Schools Defenseless In Bomb Attack Here Excepting St. James

With nuclear bomb attacks more possible than ever, it is sickening to realize how little protection the school children in Springfield will have from fallout in case some madman does press the panic button.

According to Springfield Civil Defense Director, Saul Freeman, a survey shows the following as far as fallout shelter in the Springfield schools in case of a bomb attack:

Only St. James school children would have a chance since there is enough room in the basement of the school to convert it into fallout shelter. It was built with a large basement now being used for an auditorium. At the Caldwell School, there is some room in the basement which could be transformed in case of an attack but not enough room to take care of many kids.

The Chisholm School also has some room in the basement. Two classes were held there but, according to the report, they were condemned for school use. The space, said CD Director Freeman, might be used for some fallout protection.

The Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, old section, has some room in the basement for fallout shelter but not the new addition which has no basement.

But the other newest schools - Gaudinier, Walton and the Sandmeier building - would have every one of its million glass windows broken with a bomb blast as far as 20 miles from Springfield, said Mr. Freeman.

Not only would these schools be shattered by the attack 20 or more miles from Springfield - but there would be no place to go as protection against the fallout danger.

THERE ARE NO BASEMENTS - NO WHERE TO RUN AND WAIT FOR THE NUCLEAR FALLOUT. THERE IS TOO MUCH GLASS IN ALL THESE NEW SCHOOLS AND THERE IS NOTHING UNDERGROUND, Mr. Freeman continued.

The Board of Education is an autonomous body and does not sit at a conference table in planning the building of schools or any program regarding the educational system of the Township. Officials in Springfield have been hoping for years that there would be closer liaison between the Township governing body and the Board of Education.

The newest schools in Springfield were constructed without discussing any of the problems for the future with either Civil Defense authorities or the Township Committee.

The threat of atomic bomb fallout has been a matter of great concern many years, but neither Walton, Sandmeier or Gaudinier have anything underground that could be converted into shelters.

School Children Need Fallout Protection

Civil Defense Director Saul Freeman is planning to ask the school authorities in Springfield to make some plans to protect the children against radio active fallout.

"Because of the construction used in the building of the new schools," said Freeman, "the protection factor against fallout is non-existent. The serious situation impels me to ask the school authorities, the guardians of the lives and well being of our school children what can be done about it."

"Serious consideration," continued the CD Director, "should be given to providing some form of shelter from fallout in our schools. The amount of time we may have as a warning of possible attack may be too short to allow the school children to reach their homes."

"In any period of imminent attack, parental concern for their children would certainly bring on near panic. Particularly when they know there is no shelter available."

Town Police Report Many Accidents

Five teenagers involved in motor vehicle accidents in Springfield within a three-day period this week were taken to Overlook Hospital, Summit, by the Springfield First Aid Squad.

One of the accidents occurred near the Hillside Avenue-South Springfield Avenue intersection, where a traffic light is presently being installed after months of delay because of the lack of State approval.

Richard Querques, 13, of 104 Hillside Avenue, was struck late Tuesday afternoon while riding a bicycle near the intersection by a station wagon, owned and operated by William F. Jacoby, 52, of 322-Boyd Avenue, Maplewood.

Springfield police reported that the driver said the boy came out from a parked truck and the driver did not see him until it was too late. The youth was taken in a semi-conscious condition with chest abrasions and arm bruises to the hospital, where he was detained, according to the police.

The other youths were injured when the automobile in which they were riding collided with a tree in Mountain Avenue at the corner of Hillside Avenue Sunday afternoon.

Those injured were Stanley Finkelstein, 17, of 56 Grummen Avenue, Newark, driver of the vehicle; Jay Warman, 18, of 158 Lela Avenue, Springfield; Stuart Mann, 17, of 224 Wainwright St., Newark; and Howard Gorman, 17, of 75 Vassar Avenue, Newark.

The youths suffered limb injuries and abrasions. The automobile, owned by Isaac Finkelstein, was towed from the scene by Seal's garage. Police reported that the driver stated that he stepped on the accelerator instead of the brake. Patrolman Charles T. Smith Jr. investigated.

Another auto accident Sunday involved two automobiles in Morris Avenue at Center St., when one skidded on the wet trolley tracks.

Driver of the one vehicle was Louis Fuschetto, 48, of St. Petersburg, Fla., whose left rear was damaged when it was in collision with an auto operated by Francis J. Gould Jr., 37, of 311 Old Stage Road, Spotswood, whose damage was to a fender, headlight and grill.

Police reported the cars were traveling east in Morris Avenue and the Fuschetto car had stopped for a red light when it was struck from behind, Patrolman Howard Thompson investigated.

Police investigate two other motor vehicle accidents Tuesday. One involved automobiles driven by Mrs. Alice Keimig, 52, of 319 Huntington Road, Union, and Miss Carol Nordstrom, 19, of 740 Willow Street, Cranford, who collided in Route 22 near the Howard Johnson Restaurant. The Keimig auto was towed from the scene. Patrolman Richard Elvin was the investigating officer.

The other involved automobiles operated by Charles B. Cohen, 59, of 77 C Troy Drive, Springfield, and George C. Destafano, 38, of 830 Pratt Street, Rahway. The cars collided at Bryant Avenue and Balmoral Way. Both vehicles received considerable damage and were towed from the scene. Investigating Patrolman Harold Searies reported both drivers were shaken up.

Help 3-Year Old Lindylee! Stricken With Encephalitis

CAN'T PLAY ANYMORE - Little Lindylee Brown is at Overlook Hospital, the victim of a dread disease. Funds have run out and Lindylee now needs immediate financial assistance.

Parents Need Financial Aid

Just four months ago, three year old Lindylee Brown was romping about and screaming with childish delight as she played with little neighbor friends in the yard of her home at 19 Morris Avenue, Springfield.

Today, and as she has for the last four months, Lindylee lies in the Overlook Hospital, Summit, a victim of the dread disease known as Encephalitis.

Pretty little Lindylee, a perfectly healthy and normal child only four months ago, does not talk, does not smile and gives no signs of recognizing her parents, Janet and Donald Brown, who spend endless days and nights at her bedside, hoping and waiting and praying that Lindylee gets well.

But prayers, love and care are not enough. Lindylee's daddy is in the roofing business and the hospitalization the Browns were entitled to in their insurance has already been exhausted.

It takes money to pay for the hospital bills, money to pay for drugs, for the medical care and for the specialists who are doing everything possible for Lindylee. An appeal is being made for funds to help Lindylee. Saul Freeman, Chairman of the Springfield Elks Crippled Children's Committee, has wholeheartedly accepted the job of handling the drive for money to help Lindylee.

Mr. Freeman had charge of the campaign to raise money for the Herman Speesbach fund a few years ago - the boy who was in a coma long after falling from his bicycle. The money, given by a generous Springfield, enabled the Speesbach boy to receive the medical and hospital attention that brought him back to good health.

Mr. Freeman and the Lindylee Brown Fund Committee, makes a strong appeal for immediate help - "to all our citizens to give whatever they can afford to this most worthy cause. Money is needed to make the lot of a helpless child a little easier and to relieve the parents of the additional and hopeless worry of how to pay the bills."

"We appeal to all organizations of Springfield to do their utmost to cooperate again, as they did in the past, to help raise funds for this family in distress," said Mr. Freeman to the Churches of Springfield, to the Girl Scouts, the Boy Scouts, to all those people and organizations who believe that we cannot live for ourselves alone.

"Collection boxes will be placed in all stores; you will recognize them by the label on the canister, when you see them, put your nickels, your dimes, your quarters in them."

"Send a check made payable to the 'Lindylee Brown Fund' in full care of Postmaster, Springfield, N. J., and you will have helped a little girl who is so ill. To have that chance that all of us would give our own child, you will have helped fellow residents to fulfill their own obligations to their daughter.

Please be generous, give to help this child."

New hours at the Gaudinier School are 8:20 A.M. to 2:00 P.M. for the sixth grade and educable class and 8:20 A.M. to 3:05 P.M. for the seventh and eighth grades.

School at the upper level school previously started at 8:30 A.M. and ended at 3:30 P.M. for all students. The school time was extended mainly so that a foreign language could be included in the curriculum for those pupils desiring it.

Twenty new teachers will begin assignments in the school system today. The new teachers, their schools and duties are as follows:

James Caldwell School: Mrs. Barbara Ericson, fourth grade; Miss Jean Shremshock, fifth grade. Raymond Chisholm School: Mrs. Helen Brannon, first grade; Mrs. Gail Mahood, second grade; Edward V. Pitney Starts Dems Drive

Township Committeeman John C. Pitney last night formally launched his campaign for the one-year unexpired governing body term in the November 7 election with a strong endorsement of continuing present municipal progress.

In a joint statement with his township committee running mates, Richard M. Sullivan and Peter Finnerty, the trio declared that continued economy and efficiency in local government must remain a "found the clock effort to keep progress going in Springfield."

Pitney, Sullivan and Finnerty told a rally of Republicans and Democrats that the present administration's outstanding record of accomplishments in all phases of government is even more gratifying in considering that Springfield this year has achieved the lowest tax rate in all Union County.

Pitney, Sullivan and Finnerty added: "The efficient and economical local government that our present administration has achieved must be maintained through constant alertness to the needs of our community through long range planning today for our requirements of tomorrow."

"The provisions for master planning that reflect the concern of our governing body for our future as residents has been established under a planning program whose major costs have been borne by Federal grants. This planning must continue as our principal guide in all departments of local government."

"There must be no relaxation either in the present administration's dedication to the welfare of the children of our community in expanding recreational facilities, including the ultimate construction of a municipal swimming pool."

"Financial stability in local government, as reflected in Springfield's tax rate being the lowest in the county, also must remain a major area of concern.

Springfield Elks Give $250

Three year old Lindylee Brown, who is at Overlook Hospital, suffering from that dread illness, Encephalitis, and needs money to help her get well, has been given some good news and hope.

The Springfield Elks have gotten the Lindylee Brown Fund off the launching pad with a check for $250.00, Saul Freeman, chairman of the Lindylee Fund Drive, says he already has promises from several other civic organizations but the checks will not be ready until their members formally approve it at regular meetings.

Those who wish to contribute to this worthy cause can do so by making checks payable to the Lindylee Brown Fund and mail them in care of the Postmaster, Springfield. A post office box is being arranged for and will be announced in next week's issue.

Starting with next week's issue of the Springfield SUN, the names of all contributors and the amounts given will appear.

If for some reason, a contributor does not wish to have his name appear in the published list, this can be arranged by making that request to the committee. A letter of acknowledgment will then be mailed.

Mr. Freeman and his committee have mailed or will shortly mail appeal letters to all Springfield. If some are missed in this appeal, it is hoped that checks will be sent anyway.

Springfield - its industries, its civic and religious organizations, its professional men, business men, and residents have always responded to every worthy cause and Lindylee has been promised that "her neighbors, her town will help her parents make her well."

Send your check today to help Lindylee. Make it out to The Lindylee Brown Fund and mail it in care of Postmaster, Springfield, N.J.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

Regarding Mr. Flammer's alleged residence, he stated in last week's Sun that one could have found out the true facts merely by attending a meeting of the Township Committee or asking me directly. He also stated, "I am heartened by the many phone calls," etc.

meetings since August 8 and there was no mention of the facts. Also, how could Mr. Flammer receive these many phone calls? I have attempted to contact him and he had no phone.

Maybe Mr. Flammer should explain how his press release does not jibe with the facts! I also agree wholeheartedly with Mr. Korn's article "about politicians are at it again."

We continue to elect candidates to our Township offices and we hope that they will serve the best interests of all the people, instead they spend all their time in office writing articles for the front page of the local newspaper, stating their time-worn cliches and half-truths, as so well expressed by Mr. Korn's article.

One look at Mr. Flammer's article, next to Mr. Korn's letter, is a good example of what Mr. Korn is writing about.

Mitchell Pledges Business Board

Union County small businessmen supporting James R. Mitchell for Governor were pledged by the candidate that he will establish a Small Business Board in the State Government "so the health of small business will be safeguarded and improved."

Mitchell at his SeaGirt summer campaign headquarters met recently with more than 200 representatives of small business from each of New Jersey's 21 counties organizing a Small Business Board. Mitchell Committee under the state chairmanship of Gerald Haber of Tenafly, A Union County committee is presently being formed.

Mitchell told the Union County representatives that "small business in New Jersey has been ignored at times seriously injured by the present administration in Trenton."

"We cannot afford to sit by while small business wages a losing fight for survival," he said. Mitchell said establishment of a Small Business Board would, for the first time, give our small businessmen direct contact with the executive and administrative agencies of the State Government.

The candidate for Governor cited the tax situation as a major reason "why we are witnessing today the flight of business and research from New Jersey." He called for a new tax system which will enable New Jersey business to compete successfully with other states.

"We are fortunate in having a gubernatorial candidate in Jim Mitchell who understands the problems and needs of small business and is willing to provide the leadership to give New Jersey a new air of confidence, a new mood of expansion and a new potential for growth."

Among those who attended the organizational meeting from Union County or who have agreed to serve on the Small Business Board for Mitchell Committee are: Frank M. Pitt, president, The First State Bank of Union, Union; E.H. Peterson, Exec. vice-pres. Magnus Chemical Co. Garwood; Earl T. March, president Pentagon Metal Products Corp. Springfield.

Youth Group To Sponsor Card Party

The funds raised by the luncheon will help support the pre-teen youth activities held during the year at the Temple.

Chairlady Mrs. Sol Levitt, of 19 Briar Hill Circle, Springfield, extends an invitation to all, included with the excellent menu will be door prizes, table favors and free baby sitting service. Donations to the luncheon will be $1.50.

What's "Washable"? - Not all garments that are marked "washable" are washable. Some buttons may run in laundering, and then the whole garment can be ruined. Garments bearing the "Certified Washable Seal" have been thoroughly lab tested and can safely be washed, following the manufacturer's directions.

Watch That Stain - Before you buy a bargain sheet, try this test: rub the material together. If a white powdery substance falls out, take care. This is sizing, a filler material that is sometimes used to give body and sheen to cheaper fabrics. After a first laundering, the sizing goes down the drain - along with the buyer's elation over picking up a "bargain."

Unsticking a Zipper - When your zipper sticks, don't lose your temper and try to move it with brute force. The trouble often is loose threads and bits of fabric blocking the track. With tweezers, calmly pick the obstructions away, then work the zipper back and forth. This often does the trick... and you'll do less violence to your garment.

THIS WEEK in UNION COUNTY

Editor George Putnam's creed:

"A newspaper without enemies has no friends."

Springfield - Once deep in Revolutionary lore and the "Washington-slept-here" spirit - has been burgeoned with random home construction and many of the old-timers, as well as many youngsters, are not very happy about it.

Instead of a picturesque and somewhat quaint community with more delightful structures like the First Presbyterian Church, the Cannonball Inn, the Regional High School, the Municipal Building and several other eye-catching bits of architecture, Springfield has become one of the typical split-level, all-look-alike towns.

When the developers and shopping centers began looking at Springfield with hungry eyes, the Springfield Historical Society, the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution and other civic minded organizations made an attempt to inspire some uniform design, with emphasis on Colonial architecture.

Very few builders were interested in Colonial design, both commercial and residential, The A & P Stores, just across the Springfield line on both ends of the Township, carried out its regular Colonial style architecture but that's where it all ended.

Other communities, with less historical reason than Springfield, have remained an oasis of quaintness and architectural unity. New homes and commercial buildings conforming with some traditional design that would tell the story of Springfield's part in history.

Progress was too rapid, however, and the forces against modern design and exploding electric lights could not be united in time to influence any of the building.

With United States Senators Clifford P. Case and Harrison A. Williams residents of Union County it is an interesting observation that Union County can claim both of the leading candidates for the gubernatorial election this November.

Former Secretary in the Eisenhower cabinet James E. Mitchell, the Republican standard-bearer, has been a long time resident of Union County and former Judge Richard J. Hughes, the Democratic candidate sat in Union County during his court term.

Union County will be one of the important battle grounds in the coming elections and the next Governor could very well depend on exactly what happens here. Which, of course, is true to every voting place in New Jersey.

Temple Keglers To Open Season

Temple Beth Ahm will open their fifth season of bowling at the Blue Star Alley's in Watchung, Sept. 10th at 10:00 A.M. All past and new members of the league must sign up as new teams will be formed at this time. The league will have 24 teams of four men each and it will be made up on a first come basis.

Victory Engineering, with 45,000 Sq. Ft., Opens Soon

NEW PLANT ABOUT READY—Springfield will have more than 150 employed in modern industry nearing completion in Springfield Avenue. Frank J. Mascuch, Township resident, (shown right) is vice president and treasurer of corporation.

ported pink, Portuguese marble with the reception room decorated in a most unusual African motif (compliments of Joseph Mascuch's recent safari). The most modern and precise equipment in the field of electronics, complete with highly accurate constant temperature baths maintained within .001 degrees C. are incorporated for the production of VECO thermistors and varistors.

VECO's main products are thermistors and varistors which are small semi-conducting electronic components. Thermistors are very tiny thermal devices used for the measurement, control, or indication of temperature and are being used in highly critical areas in the country's missile and satellite programs. A more common usage is for volume control of the household telephone which incorporates both thermistors and varistors.

A thermistor is very small, so small that one unit would cover only 1/4 the area of a head of a common straight pin with lead wires many times smaller in diameter than a human hair. Thermistors are capable of detecting the warmth of a human body from a distance of several miles, and approximately 5,000,000 units would be required to make up a total weight of one pound.

Varistors are voltage-sensitive devices and in addition to being used in all telephones are playing a dominant role in our nation's defense system.

Victory Engineering Corporation, with its 150 employees, is looking forward to its new quarters where room for expansion in personnel and products can be made. In particular, research and development will be greatly accelerated to advance the present state of manufacture and in all probability provide a great many time saving and temperature comforting devices for everyone.

Elaborate plans are being made for the dedication and formal opening of the new industrial plant with state and municipal leaders participating as well as representatives from the industry.

Does your shirt take the starch out of you?

It's surprising how the clothes we wear affect our moods and disposition. Put on a limp rumpled shirt and chances are that you'll start feeling like you've been through the wringer. Conversely a crisp white shirt and freshly pressed clothes give you an extra lift.

That's why Pan American takes special care—Summer and Winter—to see that your shirts are extra white and carefully pressed. We guarantee complete satisfaction. If at any time you are dissatisfied with a shirt, bring it back and we'll have it re-laundered at no charge. You see, we'd rather put the starch in the shirt than have the shirt take the starch out of you.

Remember our Same Day Drycleaning service. Bring your clothes in by 12 Noon and we'll have them ready for you that afternoon. There's no charge for this service and your clothes receive our regular "personalized" care.

Springfield Patrolman Shows Kids All About Skin - Diving

The person responsible for the flippers flapping at Balmoral Swim Club in Springfield this summer was Patrolman George Stessel of 93 Henshaw Avenue, who shared his love of skin diving with some 30 youngsters there.

With 10 years of experience in this water sport to his credit, the 34-year-old police officer conducted scuba diving classes at the pool Friday nights for boys and girls, mostly in the teens.

Main purpose of the program was to introduce the sport of skin diving. This was the first year the class was conducted at the club. Only youths who had first passed a stipulated swimming test were eligible to take the diving course. They received basic training in the use of the mask, snorkel and equipment.

Patrolman Stessel's interest in this sport was developed when he joined a skin diving club and is shared by his wife, Muriel, who skin dives too. The two other SKIN-DIVING enthusiasts in the Stessel family are George, six, and Gale, five, who prepared themselves as future skin-diving candidates by accompanying their parents to the pool, where they attended swimming classes.

Another interest of Patrolman Stessel, a former student at the Newark School of Fine and Industrial Arts, is art and he recently designed a new arm-embroidering a Revolutionary War minuteman for the uniform worn by members at the regular force of the Springfield Police Department. He has been with the police department seven years.

Miss Culley Wed To W. W. Haskell

Miss Frances E. Culley of Pasadena, California was married to Mr. Walter W. Haskell of Tucson, Arizona at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Arthur Blake, here today. Reverend Francis P. Jones performed the ceremony.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Haskell were missionaries to China before they were driven out by the Communist occupation of that country. The wedding was attended by many fellow missionaries and Chinese friends now living in this country. Dr. Hyla S. Waters of Saranac Lake, New York was Maid of Honor. She served with Mrs. Haskell, who was a nurse, at the Wuhu General Hospital in China until they were driven out by the Japanese invasion before world War II. They returned after the war, only to be driven out again by the Communists seven years later.

Dr. Clifford S. Trimmer, of Monclair, N. J., medical missionary to China was Best Man. Dr. Jones, who performed the ceremony, also served with the bride and groom in China. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Fred A. Culley of Rochester, New York. Guests of Honor were Mrs. Arthur Blake and Mrs. Dongal E. Young of Gettysburg, Penna., sisters of the bride, Dr. and Mme. W. K. Wei of New York. Dr. Wei is Assistant to the Chinese Delegation to the United Nations, and was formerly associated with the groom at the University of Nanking. Dr. and Mrs. Searle Bates of Union Theological Seminary and a former dean at the University of Nanking. Mme. Monte Liang of the Methodist Board of Missions in New York and her daughter, Gloria. Mrs. Clifford S. Trimmer, Montclair, N. J., Mrs. Francis P. Jones, Madison, N. J., Mrs. Tracey Jones Jr., Montclair, N. J., all former missionaries to China and the Far East.

Also attending: Mr. Dougal E. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Parish and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Parish of Alfred, N. Y., Mrs. Fred Culley and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Culley of Rochester, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. John M. Goulter and family of Fanwood, New Jersey, and Mrs. R. C. Doeringer Jr. of Mountainside, N. J.

High School Driving Education Increasing

High school driver-education examinations in New Jersey, with students at Regional High participating, reached an all time high during the 1960-61 school year as 47,849 students qualified for driver education certificates under the high school driver education program, it was reported here today by Acting Motor Vehicle Director Ned J. Parsekian.

It is further reported that since 1940, the first year of high school driver test record-keeping, some half million students have taken the driver examinations under the school programs.

Director Parsekian pointed out that 25,115 students—or 52.3 percent of the number who qualified during the school year—completed the entire course which requires a minimum of 30 clock hours of classroom study and six hours of behind-the-wheel training. This latter figure represents an increase of 3,413 students over the previous year.

Of the 47,849 students examined during the 1960-61 school year, 43,052 were enrolled in public high schools, and 4,797 were students in private and parochial schools.

The number of students in private and parochial schools who took the complete course—minimum classroom hours and behind-the-wheel training—dropped from 1,030 during the 1959-60 school year to 475 last year. A total of 18 private and parochial schools offered the complete driving course. The same number of participating institutions as in the previous year.

The Department of Education certified 683 teachers for the public high school driver education program during the past school year, and an additional 53 instructors were certified to handle the program in private and parochial schools during 1960-61.

"High school driver education contributes importantly to traffic safety in many ways, but most especially in creating proper attitudes and instilling safe traffic habits which are the foundations of accident-free and efficient transportation in this motor age," said Director Parsekian.

"The individual high school student is more interested in motor vehicles and their operation than almost anything else in the world. We must direct this natural interest and enthusiasm through the driver education program so that the adolescent is safe-guarded today for an adult career. Inevitably to be associated with the driving of motor vehicles," he added.

PARENTS

Could one of these children be yours?

Ques. At what age should a child start training?
Answer. Anytime after the age of four providing the work is geared to the child's age level and utilizing their imagination and natural sense of rhythm.

Ques. What program is best for the beginner?
Answer. A combination class in incorporating preparatory ballet, song presentation and tap for rhythmic. Is such a program expensive?
Answer. Definitely not. Six dollars a month will open a new world for your child.

Ques. What about boys?
Answer. Dancing develops a strong muscular body, excellent coordination and graceful action. What could be better for the athlete? Dancing is hard work and not for sissies.

Ques. What about toe dancing?
Answer. After your child has had a good foundation in classic ballet and her body is properly prepared for pointe work.

Ques. Are recitals necessary?
Answer. Performing before an audience develops confidence and poise. It gives the child an immediate goal. The pagentry and glamour carries their work above the class routine.

Ques. What about weak arches or turned in toes?
Answer. In most cases your doctor will recommend ballet classes. Ballet strengthens and develops the feet and legs. Exercises done at home seem dull but the same work in class is fun. A background of beautiful music brings new life into therapy.

Ques. How do I select a teacher?
Answer. Find out the names of the schools in your area. Call the teacher for an interview and ask permission to visit during a class session.

Gubernatorial Battleground

By Saul Orkin

Because New Jersey's next governor will be the product of a set of factors new to this state's politics, this year's gubernatorial campaign makes an interesting study in analogies and contrasts.

The candidates themselves, Democrat Richard Hughes and Republican James Mitchell, are not the kind of politicians traditionally tapped to run for the state's highest office, for neither is politically professional in the sense of having previously sought and gained elective position. Both men achieved eminence by appointment, Hughes to a judgeship and Mitchell to a secretaryship in former President Eisenhower's cabinet.

Neither was his party organization's first choice. The Republican organization would have preferred State Senator Walter Jones of Bergen County to carry its standard; the Democrats sought U.S. Senator Harrison Williams as their candidate. After Williams refused to accept, Rep. Frank Thompson of Trenton was asked to run, but he rejected the offer also. So, by a process of elimination and compromise, the Democrats selected Hughes, The Republicans, in a three-cornered primary, chose former Labor Secretary Mitchell, who had the staunch backing of Senator Clifford Case.

The question is: Why did both parties go to two relatively inexperienced men to make the race for governor? For the Republicans, the answer lies in the fortunes of their party over the past eight years. Since Governor Meyner's unexpected election in 1953 G.O.P. strength in the state has steadily eroded. Then her two U.S. Senators were Republicans as was the large majority of the state's congressional delegation in Washington. Republicans dominated the two houses of the state legislature. Today, the Democrats can boast of having re-elected Robert Meyner in 1957; of electing a U.S. Senator in 1958; of winning a controlling majority of the General Assembly and being one vote shy of controlling the State Senate; and of carrying the state for President Kennedy last year. This reversal of form in a traditionally Republican state has given cause for reappraisal among the G.O.P. leaders. Republican Senator Case took the lead by proposing a fresh face, one disconnected from the party organization which had presided over the steady decline of Republican Power since 1953. He offered James P. Mitchell, a man with a well-known name and a national reputation after seven years in the Eisenhower Administration. The name and the face carried the primary against the entrenched opposition of the county leaders in the party.

Judge Hughes, on the other hand, was little known outside judicial circles. When the big names of the Democratic party rejected the gubernatorial candidacy, the party leaders finally compromised on Hughes as one who could draw support from all sections of the party, something other potential candidates were apparently unable to do. Hughes is considered able and articulate, but bears the handicap of being unknown to the general public.

A striking analogy may be drawn between this campaign and the 1952 presidential campaign when the hero-General Eisenhower ran against the then relatively obscure Governor of Illinois, Adlai Stevenson. Mitchell now carries the same advantages of name and image into the campaign that Eisenhower did in 1952, and Hughes shares Stevenson's problem of introducing himself to the public at large—quickly before the votes are counted in November.

The analogy may be advanced further when it is realized that the Republican organization in convention was forced to take Mr. Eisenhower over its favorite son, Robert Taft, because it was felt that only a personage of great reputation could break the long-term stranglehold of the Democrats in the White House.

Likewise, after eight years of Democratic ascendancy in New Jersey, Republicans here have decided that a national figure is the requisite to recapture the State House. Thus the battle is joined today in the Garden State in the same manner as it was in the nation in 1952. And by unfalling coincidence, Mr. Eisenhower is expected to appear in New Jersey this fall on behalf of Mr. Mitchell.

Issues are plentiful, of course, and they will be discussed during the campaign, but at the moment the voters have before them two candidates unbloodied in elective office who are asking to be given responsibility for a job that requires consummate political skill and ability. It is triumph in American government that there is no precise way of earning apprenticeship for a governorship or the presidency. But, in the way of American politics, New Jersey enjoys two candidates who have served no apprenticeship at all.

Color Power In Wardrobe

Vibrant colors herald the fall fashion scene. The brilliant tones of fall colors find their way into almost every wardrobe. Some garments, brilliant colors, have been good choices, while others are unbecoming to the wearer.

The reason this happens is that the purchaser doesn't fully realize the power of color in a costume. You know that color has an effect on skin tones, but are you aware of the illusions that color can create on your personality and figure.

Color can make you feel warmer or cooler, look larger or smaller.

In studying the effects of color, you should be familiar with the main properties of color. Here is the actual color, value is the lightness or darkness of the color, and intensity is the brightness or dullness of the color.

Hues are generally classed as being either warm or cool. Those containing red and yellow are warm, advancing colors which makes an object seem closer, therefore larger. Hues containing blues are classed as cool and receding, making an object seem further away and smaller.

The value of color influences the apparent size of an object. Light values increase the size, dark values decrease size. To test this theory, try on one white shoe and one black. The foot with the white shoe looks larger than the one with black.

Intensity of a color creates illusion in the size of an object. Bright, shiny colors will make you appear larger than dull ones. To see this, look at the appearance of your foot in a shiny patent leather shoe and compare it with one in a dull suede.

Before you buy clothes, decide whether you wish to appear smaller or larger. Slender people can thrive on vibrant, bright, light-advancing colors. People who have a tendency to be heavy had best select the dull, dark, receding colors.

This doesn't mean every costume must be dull, unexciting colors, for example, a dark color can be in a bright intensity and you will appear smaller than if you select a light color of bright intensity. Or a dull, dark value in a warm color will make you appear smaller than a bright, light, cool color.

Combining two colors in a costume can work for or against you.

Milk Is Needed

In-Summertime

How much milk do you consume each day? Do you let other food drinks crowd out the milk you need in the summertime?

There are two ways to help you get your needed two glasses of milk a day or your child to get his four glasses during warm weather. The first is to make every cooling drink possible a milk drink; the second is to eat your milk as ice cream or in other good desserts, as well as in soups and cream sauces.

"Milk plus" drinks, cool and refreshing, are recommended for a late summer afternoon. Chill liquid ingredients first and mix in following proportions for two servings: combine 2 cups milk, 1/4 cup sugar, dash of peppermint extract. Tint pink with food coloring. Beat 2 eggs, 1/2 cup sugar until stiff, tint pink. Use as a beverage topping.

Or, combine 1-1/2 cups grape juice, 1/2 cup water, 1 cup nonfat dry milk. Beat until smooth. Combine 1/4 cup each evaporated milk and water, 1 cup tomato juice, and a dash each of celery salt, salt, pepper. Beat to blend. This is a good meal-time appetizer.

But if you like the various assortment of non-milk summertime coolers too much to give any up, you can still get your needed milk quota by eating milk desserts of all kinds and by adding powdered milk to cake mixtures and pie fillings. Cheese is, of course, also a good source of milk nutrients.

Do you ever make Frozen Pineapple Dessert, Peach Cottage Cheese Cake or Lemon Cloud Pie? They all use milk, either canned evaporated or non-fat dry milk.

Garden Club Will Exhibit

Members of the Trailside Garden Club of Union County will conduct a demonstration on flower arrangements and preparation of specimens at the Union County Park Commission's Trailside Museum, in the Watching Reservation on Sunday afternoon, September 10 at 3:00 p.m.

The purpose of the demonstration is to prepare exhibitions for the Annual Fall Flower Show to be held the following weekend, Saturday, September 16 and Sunday, September 17 from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., each day.

On Monday, September 11; Tuesday, September 12; Wednesday, September 13; and Thursday, September 14 at 4:00 p.m., each day Dr. Harold N. Moldenke, director of the museum will conduct the daily one-half hour nature talks for children. The topic selected for the week is "Snakes."

Trailside Museum is open to the public each weekday, except Friday, from 3:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m., and on Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. The public is invited to visit the museum and view the thousands of indoor and outdoor exhibits and to participate in the scheduled programs.

The Republican candidates for township office, Messrs. Arthur

The one hundred and fifty guests were members of the Republican campaign committee and the election workers. The arrangements for the party were under the direction of Mrs. Philip DelVecchio, and the delicious refreshments were prepared by a committee consisting of the candidate's wives, and headed by Mrs. Philip DelVecchio and Mrs. James Cawley.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Spector of 9 Hemlock Terrace are back from a four day trip to Chicago, Illinois. Theima and Nate did it round trip by jet, and stayed at the Conrad Hilton.

Congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Keselica, Jr. of 53 Maple Avenue, on the birth of son David Scott, on August 27 at Overlook Hospital. The young man, who weighed in at seven pounds, eleven ounces, has a big brother Craig. Mom is the former Patricia J. Lamport.

Younger members of our community back from summer vacations in Europe are William and Steven Bender, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bender of 21 Ann Place and Arnold Greene, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cy Greene, of 187 Henshaw Avenue.

"Damn Yankees" At Meadowbrook

Long the house of hits, the Meadowbrook Dinner Theatre is preparing to usher in a home run musical comedy, "Damn Yankees". The tune-filled Broadway baseball laugh-riot begins a limited engagement at the Meadowbrook starting Tuesday night, September 12.

"Young Doctors" Now At Loew's

"The Young Doctors" starts Wednesday, September 6, Loew's State Theatre. Next to the wide open spaces in the West and small New England towns in which sin is rampant, few real-life settings have held such fascination for motion picture audiences over the years as that of a large hospital. The clash of personalities among the medical personnel, the drama of life and death in the operating room; and the love affairs between doctors and nurses all continue to weave a spell.

"Threepenny" Continues At Meadowbrook Theater

The greatest musical hit in the history of the American theatre, "The Threepenny Opera", has proved itself just as successful in New Jersey as off-Broadway. "Threepenny" is playing its stock engagement at the Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn, and playing to sold-out houses. The unusual musical, based on an original text by the famed German playwright, Bert Brecht, with English adaptation of both book and lyrics by Marc Blitzstein and music by Kurt Weill, was first produced in New York in September of 1954. It became an immediate success and, except for a short time when the theatre where it was playing was leased to another attraction, has been playing to crowds ever since.

Five College Credit Courses Are Offered At UC Adult School

Five college credit courses will be offered at the Union County Regional Adult School at Governor Livingston High School, Berkeley Heights, through use of the facilities of Newark State College, Union, Division of Field Services.

Similar courses have been offered in the past under the sponsorship of the Summit College Club. This year the Adult School in cooperation with the Summit College Club and members of the Berkeley Heights chapter of the American Association of University Women have agreed to sponsor the five college credit courses.

Classes start Tuesday, September 19th, and Wednesday, September 20th, to continue for 16 weeks. Instructors will accept registrations the first meeting of each class on September 19th and Wednesday, September 20th.

Courses include: Tuesday, 7:30 to 9:10, Science E-474 Astronomy, Mr. Thomas, two semester hours, Room 206. Currently man's attention is turned to outer space. It is imperative to look beyond the earth. In this course the methods of the astronomer are used to achieve an understanding of the earth, moon, the planets, the sun, the stars, and galaxies. Through the use of telescopes, spectrometers, sextants, chronometers, and sky charts, the student learns about the universe and man's place in it. Undergraduate credit.

Tuesday, 7:30 - 10 Soc. Science E271 History of Eastern Civilization Room 112, Dr. Didsbury, three semester hours.

An historical survey of the cultures and civilizations of Southwest Asia, India, China, Japan, and their neighbors, with particular stress on institutions, ideas, contact and diffusion.

Undergraduate credit.

Wednesday, 4:30-7, Education E572, Role of the Classroom in the Development of Personality, Character, Mental Health, Dr. Boyle—Three semester hours, Room 112.

A study of the development of personality traits through classroom and school experience with emphasis on the role of the teacher and school in the development of personality and character. Actual case studies presented by the class will be used to demonstrate skills and techniques in helping to understand and work with children more effectively. Well known quest lecturers and films sponsored by the Union County Mental Health Association will be an integrated part of the course. Enrollment limited to 25. This course is taught on the graduate level. Graduates of accredited high schools and persons of sufficient maturity and ability to profit from these lectures will be permitted to enroll for credit. Formal application for admission with filing of transcripts is only necessary for those who intend to become candidates for a degree at Newark State College.

Students enrolling for the first time in the Division of Field Service must pay an admission fee of $5 plus a $2 registration fee per course. An additional fee of $5 will be charged those who register later than the September 19-20th deadlines.

Tuition fees for the courses are $13 per semester hours, plus .50 per semester hour service charge for New Jersey residents and teachers, and $15 per semester hour (plus .50 per semester hour service charge) for non-residents.

For a Berkeley Heights resident registering for the first time in the Field Service Division and electing to take the Social Science course, the charges would be as follows: tuition, three semester hours, $39; service charge, three semester hours, $1.50; registration for each course, $2; admission fee (to Newark State College), $5 for a total of $47.50. If the applicant decided to take music, substitute $26 for the $39 for a total of $29 since only two semester hours are involved.

All fees are payable at the time of registration, with checks, drafts, etc. drawn to the order of Newark State College.

For information on early registration call Charles Longacre at Elizabeth 4-5900 or George Somers at 464-9282. The following coupon may be returned to George Somers, 285 Plainfield Ave., Berkeley Heights.

Home Features At Walton School

"Features for Homemakers 1961-62" will be graphically and dramatically illustrated on September 19, from 1 - 3 p.m., in Springfield, Mrs. Joseph Bressler, chairman of the project committee for the County Extension Advisory Council, announced.

Plans for the meeting to be held at Edward V. Walton School Mountain Ave., Springfield were decided at the County Court House Wednesday morning, September 6. Present were: Mary W. Armstrong, Home agent; Carolyn Yuknus, Associate Home agent; Maria R. Evers, Assistant Home agent. The individual project chairmen present included: Mrs. John Barrett, of Linden, Clothing and Textiles; Mrs. W.R. Faltoue, of Summit, Home Furnishings; Mrs. G.P. Fox, of Elizabeth, Foods and Nutrition; Mrs. Morton Stavits, of Elizabeth, Human Relations; Mrs. W.H. Steinmetz, of Cranford, Home Management. The Clothing Committee plans a dress review of garments made by homemakers. The theme of the dress review will feature clothes for children, the young homemaker—and the stylish matron.

The care of wood furniture will be part of the program the Home Furnishings division will present.

The Food and Nutrition Committee will present a light skit on "Food Facts and Fallacies."

The Human Relations Committee has planned a parent discussion group on Children's Jealousy as an illustration of the program to be carried on during the next year.

A brief discussion of Kitchen Cupboard Conveniences will be presented by the Home Management Committee.

In addition to these visual demonstrations, the committee is planning for exhibits depicting topics of programs of interest to all homemakers.

Mrs. Armstrong said that the "Features for Homemakers" program will include topics of interest to all homemakers. Here they can see examples of the broad educational program provided for County residents through the Extension Service of Rutgers-University. She said all homemakers are invited, and that there is no charge or admission for this meeting on September 19.

Chorus Invites Area Residents

The Summit Community Chorus will begin its 53rd season when weekly rehearsals are resumed on Monday, Sept. 11. Chorus members will meet their new conductor, Mr. William Ramsey, and begin work on motets of Victoria, Bach, Brahms and Vaughn Williams in preparation for the Winter Concert. Singers who are interested in joining the chorus are warmly welcomed to attend this first rehearsal in the Summit Y.M.C.A. at 8 p.m.

The chorus has evolved from the original women's Summit Choral Society formed in 1909, and later merged with the Summit-Glee Club, to the present mixed chorus of 85 singers from nearly twenty communities. Two concerts are presented in Summit each season.

To each her own... EXTENSION PHONE

She simply can't live without her pretty Princess phone. Colorful, compact and (as she'd say) cool. Great for keeping up with the teen social whirl—or having privacy when he calls.

Her kitchen wall phone is so handy, so often. Saves so much time—so much running round the house during her busy workday. What active mother wouldn't enjoy a handy helpmate like this in her kitchen?

Her colorful bedside phone is there to help her day and night. It's good company all day long—helps her feel safer at night. And, in color, it's such an attractive addition to any room.

Enjoy an extension phone of your own for as little as 90¢ a month. (You'll find it very reasonable, too, to make it a Princess or color model.) To order yours, just call the Telephone Business Office or ask your telephone serviceman.
