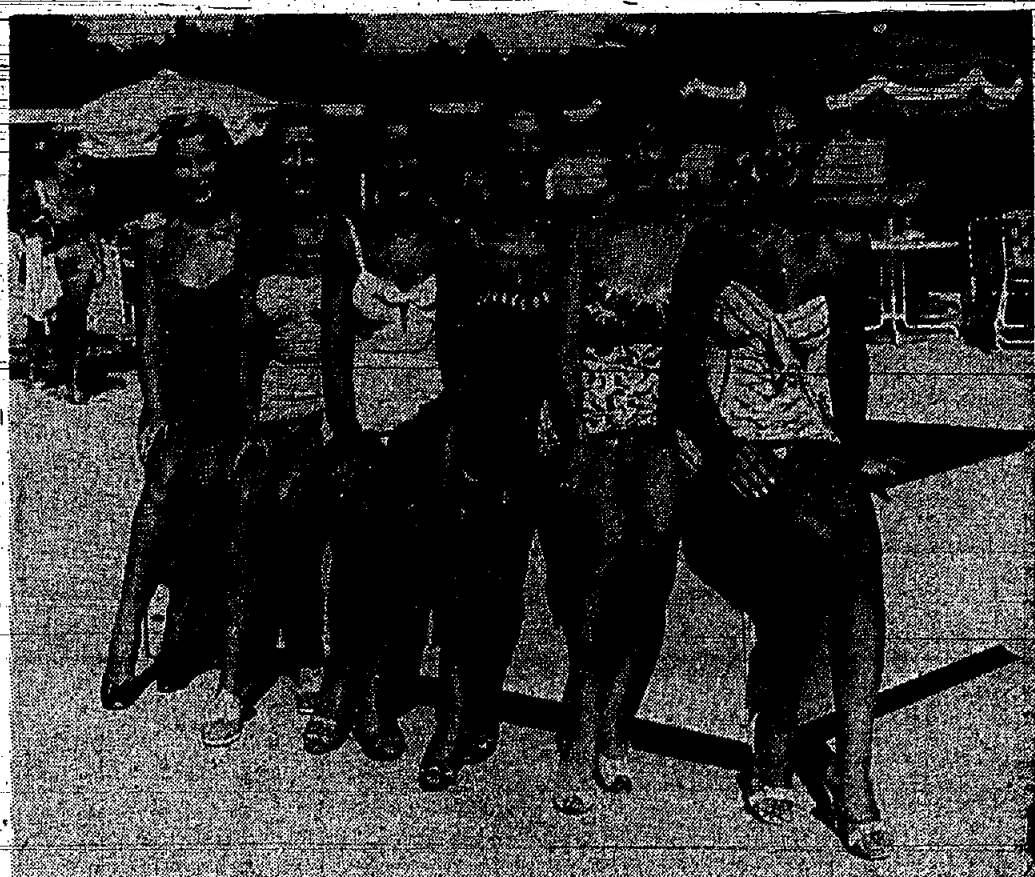

Two other fines were levied by Judge McMullen Monday in his court.

Mohamed A. Kahn, 31, of 351 Russell street, Union, who failed to show up twice in court on summonses July 14 and Aug. 8 paid $15 for speeding.

Mrs. Ida Arnold of 26 Irwin street was fined $5 for letting a dog roam. The complaint was made by the SPCA. Magistrate McMullen reserved decision on a charge of cruelty made by the association that claimed Mrs. Arnold had kept another dog tied in the hot sun at her resident.

CRASH IMPACT! Springfield Patrolman John Baber guarded a wrecked car exhibit that was shown in the General Greene Shopping Center last Friday by the N. J. Dept. of Law and Public Safety. The car had carried five teenagers to their death in an accident near Somerville recently. Springfield Police Chief Albert Sorge noted that the rear tires on the smashed exhibit were almost smooth. "They didn't have enough traction to stop this car if it had been going only half as fast," Sorge observed. He recommends that the N. J. car inspection stations look more closely at tire wear. "A car shouldn't be passed with bad tires," emphasized the Chief.

WHO IS MRS. BROOKSIDE ??? Mrs. Ruth Gold, star of "The Big Payoff," and members of her Springfield entourage and one of the six finalists in the "Mrs. Brookside-1955" beauty contest being run by the Brookside Swim Club. Final selection of the queen will take place at the pool this Saturday at 3:30 p. m. According to Brookside officials, judging will be done by Bess Myerson, TV star of "The Big Payoff," and members of her program. Entrants pictured include (left to right) Mrs. Barbara Garfinkel of Millburn; Mrs. Jean Roth of Union; Mrs. Hortense Holtz of Maplewood; Mrs. Dorothy Paper of Maplewood; Mrs. Goldman; and Mrs. Blanche Kinsley of Newark.

The Sarokins Go On Vacation

The fact that the Sarokins have just returned from a vacation isn't world shaking news—but recent case histories establish some kind of a rather dubious world record.

For instance, Mr. and Mrs. Sam O. Sarokin checked in at the Beverly Carlton Hotel in Beverly Hills, California, this past winter and, for the first time in history, say the Chamber of Commerce boys, it rained all through the annual Tournament of Roses parade on New Year's Day. To escape the cold and rainy weather the Sarokins hopped a plane to Las Vegas and when they checked in at the Desert Inn, there was an enormous snow-mountain on the front lawn. "Snow in Las Vegas?" The first time in the history of this famous resort! The previous winter the Sarokins planned to Miami Beach and drooled at the thought of taking a dip in the azure blue waters of the pool at the Casablanca Hotel, as the brochures described it. And, for nearly two weeks there wasn't anyone courageous enough to aim a single tootsie at the cold water in the pool. "Never in the history of Miami Beach, etc., etc.," said the natives. Only on the final day of the stay in Florida was the sun strong enough to bring the cabana loungers out to the pool.

Just Like the Ads just to add more to the records, Hazel or Carol or one of the well named hurricanes gave the Sarokins a real New England welcome on a two-week planned vacation in Cape Cod. They've flown to Chicago when record blizzards and cold weather made history, they enjoyed a vacation to Washington and Williamsburg when all heat records were broken, to the Poconos when flash floods made front pages, on short cruises when the rain and stormy seas brought enthusiastic testimonials for Mother Sill's Pills to Prevent Seasickness, and many other discouraging details. All of which should suggest to travel agencies that something must be done to make the Sarokins remain at home.

And the Sarokins are now ready to listen to such a proposition after what happened this summer. "Let's pack, get in the car and drive somewhere for a week or two," said Mrs. Sarokin a few weeks ago, on one of those steaming hot, sultry days Springfield was having. "All our friends have been doing it—getting accommodations at the finest hotels up through Maine, New Hampshire and all through that part of the country.

"Well," said the boss of the house, timidly, "it seems a shame to leave this nice air conditioned apartment—and there isn't a cooler more comfortable place anywhere in the world right at this moment than in any room in our apartment. Besides, there's a martini or a scotch any time I want it—no sand—no cement—mattress and no desperate invitations to make a fourth at bridge. However, I'm willing, yeh, almost eager to go, just so that we may appreciate this apartment—never more than 71 in every room no matter how blistering it is out. Where shall we go?"

Here We Go Again! The Sarokins, by an overwhelming vote of 1 to 0, packed the car two weeks ago with Beach Haven, New Jersey, as the destination for a quiet rest. As they weaved down the causeway from the mainland to the island, Connie was just beginning to act up down around South Carolina and the Sarokins wondered whether to aim for the doubtful shelter of Beach Haven or start back for Elmer Walker's fully air conditioned house on Morris Avenue.

The rest of the vacation story follows the same thread of the plot. Connie gave Beach Haven quite a blow heavy rains threatened to have the ocean meet again with the bay waters and there wasn't an enthusiastic canasta player who would admit it in Bayview Manor.

One afternoon the sun broke through the clouds and everybody rushed to the beach. Weather reports said more rain would come in the evening which made all the bathers determined to get as much sun as possible while it lasted—with the expected results. The hotel drug store exhausted its supply of sun-burn lotion before 8:30 that evening.

Please, Mr. Sun Connie got an assist from Diane and the rains came again. When news filtered into the hotel lobby that the causeway to the mainland was open and that the Garden Parkway was clear, the Sarokins hastily packed their damp belongings, filled the glove compartment with all the leftover cough lozenges, anti-histamine tablets and migraine pills, shook as much sand as possible out on the floor of the car and started for Springfield. The arrival time was just when the thermometer at the Newark Airport registered near 100. The Sarokins left practically everything in the car and, the refreshing cool air of the 71 degree apartment struck the sunburned faces as they opened the door at 49 Morris Avenue. "I don't know," said Mrs. Sarokin as she sat in the air conditioned living room. "We get post cards from Maine, New Hampshire, the Thousand Islands, the Rockies—from friends who fill from place to place and wish we were there: Whom do they know? Who fixes the weather for them?"

Letters to Editor

The following letter was received by Mrs. George Lancaster, secretary of the Springfield First Aid Squad, with a request that it be printed in the Springfield Sun: Dear Mrs. Lancaster: A week ago Tuesday evening, the First Aid Squad made a trip to Newton to pick up my son Ned and bring him home. I would like to take this opportunity of expressing my thanks.

This was my first personal experience with your organization and I hope the last... but if there ever is another occasion, I shall have full confidence in your ability as a result of first-hand observation. The crew manning the ambulance was completely competent and cooperative in every respect. Springfield is truly fortunate to have such a group in its midst. Sincerely, Edwin G. Davenport 42 Edgewood Avenue Springfield, N. J.

Editor, Sun: We read with satisfaction and pleasure the announcement of the decision by the Springfield Board of Health to supply nursing service to the children of St. James school. We would like to publicly applaud the members of the Board of Health for their action and express our sincere appreciation for the time and effort which they expended in carefully studying this problem. They can be sure that the great majority of citizens are in accord with their decision. We would like to express our appreciation to the Springfield Sun for their impartial reporting on this and all other controversial issues. Very truly yours, Mr. & Mrs. H. C. Strobel

Kid's Ingenuity Pays Off At Final Camper's Picnic

A fleet of children, a flotilla of mothers, and a few sinking-fathoms dropped anchor at the Jewish Community Center last Tuesday for a picnic and carnival thrown by the day camp.

Over 75 children showed up dragging relatives and friends to the "penny-an-event" affair. Various games and concessions had been set up by the campers to raise money for the Newark News Fresh Air Fund.

Camp Director Sidney Krueger explained that "the kids thought it would be nice to send one child to camp, so he could have as much fun as they've had this summer at the Community Center camp."

First item on the picnic agenda was a 25¢ hot dog lunch. Then the throng started mingling about the gayly decorated playground behind the Community Center. The campers had set up their own booths and thought up the ideas for the games.

Among the variety of games announced on colorful hand-scrawled signs were: Ball in the Bowl, a contest of throwing a ping pong ball into a soup bowl from a distance of six feet; Water Pistol Shot; for the steady-fingered Davey Crockett who can extinguish six candles at six feet; and Pins in the Bottle, for the bombardier who can drop a clothespin into a milk bottle from shoulder height.

Marsha Davis, a nine-year-old mystic, had set up a Fortune Telling booth. As each child dropped a penny ticket into the Fresh Air Fund, Marsha would peer into their palms and into their futures.

For instance, she told seven-year-old Marjorie Wenschner that in the near future she would meet a "tall dark stranger who will fall in love with you and you will go to Japan to live and have 12 boys and 12 girls, all of them handsome and pretty." Marjorie didn't seem too impressed.

When the Fortune Teller was asked where she got all this inside information, she confessed, "I make it all up." But that didn't seem to bother anyone in the long line waiting to have their fortunes told.

The last event of the Jewish Community Center Day Camp is being held tonight, Thursday, at 8:30. According to Mr. Krueger, a special program of entertainment is to be put on by the campers for their parents and friends. Dancing, singing, skits and hand-made puppets will be the features of the show. At 7 p.m. parents will attend the closing exercises of the camp.

The following mothers contributed time and effort to the picnic Tuesday afternoon: Mrs. Sidney Atkin, Mrs. Earl Lawler, Mrs. Arthur Milman, Mrs. Paul Weisman, Mrs. Walter Carter, Mrs. Lillian Johnson, Mrs. Seymour Marder, Mrs. Frank Burstein, Mrs. Robert Fried, Mrs. Milton Kappstatter, and Mrs. Bernard Borras. None of the fathers was strong enough to be heard above the din.

Regional Teacher Takes Army Duty

Major Carl L. Matthews of Springfield, has just completed a two week tour of active duty training at Fort Devón, Mass. He was participating in the summer encampment of the 309d Military Government Group, a reserve component of our national defense program, which meets one night each week throughout the year at the group headquarters in Kearny, N. J.

The major's wife, Suzanne, recently gave birth to a son, Marc. They also have a daughter, Carole, who is almost 2 years old. The Matthews live at 48 Kipling ave. Springfield.

Major Matthews is head of the English Department at Regional High School. He has an M. A. degree from the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences of New York University.

Major Matthews enlisted in the Army in 1941 and spent 5 years overseas in the Asiatic-Pacific Theater of Operations. He was commissioned on the battlefield at Noumea, New Caledonia in 1942. A Field Artillery officer, he also served as education officer in Kwangju, Korea after the cessation of hostilities.

Your Library

With the Summer Season fast approaching its close, the Summer Program of the Free Public Library of Springfield likewise is ending.

The last Story Hour was on Wednesday, August 24th at 10:45 A.M. There were stories for the smaller children told by Mrs. Dean Widmer and stories about animals for the older group told by Miss Adeline Tallou.

The older group have enjoyed having the story outdoors under the trees, and each week more and more children have been coming. We were glad to have a good turn out for the last story hour.

The Golden Key Reading Club also is causing considerable excitement among the younger set. Two or three readers have already gotten five or six Golden Keys, each representing ten books, and have set for themselves the high score of one hundred books for the summer. We hope they will reach it. No more children may join the Reading Club, but those already members may continue to report on books they are reading until September 15th. This will give the boys and girls who took books away for vacation a chance to get their keys.

So much activity among the younger readers in the summer has tended to overshadow the adults, but they have been busy too with their own interests. Many have taken home extra books to read on hot days, so they can stay in air conditioned rooms. At other times books have helped them forget the hurricanes.

For those people who work and find it difficult to come in during the day, the Library will be open Tuesday evening, September 6th, the day after Labor Day. On Monday, Labor Day itself, the Library will be closed all day.

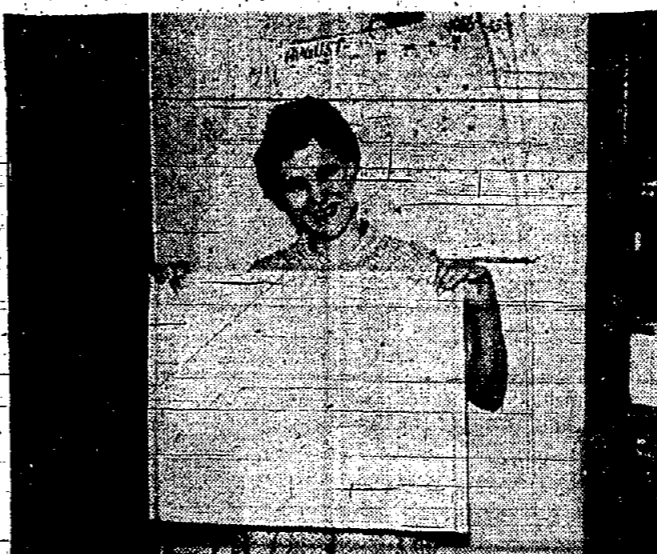

Daily hours: 10:30 to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday (closed Saturdays and Labor Day.) Evening hours: 7:30 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. Monday and Friday (also Tuesday after Labor Day.)

Girl Admitted To Bucknell

Bucknell University has announced that Jeanne F. Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew S. Anderson, 548 Morris ave., has been admitted to the class of 1959.

She will report with 600 other freshmen to Lewisburg, Pa. on Sept. 17 for a four-day orientation program prior to the opening of college.

Miss Anderson graduated from Cleveland Heights (Ohio) High School, where she was a cheerleader and was active in other extra-curricular programs.

Ban On Use of Water Is Lifted By Mayor Binder

With stories of floods and over-flowing rivers all around Springfield, Mayor Albert G. Binder has rescinded a proclamation restricting the use of water and the instructions now that residents of the Township can use all the water they want.

Recommendation for lifting the ban on the use of water came in a letter from the Commonwealth Water Company to Mayor Binder. During the midsummer drought the sprinkling of lawns was restricted to certain hours of the day to conserve the short supply. The recent rains, according to the water company letter, has eased the water shortage problem.

Following is the letter to the Mayor from the Commonwealth Water Company.

Dear Mayor Binder:

The change in weather conditions which produced the high rainfall during the last fortnight has made it unnecessary to continue the ban on use of water for outside purposes and we will be pleased if you, as Mayor, and your Township Committee, will release all restrictions on sprinkling of lawns and gardens, etc., by the citizens of Springfield.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank you and the members of your Committee for your cooperativeness in imposing the restrictions by public proclamation limiting sprinkling between the hours of 4 and 10 P.M. during the critical period and to express our appreciation of the desponse of our consumers during the emergency.

Very truly yours,
Commonwealth Water Company
/s/ Thomas W. Coleman

PTA Sets Up Shop For Sale Days

Although the PTA SALE DAYS are still two months away, scores of items have been received, and many local merchants have offered their aid and facilities to help put this ambitious project across.

The sale will take place on October 17, 18 and 19 in the store formerly known as Milton's Liquors, 248 Morris avenue, Springfield. The Sale Committee is very excited about this location as it is considered to be one of the best spots in town, convenient to buses and parking. PTA is grateful to Mr. Milton Billet, owner of Milton's Liquor Store in the new General Greene Shopping Center, for promising the use of his former quarters.

Mr. Robert Davidson, manager of the new Newberry store, has offered the use of display materials and equipment; the publicity director of Morey-LaRue has volunteered his utmost cooperation. The Freedmans of Springfield Paint and Hardware will be on hand with their station wagon for pick-ups. Calls have come in from other merchants who wish to donate new merchandise—the prices are already at work marking ridiculously low figures on tremendous bargains. Enthusiasm is running high at the degree of cooperation offered and the fine quality of the objects received. For example, a folding Thayer baby carriage in splendid condition with new mattress, folding cot and mattress, infants and children's wear, men and women's clothing, crockery, antiques, costume jewelry, and others.

Call Millburn 6-5772 for any information on PTA's Sale Days.

To Conduct Jewish Holy Day Services

Rabbi Reuben R. Levine plans for observing the High Holy Days in Springfield were announced yesterday by Rabbi Reuben R. Levine, spiritual leader of the local Jewish Community Group.

Rabbi Levine announced that evening services for Rosh Hashanah will be held Friday evening, September 16, in the Jewish Community Center with morning services Saturday and Sunday, September 17 and 18. Kol Nidre services which starts the Yom Kippur Holy Days will start at sun-down on Sunday, September 25 and all day on Monday, September 26.

Rabbi Levine and his family are now residents of Springfield having recently moved into 545 Morris Avenue.

Promoted to Captain
Mathew J. Hayes of 26 Henshaw ave. was promoted to rank of Captain, at a recent ceremony of Army Reserve Headquarters in East Orange.

Captain Hayes, who serves as Motor Transport and Planning Officer of the 300th Logistical Command, has recently returned from Camp Drum, New York where the unit engaged in its 8th annual summer encampment. Hayes, a sales representative with Norton and Williams of Westfield, lives at the Springfield address with his wife and children, Mathew 5 and Mary Kathrine 2.

Fire Reserves

Their job was to help pump out the water remaining in an enormous cellar garage, working with two other pumping units.

The Springfield pumper was soon at work and pumped steadily until after midnight, when operations were suspended to permit the men to get some rest. Through arrangements made by a Civil Defense official, they were quartered in the Trenton Y.M.C.A., where they found facilities somewhat limited, but possibly the best available at that hour.

Caught Fish

Tuesday morning, after a little breakfast at a nearby restaurant, the reserves were back at the Brookville Apartments at 8:00, and the pumper worked continuously until 6:00 p.m. Then, tired and well-sweated with Delaware River mud, the men packed up their equipment and started for home, arriving in Springfield at 8:40.

As a souvenir of their experience, they brought with them a 12 pound carp which one of the men captured in the cellar-garage. Several other large carp, also trapped in the cellar, were left in a water-filled wash tub.

The men who took part in this expedition, in addition to Deputy Chief Mesker and Alfred Niedermeyer Jr., already mentioned, were: Henry P. Vance, Edward W. Fuhrer, Joseph F. Kisch, Eugene H. Wuerz, Alfred A. Niedermeyer Sr., Edwin L. Seidl and Robert J. Johnson.

Tuesday afternoon, the Springfield men were given anti-typhoid inoculations at one of the Trenton schools, because of the danger of infection from contaminated drinking water. Although the work was arduous, and they had little sleep and not much food, those who went on this trip feel that the experience was priceless, and it will be long remembered. They had a chance to see at first hand the effects of the worst flood disaster in this State in the last 50 years, and the satisfaction of feeling that they did a good job in representing Springfield in its relief.

Local Official

Their area. "We were fortunate," said Mr. Fox, "in that our home is pretty high—almost the top of the hill and the flood waters didn't affect us. However, there was no power, a serious water shortage and all the roads to the low part of the section, washed out. The town was under martial law and no one was permitted to even attempt getting out. The town firehouse was washed away, the bridge carried off, many people died but we were on high ground."

Mr. Fox couldn't get back to his business on Monday except by having a neighbor to drive him north, away from the disaster stricken city of Hartford, where he was able to take a train. He hopes to be able to close up the Summer home over this week end and bring Mrs. Fox and her sister to Springfield if the authorities will permit travel over some of the washed out highways.

Wabeno-Flemer

site for the Springfield Girl Scout Headquarters and your request to be notified of the starting of our operations to improve the park area at the corner of Wabeno and Flemer Avenues, I submit the following:

This improvement has just been started, fill is now being delivered to this site previous to grading, top-soiling and planting, this item being included in our capital program for the current year.

The minutes of the Park Commission meeting held when you and your associates were present, indicate that after a general discussion, "the Commission assured the Mayor that the Commission would cooperate in every way possible and requested the Township officials to advise what areas should be developed next in Springfield when funds were available."

Regardless of the above it is my understanding, after speaking with you, that you would favor the extension of this Wabeno project along Wabeno Avenue and down Van Winkle Brook adjoining the Regional High School so that this section of the Park System, being central in the Township, might have first consideration in any program of improvement.

Name Chirgotis

chitects and members of the governing body are now faced with agreement on naming one of the final two under consideration. Mr. Chirgotis served as a member of the Mayor's Committee appointed to survey the needs of expanded municipal building facilities and did considerable work in preparing sketches for the proposed expansion program.

Members of the Mayor's Committee have recommended the naming of Chirgotis as the architect for this ambitious program of additions to the Municipal Building, the Public Library and the construction of a new municipal garage, and their preference for Mr. Chirgotis has been made known to the governing body.

Recommendation of Mr. Chirgotis for the appointment as architect for this expansion program, one member of the Mayor's Committee pointed out, was no reflection on the ability of Mr. Pancani to do the job but that Chirgotis had met with the Mayor's Committee at every session and knew all the construction problems that led to the ultimate report recommending the $300,000 expenditure.

Mayor Albert G. Binder also attended practically all the meetings of the special study group and has already made known his preference for Mr. Chirgotis on the basis of the latter's great experience and the professional services rendered while the committee was studying the expansion program in the Township.
