Ceremonies Arranged For Post Office Dedication This Saturday

Postmaster A. V. DelVecchio announced today that the new post office building located at 210 Mountain Avenue, will be dedicated on Saturday February 3, at 2:30 p.m.

A program for the civic dedication ceremony has been arranged by Leonard E. Best, General Chairman of the Dedication Committee. The program will open with musical selections by the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Band followed by opening and introductory remarks by Postmaster Del Vecchio.

Remarks by Mayor Philip Del Vecchio, Congressman Florence P. Dwyer and Senator Harris A. Williams will follow the invocation.

Senator Williams will present to Postmaster A.V. DelVecchio a flag which has flown over the Capitol Building in Washington, D.C. The principal address will be given by William T. Farley, Field Services Officer, representing the Post Office Department.

The official flag raising will be conducted by the combined Color Guard of the Continental Post #228 of the American Legion and Battle Hill Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The program will close with an inspection of the new building by the general public at which time refreshments will be served.

Postmaster Del Vecchio extends to each and every resident of Springfield and to their friends a most cordial invitation to attend the dedication.

Construction was started in the new facility on September 27, 1961, and the building was occupied by the post office on January 29, 1962. The new facility contains a gross area of 8,952 sq. ft., including the mailing platform—17,000 sq. ft. of exterior improved area.

The post office is occupied under the Post Office Department's Commercial Leasing Program, which permits private ownership of the building while being leased to the Government.

Thus the owner will pay local real estate taxes while the post office occupies the building. Furthermore, the Post Office Department's capital investment was limited solely to the purchase of new post office equipment.

Postmaster Del Vecchio cordially invites all postal patrons of the Springfield post office to visit the new post office and become acquainted with the new facilities designed to provide improved service.

The Postmaster also invites all to attend the dedication ceremonies on Saturday, February 3, at 2:30 p.m.

YOU ARE INVITED

UNITED STATES POST OFFICE
Springfield, New Jersey

Dear Patron:

You are cordially invited to attend the dedication ceremonies of your new post office located at 210 Mountain Avenue, at 2:30 p.m. on Saturday, February 3, 1962. The dedication program will feature the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School Band. Refreshments will be served during an open house and inspection of the new building. Come and spend a pleasant, informative hour with your postal employees on the occasion of the dedication and inspection of your new post office.

The whole family is invited and please bring a friend, too.

Respectfully,
A. V. Del Vecchio
Postmaster

Paper Drive This Sunday

The monthly scrap paper drive in Springfield is scheduled for this Sunday, February 4.

The Continental Post members of Springfield American Legion will pick up all papers, magazine and other waste papers on Sunday.

All residents are asked to have the bundles tied and placed at the curbs to help these volunteers in their monthly collection.

Merchants Preparing Program

A revitalized Springfield Chamber of Commerce, buzzing with activity this week, is exploring a series of sales programs in the next few months which is expected to attract shoppers from all parts of this area.

Organized into separate groups, each committee has been working overtime in an effort to get new programs moving.

Henry Grabarz, President of the Chamber declared that "there is such intense excitement, especially on the part of the Merchants Committee in Springfield, that we look forward to an exceptionally fruitful year in terms of organizing the business activity of the township."

Carl Becker, chairman of the professional committee, and Max Weiss, chairman of the industrial committee, both announced that programs were being formulated in their respective groups and that a luncheon gets has already been set to invite Chamber members to participate in these programs.

Will Salesky, chairman of the merchants committee, was most enthusiastic. Reflecting this new interest, he said that new merchants in Springfield have joined existing Chamber merchant members, swelling the merchant total alone, to almost ninety percent of its membership goal.

At a meeting held this week, the merchants committee consisting of Wesley Lewandowski, Wally Kleinman, Gerard Hagerty, Mark Conte, Ike Freedman, Jerry Colantone, and Will Salesky, a board merchants' program, aimed at stimulating business activity in Springfield was outlined.

Saul Freeman, Secretary of the Chamber, who attended this organizational meeting, had this to say:

"The merchant's intensity reflects the deep need our township has had for so long a time for a group of this character. We now have the interest and leadership to succeed in fulfilling these programs. These merchants have sound and progressive ideas. They are Springfield conscious.

"They are keenly aware of the tremendous business growth surrounding Springfield."

New P. O. Building Now Open

The new Springfield post office began operations from the new location at 210 Mountain Avenue, Monday.

All service from the old building has been discontinued. There is no change in service at the two contract stations.

The new building incorporates the use of two separate lobbies, one containing post office boxes and mail drops, and the other the service windows for the sale of stamps, money orders, parcel post, and all other postal transactions.

Postmaster Del Vecchio stated that in the very near future a stamp vending machine will be installed in the box lobby for the sale of stamps when the service lobby is closed.

The Postmaster stated the following hours will be observed at the new location:

BOX LOBBY & MAIL DROPS:
Daily, 6 a.m. to 8 p.m.
Saturday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.
Sunday & Holiday, 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

WINDOW SERVICE:
Daily, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.
Saturday, 8:30 a.m. to 12 M.
No window service on Sundays and holidays.

Township Rabbi Named Mental Health Director

Rabbi Reuben R. Levine, 10 Berkeley Road, Springfield was elected to the Board of Directors of the Union County Association for Mental Health at the 17th Annual Meeting of the Association held on January 29, 1962, at the Kingston Restaurant Morris Avenue, Union. More than 100 members and guests attended the banquet.

Rabbi Levine, spiritual leader of Temple Beth Ahim, is a member of the Springfield Rotary Club, the Chaplaincy Service of Overlook Hospital and has served as a planning advisor for the Annual Ministers' Conference of the Union County Association for Mental Health.

James K. Baugher, Roselle, was re-elected President of the Association.

RABBI REUBEN LEVINE was re-elected President of the Association.

Many Activities At Methodist Church

The Alethea Bible Class of the Methodist Church of Springfield will meet Monday at 8:00 p.m.

The next meeting of the Official Board will be held at the Parsonage Tuesday, February 6 at 8:00 p.m. All married men on the Board are invited to bring their wives and all married women are invited to bring their husbands.

The next Cafeteria Luncheon will be February 8 from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. This is open to everyone.

The Annual Smorgasbord will be held February 22 from 5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.

Tickets Ready For Air Force Band Concert

Tickets for the U.S. Air Force Band concert to be held Sunday, April 1, were distributed to members of the Rotary Club Tuesday noon at its weekly luncheon in Baltusrol Golf Club, sessions resuming at the club after a month's vacation due to repairs.

Milton Billet and Dr. Harry Mehl, ticket chairmen, announced that concert tickets at $1.50 for matinee and $2.50 for the evening show, will be on sale at businesses of members as follows:

National State Bank, Crestmont Savings & Loan, Rappaport Spring Drugs, Milton's Liquors, Beacon Hill Company, Cake Cottage, Norwood Van Ness Optician, and Kay's Stationery, all on Morris Avenue; Saks Fifth Avenue store 92 Millburn Ave., and Charles Remlinger real estate agency, 769 Mountain Avenue. In addition all club members will be handling tickets.

The Air Force Recruiting office at Elizabeth is planning to install several window displays on its services in Springfield, in conjunction with the concert.

Dan Murray and Jerry Goldstein, general co-chairmen, announced that letters have been sent to neighboring Rotary Clubs on the project and that all nearby high schools will be given an opportunity to attend, at a special group rate.

In soliciting various local industries, request is being made to provide blocks of seats for this purpose.

Mothers' March Gets Response

Springfield's contribution to the 1962 March of Dimes campaign came to a close last night when participants in the Mothers' March finished their door-to-door solicitation and made their reports at the Springfield office of the National State Bank of Elizabeth.

The Mothers' March, under the supervision of Mrs. Lawrence Dorsky, saturated the Township with the ringing of door bells on every block in Springfield.

Peter Finnerly, Springfield chairman of the 1962 March of Dimes, is preparing reports on the Township's contributions to this cause, and urges all those who haven't yet sent in their checks to do so, addressing them to Arthur J. (Pete) Smith, vice president of the Springfield office of the National State Bank.

Checks are to be made payable to the March of Dimes.

In addition to the various block captains already published by Mrs. Dorsky as participating in the Mothers' March, the following also took part in yesterday's door to door campaign:

Mesdames August Caprio, Charles Morrison, Arthur Morris, Irwin Fink, Bernard Lesser, Raymond Schaffer, William Finnie, Morris Silverstein, Wilfred Murphy, Donato Solazzi, Bruno Paciak, Calvin Aekerman, Robert Belliveau, Warren Halsey, Henry Tuzik, Allan Belhared, Jr., Henry McMullen, William Bjorstad, Walter Carney, Herbert Ginter, Robert Varner, Irvin

Faulty Title Ruling Upset

The State Supreme Court has ordered the N.J. Realty Title Insurance Co. to pay $10,000 on an insurance policy covering title to a tract of land in Route 22, Springfield Township.

The company had issued a $10,000 policy on land purchased in 1946 by Maurice Sandler. He later transferred title to the land to the Sandler Realty Co. The property, however, was put back into Sandler's name when the realty company was dissolved in 1950.

Sandler died in 1955 and his two sons, Lewis and Richard, inherited the property. They tried to sell a portion of it to the Bell Telephone Co., discovered the title was faulty, and sued the insurance company.

The insurance firm refused payment, claiming Sandler's transfer of the title to Sandler Realty Co. ended their liability.

Dog Licenses For '62 Ready

Dog licenses for 1962 are due right now and every self-respecting dog in Springfield should have that new tag on the collar.

The new licenses are available at the office of Township Clerk Eleanor Worthington in the Municipal Building.

As you know, Mr. Editor, the S.P.C.A. is the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and the place they took us was called of all things, the.....Kindness Kennels.

If I told you what went on in that Kindness Kennels you'd never believe it. They paid little attention to me; I don't remember when, or even if, I had eaten.

I can't remember much of what went on in Kindness Kennels. I was very weak from not getting the right kind of food and didn't care much whether I got back to Randy and Victor or not. But that afternoon I heard familiar voices, shouts of "Tawny!" and I started to bark.

In spite of my weakness, I barked louder and louder over the growling of that whole caboodle of mongrels. And then, I saw them; Victor and Randy and Jason had come to take me home. I could hardly wag my tail—or what's left of it.

Now, I've just finished that hamburger and am stretched out with Jason listening to Harry Belafonte—but the thought of that treatment keeps me awake nights.

Don't worry, Mr. Editor, that ugly man with the dog net won't ever catch me again because I've learned my lesson. I still shudder when I recall hearing that man say they "gas" all of us if no one calls to take us home.

Here's a bit of advice to all dogs—whether you're a member of the A.K.C. or just one of us—see that your master gets the new 1962 license for your collar.

The new tags are due today. Your mistress can get yours by going to the office of the Township Clerk.

I hope this will teach all dogs a good lesson.

Dear Editor...What Happened To Me, Shouldn't Happen To a Man.....Tawny

TWASN'T GOOD! Tawny, deploring dog's troubles, telling his pal, Jason, what a nightmare it was spending a few days at Kindness Kennels. (Photo Dick Schwartz)

Dear Editor:

I hope this will serve as a warning and save many others from a fate even worse than mine.

You see, Mr. Editor, I am a dog. My name is Tawny, and what happened to me shouldn't happen even to a man.

We dogs don't have any PTA organization to protect us. We don't have any unions. We just can't seem to get together.

This is understandable, however, since I saw in last week's Sunday papers that there are over 493,300 dogs registered last year with the American Kennel Club. Poodles are the country's No. 1 breed. What chance have I with these up-turned-nose dogs?

NOT THAT I'M FRUSTRATED, and it isn't a question of status in the dog world. I've been very happy living on Milltown Road and I've made a lot of pretty good friends around the Woodside section.

I play all the time with Randy and Victor. Even little red-head Jason and I have lots of fun. Sometimes they let me lick that sweet butter-ball of a sister, Janine.

One day—I didn't know what came over me, Mr. Editor, but even dogs have their off days and this was one of my worst. Perhaps, I should have seen a psychiatrist—but I seem to be well adjusted and, besides, I've been warned not to get on the couch. (That's a joke I heard one night on television.)

There was no real reason for what I did because the family has been treating me like a real member of the family.

They didn't feed me any of that junk dog food out of cans. I ate with the family—juicy hamburgers and whole lamb chops with most of the juicy meat on it.

But, on this particular day, along about noon, I had been playing chase with Jason all morning while he was trying to listen to his favorite Belafonte album on the hi-fi.

A neighbor opened the door to borrow a cup of sugar and when I saw all that front lawn and the open road beckoning to me I flipped. I just brushed past the neighbor's toreador pants and took off.

My first thought was to lumber up a bit and just take a frisky trot around the block. I'd be back in time to play tag with Randy and Victor when they returned from school.

I inhaled the crisp fresh air and exhaled and from there on it was all nightmares. All I can remember is that some big man jumped out of what looked like a bakery wagon and started towards me as I was making up my mind whether or not I had time to run down to Evergreen Lodge and scamper around the park before returning to Randy, Victor and Jason.

He looked ugly enough and he had something in back of him like a garden rake I always played with in the yard. I thought this man wanted to play a bit so I wagged my tail a few times and started to trot toward him.

The ugly guy had a net on the end of that long stick, threw it over my head and, believe me, he hurt me.

I still had an idea he was playing some new kind of game with me and, for a few seconds, I went along with the gag, but I soon found out I was in the hands of a very mean dog-catcher.

I suppose, Mr. Editor, in this boy's and man's world there has to be laws about stray dogs but the way they treated me, I wouldn't treat any man.

I was thrown into a dark dog-catcher's wagon with a lot of other dogs; scrawny, terrible looking hounds. I wouldn't associate with at any time.

There was a lot of growling and barking as they carted us off to the S.P.C.A. in Rahway and several fights broke out with me catching a couple of claw scratches along my eyes.

As you know, Mr. Editor, the S.P.C.A. is the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and the place they took us was called of all things, the.....Kindness Kennels.

Sen. Williams Cites Packaging Investigations As Aids To Businesses And Consumers

Senator Harrison A. Williams (D.N.J.) has said that government and business can work satisfactorily to solve problems if "we don't let too many slogans get in the way." To an audience of food scientists, at Asbury Park, the Senator described the recent Senate hearings on deceptive packaging as "not an attempt to persecute industry, but an increasingly successful study to help packagers AND the consumers."

Confidence in the business of our nation. The present study of stock market operations by the Securities and Exchange Commission for example, is another expression of governmental intent to protect one kind of consumer. In this case the consumers are those who deserve maximum protection if they are to invest in our industry.

again, we're depending upon the enlightened self-interest of businessmen and professional men to help us take any steps that might be necessary to keep a fundamental industry healthy and sound. "There is a lesson to be learned here, but too often we overlook it when we think of government. Every successful law on our books has been the result of consultation with the representatives of groups most affected by it. Sometimes we in Congress have had to override the objections of a few individuals or groups because we thought their views were narrow or not entirely convincing. Sometimes, we in Congress modify our original intentions because witnesses at hearings convince us that OUR views are narrow or unconvincing. "At any rate, we communicate; we're not content simply to hurl names or exchange diatribes. "Congress will require the same kind of cooperation and understanding during this momentous year, when we will make many of the decisions that will help the world decide whether we have the wisdom and endurance to help lead other free nations to security and better lives for their people. If legislator and citizen are content merely to snipe or rally behind roadblocks, we will have much to answer for when this second session of the 87th Congress ends."

Senator Williams was a guest speaker tonight at the first Food Industry Science School sponsored by Rutgers University Food Science School, and several industrial concern of New Jersey. The five day school is meeting at the convention room of the Empress Motel here.

"The packaging investigation," said the Senator, "is a prime example of a legislative study that could have been derided as 'anti industry' or 'unfair to business.'"

"However, with a little care and understanding on the part of the Congressional subcommittee, and by the representatives of business, the hearings thus far have yielded testimony of great value and comparatively little heat. The old slogans weren't applicable, and I'm happy to see that they were not used."

The hearings to which the Senator referred have been conducted by a Senate Subcommittee on Antitrust and Monopoly of the Committee on Judiciary.

Witnesses have told the subcommittee that they are sometimes confused by big packages that contain less or the same amount as smaller packages, by packages that offer confusing description of their contents, by odd shaped containers that make it difficult to judge the contents, and by other present practices that make it difficult for supermarket shoppers to judge whether they are getting full value for their money. Manufacturers and packagers have appeared voluntarily before the Subcommittee.

"The upshot is," said the Senator, "that already several manufacturers have made changes in some of their packaging procedures, and public interest is growing. Not only that, there has been a very healthy give-and-take feeling at the hearings. If additional regulation does prove necessary, it will be the result of careful and friendly discussion of a mutual problem. The stakes are high: we're talking about a highly competitive, $70 billion a year industry which offers more than 6,000 individual items to shoppers at supermarkets."

"My purpose in describing this particular investigation tonight is to give you, representatives of the food industry, an account of one government effort that is helping our free economic system by assuring the buyer that labels mean what they say. The manufacturer, whose fate is determined ultimately by public acceptance of his product, will be assured, too, of protection from those less scrupulous than he."

In other ways, too, said the Senator, the government is trying to help assure a high degree

Union County Mortgages Held By Howard Savings Show Marked Increase

Union County mortgages held by The Howard Savings Institution of Newark, on December 31, 1961 amounted to $34,639,937. This was an increase of approximately $1,215,201, over the previous year. The number of mortgage loans in Union County held by the Bank at the end of last year was 2,881.

The Howard is the largest lender of money for home mortgage loans in New Jersey and every dollar invested in such loans is invested within the State. These loans, numbering 27,239 granted on properties in all twenty-one counties of the State totaled over $307,757,826, at the end of 1961.

The Howard's policy of investing only in New Jersey mortgages is the best measure of the Bank's contribution to the State's economic growth. The Howard also differs from many other lenders in that it continues to grant VA mortgages to veterans and charges no premiums for this service. Of the $307,757,826, in mortgage loans outstanding at the year's end, 32 per cent or $98,267,190, was invested in VA loans.

Conventional mortgage loans were 54 per cent of the total or $167,161,577, and FHA mortgage loans, amounted to $42,329,058, or 14 per cent.

The Howard Savings Institution is the 18th largest mutual savings bank in the country with total assets—December 31, 1961 of $466,649,182, and deposits amounting to $416,195,309. The Bank had 29,217 savings accounts.

The Howard's mortgage loan correspondent for Union County is Nathan Margaretten and Company of Perth Amboy.

Colors Can Lift Spirits

Colorless winter outfits tend to be the order of the day when the skies are cloudy and the weather miserable. Good old black, dark gray, and brown colors tend to look like the day, and they are practical. But such colors are also good weights for the spirit.

Sound wardrobe planning is naturally built around flattering, stable colors, but also important in the total plan is the addition of the second or third color.

Before thinking of the "dash of color" to be added, careful analysis of the basic or main color is needed. Too often, the basic color becomes black. Actually a complete or solid outfit in black is not the most flattering color to wear for the majority of women.

Black around the face reflects wrinkles, drains the natural color of the face, and enhances tiredness.

We have been brain washed into believing black is the only color for a smart outfit. Actually a smart outfit is achieved only when the style is flattering to the wearer, the texture of the material is in keeping with the outfit, and the color is flattering to the individual's coloring.

Once the basic color is established, the accents of color can be used to complete the outfit, to give variety, and to enjoy the use of color.

It is usually safe to think in terms of no more than three of the same neutral color and no more than two of an accent color.

The choice of accent colors and where they can be used hinges on the basic color and the type of figure you have. Normally, bright accents are best used near the face to draw attention to the most interesting part of you.

This principle of drawing attention by the use of accents or contrasts in color can work for or against you. Contrasting belts or sashes at the waist will emphasize the size of the waist and hips.

Bright colored shoes will naturally draw attention to the feet and will make them appear larger.

"Hank" Wright, New Culligan Man

Culligan Soft Water in Millburn—recently appointed Henry S. Wright of 53 Colfax Road, Springfield, as its exclusive representative in SPRINGFIELD and MOUNTAINSIDE.

A three year resident of Springfield, Mr. Wright is a Yale graduate with a varied background of experience in sales and engineering work. He is active in American Legion Post #228, Jaycees, and the Historical Society. He is married and has two daughters.

Culligan, devoted exclusively to the treatment of water problems, was formed in 1936 and has become world-wide in scope with a network of over 1200 dealers in the United States and branches in Canada, South America and Europe.

Culligan is represented locally by the Nelson Phillips Company in Millburn. Established in 1946 they have helped to pioneer the introduction of low cost water softening equipment for the home. In hard water areas, such as Springfield, the need for this equipment is apparent to the housewife.

It will be Mr. Wright's responsibility to acquaint with Culligan equipment and services in addition to serving as a consultant to present Culligan customers.

Springfield Library

"If Winter comes, can Spring be far behind?" Our answer to Shelley seems to be "Sure it can!"

The January book exhibit in the Children's Room of the Springfield Public Library has chosen its theme from the song, "Let it snow, let it snow, let it snow!"

Children derive the greatest enjoyment from the change in seasons. When the snows come there is much cheering and frenzied excitement to use the new skates, the toboggans, and the skis. They revel in snowball fights and snow sculpture.

The winter exhibit features a large and healthy looking snowman, flanked on one side by two small realistic ski figures, skiing down the snow covered slopes, and on the other side by attractive Miss Pixie on her sleigh, sliding down the opposite slope.

Appropriate books accompany the figures. "Skiing Illustrated," a guide for the young skier, by John and Frankie O'Rear, is a book designed especially for youth the world over. It is their own book, beautifully and dramatically illustrated with over two hundred photographs by the authors. There are up-to-date tips on ski equipment, step-by-step coverage of learning techniques and competition, and a chapter covering games-on-skis introduces the child to skiing in a fun way.

Another winter sport book is displayed vividly in the biography of "Carol Heiss; Olympic Queen," by Robert Parker. This is the true story of America's gold medal Olympic figure skating champion. Part of the book is concerned with the Heiss children's devotion to each other and their wonderful relationships with their parents. Carol's marriage to former Olympic champion Alan Jenkins and her decision to turn professional bring the book to a happy ending.

Other books in keeping with the season are "Snow," by Thelma Bell and "My Time of Year" by Katherine Dow.

Be like the kids—Have fun when it snows, and then spring will not be far behind.

Westfield Sales Days Scheduled For Feb. 1, 2, 3,

Westfield's fine merchants under the auspices of the Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce, launch a three-day sales program today (Thursday) and continuing through Saturday.

Months of planning will come to fruition Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 1st, 2nd and 3rd when high quality merchandise will be offered at rock bottom prices.

Report Decrease For This Area In Tuberculosis

The quarterly report of the Union County Tuberculosis Case Register has been prepared, it was announced by Miss Mary Ewell Roe, executive director of the Union County Tuberculosis and Health League, which maintains the register at its office at 7 Bridge Street, Elizabeth.

The report shows that Mountaine has no cases registered, Fanwood has only one, just two in Berkeley Heights and three each in Springfield and Scotch Plains.

The register now contains 716 cases, an increase of ten during the past quarter, and 104 more than the number on file at the time of the first report on June 30, 1960.

For the year 1961, 146 cases were reported to the register, 104 of them active, 17 probably active, 15 probable inactive, 7 inactive and 3 of activity not stated.

The cases were distributed in the municipalities as follows: 59 in Elizabeth, 25 in Plainfield, 9 in Linden, 8 in Roselle, 7 in Cranford, 6 in Rahway, 5 in Union and 4 in Summit.

Nearly ten per cent of the 569 non-hospitalized tuberculosis patients in Union County have no known medical supervision according to reports from local boards of health. This is an increase over the last quarter, where there should be a decrease.

Give Marble Simple Care

With only occasional care, marble surfaces in your home will retain their original beauty and luster, says Miss Genea Thames, extension specialist in home furnishing at Rutgers-The State University.

For normal care, just wash marble surfaces with lukewarm water and a cloth, the specialist advised. Then wipe dry with a chamolix or dry soft cloth to prevent spotting and streaking.

Marble isn't impervious to stains, so always wipe up spilled substances immediately, just as you do from wood.

To remove ingrained dirt, you may need to use mild detergent and warm water and a fiber brush. After washing, wipe surface with a warm, moist cloth, then wipe dry.

Rings and slight stains from coffee, tea or tobacco can be removed from marble easily. Wash first with warm water. Then apply "hair strength" hydrogen peroxide and a few drops of household ammonia to stained area.

On vertical marble panels or fireplaces, saturate a blotter with hydrogen peroxide, add a few drops of ammonia and apply to stain.

It may take up to 24 hours to remove old stains. When stain is gone, wipe entire surface with a warm, moist cloth. Then wipe dry.

Special new window streamers have been designed and banners erected to highlight this noted sale event.

As an added value, 2,000 movie tickets will be distributed by all authorized stores for a free children's movie to be shown at two performances, 9:00 a.m. and 11:00 a.m., Saturday morning, February 10th, at the Rialto Theatre. "The Rookie", starring Tommy Noonan, plus several cartoons will be featured.

Westfield is prepared to handle the crowds that come into town by offering over 4,000 on and off street parking facilities within easy access to the shopping area.

Police supervision will be provided to assure a smooth flow of traffic.

Most shops will remain open Thursday and Friday evenings to allow shoppers to take full advantage of the timely savings.

The Sales Days committee who planned, promoted and worked diligently to make the event a success includes: Dick Townley of The Play Fair, Russell Wyckoff of The Westfield Shopper and Everett Thomas, Executive Secretary of the Chamber.

Van Gogh

"What Does Van Gogh Say to You?" and "Here's Hawaii" will be the subjects for discussion at the next meeting of the YWCA Thoughtstirs next Wednesday evening, February 7 from 8:15 to 11 o'clock.

Speakers on Van Gogh will be Mrs. Hugh Garrett of Gillette and on Hawaii, Mrs. Stanley Jones of Watchung. Greeter is to be Mrs. David Dukus of Murray Hill. Mrs. Roger Smith and Mrs. Gary Smith both of New Providence will serve as hostesses for the evening. Refreshments will be served.

All young women under 40 years of age, married or single are cordially invited to visit this group at any of its meetings held regularly on the 1st and 3rd Wednesdays of the month to see if they would be interested in joining this group which presents a wide variety of ideas for discussion. Further information may be had by calling Mrs. Walter Stankievich at the YWCA at Cr. 3-4242.

Decorating Hints Is Course Topic

If you think you don't have any ideas on decorating, then join the class on Basic Interior Design starting Wednesday, February 7.

This class is sponsored by the Union County Home Economics Extension Service of Rutgers University, without charge for interested homemakers.

The first two sessions will be held on February 7 and 14 from 10:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. in the meeting room of the Elizabeth-Town Gas Company, at 219 Central Avenue, Rahway.

The class will be conducted by Mrs. Carolyn Yuknus, Associate Home Agent of the Extension Service of Union County. She assures the husbands of the homemakers attending the class that they won't want to throw everything away in the house, and spend a lot of money on new furnishings.

Mrs. Yuknus says that you should start by making maximum use of the furnishings you now have, and when changes are necessary, she hopes you will learn how to avoid costly mistakes in redecorating.

The third session on Feb. 21 will be in a volunteer's home where the class can practice room arrangements.

Further information about this can be obtained from the Home Economics Extension office by calling El 3-5000. Registration is limited—interested homemakers should enroll at the earliest possible date.

Teeners From Committee;

Freeholder Mary C. Kanane today announced the formation of a committee of teenagers who will work to see that Union County magazine distributors handle only "good wholesome literature."

The committee, called Teenagers for Better Communities, consists of young people who have asked Miss Kanane—a leader in the fight to clean up the county's newsstands—how they can help.

"I am tremendously impressed with the good sense and positive approach these students have taken," the freeholder said. "They realize that by improving the quality of newsstands they are helping themselves and their communities."

Youth leaders of the committee are:

James Fulcomer, 18, of 1119 Magle Ave., Union, Chairman; Peggy Ehasz, 17, of 980 Arnet Ave., Union, Vice Chairwoman; Steve Wilhelm, 16, of 239 Third Ave., Garwood, Vice Chairman; Robert Rooney, 16, of 428 Durling Rd., Union, Corresponding Secretary; and Harold Suratsky, 17, of 920 Grant Ave., Linden, Recording Secretary.

All are high school students.

get had addressed the Boonton Rotary Club on a previous occasion, describing some of the difficulties facing foreign students in this country.

In accepting the gift, Dr. Pratt stressed the importance of international exchange. "It has long been the policy of the university," he said, "to bring foreign students here to study in their chosen academic field and to learn about the United States at first hand. It has also been the policy to expose American students to other lands and cultures. At present we have on the Madison campus students from Panama, Italy, Indonesia, Cyprus, India, Turkey, Kenya, Togo, Tanganyika, and Hong Kong."

Dr. Samuel Pratt, Dean of the Florham-Madison campus of the university accepted the gift. He was accompanied by Nishan Najarian, Director of Student Activities and John Mangelli, sophomore and biology major from Kenya, British East Africa; Man-

Fulcomer said the group's first project was to collect signatures on petitions addressed to individual distributors.

"As teenagers we are asking these people to see to it that more beneficial literature is brought into the community," he said.

"We hope to collect 1,000 signatures in the next two weeks, which should show the distributors that there are lots of young people who comprise a market for good books," he added.

Fulcomer said, "Some of the smut that is now available can definitely hurt a person psychologically, and contribute to maladjustment."

"It also reflects a breakdown of moral standards—and it is this more than anything else which contributes to the deterioration of the family unit."

He said the aim of the group was to get youth committees working in every one of the county's 21 municipalities. "This would be a real reaffirmation of our dedication to the virtues which have made our country great," he said.

Miss Kanane said the formation of the committee was "the most heartening development to date in our battle against a relentless tide of filth."

She said: "To see the very targets of unscrupulous businessmen turn their backs on this trash—and themselves become youthful standard bearers is tremendously encouraging."

Miss Kanane, who has been conferring with prosecutors in Northern New Jersey on techniques to combat the distribution of pornography, continued: "If young people respond to the work of this new committee, I think we will have achieved a major breakthrough."

She urged students throughout the county to get in touch with the committee to help gather signatures.

Rock Girl Scouts Begin Cookie Sale Campaign

On Jan. 20, over 13,800 Girl Scouts from 8 year old Brownies to teenage Seniors started taking orders for the annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale in the 26 communities served by the Washington Rock Girl Scout Council.

The order taking will continue until February 3, and from March 5 to 12 the girls will deliver the cookies to their customers and collect payments. They will offer five flavors of cookies: 4-flavored creme sandwiches, chocolate and vanilla sandwich cremes, scot teas, mints and savanahs, all produced by Burry Biscuit Corporation especially for Girl Scout Cookie sales throughout eastern, southern and midwestern states. The price will be 30 cents per box.

This year as well as raising funds for camping and for troop activities and equipment through the Cookie Sale, the Girl Scouts in this area will be working for three special prizes to be awarded to the troops selling the most cookies above a minimum goal. The highest selling Brownie troop will win a theater party and the highest selling senior troop will be awarded by a dinner and theater party.

Under an incentive plan a minimum sales goal of 40 boxes of cookies per girl will be set. Troops with sales above this goal will be eligible for a prize, and the three winners will be troops averaging the highest number of boxes of cookies per girl over the minimum goal. The averages will be figured on the number of girls in each troop.

Working behind the scenes on the Cookie Sale are over 50 adult volunteers, who will have charge of coordinating troop sales activities, keeping records, ordering cookies from Burry's, and handling funds. Product sale coordinator is John Levy, general merchandise manager of Levy Brothers Department Stores of Elizabeth and Clifton, Chairman of the Washington Rock Girl Scout Council Cookie Committee is Mrs. A.M. Gessler of Cranford, and treasurer of the committee is Mrs. Leon Spitz of Mountaine.

The sale will be held in Berkeley Heights, North Clark, Cranford, Dunellen, Elizabeth, Fanwood, Garwood, Green Brook,

PTA Founders Day

The Union County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations will have its annual Founders' Day Luncheon on Monday, February 5, 1962 at 12:15 P.M. at the Twin City Restaurant, 727 Edgar Road, Elizabeth.

A special program commemorating the 45th anniversary of the founding of the Union County Council will be presented. Mrs. Henry G. Nulton of Hillside and Citizenship Chairman of the N.J. State Congress of Parents and Teachers will narrate a history of the Council. The history was compiled recently for the Historian's Book by Mrs. Edward Pawlowski of Union, Past Historian.

Mrs. Alfred Kehler of Plainfield and Vice-President of Region II of the Union County Council, arranged the material for presentation at the luncheon.

The Union County P.T.A. Chorus under the direction of Mr. Aiden Lewis supervisor of music for Mountaine Schools, will present a group of musical selections.

Mrs. William C. Smith of Kenilworth will preside at the luncheon. Mrs. Smith is general chairman of arrangements. The pledge of Allegiance will be led by Mrs. Sigmund S. Keil, County Citizenship Chairman and the prayer by Mrs. Ernest C. Vaughn, County man. Mrs. Carl Hoff, President of the Union County Council will greet the members and introduce the guests.

Special guests include Mrs. Kenneth Lathrop, President of the N.J. State Congress of Parents and Teachers; Mrs. John A. Haggerty, Director of Region III for the N.J. State Congress; Dr. William West, Union County Superintendent of Schools; and Mrs. Elsie Charron, President of the Union County Conference of Teachers.

Past Presidents of the Union County Council will be the special guests.

Special Presidents of the Council are: Mrs. Burt H. Payne, Mrs. R. DeC. Argimbau, Mrs. Fred B. Scott, Mrs. Anthony Stenliper, Mrs. John L. Bannon, Mrs. Daniel Reifneider, Mrs. Charles R. Money Is Family Concern

Money management is a skill that has to be learned. But everyone can learn it if practice is allowed. Are today's teenagers getting the necessary experience to become responsible money managers for their own families? Teenagers handle more money today than ever before, but this does not give them needed experience in its wise use. In fact, with less money, often the lessons of managing it will come easier, from necessity. Studies show that few teenagers participate in such family activities as shopping, saving, paying bills and financial planning. Where and how are they to acquire money management ability before they marry? Every home is a ready made money management laboratory to which young people are too often not even introduced. How can they understand that money represents the hard work of one or more, and that usually no one person can have all his desires satisfied except at the expense of the others, unless they are included in family planning? A number of studies indicate a commendable spirit of co-operation on the part of young people who are properly informed. And the parent, too, willingly makes personal sacrifices for the whims of a child may even be doing the child a disfavor. Young children need not know all the family financial situation. Parents often say in such cases the children are likely to embarrass them. As they mature, their money management experience becomes greater, so that by high school age they are well acquainted with the family's finances and at this age should have learned about confidence and discretion. But children can be allowed increasingly to share in an understanding of financial circumstances. By mid-teens, youngsters' allowances and earnings, together, should be large enough to take care of their needs, including the purchase of most of their clothing. They should gain experience by paying bills, shopping for food and otherwise sharing the family's financial problems, even when the money is provided by someone else. Keep your credit in good repair -- pay all debts on time.

acquire money management ability before they marry? Every home is a ready made money management laboratory to which young people are too often not even introduced. How can they understand that money represents the hard work of one or more, and that usually no one person can have all his desires satisfied except at the expense of the others, unless they are included in family planning? A number of studies indicate a commendable spirit of co-operation on the part of young people who are properly informed. And the parent, too, willingly makes personal sacrifices for the whims of a child may even be doing the child a disfavor. Young children need not know all the family financial situation. Parents often say in such cases the children are likely to embarrass them. As they mature, their money management experience becomes greater, so that by high school age they are well acquainted with the family's finances and at this age should have learned about confidence and discretion. But children can be allowed increasingly to share in an understanding of financial circumstances. By mid-teens, youngsters' allowances and earnings, together, should be large enough to take care of their needs, including the purchase of most of their clothing. They should gain experience by paying bills, shopping for food and otherwise sharing the family's financial problems, even when the money is provided by someone else. Keep your credit in good repair -- pay all debts on time.

Benefits Total In Billion

Sixteen and one-half million people began 1962 by receiving more than a billion dollars in monthly social security benefits. 578,200 of these people, according to Ralph W. Jones, District Manager of the Elizabeth Social Security Office, live in New Jersey. "And by social security, we don't just mean old-age benefits," Jones went on to say. "In fact, there are 137,800 New Jerseyans receiving survivors benefits and 29,700 disabled workers and their dependents receiving $11,356,600 monthly." Nationwide, the figures break down this way: 11,690,000 retired workers and their dependents receiving $780,000,000 monthly; 3,814,000 widows and children receiving $225,800,000 monthly; and 1,036,000 disabled workers and their dependents receiving $68,000,000. In Union County 2,484 retired workers and their dependents receive $2,535,000 monthly; 12,624 widows and children receive $907,682 monthly and 2,072 disabled workers and their dependents receive $158,440 monthly. Many of these folks are receiving benefits now because of changes made in the law in 1961. August of last year was the first month that men between 62 and 65 could choose to receive benefits (with the amount slightly less than if they had waited until 65). This was also the month that 3,700,000 aged widows and people receiving minimum benefits found an increase in their checks. The Elizabeth Social Security office, 268 North Broad Street, will be glad to discuss the present social security law with you.

TIME FOR THOUGHT

Start the new year with one of the soundest moves you can make -- by assuring a good measure of security for your loved ones. Just a few moments thought will convince you how important it is -- yet, providing for your family, exactly as you wish, takes so little time. Here's another thought: when you include The National State Bank in your estate plans, you have a skillfully trained staff, complete facilities, and a bank with a century and a half of experience working as your executor or trustee. We'll gladly talk to you and your attorney, at your convenience, about the peace of mind our trust services can bring you, in '62.

A Potpourri

We picked up a pretty cute yarn on the airways the other day and thought we'd pass it along for your enjoyment. Yarn is probably the wrong word to use since this story is a fact, a fact that took place last week on one of America's high school basketball courts.

Blue Raiders Topple Bulldog Matmen, 21-19

SO FAR SO GOOD—Richie Lucariello, RHS Grappler at 97lbs takes care of Rahway's Clint Taylor in match Tuesday. Lucariello pinned Taylor at 2:28 to remain undefeated thus far this season.

Cagers Must Take Next Five Contests

The basketball team of Governor Livingston Regional High School is squarely on the spot. Following its loss to powerful New Providence High School, 57-48, on January 26 in New Providence, Coach Don Wodock's team is faced with the necessity of improving its mediocre 4-7 record with five of its final six games slated to be played in opponents' gymnasiums.

Heavyweight Tilt Decides Outcome Of Close Match

Two powerful Union County wrestling forces locked horns last week at the Scotch Plains High School gym, and Springfield's Bulldogs, at 5-1 before the festivities of the afternoon, succumbed to the Blue Raiders in an exciting match, 21-19.

Spfld. Bowl Creeps Up On Ehrhardt

Springfield Bowl, as the result of a sweep of Mende moved to within 1/2 a game of league leading Ehrhardt Electronics in another week of bowling in the Springfield municipal League, Ehrhardt aided Springfield Bowl's cause by managing only to win two of three from Casternovia.

Y Grapplers Lose

The Westfield YMCA Wrestling Team dropped a 35-6 decision to the Washington, New Jersey Wrestling Team this past Saturday at the Westfield YMCA.

Variety Of Sports Offered In NJ College Programs

A wide variety of varsity and intramural sports for both men and women is provided at New Jersey's six State colleges, according to a report issued by Commissioner of Education Frederick M. Raubinger.

UC Skating Meet

The Union County Ice Skating Meet, sponsored by The Union County Park Commission, will be conducted at the Warnaco Park Ice Skating Center, on Saturday, February 17, beginning at noon.

SOME MUSICAL SPORTS DITTIES

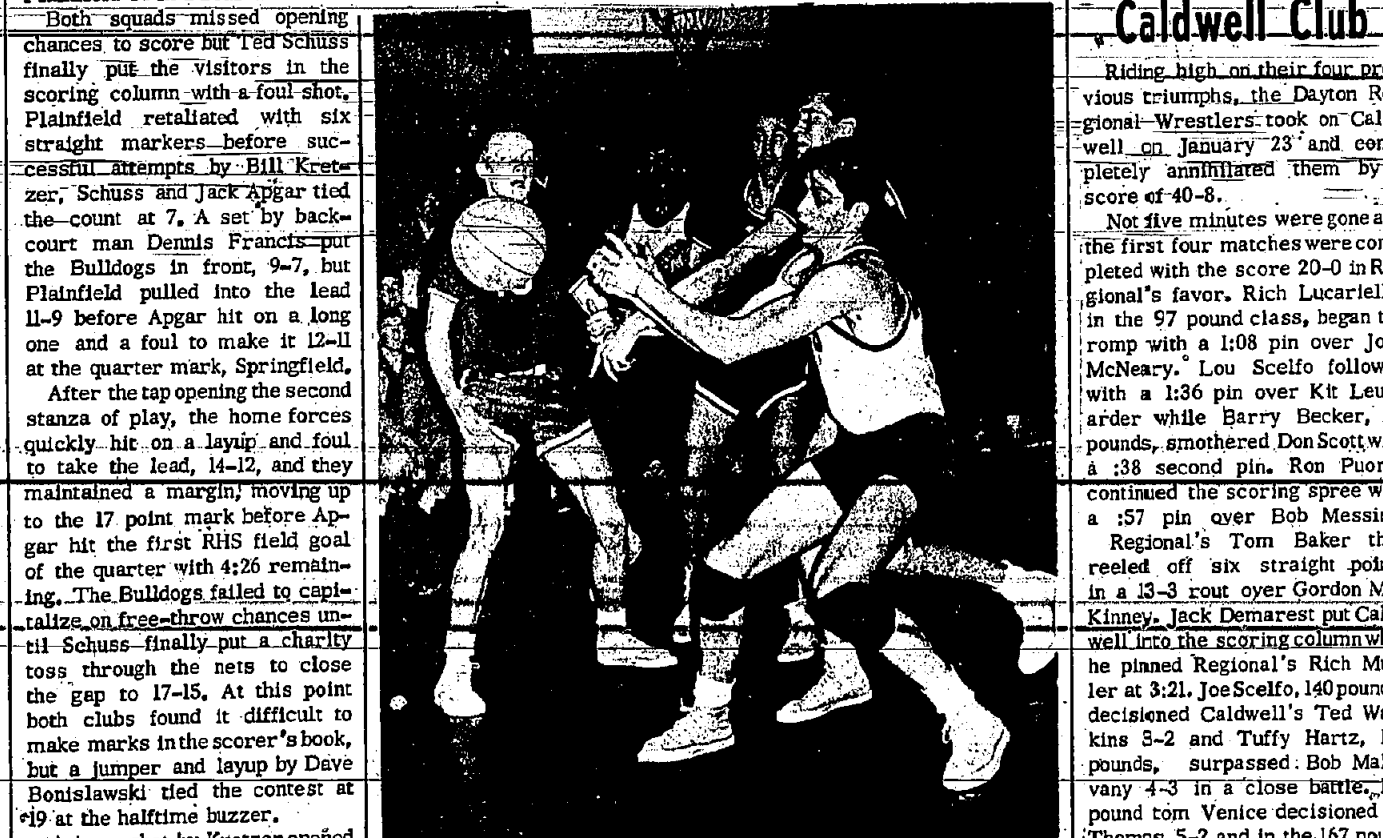

The Boston Celtics lament without Bill Russell... Sung to "BLUE STAR" "Oh, Red, we are so sad, Without Bill, we look so bad."

Mind Over 'Bladder'??

In following and participating in high school sports over these last ten years, we have come to one very definite conclusion, and discover that many schoolboy mentors seem to agree with us. It is our contention that, in basketball especially, more high school games are lost due to a lack of 'psychological balance' rather than pure, cut and dried, physical point spreads.

Some Are Close Time Runs Out On RHS As Plainfield Wins Squeaker, 45-44

Basketball fans who have gone sour on the game after witnessing one lopsided score after another, should have all crowded into the Plainfield High School gym last Friday evening to watch the sort of squeaker that might have changed their opinion of the hoop game, it was Springfield Regional 45, Plainfield 44 in a real 'battle' on the hardwood.

RHS Grapplers Rip Caldwell Club

Riding high on their four previous triumphs, the Dayton Regional Wrestlers took on Caldwell on January 23 and completely annihilated them by a score of 40-8.

Receive Awards For Safe Driving

The New Jersey Bell Telephone Company made Motor Vehicle Safe Driving Awards to 197 employees in this area for having completed from one to thirty-four years of accident free driving. In total, the 197 drivers covered over 600,000 miles.

Injection Program At First State Bank Of Union Overlook Hosp. Brings Directors To 12

In another step to bring to this area the safest and latest in medical technology, Overlook Hospital, under the direction of Robert E. Heinlein, has announced the installation of a new, scientific injection program using the latest developments in hypodermic-syringes.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of The First State Bank of Union held Tuesday, January 23, 1962 at the Townley Branch office, the following Directors were re-elected: Herbert J. Dwyer, Charles F. Heard, Bernard J. Heinzman, Walter H. Hildebrandt, Milton J. Hull, Dr. Alan L. Jacobs, Austin A. Kohl, Howard L. McMurray, Frank M. Pitt, Benjamin Romano and G. Milton Salzmann.

Approval by the stockholders that the capital stock of the bank be increased from 747,780 to 897,340 by the issuance of 14,956 shares of the par value of $10 each was also passed on at the meeting.

2 From Regional Accepted In All State Band

CHARLES ROLL and STEVEN HART, both sophomores at the Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, have won placement in the 1962 Region II, All State Band, 136 students out of 425 from the seven counties of Region II were chosen.

Steven Hart, of Springfield, started playing the clarinet in the 4th grade in the Edward Walton School. He attended the Amherst Summer Music Center at the University of Massachusetts in 1959 and 1960 in which he was selected as a member of the honor band. Steven also plays the tenor saxophone and has taught himself to play the guitar. He is a member of the "Cumberland Trio".

Plan To Expand Summer School

Plans are being finalized by the Regional Schools for an expanded summer school program for the coming summer. A committee consisting of the three assistant high school principals, Mr. Ben Merrill of Governor Livingston, Miss Anne Romano of Jonathan Dayton, and Dr. Alvin Fry of Arthur L. Johnson has been at work for some weeks completing the necessary plans. All indications point to a considerable increase in enrollment, particularly in the subjects which are offered for school advancement.

For the current year, the Governor Livingston building will not be used because of the additions and alterations under progress there. It is felt that the presence of pupils in the building would constitute a hazard in that much work concerned with plumbing and electrical tie-in, as well as other work of alteration within the building which must take place during the summer months.

Thus the pupils from Berkeley Heights and Mountaineer will be transported to the Jonathan Dayton School in Springfield for the one summer only.

The summer school has been growing rapidly both in enrollment and in subject offerings each year since its inception four years ago.

Two Promoted At Crestmont

The announcement of the promotion of two officers of Crestmont Savings and Loan Association, Maplewood, Springfield, was made yesterday by Loren F. Gardner, president. Louis R. Mottola, continuing as assistant controller, was named assistant vice president and Margaret G. Lee, formerly assistant treasurer, was named assistant vice president.

The announcement also included the appointment of three officers from staff positions. Thomas W. Kachelriess and Ralph J. Gour, Jr., were named assistant treasurers and Florence Wagner, assistant secretary.

Mr. Mottola joined Crestmont in March, 1960, and was made assistant controller in January, 1961. His previous associations were with Summit Federal Savings and Loan Association and City Federal Savings and Loan Association. A former U.S. Navy serviceman, Mr. Mottola attended the American Savings and Loan Institute from which he received an achievement award. He is working toward his degree at Seton Hall University. Mr. Mottola resides with his wife and daughter at 26 The Village, Union.

Mr. Gour has been associated with Crestmont since July, 1961. Previously, he was on the staffs of Barton Savings and Loan Association, Homestead Savings and Loan Association of Utica and Rome, New York, and Marine Midland Trust Company of Central New York in Herkimer. Mr. Gour, who resides at 159 Jacoby Street, Maplewood, served with the U.S. Marine Corps.

Mrs. Wagner has been with Crestmont since 1957. Born and educated in Ohio, she served with the Savings Deposit Bank of Medina and Fairview Federal Savings and Loan Association of Fairview Park in that state. She resides with her husband, Paul T. Wagner, at 25 Girard Place, Maplewood.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton Weiss, of 130 Irwin Street, Springfield, have returned from a three week vacation "south of the border". The Weiss' spent most of their time in Acapulco, although they did some touring, and visited in Mexico City.

Mr. and Mrs. Raye Reiff, of 33 Henshaw Avenue, Springfield, announce the birth of daughter Elizabeth Ann, on December 26 at Overlook Hospital in Summit. The new addition weighed seven pounds, three ounces at birth, and joins a family that includes fifteen-month-old sister Kathleen. The happy grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Francis Keane of Henshaw Avenue, Springfield, and Mr. Lester Reiff of Hillside Avenue, Springfield.

Here's a "Happy Birthday" to Terry Franklin, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Franklin of 11 Ruby Street, Springfield, who was thirteen years old on January 25. Sisters Gwen and Sherolyn joined in the celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Merwin Nelkin, of 74 Jefferson Terrace, Springfield, have returned from a vacation at the Dillido in Miami Beach, with daughters Randi, 6, and Mindi, 3. Highlight of their stay was the Bar Mitzvah celebration of their nephew in the fabulous Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Fontainebleau.

Saks Fifth Avenue's entire Mollie Parris Spring Collection will be modeled informally in the Designers Salon of their Springfield store on Monday, February 5, between the hours of 12:00 noon and 4:00 p.m. There are approximately fifty pieces in the Spring Collection, and we are all invited to take advantage of this exciting preview.

Congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bouvier, of 38 Morris Avenue, Springfield, on the birth of their son Jeffrey De Witt, who weighed in at five pounds, eleven ounces on January 22 at Overlook Hospital in Summit. Other "small fry" in the family are Arthur Harold II and sisters Michele and Stephanie.

Jay Mitchell Adler, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Adler of 56 Twin Oaks, Springfield, celebrated his fifth birthday with a party on January 26. Jay's guests were Ralph Kartzman, David Oppenheim, Joel Allen, Michael Hirsch, Billy and Bryan Maleckar, Mark Fendle, Ellen Roth; his cousins, Jan, Dennis, Alan and Felicia Schonborn; and brothers Aaron and Lee, and sister Randi.

4 Re-Elected At Crestmont

Four directors of the Crestmont Savings and Loan Association were re-elected at the annual meeting of the institution on Tuesday (January 23) at the association's main office, 1886 Springfield Avenue, Maplewood.

Named to new three-year terms were Loren F. Gardiner of Maplewood; J. Herbert Woolley of Short Hills; Carl L. Becker of Maplewood, who is also Treasurer of the association, and Joseph W. Grimmer of Springfield.

Mr. Gardiner, Crestmont's President, and Mr. Woolley, Chairman of the Board, told the membership at the meeting that the association had a dramatic 20 per cent climb in assets to nearly $40,000,000 in the past year. Other highlights of the annual report included a 4,500 increase in membership to 22,000; a general increase of $4 1/2 million in savings; the distribution of dividend-interest of more than $1,000,000 and a 29-per-cent boost in property improvement lending.

Members were told that Crestmont's current dividend interest rate is now 4 per cent annually on all accounts.

Other members of the board whose terms were not expiring are G. Norman Becker of Maplewood; William H. Butler, III, of Verona; Walter F. Christenson of Montclair, who is also Vice Chairman of the Board; Edward A. Conley of Springfield; Sargent Dumper of Short Hills; Ralph Kels of Scotch Plains; Thomas W. Lyons of Short Hills; Walter G. Seymour of Maplewood; G. Clifford Thomas of Elizabeth, who is also Vice President, and Arthur M. Woodward of East Orange, also Vice President.

Republican Club Planning For 1962

Chairmen of working committees for the 1962 program of the Springfield Republican Club were named by President Charles Remlinger at the club's meeting held in the American Legion Hall Monday night.

An excellent turnout of members heard Saul Freeman, Springfield Civil Defense Director, deliver an interesting talk on fallout shelters after the business session was completed.

President Remlinger made the following appointments of chairman for 1962: Arthur Dauser, membership; John Grifo, program and entertainment; Mary Sammond, refreshments; Alma Bauer, card parties; Edward Ryder, constitution and by-laws; and members of the Township Committee for Community Service.

Arthur A. Marshall was unanimously elected chairman of the Board of Trustees for 1962. Following are the officers of the Springfield Republican Club and the trustees in the various districts of the Township:

Sues To Collect Insurance Policy

Edward A. Tidaback of 27 Colfax Road, Springfield, has filed a suit in Superior Court against the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York to collect $5,000 under a double indemnity clause in a Life Insurance policy issued to his wife, Ursula M. Tidaback.

Mr. Tidaback said in the suit that the insurance company issued a policy on June 26, 1952 with a face value of $5,000 and an additional $5,000 to be paid in case of accidental death.

The plaintiff contends that Mrs. Tidaback died Sept. 25 last year shortly after she suffered injuries in an accidental fall at her home.

Mr. Tidaback is beneficiary under the terms of the policy. The company paid the $5,000 face value but on Nov. 13 last year denied the liability for the double indemnity according to the papers in the suit.

Hear Religion Talk Baha'is Followers

For several years the Baha'is of Springfield have been celebrating World Religion Day. Last Sunday they observed this occasion with a public meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Ioas, 141 Salter Street, Springfield. Mr. Ioas was the speaker.

In his talk Mr. Ioas, whose subject was "Faith for an Evolving World," emphasized the need of putting religion ahead of everything else in our lives.

"If the majority of us were to achieve this end," he said, the world would become a better place in which to live.

"When Baha'is talk about religion they mean living a good life, not practicing a set of traditions.

"Living a good life is accomplished," Mr. Ioas continued, "by truly following the teachings of God; Moses, Jesus, Buddha, Mohammed and others. But why hasn't living the good life today after the teachings of Moses, Jesus or other prophets, solved the most serious problem—lasting world peace?"

Mr. Ioas stated these prophets didn't come to bring world peace, the whole world wasn't discovered in their days. To travel one hundred miles in Jesus' day was considered a dangerous adventure. But today we are not only ready for world peace, we need it to survive."

Named Pru Agent

Fred P. Weiser, of 661 Irvington Avenue, Newark, has been named the Prudential Insurance Co.'s leading Chatham district agent for 1961 in Health Insurance sales.

Mr. Weiser's achievement was announced today by Henry A. Boddell, head of the district. He said Mr. Weiser serves many of the company's policy holders in the Springfield area, and has been a member of the Prudential's Chatham staff since 1958.

Hear Professor Discuss Fallout

Dr. David Frost, biologist, medical writer and adjunct Professor in the Science Department University College, at Rutgers, presented an analysis of the Government's civil defense program at a meeting of the War-chung Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy last week. The meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Boutsikaras, 41 Briarwood Drive E., Berkeley Heights.

During the question period that followed, Dr. Frost spoke of the incendiary and blast effects of the large nuclear weapons which are not even mentioned in the Government's pamphlet. The next meeting of the Plainfield Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy will take place at the Plainfield Public Library, February 19 at 8:30 p.m. Norman Themes will be the featured speaker.

Ort To Meet

The Board of the Springfield Chapter of Women's American ORT (Organization for Rehabilitation through Training) will hold its February meeting to night at 8:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Clarence Freundlich, 31-50 Derby Road, Springfield. Mrs. Harold Silverman, president, will conduct the meeting.

Township Well Represented At Teacher Dinner

Attending the 28th annual dinner to legislators, given by the Union County Conference of Teachers' Associations, and held at the Elizabeth Carter Hotel in Elizabeth, on Thursday, January 25, 1962, from the James Caldwell School, were: Mrs. Esther Porter, District President, Miss Edna Purcell, Mrs. Marilyn Perkins, members of the faculty of the James Caldwell School, and Mrs. Douglas C. Matrice, vice-president of the PTA.

The highlight of the evening was the acceptance of a plaque by Mrs. Robert C. Crane, which is intended for her husband, Senator Robert C. Crane, who has been confined to his home because of illness. This honor was conferred upon Senator Crane for his "distinguished service to education and was presented by Mrs. Elsie G. Charron, President of the Union County Conference of Teachers.

It was the first time in its 30 year history that the Conference has paid such tribute to one not officially in the field of education.

Others from Springfield attending this dinner were August Caprio, member of the Springfield Board of Education and in charge of the foreign language programs at the Regional High School; Mrs. Ruth Schwartz, president of the Raymond Chisholm School PTA; Mrs. H. Lee Sarokin, president of the Sandmeter School PTA; Mrs. Stephen Buno, president of the Edward Walton PTA and Mrs. Robert Jackson, president of the Capdiner School PTA.

Members Fulfill Promise

MOUNTAINSIDE

As they announced in the January 25th issue of the ECHO, members now sitting on the present Mountainside Board of Education, Peter Metz, Stephen Pida and Orin Johnson, have submitted the first in a series of replies to "specific allegations circulated by three of the candidates for the Board."

CUB AWARDS--Pictured above are just some awarded badges or arrows Friday night at the home of the members of Cub Pack 177 who were Community Presbyterian Church.

Cubs Present Skit, Then Receive Awards

"Hail to King Arthur" was the cry as Cub Pack 177 met in the Community Presbyterian Church Friday evening. "Knights of Yore" was the theme illustrated by skits presented by Dens 1, 11, and 14. The opening flag ceremony was performed by Den 12.

Brownies Get Stars

At their meeting on January 17, the girls of Brownie-Troop #878, Springfield, received their first-year membership stars. The proud recipients were Karen Belliveau, Bonnie Constad, Paula Dolshun, Julie Haberberg, Roberta Murchison, Patty Rankin, Judy Smith and Kathy Yeager.

Noste-- "Why I Support Snell, Mrs. Weppler, Foster"

In a letter to the ECHO today, James C. Noste, currently a member of the Mountainside School Board explains why he has thrown his full support behind Raymond Foster, Mrs. Virginia Weppler and George Snell, three candidates for the School Board.

"New hope, spirit and inspiration can come back to Mountainside. However, we cannot make it official until the people declare as their choice for members of the Board of Education, George Snell, Mrs. Virginia Weppler, and Raymond Foster. These people truly personify the character, integrity, courage and compassion that will make Mountainside proud for its fine educational system."

"I feel like a pugilist going into the ring without boxing gloves," he said with a smile mixed with both apprehension and confidence. However, you may be sure George is not down or out by any sense of the word. He's back up on his feet fighting with positive spirit and attitude. He is planning his defense like the fine gentleman that he is. He has strong confidence and respect for people and trusts they will make judgments based upon ALL of the FACTS. He steadfastly asserts sound clear analysis will always win over MOB PSYCHOLOGY, George's sportsmanship and gentlemanly outlook in the fact of this "distasteful incident" unquestionably confirms my first conclusions of him.

MMA Audience Is Complimented At Choir Performance

MOUNTAINSIDE

Mountainsiders were again rated as "the most responsive audience of any on our tour" by a spokesman for the University of Tulsa Modern Choir, which made its third appearance in the borough Monday evening at Deerfield Auditorium.

Noste Levies Charges

James C. Noste, member of the Mountainside Board of Education, today released a series of charges aimed at the three incumbent candidates presently running for seats on the Board.

"1. On the basis of information given to me by the superintendent of schools, I strongly question the action of the incumbent candidate or candidates for taking from the CONFIDENTIAL files of the superintendent's office a letter which they made into photostatic copies. This letter was the letter George Snell wrote to Dr. Hamigan in strict confidence on August 11, 1961."

Board Member Defends Actions While Serving

In a statement to the ECHO, James Noste, member of the Mountainside Board of Education, defends his attendance record at Board meetings, and also "asks the public to search out the 'true records' for themselves."

"Since I am not a candidate for re-election to the school board, I find this most disconcerting to spend this time in order to defend my name. I do not relish this one bit. Mountainside residents should be exposed to things more productive to educational matters than having to read items that are negative in nature. However, my answer to the unkind charges made against me during the Coffees and Teas are for the people who must have sensed a degree of discomfort when being forced to listen to personality attacks upon a member who is NOT seeking office at this time, and especially when said person is not present to defend himself."

Aid In Ticket Sales

Mrs. Howard Raymond and Mrs. Francis McGovern, chairman of the ticket committee of the Country Sweetheart Dance being sponsored by the Rosary Altar Society of Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Mountainside, on Saturday evening February 10 in the Parish Hall, have the following members assisting with the sale of tickets:

Her Undaunted Willingness

"Her undaunted willingness and buoyant spirit to meet the experienced 'professionals' head on, merits her my highest admiration and respect as well as the admiration and respect of others who have seen her. She has a mind of her own; she is not a follower. She exhibits a good sense of organization and planning in working out her problems. She is not the sheltered type and displays a flare for getting right in there with a lot of follow-up and go. Her innate ability and qualities will develop into a tremendous asset for the public school children of Mountainside. Her natural personal warmth, understanding and compassion, both as an individual and as a mother, exemplifies her qualifications to serve on the Board of Education. Mrs. Weppler will never settle for less than the BEST educational opportunities for all the children of Mountainside."

Mr. Noste's Letter

"If I have been maligned by the incumbents in the 'closed circuit' coffees and teas, for 'CHOOSING' these people to run, may I openly say what I cannot refute in the presence of their private audiences, THIS IS NOT SO. Again, the incumbents have taken a road degrading to the dignity of the Board of Education by capitalizing on their 'wishful thinking' interpretation of a headline that was printed differently than the way it was submitted to the Echo. The few votes they may have hoped to gain was certainly not worth the loss of prestige and stature they once held in the eyes of many people who thought they were above that."

Mr. Noste's Statement

"Thank the Lord for the ECHO. Fortunately this is the only medium to use in an attempt to rebuttal the personality insults. I respectfully refer the people of Mountainside to the office of the Board of Education at Echobrook School. In this office you may find answers and official substantiating evidence that will either disprove or prove statements relating to any Board of Education matter or activity. More people should do this. It is your right as a citizen and a right you should exercise FAR MORE often than you do now."

SCIENCE NOTEBOOK
Hans Klein

For the average person, serious exposition pertaining to scientific subjects is not for leisurely reading. Even reasonably bright students are disappointed in learning they cannot just "read over" lessons in physics, chemistry, or mathematics. With this in mind, we shall take a more relaxed approach toward the material already discussed.

Let us review the atom concept. The ancient Greeks through their penchant for mental gymnastics began to wonder about matter. They tried to reason whether matter was infinitely continuous or whether it could be subdivided into basic components. The Greek mathematician, Anaxagoras, tried to imagine cutting an object in half, then cutting the half in half, and so on, ad infinitum. Democritus, the originator of the atom concept, believed that there was a limit to this process of subdivision. The limit, Democritus believed, was the atom—in fact the word "atom"—means uncuttable.

Greek reasoning in science was better than their ability to provide substantiating proof. Not until 20 centuries later when chemistry developed into a science was it observed that chemical elements combined with one another in definite proportions. Dalton linked this phenomenon to the interaction of small, definite particles, and we were back to atoms again.

Many chemists at the time of Dalton scoffed at the old idea because it was based on inference. The criticism, of course, was quite true, and still is. Nevertheless, the inference in favor of atoms became greater and greater until today chemists consider atoms as real as a bag of marbles is to a small boy.

We are a long way from the atom concept of Democritus, and from that of Dalton too, because the modern concept of the atom is hardly that of an indivisible particle but is composed of still smaller entities: protons, neutrons, and electrons. Thus if the atom is divisible it really is not an atom. However, the name "atom" is over two thousand years old now, and it is doubtful that it would serve any good purpose to change its name at this late date. Not only are there subdivisions of the atom, but there are possible subdivisions of the subdivisions.

History apparently does repeat itself. Greek thinkers outran their ability to corroborate their theories. But modern scientists are approaching limits too. If we do not destroy ourselves in the process of probing into matter, future generations may be right back where the Greeks were—wondering what the smallest limits of matter really are.

science quiz

1. Which is the poorest conductor of electricity: carbon, water, mercury, or sulfuric acid?
2. What is ammonia: a liquid, an element, a compound, or a mixture?
3. What do the letters TNT stand for: a chemical formula, an abbreviation, any high explosive, or the inventor's initials?
4. Which has the largest molecule: sugar, gasoline, hemoglobin, or wood alcohol?
5. Which contains the most tin: tin cans, tinsel, spider, or tin types?

ANSWERS

1. Water. Pure water is a non-conductor.
2. A compound. Ammonia is a gas, composed of nitrogen and hydrogen which can be liquefied at -40 degrees C.
3. An abbreviation. It stands for TRINITROTOLUENE whose formula is C₇H₅(NO₂)₃.
4. Hemoglobin. A molecule of hemoglobin has over 9,000 atoms, a molecule of wood alcohol only 6 atoms.
5. Solder. Solder is usually lead and tin. A tin can is mostly steel.

Two Hikes Are Planned

The members and guests of The Union County Hiking Club will have a choice of two hikes being offered on Sunday, February 4.

The first group, under the leadership of Dennis Berliner, Union, will cover eight moderate miles in the Wolf Den Circular near Midvale, New Jersey. The hikers will meet at the Administration Building of the Union County Park Commission, Warplancio Park, Elizabeth, at 8:30 a.m.

The second hike is a Sunday morning ramble in Garret Mountain Park, Paterson. The group, to be led by Charles Trelease, East Orange, will meet in the Garret Park parking area, near the museum at 9:30 a.m. and will return by 12:30 p.m.

Anyone who is interested in hiking may accompany the group as a guest and; after going on three-hikes, is eligible for membership. For further information contact the offices of the Park Commission.

Little Bear's New Name

by Geldi Mallay

Little Bear walked into the forest beyond his Indian village. He was very sad and walked silently looking only at the ground. "Hi, Little Bear," said a fawn. Little Bear only waved and kept on walking. The fawn followed

"The forest is too dangerous for a little boy alone," replied the mother skunk. "Perhaps we can make him fun back." Little Bear passed the big oak with the thick vine trailing up its trunk. A rustling sounded and a little hare ran out. "Hi, Little Bear," he called. "Don't go into the forest all alone," Little Bear didn't answer. "What's wrong?" the hare asked the skunks and the fawn. "He won't tell us so we're following to help when danger comes," they answered. The hare hopped along with them. "A large crow, circling overhead, flew down. "Is this a parade?" he asked. "Of course not," said the mother skunk. "Little Bear won't turn back. We're following to help when danger comes." "Please stop Little Bear before he goes too far," begged the fawn. The crow perched on Little Bear's shoulder. "The forest is no place for a little boy," he said. But Little Bear kept walking. The big crow flapped his wings. "I'll get someone to help," he said and flew away calling, "Silly boy! Silly boy!" Very soon he returned, Big Eagle was with him.

"I'll flag when danger comes," cried the fawn. "I'll show you where to hide," said the hare. "We'll help, too," promised the skunks. On walked Little Bear. Suddenly the crow called out, "A huge bear is coming through the forest!" The little fawn's tail flagged. "Everybody run!" cried the hare. Little Bear did not run! He knelt on one knee and raised his bow. Then he saw the bear. He sprang his arrow shooting the bear in his eye. What a howl he gave. Now he was really angry!

An extension phone helps you take busy days in stride

...only 90¢ a month

Feeding baby, preparing meals, cleaning house and what-have-you—who needs an extension phone more than Mom? It helps her (almost) be in two places at once. So low in cost, too—just 90¢ a month. And pretty extensions in color cost so little extra. How about one to ease your busy days? Just call the Telephone Business Office. NEW JERSEY BELL

Big Eagle flew down in front of them all, spreading his wings wide across the path. Little Bear had to stop. "Where are you going, Little Bear," asked Big Eagle. "Please don't call me that," said Little Bear. "It's such a baby name." "Just right for a little boy," answered Big Eagle. "But I want to be a brave. I'm going into the forest to catch a fierce animal—so I can have a brave name." "Without a bow and arrow?" said wise Big Eagle. "I'll make one!" Little Bear looked around for something to use. "There's a curved branch," said the crow. "I'll weigh it down for you." The crow sat on the branch so Little Bear could reach it. "Take a hair from my tail to tie your bow," offered Mother skunk. "They're very strong." Little Bear chose the longest hair to tie his bow. Now he must make an arrow. "I have a swift wing feather," said Big Eagle. "It will make a fine arrow." "Thank you all!" cried Little Bear. "Now I can earn a brave
