"Buy A Poppy" Drive Starts Here Friday

"Wear a poppy in memory of America's war dead!"

This will be the appeal of the women of the American Legion Auxiliary and the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Veterans of Foreign Wars, Battle Hill Post No. 7683, to everyone in Springfield on poppy days, Friday and Saturday, May 24 and 25.

They will be on the downtown streets throughout the days offering the little red flowers of memory to all who will wear them in tribute to those who died for America.

"We hope the whole town will join us in patriotic tribute to those who gave their lives that we might live in this great, free country of ours," said Mrs. William Doyle, President of the American Legion Auxiliary. "Wearing a poppy is a little thing to do, but a thing big in meaning. That poppy over your heart means that you remember with gratitude those young men who died in our nation's defense on battlefields throughout the world.

"The poppies have been made of crepe paper and wire by disabled war veterans in the veterans hospitals and convalescent workrooms. Each one is hand-made in replica of the wild European (continued on page 4)

Mental Health Fund Drive Is Nearing Close

Springfield, as usual, is responding to the call for financial help in behalf of the Mental Health Fund Drive which is carried on during the month of May. Leonard E. Best, president of the Richard Best Pencil Company, is chairman of the Springfield fund campaign and is very pleased with the results obtained by his team of volunteers at this stage of the drive.

"Every day during the month of May thousands of persons throughout our nation are going about their assignments of voluntarily enlisting their neighbors' support in the Mental Health Fund Drive," said Mr. Best.

"In Springfield there are 125 dedicated citizens who are now giving of their time and energy to help solicit funds in Union County's Fifth Annual Campaign.

"I believe I speak for every resident" continued Mr. Best, "when I say a very sincere 'thank you' to those workers and captains for helping to make our community a better place in which to live. And to the contributors. For every contribution comes back to us in services.

"The Union County Association for Mental Health last year, with funds raised during the Drive, was able to accomplish more than in any previous year, toward the goal of much-needed facilities for those in need of help in our County.

"Our County organization is only seven years old. It is made up of voluntary citizens to attack mental (Continued on page 6)

Springfield's Float In Parade To Be Exhibited

Springfield's float for the Union County Centennial parade this Saturday will be exhibited for several hours tomorrow (Friday) afternoon in the General Greene Shopping Center.

The float, depicting a Revolutionary scene with the "Give 'em Watts" theme, will be on display in the shopping center beginning about 3:30 p.m. Miss Patricia Prince, Springfield's Queen in the Centennial Parade and her attendants Carol Leavercraft and Pat Baker, will be on hand Friday to complete the picture on the float.

Since Springfield is not the parade route, this will be the only opportunity for local residents to see the Township's representation in the Centennial program if they do not plan to be along the line of march.

A procession of 75 floats, more than two miles in length, will wind through the county on Saturday in the mobile parade.

The spectacle will climax the week-long observance of the county's 100th anniversary. It will start at Cedar Brook Park in Plainfield and terminate in Warinanco Park, Roselle-Elizabeth.

Col. William H. Baumer of Westfield, parade chairman, will be grand marshal for the march. He is a reserve officer and a graduate of West Point. Col. Baumer is assistant to the president at Johnson and Johnson, Inc.

The chairman reported that 75 industries, fraternal organizations, service groups and municipalities will sponsor floats in the line of march. Community "queens" selected for the centennial pageant presented this week in Warinanco Park will ride on the municipal floats. Parade units will assemble in (Continued on page 6)

"Clean-Up" Weeks End This Saturday

This Saturday, May 25, ends the three week clean-up campaign in Springfield which started May 13.

Township officials and residents are very happy with the clean-up results thus far and all those who still have any rubbish in the cellar, attic or garage are urged to have it at the curb Saturday for collection by the scavengers.

The Petrucci Company, garbage contractors, has cooperated fully with Springfield in the present campaign and the job, says Township Committeeman Vincent J. Bonadies who supervised the clean-up drive, has been very well done.

Final collections will be made Saturday.

Democratic Club To Dance, May 29

The Springfield Democratic Club will hold its fourth annual Spring dance on the eve of Memorial Day, Wednesday, May 29, at Farcher's Grove, Union. Music for the occasion will be furnished by the Four Dominos.

BIKES NOT ALLOWED IN MILLBURN PARADE

Police authorities urge all bicycle riders to keep away from the line of march in the Millburn Centennial parade to be held this Saturday.

Bikes will not be permitted and all those planning to witness the parade are asked to keep away from the actual line of marchers.

Notice is also given Springfield residents that streets leading into Millburn will be blocked off entirely this Saturday from 2 to 4:30 p.m.

This includes Millburn Avenue, Main Street and Short Hills Avenue, and those planning to drive to Millburn Saturday are asked to avoid these streets during the time of the parade.

Plan To Start Work Soon On "Pro" Building

Detailed plans and specifications are ready for the proposed professional building to be constructed at the corner of Morris Avenue and Alvin Terrace by William G. Chirgolis, well-known architect.

Actual work on the new office building is expected to start within a few weeks with occupancy scheduled for this fall.

The building will front on Morris Avenue, a two-story structure, approximately 80 by 35 feet in depth. There will be room for all necessary parking in the Alvin Terrace area.

The Chirgolis organization of architects will occupy the entire ground floor, according to the plans, and the second story will be divided into offices for professional services.

Baltusrol Group Dance On June 2

The annual dinner dance of the Baltusrol Civic Group will be held on June 2nd at the Chateau Chateau according to an announcement from Mrs. Milton Bilet, dance chairman. A good turnout is anticipated.

The group is fortunate in having received permission to again use the Irwin Street Playground for athletic activities, and a "young men-older men" baseball game is planned for Friday evening commencing on May 25th. Leonard Gerber is chairman of athletic activities for the group.

Dental Program Prescribed By Local Schools

Schools play a valuable part in providing children with a sound basis for dental health. There is hardly a person who does not at one time or another need the care of a dentist. Many of the troubles caused by the teeth and gums might have been prevented had the person been privileged to learn the facts regarding care of the teeth. If the children establish proper dental health habits in their youth, they will be well on their way toward lifelong dental health.

SOLDIER OF THE WEEK—Cpl. Peter C. Oleckniche was named Soldier of the Week, according to the Camp Lejeune Globe, marine newspaper. Oleckniche is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Oleckniche of 39 South Maple Avenue. A graduate of Regional High, he will have served three when he is discharged in August. He plans to enter college on his return.

Janitors Clean-up With Pay Boost

New salary guides for eight janitors and two maintenance men were adopted Tuesday night by the Springfield Board of Education.

A. B. Anderson, secretary of the board, reported that the eight janitors were granted $300 across-the-board increases, and the maintenance men received $400 and $450 each. The janitors' salaries were set at $3,600 to $4,500 in eight steps and the maintenance man $4,100 to $5,000 in eight steps.

The Springfield Public School system has based its dental program on the premise that much of the distress caused by defects can be prevented, if the child learns and applies the fundamentals of dental hygiene.

This program is not one which has grown up overnight. It has a solid foundation based upon years of experience in persistent efforts to give children a better understanding of the growth, development, and care of the human teeth. Its aim are to help children appreciate the importance of a clean mouth, free of disease and abnormalities; to help them assume responsibility for personal care and for securing periodic professional care. The school's role in achieving these objectives involves instruction, counseling and corrective measures.

The success of school dental health efforts depends partly on the attitude and conditioning of the students. Fear of the dentist is one of the chief reasons for neglecting regular visits to the dentist. This fear is usually the result of exaggerated tales of painful dental experiences which have been heard at home or at school.

Because the school is aware of the difficulties presented by children who have a deep-seated fear of the dentist, an earnest effort is made to encourage parents to give their pre-school children the opportunity to become acquainted with the dentist. It is important that a pleasant experience be established before problems of a painful nature arise.

The presence of the parent at the pre-school kindergarten round-up offers an excellent opportunity for the child and to advise the parent. His first contact with the prospective student is a friendly one made in the pleasant and comfortable atmosphere of the school. (Continued on page 6)

Anderson Is Sec'y For 23rd Year

A. B. Anderson

A. B. Anderson was named secretary of the Springfield Board of Education Tuesday night for the 23rd time.

The regular meeting of the Board of Education also appointed Mrs. Audrey Ruban as assistant secretary; Howard Castleman, counsel; Fred J. Stefany, auditor; Charles Huff, custodian; and Mrs. Eugene Hubert, clerk in the secretary's office.

The board named Mrs. Ruth Packer and Miss Jeanne Russo as teachers at $5,000 a year. Mrs. Packer will teach in the Gardner School. Miss Russo has not been assigned.

Resignations of Miss Jean Faherty, Miss Ethel J. O'Brien and Miss Edith Dunfee, teachers, were accepted.

Two pupils from Berkeley Heights were accepted for the next school year.

Charter Study Petition Now In Circulation

At the last meeting of the Springfield Organization for Charter Study, held May 15, Howard Flammer, Chairman, made several appointments.

Norman Banner was designated as chairman in charge of nominations for charter Commissioners.

H. Lee Sarokin and Mrs. Joseph S. Seidel are co-chairman in charge of publicity and Mrs. L. Atkin is chairman of petitions.

Mrs. Atkin states that currently about 20 people are circulating petitions. And the force will be greatly increased within the next few weeks.

In this article the charter study advocates will endeavor to answer the following questions which may arise in the minds of our citizens as they consider the various forms of municipal government available and suitable for our town.

1. What are the most serious structural weaknesses in New Jersey municipal governments today?

The weaknesses listed below are common to most New Jersey municipalities. They vary in degree from plan to plan, but as a result of the laws determining form and structure, most New Jersey municipalities today:

a) Lack a responsible executive or general manager equipped with powers and tools adequate to provide satisfactory management for a modern municipality;

b) Impose too heavy a burden of policy-making and administrative responsibility on the persons elected to governing bodies and other municipal offices, with the result that good men and women are frequently discouraged from accepting or continuing in office, and municipal officers with the best intentions find it impossible to meet their responsibilities with entire satisfaction to themselves and their constituents.

c) Are unnecessarily complicated, so that it is excessively difficult for the citizens to understand them or control them;

d) Have administrative machinery which too rigidly determined by law with the result that it cannot be readily adapted to changing conditions, especially to the growing need for responsible central management and coordinated planning of municipal activities;

2. How does the Optional Charter Law remedy these weaknesses?

It would largely correct these weaknesses for all municipalities that adopt one of the new options. Each of the new options would meet the above weaknesses, in order, by:

a. Providing for concentration of responsibility for administration or management in the manager or a mayor assisted by a qualified managerial or administrative assistant and other department heads;

b. Drawing a clear line of distinction between the policy-making functions of members of municipal councils and the managerial functions of the manager, mayor and other administrative officials and by requiring that key administrative officers possess qualifications for their tasks; also by making it easier to have the important administrative task done by full-time officers;

c. Simplifying structure and reducing it to its fundamental elements and establishing clear lines of responsibility. This would be accomplished partly by relieving municipalities of certain mandatory laws which have been adopted without regard to their effect on the over-all structure of municipalities affected;

d. Leaving the details of administrative organization and procedure to local determination.

Attends Assembly First Aid Squad

Fourteen members of the Springfield First Aid Squad attended the mid-year assembly sponsored by the N. J. State First Aid Council at the Irvington House, Irvington, N. J., last Sunday where they heard the principle speaker promise closer relationship between squads and higher school of learning.

Rev. Michael I. Fronczak, head of Seton Hall University Science Dept. and Liaison Officer for the College of Medicine and Dentistry in Jersey City predicted that "in the not-too-distant future" special educational programs will be offered all squads throughout the state "in their own localities via closed circuit television."

In this way, he stated, the more than 200 squads, with over 10,000 members, would be able to obtain the latest technological information obtained by the University's research department on an "almost consistent" basis.

N.J.S.F.A.C., of which Springfield is a member, sponsors two such conventions a year, with the second meeting scheduled for mid-October in Atlantic City.

While remembering the war dead, we will ask the people of Springfield to think also of the disabled war veterans and the children of the men who served. The Auxiliary's Poppy Day volunteers will carry coin boxes into which contributions for the organization's rehabilitation and child welfare work may be dropped.

"These contributions are a major source of support for the Auxiliary's continuous activities for disabled veterans and needy children of veterans, most of the money being expended to help veterans and their families in nearby hospitals."

THE FIGHTING PARSON

Below is No. 5 of a series of articles prepared by the Springfield Historical Society. Information on this series of historical topics can be had by writing to the Society at 126 Morris Avenue, Springfield.

Inasmuch as the story of James Caldwell is inextricably entwined with the history of Springfield, it seems appropriate to narrate at some length the important events in the life of this great patriot. He was not only chaplain of the New Jersey Brigade, but also an assistant Commissary-General until his death.

Advertisements he sent out prove beyond a doubt that he maintained an office in Springfield. The following Discharge is a further indication of the scope of his authority.

"Springfield, Nov. 16, 1778" "Jonathan Meeker, Jr., hath been taken from other military duty and employed in making cartridges for the army, since 22nd of Sept. to this day, except one week he was absent by leave, and is now discharged."

James Caldwell, D.Q.M.G. Various histories and records have been searched for material for the following article. James Caldwell, patriot preacher called by the British the "High Priest of the Revolution," was born April 1734 at Cub Creek, Charlotte Co., Virginia. Of French origin, his family had been driven from their country by religious persecutors, and settled in Scotland. A part of the family later removed to Ireland; a descendant of his branch, John Caldwell, emigrated to this country, bringing with him besides his wife and children, four single sisters. He first settled in Lancaster, Pa., but soon moved to the Virginia settlement where James, youngest of seven children, was born.

At the age of fifteen he entered the College of New Jersey, under the leadership of Rev. Aaron Burr, and was graduated in 1758, after the college had been located in Princeton, its President at that time being Rev. Samuel Davies. Caldwell was ordained Sept. 17, 1760 by the Presbytery of New Brunswick and was appointed to supply vacant churches in the south. Called to the Elizabethtown church, he was installed pastor in March 1762 by the Presbytery of New York. On the 14th of March 1763, he was married to Hannah Ogden of Newark. There were born to them ten children, one of whom died in infancy.

Rev. Caldwell's ardent temperament led him to throw all his energy on the side of independence at the outbreak of the Revolution. His congregation upheld him, and there is a list of forty commissioned officers from that body, headed by the name of Governor William Livingston. In May 1776 Caldwell went as far as Johnston, N. Y., with Col. Elias Dayton's regiment on its way to relieve the forces before Quebec. Such was the confidence reposed in his skill and energy, that on his return he was appointed to a high position in the Commissary. He was esteemed by Washington, with whom he was on the most intimate terms of friendship. His popularity with the soldiery and people was unbounded.

In an attempt to escape the dangers to which he was constantly exposed, he established a residence at Connecticut Farms. The Elizabethtown church became a hospital for sick, disabled and wounded soldiers; its steeple was the watch-tower and its bell sent out the notes of alarm on the approach of the enemy.

During the attack that began on the night of June 5th 1780, Mrs. Caldwell was killed by a British soldier, and all of Connecticut Farms was put to the torch. In spite of this shocking tragedy, the "Fighting Parson" continued in the battle for freedom.

On November 24, 1781, Rev. Caldwell fell mortally wounded, on a dock at Elizabethtown, whence he had gone to meet a Miss Beulah Murray, arriving on a small vessel from New York. The shot was fired by a sentinel suspecting the smuggling of contraband goods. The funeral service was conducted by Dr. McWhorter of Newark.

"So deep was the impression made by this man upon the minds of the youth of his charge, that after a lapse of sixty years their recollections of him are of the most vivid character. His dress, appearance, conversation, manner of preaching, texts are as fresh in their minds as things of yesterday. And with a singular unanimity they agree on the following description of him. He was of the middle size, and strongly built. His countenance had a pensive placid cast, but when excited was exceedingly expressive of resolution and energy. His voice was sweet and pleasant, but at the same time so strong, that he could make himself heard above the notes of the drum and fife.

As a preacher he was uncommonly eloquent. He was among the

Auxiliary Pres. Is Honored By Legion

The local American Legion Auxiliary were among those units that honored the National President, Mrs. Carl W. Zehler of Ohio, at a luncheon given in her honor at the Ritz Carlton Hotel, Atlantic City on Tuesday, May 14.

Members of the local Post who attended included the Mesdames Jean Doyle, president; Faith Handville, Doris Holme, Doris Quinton, June Stadler and Marie Nielsen.

The Auxiliary executive committee met at the home of Mrs. Hazel Hardgrove at 125 Saiter street. The next regular meeting is on Thursday, May 23, followed by a White Elephant Sale.

most active of men, and seemed never wearied by any amount of bodily or mental labor. Feelings of the most glowing patriotism and the most fervent piety possessed his bosom at the same time, without the one interfering with the other. He was one day preaching to the battalion, the next marching with them to the battle, and if defeated, assisting to conduct their retreat, and the next administering the consolations of the gospel to some dying parishoner. His people were most ardently attached to him, and the army adored him. Let his name be held in perpetual remembrance.

Note: People of all ages have been characterized by a deep concern for orphans. The Caldwell's left nine; the next article will contain a short biographical sketch of each of them.

BRAVE WORDS

That's my daughter Ellen standing up there in her cap and gown. Valedictorian of her class! I'd be a strange mother if I didn't feel a lump in my throat, and a tremendous surge of pride.

It just doesn't seem possible that my Ellen is grown-up. Like any mother, I have visions of a tiny baby... a little girl in pig tails... a child, beginning school.

And now here she is, speaking about the future that she and her classmates envision... the things they are going to try to do... their hopes and dreams.

They are brave words, all of them... brave dreams. And like all parents, I pray that most of them will come true. But I know that in times of failure, my Ellen will have an added strength because of her Faith, and her devotion to the Church.

How glad, how thankful, I am for that!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

CATHOLIC INFORMATION

NOT QUITE GOOD ENOUGH
That's the way most of us feel: not quite good enough for heaven, not quite bad enough for hell. We've met a lot of nice people in our town, but we've yet to meet anyone we considered perfect.

No one knows a husband's short-comings better than his wife; no one knows a mother better than her daughter. At a funeral, of course, sentiment and wishful thinking put every husband, every mother, beside the angels in heaven. But no one is fooled by graveyard eulogies. The deceased wasn't perfect. They know it best, perhaps, who loved him most. Where is he? In heaven? ... or ... ?

What is to become of us? Are we just to clear the ground and say that God punishes every violation of His law, however small, by everlasting torment? Some have to put everyone in heaven, but we can't do that because we are told in the Bible that nothing unclean can enter there. Others have solved the problem by just throwing hell away. But that involves too many complications. Our Lord spoke of hell so often, that if you drop that you might as well drop the whole Bible.

"As a tree falls, so it lies" ... But what if it falls between heaven and hell?

That's why we Catholics believe in purgatory, a place where we can atone for our faults and imperfections: faults too small to deserve hell of a just God, yet faults which would keep us ill at ease in the presence of His majesty.

It's the most natural thing in the world, you know, to breathe a prayer for the soul of a deceased person, especially if we have loved him. We want to ask mercy for him. And yet how can we, if there be no purgatory? If he's in heaven, he's safe and doesn't need our prayers. If he's in hell, he's lost hopelessly and beyond all help.

Purgatory is one of the most human and comforting of our Catholic beliefs. It keeps us in touch with our relatives and friends who have gone before us. It assures us that we can reach into eternity and help them by our prayers. For ourselves, it gives us a place for squaring our lesser obligations with God, should death overtake us before we have reached perfection. It is a place in which we are purified and vested for the presence of God.

Regional Board Against 71 More Winfield Students

The Regional Board of Education spoke out Tuesday night against a proposal that an additional 71 students from Winfield be admitted to the district's classrooms next fall.

William J. Melick, Jr., of Springfield presided over the stormy session which objected to the new students, not because of increased costs, but because of limited space.

Dr. Warren M. Davis, superintendent of schools, pointed out that in 1957-58 enrollment from the participating communities alone will reach 1,500 at Jonathan Dayton High School, the capacity of the building.

At Arthur L. Johnson High School in Clark, he said, enrollment with the Winfield group for next school year will reach 912, more than the anticipated capacity of 900.

Going further into the future, Dr. Davis predicted that Jonathan Dayton enrollment in 1958-59 will be 1,700. At Arthur L. Johnson High School in the same year students from the participating districts alone are expected to total 1,000, more than 100 above capacity, he said.

Dr. William H. West, Union County superintendent of schools, who proposed the subject, said that Regional would benefit financially from the Winfield students' acceptance. It would receive income of $35,000 against Dr. Davis' cost estimate of $17,210.

There are already 51 students from Winfield (a community that doesn't participate in the Regional District) in the 10th grade in the Regional schools. The new students would bring the total to 122.

Blue Sox Finish On Top In First Half CYO Ball League

The Blue Sox waltzed home in first place in the first half round of the St. James CYO Major League. Their path to victory in the final game of this round was no push over.

The Black Sox jumped to a 3-0 lead in the second inning and held on to it until the last inning when the Blue Sox hitting got in to high gear and pulled ahead for a 6-4 win.

The Green Sox and the Red Sox battled to a 3-3 tie. The game was called because of darkness.

All four Major League teams start May 21st to battle for the second half title and a shot at the Blue Sox in a play off game.

Minor League teams are still playing every game down to the wire. The Blue Sox were locked in their third game this season, with the Black Sox. Score 4-4. The Green Sox lopped the tough to beat Red Sox 5-4. All tie games played in this league will be played off during this week so a first half winner can be named.

Never have the followers of the St. James minor league teams had a chance to see so many hard and well played games in one season.

High lights of the evenings play were Cavallo's fine catch of a line drive, Sammond's 3 for 4 bat, Paglia's double and triple, Loeffler's double to drive in three runs, Cuff's fine fielding, and Cesar Brown's steady pitching.

1 Game Separates 4 Teams In Babe Ruth Major League

The 1957 season for the Babe Ruth Baseball Major League is half completed, with the teams very close together in the standings. Only a full game separates the leading Channel Lumber team and the last place Drake Fuel Oil team.

So far the batting seems to be overpowering the pitching. Twenty eight men are batting over 300. Billy Franklin is leading the league hitting 526 with ten hits in 19 appearances at the plate. But Tom of the Schablies who have eight men on their roster hitting over 300. DeSantis, Humer, Hopta and Monticello of the Drakes are all hitting over 400.

Dave Lord of the Channels, Len Arnold of the Angletons and Dick Evans of the Schablies are the only pitchers to date who have managed to go without a defeat. Marino, Lawn and Caprio have carried a heavy load for their teams and met with both success and defeat. All in all it is a wonderfully evenly matched competitive League and all parents and ard Selander pitched well for the Angletons after relieving Becker who was charged with the defeat.

Bruno Becker, manager of the Schablies has a lot of help with coaches Bill Buckalow, Don Baker, Bob Wittich and Len Gerber joining him each game. With half the season completed, Becker has eight men on his roster hitting over 300. He is hoping that Dziubaty, Caprio and Evans will click in the second half to push their team up to the top of the heap.

Tom Dougherty's Angletons are tied with the Schablies for second at this point. Marino and Bloom are the big guns with the bat and as a battery team.

SUNNING SPORTS

By RITCHY SCHWARTZ

We have had the opportunity in the last few years to travel among the eastern states and take a glance at a few high schools, noting in particular their athletic systems.

On the Island (Long not Staten) we found golf, swimming and tennis ranking high on the varsity level. In upstate New York, Albany and vicinity, swimming isn't as strong but golf and especially tennis is well up there.

Our last example will come from Massachusetts, where, in the rolling hills of the Berkshires emphasis is placed on the afore-mentioned sports as well as FOOTBALL, basketball and baseball.

Why was football in big letters in the last paragraph? Because coming home to Springfield New Jersey the pigskin game is the thing and to some the only thing!

What is high school? It certainly isn't a branch of the NFL. (National Football League where muscle men knock their heads together for pay until they're punchy or to old.) High school is a grammar school with big kids, although sometimes we wonder if the teachers just aren't smaller.
