

THIS WEEK

CONGRESSWOMAN DWYER EXPLAINS

This column worked itself up into an editorial lather last week because the political poo-bahs still pass the job platter around to the same crowd, the same names.

It starts on the state's highest level where the boss man of one important department suddenly becomes the ONLY and indispensable individual who could possibly handle the affairs of another state operation.

So the SAME JOB HOLDERS move into new titles and the workers, who have been knocking their brains out in political scraps, must be content with a crumb here and there.

The same thing is true — both in Republican and Democratic circles — as far as Springfield is concerned. There hasn't been a single Springfield resident named to a job or even considered by the political plum tree shakers.

However, we were too anxious to prove the point by mentioning the nominations of young men in this area for appointment to the various service academies. Congresswoman Florence P. Dwyer has been a sincere Representative of the Sixth Congressional District and we know she doesn't permit herself to be led by any political influences in the performance of her duties.

As a matter of fact, we know of several instances where she has come to the aid of her constituents, knowing definitely that the recipient of her efforts was not of the same political faith.

We asked why "Not one Springfield youth was in the long list of nominations" recommended by Rep. Dwyer — and we should have made some inquiries before making that part of the headline in last week's column. We felt that it was another instance where Springfield had been ignored.

But we were wrong and we are eager to admit it by publishing the letter below from Congresswoman Dwyer which is self explanatory.

"I noted in The Sun of January 8th an item in your Page 1 column, 'This Week' which raised a question as to why no Springfield youth was accorded one of my nominations this year for appointment to the various service academies.

"The nomination of the item seemed, to me, to be twofold: First, that I had failed to give recognition to Springfield in making my Academy appointments; second, that such appointments are in the realm of political patronage. In this regard, I would like to get the record straight.

"Your column posed the question: 'Could it be possible that there aren't any candidates for these service academies living in Springfield?'

"Now, I would like to answer that question. During the past year, 54 young men in Union County took advantage of my open competitive examinations to try for vacancies in the Army, Navy, Air Force and Merchant Marine academies, all of them as a member of Congress. Of the 54 young men who applied, and who subsequently took the examinations, only one was from Springfield; his examination score was lower than those of the other 53 who received my nominations, and thus he was not on my Academy lists. The instruction more personalized as the youngster enters.

"This procedure was in keeping with my publicly announced policy of basing my Academy appointments solely on the basis of merit. My nominations go to those youths who receive the highest scores in the competitive examinations; they are not bestowed on political favors. It is my belief that this merit system not only guarantees our Academies the highest type young men from Union County, but also gives all young men in the Sixth Congressional District an equal opportunity to win these high honors.

"Our service academies afford a wonderful education and career opportunity for young men of our nation, and I sincerely hope there will be a few greater responses from qualified young men in Springfield in the next competitive examination I will in Union County. I am certain I can count on the whole-hearted cooperation of your newspaper when I announce my Academy examination program later this year.

"Incidentally, qualified young men may apply with my office at any time for these examinations, and I will be most happy to place them on my list. At present, I might add, I already have received a number of applications for next year's vacancies, but none of the applicants to date are from Springfield."

POLIO — THE SECOND LOOK

The theme in new polio cases in 1957 was truly one of the year's most distressing. But when we're saying "that's all" to the Salk vaccine, let's take a closer look at the polio picture. Is it really over? Can we now sit back and say "goodbye" to one of the most dread, costly and tragic of human diseases?

Tens of thousands of disabled polio patients know better. And so do March of Dimes volunteers now conducting the annual fund drive here and throughout the country. They can show you how visible polio is on the national scene.

For one thing they will point to the fact that 300,000 living Americans have had paralytic polio, half of them during the past decade. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis estimates that one out of three of these still have some form of disability that can be remedied or alleviated.

The volunteers will also tell you about the 57,800 polio patients who needed care and rehabilitation in 1957. That took $21,700,000 in March of Dimes funds. What is especially significant is that only 4,800 of them contracted polio last year. The rest—53,000—were victims of former years who still needed help. They'll need help this year too, many of them. The March of Dimes has allocated $21,100,000 for their care and rehabilitation.

These are not statistics. They're real people. The child with the crutches standing on the sidelines watching others play—that's polio. In hospitals and respirator centers, you can hear it in the steady breathing of the iron lung-bellows and you can see it in the thin arm dangling at the side.

The March of Dimes continues to carry on its important role in serving humanity. The success of its current campaign will be measured in the success stories of polio's remaining victims—those who have not only survived the disease but are learning to live worthwhile lives again. The March of Dimes deserves all-out support.

Two File Petitions For School Board Elections

Only two petitions had been filed up to last night for the three places on the Springfield Board of Education to be decided at the scheduled school board elections, February 11.

Howard S. Smith, former president and now senior member of the board, and Loran E. Skousen announced this week that they have decided to seek reelection to the Board by filing their nominating petitions.

The other member of the School Board, C. Roderic Gibbons, whose first term expires this year, had not filed a petition up to this writing and has not indicated whether or not he will seek reelection.

Final date and hour for filing petitions is next Wednesday, January 22, at 9 p.m. On the following day—the positions on the ballot will be determined.

No petitions have been taken out by any of the rumored new candidates but the report is that several residents are considering running for the School Board places.

Smith is in his second year as vice president of the board after two years as president. First elected in 1946, he will be running for a fifth term. The only other member with more than five years on the board is President Robert G. Smith who was first elected in 1948.

Plan To Fight Zone Changing In Route 22

A march of property owners on Town Hall is expected next Wednesday night when the change in zoning for Route 22 comes up for final passage.

This ordinance, in legal wording, is not too clear to the layman but what it actually means is that retail establishments are to be barred—but industry is very welcome.

The ordinance has been drawn up to prohibit any retail establishment on the south side of Route 22 and for 400 feet back on the north side of the highway.

If the ordinance is passed next Wednesday at the regular meeting of the Township Committee, it will eliminate the proposed shopping center on the Ciccia property near the joining of Route 22 and Mountain avenue.

It is understood that this matter of establishing a shopping center at this point has been considered for many months by the Township Committee. Several leases, it is reported, have already been signed with nationally known chain stores to take large units in this new shopping area to serve the Briar Hill Circle development.

The ordinance will permit general industry on Route 22, going 400 feet from the highway at most points which threatens to back up into what is now residential areas. Even part of Mountain avenue, near the Briar Hills Circle homes, will permit industry under the terms of the ordinance now under consideration. It will also permit general industry to come close enough to many of the present residences in that area to cause property owners deep concern.

A meeting is scheduled for this week with parties interested in the Ciccia property shopping center.

Police Reserve Work Up In '57

The regular monthly meeting of the "CD" Police Reserve was held at the Springfield Municipal Building on January 7, despite adverse weather conditions.

Year-end reports presented to the group showed that the strength of the organization has grown from 26 to 31 members during the past year. A total of 961 hours were furnished for traffic duty and parades as requested by the Department and the group participated in three CD exercises, two state-wide and one on a county level.

Following the regular meeting, an election for officers to serve during the next two years was held. As a result, the following persons were elected to the posts indicated: Captain: Leroy Roberts; Lieutenant: Richard H. Moore; Sergeants: Joseph S. Seigel, Edward Kirsch, and William Pfeiffer.

The CD Police Reserve, while primarily an adjunct of the Civil Defense organization, is under the direct supervision of the Springfield Police Department for training purposes. Each active member is required to serve at least four hours per month in training with the regular police force. Usual duty consists of assisting a regular officer in the performance of his normal tasks. These include checking business establishments after nightly closings to ensure that the buildings are secure, direction of traffic, and patrol work both on foot and in the department's police cars.

To Be Guest Speaker

Mrs. Eugene F. Donnelly, 280 Northview terrace, will be the guest speaker at the Short Hills Chapter D.A.R. meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Charles E. Schooley, 18 Fielding road, Short Hills, Tuesday January 21 at 1:30 p.m. Mrs. Donnelly is a member of Church and Cannon Chapter D.A.R. and is state chairman of national defense.

Record Budget For Regional To Boost Taxes

Three persons were on hand Tuesday night to attend a hearing on the record $3,333,683.50 budget adopted by the Regional Board of Education Tuesday night in the Jonathan Dayton High School.

This new budget, up $394,994 over last year, will be voted on by the public on February 7.

Dr. Minor C. K. Jones of Mountainside, board president, estimated the Regional tax rate in the six communities comprising the district would rise 39 points from $1.66 to $2.05.

About 18 points of the increase will result from payments and interest on a $3,787,000 school expansion bond issue sold last week to the National State Bank of Elizabeth, Dr. Jones said. The interest rate is 3.75 per cent, less than the board expected to pay.

The other 21 points will provide a $200 across the board pay hike for teachers, other salary boosts, the hiring of 7 new teachers, more books and laboratory supplies and other items, according to Dr. Jones.

The allotment for repairs and replacements has jumped from $33,400 to $70,558. Dr. Jones said it will pay for such necessary items as painting the exterior of Dayton, rebuilding the 20-year-old boilers in that school, replacing manual training equipment and installation of new sidewalks.

The $3,787,000 bond issue will pay for a third regional high school to be erected in Berkeley Heights at a cost of $2,525,000; a $1,212,000 addition to Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School in Clark and the acquisition of a $50,000 site in Kenilworth for a fourth regional high school.

The new budget includes $210,582 as the interest payment but was able to reduce the figure $19,010 when the bonds were sold at 3.75 per cent interest instead of the expected 4 per cent.

Board To Hear Many Requests Next Thursday

Members of the Board of Adjustment will have a series of decisions to make at the next public hearing to be held in the Municipal Building next Thursday, January 23.

The legal notice which is published elsewhere in this issue merely states that "the board will consider the application of Eugene F. Rau for a variance in the zoning ordinance concerning Block 77, Lot 60, 745 Mountain avenue." The actual request asks "to have a smoke house included in the present store building, as per plans submitted."

Another notice has to do with the application of the Regal Oil Company, "for a special exception use" concerning Block 78, Lot 1, U.S. Highway No. 22. The actual request asks "for permission to construct a filling station at stated location which is at Donard road and Route 22."

Another hearing will be held on an application to construct a retail store building for the selling of groceries, another would be to install farm, produce and meat stalls on Springfield avenue and South Springfield avenue.

Still another public hearing is scheduled for next Thursday on an application by Max Becker for permission to maintain an antique shop in Short Hills avenue "without structurally changing the house on the exterior."

League & PTA Plan Candidates Night

Candidates for election to the local Board of Education will be the guests of the combined PTA's of all schools and the League of Women Voters at their annual "Candidates Night" at a meeting to be held at the Gaudineer School on Monday, January 27, at 8:15 p.m.

Because of the close proximity of the filing date for school board aspirants (January 22) and the date of the meeting, any possible candidates are requested to contact Mrs. E. Schwartz at DRexel 9-4921 or Mrs. Fred Fische at DR 6-0024, so that they may be included in the evening's program. The Hospitality Committee head of each PTA will serve as hostesses for this meeting. The chairmen are Mrs. Howard Hierwagen, Caldwell School PTA, Mrs. William Hummel, Chisholm School PTA, Mrs. Sidney Stein, Waiter School PTA and Mrs. Sidney Huatton, Gaudineer School PTA.

$5 1/2 Million In New Buildings As Town Grows

Springfield continued to grow last year like a well cultivated weed with construction beginning on 5 1/2 million dollars worth of buildings, according to the year end report of the Building Inspector, Wilbert J. Binder.

One family dwellings led the way with $2,747,200.00 going into building that little dream house in suburbia. While that seems like an awful lot of split-level, it doesn't compare with 1956 when over $5 million in home building permits was issued. Still Springfield continues to lead all Union County communities in the building of homes. All told 185 homes were begun in 1957.

Garden apartments added a big bulge to the Springfield building picture with $1,599,000.00 in building permits issued for Troy Village. This is an increase of 1,000 per cent over 1956 which saw no activity in the luxury apartment field.

Binder reported to the Township Committee in his annual report that commercial buildings boomed in Springfield throughout 1957 with 23 permits issued for a total value of $606,200.00. Alterations, burners, and signs accounted for the remainder of the 759 permits issued by the town for building.

All this building taxes school facilities and municipal services, but at least it brought in $19,078.20 in fees to the town.

Bonadies To Be Feted At Dinner

Township Committeeman Vincent J. Bonadies will be the guest of honor at what the Springfield Testimonial Committee refers to as "a community fun fest" to be held in Club Diana, Springfield avenue, Union, on Friday, January 23.

It will be non-political and the response to invitations already indicates a large crowd for the event. Democratic City Chairman Irving Weinberg named a committee, headed by Michael Genovesi, to make arrangements for this dinner dance.

A name band has been engaged to furnish the music for both the dancing and entertainment. A prominent speaker whose name will be announced later will address the guests.

March of Dimes Campaign Starts In Springfield

The 1958 March of Dimes is under way in Springfield with J. Leo Moran again handling the fund raising campaign as general chairman and Township Committeeman Vincent J. Bonadies serving as business district chairman.

Mrs. Micheline Wasung will head the annual Mothers' March on Polio and former Judge Fair G. Portenza serve as treasurer of the drive in Springfield.

The March of Dimes launched its 1958 polio fund campaign here and throughout the country on the dramatic note that for thousands of polio-blighted victims "Survival is Not Enough." Most of the money sought in the drive is needed to help disabled polio patients stage "comebacks" from helplessness to usefulness.

The Salk vaccine developed by the March of Dimes has scored dramatically in preventing new paralytic polio cases, officials say, but during the last year it has been necessary to spend a total of $24,700,000 in March of Dimes funds on the care and rehabilitation of patients. These patients numbered 57,800, of whom 53,000 were victims of old attacks.

Since most of this cost is in the form of continuing care for patients stricken in preceding years, the obligation will continue next year with very little letup, it was pointed out.

Mayor is an easy one, here's a suggestion (and there are many others just as intriguing) addressed to the Springfield Mayor on a postal card: "Dear Sir—When are you going to realize that Morris Avenue should be one way, like Millburn Avenue—and let the other way be Baltusrol road or way and Shunpike—or Wabeno and Rose and Black's lane and a cut thru the cemetery, and water works." That is the postal card verbatim. He signed it "A Logical Driver" which makes us wonder... The perfect hostess, agrees Jack Powers of the Twigs, is the hostess who lowers the volume on TV when the conversation gets really interesting... Perhaps they've forgotten, but the Christmas electric lights are still strung across Morris Avenue.

Woman's Club News

Springfield Woman's Club first club night of the New Year was held on January 8 at the Edward Walton School with Mrs. Merion Williams, President presiding.

This meeting was open to all residents of Springfield.

Mrs. Williams read thank you notes for invitation to the Christmas program from Mrs. C. Howard Samborn, State President of Women's Clubs and Mrs. Allison Hearn, Seventh District Vice President. Miss Florence Gaudineer's note of thanks and appreciation to members for gifts given to her to distribute to less fortunate children at Christmas was very inspiring. After a few announcements the meeting was turned over to a representative of the Bell Telephone Co.

Too bad the driving was so hazardous that evening and more people didn't get out to see this rewarding and interesting film of our state.

The majority of people living in this state do not realize that Jersey is the 45th in size. Yet within this small space are living 5,400,555 people, most of them so jammed in the "city belt" between Hudson County and Camden that 84 per cent of the state's acreage is still either farmland or forest land.

There are 22,000 farms with a gross income close to two billion dollars. New Jersey's industries rank seventh in value of manufactured goods, ranging from silk to petroleum.

All work and no play? Hardly. The lakelands in North Jersey and the famed beaches in South Jersey add up to a multi-billion dollar enterprise, ranked third in the nation.

New Jersey deserves the name of Garden State because of the rich strip of soil which starts in Monmouth Co. and circles down through the lower parts of Middlesex and Mercer counties, through the western part of Burlington and on to Camden, Gloucester, Salem and Cumberland counties.

The meeting ended on the note that New Jersey was a nice state to be in.

Members of the Garden Department are looking forward to a lively and interesting evening on Tuesday, January 21, at the Cannon Ball House. Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Frank Johnson and Mrs. George Ran. Topic to be discussed will be "Flowers and Plant Review." If you have a favorite flower or plant come prepared to tell the group all about it. There will be a question and answer period. Any member of the club interested in joining this group on January 21 is welcomed.

Mrs. Victor Brink, Education Chairman of the Springfield Woman's Club announces that the trustees and faculty of the Union Jr. College are having a tea at Fellowship Hall in Cranford on Thursday, February 6. P.T.A. NEWS

The following is the Plan of Work for Program Chairmen continued from last week's column.

C. Preparing for the first committee meeting:

1. Members of the committee should be thoroughly familiar with the Objectives and Policies of the National Congress. They should also have a thorough knowledge of the Action Program.
2. If an evaluation survey has been submitted to the membership, this should be studied also.
3. If a questionnaire survey has been submitted to the membership, this should be studied also.
4. If the above has not been done, members of the committee should contact members, school administrators, board of education members, other community leaders to discover the interests and needs of the community.
5. The First Planning Meeting: More than one planning meeting may be necessary to work out the suggestions offered. For reference, laws with provisions in your by-laws concerning meeting dates, annual meeting, and minimum number of meetings to be held.
6. Select the most interesting need of the community.
7. Keep this need in mind—decide on the theme.
8. Develop the theme in correlated monthly topics. Special attention should be given to special presentations; keeping in mind the interests of the members. References: p. 105-111. Section I in the Manual: National Parent-Teacher; "New Homes for Audiences." Use back of Manual for Special Days and Months.
9. Meetings should be streamlined. Opening and business meetings should be timed (about one-half hour). Never dispense with the regular business. Presentation and discussion should be about one-half to one hour. Follow with social time. Discussion should have a time limit. Never apologize for what you are doing.
10. A school calendar, town calendar, and religious holidays should be considered when planning the program.
11. Use of children as program participants should be carefully controlled. Demonstrations of actual school work are interesting and valuable and should be limited to those requiring little preparation on the part of the student and the teacher. Children learn a sense of responsibility by helping with the social phase of the program, also when acting as guides during open house and class visitation meetings.
12. (To be continued in next week's P.T.A. News column of the Springfield Sun).

On Top For Pub Owners

Two Springfield tavern owners were named officers of the Union County Suburban Tavern Association, Inc. at the elections of that group held last week.

E. J. (Jiggs) Laccotiello, one of the proprietors of Walter's Inn, was named to the Board of Trustees of the association and Walter Pasch was elected Treasurer of the county group. David R. Hollander of Clark Township was elected for a third term as president.

It is through the cooperation and generosity of a town paper, such as the Springfield Sun, that the endeavors of our church people are assisted toward attaining success.

We are grateful and appreciate your kindness and sincerely hope that your interest in our church will continue.

Wishing you the blessings of a prosperous and worthy New Year.

Yours truly,
 Benedicte Plummer.

Editor, Sun:
 At the start of the New Year it seems a very appropriate time to thank you and the Springfield Sun for your support and cooperation in the past. In the name of the Springfield Chapter of Women's American O.R.T. (Organization for Rehabilitation Through Training), I say thank you!

The publicity which you have so generously given us has added immeasurably to our prestige, to our membership and to the success of our projects. A concrete example of this is our rummage sale in which your article resulted in our receiving calls from residents in town who were not members, wishing to donate merchandise for our rummage sale, thus helping to make it the success it was.

We as a small part of the 50,000 membership in Women's American O.R.T. are devoting our efforts to doing our share so that the students in 350 O.R.T. schools in 19 countries continue to flourish and learn useful trades to support themselves and families and never need charity again. Thank you again and a Happy New Year from all of us to all of you.

Jean Margulies,
 (Mrs. Seymour)
 President.

Accent On Price In '58 Seen By Food Executive

American consumers had another banner food year in 1957, according to Ralph W. Burger, president of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., eating better than ever before in history because of improvements all along the line in the handling of merchandise from the farm to the home.

The outlook for 1958, in the opinion of Mr. Burger, is for continued high production, continued increase in the development and use of convenience foods, and further improvements in stores and service, but with increased emphasis on price.

Although consumers' expendable income should remain high in the coming year, continued high living costs will cause the economywise housewife to keep a sharper eye on the 25 per cent of the average family budget that goes for food.

"Because labor, transportation and the production cost of food at the farm level continue to increase," the A&P executive said, "the food industry will have to seek new economies in distribution in order to pass savings along to customers."

From the consumer's point of view, government reports indicate that production of pork and chicken should increase slightly in 1958, small reductions are in prospect for beef and veal; and other major food groups should remain about the same.

"We may expect the trend toward increased consumption of pre-packaged meats and produce, frozen foods of all varieties, baking mixes and soluble coffee to continue," he said. "The demand for canned foods also will remain strong because of their uniform quality, value and storage convenience."

"While the American housewife will continue to buy convenience foods and built-in maid service during the coming year, she will do so only in direct proportion to the ability of the industry to produce these goods at a price she feels the family budget can afford."

"In other words, the convenience food manufacturers and processors will have to retain quality while seeking new efficiencies that will be reflected in lower prices if they are to expect continued expansion during the coming year."

The opening of new stores continues largely as a result of the population shift to suburban areas. These new stores generally are larger than the retail outlets they replace.

Among the factors causing increased marketing and production costs Mr. Burger cited wages and transportation — which together account for more than 50 per cent of the increase — along with a general rise in all the things that marketing firms use, including fuel, containers and packaging materials, machinery and rents. This applies not only to the processor, manufacturer and the distributor but causes hardships at the production level, he said, because the farmer also is confronted with steadily increasing costs, particularly in the areas of farm labor and machinery.

"In view of these rising marketing costs and indications of an increased price consciousness among consumers during 1958, the industry must seek economies in the areas where they are available," Mr. Burger warned.

Your Library

The New Year is always a time for looking back over the accomplishments of the past year, and forecasting coming events. Readers of Peppy's Diaries will recall how on every January first he counted up his money and other resources, and very often looked ahead to the new year pretty well satisfied with himself but anxious to conquer his vices. (Adults who have never read "Diaries of Samuel Peppy" might place him at the head of their book list for the coming year. They will find him a delightful human fellow.)

This year the Free Public Library of Springfield can look back on a great many changes. So far it has just been a testing period, feeling the way along to see how the new addition will work out. One decided gain has been room for readers to do research work, and more reference books and a better place to display them. The information file, containing pamphlets and clippings, has been sorted out and arranged so that it can be used to supplement the books. Much of the material in this file was printed by the government. This has the advantage of being both authoritative and inexpensive. Among the items waiting for attention during the new year, will be some trips to second-hand book stores to try to find books badly needed—but no longer "in print."

It has been recognized that the space between the card catalog and the new desk is too narrow. However, the only central location for the desk was near the door. A few new book shelves have been ordered and it is hoped that soon the card-catalog can be rearranged to eliminate the bottleneck. Another improvement is the better lighting recently installed in the second-fiction room.

On the personnel side we can count two big steps forward. Some member of the library staff is on duty at the Information Desk every afternoon after school and on both Monday and Friday evenings—Mrs. Myrland P. Simmons is in charge of this work. But is assisted by Mrs. Walter Hohn, Mrs. Joseph Manuel and Miss Helen Reyher.

Mrs. John Porter is doing a splendid job looking after the reading of younger boys and girls. Beside supervising the circulation in the Children's Room and giving advice individually to parents, she has been telling stories to the preschool group. These story hours have become so popular that three periods a week had a maximum enrollment of sixty children and there were others waiting to join. A schedule has been worked out for the spring months. A mother may select the group most convenient for her child, and an attempt will be made to give each child a turn.

In addition, Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Hohn have spent a great deal of time choosing books suited to needs of classes in the schools. They send books to teachers on the special subjects being studied at that time and fit the books to the reading level of the children.

Two excellent sets of reference books have been added. The "Book of Popular Science" was the gift of Mr. William G. Chirgolis, the architect who designed the new wing. The other "Our Wonderful World" was given by Mr. and Mrs. Calvin G. Ackerman in memory of their daughter Susan.

Therefore, as the Springfield Library looks back over the past year, like Mr. Peppy, it can take a great deal of pride in work accomplished, but also like him, look forward to doing better.

Bride fashions At Saks Show Tonight

Saks Fifth Avenue, Springfield, will get a jump on what a young man's fancy is due to turn lightly to this Spring with a fashion show for brides tonight, Thursday, Jan. 16.

Saks will put its best foot forward for brides and bridesmaids with a showing of trousseaus and wedding dresses beginning at 7:30 in the Bridal Salon in the East Wing of the Springfield store. The showing will be under the personal direction of Miss Audrey Montreuil, directress of the Fifth Avenue Bridal Salon. Miss Yvonne Haxada, a Saks Bridal Consultant, will handle the commentary.

The latest collection on view in the Bridal Salon of Saks Fifth Avenue offers special interpretations of today's style criteria for the wedding parties of the coming year.

The chemise, the harem or puffed skirt, the up-front hemline, the back swept movement are all there. And, along with the traditional pure white satin, cream and tea-rose tones appear in lace, organza, and the fabric called silk mist which resembles tulle. Chapel rather than Cathedral, trains predominate, but veils are long rather than short. Sashes abound, and, along with jeweled decoration, appliques of Swiss embroidery lend a fresh note.

Often these bridal dresses are buoyed up by starched muslin petticoats, which are long and full at back, short and full over the hips, but stop short in front to preserve the slim-line there. An effective wedding version of fastens straight down the back with very small, fabric covered buttons. It has a top of creamy lace re-embroidered in pearls, with a white taffeta skirt, and a low placed waistband that does not quite meet at front.

Among the puffed or balloon styles are several lovely bridal gowns. One is of creamy white peau de soie. It has the bride's favorite low round neckline with tiny sleeves, on a snug bodice of lace, animated by pearly sequins that pick up and accentuate its pattern. The lace extends in a deep U at the back of the double skirt, which puffs and billows prettily before going into a Chapel train.

Bridesmaids' dresses are seen also to adopt the harem skirt. A shirbet pink taffeta one has its puffed skirt adorned with two looped-up bows at back. All the dresses for these members of the bridal party have wide full-spreading skirts. There is an apple-green tulle, with round neck and short sleeves, which has the snug bodice pointing downward on to the very full skirt. Another full is girdled by a wide cummerbund, punctuated with three little self-bows at back. And an ice cream pink chiffon, with frog bateau neck, has two hem length pieces of the chiffon stemming from the base of the V-neckline at back. Form, movement, fabric, and ornamentation in this collection point to a picture of loveliness in terms of up-to-the minute styles for the wedding of 1958.

AZA Boys Travel To Canada For 'Operation Friendship'

By AKNIE GREEN

On a bright night of December 28th, a group of 40 boys, all members of AZA, twenty-five from Springfield and sixteen from Bayonne along with three advisors left from Newberry's on a chartered bus. Destination—Toronto, Canada, on the first leg of "Operation Friendship" with members of AZA in Canada.

All the boys were invited up for a four day weekend and greatly enjoyed the trip very much. On the way up the boys were anxious and many of the younger members who have never been on such a trip before kept almost everyone up throughout the entire night.

After various stops through the night at six thirty a.m. the next day the bus went through customs and the boys had a breakfast stop on the Canadian side of Niagara Falls. The entire trip up was approximately fifteen hours since a couple of very heavy snow flurries caused the bus to slow down to as much as 20 miles an hour.

After being met at what the Canadian boys call the B.B.Y.O. house we were all taken to the homes of the people we stayed at. After a restful Friday afternoon all the boys attended services and then the group split up and everyone attended parties since there were a few. On Saturday morning most of the members attended religious services and then all went on a sightseeing tour of the entire city of Toronto. After visiting the largest castle on the North American continent, Casa Loma, and visiting other sights we all stopped for lunch where the Yankees, as we were called, (all the adults called us Americans) and the Canadian boys actually devoured 100 hot dogs and 50 bottles of Coca Cola.

In the evening we all attended a big dance held at one of the many Temples in the city of Toronto. At this dance the Americans and the Canadians really began to feel as if they had always known each other. When Sunday morning rolled around all attended a breakfast at a restaurant. There was a choice of everything on the menu and it was all paid for.

After a short meeting on Sunday afternoon most of the boys went shopping for gifts and later went ice skating or played in the football game between the Americans and the Canadians which was won by the Canadians 6-0.

Temple Announces Leadership Forum

It has been announced by Milton Kappstatter, President of Temple Beth Ahm, that a series of three seminars will be held at the Temple on the general topic of "Leadership."

The meetings will start on Thursday, February 6, and will be held weekly. The purpose of the seminars is to outline the problems and techniques of Temple leadership in order to prepare candidates who wish to assume office in the Temple organization. "One of the great needs in Temple life is the discovering of men and women who are willing and able to assume a role of leadership in congregational life," Kappstatter said. He added that a great many people are qualified.

Would you call this fair play?

Referee gives "visitors" a boost. "Home" team has to score on its own. What kind of game would that be?

Ridiculous—yet you and most people face that same kind of unfairness all the time with some of your taxes. These are the taxes you pay in your electric bills.

About 23 cents out of every dollar you pay for electricity goes for taxes. But a strange twist in federal law exempts several million

American families and businesses from paying all the taxes in their electric bills that you pay in yours. These are people whose electricity comes from federal government electric systems. You have to help make up the taxes these people don't pay.

Most Americans feel that everyone should pay his fair share of taxes. Don't you agree that this special tax favoritism should be made more widely known and given critical study?

Sensale Presents Paper In Wash.

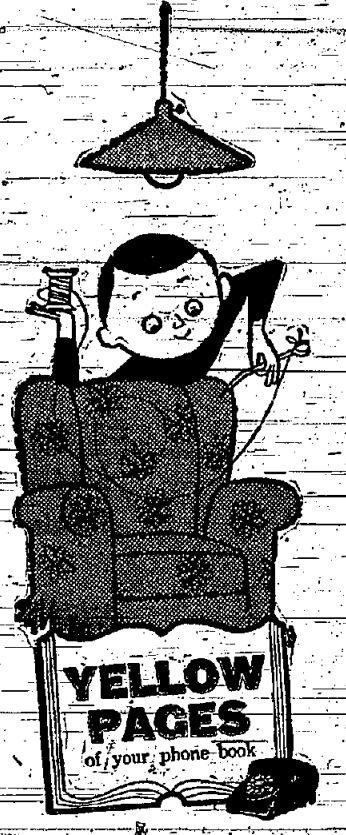

Charles Sensale, 30 Garden Oval, senior reliability engineer for Federal Telephone and Radio Company, Clifton, a division of IT&T, joined a panel of electronics experts meeting in Washington, D. The shining light of faith

Now you see it, shining more brightly than at any other time of year. Faith. The Faith of the little ones, so sure their wishes will come true. The Faith of parents, equally confident that somehow they will make this the most wonderful holiday the children have ever known.

For some, the light of Faith will remain brilliant throughout the year. These are the ones who've discovered that one holy hour a week can make seven happy days.

Now while you are so aware of the strength of your Faith, won't your resolve to keep it "shined up" throughout the year? This week and every week, worship together.

Town Gets 1st Ad Agency As Keyes, Martin Arrives

Keyes, Martin & Company, one of the state's leading advertising, public relations and marketing agencies, announces the removal of its complete facilities from 11 Hill street, Newark, to new and larger offices at 80 Morris avenue, Springfield. It will be Springfield's first advertising agency.

In a joint statement by the agency's principals, Martin Steinhardt and George L. Schlissel, they announced, "The organization's exceptional growth during more than a decade of advertising service to commerce and industry has necessitated the move to larger offices."

"Many of our clients," the announcement continued, "are now located in the rapidly growing industrial areas of suburban Union County and northern New Jersey and, in order to provide the increased advertising, merchandising, and public relations functions they now require, it was felt that larger, more modern and more centrally located facilities were necessary. We have, as well, augmented our creative and administrative staffs to handle the ever-increasing marketing responsibilities now carried on for our extensive and diversified client roster."

Keyes, Martin's new air-conditioned offices, containing more than twice the area of the Newark location, was especially designed by noted architect William G. Chirgotes, also of Springfield, to provide the agency's personnel with the most modern and efficient advertising facilities available.

Mr. Steinhardt, the agency's president since its founding over twenty years ago, is a resident of 180 Myrtle Avenue, Millburn. The Steinhardt is actively associated with the Boy Scouts and the PTA in his community. As an advertising veteran of twenty-two years experience, he has been associated with the Ronson Lighter Corporation, as assistant advertising manager, and with the L & R Manufacturing Corporation, as director of sales and advertising.

Executive vice-president George L. Schlissel of 149 Hillcrest Avenue, Summit, was a well-known freelance artist in the state prior to the establishment of Keyes, Martin. He is a former national figure in lawn tennis, and one-time third ranking table tennis player of the United States. Schlissel is married and has three children.

Report To The People

By Congresswoman Florence P. Dwyer

The sense of worried urgency, which has gripped the nation since the Soviet Union injected new and frightening portents into the Cold War with the launching of its satellites, filled the House chamber with tense expectancy as the President began his State of the Union message to Congress last Thursday.

The crowded galleries were hushed—and down on the floor of the historic chamber members of the House and Senate awaited the answer to a question: Would President Eisenhower, with his once-unquestioned prestige shadowed by public anxieties and doubt and partisan attacks on his policies, be able to reassert the compelling leadership which had in the past inspired all the Free World?

The President's address provided a dramatic answer. Point by point, in what I believe was one of the most powerful and moving speeches of his years in the White House, the President not only faced the bitter facts of survival but also advanced sound and far-reaching proposals for combating the dangers which beset us.

THUNDEROUS OVATION

It was a speech of a statesman—devoid of partisanship and providing the inspiring spark of leadership so essential in times of crisis.

When the President finished, the House chamber erupted in a long and thunderous ovation. It was, I believe, the far more spontaneous and enthusiastic demonstration than that accorded by the Congress to the President's State of the Union message last year following his overwhelming victory at the polls.

I left the House chamber feeling that President Eisenhower had laid the facts on the line in a forthright manner which served to revive what had been weakening and wavering support; that he had, with his words, set into action what undoubtedly will be one of the most critical sessions of Congress in our history.

The days ahead will require high courage and determination from all Americans—a willingness to make sacrifices necessary to carry the staggering tasks that lie ahead. And we who are privileged to serve the people in Congress have a special responsibility to place at all times the general welfare above partisan politics in this time of crisis. I feel the President's message has helped form the foundations of such vital unity of purpose.

THE CHANGING TIMES

During these first hectic days of the second session, I have found one thing increasingly evident, and that is the abrupt and almost total shift in the thinking of Congress.

Last year, as the 85th Congress went to work, the dominant mood on both sides of the aisle was for economy—at almost any price. Nothing escaped the budget-cutting axe—defense, missiles, research and development, foreign aid, domestic programs—as the Congress set its sights on a tax cut for 1958's election-year.

Fields vital to our defense and the security of the Free World.

BATTLE FOR SURVIVAL

Now, however, in the few months since the first session ended, times have changed. Some of my colleagues who were shouting the loudest for wholesale economy are now demanding just as vociferously that we write a blank check for an all-out defense effort.

Nowhere on Capitol Hill have I found stirrings of last year's economy demands. There is no talk of a tax cut. The Battle of the Budget has been replaced on the beachheads of Congress by the Battle for Survival.

Certainly, there is no question that we must greatly expand our defense effort—especially in the fields of missiles, space satellites and research. The Soviet Union's unquestioned advances in new scientific—and technological fields have given sudden frightening aspects to the Cold War. The challenge of Sputnik is one we cannot afford to ignore or minimize.

CALM THINKING

However, as we in Congress face this challenge, it seems to me we must guard against one thing above all: we must not let the economy hysteria of last year ex-

Garden Topics

By Essex County Extension Service

Why not consider Christmas gifts, which are useful for gardening, for your friends and relatives this Christmas? There are many practical garden gifts available to please any sort of gardener. They are:

Florists, nurserymen, seed and hardware stores, and other stores, have a wide collection of gardening gifts to select from. Some are even useful during the winter. Subscriptions to garden magazines, books on gardening, including garden dictionaries, give a longer period of satisfaction. Orders for roses, dwarf fruit, shade trees, flowering trees and evergreens for delivery next spring at planting time help solve the gift problem.

Useful garden gifts for Christmas include tools of all kinds, flower containers and garden accessories. Bird houses, bird feeding stations and living Christmas trees, which can be planted outdoors, are also suggested. Berried and flowering house plants are brought into bloom for the Christmas trade and they add atmosphere to the happy occasion.

Christmas trees have been arriving. Reminders about their care before being brought into the house will help to retain their needles longer. Upon receipt of the tree, stand it immediately in a pail of water outdoors or in a cool place, until it is time to bring it indoors. That is to keep the needles from dropping out so that they do not dry out once indoors.

Then the tree should stand in water in the home either in a pail or in a purchased tree stand which holds water. Unfortunately, the latter are often too small. The butt of the tree trunk should be cut fresh in a light slant before placing in water.

Evergreen boughs or branches, to be used for indoor decorations, should also be kept in water if at all possible. This not only keeps them fresh but reduces the fire hazard. When the above is not possible, spray a heavy coating of a fire-retardant on the branches and needles. Two coats are more effective.

Christmas greens should be cut did last year when I introduced legislation, that establishment of a Foreign Service Academy is of urgent importance if we are to sustain our leadership of the Free World.

It is my hope that this will be one of the objectives we in Congress will work for as we face the critical days ahead. I will continue to work for establishment of such an Academy, for I believe most deeply that a portion of the billions we spend for foreign aid could be utilized for such a project to insure our nation of the highest type representation throughout this crisis-torn world.

All Aliens Must Register in Jan.

E. P. Bouchard, New Jersey District Director of the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service, stated today that aliens in the United States will be required to report their addresses to the Government during the month of January.

All aliens, with few exceptions, who are in the United States on January 1 each year must report their addresses to the Government by the end of that month. Only the following classes of aliens are excused from this requirement: (1) Accredited Diplomats; (2) Persons accredited in certain international organizations; and (3) Those admitted temporarily as agricultural laborers.

Forms with which to make the report can be obtained from any Post Office or Immigration Office during the month of January.

Mr. Bouchard said that the law provides severe penalties for failure to comply with the reporting requirement. The District Director mentioned that any alien who willfully or inexcusably fails to report his address during January may be fined up to $200, imprisoned for 90 days, and deported.

If you're planning to buy some shrimp when you do your marketing this week, select medium sized ones—those 21 to 25 a pound. Middle sized shrimp take less time to shell and clean than small shrimp, yet they cost less than the large size.

Food Plays Part In Fate for '58

Your food has a great deal to do with your fortune—whether you will be full of energy and enthusiasm or whether you will grope instead of grin. The kind and amount of food you eat helps to determine your health, your figure, your complexion and your outlook on life, says Irene H. Wolgamot, of Rutgers University extension service.

To insure an adequate diet, think in terms of food for a day, she advises. A daily plan for an adequate diet includes some food from each of four different food groups: Milk, meats, vegetables and fruit, and bread and cereals.

To eat or not to eat fats seems to be a common topic of conversation today. What kinds to eat and what kinds to avoid have been discussed in some widely circulated "scare" stories. They deal mainly with cholesterol, a constituent of fats. What are the facts? And should we change our food habits if we want to protect our health?

Research is in progress on the presumed relationship between fat consumption and some types of heart disease and circulatory disorders. In atherosclerosis, the opening in arteries is narrowed by deposits of cholesterol, a constituent of fats. However, the amount of cholesterol in the food we eat does not necessarily determine the amount in the blood.

Mrs. Wolgamot points out that the body can make cholesterol, whether or not it is present in the food eaten. Also, the amount of this substance in the blood of normal persons varies widely. Research to date has not proved that lowering blood cholesterol reduces the occurrence of atherosclerosis.

At the annual Agricultural Outlook Conference held in Washington recently, Dr. Ruth Leveton, assistant director of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Human Nutrition Research Division, said healthy people need fats for fuel, for vitamins A and D and for fatty acids essential for growth and health.

Present information does not justify any radical change in the amount and kind of fat in the diet, she phases, that it is important to eat to suit physical activity and energy needs. Avoid overeating and overweight.

Feature Hot Spots In Buffet Menu

The holiday season is the perfect time of year for parties and friendly get-togethers. Neighbors and relatives are anxious to see "what Santa brought."

A hot fruit punch or mulled wine will warm the throats on a wintry night. Perfect after skating or skiing, wonderful to serve in front of a log burning fire.

Plan an easy buffet supper with hot spiced tomato soup with its bright red color and pleasing aroma, it is a perfect first course, especially when served from your prettiest cups.

Follow with a casserole made with macaroni, cheese and leftover turkey; a tossed green salad, hot biscuits—and individual fruit pies.

Hot Spiced Tomato Soup
3 cans (10½ ounces each) condensed tomato soup
3 soup cans water
Dash onion and ground cloves
Combine all ingredients; heat. Makes 6-8 servings.

Holiday Casserole
4 cans (15½ ounces each) macaroni with cheese sauce
2 cans (5 ounces each) boned chicken or turkey (or about 1½ cups leftover turkey)
2 cups cooked whole kernel corn
½ cup diced pimiento

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO DOG OWNERS!

The privilege of owning a dog and deserving his affection carries certain legal responsibilities. The State Rabies Control Act and local ordinances provide that:

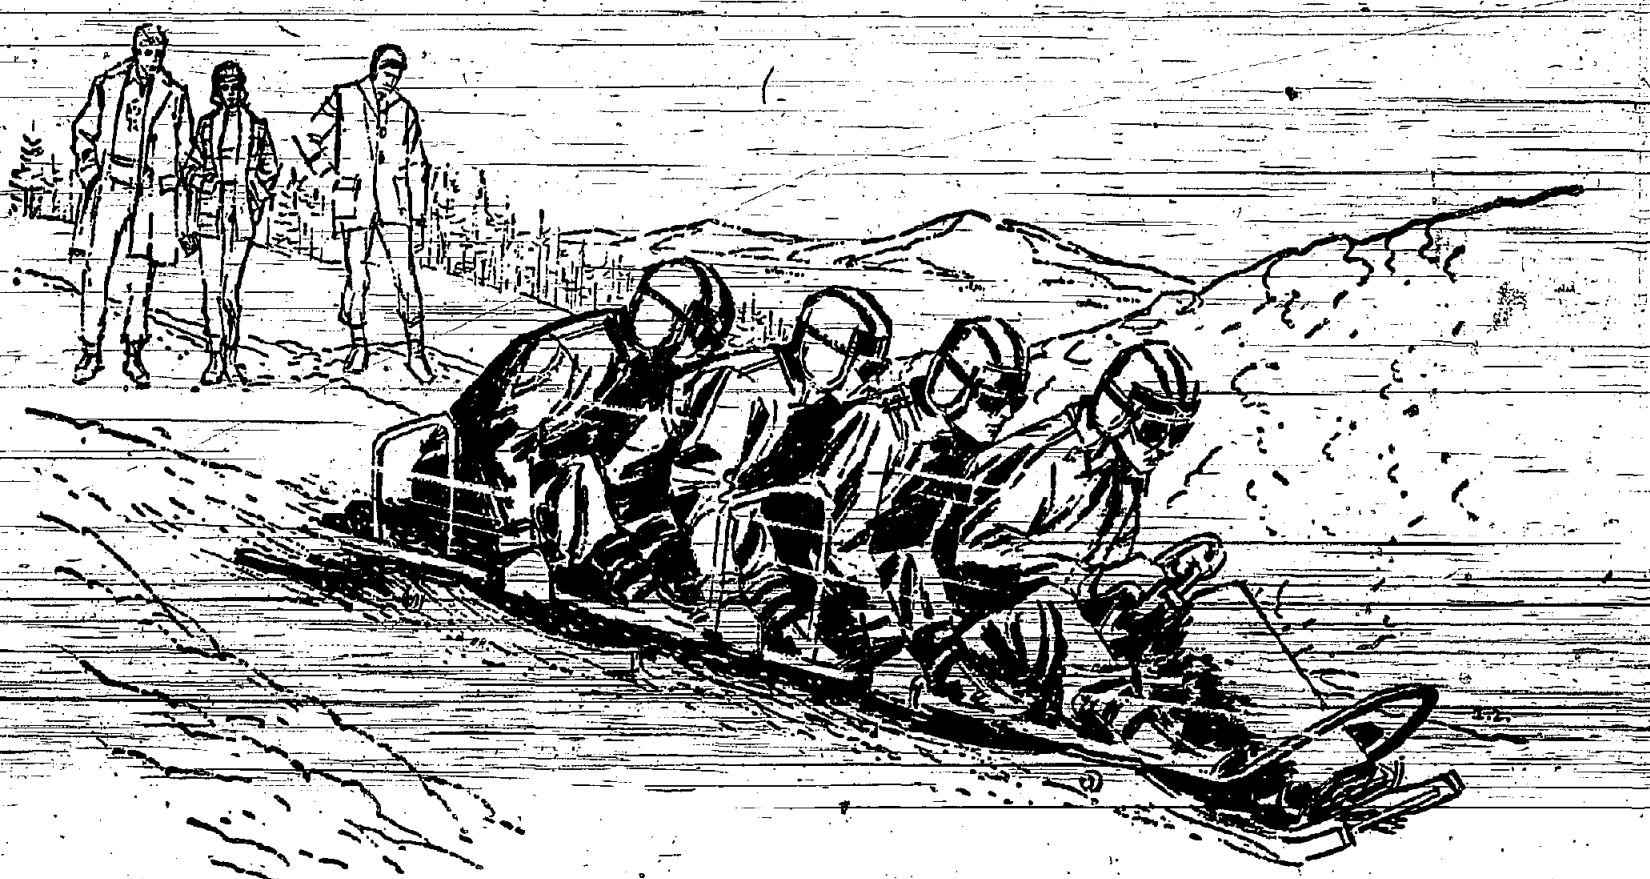

- All dogs which have attained the age of seven (7) months, or which possess a set of permanent teeth must be licensed during the month of January each year.
- Dogs CANNOT RUN AT LARGE IN NEW JERSEY. They constitute a menace to public health and property, are liable to serious injury or death and quite often cause serious traffic accidents.
- You are liable for any damage your dog does to a neighbor's property.
- If your dog bites someone report it at once to your Police Department and keep your dog under strict quarantine for ten (10) days.
- Walk your dog on a leash or give him a fenced in play area on your own property.
- If he is an "outside" dog State Law provides that he must be given a good weather proof dog house and plenty of water. A chain attached to a long wire must be provided for adequate exercise.
- Fasten your dog's license securely to his collar. It is the only way he can be identified.
- OWNERS OF DOGS FOUND RUNNING AT LARGE WILL BE GIVEN A SUMMONS!

The program of dog control known as The Regional Animal Control Program, in which your town participates is designed to protect both dog owners and non-dog owners alike. In addition it protects your animal from theft, injury and from damaging a neighbor's property. It further prevents the spread of infectious diseases among our canine friends.

So, be a good citizen, license and control your dog. He deserves this protection.

If he becomes lost or you know of cases where dog owners are not meeting the legal requirements or humane standards outlined above, NOTIFY US AT ONCE.

SCORE TWO FOR BULLDOGS—Bill Benner, high Plainfield's Buster Edwards, Tony Della (32) gets rebound of the Regional Bulldog basketball team, set for the rebound. Regional upset Plainfield by a jump shot over the outstretched arm of 51-49 score.

Regional Cagers Upset Plainfield 51-49; Then Succumb To Linden By 101-74 Score

by KEN KROWNE

On Friday evening, January 10, the Bulldogs of Regional got revenge on a strong Plainfield squad that had beaten them only one month earlier. This was definitely a team effort. Not only on the part of the players, but also by the spirit showed by the boys on the bench and the fans in the stands.

The contest was an unusually well-played and hard-fought one. Unfortunately for Regional, one of their big rebounders was involved in a skirmish and was given the hook for the rest of the game. Off the bench came a sophomore, Bill Franklin, who held his own under heavy pressure, thereby allowing Regional to keep its slim lead and finally emerge the victors. High in the scoring column were Bill Benner, Ed Reese, Don Carpenter and Warren Watkins. Outstanding for Plainfield was John Schragar with 21 points. Tuesday, January 14, the Bulldogs faced one of the strongest teams in the county. This team also featured one of the hottest

Al Bell's 27 Pts. Leads Team To Win

Al Bell sparked the Globetrotters to a 46-39 win over the Hawks Tuesday evening at the Gaudinier gym in a Youth League game. He scored twenty seven points in a one-man scoring rampage. Vin Caprio scored ten points, with Eddie Schnell four. The scoring was evenly distributed for the Hawks, with Lesser, Baker, Francis and Sorrenti the point-makers. The Hawks will continue play tonight, with the Royals battling with the Warriors game time 7:30 p.m.

Director of League Edward Ruby will make changes in the official league rosters after tonight's program, giving strength to the bottom place club. The Youth Basketball program is open to all boys who are residents of Springfield, regardless of what school they attend.

SUNNING SPORTS

By MIKE GOODMAN

Have you ever wondered why certain schools almost always produce state championship wrestling teams? The answer lies in the emphasis put on the sport on the lower levels by the various communities. One town starts giving instruction and training to youngsters in the fifth grade of grammar school. The training becomes more intense and the instruction more personalized as the youngster enters high school. There a budding wrestler has the chance to join the Frosh wrestling squad, then graduate to the JV squad and if he is good enough to make the esteemed Varsity.

This type of groundwork has no peers in making state champion outfits as the results well show and Coach Herbert Palmer of the Bulldog matmen has instituted much the same system at Jonathan Dayton. This is Coach Palmer's third year at Regional and second as Head Wrestling Coach and the results of his experiment will bear watching in the next few years. Last year, he formalized a Junior Varsity team and this year he added a Frosh squad to his wrestling "groundwork."

The Junior Varsity is undefeated so far this season with two Springfield students stick-outs on the team. Ted Siles at 140 pounds and Jeff Manuel at 147 are the two aggressive Springfieldites. The strength of the JVs will soon be known as these junior-grade Bulldogs grapple with the likes of Union, Somerville, and Bound Brook. The Frosh team has numerous matches scheduled with surrounding schools. They have wrestled Cranford and lost this match 21-19 but these baby Bulldogs have terrific potentialities. The squad has twenty able-bodied operatives and all will see some action as the campaign ensues.

SUN SPOTS—Surprising soph Ed Reese has been averaging 8 points a ball game... First round of Intramural Basketball Tournament has been completed... Bill Benner remains top scorer for Bulldogs... Coach Mike Suchena of the football Bulldogs hopes that the new rule governing conversion attempts in collegiate circles will be adopted by high schools... Foul shooting contest scheduled for students of Regional in February.

Drexel Still Hot In Sports League

Drexel Cleaners continued their hot streak last Wednesday at the Springfield Bowling Alleys by taking two games from Stereo Sound Corp.

Drexel has slowly been closing in on the Sports League leaders, Conte's Delicatessen for the last two months. The Cleaner-bowlers have been rolling most of their games in the 900's with all round fine team bowling.

Conte's lead has been cut to four games by the onrushing Drexel team. Last week the Delicatessen lost 2 games to Springfield Tree, Captain Dan Smoyanek led the Springfield men with a 221 and Ayres had a 210.

Lynn Decorators took 2 games from P.B.A. to move into a third place tie with them and Springfield house-J. Weber and Burdett had good games for Lynn's.

4 Small-Fry Games Show Good Showing

The Springfield Recreation Small-Fry Basketball League opened play last Saturday afternoon at the Florence Graded School gym, with four games played. The Knicks opened the program by posting a 31-16 win over the Celtics, with Jimmy Lies and Fred Brown the standout players for the winners. Inamorata scored all but five of the sixteen points posted by the Celtics. The Aggies showed considerable power in trimming the Pistons 38-24, with Bonilewski the top point maker for the Aggies. Baker, Schrieber and Hanson played exceptionally well for the Pistons.

The Bulls trimmed the Billkens 30-17, with Butchie Bell and Bobby George the top point makers for the Bulls. Johnny Appar showed to advantage defensively by intercepting several Bull passes, as well as doing a grand job setting up several scores by his teammates. The Lakers opened their 1958 campaign by posting a win over the Nats. The score 27-19 Pete Coan, Al Buck and Falkin were the top point makers for the winners with Pomerantz and Uebelin showing to advantage for the losers.

FORGET ABOUT WINTER STORMS

Sudden drenching showers driven by strong winds will knock down clothespoles, rip clothes off the line or set them dragging on the wet ground. This is hard on the clothes and hard on the homemaker. No wonder the automatic clothes dryer is so popular. Forget about the weather, forget about the time. You can dry clothes any day, and at any hour. Clothes are handled gently and quickly in the dryer. They are easy to iron and some articles will need no ironing.

See automatic clothes dryers at Public Service stores or at your local dealer's.

QUESTION: I worked steadily for ten years under social security, then went to work under Federal Civil Service. I worked at that job for five years and became disabled...

Does the ten years of work under social security make me permanently insured for social security disability benefits at age 50?

ANSWER: No, Even though you may have worked five out of the ten years before your disability began, you do not meet the additional requirement of having worked on a job covered by social security for at least one one-half year during the three-year period prior to your disability.

QUESTION: Five years ago my husband and I adopted a child who was not related to us in any way. Recently someone told me that in the event my husband died before this child reached age 18 the child would not be able to draw social security payments on my husband's record because he is not his natural child...

ANSWER: No. A legally adopted child may become entitled to monthly social security payments based on the adopting father's earnings record...
