Dan Lucy Tells Local GOP They 'Cannot Split Springfield Democrats'

Township Committeeman Daniel M. Lucy served as the Springfield Republican Club "to stop his name in the amateurish attempts to split the Democratic Party in Springfield" through the publication of political pamphlets.

Mr. Lucy was referring to a news-letter mailed recently and published under the editorship of the Springfield Republican Campaign Committee.

Mr. Lucy makes it clear in a letter to the Springfield Sun that "I have never sought the office of Mayor and I am not so glib as to be swayed by such ill-intended propaganda matter from what source it brings."

Following is Mr. Lucy's letter:

"Recently the Springfield Republican Campaign Committee published a pamphlet entitled 'The Springfield Split' in which was contained a statement to the effect that a prominent democrat, fearing to be 'threat to the majority' is seeking to remove me from the local political scene.

"Obviously, by publishing this propaganda, the Republicans hoped to create a split in the Democratic Party and assure victory for their candidate in the November election. I wish to emphatically state now, before it can become a campaign issue, that such a maneuver is doomed to failure.

"There are too many fine people in the Democratic Party who have my respect and unwavering loyalty. I am not so glib as to be swayed by such ill-intended propaganda matter from what source it brings.

"I feel that it is extremely important now to publicize a fact which all along has been well known to my associates on the Township Committee.

"I have never sought the office of Mayor and I have no desire to attain it in the future. I publish this statement now because I do not wish anyone to gain the impression that any action I may take in the course of my duties as Township Committeeman is in anyway at (Continued on Page 2)

Poppy Sale To Start May 20

Commander Ray Hattersley of Battle Hill Post, No. 7882, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, in Springfield announces that the annual Poppy drive will begin Friday, May 20.

The first such sale was conducted in 1922, he said, and since then millions of poppies of the flower of Flanders fields have been sold as the "Buddy" Poppy. The proceeds of these sales are used for the rehabilitation and to help maintain the organizations' national home near Eaton Rapids, Michigan.

"By now," Commander Hattersley said, "the public well knows that every penny contributed to the Veterans of Foreign Wars through the 'Buddy' Poppy campaign is devoted to the relief of needy or disabled veterans and their dependents and to help run the national home."

Thus he explained the Veterans of Foreign Wars exemplifies its motto, "We honor the dead by helping the living."

REFERENDUM DATE SET

The Board of Education has set Tuesday, June 28, as the date for the special election on the purchase of ten acres of land from Baltusrol Golf Club as the possible site for a school sometime in the future.

There are no immediate plans for using the property, which can be acquired at a cost of $25,000, the Board has stated. Whether a bond issue will be sold or the money taken out of funds already available, has not been disclosed by the school trustees.

In either event, however, voter approval of the move is required.

There will be four instead of two voting districts in this election. Details will be given later.

Mrs. Elizabeth Powers, of 8 Denham Road, Springfield, for the past five years a Fourth and Fifth Grade teacher in the James Caldwell School, was appointed assistant principal of the Chisholm School as of June 1.

This action was taken to allow Mrs. Powers to obtain administrative experience in the local school system so that she will be better prepared when she is named principal of the school in the Fall.

This will be done when William C. Fallon, now principal of Chisholm School, becomes principal of the new Thelma I. Sandmeier School being erected on South Springfield Avenue.

The resignation accepted was that of Mrs. Isabel Huff, a teacher in the James Caldwell School, who is leaving the system after 19 years of service. (Continued on Page 2)

Springfield Board of Education adopted a re-zoning program at its meeting Tuesday evening, May 17, which did not fully satisfy any of those in the large audience at the session. The vote on the measure was seven to one, the dissenting vote being cast by Dr. B. H. Josephson, Board Member Rupert H. Humer was absent.

Is Named To U.S. Naval Academy

The plan for zoning the township into areas to indicate which elementary school children in each area would attend next Fall was presented to the Board by its School Government Committee early in the evening. Immediately there were questions and comment from the spectators, some of it heated.

It was well that the matter was broached so soon after the Board gets a school system is serious business and it is often that the members of Springfield Board of Education are given an opportunity to laugh heartily. And not many Board meetings have been as serious as the one held Tuesday evening, May 17. Yet it was at this session that the trustees (and others present) were given the chance to let out loud giggles.

Board Secretary A. B. Anderson read a letter from a teacher asking for time off with pay, giving her reason for the request that "due to circumstances beyond my control, it was necessary for me to get married before the end of the school year."

meeting started, for the debate on it continued until after ten o'clock before the vote on the proposal was taken. Released to consider other school business, the Board continued in session until midnight — the longest regular session on record this year.

Robert H. Mulhauser, chairman of the Board's School Government Committee, submitted the report — the outcome of what he described as many hours of study and discussion by his group and the Board as a whole — on how the township's pupils should be assigned to the four kindergarten-to-Fifth grade schools — Caldwell, Chisholm, Walton and the Sandmeier building now under construction.

Donald Bryant Gibbins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gibbins, of 19 Park Lane, Springfield, has been appointed to the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. It has been announced by Congressman Florence P. Dwyer.

Donald is the second of Mrs. Dwyer's nominees to be accepted at the Naval Academy. John E. Reiersen of Edison was her principal appointee, while the Springfield youth originally was named as an alternate.

Donald also has been awarded an ROTC scholarship to Cornell University and is faced with the problem of choosing between the two.

A Senior at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, he is a member of the track and basketball teams. He is also affiliated with the Science Club, Chemistry Club, Slide Rule Club, Key Club and is treasurer of the First Nighters, a youth group.

Active in church work, he is an Eagle Scout, head of the Explorer Post and Junior Assistant Scoutmaster. Scholarastically, he ranks in the top ten in a class of 460.

Mrs. Dwyer said that it is unusual for the Academy to select two nominees from one representative in Congress.

Re-Zoning

 maps to illustrate the conclusions his committee had come up with and as soon as the boundaries of the four areas were displayed, there were howls from the audience.
 While a goodly number of the men and women who crowded the meeting room took part in the attack on the report, major contributors to the demonstration of dissatisfaction were Mrs. Sonya Dorsky, of Milltown Road; Harold Alpher, of 367 Milltown Road; Judge Harold Ackerman, of 121 Laurel Drive; Mrs. Edward Donner, of 128 Laurel Drive; Mrs. D. A. Sako, of 30 Hemlock Terrace.
 It became apparent quickly that the chief objection to Mr. Mulhaup's layout was the distance small children would be obliged to walk to and from school and the effect it would have on their lunching habits. Also emphasized was the "distracted" condition threatening mothers who had children going to different schools and coming home at different hours.
 Further, much was made (particularly by Mr. Alpher, who became quite eloquent on the subject) about the safety of youngsters who would be obliged to travel over streets having no sidewalks.
 Plan Called Best
 It was pointed out that the figures had been twisted and turned in all directions and shapes by the School Government Committee in an effort to come up with a plan that would be equitable while at the same time provide the children with the best educational opportunities possible. This objective, said Mr. Mulhaup and other members of the Board, notably Frank W. Haydu Jr., was of paramount importance and the supreme responsibility of the Board of Education.

 The problem of hot lunches for the young folks was recognized as a matter deserving further attention. When the motion was adopted approving the re-zoning plan, appended was a proviso that the question of setting up lunch room space in the schools be given more study.
 In answer to the safety and lack of sidewalks complaint, mention was made that action had been taken by the Township Committee to lay sidewalks on Evergreen Street and along South Springfield Avenue. This is being done, it was said, at the request of the school board. (Further action on the sidewalk project may be part of the Township Committee's business at its meeting Tuesday evening, May 24 — Editor.)
 Dr. Josephson, the only objector on the Board to the re-zoning plan, thought a compromise could be worked out that would reduce the walking distance for some of the children. While his idea met with approval among the spectators, it did not impress his colleagues on the Board.

 fected by a desire for greater laurels.
 Since I took office as Township Committeeman my only aim has been to assist in bringing sound, responsible leadership to our community and to do all in my power to justify the confidence placed in me by the thousands of voters, Democratic and Republican, who elected me.
 I have always sought to live up to those aims. Naturally, in so doing, I have had to exercise all the independence of thought and freedom of action which I possess. I shall continue to follow that course — I know of no other way. But of this I am certain, to accomplish those aims it is not necessary to bear the title "Mayor."
 The Township Committee has many matters before it which bear importantly on the welfare of our community and its citizens. These matters will require all the attention of the committee so that they may be resolved.
 These are not political matters, are the things which hold my interest and to which I am devoting my time and thoughts in an earnest effort to arrive at the right decision in the best interests of all the residents of Springfield.
 I sincerely hope that the Republican editors will understand this and stop using my name in their plot to muddy up the waters by their amateurish attempts to split the Democratic Party. If this is their aim they better get themselves another boy, I will not be available.
 Township Committeeman, (Democrat) Daniel M. Lucy

Letters

GIVES THANKS FOR SPEECH FUND AID

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The letter below from the faculty member trainer of the members of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Chapter of the National Forensic League was sent to a contributor to the fund being raised to send three top speakers and an adult to San Diego, Cal., to take part in a national tournament in June. The letter is printed here to help the fund-raising effort. It is hoped that what Mr. Stauffer says will inspire many more people to send him money so that the young folks may make the trip west and, possibly, bring back with them more forensic honors for Jonathan Dayton.)
 The letter:
 I wish to express the sincere thanks of Jonathan Dayton Chapter of the National Forensic League for your contribution to help send our speech champions to the National Speech Tournament at San Diego, Cal., this June.
 The experience that will be gained, the educational values received and the opportunity to meet with young people from all over the country cannot be measured in dollars and cents, however, without your contribution this opportunity could not have been fulfilled.
 Although we are doing all we can, it would have been impossible for us to raise the required funds through school activities alone. Your contribution is sincerely appreciated. I cannot promise that our people will return with any national honors. In fact, I never ask them to enter any contest just for the purpose of winning. The major objective is the training, values and experiences received from the contest. However, I can assure you that you, our school and our community will be well-represented. Every effort will be made by our people to learn and achieve all they can from this wonderful opportunity that you have helped make possible.
 Sincerely,
Clyde A. Stauffer

LAUDS "THE CRUSADERS" FOR ASSISTANCE

(The following copy of a letter sent to Mayor Vincent J. Bonadies of Springfield was submitted to the Sun for publication — Editor.)
 Office of the Mayor Springfield, New Jersey
 Dear Mr. Mayor:
 It is with the utmost of pleasure that I write to your office of the fine group of young men known as "THE CRUSADERS." To be honest with you, I had never heard of the group before, but last Saturday night, April 16, upon returning from a visit with friends in Morristown, our car broke down on Route 24 between Morristown and Madison.
 This being a holiday weekend and we being unacquainted with the area, all we could do was wait until someone would be kind enough to give us a lift to the next town where we might telephone for help.
 All of a sudden, as if by magic, a car pulled up in front and to the side of the road and out stepped a fine, clean-cut young man and asked if he could be of service. He explained he was a member of "THE CRUSADERS," whose job it is to help stranded motorists along the road.
 This young man went to work on the motor and within 15 minutes he had the motor going again. He then had us follow him into Madison to make cer-

BARBARA MUDD

The Rev. Edward Oehling, assistant pastor of St. James Roman Catholic Church in Springfield, officiated Tuesday, May 16, at the High Mass Requiem for Barbara A. Mudd, 18, of 55A Morris Avenue, Springfield, who died Saturday, May 7, interment followed in Gate of Heaven Cemetery, Hanover.
 Barbara was a student at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alban P. Mudd. In addition to her parents, she is survived by two sisters, Rosemary and Roberta, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Imhoff.
 The Mudd family is new to Springfield, having come here from Livingston only a year ago.

tain that we would not have the same trouble again. In town he tried the one local service station to see if by chance they might carry the part that was needed, but unfortunately the station had closed.
 When this young man bid us good-bye, I offered to pay him for his services. This he refused, and he offered me a card with the "Crusaders" name printed on it.
 In closing, Mr. Mayor, I would seem to me that these young men are doing a splendid job, both for their immediate community and also, perhaps, their good deeds will overflow into surrounding areas.
 Again, our best wishes and many thanks for their help.
 Best Wishes,
 Milton J. Krell

Hospital Conditions Called Hazardous to Get Freeholder Action

Union County Board of Freeholders has received a report which indicates that 96 "hazardous" fire violations exist at the John E. Rummels Hospital in Berkeley Heights.

The alleged violations were included in a report by the Middle Department Association of Fire Underwriters. They exist in 19 buildings at the county institution, the report stated.

The report recommends correction of about 100 "non-standard" conditions which were said to exist in structures at the hospital. Seven of the violations are in the operating room, according to the report.

Given Clean Bill

Four buildings—the chlorine house, a garage at the power house, the greenhouse and the administration building were given a clean bill of health by the Association.

Conditions labeled "hazardous" exist in the power house, carpenter shop, pump house, engineer's dwelling, Pine Cottage, male help building, children's building, "B" shack, auditorium, Rose Hall, superintendent's dwelling, "K" building, wing and annex, medical building, "B-1" shack, Dr. Goedert's dwelling, wagon shed, warehouse, roof cellar and the apple cellar in the round building, according to the Association.

Freeholder Dr. Edward J. Carlin, Rahway Democrat and chairman of the welfare committee, said that the Freeholders were aware of the defects and that the current overhaul of the institution's facilities would result in their correction.

Called Minor

Most of the violations cited were minor. The Board is considering selling $100,000 in bonds for the improvements at the hospital.

In appreciation, the League, of which Mrs. Stromeyer is a cousin to Mrs. Houle, at the left is shown Mrs. Robert B. Meyer, wife of the Governor of New Jersey, who extended her best wishes to Mrs. Houle.

Barbara Jones, Mountainside Junior At Regional High In Springfield, Is Winner Again

A Mountainside girl took fourth prize in the girls division of the National Science Fair International held recently in Indianapolis.

Barbara Jean Jones, 17, of Far View Drive, Mountainside, was one of two New Jersey winners in the fair. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Minor C. K. Jones. Dr. Jones is a member of the Regional Board of Education.

Barbara exhibited a study in mathematics, "The Geometry of Bubbles and Liquid Films." She is a Junior at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield.

Barbara also won one of two top awards at the seventh annual Greater Newark Science Fair held at Newark College of Engineering. The win qualified her to compete in the national contest.

The girls' project consisted of an outline of the laws governing the formation of bubbles and liquid films with accompanying color photographs and illustrative diagrams.

Barbara topped 248 other competitors in the Newark competition. At Indianapolis, she competed with about 160 regional finalists. Her sponsoring teacher was Walter A. Hohn.

Science Teachers In Regional Are State Officers

Three Union County Regional High School science teachers were elected to various positions in New Jersey Science Teachers Association at the annual Spring meeting held this year at Rutgers University. Miss Monica Rich, biology teacher at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield, was elected to the post of corresponding secretary, while Walter Hohn, also of Dayton Regional, was elected vice-president. In addition, G. Barclay, biology teacher at the Johnson Regional High School in Clark was elected vice-president of the Central Region of the N.J. S.T.A.

SHOP TEACHER ELECTED

Stanley Grossman, graphic arts teacher at Dayton Regional High School for the last four years, recently was elected president of Union County Industrial Arts Association. The group, composed of county-shop teachers, meet four times a year to review and study new developments in the field of industrial arts.

Mr. Grossman also was elected vice-president of the New Jersey Industrial Arts Teachers Association at the annual meeting held in Asbury Park.

High School Soph Paints Town In Colors--On Map

A 15-year-old Mountainside student, Paul Marzell, has painted his town on Mountainside, in a manner of speaking.

As a matter of fact, Paul Marzell, of 1189 Ridge road, has the borough on six large boards under 80 pounds of plaster. The nine-by-six-foot model was made as a contribution to a geography assignment at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield.

The big job took six weeks. Paul started with a map of the borough. He also climbed trees to get a closer look at the lay of the land and bicycled through the borough's 4.03 square miles to count houses.

Shows Most of Town

The teenager noted that one or two buildings and a couple of winding streets may be missing from the map but said that most of the borough is represented at a scale of three feet to the mile.

The project includes trees and shrubs of rubber, buildings of balsam, light and power poles of plastic and the lawn terrain and the Watchung Reservation are of sawdust sprayed green.

The whole deal is fitted on a bed of plaster molded to represent the topography as the youngster saw it. Ten colors were used to paint the town.

The project has been on display at the high school. George Cuzzolino is the youth's instructor.

operates on house current and halts to the project. Paul notes that he spends 90 per cent of his free time on aviation and the other ten per cent on golfing. He reported that he is undecided whether to be a real estate salesman or a pilot.

His father, Henry, is vice-president of Louis Schlesinger Co., Newark.

Mrs. Irma Ames, president of the Group, mentioned in her speech that the following members made no less than six donors (equal to at least $20 profit for the group): Mrs. Ames, Mrs. Helen Gurian, Mrs. Dorothy Lesser, Mrs. Roz Segel, Mrs. Elaine Shepar, all of Springfield.

The largest donor credit, 11 donors, was made by Mrs. Diana Schulman, who received a surprise gift of a bottle of champagne.

Senator To Aid Freeholder Board On School Plan
State Sen. Robert C. Crane has indicated that he is prepared to take steps to help Union County Board of Freeholders to draw up a resolution on the financing of the proposed county vocational and technical high school.

Crane noted that earlier in the year the Board indicated that it wanted legislative assistance for an enabling law that would permit a referendum on the proposed school.

Voters Would Decide
The law is designed to remove the objects of some communities, including those in the Regional High School district. The referendum would allow people to choose between financing by a general tax levy and on a per capita basis.

Member boards of the Regional school district have opposed the school on the grounds that the vocational needs of students in the regional area are adequately cared for and it is not fair to ask residents to pay taxes for services they don't need.

The referendum would allow residents to ask for a per capita tax system, which would mean that communities would be assessed on the basis of their usage of the county school only.

Crane, in a letter to the Board, said: "I am now asking for the Board's cooperation in wording a public question."

Donahue Opposed
He said he felt that, since a number of municipalities had raised objections to being taxed for the schools, the towns should have the opportunity to exempt themselves.

Freeholder John V. Donahue, Roselle Democrat who has spearheaded the vocational school movement, has been opposed to the referendum. Donahue maintains, with state backing, that most of the other vocational schools in the state are financed from the general tax levy.

calls for a change in the congregation's name.

Many reports for the year from various committee chairmen will be given also.

The meeting will take place at 8:30 p.m. at the Parish House of the First Presbyterian Church, 37 Main Street, Springfield.

The broad emphasis in the area on urban renewal is being felt on the individual property owner level, according to Mr. Gardner. Homeowners are prompted to borrow for property improvements by a genuine desire to contribute to the betterment of the community as well as to maintain and increase the value of their investment.

In recent months, through Federal Housing Administration loans, Crestmont Savings and Loan Association, according to figures released by Loren F. Gardner, president.

The FHA plan, Crestmont Savings provides funds to homeowners for such improvements at a five per cent discounted rate. Amounts up to $800 are available for one-family homes, to be repaid over a period of three years. Greater amounts, to a maximum of $3,500, may be repaid in five years. Amounts up to $2,500 per family in multiple-family dwellings to a maximum of $15,000 per dwelling are available for repayment over a period up to seven years.

Mail Routes At P.O. Adjusted
Postmaster A. V. Del Vecchio of Springfield has announced that all letter carrier routes of Springfield Post Office have been re-aligned. The route adjustments result in changes of arrival time of the letter carriers at each residence.

The Postmaster stated it was necessary to make these route adjustments since the annual inspection of letter carrier routes indicated the average mail volume processed by each carrier had increased by 36% over that handled during the preceding year.

This increased mail volume, in addition to extension of city delivery service to new residences over the past year, resulted in routes which were 1 1/2 hours in excess of the legal eight-hour work day of employees.

Mr. Del Vecchio also stated that readjustment of the routes will permit each carrier to properly and effectively handle all mails within the limits set by the Post Office Department.

As a direct result of the route adjustments, these new routes have been created, making a total of 16 letter carrier routes at the Springfield Post Office.

Every American military installation has an education officer, assigned the duty of assisting the men in his command in furthering their civilian education. The Armed Forces realize that an educated America is a significant factor in this country's Power for Peace.

The Regional students were among 500 entrants. The Newark contest was sponsored by New Jersey Vocational and Arts Education Association.

Regional Students Win In Contest

The projects will be shipped to Dearborn, Mich., in July to compete with work from schools throughout the nation in an industrial arts award contest.

WEEKEND IN WALES
The land of poets and singers, boasts a native. "A foreign country, scarcely part of Great Britain," says an Englishman. "A country of fighters, brave people fighting to keep their culture and language from extinction," says another. "It's a beautiful country. You'll love Wales," predicts a fellow-American, "but you'll hate the hotels." Our too-short tour through Wales showed us that they were all right.

Lodgings Not So Hot
The lodgings weren't anything to write home about, but we didn't mind. In fact, we usually steer clear of places marked RAC (Royal Automobile Club) or AA (Automobile Association) for expensive. We spent one night in a rambling old castle. Our room was huge and cold; the bathroom (down the hall) was ill-lighted and grimy and not quite operational.

Another night we combed a Welsh village for a double free-but, believe it or not, the rooms were too small for us to fit the baby's crib in. The same problem came up the next two nights in Wales; but never mind, we weren't looking for posh lodgings. Just a bed and enough room for Claire.

And we found it. Wales itself made us for any discomforts we suffered.

Murder Holes Anent
The coast is studded with castles. Some are only ruins, now but each bears vestiges of a most arduous and murderous struggle through which boiling oil was poured down on the heads of invaders. At the beautifully preserved castle in Caernarvon, I learned why the eldest son of the ruler of England is known as the Prince of Wales. It seems that, in 1284, the Welsh people refused to be subject to a foreign (English) king. They wanted a ruler who was Welsh-born and who spoke no word of English. Willy Edward I gave it to them.

He rushed his Queen, who was expecting a baby, to Wales, and when the child was born, presented him to the Welsh. He had most certainly been born in Wales and he surely spoke no English! Whether or not that story is true, the tradition is still continued. In a few years, young Charles will be invested with the title in that same castle and be ceremonially presented to the Welsh as their prince.

Old Names
We saw the beautiful church of St. David's on the tip of the peninsula, the ancient castle at Pembroke, the pretty resort of Aberystwyth on Cardigan Bay, the forbidding castle at Harlech, delightful Llangollen.

As we toured along, we found towns named Plump, Betws-y-Coed, and, of course, the celebrated Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgogoch-ygwynnadrhwyllantysiliogogoch, which means, if you please, Church Mary a hollow white Hazel near to the rapid whirlpool church south red cave. Those words could be arranged more sensibly, but I don't dare—the Welsh are so touchy. The townspeople insist that their town is Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgogoch and so on, but the post office names it merely Llanfair-P. G.

Meaning of Names
We noticed that many Welsh towns are named Llanfair—something so on Saturday night. "What's that before a roaring fire with a kind host," we asked what it meant. He looked at his wife uncertainly. (Both speak English well but Welsh is obviously easier for them.) "It means Mary Church," his wife began, but he said, "No, I think it means town." They both laughed and he said, "I can tell you this much. To be a Llanfair (he pronounces it Clonfair) a place has to have three things: a cemetery, a church and a pub." We nodded and he went on: "When somebody dies, you bury him in the cemetery, pray for him in the church and go have a drink."

We saw the Roman steps that lead up from the coast and go inland for nearly two miles for no apparent reason. We heard the legend of the lost village—the one that the sea swept in and covered up—because the people got modern, sinful ideas. Even now, so they say, you can hear the church bell tolling mournfully far out under the waves.

At Aberdaron, we found people who don't speak any English at all—quite a rarity on this tight little island. And we

Schools To Be Asked To Aid Co. Banner

Union-County school children probably will be asked to help design the proposed Union County flag which has been proposed by Freeholder Mary C. Kanane, Union Republican.

The Freeholders unanimously adopted a resolution by Miss Kanane calling for the creation of a county banner. The plan is for a flag which will use the county seal on a field of blue.

The seal shows the famous scene of the shooting of British soldiers at the Caldwell Parsonage, Springfield.

The resolution was the first Republican measure adopted by the Democratic-controlled board this year. Freeholder Dr. Edward J. Carlin, Rahway Democrat, called Miss Kanane, "Our Betsy Ross."

Freeholder J. Andrew Stemmer, Clark Republican, suggested that high-school students be asked to contribute their ideas to the project.

Freeholder-Director Thomas J. O'Brien agreed and said a prize will be awarded to the winners. He said that invitations will be sent to schools to join in the effort.

Plains Dentist Steps Down As Society Head

A Scotch Plains man ended his tenure as president of Union County Dental Society at a dinner marking the 50th anniversary of the organization.

Dr. Albert W. Theurer, of Muir Terrace, Scotch Plains, who has offices in Roselle, was named to the board of trustees. He ended a one-year term as president.

About 80 persons attended the affair at the Townley Restaurant in Union. The Society has about 250 members.

Dr. Walter Schwartz of Scotch Plains was re-elected treasurer at the meeting which saw Dr. George Reusch of Cranford elected president.

The purposes of the organization are the cultivation of the science and art of dentistry, education of the public, encouraging and sustaining the highest standards of operative skill and ethics and the encouragement of free dental clinics.

Notable in the history of the Society was establishment in Elizabeth of the first free public school dental clinic in the state. The Society financed the equipment and provided the professional services.

Old Names

We saw the beautiful church of St. David's on the tip of the peninsula, the ancient castle at Pembroke, the pretty resort of Aberystwyth on Cardigan Bay, the forbidding castle at Harlech, delightful Llangollen.

Meaning of Names

We noticed that many Welsh towns are named Llanfair—something so on Saturday night. "What's that before a roaring fire with a kind host," we asked what it meant. He looked at his wife uncertainly. (Both speak English well but Welsh is obviously easier for them.) "It means Mary Church," his wife began, but he said, "No, I think it means town." They both laughed and he said, "I can tell you this much. To be a Llanfair (he pronounces it Clonfair) a place has to have three things: a cemetery, a church and a pub." We nodded and he went on: "When somebody dies, you bury him in the cemetery, pray for him in the church and go have a drink."

MAJOR YOUTH LEAGUE HIGHLIGHTS

Rotary beat Kiwanis, 6 to 1 at the Irwin Street field on May 10. Sheehan's fine clutch pitching plus two fielding gems by Siegel at Second helped pave the way to a Rotary victory. For Kiwanis, Rosenberg collected two hits and Garner's triple was the power at the plate. Mark Muller, in spite of losing, pitched a good game for Kiwanis.

In a well-played game that lasted only 50 minutes, the P. B. A. won a 3 to 2 victory over the Lions Club. The score was 2 to 1 with the Lions ahead in the bottom of the sixth inning. Stuart Falkin beat out a bunt. Greenberg then rifled a triple to right center, scoring Falkin to tie the game. George Bucek brought in Greenberg with the winning run when his ground ball shipped off the opposing second baseman's glove.

Hitching of the P. B. A. and Nemerson of the Lions pitched good ball. Extra base hits, in

Courses Being Readied For Adult School Next Fall

George Somers, chairman of the curriculum committee for the Regional Adult School to be held at the Governor Livingston Regional High School in Berkeley Heights, has announced that approximately 30 courses are being planned for a predicted enrollment of more than 300 adults next fall.

This endeavor is sponsored by the Board of Education of Union County Regional High School District No. 1 and will be a part of a co-ordinated program to be held at the new high school in Berkeley Heights on Tuesdays at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School in Springfield on Wednesdays and the Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School in Clark on Thursdays.

Director Chosen

Dr. Monroe Spivak, teacher at Barringer High School, Newark, has been designated as director for the entire three-school program.

Specific courses to be offered will be tailored to community interest in the area of the school where they are being held, as determined by a questionnaire sent to residents of the Regional District in April. More than 200 of these were completed and returned in Berkeley Heights alone. Returns from this area indicated a preference for intellectual courses, such as science and languages. (Recreational courses are offered by Berkeley Heights Woman's Club and the Recreation Commission and will not be duplicated.)

Languages Popular

As interest in foreign languages is particularly high in Berkeley Heights, French, Spanish and Russian will be offered here. Russian was the most popular course in the adult session last year, held at Columbia School this year, according to Mr. Somers, and it will be continued as an adult course next year in the new program at Governor Livingston High School.

Professor Michael Zane, formerly an instructor at the University of Warsaw, again will teach this course. (Professor Zane has been hired by Bell Laboratories to teach scientific Russian.)

Another carry-over from the adult session at Columbia School will be a course in creative writing conducted by Mrs. Barbara Birch Jamison of Summit. Mrs. Jamison has published stories and articles in leading magazines and newspapers, including The New York Times.

To Offer Astronomy

A course in astronomy, in which students will construct their own telescopes, will utilize the new observatory which is being built into the Governor Livingston High School.

Dr. Carl Schwartz, instrumental music teacher in Berkeley Heights, will conduct a community instrumental ensemble group.

There will be an electronics course which will lead into instruction in building hi-fi and stereo equipment.

Beginners and advanced courses will be held in securities and investments. The advanced course will be taught by William

Plans for the future include extension courses to be offered here for credit by colleges in the area. Teacher certification courses will be offered in all three high schools, according to demand, this fall.

Mr. Somers praised the vision of Dr. Warren M. Davis, Superintendent of Schools in the Regional High School District, who was instrumental in co-ordinating this program. Dr. Davis visualizes this endeavor as culminating in a community college which will help to lessen the critical shortage of college facilities in this area.

Models Not Completed; Sells Record 15 Homes

If a new community of homes in the $27,000 range were to sell 15 houses on an inaugural week, it would be considered an interesting news item. But when 15 homes are sold over one weekend at a tract where the model homes aren't even half completed, that's a real feat! And such is the report made last weekend by the builders of Smithfield Park, a new 55-home tract in Springfield, N. J., now being readied for early June opening.

According to Sam Piccone of Piccone Realty Co., exclusive sales agent for the new community on the former Smith farm off Milltown Road, last weekend ushered in crowds around the 8 model homes that would challenge any grand opening—and a total of 15 purchasers was recorded 36 hours later, in spite of the fact that the insulation and sheetrock hadn't even yet been installed. It is indicative, says Piccone, that the public is quick to recognize what it wants and is willing to "place deposits on something it desires even before the product is actually completed."

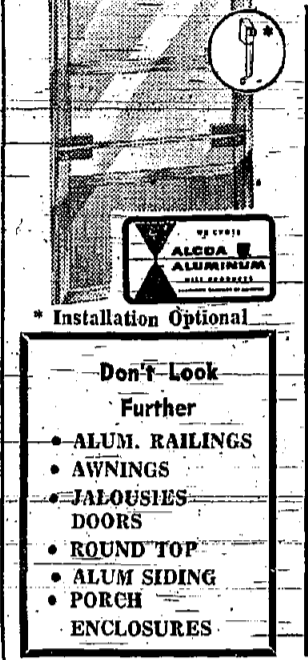

Being featured at Smithfield Park in Springfield are 3 different models priced from $27,390 to $27,990.

Among them is the Martha Washington, the first bi-level ranch ever built in Springfield. It includes 8 rooms with 3 or 4 bedrooms, 3 baths, 27 ft. portico with planter, 12 spacious closets, 23 ft. recreation room, 17 ft. den and a 2-car garage. The second model, called the Betsy Ross, is a brick and cedar front split level with 3 bedrooms plus an unfinished second-level 4th bedroom, recreation room, finished den, "stage-effect" living room, 2 1/2 or 3 1/2 baths, 26 ft. garage and basement.

recessed ranges, range hoods as well as jalousie windows and choice of wood finished cabinets. Also included are color coordinated baths with mosaic tiled vanities and walls and triple-view mirrors. All recreation rooms are paneled in Luan mahogany.

Springfield, Mountainside Lutheran Women At Banquet

Twelve women from Holy Cross Lutheran Church, 639 Mountain Avenue, Springfield, field, attended on Friday, May 13 the luncheon banquet of the 18th annual convention of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League (Atlantic District) in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York. About 1,700 delegates and guests representing 250 congregations of the Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod in Eastern New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts and other New England States, were in attendance. Speaker for the convention banquet was Dr. Louis P. Lochner, Pulitzer prize-winning journalist, lecturer and radio commentator. Theme of the convention was "Continue Steadfast."

Attending from Holy Cross Church were: Mesdames H. Libby, J. Haselmann, L. Mersersmidt, C. Holmberg, W. Gaestel, William Kistner, G. Bublitz, of Springfield; Mrs. J. Dunleavy of Short Hills, Mrs. A. Jacobsen of Mountainside, Mrs. R. Wilson of Summit, Mrs. L. Luedeker and Mrs. R. Dougherty, of Chatham. Has 200,000 Members

The Atlantic District of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League is one of 35 districts of the International Lutheran Women's Missionary League, with a national membership of 200,000. The Atlantic District has a membership of 250 societies with a membership of nearly 11,000. The League, dedicated to presenting the Gospel of Christ, fosters mission work in the United States and in foreign countries. While each district is a unit in itself with its own projects, it also co-operates in supporting projects of the international organization. All funds are gathered on an entirely free will basis.

The spiritual project for the year May 1959-1960 of the Atlantic District has been "Applying God's Stewardship Principles to the Society Program." The financial projects were the renovation of Brook Farm, Boston, Mass., a haven for neglected and dependent children, and assistance to Redeemer Lutheran Church, Plattsburgh, N. Y., for its service to the students at the State Teachers College.

The international projects which the Atlantic District supports are a high school in Han-no, Japan; a combination administration building and dormitory for the co-educational high school in Espirito Santo, Brazil; and a seminary in Manila, the Philippines.

$50,000 Accident Court Suit Filed

A Springfield man has filed a $50,000 suit in Superior Court for serious injuries suffered in an accident in Union.

Raymond Ford, 29, of 60 Diven Street, Springfield, is seeking the money from Richard B. Worrids, of 336 Cottage Street, Rahway, and his sister, Mrs. Bertha Worrids Brown, of 358 Stiles Street, Union, owner of the car.

Ford was a passenger in the Worrids vehicle when it missed a turn and struck a tree Sept. 20 in Milltown Road, Union. He reportedly lost 17 weeks work because of the accident.

He was taken to Overlook Hospital, where he was treated for multiple lacerations, a concussion and sprains of the left knee and lower back. A chin cut required ten sutures. Philip Bolstein of Elizabeth is representing the plaintiff.

Cape May City in Cape May County claims to be the oldest seashore resort in America and the birthplace of the resort industry. Nature lovers call it the "bird capital" of North America.

The State of New Jersey has set aside 240,000 acres for hunting and fishing. The State-owned land is under wildlife control, and a systematic restocking program is conducted at all streams.

TAKING CARE OF YOUR GARDEN

By Edward A. Cardinal

Now is an ideal time to apply Milky Disease Spore Powder for the control of Japanese beetle grubs. This powder, developed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture many years ago, gives lasting protection with just one inexpensive application.

This powder, when applied to soils, develops a bacteria that attacks and kills the beetle grubs. The grubs, themselves, carry the disease through the soils to infect other grubs, and in time will render the whole area immune to beetle grubs. It is non-poisonous, and will not injure warm blooded animals, earthworms and beneficial insects. Marked reduction of grubs will be noted in one year, and almost complete reduction will be noted within three years.

This method is ideal where chemicals have been used to control grubs that are in the soil, but not recommended when a severe infestation is present because it is much too slow and the grubs could destroy the sod before the disease spread sufficiently. Even though you have used chlordane, DDT, or other grub-proofing materials, by all means consider Milky Spore Disease dust.

Q: My neighbor's lawn is loaded with dandelions. Is there anything I can use to keep them from my lawn?

A: No. If you get dandelions in your lawn, just use liquid or powdered 2, 4-D and they will disappear. Here's a tip: put your neighbor's name on the D.M. Scott's mailing list and he will probably wind-up hating dandelions as much as you do.

Q: My new lawn came up well, but I think it needs feeding. My spreader is rather old or I'd like a fertilizer that will not burn. What shall I use?

A: Use a 100% natural organic fertilizer with a nitrogen content around 5 or 6%. This can be applied without fear of burning, even if over-dosed.

Q: I recently visited a lovely garden and it was mulched with a chocolate brown material that wasn't peat. Can you tell me what it is?

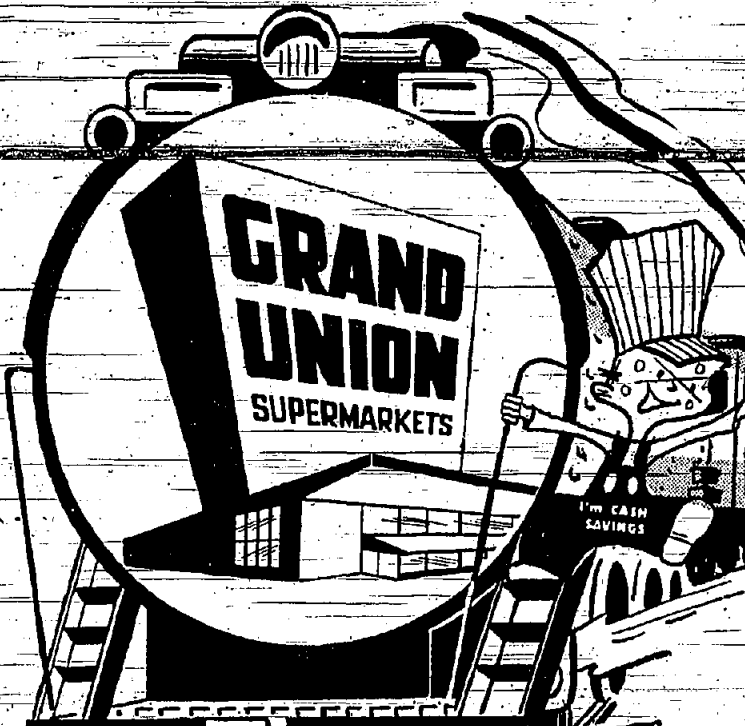

A: Probably cocoa bean hulls. It has a delightful odor, and doesn't float away like peat. Our garden center has stocked it for years, but it is not a widely advertised product. Make certain not to buy the cocoa powder, for it will mildew.

Q: The builder put in evergreens that are growing loose and turning brown in the center. Can anything be done to help them?

A: Fertilize with evergreen fertilizer. Give them a good shearing immediately, and soon the new growth will cover up the brown centers. Some plants are always dead in the center, because light and air does not get in, but a properly sheared plant will hide the brown part.

Q: What is the tree that is so beautiful now? It has flowers similar to a pink rose and smells like one.

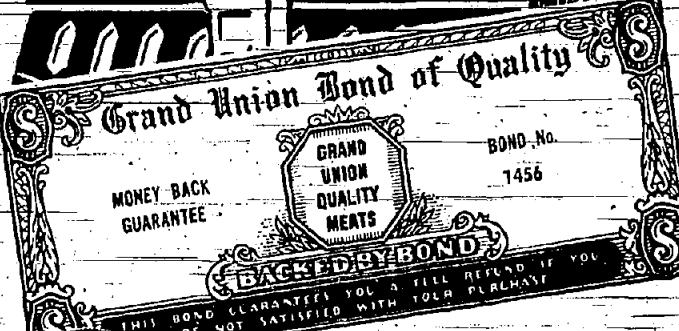

A: This is Bechtels crab apple, malus ioensis plena, or sometimes called rose tree. It is one of our most beautiful trees, but scarce and hard to get in large sizes. Our nursery has been raising them with the hope of letting them get to large sizes, but the few we have left are only five feet tall.

"Waltz" Opens At Paper Mill Tues.
"The Great Waltz," which opens at the Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn Tuesday evening, May 24, with Dennis King starred as Johann Strauss Sr., is being staged in response to many requests for the Playhouse to present "one of the old melodious operettas."
"Musically," says Frank Carrington, who is directing the show with the assistance of Agnes Morgan, "The Great Waltz" is hard to top because its score contains the famous compositions of Johann Strauss Jr.
Among the numbers are "Tales from the Vienna Woods," "Wine, Women and Song," and, of course, "The Beautiful Blue Danube," possibly the best-known waltz ever written. A high spot of the show is the ballet done to the "Blue Danube," which has been choreographed by David Timmar.
"The Great Waltz" will be presented Tuesday through Sunday evenings, with matinees Thursday and Saturday. Discount rates for groups and special matinee prices for school and Girl Scout parties are available. In addition there are dinner-theatre-and-theatre support "packages" for "The Great Waltz" that may be enjoyed at special combination rates.

Watching Lake To Be Swim Club
Plans to convert Watching Lake in Watchung from a public facility to a family swim club have been announced by Mr. and Mrs. John H. McDonough of Spring Lake, who purchased the recreational site earlier this year.
Mr. McDonough said the lake will be operated for family recreation from May 30 through September 11. Club hours will be 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., seven days a week, and Red Cross certified lifeguards will supervise a water safety program, including daily swimming instruction. Locker facilities and a snack bar will be operated throughout the season.
Limited membership will be open to residents of Watchung and surrounding communities, Mr. McDonough reported. Brochures are being sent to prospective members.

"Damn Yankees" Begins Run
The Meadowbrook Dinner Theatre is preparing to usher in a homerun musical comedy, "Damn Yankees." The time-filled Broadway baseball story begins a five-week run at the Meadowbrook starting Tuesday night, May 24.
Betty Kober, who appeared in "Damn Yankees" on Broadway, will play Lola in the exclusive North Jersey engagement.

ment of this show. Chat Sammers is set for the Joe Hardy role. He had the lead in "Lil Abner" last summer at the Pine Brook Music Tent.
With "Damn Yankees" in rehearsal, the Meadowbrook is presenting "Kismet" through Sunday night, May 22.

Motor-vehicle accidents take more lives annually, according to the National Safety Council, than any other major class of accident — home, public or work.

Careful Planting Can Add Interest to Landscaping

The trees and shrubs used in the Connecticut turnpike plantings bear a variety of fruits which add color and interest to the roadside. For example, the cones of the evergreen trees such as the Pines, Hemlocks, Spruces and Larches combine interesting shapes with warm, brown tones viewed against a background of green needles. The small cone-like fruits of the Birches also provide a rich brown color to combine with the pale, summer green of the leaves or with their autumn yellows. The long, twisted red-brown pods of the Honeylocust add another warm but muted color note in unusual form. Fruits of lighter hue brighten the plantings in late summer, fall and into winter. The bright red berries of the Flowering Dogwoods and the Hawthorns are the most familiar of these. The yellow, yellow-orange and red of the Crabapples are also conspicuous, while the red or maroon-purple of the Serviceberries add a quieter, richer color to the scene. The orange-red berries of the Mountain Ash strike a gay and cheerful note wherever they are used. The shrubs used in those plantings likewise contributed their share of colorful fruits; red and reddish-brown in the case of the Sumacs; red, black or black-purple from the Chokeberries; bright red berries on the Japanese Barberries; white, blue and red on the various shrub Dogwoods; clouds of pinkish greyish fruits on the Smoke-tree bushes; bright red berries on the Cotoneasters; scarlet capsules on the Eustomas; bright yellow-orange on the Common Sea Buckthorn; black and blue-black on the Privets; dark red berries on the bush Honey-suckles and bright red berries on the Roses and the Winter berries; a range of berry colors on the different types of Viburnums, including green, red, dark red and black, blue-black, and black on the Blueberries and Elderberries; and yellow-orange on the Bittersweet.

Finally, the colors of tree trunks, branches, twigs and leaf petioles determine the landscape, almost completely, since such a large percent of the plant materials used has been deciduous. The silver-greys of the Red Maples, Beeches and Tupelos contrast with the darker greys and browns of the trunks and branches of other trees and shrubs in winter. Against this background, it has been possible to provide interest and variety with the red twigs and petioles of the Red Maples; the yellow-green branches of the Yellowstem White Willows; the white of the Birch bark; the graceful yellow-green branches of the Forsythias; and especially with the warm red canes of the Redosier and Siberian Dogwoods.

Despite thousands of warnings, plastic bags still are a suffocation menace to children under one year. They should be kept out of cribs, playpens, carriages — and out of children's reach, of course. Before disposing of a plastic bag, tear it up or tie it in a knot, suggests the National Safety Council.

GARDEN BOUQUET — When broadleaved evergreens are in flower they appear like a massive bouquet of pink, red, yellow or white flowers as the case may be. This rhododendron has exploded into a spectacular color display. Rhododendrons and azaleas require acid soil, but they can be startling in their beauty, says the American Association of Nurserymen. There are broadleaved evergreens of many kinds for every climate. Consult with your nurseryman for species suitable for your soil and climatic conditions.

simple. Do this: Feed them periodically for spray, such as bordeaux will correct it. Check them now for borers. Examine trunk and larger branches for tiny holes with exuding sawdust or loose areas of bark where invading borers might lay eggs. Paint trunk and branches where rough bark is found with a slurry of DDT. Borers attack weakened trees. Prune dogwoods after they have bloomed. Since the limbs for better circulation of light and fuller development of bloom next year. Guard against botrytis, a fungus disease that takes hold when spring is wet. This often occurs when rain pelts the bracts onto leaves where they cling. Botrytis forms between bracts and leaf. A fungicide woods from Delaware at Maryland south through the Carolinas and Georgia. It is Spot anthracnose, another fungus disease, troubles dog-trees and tends to tree death.

Contrasting Foliage Can Enliven Highway Scenery
One of the most noticeable variations in roadside foliage while driving along highways emanates from colors of the leaves and flowers according to the American Association of Nurserymen. This is especially true in the fall season but also very noticeable in spring and summer. Combined with the different forms of the various trees and shrubs many interesting and striking combinations are achieved. The darker green of the white pine and spruces for example is striking against deciduous foliage from spring to fall. Evergreens add considerable warmth and interest during winter months as well. Often it is found that small clump of pines or other evergreens will add materially to a natural view of deciduous trees or shrubs. The parkways of Westchester county are planted with considerable variety of trees and shrubs that add greatly to the color of the parkways all year long. Flowering trees and shrubs are intermingled with other plants, both evergreen and deciduous. Dogwoods, flowering crabapples, and numerous other flowering plants are used to provide color over a long season. Quantities of hemlocks, white pine, as well as deciduous shade trees, such as the maples and oaks set them off. In urban locations were inter- state highways pass through residential areas, roadsides planted with a variety of trees and shrubs that supply interest all year long can, at no greater cost, be given foliage color and flower contrasts that cause many complimentary remarks from urban residents. When combined with both globular and columnar tree forms, the plantings are even more striking.

Dogwood Trees Flower Best When Cared For
The flowering dogwood ranks high among favorite lawn trees of eastern U. S. In May, with snowy blossoms in tier upon tier, it comes into its own with majestic beauty. The care of dogwoods, says Dr. Rush P. Marshall, director of the Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories, is rather

CD Headquarters Are 'Bombed Out'

The efficient civil defense crew which guided operations in the county during the recent attack on the county headquarters there if a bomb had really been dropped.

According to Addison C. Ely, county CD co-ordinator, the building did not withstand the "attack." The CD headquarters is located in a county garage at 2371 South Avenue, Scotch Plains.

The CD director noted that the control center did not survive the other mythical nuclear attacks. The report was given during a meeting of some 80 municipal CD officials at the Kenilworth CD control center.

Good News

Ely had good news for some residents of the county. He noted that the pattern of hypothetical nuclear bomb hits in the area shows a "corridor of safety" at the western end of the county, including areas of Berkeley Heights and New Providence.

Col. Howell L. Hodgskin, deputy CD director, declared that a control site or alternate should be located in the "corridor of safety" area. He stressed that the natural targets in the county included areas near the Bayway Refinery of Esso Standard, Division of Humble Oil & Refining Co., and Newark airport.

In general, the municipal CD directors came in for praise. Communication and radiologic services were particularly noted for their parts in the drills of May 3 through May 5.

The CD members also were told enabling legislation providing better continuity of government is necessary in the event a real attack occurred.

The subject was first discussed in Union County three years ago. New Jersey is one of the few states without such provisions.

St. Stephen's To Build New House

JOSEPH R. MAROTTA

At a supper meeting Monday evening, May 16, the members of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Main Street, Millburn, heard of plans for the new church house to be built adjoining the church. The Parish Hall was filled to capacity for the business meeting which followed the supper.

In his opening remarks the rector, the Rev. James Elliott Lindsley, introduced the officers of the church house campaign: C. Lawrence Keller and Andrew J. Turner, co-chairmen; Mrs. David H. Brown, chairman of hostesses for the supper; David H. Brown, advance gifts chairman; Arthur L. Taylor, campaign director.

During the meeting there was an interlude of music, with singing by Gary McHugh of the Meadowbrook.

The architect of the new church house, Frederick Thompson, a warden of the local church, explained the plans he had drawn and answered questions regarding its cost and facilities. The proposed building, which has been made necessary by the growth of the Church School and parish organizations, will provide 13 large classrooms, a main social room, a board room and two offices. There will be a large basement hall with kitchen facilities. The goal of the campaign is $85,000.

The kickoff dinner, Monday evening was the first major event in the campaign for funds. In the next four weeks, teams of canvassers will visit members and friends of the church. Division managers are Mrs. Sheldon H. Cady, Ferd W. Krumbholz, Victor Bracht, Stanley McConkey.

HEIGHS SOPHOMORE WINS SUMMER COURSE

Norman Goldberg, 42 Orion Road, Berkeley Heights, a Sophomore at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, was selected recently as a participant in the High-Ability Secondary Student Chemistry Institute to be held this summer at the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn.

The program, sponsored by the National Foundation of Science, is open to qualified high school students. In the program at the Institute, participants will have the opportunity of doing research work on problems in chemistry removed from the normal high school chemistry course.

S. Burdett Weds Cranford Girl

Miss Daphne Noel Butt of Cranford, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Butt of East Rockaway, N.Y., was married on Saturday, May 7, to Stanley Leroy Burdett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Burdett of 38 Morris Avenue, Springfield.

The ceremony was performed in Osceola Presbyterian Church, Clark, with the pastor, Rev. Albert G. Dezzo, officiating. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Arthur J. Cardinals, Wrens Tie In 9th, When Game Is Called

The game was called because of darkness, but the spectators were treated first to a Mountain Side Girls Softball game which was marked by outstanding pitching and playing by both teams—it was seven all in the sixth inning. Each team earned a run in the seventh and from then on it was strictly a pitchers' game.

Jean Condos, of the Wrens pitched the first six innings and scored two double plays. Carol Aurnhammer continued the fine pitching.

On the Cardinals side, Debbie Davidson and Linda Tuttle pitched the first six; then Dean Purchase, a little gal who had never pitched before, allowed only one run.

Leaves Scene, Pays Fine For Carelessness

A Linden woman was fined $18 in Mountainside Municipal Court last week on a careless driving charge filed by Alston Collins, a science teacher in Deerfield School.

Mrs. Stella Saunders, 55, of Linden, was among six drivers who were fined $98 for traffic violations during the April 27 court session.

Collins said that a car operated by Mrs. Saunders had sideswiped his car on Route 22 on March 22 and that she had left without leaving her address.

Continues On Way

He testified that he told the Linden woman "we'd better not stop here or we'll both be killed." Collins said he drove to Wyoming Drive intending that Mrs. Saunders follow him.

He stated that the woman continued on her way. The school teacher traced her through her license plate.

Mrs. Saunders stated that the road was very icy at the time of the accident and that she hadn't given her name and address "because I wasn't asked."

Collins said he would have been willing to ignore the incident if Mrs. Saunders had paid the $38 damages to his car.

"Not Co-Operative"

Magistrate Bauer said that she failed to exercise sufficient caution in the inclement weather and that she was "not very co-operative at all."

In other court action, Vladimir Dattay, 37, of 100 South Main Street, Manville, was fined $25 for contempt of court and another $10 for a noisy muffler.

The Manville resident's license was revoked by the State Motor Vehicle Division when he neglected to answer a summons issued April 14, 1950, by Patrolman Harry Boynton.

Robert J. Parella, 18, of Kenilworth had his license revoked for 30 days as a result of being fined $25 on a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 40-mile-an-hour zone.

Helene A. Kennelly, 49, of Summit paid $25 for speeding and Gustaf Nelson of Summit was assessed $10 for failing to have his truck inspected.
