

THIS WEEK

Last week's editorial, urging some action by the Morris Avenue merchants to increase business, has caused much more action than the SUN had expected.

Unfortunately, it was all directed against the SUN and none of it towards increasing business or solving problems. Trade merchants have been buttonholing SUN staff members and telling them what they thought of a newspaper that criticizes its advertisers. They assert that it is not the place of a newspaper to point out how much better a businessman's competition (the shopping center) is doing.

But, in the next breath, they do point out that a newspaper's function is advertising. Without quibbling about the other services of the SUN, we do admit that the SUN sells advertising. But we can only do it if there is business prosperity in town.

Therefore, the SUN is keenly, and selfishly, interested in promoting the business prosperity of Morris Avenue. At the moment the Avenue as a whole is not prospering sufficiently to be able to advertise on a big scale.

This does not mean that "anyone is on the rocks". There are many Morris Avenue merchants who offer an attractive display of merchandise at good prices that can compete anywhere. These store owners have built up a faithful clientele through good service and sales personality.

But there just doesn't seem to be enough of these merchants to help each other. For the first time in recent years the Morris Avenue merchants were unable to muster enough support among themselves to hold a Spring "Sale-Days." They have been unable to get together on parking lots in back of the stores on the north side of the Avenue. They have been unable to advance one cooperative plan to stimulate buying on the Avenue.

It may be a shock to some merchants to learn that many, many new residents of Springfield have never been on Morris Avenue. This is no reflection on the individual merchant but there has been no attempt to dramatize shopping on Morris Avenue—no effort to promote the business thoroughfare and attract shoppers.

People come to Morris Avenue because they like a certain merchant — the personality of the sales people — the quality and price of the goods he sells. We know of Summit, Mountaintop, Union and Short Hills residents who have been dealing with Morris Avenue merchants for years—and they like to shop here.

But the newcomers—thousands of residents in the developments have never been on Morris Avenue. Some plan should be evolved for "selling" Morris Avenue and this can be done only on a cooperative basis.

Millburn and Short Hills have been conducting a weekly campaign, pointing out the many parking facilities available with the names of practically every merchant in town sponsoring a full page of institutional advertising to stimulate buying in that community. Summit has done something about it—with well planned sales—Union is always making advances to Springfield shoppers, pointing out, through circulars and other media, what they have to offer.

The column wasn't intended as criticism aimed at any merchant. There are several very aggressive personable and able business men and their stores can match any competition. But nothing is being done to promote — to improve Morris Avenue as a shopping street. Many are willing to "go along" on some definite program but it appears to be hopeless in the many efforts to get ALL of the business men to participate.

The General Greene Shopping Center was mentioned in last week's column in the hopes that it would build a fire and it did, to some extent. We know that when the shopping center decided to distribute a second anniversary circular, EVERY ONE OF THE 10 UNITS AGREED TO GO ALONG.

We don't have the answers—the solution. Chamber of Commerce President John C. Grausam and several Morris Avenue merchants intend to do something about it—but it will have to be a long range plan. Perhaps, a visit to Summit or Union shopping areas will suggest something. There are enough live and angry merchants on Morris Avenue to work out something.

As a final touch to this week's Morris Avenue topic, we are printing below one of the several letters received after last week's "fall out."

Editor SUN
Talk about biting the hand that feeds you! Your column last week knocking the Morris Avenue merchants was a prime example of how to cut down on advertising.

I have been a merchant on Morris Avenue for many years. During that time I have built up my business by bringing the right merchandise to loyal customers at prices which even the shopping centers can't beat. These customers do not come back again and again because of my "growling and grumbling" as your editorial charges.

It is true that we small merchants on Morris Avenue are not able to add all the frills to our stores that the shopping center crowd does. And most importantly we are not able to buy as much advertising space in the Springfield SUN as the shopping center does. But should the fact that we haven't the capital backing of a national chain bring down the wrath of the local newspaper?

You suggest that the entire Morris Avenue be rebuilt. I'll go along with that as long as, in the process, we rebuild it with a newspaper that works in the interest of its advertisers.

Sincerely yours,
NAME WITHHELD BY REQUEST

Ed Cardinal Hits Builders For Destroying Shade Trees

Edward A. Cardinal, chairman of the Springfield Shade Tree Commission, agreed with the Union County Shade Tree Commission last week in chastising local builders for knocking down valuable trees to make room for new dwellings.

The Union County Commission had urged a program of planning to help retain shade trees that need not be removed by building contractors.

Cardinal is concerned by saying that "Obviously, some trees must be removed, but many could be salvaged with proper care. For the multitude of trees removed, there are no sufficient replacements made in the course of new construction."

By minimizing the danger to trees during construction, he said the homeowner will be able to gain shade value and beauty that will enhance his property.

Many of the new homes are being built in wooded locations where oak, maple, beech, gum, birch, tulip and other valuable shade trees are growing in natural habitats, Cardinal says.

Mr. Cardinal outlined several steps that may be taken to retain selected and valuable trees:

Most important and most common of the problems is the raising of ground grades. Fill over trees may vary from several inches to several feet and the ultimate effect on the health of a tree is dependent on soil type.

A heavy clay soil will cause more damage than sandy or loam soil. Size, condition and species also are contributing factors.

Beech, oak, maple (hard), birch, hickory and evergreens will not tolerate too much fill, whereas poplar, willow, maple (soft), elm, locust, and alanthus are not so susceptible to injury from grade changes.

Grade Important
Raising the soil grades about trees disrupts the normal functions of the root system. Because

Disease Secondary
Although insect and disease contribute to tree deaths, it is a secondary factor, he said.

"True, insects and disease attack healthy trees. But it is knock trees may emit odors where it may be inviting to insects in a sick tree and repulsive to insects in a healthy tree," the superintendent declared.

Mr. Cardinal urged potential home owners to consult a tree expert prior to erection of a home on a wooded tract. He also suggested writing to the following for more details:

Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C. Request Farmers Bulletin No. 987, "Reducing Damage to Trees From Construction Work." The publication cost 10 cents.

Leventhal, C.P.A., Opens Office Here

To the growing list of professional men in town, add the name of Irving V. Leventhal, certified public accountant, who announced today the opening of his office at his home on 36 Edgewood Ave.

Leventhal, a Pace College graduate of 1949, has been practicing accounting in Highland Park. He was born in Plainfield and served with the combat engineers in the European Theater during World War II. A resident of Springfield since April of this year, he passed his CPA exams last November.

Forbes to Talk On Improving Morris Avenue

The first step towards solving some of the problems for Morris Avenue will be taken Thursday, July 11, when the Springfield Chamber of Commerce holds its regular monthly dinner meeting at the Orchard Inn, Route 22, with Township Committee member Raymond W. Forbes as the speaker of the evening.

Mr. Forbes has been one of the most articulate members of the governing body in favor of extending Mountain Avenue and constructing a parking lot in the rear of the stores on the north side of Morris Avenue.

Property owners on this side of Morris Avenue have agreed to cooperate in such a plan but the purchase of the property which dead-ends at Morris Avenue is still a problem.

Mr. Forbes believes the Township should purchase this property and build a road into the vacant land in the rear where parking facilities would, in his words, "help business considerably for Morris Avenue and eliminate the hardship prevailing at present with parking bans at the height of traffic."

John C. Grausam, president of the Chamber of Commerce, hopes to have one of the best attended dinner meetings since he took office as "there are many important matters to be discussed including Mr. Forbes' proposal for parking areas north of Morris Avenue stores."

All members of the Springfield Chamber of Commerce are urged to contact Mr. Grausam and make reservations for the July 11 dinner meeting. Morris Avenue parking, general business improvement and other business matters are on the agenda.

Town $ Burned Up, No New Fire Truck

A shortage of Township funds forced the Township Committee last week to put off for another year the purchase of a new aerial ladder truck for the Fire Department.

The $40,000 hook and ladder was to have been purchased this year to replace Springfield's 29-year-old ladder truck on which Fire Department members say the brakes failed recently. At the June 12 meeting, the governing board had authorized Township Attorney Max Sherman to prepare an ordinance providing for purchase of the new truck.

But a conference with the municipal auditor revealed the shortage of funds, largely due to the three-fold expansion program, library, town hall, and municipal garage. So for the time being, the committee voted to have representative of the Mack Co. inspect the old ladder truck and see what can be done to make it useable for another year.

'57 Tax Take Up $132,503 Over '56

Springfield tax collections for last June were up $8,329 as compared with June of 1956, according to Charles H. Huff, Collector of Taxes.

This brings the year's total to $28,795 as compared with $696,292 at this time last year. The take for June, 1957 was $42,107, with additional income from back taxes at $1,432, and other taxes bringing the grand total to $55,928 for the month.

Springfield Turns Down Gas Station Expansion

Springfield is evidently determined not to encourage gas station expansion in the Township.

The second request, within a few weeks, for permission to enlarge a gasoline station was rejected last Thursday when the Board of Adjustment turned down the application of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Anderson to reconstruct their filling station at Hillside and South Springfield avenues.

Prior to that the Township Committee unanimously reversed the approval by the Board of Adjustment for the construction of a service station on the site of the Mrs. A. V. Pinkava garage at Morris and Mountain avenues.

Mayor Albert G. Binder and Committee members Raymond W. Forbes, Vincent Bonadies and Eugene F. Donnelly all expressed opposition to having additional service stations in the township—especially in the business center.

They pointed out that the location of the Pinkava garage is near the James Caldwell School. Conceding that cars now stop in Mountain Ave. to get gasoline at the garage and that the present building is not attractive, as cited in the variance request, the governing board was unanimous in the belief that a traffic hazard would be created.

The Andersons have conducted their filling station at that intersection for many years but the Board of Adjustment members heard objections that led to a tie vote, 2 voting in favor of a grant. (Continued on page 2)

PD In New Home, Finds Confusion

There was plenty of law, but not too much order as the Springfield Police department moved into their new headquarters this week.

With carpenters, painters and electricians still climbing all over the police blotter, Chief Albert A. Sorge and his men became the first official occupants of the new Municipal Building. Captain Wilber C. Selander and Sgt. Vincent Pinkava were in charge of the first shift to operate out of the new headquarters, the first shift to operate away from the old headquarters in more than 33 years.

There still are many items to be completed before the headquarters is properly equipped. The cell block has been opened, but no bunks have been installed. The new switchboard has three circuits whereas the old one had only two.

The headquarters has an assembly room for sergeants and patrolmen and a superior-officers' room which will be shared by Capt. Selander and Lts. Leslie Joyner and Otto Sturm. Chief Albert A. Sorge has a private office.

Other features include a darkroom and facilities for fingerprinting.

The former headquarters is being absorbed by the fire department. The new section of the municipal building including the Township Committee chamber is expected to be available in August. Meanwhile, sessions of the governing board and of Municipal Court will continue in the Municipal Garage.

Appeals for La. Hurricane Relief Money

Eugene F. Donnelly, chairman of the Springfield Chapter of the American Red Cross, is making an urgent request for local funds to help the victims of the recent hurricane. Contributions may be addressed to the Springfield Red Cross.

The appeal for funds in Springfield followed a telegram from the National Red Cross area manager, Joseph L. Carter, in which a statement by President Eisenhower pointed out the immediate need for funds, as follows:

"On behalf of the people of the United States, I extend deepest sympathy to the people in the devastated areas of Louisiana and the other areas affected by hurricane Audrey. Everything possible is being done to alleviate their suffering.

Federal, State and local Governments are doing everything in their power to assist the victims of the disaster. The Governmental agencies are conducting the work of survey and rescue and of rehabilitation. But of necessity this of granting the application were Kenneth Bandomer and Arthur Buehrer. John Hopping and Howard Christensen voted against the request. The other member of the board, Rupert Humer, did not attend this meeting.

During the hearing, which lasted more than an hour, a crowd that filled the Municipal Garage expressed opposition to the application. They claimed the plan to lease the area to the Tidewater Oil Co. which would build a modern service station, would detract from the residential nature of the area.

A petition with 69 signatures of residents in opposition to the variance was presented, claiming nearly 100 per cent of the neighborhood opposes the change.

Tidewater officials testified the project would improve the area and that its lease with an operator would give it complete control. They said utilization of the present facilities on a lease basis ultimately would result in deterioration of the premises. It was indicated Mr. Anderson plans to retire.

Principal complaint of residents was that a modern station would increase traffic. Tidewater claimed otherwise, maintaining the grocery which Mr. Anderson operates in conjunction with the filling station, would be closed and as a result fewer cars would be driven in.

 will be limited primarily to emergency measures and the rebuilding of vital local functions—highways, public buildings and the restoration of utilities.

In the great task of rehabilitation—caring for evacuated persons, sheltering and feeding them, ministering to the sick and the hurt—the American Red Cross must and eventually will play a major role. The Red Cross whose financial resources are already severely taxed by this and other disaster operations, currently underway will need the help of every citizen of our land.

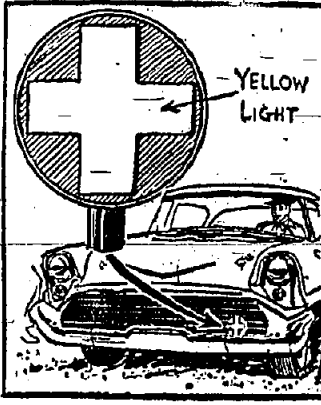

Everyone of us can participate in helping to relieve the suffering of his fellow Americans by contributing directly to local Red Cross Chapters. I am confident that the American people will respond generously to help the Red Cross carry out its great humanitarian work.

In view of expenditures in current fiscal year for disaster of over 19 million dollars I am sure you will want to appeal to the public for funds and make it possible for the American people to carry out the President's wishes.

Mary R. Pastene, formerly Mary Ferguson, a resident of Springfield for 20 years, died of a heart attack June 26, 1957, at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, Missouri.

She attended the local schools and was a graduate of Elmira College, class of 1917. She returned to Springfield and taught Domestic Science and other subjects at James Caldwell School. She also taught at Chevy Chase School, Maryland and in the Boonton, New Jersey High School.

In November, 1925, she married Alexander J. Pastene, formerly of Millburn, New Jersey, and for years the Pastenes have lived in Webster Groves, Missouri, a suburb of St. Louis. Mrs. Pastene was actively engaged in the civic, religious, and political affairs of her town.

Besides her husband, she leaves a daughter, Esther, at home, a son, Jay, of Milwaukee, and two grandchildren. She also leaves two brothers, Robert of Allenwood, N. J., and Alex of Springfield. The deceased was 62 years old.

A memorial service will be held in Webster Groves. Mr. Pastene has requested that friends who so desire may send, instead of flowers, a donation to their local American Heart Association.

Police Chief Sorge Gives Rules on Fooling Burglars

Chief of Police Albert A. Sorge announced today the week of July 7th through 13th will be observed as Burglary Prevention Week in Springfield.

Chief Sorge pointed out, experienced burglars know when to invade a house. It's up to the house owner to fool him by creating the impression someone is home, though the house may be empty.

Many people leave their homes for an evening, weekend, or vacation, and fail to take the simple precautions dictated by good common sense, Chief Sorge reported. These citizens wouldn't think of leaving the front door open or hanging up a sign reading "Burglars Welcome—Nobody Home Here." Yet, they give all the indications necessary, such as newspapers piled at the front door, a totally dark house, or even worse, lights burning 24 hours a day.

Linus Yale, Jr. in 1865 is still the most secure key operated locking device known to man.

4. DO have your lawn mowed and sidewalks swept by a neighbor at least once a week.

5. Tell one neighbor you are leaving. Have them check your house periodically and notify the police if they see anyone prowling around.

6. DO notify your local police officials as to the date you are leaving and when you will return.

7. DON'T close blinds or draw shades, leave them as you normally do when you're home.

8. DON'T leave valuables lying around the house. Place them in a safety deposit box.

9. DON'T tell friends, neighbor, or work associates of the valuable possessions you have around the house.

10. DON'T advertise your departure with an item in the paper and don't broadcast the news to your whole neighborhood.

The Springfield Chapter of the League of Women Voters claim that the local response has been good to the petition they are circulating to push charter study.

The Charter Study Organization met on Wednesday, June 26 and received the news that its formal incorporation has been accomplished. Mr. Norman Banner, Chairman of the Nominating Committee, reported that his committee is working toward the completion of the slate of Charter Commissioners. As soon as the slate has been determined, the names of the commissioners will be made

THE WOODS AND TEMPLED HILLS...

Samuel Francis Smith was a student at Andover Theological Seminary when he wrote "My country, 'tis of thee." That was in 1832, two years before he was ordained a minister. "America" never became our national anthem—probably because it is sung to the tune of the British anthem, "God Save the King." But it has remained one of our greatest hymns, its words familiar to almost every American. In a simple, moving way it seems to express both the spirit of our nation and the faith of our churches. And in its stirring climax, addressed to the Author of Liberty, these become one.

Samuel Francis Smith, with other great Americans, taught us to seek our national welfare in constant religious devotion. He saw no denial of America's freedom—but rather its fulfillment—in the humble acknowledgment:

GREAT GOD, OUR KING!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself. (4) Which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Church regularly and read your Bible daily.

First Rabbi Named By Reform Group

A large and enthusiastic membership of the Reform Jewish Congregation of Springfield turned out for a general meeting last week at the Presbyterian Parish House. The congregation, presided over by Philip Gurian, unanimously approved its constitution and by-laws, and the selection of Malcolm Mendelsohn as its first Rabbi. Bernard Lesser, chairman of the religious school board, was given a vote of appreciation for obtaining the Raymond Chisholm school for Hebrew and Sunday school classes.

Other committee reports indicate that membership, Hebrew and Sunday school enrollment has increased since the last meeting. Plans were made to provide the congregation with a complete religious and social program for the fall season.

Independence Day

The Independence which protects all our citizens, whether through birth or choice, was dearly bought by a generation long since gone and protected vigorously by men amongst us today. It should exalt the just pride and patriotism of us all. We must prize it as a gift not lightly to be accepted but constantly guarded by careful thought to all matters pertaining thereto.

Your Library

The Free Public Library of Springfield is a very lucky institution. Ever since its founding in 1832, it has been the recipient of many, and sometimes very valuable, gifts. These began with the donation of space, light, and heat, when the Bunnell Brothers allowed the Library to use a room in the Bank Building to get started. It continued when Miss Sarah Bailey willed her home to the town to be the site of the Library. Five hundred dollars from a drive for scrap paper collected by Otto Heinz helped to make the new building, possible by paying for insulation. These are just a few of the outstanding early gifts received by the Library.

Recently many donations have come to the Library from groups and from individuals. The Art Department of the Woman's Club gave $50.00 two years ago and $50.00 this year for art books. The Woman's Club, from its funds, is giving $5.00 this to start a savings account for some worthy project selected by the Library Staff. The Lions Club gave the flag pole for the new building. The Rotary Club gave a lectern for the auditorium.

Gifts from private individuals include the one hundred dollars presented by Mr. William G. Chirgotis at the dedication. Part of this has been used to buy a ten volume set of books entitled "The Book of Popular Science." This was placed in the Children's Department to be used for reference. For the Adult Department, Nelson's "Complete Concordance to the Revised Standard Version of the Bible" was bought from the same fund. And there is a balance left for purchase of some other outstanding books.

Mrs. Calvin Ackerman has donated one hundred dollars to buy books in memory of her daughter Susan. These are to be a special collection of books for children, some of which will reflect Susan's outstanding love of nature. Too many people have given gifts of magazines and books to give them all credit. However, outstanding in the early days of the library was Mr. Morris Lichtenstein, in whose memory the clock behind the main desk was dedicated. In the last few years, Mrs. D. E. Mezger has given many valuable magazines such as "Political Science Quarterly," books, and beautiful pictures and prints. The prints include a wonderful group taken from the Cleveland Museum Collection which will be placed on display next fall in the Children's Department.

Nothing has been of greater value to the Springfield Library than its gifts of time from its devoted volunteer workers, and its faithful curator, Mr. Donald Palmer. Without these generous citizens it would have been impossible for the Library to carry on its work and form the outstanding collection; or to perform the number of services it has achieved today.

Youth League Led by Legion As Minors End in 4-Way Tie

It is easy to say the season is over, but in the Minor League it seems like the beginning of Abbott and Costello's "who's on first?" The strength of the teams was so evenly divided, that the league wound up in a four-way tie for first place.

At this time, the personnel of the teams is very depleted because of boys leaving town for vacation, so we can safely say we have four champions. The teams involved in the tie were Chadwick Realty, Scott Excavating, Center Market and Columbia Lumber. Gelljack Jewelers and Chamber of Commerce finished in a tie for fifth place, with Colantone Shoes and Hayne following.

We would like to express our thanks for our successful season to the managers and coaches, the sponsors, and all who took part in helping the youth of the League.

MAJOR DIVISION RESULTS Legion 2 - Rotary 1 In a tightly played game, Mark Friedman pitched and batted the Legion to a 2-1 victory over Rotary at Irwin Field. He allowed only 2 hits in an extra inning game. Rotary's pitcher "Froggie" Friedman matched Legion's pitcher Friedman for 6 innings, with the Legion pushing across the winning run against relief pitcher Barry Becker. The fielding of both teams was excellent!

Kiwanis 3 - Lions 2 Although the Lions outthit the Kiwanis, they were defeated 3-2 at Washington Field. Arnold and Franklin had 2 hits each for the Lions. Jack Aggar was the winning pitcher. Center-fielder McCracken of Kiwanis had a busy time accounting for 5 put outs.

Car Hop 8 - P.B.A. 6 Tom Geoghegan was frequently in trouble because of wildness, but was able to come through in the clutch striking out 14 batters for an 8 to 6 win for Big Top. P.B.A. scored 5 times in the fifth, but was not able to overcome the 8 to 1 lead the Car Hop team held at the end of the fourth.
