TOWNSHIP OF SPRINGFIELD

50 CENTS PER COPY BY THE YEAR

THIS WEEK

LOOKING INTO THE FUTURE

Township Committeeman Raymond W. Forbes is not a Republican candidate for re-election this year—which is Springfield's loss. Mr. Forbes has good and valid reasons not to make himself available as the Republican candidate this year and no one questions his right to retire from the political arena.

However, he is still a dedicated town official and intends to carry out pledges made during his term in office as a member of the governing body. One of the first on the agenda is EXTENDING MOUNTAIN AVENUE ACROSS MORRIS FOR A MUNICIPAL PARKING LOT.

Mr. Forbes wants the Township to negotiate for the purchase of the T. J. Hague property which is now the dead-end for Mountain Avenue at Morris.

"It is practical for a growing community like Springfield to look into the future," says Mr. Forbes, "and plans should be made right now for expansion and off-street parking needs.

"This could also be the salvation for business on the north side of Morris avenue and I personally believe Springfield owes it to Springfield in general and the merchants in particular to carry out this far-sighted program."

We agree with Mr. Forbes. Something must be done to help business on the north side of Morris avenue which now suffers because of the metered and "no parking at all" regulations. This project which Mr. Forbes has been trying "to sell" the other members of the governing body is important.

What good reason is there for delaying it?

HELP YOUR RED CROSS

Springfield will be asked to give more money to the Red Cross this week than any time in the past. A major reason for this is the expanding local functions of the Red Cross. This week's SUN carries reports on five of the chapter's local functions—all of them seem worthy of hearty support.

The big reason for the added appeal by the American Red Cross is that its national reserves have been wiped out by the great disasters that have buffeted the country during the past two years. Now it is faced with the gargantuan task of maintaining and even expanding its varied humanitarian services and at the same time rebuilding these reserves, which will be needed in the event of any great national calamity.

It is important that each one of us recognizes our responsibility in helping the Red Cross toward its 1958 membership and fund goal. Through its blood program, disaster, armed forces, veterans, first aid, water safety, school and other services it probably plays a more important role in the lives of more Americans than any other non-governmental agency.

If a disaster should strike this community, the Red Cross would be here. When blood is needed to save a life, the Red Cross is here. When adults and youngsters want to acquire the skills of swimming, life saving, small craft handling, home nursing and mother and baby care, the Red Cross is here. And when our sons or husbands in the armed forces need help, the Red Cross is there.

The point that should be emphasized here is that we make these free services possible. We are the Red Cross—every one of us—and it is to our advantage and to our community's advantage that we keep the Red Cross strong and on the job for us.

WHAT SPRINGFIELD DOESN'T NEED

What Springfield needs least is another gas service station. But members of the Board of Adjustment are holding a public hearing this evening to hear arguments for or against a permit to install another filling station in the Township.

This one is out on Dundar Road and Route 22 which certainly won't help the traffic problems on the congested highway. Even though another gas station won't seriously affect the aesthetic values of Route 22, we hardly can accept one single argument in favor of granting a permit except that it will help complete a real estate deal.

Members of the Board of Adjustment are sincerely concerned with relieving some of the traffic jam pressure on Route 22. They couldn't possibly permit a gas station to add to the ingress and egress difficulties. Especially when they rejected a request by the Davaga organization to permit use of their own enlarged parking area, giving shoppers more room, more fluidity and better facilities for getting in and out of the parking lot.

THE MAN (AND WOMAN) OF THE WEEK

This item doesn't come under the category of any serious observation but it does recapture some of that evaporating faith in human nature.

The first paragraph concerns the woman—and we hope we will be forgiven if we mention names.

The editor of the Springfield Sun climbed into his brand new Impala Chevrolet the other day which had been parked in Center Street. As he drove away he noticed a piece of note paper tucked carefully under the windshield wiper. Since it didn't have the same dimensions as a parking violation ticket, he waited until he arrived at his destination before reading it.

It read: "Dear Sir: I'm sorry. In backing out of the gas station, my car skidded slightly and struck your car. We carry insurance, etc., etc." It was signed Mrs. M. Bidelman of 122 Mapes Avenue, Springfield.

Any kind of damage to a brand new car is practically a tragedy but this note from a lady who could have driven off—as most people do—without fear of discovery, is heartwarming and worth printing.

The other concerns the man—in this case, George Reyner, proprietor of the G & L Delicatessen in the General Greene Shopping Center.

A delicatessen store seldom gives the proprietor time to read the newspapers or anything, for that matter, during business hours and Reyner happened to be especially busy when a shopper asked for change to make a telephone call. Without meaning to eavesdrop Reyner heard the woman shopper attempt to locate her husband to inform him that "the car wouldn't start."

Reyner asked the shopper to wait until he completed packing an order for a customer and volunteered to help get the car started. It was one of the cold, bitter days and Reyner proved he knew as much about the mechanical

Mr. Layng will speak on the tax situation here in Springfield. Although this is an Association meeting, all of the public is invited to attend.

An announcement has been made through the membership chairman that the annual fund drive and collection of dues are hitting a new high this year, and a record membership enrollment is anticipated.

First Scrap Paper Drive To Be Held This Sunday

This month's scrap paper drive will be held next Sunday, March 2nd, with the local American Legion volunteers doing the job as usual.

All bundles of paper should be securely tied and placed at the curb in time for the collecting at 10:30 a.m.

Map Discloses Several Vacant Lots For Schools

Publication of an article in last week's Springfield Sun concerning the problems facing the local Board of Education in finding sites for an expanding school program has aroused considerable interest throughout the Township.

Last week's story stated that representatives from the Board of Education had been attempting to negotiate for the purchase of part of the Smith farm in Millburn, located as it is at the extreme edge of the Township would not be the proper site for construction of a new school.

As the matter now stands the School Board has asked the Parent Teachers Association in Springfield to make a survey and report the results to the school authorities as a guide for the land needed for expansion.

Several fine pieces of property are available for new schools, according to one well informed local resident. This informant does not care to have his name disclosed but he offers the suggestion that the school board, by negotiation or condemnation, if there was a great need, could acquire the necessary property for any expansion program.

There is a great deal of land located in the rear of the Walton School," he said, "now the property of the Board of Education which might be used for this expansion program. Another fine piece of property which would be ideal for new schools is the 19 acres just opposite the Baltusrol Golf Club on Shunpike Road. This is the property where Daystrom wanted to construct its executive offices.

There have been reports that the property has been sold for development of residences but the Board of Education might be able to procure this very desirable land

Entertainers for the evening will be a talented group from the Drama Department who will present a comedy, "Florence Unlimited."

The author, Fred Carmichael, portrays this humorous story about one man and many women: When the local newspaper gossip column printed that Lindsay Laughton, a gay dog, bachelor, lecturer and woman's club speaker, was seriously ill and while in a semi-conscious state said one-half of my estate will go to "Florence—my inspiration." It didn't take long for Florences to appear in unlimited numbers. First the southern belle, "Florence" portrayed by MRS. ROBERT BRIGGS. Jewel, the burlesque queen played by MRS. NORMAN LA BOUF. The spectre of the new Route 22, which will bisect Springfield, came more clearly into focus this week with several unofficial statements from engineers and officials. They are:

- (1) The highway will be elevated.
- (2) It will require a 300 foot right-of-way.
- (3) Officials are abandoning an alternate route.
- (4) State engineers are working in Springfield right now.
- (5) Location of exits will be up to township officials.
- (6) Final approval will be asked of local officials by April 1.

All this adds up to a pretty clear picture of where the highway, Interstate Route 102, will go. The large aerial maps of Springfield recently acquired by the township committee shows an even stronger light on the probable route of the eight lane highway.

The determining factor appears to be the long strip of Union County Park property which parallels Bryant Avenue. The earliest "hard brush stroke" maps indicated that the highway would move up this undeveloped property.

Favor Old Route Despite extensive work by township engineers, the Theodore McCroskey engineering consulting firm, and township officials, they have failed to find an alternate route in Springfield that would do less damage in the amount of rables than one that follows the park.

It was learned this week that engineers find no possibility for swinging the highway through Millburn. The need to cross Millburn Avenue several times, weave around the high school and put considerable additional mileage on the highway seem to knock out the alternate plan.

Once the highway leaves the park property going east, its route seems dictated by the need to squeeze between the Presbyterian Parish House on Main Street and the Presbyterian Cemetery in Millburn. The highway can accomplish this by running a perfectly straight line.

The revelation several weeks ago that officials in Trenton had decided to cut through the mountain behind Troy Village rather than swing around the mountain completes the picture. By all indications the highway will enter Springfield through the Quarry Co. buildings and head absolutely

Speaker, Snowed Out, To Try Again

The general meeting which had been snowed out on Feb. 17 will be held instead on March 3 at 8:15 at the Raymond Chisholm School. The topic for the evening, "Disappearance at Home and at School," is one that should be of great interest to both parents and teachers.

The speaker for the evening, Dr. Nelson G. Hanawalt, is Professor of Psychology and Chairman of the Department of Philosophy and Psychology at Douglass College, where he has been on the faculty since 1935. He has been, in addition to several other college teaching positions, the principal of a grade-school as well as a high school teacher. During the war he spent two and a half years as a psychologist with the Medical Service Corps and is a member of several Psychological Associations. In addition Dr. Hanawalt is a father himself so that he will be able to present several points of view. A question and answer period will follow the talk, and refreshments will be served.

A Candy Sale, under the Chairmanship of Mrs. Robert Shaw, will be held at the conclusion of the meeting. Assorted candies, including Easter eggs, will be available for the benefit of the P.T.A.

Democrats Meet

The Democratic County Committee of Springfield held its regular meeting on Thursday, February 19, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Keane.

Decide Tonight On Another Gas Station Here

With 25 gas stations already operating in Springfield, the Board of Adjustment is scheduled to consider the application for another installation at a continued hearing to be held in the Municipal Building this evening.

The application for Special Exception Use asks for permission to construct a gas filling station for the Regal Oil Company at Dundar Road and Route 22. The application was filed in behalf of the oil company by the owners of the property, Morris and Pauline Baker of Cranford.

The public hearing tonight is expected to produce some interesting discussion since it is understood that a majority of the governing body is opposed to issuing any more permits for filling stations in Springfield.

Recommendation by the Board of Adjustment to permit a gas service station at the corner of Morris and Mountain avenues was rejected by the Township Committee. Owners of the property took the matter to court but a decision was not reached until the Township Committee to disapprove the recommendation of the Board of Adjustment.

The Township Committee rejected another recommendation of the Adjustment Board at the last meeting when it turned down a variance in the zoning ordinance which would have permitted the construction of a road stand on South Springfield avenue, in front of the Newbrook development.

Three other applications for variances in the zoning code will also be heard at tonight's meeting.

Forbes To Push For Extending Mountain Ave.

Morris Avenue merchants, faced with the old problem of "no parking" regulations and now confronted with the new menace of the creeping recession, are going to do something about it.

First, they have asked Township Committeeman Raymond W. Forbes to renew his plan which calls for extending Mountain Avenue across Morris to open up a free city parking area with room enough for nearly 100 cars.

Mr. Forbes, who has been nursing this idea of giving shoppers a free parking lot in the rear of the north side of Morris avenue, says he will now vigorously urge the Township Committee to go along with his plan.

"I believe this is the most important and important thing the Township of Springfield can do to help business on Morris avenue," said Mr. Forbes. "Other municipalities have been forced to set up Parking Authorities with power to condemn property at exorbitant prices in order to provide more off street parking. Here in Springfield, all the Township would have to do is to purchase a piece of property which is now a dead end extending back into a vacant lot about 300 feet.

"The Township could make room for nearly 100 cars on this property with easy ingress and egress since there is already a traffic light at the corner of Morris and Mountain avenues.

"Morris avenue merchants, with an invitation to all shoppers to park their cars within a few steps of their stores, can visualize what it would mean to business in this area and, already, most of them have visions of recapturing a great deal of what now appears to be a hopeless fight. I want to help Morris avenue business men and this off street parking lot is the most logical move Springfield can make to improve business—to save business and Morris avenue."

Mr. Forbes hasn't been able to arouse much enthusiasm among the other members of the governing body but he plans to present the matter before the Township Committee at an early date.

The plan is to purchase the property which would extend

Three hundred Springfield residents will begin calling on their friends and neighbors Saturday, March 1, to collect money for the 1958 Red Cross drive.

The goal in Springfield is higher than ever with citizens being asked to contribute $6,517 to the local chapter and the national fund. This is 39% greater than the 1957 quota of $4,700.

Local fund chairman, Harold C. Oakman, must raise the extra money through new memberships and larger contributions. He has sent letters to all residents stating the appeal. Raymond R. Kravetz, business chairman, has made a similar appeal to business, industrial, and professional people in Springfield.

The Red Cross in Springfield, one of 3,700 chapters in the nation, maintains a Disaster Committee, a Motor Service Corps, a Water Safety Program, a Home Service Committee, and an active Junior Red Cross program.

The American Red Cross is launching a long range operation to rebuild its disaster reserves. Over a million volunteers throughout America will ring door bells to raise the national quota of $85 million.

Nationwide, last year, the Red Cross had 298 disaster operations. These catastrophes killed 871 persons and injured 8,850. 19,900 homes were destroyed and another 131,000 homes damaged. Disaster expenses provided emergency care for 311,000 persons.

Oakman said that over $17 million was spent last year on the disaster expenses.

He pointed out that Red Cross annually spends some $35,000,000 over a third of its budget to help servicemen, veterans and their dependents when problems disrupt normal living, and to provide needed funds or communications when emergencies arise.

$14 Million on Blood The Red Cross, he continued, spends another $14,000,000 annually to pay the costs of its Blood Program which provides life-saving whole blood and blood.

Five Red Cross Programs Aid Local Citizens

While a large part of the American Red Cross program is the handling of national disaster programs, much of the money collected in Springfield during the 1958 drive this week will go toward the active local program.

Reports have been prepared on five of the most important local functions of Red Cross by their chairmen. Following is a capsule review of those reports:

Motor Service

Mrs. Charles Beardsley, 163 Tooker avenue, has reported that last year the Red Cross Motor Service in Springfield covered 1,833 miles, and 183 hours were used in carrying out assignments such as transporting patients to multiple-sclerosis, cerebral palsy, and polio clinics, as well as to hospitals and doctors' offices for treatment.

Personnel was transported to chapter meetings in adjoining areas. Favors made by the Junior Red Cross were delivered to Veterans Hospitals. The Chapter was alerted to several Civilian Defense incidents and a pool of

Patrolmen Nab 3 In Gem Shoe Theft

The 19 year-old youth who police said helped burglarize Springfield's Gem Shoe Store in Route 22, Sunday was released by Magistrate Henry C. McMullen in $5,000 bail Monday. He is scheduled to appear in court March 22.

Walter J. Nimmick, 17, of 24 Kaufman Street Little Ferry, and two Jersey City youths, one 16 and the other 17, had loaded a batch of shoes into a car when apprehended by Patrolmen John Wentz and Harold Seales. Police said the trio admitted breaking into the Gem store on Jan. 20 and taking 108 pairs of shoes and about $1,500.

Springfield police chief Albert Sarge commended patrolmen Wentz and Seales for apprehending the trio. He said the police department has been working hard on the case for the past several weeks. Wentz and Seales broke the case at 2:35 a.m. Sunday when they caught the three youths loading their car.

The patrolmen said the boys had already taken 50 pairs of shoes, 40 pairs of shoe laces and 10 boxes of shoe polish. A sum of $1,500 had been taken from the store's drink machine, police said.

Patrolmen Wentz and Seales also found 25 pounds of frankfurters and half a ham in the car. They said the youths told them this was taken from a highway restaurant in North Plainfield.

Two more Jersey City youths were picked up Tuesday by Springfield police in connection with the thefts.

William McCormick, 18, of 76 Van Wagenen avenue, Jersey City, and Michael Laciadina, 18, 7 Grey St., Jersey City, were ordered held for the grand jury by Magistrate Henry C. McMullen Tuesday when arraigned in Municipal Court on charges of breaking, entering and larceny.

McCormick and Laciadina were charged with breaking, entering and larceny at the Gem Shoe Store, Route 22, Jan. 22 and Feb. 4 and with a similar charge at the Howard Johnson Restaurant, Route 22.

Police said Laciadina was a juvenile when the alleged offenses were committed, having observed his 18th birthday anniversary Feb. 17.

What George Reyner did was not part of the service but it comes under the heading of good public relations and it never hurts even though we don't expect merchants to rush out to help all damsels in distress who can't start their cars.

WE HAVE TO "LEARN" THEM GOOD ENGLISH
Has the large amount of free publicity recently given the cigarette that "tastes good like a cigarette" provided our Madison Avenue boys with a pulsating new slogan: "Bad Grammar Sells"?

The idea seems to be to think up something ungrammatical enough to get the purists and editorial writers into action. So we're being told that a soft drink "goes good with food." And our peanut butter set know that the latest virtue of their favorite brand is that "it spreads so easy." We don't have an up-to-date sales report on the '58 model car that reportedly "obsoletes" all other '58 models, but we bet the figures are way up there.

For the beer copywriters, who seem to be stuck in a deep adjectival mire and have been weakly plying us with "real beer" slogans for months, we offer the following triumph by James Thurber, and dare the most enterprising to run it up the flagpole:

We Still Brew Good—
Like We used to Could!
We bet the public—and the editorial writers—will salute it like crazy. Richmond (Va.) Times-Dispatch

Beardsley Loses Election Post After Only One Term

Charles F. Beardsley, Republican chairman in Springfield, lost his job Tuesday night as member of the Union County Board of Elections—a post he held for only a single term. Carl A. Velbinger of Roselle Park won approval for appointment to the $3,000 a year job.

Beardsley, rewarded for his many years of work for the Republican organization, with a political appointment. The job is for a two year term and Beardsley's friends and supporters hoped to have him renamed, at least, for one more term.

The action came after the county executive committee, meeting at the Winfield Scott Hotel, recommended that the position be rotated among party workers after each two-year term.

The committee suggestion, approved by an 18-10 vote after considerable discussion, assured the rejection of Beardsley for a second two-year term on the elections board. He lost to Velbinger in a vote that followed by a count of 15-11.

Velbinger formally was nominated after the session by Col. Francis V. Lawden, county chairman, and three others who have appointive power. Mrs. Bette Arthur, vice-chairwoman, and H. Emerson Thomas and Mrs. Helen M. Glaeser, State Republican Committee delegates.

The limitation on patronage appointments was set only on the election board jobs.

An attempt to steer discussion into a general restriction on all patronage was lost in the argument over the vote body situation.

The definition of a patronage policy on the election board job stemmed mainly from the new feeling among Republicans that appointments should be more widely distributed. There was opposition to it from several quarters.

Mrs. Amy Sandomer of Springfield and Edward A. Rosset of Elizabeth, Beardsley backers, led the attack on the limitation resolution.

Mrs. Glaeser denounced the entire voting procedure on the nomination, claiming she and the others with powers of appointment were not bound by it.

She later was won over, however, and voted along with the other three officials to approve the Velbinger nomination. There was no indication she favored either Velbinger or Beardsley prior to the executive committee vote.

The recommendation to limit election board appointments to one term was introduced by Kenneth Mair of Plainfield. It followed queries by Mayor Jay Stemmer of Clark and John Mackenzie of Westfield on the "future patronage policy."

Stemmer and Mackenzie are members of a patronage committee appointed several years ago.

Mrs. Seligman Is Dead At 69 Years

Mrs. Gertrude Berman Seligman of 530 Ashwood road died in Beth Israel Hospital, Newark, last week of a heart ailment. She was 69.

Mrs. Seligman was born in Trenton and lived 23 years in Newark before moving to Springfield 20 years ago. She was the widow of Jacob Seligman. She was a member of Temple Beth Ahm and the Springfield Hadassah.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Deborah Braun of Springfield, and a brother, Jacob Berman of Trenton.

Services were Monday, Feb. 24 at the Goldsticker Memorial Home, Newark. Interment was in Mount Lebanon Cemetery, Iselin, N.J.

Mr. Benjamin F. Newslinger, Chairman of the Springfield Junior Red Cross, has reported that the membership drives have been completed in all five schools, and enrollment is as follows:

James Caldwell—Number of pupils enrolled is 379, and amount contributed during drive, $51.46.

Raymond Chisholm—Number of pupils enrolled is 323, and amount contributed during drive, $60.77.

Florence M. Gaudineer—Number of pupils enrolled is 328, and amount contributed during drive, $72.43.

Edward J. Walton—Number of pupils enrolled is 410, and amount contributed during drive, $59.00.

Jonathan Dayton Regional High—Number of pupils enrolled is 1,294, and amount contributed during drive is $190.19.

For all five schools the total enrollment is 2,934 and the total amount is $433.85.

A check for $50.00 will be sent again this year to the National Children's Fund.

Favors for Lyons Hospital and filled nut cups were made for Halloween, Thanksgiving, and Christmas. The students also filled twelve Thanksgiving baskets for needy families.

Defense Welfare

The Springfield Red Cross Chapter has the responsibility of the comprehensive planning of the Defense Welfare Services in our town. The Vice-Chairman of the local Red Cross Board, Mrs. Edwin G. Davenport, serves as Welfare Chairman on the staff of the local Civil Defense and Disaster Control Organization.

Highway Shapes

To Be Built Up
A local official reports that conversations, with State engineers confirm that the highway will be raised throughout Springfield. He says the plans are to landscape the slopes on both sides of the roadway "much like portions of the Garden State Parkway."

This same official said this week that the 300-foot right-of-way includes the areas on both sides to be landscaped.

Reports indicate that township officials are being given considerable leeway in selecting the places for exits and entrances to the superhighway—Mayor Albert G. Binder and the members of the Township Committee will be asked about local traffic problems, ratable damage, and aesthetic considerations.

What was not generally known was the speed with which decisions must be made. State officials want to meet with the committee men, and locally hired engineers, within the next month to firm up plans.

Water Safety

Mrs. Thomas Doherty, 34 Washington street, as Chairwoman, has reported for the American Red Cross Water Safety program for the children in Springfield during the year 1957.

228 children registered in the combined swimming program with recreation, and 129 were instructed in swimming. A total of 77 passed tests as follows: 23 children in the 25' test, 43 in the Beginner classes, 9 Intermediate and 2 Swimmers.

Certificates were issued for the Baltusrol Swim Club during last summer, as follows: Beginner 44, Intermediate 35, Swimmer 35, Junior Life Saving 6, Senior Life Saving 10, and Advanced Swimmer 2.

The instructors who examined and passed the 147 children were Eynelis Civillo, Alan Rothleder, Anita Taylor and June Worthington.

Home Service

Mrs. Harry T. Quinzel of 13 South Trivet street, Chairman of the Home-Service program in Springfield of the American Red Cross, has reported that assistance has been given to numerous families of service men. This assistance has consisted of service and counseling to family members in periods of hardship due to illness and injuries. Many investigations were made to verify need for emergency leave as well as health and welfare reports of both service men and members of service men's families.

Mrs. Georgia McMullen, local resident at 417 Pieter avenue, has aided in many of the investigations.

As all cases are confidential only general information will be given in this report.

lar plan will be instituted at this school.

Rabbi Reuben Levine has indicated his willingness to cooperate fully in regard to the Hebrew School at Temple Beth Ahm.

The Welfare Service job undertaken by Red Cross is a tremendous one. It is done by volunteers who are duly registered Civil Defense workers in the community.

fluid traffic in and out of the lot.

SHOULD MOVE NOW
Mr. Forbes believes the Township is not very farsighted in hesitating about purchasing this property for off street parking purposes. Other communities, he said, were forced to purchase properties at high prices and then raise the building to make room for the much needed parking facilities.

The Hague property lends itself to the plan is that it is in direct line with Mountain avenue and all of the land for sale is vacant.

"And I am confident," stated Mr. Forbes, "that the money to purchase the property can be found without affecting our present budget commitments. Springfield should look into the future. Like every other town we should plan ahead—and off street parking has been the problem of every community."

"That side of Morris avenue—the north side—needs off street parking to keep those merchants in business. That will be the only way Morris avenue will be able to meet the competition of the big fellows, with their enormous parking lots. Springfield should help and making this parking lot available is the first step.

Mrs. Bandomer Is Given Job By GOP

Mrs. Amy Bandomer, known as "Mrs. Republican" in Springfield, and one of the hardest workers in the Union County political arena, has been named Assistant to Superintendent of Public Works Edward Buesel at the Court House in Elizabeth. It was announced yesterday.

Mrs. Bandomer has already assumed her duties at the Court House following her appointment to that office by the Board of Freeholders.

Some criticism has been aimed at both Democratic and Republican political leaders for by-passing and ignoring Springfield in the dispensing of patronage and the naming of Mrs. Bandomer has been interpreted as an answer to that criticism.

Friends of Mrs. Bandomer throughout Springfield and the entire county believe that she is entitled to better recognition because of her efforts throughout the years in behalf of the Republican organization. Top county leaders have something else in mind for Mrs. Bandomer but that appointment they say, must wait for the time being.

Mrs. Bandomer's experience in politics and her work in Union County as a member of the Republican Executive Committee places her in line for appointment to another very acceptable position and, according to the reports from leaders, she will get that position as soon as it is available.

In the meantime Mrs. Bandomer is devoting full-time to her work at the Court House and is already reorganizing the duties so as to bring more efficiency to the job.

Another large portion of the Red Cross budget, he explained, goes for emergency relief and long-term rehabilitation aid to disaster-stricken families. In the past two years, when the country was hit by an unprecedented series of floods, tornadoes and hurricanes, the Red Cross spent about $51,000,000 for this purpose, completely exhausting all disaster reserves and cutting deeply into the organization's general funds.

New Sargent Job Leads Rte. 22 Building Boom

ANOTHER FINE RATABLE. Architect's drawing showing the new E. H. Sargent & Company manufacturing plant and executive offices now being constructed at the intersection of Commerce and Stern streets, one block off Route 22. Springfield Murray Construction Company is erecting the new building.

Industrial activity in Springfield will reach some kind of a record-peak in the next four or six weeks. Four industries will start operations in Route 22 as soon as construction work is completed, the largest of which is the E. H. Sargent & Co. plant at Commerce and Stern streets, a block off Route 22. This new building is being erected by the Murray Construction Company of Springfield at an estimated cost of $250,000. Murray Weil is head of the construction company. Other Route 22 industrial operations include the Durham Co. distributors of automotive parts with offices and warehouse at 20 Stern avenue. This firm is out of Massachusetts and will cost an approximate $150,000 to complete. The De-Vilbiss Co. of Toledo, with about 20,000 square feet for office and warehouse, will be in operation in a few weeks.

Another operation will be constructed for the Community Supply Company, dealers in plumbing and kitchen supplies, on the island near the Lido Diner.

ANOTHER BROWN JOB
Credit for bringing the Sargent organization to Springfield goes to Frank Brown, well known industrial real estate promoter, who is part of the Brown and Brown firm of Elizabeth, developers of industrial sites in Springfield. Associate real estate brokers in handling the deal with the Sargent company were Houston and Settle of Newark.

Architects for the Sargent building are D. S. Rotwein and Edwin Blake and according to the contractors it should be ready for occupancy by late spring. E. H. Sargent & Co., manufacturers and distributors scientific laboratory instruments, apparatus, supplies and chemicals, and the construction of a new plant in Springfield will house its eastern division. This was announced by T. M. Mints, president of the 106 year-old Chicago firm. Mr. Mints stated that the high concentration of scientists in the middle Atlantic states represents a center of scientific research and advancement which is constantly expanding. E. H. Sargent & Co. through this new eastern division can better service this market by providing the equipment for these scientists from a distribution center in their area.

The new eastern division will be located one block off U.S. Highway 22 at the intersection of Commerce and Stern streets in Springfield. The plant is thirty minutes from downtown Manhattan. The 37,000 square foot building will be of the most modern type, made of steel and masonry construction. It will house the combined eastern sales and distributing facilities and will also include an instrument repair department and a demonstration laboratory for the exhibition of new equipment and its evaluation by customers.

for the blowing, grinding, graduating and fabricating of scientific glassware will be included in the plant. E. H. Sargent & Co. recently acquired the 34 year old glass blowing concern of Otto R. Greiner of Newark, New Jersey. This glass company is well known for its excellent workmanship and will be moved to the new Sargent plant at the Springfield location. E. H. Sargent & Co. is one of the largest firms of its kind and specializes in the manufacture and distribution of scientific laboratory instrument and equipment. In addition to its factory and central headquarters in Chicago it has branches and sales offices in Detroit, Dallas, Birmingham, Washington, D.C., and Baton-Rouge. The company has played for years a leading part in developing and supplying the scientific world with fundamental equipment and conducts an extensive research and engineering program to provide chemists and other scientists with instruments for science and industry. Our sound engineers will be glad to visit your home and demonstrate to you what kind of equipment you need to achieve different levels of performance. We design outfits to suit low budgets as well as high budgets. But all of our component systems are engineered to produce genuinely high fidelity. Worship with them this week

Naturally you want them to have all the good things in life... a happy home... a good education... plenty of chances to meet other nice young people. But be sure to give them the most precious gift of all... Faith.

The wonderful part is that faith is yours to give... no matter who you are, what you do for a living, how much money you have in the bank.

Faith is the gift you give a little at a time. Every week you worship with the children at your church or synagogue. The youngsters see you... the biggest, smartest, most important people in their world... asking God for help, thanking Him for blessings. Then it's clear to them... here they can always find the strength they need, always find the happiness they want.

Then you've done the best a parent—any parent—can do.

Methodists Set Lenten Services

A special Lenten service, to be presented every Wednesday evening at 8:00 p.m. during Lent, has been arranged by Rev. Virgil E. Mabry, pastor of the Springfield Methodist Church for the official Lenten season.

The public is invited to attend and enjoy the music of this inspiring series of Lenten services which started February 19 and will continue through March 26.

Mr. John C. Hallett, Director of Music at Northeastern Bible Institute, Essex Fells, New Jersey, is known nationally in the field of sacred music and is a conductor of the school's Choral Ensemble and Festival Choir. He has radio and television experience and will be the song leader and choir director of this series of meetings.

Rev. William C. Lincoln, Academic Dean of Northeastern Bible Institute, is currently a board member of the Evangelical Union of South America and is serving on the Executive Committee of Child Evangelism Fellowship of Essex County. Dean Lincoln holds degree from Eastern Theological Seminary, University of Pennsylvania, Bible Seminary of New York City, also Montclair State Teachers College.

Rev. James Kallam, Dean of Men at Northeastern Bible Institute, head of the Bible Department of the school, is a choral and baritone vocalist. Rev. Kallam spoke at the second service and was so very well received, as was the girls' trio, an additional musical expression so suitable to the service.

The Northeastern Concert Choir and Festival Choir with their soloists will accompany the different speaker participating in the coming programs.

March 5—Rev. W. C. Lincoln, Concert Choir; Northeastern Male Quartet will sing.

March 12—Rev. Wesley Olson, speaker; The Chorale will sing; Felix Blomquist, student, soloist.

March 19—Rev. W. C. Lincoln, Concert Choir; Miss Doris Archer, student, soloist.

March 26—Rev. James Kallam, speaker and soloist; Festival Choir.

There are three to five apples to a pound. When cured and diced, you have three and a half cups. One pound of potatoes makes two cups of diced potatoes.

For many years the bulk of salt made in the United States was taken from the salt springs near Syracuse.

Lines Can Flatter

The Full Figure

Clothes for the full-figure or stylish stout can be becoming if chosen wisely. Correct clothes can also make this figure type look about ten pounds thinner, too, say Carolyn Yunkus, Associate Home Agent.

Even though styles change, the basic lines in styles remain the same. The full figure type needs to learn which lines are most becoming to her. Once learned, it should be used and reused to flat-

The full figure type looks best in vertical and diagonal lines. Straps, necks, darts, closings, pleats and drapes can be a vertical or diagonal. These details help carry the eye upward and give the illusion of height and thinness.

A horizontal line should be avoided if possible for the full figure. Contrasting belts, skirts and blouses, and short topers are examples of a horizontal line that draws the eye from side to side, thus adding width and cutting height. Although line can do a lot to flat-

must be given to the choice of material. Color and texture can emphasize line or destroy it. The full figured woman should avoid bulky fabrics such as tweeds and knits. Nor, should you choose shiny or very stiff fabrics like satin or taffeta. Bulky and shiny fabrics tend to enlarge or reflect the size of the figure.

Supple, soft fabrics that drape and hang gracefully are most flattering to the full figure. Even if a garment contains good line for your type of figure, if the material is bulky or shiny, it would be better to avoid it.

Your Handbag A Jungle? Try Frequent Weeding

"My that's heavy—don't you get tired carrying it around? I've often been asked. The reference is, of course, to my handbag. The jungle in a woman's bag is getting to be a standard joke, but maybe she needs to carry a lot of things, says Mrs. Mary Armstrong, Home Agent. You may be ready to admit with me that some of us are apt to put off a pocketbook clearing out too long. We've found ourselves guilty of carrying about such non-essentials as empty pill boxes, papers no longer needed, more than one lipstick, maybe too many pencils, or handkerchiefs, paper or otherwise. But haven't you also often found yourself without the charge-plate when you needed it, a pencil that writes to make a note at a meeting, a card or notebook filled in. If you do not have a driver's license give this information some other way. Include the name, address and phone number of some person to notify in case of illness or accident. The name of your doctor and hospital in case you have one, might be very useful in case of an emergency. You can also include a small photograph of yourself. This is especially useful if you are a frequent traveler. It is a good idea to include directions for general emergency treatment. Tea-V Techniques Aid Housewife

If you've ever had the experience of trying to balance a cup of tea and a saucer on one knee, and a plate of cake or cookies on the other while watching TV, you know how precarious your situation can be. According to the new "Tea-V" techniques, you can avoid this problem, and it won't be on any kind of cup. Simply apply tape (mystic, masking, adhesive or freezer-type) to the bottom of the cup and trim off the excess so that it doesn't show. Then—when you're ready to day at a time—serve, just fill the cup with tea, place it on the dessert plate and let your family or guests help themselves to cookies, etc. If you like to sip tea during the evening while watching TV, try making a tea concentrate and keeping the water hot in a separate pot or can. For example, if you want to serve 10-12 cups of tea during the evening, without dashing back and forth to the kitchen, you can make a concentrate. Twelve teabags or 4 cup loose tea. Cover. Brew 4 minutes (over-boiling will make tea taste bitter). Remove teabags or strain tea into a teapot. Fill a can with sufficient boiling water to make 10-12 cups of tea, and place it over a candle warmer or hot heat on an electric plate. When you're ready to serve, just pour a little tea concentrate into a cup—then fill with hot water. Add milk or lemon, and sugar to taste. There is one important factor to remember about a tea concentrate. The concentrate may turn milky-brown in color but neither the flavor nor quality will be affected. The tea concentrate will become crystal clear in the cup as soon as the hot water is added to it.

Fashion-Colors Bloom

Bold plaids and splashy florals in combinations of red, orange, yellow and pink are high fashion for 1958 resort and cruise wear, says Women's Wear Daily. Buttons the size of silver dollars are balanced by the new slim clothes and a vogue for—and very wide—neckline is fashionable with dresses with defined waistlines and full skirts. The knit swimsuit is in greater popularity than ever before and the bare-back look started last year—plunges below the waistline this year.

Neckline Fashions

Fashion interest often focuses on necklines this season. A favorite is the set-back neckline that develops into a cowl drape at the back. Wide standaway collars add important top width to the silhouette, achieved by high-placed pockets,

Pancakes Are Fun Fare

On Shrove-Tuesday, the day of feasting and fun before Lent starts, pancakes are traditionally served. You'll find these the lightest ever because beer goes into the batter as it did for centuries in England where they really know how to make pancakes! Serve tall glasses of cold beer as friends gather round the griddle to watch you prepare the pancakes and Quick-Newburg Sauce.

- Old English Pancakes
- 1 egg bottled or canned
 - 1/2 cup milk
 - 1/4 cup melted butter or margarine
 - 1 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 - 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
 - 2 tablespoons sugar
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt
- Pre-heat electric griddle as manufacturer directs. Beat egg, stir in beer, milk and melted butter. Sift together flour, baking powder, sugar and salt. Gradually stir in beer-egg mixture, stirring only until ingredients are blended. Pour batter from pitcher or drop from large spoon onto heated griddle into 4-inch wide pancakes. Bake. Turn pancakes when edges start to dry. Keep warm and serve with Quick-Newburg Sauce.
- YIELD: 4 servings.
- Quick-Newburg Sauce
- 1 cup undiluted condensed cream of mushroom soup
 - 1 cup cooked or canned lobster
 - 2 tablespoons diced pimiento
 - Toasted almonds
- Gradually stir milk into soup in saucepan. Add lobster and pimiento. Heat to serving temperature. To serve, spoon sauce over pancakes; garnish with toasted almonds.

Zero Storage Protects Food

There's a difference in flavor and texture of frozen foods, and storage temperature is one important factor in maintaining quality. Whether in the store or your own home, Mary W. Armstrong, Home Agent, points out the lower the temperature, the better the food.

The frozen food is retained. If you pay for top quality where you purchase packaged frozen foods, you surely want to keep it until you serve the food. Mrs. Irene Wolgamot, Extension Nutrition Specialist on our Rutgers University staff, all frozen foods should be kept at zero or colder. Recent research conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture illustrated this. Successive exposures to warm air, such as those resulting from opening the freezer door too often, add up to accumulated quality loss. Even though food feels solid, damage may be taking place at 15 to 25 degrees. For example, frozen peach slices kept well at zero, but browned in 50 days at 10 degrees, and in 24 hours at 30 degrees. Strawberries lost 95 percent of their vitamin C when held at 30 degrees for a month. Flavor changes at this temperature took place in 24 to 48 hours.

Frozen turkeys and chickens sometimes darkened when held at 20 to 25 degrees for only one to two weeks. Cut-up birds were more likely to be damaged than whole birds. Pre-cooked poultry proved more susceptible to quality loss than uncooked.

The first flavor change in cooked poultry is loss of the "freshly cooked" flavor. This is followed by staleness and eventually by rancidity. At 20 degrees, flavor changes are detectable in fried chicken within less than two weeks. Staleness or rancidity shows up within six weeks to three months. Mold was found on chicken pot pies held nine months at 20 degrees. Garvy, or sauce helps to protect meat and poultry against flavor changes.

Jewelry Matches Spring Costumes

Matching of jewelry and clothing fashions is a planned and pretty thing this season, reports the Fashion Coordination Institute. Color is big news, with jewelry matched to dresses and suits often in jewel tones such as clear emerald green, soft amethyst or turquoise or highlighting the predominant hues in beautiful prints. Another important role of colorful jewelry is as a complementary note for fashions in basic black, beige, gray or navy.

A new burnished finish for silver and gold gives a fresh look to tailored jewelry. Tiny, tailored jewelry collars are designed to fit the neck gently and provide a fill-in for the popular standaway collars of spring suits.

Necklaces go to new lengths, complementing the easy lines of fashion. Chains, beads, stones in elaborate or tailored settings, or brilliant, hang from twenty to twenty-six inches in the "new look" necklaces. Pendants are important.

Earrings, too, head downward giving emphasis to deep-crowned hats. Larger, round earrings balance spring's tall turbans.

Wider and bulkier is the theme for bracelets.

Pins have new importance, worn in clusters of three and four, or singly in big, bold, beautiful designs.

It is tempting merely to brush off a meat-cutting board after use. Although the board may look clean, it is safer to wash it thoroughly with hot soaps after each use. Meat particles embedded in the wood are a breeding ground for dangerous bacteria that can contaminate other meats as you prepare them.

Here She Is!

You Chose Barbara As February's 'Girl-About-Town' Barbara Letunic

By your votes (over 1,000 of them) 15-year-old Barbara Letunic has just won a unique beauty contest—one in which all the lovely contestants wear glasses.

Barbara is a freshman in Union High School. Her hobby is art in general and painting in particular. Perhaps it's her appreciation of the artistic that brings her to Towne Opticians. She knows that the right glasses can actually enhance charm. And she knows that it's easy to pick just the right glasses with the aid of Towne Opticians' experienced, imaginative eyewear stylists. She wants to look as well as she sees!

Barbara becomes the first of the monthly winners in the continuing 'Girl-About-Town' contest. The March contest will feature six more lovely young girls who wear glasses. The grand prize winner will be elected by you from among the monthly winners. Watch for next week's contest and vote for your favorite.

Big Doings on the Griddle

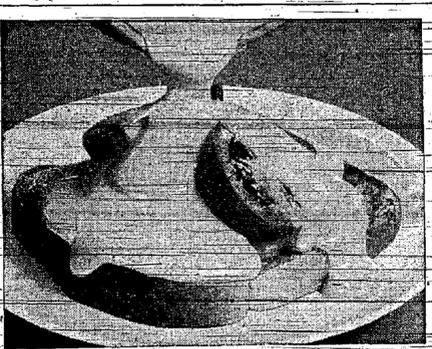

High, wide and so delicious! That's the way to have your pancakes. With the help of 40% bran flakes do them, up BIG; in fact double the size you generally make them. Layer each with apple sauce, stack and cut like a cake. Then, bring on the saunas and you'll have a wonderful Sunday-morning supper. Hold on to this idea for Lenten fasting and instead of applesauce, "frost" your cakes with creamy cottage cheese seasoned with grated orange rind or a little orange juice.

SAUCY PANCAKES
 1 cup sifted flour, 2 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, 1/2 cup 40% bran flakes, slightly crushed, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 egg, well beaten, 1 1/4 cups milk, 1/2 cup margarine melted, shortening, 1/2 cup 40% bran flakes, slightly crushed, 1/2 cup sugar.
 Sift flour once; measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar, and stir again. Combine egg and milk; add gradually to flour, mixing only until smooth. Add shortening and flakes. Bake on a hot griddle using generous 1/4 cup batter for each large pancake. Stack in pile, spreading thick sweetened applesauce between cakes. Sprinkle top with brown sugar. Cut in pieing wedges to serve. Makes 4 servings.
 Note: Instead of greasing the griddle, rub it with a little bag of salt, before baking each batch of cakes. This keeps cakes from sticking and saves grease. For salt bag, tie 1/2 cup salt in cheesecloth.

It's Time For Breakfast

Brains, beauty and brawn—they're all associated with a good breakfast, according to doctors, nutritionists and athletic directors. Brains, because every boy or girl in school needs energy and good nutrition to study and learn; beauty, because proper eating can help provide a healthy, glowing appearance; and brawn, because a good breakfast supplies from one-fourth to one-third of daily protein and caloric requirements essential to physical fitness. Authorities say the following are ideal breakfast menus for various age groups: Four year olds, fruit or juice, half a cup of oatmeal, two slices of toast and a half pint of milk; the young school child should have a breakfast of fruit or juice, half a cup of cereal, two slices of toast and a half pint of milk; the adolescent should have fruit or juice, a serving of cereal, three slices of toast, two eggs and two cups of cocoa. Adults need juice or fruit, cereal, eggs, meat, toast and a beverage.
 The U. S. Navy recently found that many service aviators involved in "unexplained air accidents" consistently skipped or skimmed breakfast. The Navy recommended to wives of its aviators that their husbands be served with a complete breakfast including toast and jam, two eggs, breakfast cereal, two glasses of milk, juice or fruit and coffee with cream and sugar.

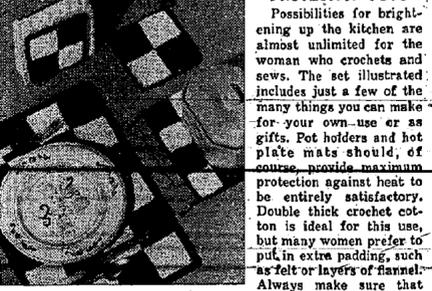

IDEA FOR TONIGHT—CHEESE PROVOLONE RABBIT

Now! Blends two cheese flavors. Top buttered toast with tomato slices, onion rings. Pour on Rabbit made as follows: Melt gently 2 tablespoons butter, 1/2 cup grated sharp Cheddar Cheese, 1/2 cup grated Provolone Cheese. (or 1 cup crumbled Blue Cheese), stirring. Add 1/4 teaspoon each dry mustard, salt, dash cayenne, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Combine 2 lightly-beaten egg yolks with 1/2 cup homogenized milk. Stir into rabbit until creamy thick.

Needlecraft News by Nancy Baxter

Stylish in home-decoration change through the years but one thing that never varies is our love for color and cheerful surroundings where we prepare and serve the family meals. Curtains, walls, floors, placemats, table holders—all reflect the love of color and also a great deal of our own personality.

PROTECTION PLUS
 Possibilities for brightening up the kitchen are almost unlimited for the woman who crochets and sews. The set illustrated includes just a few of the many things you can make for your own use or as gifts. Pot holders and hot plate mats should, of course, provide maximum protection against heat to be entirely satisfactory. Double thick crocheted cotton is ideal for this use, but many women prefer to put in extra padding, such as felt or layers of flannel. Always make sure that the padding fabric is color-fast so that it won't bleed onto the pot holder when washed. Complete instructions are usually given for whatever style and size pot holder you select. These should be followed carefully as texture, thickness and strength of the cotton used might vary considerably.

WINNING COMBINATION
 The gay, checkerboard design of today's kitchen set is made of square green and white motifs in a double thick cotton. The piece, mat, which measures 12 x 17 1/2 inches, 24 motifs were used, bordered by rounds of green. The hot plate mat measures 9 inches square. The pot holder is made of four squares topped with a bone ring. The napkin holder cover, also simple to make, is attached to a plain wire frame. Whether you use it yourself or plan it as a gift, this set will add a cheerful, bright touch to both kitchen and table. If you would like directions for making the CHECKERBOARD SET, just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper with your request for Leaflet No. S-625.

Jog Appetites With Fruit

This is the time of year when meals are apt to become hum-drum—it's no secret that flavorful canned fruits give a big lift to sluggish appetites. Serve them as:
FIRST COURSE—Fruit cocktail, or chilled grapefruit and orange sections dressed up with a couple of drops of mint flavoring.
SALAD MEAL—Tangy purple plums around a peach half filled with cream cheese and nuts on crispy greens. Serve hearty chowder type soup with this salad.
MEAT GARNISH—Bake sliced fruits to serve with meat, poultry or fish meals.
DESSERT—Canned fruits as they come from the can or jar, alone or in combination, in cobbler, or in pie.

Jubilee Cherry Pie
 1 cup sugar, 3/4 teaspoon red food coloring (optional), 3 cups drained water pack red tart pitted cherries, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine.
Pastry
 Mix sugar, cornstarch and salt in a saucepan. Add juice and coloring; stir until smooth. Cook until thickened and clear, stirring. Remove from heat; add cherries and butter. Pour into an unlined 9-inch pastry lined pie pan. Cover with top crust, lattice, or cut-outs. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) about 40 minutes. On a 9-inch pie.
