ANOTHER CITATION FOR MR. PALMER

Springfield officials and residents are still in the dark as to the exact route of the new highway as it slashes through the Township.

Commissioner Dwight R. G. Palmer of the New Jersey State Highway Department and his engineers haven't yet made any official announcement—but everybody else seems to know that the route, as submitted by New Jersey, HAS BEEN APPROVED BY THE BUREAU OF PUBLIC ROADS in Washington.

The New Jersey Highway Department has the initial and primary responsibility for selecting the locations. This is submitted to the Bureau of Public Roads. That has been done and approved in Washington.

Now a brand new "survey and study" is being started with the reported linking of Morris Turnpike (Route 24) with the new highway (Route 78). All these years of consulting with engineers, all the surveys and the studies conducted in this area have evidently brought nothing.

This week survey teams, engineers engaged by the state highway department, HAVE JUST STARTED A STUDY OF A NEW ALIGNMENT FOR ROUTE 24 LINKING-IT WITH ROUTE 78.

The head of the engineering firm is quoted as saying that the "PRELIMINARY PLANS SHOULD BE COMPLETED BY THE FALL . . ."

What has been done all these years of planning? Aren't these consulting firm and survey teams bumping into one another?

Perhaps, Mr. Palmer will start another survey and study before answering any of these questions.

MAYOR BONADIES HAS FINE PLAN

The look into the future of Springfield, envisioned by Mayor Vincent J. Bonadies, which is to transform the ugly Morris avenue bus nest section into an eye-appealing Town Mall, deserves the support of every resident in the Township.

Communities in all parts of the nation have undertaken even more ambitious programs of development and made them come true.

Mayor Bonadies is willing to admit that Springfield's appearance, especially in the business section, needs a lot of drastic face-lifting and he wants to have the Township do something about it.

Mayor Bonadies appreciates that his look into the future for Springfield will cost money, but the aesthetic results to be derived—as well as the new business to be attracted to the Township make it worthwhile.

He sees a more beautiful Springfield business section by having all the present business buildings on the north side of Morris avenue set far back, beautifully landscaped, with boulevard effect and attractive stores, arranged in a circle.

The Chamber of Commerce and every civic organization in Springfield should immediately begin to form committees to look into this Town Mall plan. It has a great deal of merit.

GRANDMA FOR THE THIRD TIME

If that pleasant voice with a smile which d'grams and greets you when you telephone the Springfield Sun didn't have the usual calm ring in the past week or so, there is a very good reason.

Mrs. Dorothy Ringen, owner of the voice with a smile who handles the telephone calls at the Sun office, (in addition to a thousand and one other duties) became a grandmother for the third time last week.

She is just about stepping off the cloud on solid ground but the news that her daughter, Barbara, had given birth to Donald Malcolm Gavett—entitled "grandma" to a little extra excitement.

Those who telephone the Sun from now on will find Mrs. Ringen's usual happy ring in her voice. But she will still proudly tell all who will listen that Donald now joins a little sister, Wendy Lynn, 2½ years old; that her daughter, Barbara, is Mrs. Robert Gavett and lives at 514 W. Seventh Street, Plainfield; and that Barbara resided with the Ringens in Westfield for many years in case her many school friends would like to know.

The new mother and new baby Donald are all doing well. So are Grandma and Grandpa Ringen. Even new proud daddy Robert has exhausted his supply of cigars.

PHIL HAFF JOINS THE DADDY CLUB

While on the subject, it might be well to tell the world that Phil Haff, who has been with the Springfield Sun for years and is now picking up all the loose ends in publishing the Mountsiders Echo, has also become a father. The mother is the former Sue Montague of Washington, D.C.

The new Haff daughter will go through life with the interesting name of Laura and both Phil and Sue are already promising that she will have the "best of everything." The Haffs are moving to New Jersey from Greenwich Village and will soon be residents of Mountsiders.

THE SAROKINS RIDE AGAIN

For years the Sarokins have been "regaling" the readers of the Springfield Sun with stories of their travels and trips which always seemed to end in a blizzard, a flood or a plain and fancy hurr cane.

The Sarokins are the parents of the Sun editor, Julian, and the resort and cruise agencies always report very good seasons "if the Sarokins can be induced to remain at home."

These are the Sarokins who, when they checked in at the Desert Inn in Las Vegas, a snowman greeted them on the lawn of the resort hotel, the first snow they had ever had.

These are the Sarokins who sat in their Beverly Hills hotel one year with a pair of tickets, at $20.00 a set, resting on the dresser, and watched both the Rose Bowl game and the famous Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena on television because of the hardest rainstorm ever to hit the coast.

They were marooned in some small town in New England during that history-making flood; they spent three weeks at Miami Beach without once putting a timid toe in the almost frozen pool; they were cut off of the mainland at Beach Haven for more than a week by the force of Hurricane Alice; they seldom, if ever, returned with any glowing weather reports.

Last week end, the Sarokins, escaping from the school expansion reports and news of the new highway route, decided to slip off to New York City for "a quiet, peaceful, relaxing week end."

Survey Started On Rt 24 Link With New Rt 22

SPRINGFIELD—The New Jersey Department of Highway has made public the news that it is planning the linking of Route 24 (which is Morris avenue in Springfield and then becomes Morris Turnpike) with the new federal highway, Route 78.

But it is going to take months before the consulting engineers will be able to bring it a report of its study and survey. The following appeared in the Newark News, issue of April 19, under the heading "Start Rt. 24 Field Study."

Survey teams are in the field to begin the study of a new alignment for Rt. 24 linking that highway with interstate routes at the Summit-Springfield line and in Morris Plains.

Engineers from the consulting firm of Howard, Needles, Tammen & Bergendoff, which was engaged by the state highway department to develop a preliminary alignment for the new Rt. 24, are already taking aerial photographs of the route. Enoch Needles of the firm. (continued on Page 2)

HERE'S ANOTHER, MR. PALMER. Here's what's left of the car which skidded and went out of control at the corner of Morris and Moller avenues, Springfield, last Sunday. Vello H. Ebrok of Summit was driving the car when it jumped the curb, according to police records, struck a tree and turned over. The driver was taken to Overlook Hospital suffering face and head cuts. State Highway Commissioner Dwight R. G. Palmer has refused to resurface this section of Morris avenue and remove the danger of skidding on the exposed trolley tracks. He wants ALL PARKING BANNED AT ALL TIMES on Morris avenue. And Monday night, Mr. Palmer, the police reported another car which went out of control on the unused trolley tracks in Morris avenue; Springfield. Mrs. Helen Reuben of Flarham Park was the driver of the car and was taken to Overlook Hospital, Summit. The auto smashed into the porch of the home at 178 Morris avenue, owned by Arthur H. Lennox, Mountsiders Town Surveyor.

Notice To Advertisers

The SPRINGFIELD SUN and the UNION LEADER publishers have worked out an attractive advertising service that will enable merchants to reach the greatest number of shoppers at a very low rate.

Julian Sarokin of the SPRINGFIELD SUN and Sam Howard of the UNION LEADER announced this combination advertising schedule of rates which includes five other affiliated papers.

The SPRINGFIELD SUN recently purchased the MOUNTAINSIDE ECHO with a saturation circulation covering both of these municipalities.

The Union Leader is produced by the publishers of The Spectator of Roselle Park and Roselle, The Suburban Leader of Kenilworth, The Irvington Herald and The Vailsburg Leader.

Advertisers can be serviced by either Springfield or Union advertising staff members for any number of the seven community newspapers in the arrangement. The total number of homes they reach is 30,000, of which 20,000 are in Union County.

Until this week, the Springfield Sun participated in the distribution of the Guide to Better Living sponsored by the Union Register. This arrangement will be discontinued.

Sarokin cited the large circulation, readership and advertising gains of the Union Leader and The Spectator of the Roselles as a principal reason for the change.

The Union Leader, with 9,500 circulation, is the largest paid weekly community newspaper in Union County and the largest paid circulation newspaper in Union Township's history.

The Spectator has climbed in circulation since it was purchased by the Suburban Publishing Corp., which also owns the Union Leader, last October. Its circulation now is 3,500.

Bad Check Passers Have Problem Here

SPRINGFIELD—Merchants are very well pleased with the public service being rendered by the Chamber of Commerce with the cooperation of the Police Department in warning against bad check passers working in this area.

Typewritten slips are being distributed to merchants with complete information—even as to the names being used by the check passer. The warning slip gives a description of the person working in the area, the name of the bank or banks, the towns where he is wanted and other little bits of information such as "letter 'S' in word 'Rose' is number '8'."

The warning slips also give the merchant the telephone number to call in case he is suspicious. Information on bad check passers and other practices of fraud can be had by telephoning the police. Merchants who have not been receiving these warning slips are also urged to telephone the police department at DRexel 6-0400.

Town Officials In Dark As To Widening Morris Ave.

SPRINGFIELD—The Township of Union passed an ordinance last week establishing set backs in Morris avenue from Union Center west to the Springfield line, which is supposed to be part of a plan by the State Highway Department to widen Morris avenue.

Springfield officials say they know nothing of the highway department's plan to widen Morris avenue and can't understand why there should be plans to do such a job up to the Springfield line and not continue through this Township.

If there is such a plan in the drawing tables of the State Highway Department, it would present a very serious problem in Springfield since most of the business places in Morris avenue are right up against the sidewalk line.

The setbacks in Union based on a survey by Township Engineer Henry Kreh Jr., were proposed for the northeast side of Morris Ave. from Pine Ave. to the Springfield line and on the southwest side of Morris Ave. from Johnson Pl. to the Springfield line.

The proposed ordinance would prohibit building within the setback limits—which average—14 feet.

If adopted, the ordinance would make it easier for the State Highway Department to widen the thoroughfare. The township has been negotiating with the state to have the highway widened.

Morris Ave. in Union varies in width from 84 to 100 feet from the Elizabeth line to Union Center and averages only 66 feet in width from the center to Springfield. The ultimate width would be 84 feet, a coding to Mr. Kreh's plans.

Mr. Kreh said establishment of setback lines would require all new buildings to be erected so they would not have to be moved or remodeled at some future date. He added that the proposed widened side lines now will affect only 10 buildings.

Briggs Finishes Naval Training

GREAT LAKES, Ill.—Arthur L. Briggs, interior communications electrician fireman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Briggs of 260 Short Hills ave., Springfield, N. J., graduated April 3 from the Naval Interior Communications Electrician School, at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Students at the school are taught the care and maintenance of shipboard navigational equipment. This includes electrical and magnetic compasses such as the synchro units, gyro-compass systems and related equipment.

Graduates of the school are generally assigned to shipboard duties upon completion of their training.

Fire Warnings Given By Chief

SPRINGFIELD—With the approach of the grass cutting season Chief Mesker of the Fire Department reminds owners of gasoline driven mowers that it is against the law for gasoline dealers to sell gasoline in glass containers. This practice, if the dealer gets caught, can result in the revocation of his license.

Keeping gasoline in glass containers is a very dangerous practice due to the possibility of breakage and fumes being ignited and a serious fire resulting.

Another reminder to the public is that a fire permit for 1959 must be obtained before the burning of trash and rubbish is done. Permit may be obtained at Fire Headquarters at any time free of charge.

Student Elected To Campus Post

SPRINGFIELD—Patrick Deo of 100 Twin Oak Oval, has been elected Sophomore Representative to the Student Council of the Madison campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University. His term will begin in September.

Deo, a freshman and an accountant, is a member of the Maroon Key Society.

Quiet Primary Here Attracts Only 739 Votes

SPRINGFIELD—Primary election came and went Tuesday with little or no interest since there were no local contests to bring out any great number of voters.

Only 739 votes were cast out of a total of 6,736 eligible. Paul H. Beck, Republican candidate for Township Committee, was high man in Tuesday's balloting with 411 votes. James M. Cavley, the other Republican for Township Committee, was next with 408 and Robert C. Crane, the unopposed candidate for Scute followed with 406 votes.

Voting was very light for both parties in the selection of County Committee members with only one contest and that in the Eighth District of the Democratic column—David Katz with 31 votes defeated Edward Shtafman who polled 27.

The comedians (?) evidently used the voting machines for a few laughs, the final results showing that Mayor Vincent J. Bonadies and Former Mayor Albert G. Binder each received one write-in vote for the office of "corporator." Another tossed away his vote by writing the name of Township Committeeman Eugene F. Donnelly as a candidate for that office on the Democratic ticket.

SPRINGFIELD—Plans for the construction of a modern bowling establishment on the former Casale farm in Springfield avenue will probably be held up by the announcement yesterday that a 48-lane bowling alley is to be built in Main street, Millburn, not very far from the Springfield line.

The release states that the new alleys will be constructed on a portion of the Pandango Mills property, according to J. I. Kisklak, Inc. Realtors, who report that they have sold the three-acre tract at No. 12 Main Street for Dayton Trubee and John Trubee, whose family have operated a paper manufacturing plant here for the past century.

Purchaser, George Siegler & Co., of Jersey City, will erect the bowling building under a long-term lease to Bowling Corporation of America, Ruben Dankoff, president.

To be known as Strike-N Spare Lanes, the building will comprise 41,000 sq. ft. of floor space. Arrangements have been made to provide parking for 500 cars. The establishment will also have a liquor bar and snack bar and will feature nursery and playground facilities for children.

SPRINGFIELD—Another "sell-out" is predicted for the 13th annual variety show being presented by the Springfield Lions Club tomorrow (Friday) April 24 night in the Regional High School auditorium.

The show will consist of ten Broadway acts with Mark Zimmerman's orchestra furnishing the music for this annual affair. Tickets for the show have been going at a lively clip but there are still many seats available.

Usherettes, in charge of Mary Ann Ulbrich, will handle the seating for the show and will be made up of the following: Sue Kerr, Nancy Bishop, Joyce Harrison, Sue Melick, Elaine Kern, Judy Grabarz, Sue Justice, Claire Longfield, Patricia Dressel, Veronica Shea.

Find Springfield Awake And Reading At Library

By Helen C. Reyner, Librarian
During the last week the whole community celebrated National Library Week. As a part of the celebration the Free Public Library of Springfield arranged a table on the sidewalk in front of the Grand Union, and interviewed the first seventy people who came along. They got 67 usable replies. The most interesting answers were the opinions, although the statistical ones help paint the picture.

The questions covered these four points: 1) How many books have you read in the last six months? 2) What book do you remember enjoying most since January 1958? 3) Where and when did you last visit your public library? 4) What have you enjoyed most in the library—or what would you like to make you enjoy it more?

Large Crowd
An effort was made to keep a record of the types of people interviewed—but at one point the crowd became so large and so interested that the interviewers (continued on Page 2)

WIDE AWAKE READER—Lee Andrews, left, of Springfield, signs the Springfield Public Library's questionnaire last week in front of the local Grand Union. Andrews revealed to Barbara Rau and Librarian Helen C. Reyner that he has read 104 books from the local library in the past six months. The survey conducted under Miss Reyner's guidance was part of National Library Week. The motto was "Wake Up And Read!"

Doings At Regional High School

Regional's senior class is preparing for its class trip. This year the trip will be to the Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania. The cost is $10.00 per person. This includes a smorgasbord luncheon, swimming, and a dinner, where entertainment will be provided by a dance band. The dinner will consist of fruit cup, consommé, roast beef or swordfish, blackberry walnut sundae, and a beverage. The date of the trip is set for June 5th. Senior class night will be held on Friday, June 12th, at the Martinsville Inn, in Martinsville, New Jersey. The cost of this dinner is $4.00 per person.

At the band concert, held at Regional last Friday night, the announcement was made that Jean Cooney, a junior from Springfield, would be head choriste for the school year 1959-60. Phyllis Mondelli was elected captain of next year's squad. Besides electing regular twirlers, eight junior twirlers were elected. The junior twirlers will twirl at the Thanksgiving Game.

Jonathan's Journal, literary magazine of the school, will go to press the end of this week. Included in this year's issue will be poetry, short stories, and book reviews. The magazine is on sale in English classes for $5.00 per copy. The material turned in has been of high caliber this year, so the magazine should prove its worth. Don't forget to purchase your copy!

Regional was extremely lucky at the Greater Newark Science Fair. For the first time in the fair's history, both district winners came from the same school, Jonathan Dayton! Louis Caruso and Alan Chait took top honors with their projects of "Food of the Future" and "Agar Diffusion Method for Assay of Biochemicals" respectively. Regional received 38% of all the awards given out at the fair. The boys will enter the national contest in Hartford, Connecticut, on May 6-9. Everyone wishes the boys good luck.

All seniors have started health which is to continue until school closes. The subject of study is mental health, and your personality. Next Thursday, all candidates for student council offices for next year, will present their speeches to the assembly. Both underclassmen as well as upperclassmen will hear the speeches and then voting will be done by ballot in homeroom to elect next year's slate of officers. Don't forget to purchase your tickets to the Student Prince opera being put on by Regional High. There will be a professional orchestra to accompany the show. Tickets are priced at $2.00.

Pope Alexander II in 1179 granted cardinals the sole right to elect a new Pope. Previously other clergymen and laymen, including emperors and members of the local nobility, participated directly in the election.

To Get HOT WATER Quickly

use an Automatic GAS WATER HEATER

When you want hot water, you want it at once . . . and that's the way you get it with an automatic gas water heater. You get hot water fast and economically with gas . . . and you get plenty of hot water, too!

POT STOVE
One of the most expensive ways to heat water. A pot stove is antiquated and dirty, hard to operate and to keep under control.

WINTER-SUMMER HOOKUP
A winter-summer hookup is not an economical way to heat. It uses a few gallons of water each day in summer.

SIDE-ARM HEATER
A side-arm heater causes extra trips to the basement and often supplies insufficient hot water. It is inefficient and costly.

30-GALLON HEATER
A 30-gallon water heater is usually not large enough to supply the average family. Consult an expert on the size you need.

You can see automatic-gas-water heaters at your local dealer's

TAKING CARE OF YOUR GARDEN

Chairman, Springfield Shade Tree Commission
By Edward A. Cardinal

Anyone wishing to have soil tested for acidity can do so by bringing a pint sample to the soil clinic, sponsored by the American Agricultural Chemical Company, and held at the Cardinal's Garden

Center, 272 Milltown Road, on Saturday, April 25, between the hours of 9 A.M. and 4 P.M.

If there is a doubt in your mind as to the necessity of applying lime to the soil, now would be an opportune time to get a soil test. The Union County Agricultural Agent is supplying bulletins on lawn building for those who wish this information.

For a more complete analysis the County Agent has supplied us with the N. J. Experiment Station Test Kit, available at the small charge of $1.00 to cover handling and mailing costs.

Q. My neighbors seem to think I am a garden supply center and borrow all my garden equipment. Every time I need a tool I have to search the neighborhood. Can you please write something in your column about this nuisance?

A. Occasionally borrowing of a specific tool can be condoned, but the borrowing of hand or powered lawn mowers is uncalled for. A person cannot borrow a mower without doing material damage to the mower, because even normal wear and tear is costly. The borrower may also have the machine break while in his possession, through no fault of his own, yet he would be morally responsible for the repairs. One man stopped the practice by asking the borrower for the use of his car for a few hours. This gave him a broad hint and the borrowing stopped. Probably the best way is to just say, "No!"

Q. Would this be a good time to start a weed control program for my lawn?

A. Yes, this is an ideal time. Weeds are now growing rapidly, and the hormones will work quickly. Use a 2, 4D spray, or powder for dandelions, buckhorn, plantain and other large-leaved weeds. For chickweed and many other small leaved weeds the newer hormones seem to be more successful. Ask for chickweed killer. Note: (Many users of PAX, the pre-emergence crab grass control, have reported excellent clean-up of chickweed since the initial application this spring).

Q. Are the powdered forms of weed killer as good as liquids?

A. Both forms have merit. However, the dry forms are much easier to use because they can be applied with a spreader. Best results will be obtained when applied to damp foliage. Several excellent powders are available; one containing a urea-form fertilizer.

Q. Some time ago you mentioned the names of the three shade tree commissioners in Springfield. Will you please repeat them?

A. Edward A. Cardinal, chairman, owner of the Cardinal's Garden Center, 272 Milltown Road; Felix Gould, proprietor of the Disc & Shutter camera and record shop, 265 Morris Avenue and Nathan Hart, of N. Hart Company, garden supply wholesaler, 122 Remer Avenue.

Note: Free booklets "How to Plant" and "How to Prune" available upon request.

Sold By Whom? To Whom?

In last week's issue of the SUN, two real estate sales were inadvertently switched. The home sold by Georgia McMullen at 27 Woodcrest Circle showed a picture of the home at 52 Fernhill Road and vice versa for the home sold by B. J. Chadwick. The captions were correct but the wrong houses went with the captions. We apologize.

Pupils Hear From World Traveler

SPRINGFIELD—Recently Mrs. James Cauldwell School listened eagerly as Mrs. Huff read a postcard addressed to them and postmarked "Cádiz, Spain".

It read "The streets are very narrow. Many people travel on bicycles and motor bikes. They ring their bells all the time as they walk in the streets. There are many sidewalk restaurants and I am having coffee in one as I write. The taxis are horse-drawn."

The children had been waiting anxiously for the card, the first of a series being sent to them by Mrs. Paul Volker, a former resident and librarian at the Springfield Public Library.

The class has arranged a bulletin board to watch the progress of her trip around the world. Each card will be followed by research work to find more about the countries and places she visits. An assembly program is being planned around this trip.

SUNNING SPORTS

by VICTOR GOLDBERG

Regional's athletic teams didn't fare too well last week. The track team lost to Hillside by a 64-53 count and the baseball team lost to St. Mary's by a score of 3-1.

The track meet saw some excellent marks set, considering that the season is so young. Jerry Stuver cut 8.6 seconds off his time in the first meet and posted a time of 4:36.4—only three seconds short of the school record.

Tony Hartman, in his first try in the half mile, posted a time of 2:06.3 to take his race. His time was four seconds short of the school record. Bob Smith ran a rapid quarter mile in 54.7 seconds.

Other winners from Regional were Roger Ellert in the pole vault with a height of 8'9", Herb Etzold in the high jump with a height of 5'5", and Cas Wolowicz in the broad jump—with a leap of 20'9".

Don Studney swept the weights for Hillside, setting a new Hillside record in the javelin throw with a heave of 204'. His other victories were in the discus and shot put.

Bob Malone swept the hurdles events and Leon Orlowski won the dashes.

Bill Henry struck out twelve Regionals and gave up only two hits as St. Mary's won their first game of the year. It was Regional's successive loss after two victories.

Regional's run came in the fifth inning after St. Mary's had built MOUNTAINSIDE—The monthly Mountainside Wilson Neighborhood Girl Scout meeting was held April 16 at the Community Presbyterian Church, with Mrs. T. V. Flanagan, Neighborhood Chairman, presiding.

Richey, 1437 Deer Path, Camps Blue Leon and Lou Hoover will welcome help in getting ready for the summer camping season. Persons wishing to assist may call Jean Holinger (PL 5-3858).

The Washington Rock Council dinner will be held at Arbor Inn in Ft. Lee June 1. The Washington Rock Council office is taking reservations at $2.90 each through May 15.

Miss Jean Terry, District 9 Supervisor, explained the Round-up held every three years by the National Girl Scout Council for highly qualified Senior Scouts. This year's Round-up will be held at Colorado Springs, with "Western Frontiers" as its theme.

Scouts from many countries will be represented at the Round-up. District 9 will have the honor of sending 11 girls. Persons interested in visiting the Round-up should contact the Washington Rock Council office.

Fifth and sixth grade Girl Scouts planning to qualify for the Swimmers Badge may take the necessary tests at the Westfield YWCA in December or next February.

Troops desiring newspaper publicity for their activities should contact Mrs. A. S. Morganti.

Mrs. Donald Caldwell, Echo Brook Day Camp Director, said that the camp can accept 90 girls this year. Applications should be mailed to arrive May 15. High School Scouts interested in serving as Aids at the camp may call Mrs. Caldwell. She also reported that Wilson Sixth Grade Intermediate Troop 652, led by Mrs. William F. Pearson and Mrs. C. T. Sutton, sold the highest number of cookies, 488 boxes.

The next Mountainside-Wilson Neighborhood meeting will be May 21.

Troop 624, Wilson Fifth Grade Intermediate Scouts, Troop 624, led by Mrs. Edward Leit and Mrs. Jack Gallagher, spent the weekend of April 18 at Camp Sinauwik, near Washington Rock, Greenbrook. Each girl brought a sleeping bag, toilet articles and mess kit. The Scouts took the responsibility for cooking, meal planning and clean-up. Also on the agenda was lashing and knot tying, hiking and exploring the wooded trails and a nature treasure hunt. In the evening the group gathered around a campfire for songs and games.

A troop encampment must be accompanied by a well qualified leader. Mrs. Gallagher recently completed special training given by Washington Rock Girl Scout Council, as well as a First Aid Course.

The troop will receive the Second Class Badge soon, plus proficiency badges in Sewing and Camping, at a Court of Awards. Individual badges completed by members in other program fields will also be awarded.

Belusar Presents Kiwanis Program

MOUNTAINSIDE — "Symbolism in Art" was the title of a program presented by C. M. Belusar, 1286 Cedar, at a Kiwanis Club meeting Tuesday night at the Mountainside Inn.

Fifty Kiwanis Club members and their wives were present when Mr. Belusar illustrated how words, meanings and ideas are conveyed through art. He is a graduate of Carnegie Institute of Fine Arts in Pittsburgh, Pa., and is employed by Esso as Illustrator and Graphic Arts Manager.

The program was concluded with a portrait contest by the audience. Prizes were awarded to Helen Hall in C. Ladies' Division and Dr. Henry Langheiser in the Men's Division.

The Camellia, Southern Native, Traveling North

That typically southern plant, the lily-like aristocratic camellia, has been moving north in recent years. Although it long has been grown along the warmer northern Pacific coast, it is only in recent years that it has begun to flourish on Long Island on the East coast.

Many camellias are grown, however, even in the colder, inland regions, where they are planted in tubs, placed on a cool glassed-on porch in winter and outdoors in summer. The growing of camellia japonica or sasanqua is a fascinating experience for the northern gardener, with rich rewards from many perfectly formed blooms.

We Take A Cruise With The Dutch Food Is Fabulous But Recipes Are Kept Secret

by Audrey Chase Walters
The man in my life and I recently returned from a cruise to Bermuda celebrating our 25th anniversary of wedded bliss. We sailed on the Holland-America Lines' Maasdam and the food served aboard that floating hotel would supply recipes for half a dozen cooks.

recipes are more closely guarded than State secrets. We were seated at Chief Purser K. K. Pentling's table in the dining room. This turned out to be a rare privilege because he has a wonderful personality and we had many an interesting conversation with him. He saw to it that we sampled all the Chef's specialties and they inspired me to do some research on Dutch cooking. I expect to have some interesting recipes for you in the near future. There were just four passengers at the Purser's table and he invited us to his quarters for cocktails before dinner the second night out. The hors d'oeuvres included tiny veal balls evidently fried in deep fat. They tasted like miniature codfish balls and were delicious but the one I really wanted to tell you about was shark's skin. It had the appearance and texture of a large potato chip of an even, light grey color. None of us came even near guessing what it really was. Mr. Pentling was amused because we thought the veal was fish but never even dreamed the chips were fish.

I'm going to leave Dutch cooking for the moment until I learn more about it and turn to Bermuda. Last time we visited the islands, we flew down and divided our stay between two of the large hotels. This time, we had enjoyed such lavish food aboard the ship, we spent part of our three-day stay investigating some of the smaller places. I came away with the same two dislikes I had the last time. I don't like their sausage or their butter. Incidentally, there was no sausage served aboard the Maasdam — they simply don't have it in Holland.

Bermudians have lots of food I do like, though, and I hope you like these recipes too.

According to Betsy Ross who writes a food column in Bermuda for the Royal Gazette Weekly, the Bermuda onion was the main source of income for the islands for 40 years until a similar onion was developed in the United States. A protective tariff here ended the export of Bermuda onions but we can still enjoy their recipes.

Peel sufficient potatoes to produce three cups diced. Melt two tablespoons of shortening, add potatoes, one Bermuda onion sliced thin, one teaspoon paprika and salt to taste. Fry until vegetables are light brown, about five minutes. Add three-quarters cup boiling water, cover tightly, and cook 15 to 20 minutes or until vegetables are done. Water should have disappeared leaving the potatoes an attractive brown.

This recipe makes a tiny tart so rich you will be glad it is small but so delicious you'll have a hard job resisting seconds. Cream one-half cup butter with three-quarters cup granulated sugar. Add two unbleached and beat together well. Sift two cups flour with two teaspoons baking powder and add to first mixture. Shape dough into balls and place in small greased muffin pans. Press dough to line bottom and sides of pan. Fill centers with mixture of one cup raspberry jam and one-half cup chopped nuts. Bake in 375 degree F. oven 10 to 15 minutes. Cool and serve with whipped cream.

2 cups diced raw potatoes
1 cup diced celery
1/2 cup diced carrots
3/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
4 cups water
2 cups (1 pound can) flaked salmon

Deviled Crab Is Delectable

1 pound crab meat, fresh, canned or frozen
2 tablespoons Italian-style salad dressing
1 medium onion, diced
2 large mushrooms, chopped
1/2 green pepper, finely chopped
3 tablespoons butter
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 tablespoon Worcestershire
3 dashes hot pepper sauce
3 tablespoons flour
1 cup hot milk
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1/4 cup cream
Soak the crab meat in the salad dressing while making the sauce. Cook the onion, green pepper and mushrooms in the butter for about 10 minutes, or until vegetables are tender, but not browned. Add pepper, mustard, Worcestershire and hot pepper sauce and stir in the flour. Gradually stir in the hot milk and cook, stirring, until sauce is thickened. Cook over low heat for 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir in parsley, cream and crab meat. Divide the mixture into 6 heat-proof ramekins or ceramic crab shells and sprinkle with buttered crumbs. To serve, heat in a 450° F. oven for 15 minutes, or until sauce is bubbling and crumbs are browned. Serves 6.

Souffle Omelets Easy To Make

Souffle omelets, which can be prepared for two people, will be as good for supper as brunch.

Souffle Omelet
4 egg yolks
2 tablespoons milk
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 can (7 3/4 ounce) salmon, flaked
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
4 egg whites, stiffly beaten
Beat egg yolks with the milk and salt until light and pale in color. Stir in the flaked salmon and parsley. Fold in stiffly beaten egg white. All-Along Cook

When there is just one person to cook for the meals need not be repetitious or unappealing, says Edith Mae Ingalls, Assistant Home Agent, although it does take careful planning, smart shopping and a touch of originality. Plan your menus ahead of time to provide variety and use of leftovers in interesting ways. Make easy-to-fix dishes when you are tired and there is a temptation to skip a meal. Plan streamlined menus, basic foods for adequate nutrition and not a lot of extras. Cook for two days at a time to save fuel, time and energy. Shopping wisely makes good sense. Many foods come in single or double portions. Buy small amounts of perishable items to avoid waste. Frozen foods are handy because a portion can be saved off and the rest saved in the freezer until another time. Packaged mixes save time and work and you can use a part of the package and save the rest. The most important points to remember when cooking for one person is that the foods be cooked and served attractively. This can make the difference between the meal which is enjoyed or just endured. Set the table with an attractive tablecloth or placemat. Arrange the food appealingly on the plate. A centerpiece of fresh flowers or a plant helps also.

Inspiration For Old-Timer

A wonderful old-timer, stuffed cabbage leaves or cabbage rolls whichever you prefer to call them, is better than ever in its brown-rich, oniony sauce made with canned condensed onion soup. A new inspiration is the tasty corned beef hash-chili sauce stuffing for the cabbage leaves.

With the Hash-'n' Cabbage Rolls, serve buttered canned peas, crunchy radishes, celery and spiced crabapples, salt sticks and peach pie with thick cream.

Hash-'n' Cabbage Rolls

- 4 large (or 8 medium size) cabbage leaves
- 1 can (1 lb.) corned beef hash
- 1/4 cup chili sauce
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 1 can condensed onion soup

Cook cabbage leaves in enough water to cover until slightly tender, about 10 minutes; drain. Mix hash and chili sauce. Put a mound of hash in each leaf; fold in edges and roll leaf, fastening with toothpicks. Mix cornstarch and soup; cook until thickened, stirring. Put cabbage rolls in soup; cover and simmer until cabbage is tender, 30 to 40 minutes. Four servings.

REPORT TO THE PEOPLE FROM YOUR CONGRESSWOMAN

FLORENCE P. DWYER

(6th District—New Jersey)

It happens here every year—just as regularly as a law of nature. No sooner does the warm spring sunshine make the Washington outdoors a wonderful place to be than the Congress settles down to business indoors. The burst of spring-time energy is flowering all over Capitol Hill—though—in somewhat different fashion, with hearings, reports and debate in place of the simpler beauties of nature. And so it will be as Congress moves through spring into the heat of the summer, the daily sessions getting longer, tensions becoming sharper, and evenings more and more filled with work.

In fact, that time has now arrived—so abruptly, it seems, that a substantial part of the record of the first session of the Eighty-sixth Congress may be determined in these next two or three weeks. In the days immediately ahead, a point of decision will be reached on such critically important legislation as the following:

Distressed Area (or Area Re-development) legislation passed by the Senate is now on its way from our Banking and Currency Committee to the House floor, with the issue still unresolved—as to whether the proposed assistance is sufficient or of the right kind to help put people back to work. The Housing Bill—one version has been okayed by the Senate and a less expensive bill approved by our committee, but the whole program has been snatched by a 6 to 6 impasse in the Rules Committee. If it reaches the House floor, it is very likely to win, thereby raising the question whether the bill is close enough to the Administration's program to be signed by the President. Unemployment Compensation—The Ways and Means Committee has concluded hearings and, as this is written, is trying to decide whether to go all the way and establish Federal standards governing the amount and duration of jobless benefits or compromise by simply bringing more workers under the unemployment insurance system. About 2/3 of the labor force is presently covered. Community Facilities (or local public works) legislation —hearings began this week before the Banking and Currency Subcommittee on which I serve. This year's bills, about one-half the size of last year's and grants are limited to hospitals, nursing homes, sewage disposal plants and waterworks. Unlike the existing program, larger cities (more than 35,000 population) would be eligible for help under the new bill. Here the issue is black-and-white, whether or not to expand the program rather than a matter of degree, since the Administration flatly opposes the bill. Aid to Education—perennially controversial—is now before the Full Education and Labor Committee after the subcommittee last week recommended a program of $1.1 billion annually for four years. While the subcommittee reduced the original Murray-Metcalf Bill from a permanent program costing $4.4 billion yearly, there are still plenty of unresolved issues. Among them: whether to make teachers' salaries eligible for aid, whether to distribute aid on a population basis only (with no consideration of need), and whether to drop any requirements for State or local matching grants. Labor Reform legislation—even now the Senate is debating this immensely controversial bill—with many sharply drawn issues. The problem: to find a compromise which labor management and the people can accept and which will be effective in helping clean up labor-management corruption. A Minimum Wage bill—will be taken up soon by the Senate Labor Committee, with these questions to decide whether and to what extent to expand coverage, and whether or not to boost the minimum wage from $1 an hour to $1.25 an hour. Airport Construction Grants—will shortly be compromised by a House-Senate conference committee—and sent to the President, where a veto is not out of the question. The Senate voted a $465 million bill, the House lowered it to $297 million, and the Administration insists that $200 million is sufficient. There are many more issues—and very much alive—defense, civil rights, fair trade, immigration, mutual security, farm price support, railroad retirement, and a host of others including annual appropriations bills.

In a special class is the issue of help for consumers. As noted last week, some progress is being made; hearings are set for next week on my bill to ban State income taxation of non-residents; prospects are encouraging for action on legislation I introduced to recognize the public interest in adequate railroad commuter service; and nationwide support is growing for my proposal to permit a tax deduction up to $300 for expenses of travel to and from work. But the bills I've listed are closest to decision and would have the biggest impact on the national economy as well as on the prospects for a balanced budget. None of them are sure things, as yet, and—most significant—the real fighting is going on within the majority party in Congress. Despite their almost 2 to 1 ratio of control in both houses, the majority is by no means united on any of these measures. This can be explained, at least in part, by the success of the President's efforts to alert the country to the dangers of uncontrolled spending. Most everybody here is very much aware that people at home are watching closely what they do and how they vote. At the same time, there is also widespread

Beware of soft shoulders after a heavy rain. If forward of the pavement, or if necessary to stop along the road, slow down gradually, do not attempt to turn wheels too sharply to right or left. Take it slowly when starting, try not to spin wheels, and ease your way back on pavement when traffic is clear.

Longer and more frequent motor trips require careful attention to your average driving speeds. To avoid tension and tiring, allow three hours of driving time for every one hundred miles traveled. This includes time for a "coffee break" or other short stops.
