Trees selected for this year are usually maple or sycamore and are selected for their hardiness and long-living qualities, it was said. New trees are planted on the basis of old requests of the citizens in the township, it was reported.

It is also expected that some spraying might be done in the township with Hawthorne-Henstar area, where a number of the trees are located on public property, getting special attention. A fertilization program is also undertaken by the commission, especially after periods when the community experiences a drought.

The commission has engaged William Jones of Pasking Ridge a landscape architect, for the maintenance of the lawn of the Municipal Building. His work will include mowing, seeding, and general care of the lawn.

An Arbor Day program was conducted by the commission last Friday at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School with the planting of a few trees. Adam La Sota of the commission was in charge. School children and township officials were invited to participate.

The observance of Arbor Day, the last Friday of April, was postponed until Friday because of the holiday week.

The commission meets the first Tuesday of each month at the Municipal Building except during July and August, when meetings are held only in an emergency.

cream to the homes of Springfield residents. Typical of the reactions to the truck were those expressed by Mrs. Beverly Kesselhaut of Mohawk Drive and Wallace Callen of 10 Mohawk Drive. Mrs. Kesselhaut stated that the license to Good Humor may have been issued for the purpose of delivery. However, she felt that the children of the area, who immediately rushed into the street and crowded around the vehicle, didn't understand the intent of the license. For this reason, she said "the continued presence of such a truck would constitute a menace to the safety of our children."

Wallace Callen recalled that Township Committeeman Vincent Bonadies opposed the issuance of such a permit to an ice cream company because it would open a wedge whereby ice cream would eventually be vended on the streets. Previous township committees have refused to issue such a permit during the last several years. Mr. Callen stated that the type of truck used and the fact that the "driver" went door to door in an attempt to develop a route indicate that the wedge is already opened.

"Open House" Invitation For Beth Ahm Dedication

Plans for Temple Beth Ahm dedication ceremonies scheduled for the weekend of May 12, 19 and 20 are nearing completion. An open house has been added to the list of events for the weekend. Tours will be conducted through the new building at 60

MILTON KAPSTATTER

Walnut Hill Way, Saturday, May 12 between 2-4 P.M. Guides for these tours will be members of the Temple Building Committee.

Temple Beth Ahm has been in operation in 1951 as a general group. This group became the nucleus of the Jewish Community Center of Springfield. The group and membership meeting of the organization was held in October, 1951, at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. J. Freedman with an attendance of twenty-eight people. Chairman for the meeting was Ralph Feldman.

The group met during 1951-1952 in the American Legion. In May, 1952, Dr. Samuel H. Stein was elected president and the first annual dinner-dance was held at the Moresque in West Orange. Under the direction of Dr. Goldstein the group established a Sunday School at the Raymond Chisholm School. Mr. and Mrs. I. Yablonsky directed the Sunday School with Sue Kalem, Roz Yablonsky, Ephie Weiniger and Milton Kappstatter as the teachers. In May, 1953 the membership of the group reached 65 families.

Ephie Weiniger became the third president. The first Sabbath Eve Service was held at the Presbyterian Parish House in October 1953. Leonard Golden, Dr. A. Williams, Dr. N. Gershwin and Paul Karlin conducted the services. Temple Beth Ahm in Millburn made available all materials and supplies needed for the services. Mrs. Karlin prepared the first Kiddush. The membership reached 120 families in June 1954.

The property for the Temple was purchased early in 1954 and during the following summer, under the Presidency of Ray Baumrind, the men spent their weekends rebuilding, repairing and refurbishing the building. The first High Holiday Services were held on September 27, 1954, under the religious chairmanship of Leonard Golden and with the spiritual direction of visiting Rabbi Fefer and Cantor Kramerman.

By June 1955 the membership reached 160 families. The late Bernard Lyons took office in June, 1955, and through his efforts the group became affiliated with the United Synagogue. Membership reached 185 families

To Enforce Meter Parking Monday

Fireside Group In Final Meeting

The Fireside Group of First Presbyterian Church, Springfield, held its last official meeting of the year last night (Wednesday) in the church parish house in Main Street. The program included an auction with Fred Schenck, a member of the group, serving as auctioneer.

Those residents - both from Springfield and neighboring communities - who have been using Springfield's parking lots and commuting by bus to New York and Newark - will have a lifeline shock, starting with Monday.

Meters have been installed in the Public Parking Lot No. 1, located at Hannah and Center streets (rear of the Hershey's Ice Cream Co.) and the police department has instructions to start enforcement of the parking rules this coming Monday.

The meters permit one hour parking with each coin and each hour overtime parking will require another coin. There is a six hour limit to the parking in this lot but a coin must be inserted at the end of each hour. Sunday and holidays are excepted.

Also - THERE WILL BE NO PARKING BETWEEN 2 a.m. and 5 a.m. ANY NIGHT.

Chief of Police Wilbur C. Selander has instructed members of the department to enforce the parking rules beginning Monday.

A great number of people have been in the habit of driving to Springfield from Millburn, Short Hills, Summit, Madison and other communities, parking their cars all day in one of the Township lots and taking the bus to their places of employment. The use of parking meters is expected to give more room for shoppers and local residents in this public parking facility.

Temple Presents Check As Thanks To Presbyterians

Temple Sharey Shalom presented a gift check to First Presbyterian Church, Springfield, at the 9:30 A.M. church service Sunday as a token of appreciation for use of the parish house for religious services.

The gifts to be used for the purchase of religious pictures. Two pictures have already been purchased through the Metropolitan Art Museum in New York City to date and will be appropriately framed for use in the parish house.

Sharey Shalom Congregation has suspended its religious services in the Presbyterian parish house in Main Street since the recent completion and dedication of its new Temple in South Springfield Avenue.

UJC Board Honors Sen. Crane

A resolution recognizing the service of the late Senator Robert C. Crane of Westfield to Union Junior College and to all higher education in New Jersey was adopted Monday, April 30 by the Board of Trustees of Union Junior College.

Sen. Crane, who died last week after a long illness, served as a trustee of Union Junior College. The board directed that a copy of the resolution be forwarded to Mrs. Crane.

"It is with a great sense of loss both to the college and to Union County and all of New Jersey that we report the death of Senator Robert Crane," Dr. Kenneth C. MacKay, UJC president, said. "He was at all times a good friend and supporter, not only of Union Junior College, but of higher education throughout New Jersey."

"As recently as the last meeting of this board, tribute was paid to Senator Crane's great interest in protecting and promoting the interests of our college."

SCIENCE NOTEBOOK

BY HANS KLEIN UNION COUNTY REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOLS

People in countries having a high degree of technological development tend to be materialists in their outlook on life; in fact, science and, in turn, technology flourish in a materialistic society.

Americans and Russians are permanent materialists. This common trait may well contribute to their incompatibility. Russian Communists are materialists by decree and boast of it; Americans are materialists by evolution and are inclined to disavow it.

A detailed description of materialistic philosophy is impossible in brief here, but essentially one aspect of materialism holds the proposition that reality is explainable in terms of matter in motion, or matter and energy, and that qualitative characteristics are reducible to quantitative differences. It denies supernaturalism, thus stimulating investigation of natural phenomena and establishing the supremacy of science. Materialists take a dim view of explanations which do not conform to existing natural laws. Yet since each of us perceives the universe within the limits of his own mind, it frustrates us to feel that mind is merely an outgrowth of matter, and the reality we proclaim seems ever to elude our comprehension.

Materialistic Western civilizations are dynamic; success is progress—a progress developed by technology weaving an ever-growing web of complexities.

Modern Man works hard to escape physical labor, but escaping it, he finds less and less joy in mental relaxation. Ambition keeps him racing against time itself for he has lost the art of savoring the passage of time or wasting it wilfully on the inner self.

SCIENCE QUIZ

1. We often hear it said that someone "makes a choice of his own free will." Is this statement valid?

2. In which of the following is scientific method most successful: sociology, psychology, physics, or education?

3. Is travel conducive to developing wisdom?

4. Next to man, which animal now rates a high intelligence: dog, cat, porpoise, chimpanzee, or gorilla?

5. Has the development of T.V., movies, radio, and speedy means of travel reduced boredom?

ANSWERS

1. We usually think so, but in the materialistic sense every action has a cause, or according to the doctrine of determinism, every event is the result of antecedent conditions, and thus a purely spontaneous free choice is not possible. The problem of free will is quite complex and highly controversial.

2. Physics. The other branches listed use scientific methods, but they involve more variable factors which do not respond to rigid controls as does physics.

3. I like to think so, but Kant, the great philosopher, never left the environs of Konigsberg, Prussia, his native city.

4. Porpoise. A few investigators have even rated the porpoise higher than man. The chimpanzee has been studied more, and has usually been rated highest heretofore.

5. It is hard to say, but if they were highly effective in dispelling boredom, it should be easy to say.

Former Springfield Girl Starring In Mill Production Of 'Fiorello'

If anyone attending a performance of "Fiorello" at the Paper Mill Playhouse in Millburn thinks he recognizes one of the stars, chances are he's got his eye on pretty Ginny Perlowin, for Ginny is a former resident of Springfield.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Krochling, who now resides in Spring Lake Heights, N.J., Ginny was born and raised here, first living on Washington Avenue, then moving to Milltown Road and eventually to Clinton Avenue.

Although a well-known and, we might add, quite talented actress, Ginny first decided on nursing before finally settling on show business as a career.

"It was when I was 13 years old," she related the other night after the show, "I fell from a tree while rough-housing with my two brothers and broke my leg. I was taken to Overlook Hospital in Summit where I became fascinated by the nurses in their capes and caps and decided that nursing was for me." But show business was never completely out of her thoughts.

While attending Regional High School, Ginny was active in the Ginny Perlowin, a member of the cheerleading squad, an honor roll student and had parts in most of the school plays.

Not limiting her activities to school alone, she was in the children's choir and later the adult choir of the Presbyterian Church of Springfield.

After graduating from Regional in 1945, Ginny went to Syracuse University. "I chose Syracuse," she said, "because I could study nursing and music there at the same time." Continuing, she added,

"I was always fascinated by nurses' capes and, wouldn't you know it, I went to a school where they didn't wear them. I finally bought one for myself just last year."

While at Syracuse, she got a job at a local radio station singing on an early morning show. "I worked from 6 to 7 in the morning, then rushed back for the 7:30 shift at the hospital. It was quite hectic."

In 1949, after graduating from Syracuse University as a registered nurse, Ginny toured briefly with the City Opera Company in "Carmen" and then got a job at the Long Island College Hospital in Brooklyn. While at the hospital, she studied voice and opera at Juilliard School of Music in New York City.

It was then she was promoted to Nursing Supervisor that she made the big decision to go into show business. "I kept getting more responsible jobs at the hospital," she said, "and this meant that I would have to give more time to it. I decided I was getting too secure and I wanted to give show business a try before settling on nursing as a career."

"I auditioned for a part in 'Mr. Wonderful' with Sammy Davis, Jr. and got it." As a result of this break, she quit nursing and has worked on Broadway, in television and in stock ever since.

She will continue in the role of "Thea" at the Paper Mill Playhouse through May 20, after which she will go on tour with the company.

And after that, what? "Oh, nothing really definite. I've had an offer to go into 'How to Succeed in Business' but I'm not sure I'll take it."

To Hear Army Talk

"A Peculiar Treasure" will be unearthed for members of the Evening Group of the First Presbyterian Church, Springfield on Wednesday evening, May 16, when Mrs. Major John VanGould of the Salvation Army will speak on the work of the Salvation Army Cadets, and specifically of her experiences as a Youth Director. The meeting will be held in the Parish House at 8:15 p.m.

Mrs. VanGould is a graduate of the Salvation Army School for Officers' Training in New York City and has served as an officer in each of the New England states. Mrs. VanGould came to New Jersey with her husband in 1958 and they now reside in Bloomfield.

All during her career in the Salvation Army, Mrs. VanGould has been particularly interested in work with young people. In 1953 she was one of a team of volunteers at the Metropolitan State Hospital for the mentally ill at Boston who spearheaded experiments in group therapy with children in that institution.

In addition to her work in the Army, Mrs. VanGould is vitally interested in the work of United Church Women and is, at present, the Vice President of the Newark Council of Church Women.

4th Graders See Museum Village

Men And Tanks Of 5th Reconnaissance, National Guard Camp At Houdaille Co. Quarry For Weekend Of Training

The 5th Reconnaissance Squadron is headquartered in Westfield at the Army opposite the high school. The unit meets either Monday, Tuesday or Thursday evenings. Spokesmen point out that there are openings available in the unit and urge all those interested in completing their military obligation in the National Guard to immediately contact Sergeant McBride at AD 2-4205. Once a Regular Army draft notice is received it is impossible to get into a National Guard unit.

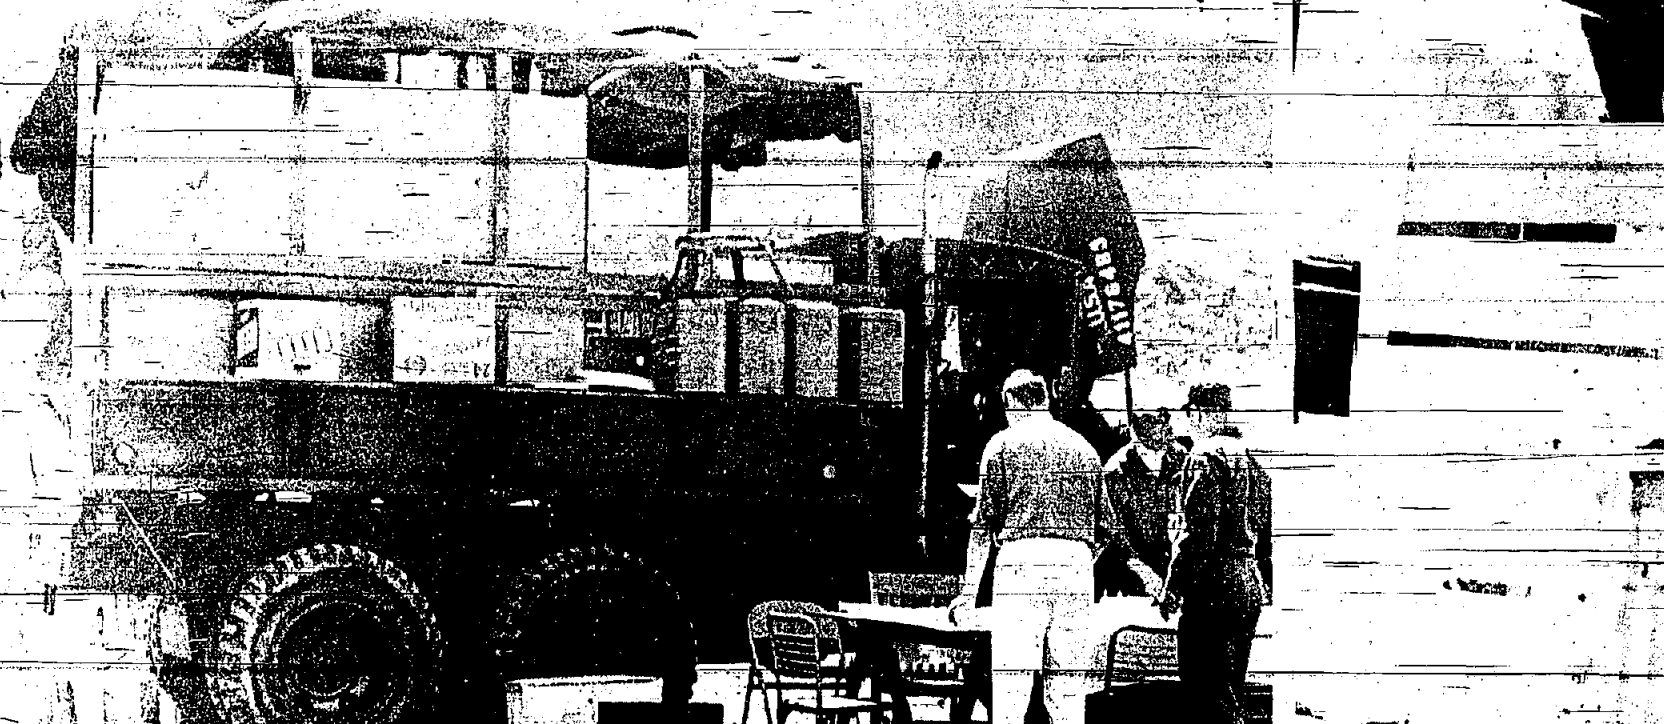

SPRINGFIELD TANK COMMANDER—Tom Scriba of 28 Morrison rd., Springfield perches atop the tank he commands. Tom, who has been in the National Guard for about two and a half years, is responsible for the training, tactical employment and discipline of his crew. Officers say that Tom has shown many leadership qualities thus far in his hitch, and has been urged to attend the New Jersey Military Academy for officers training. At the school, Tom would be instructed in basic leadership training, employment of platoon size units, and advanced tactical techniques. If a candidate passes officers school he is commissioned as a Second Lt., and from there the sky is the limit.

MEN AND TANKS—Men and tanks of the 5th Reconnaissance Squad line up at the firing line prior to target practice at the Houdaille Construction Company's quarry on the Springfield Summit line. The unit, a member of the New Jersey National Guard has been using the Houdaille site for the past two years for tank maneuvers. Pictured above is two million dollars worth of armor. After their basic at Fort Dix, men of the 5th moved to Fort Knox, Kentucky for special tank training. There are four men to each tank who work as a team. In the event of war, their jobs would be security and reconnaissance. There are 32 tanks in the unit (Westfield and Elizabeth). In addition to this training, men of the 5th attend weekly meetings to keep abreast of current military tactics and techniques and attend summer camp for two weeks where they receive extensive field experience.

IT'S SHADY ANYWAY—All was not target practice with bullets at the quarry over the weekend. Pictured above, a member of the 5th takes aim with a carol prior to serving men their lunch.

MESS TRUCK—After a morning practice men of the 5th prepare for lunch. The above mess truck carries enough food for three days rations for 150 men. The unit is so constructed as to allow men to cook while on the move. It is also possible to cook at one place and serve at another using special containers for the job. All concerned seem to agree that there are many advantages of being a cook in the military. Officers point out that a cook has an opportunity to learn more through the proper preparation of food. The men are given at least one hot meal per day, with all meals being prepared from the Army Department's master menu, which outlines cooking procedures and calorie count. All men are served the same meal.

Lena Walton, Bicycle Victim, 9, Dies At 96

Mrs. Lena Blanchard Walton, widow of Edward V. Walton, died last Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles E. Chambers, 492 Princeton-Kingston Road, Princeton. She was 96.

Mrs. Walton's husband, who died in 1928, served as superintendent of schools in Springfield, Butler and Roselle. The Edward V. Walton Elementary School in Springfield was dedicated in his honor in 1957.

Mrs. Walton was born in Den- ville, and lived in Springfield from 1900 to 1917, in Butler from 1917 to 1921 and in Roselle from 1921 to 1949, when she moved to Florida. She returned to New Jersey in 1958 and had lived with her daughter since.

Mrs. Walton was a member of Second Presbyterian Church, in Princeton, and Silenta Chapter 56, O.E.S., of Butler.

Besides her daughter, she leaves two sons, Frank L. of Glen Ridge and Charles E. of Gloucester, Va., four grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

The services were held Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. in Smith and Smith Suburban, 415 Morris Ave., Springfield.

Bicycle Victim, 9, Allowed $1,925

Union County Court Judge W. Fillmore Wood approved a settlement of $1,925 in a suit involving a 9-year-old Springfield boy struck by a bicycle.

Under the agreement, John F. Schwab of 49 Keeler St., Springfield, will receive $925 for medical and legal expenses and his son, William, will receive $1,000 for injuries.

The defendants were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marshall of 144 Pitt Road, Springfield.

The plaintiffs, contended that the Schwab youngster was injured when a bicycle ridden by the Marshall's son, Arthur, 12, crashed into him at a playground May 31, 1961.

Senator Sees Fast Action On Commuter Projects

Senator Harrison A. Williams (D., N.J.) has said that fast action can be expected in Washington on five commuter demonstration projects proposed earlier this week by the Tri-State Transportation Committee.

"I've been informed," he said, "that the Housing and Home Finance Agency will act quickly as soon as the formal applications are received. If the H.H.F.A. finds that the applications meet all specifications, as appears likely, we can expect work to be under way by the middle of June."

The Tri-State Transportation Committee -- representing official agencies of New Jersey, New York, and Connecticut -- announced Tuesday that it was preparing the applications for demonstration funds available under the Mass Transit Program introduced by Williams as part of the Housing Act of 1961.

Each of the projects is intended to demonstrate the effect that improved service or facilities will have in encouraging commuters to make greater use of such service. The major New Jersey proposal calls for a 300-car parking lot near New Brunswick. This project would test the willingness of potential riders to leave their automobiles at the lot while they use the Pennsylvania Railroad commuter trains.

Senator Williams, speaking at a meeting of the Transit Committee of Bergen County (New Jersey), said that the H.H.F.A. must first establish that the Tri-State group has eligibility as a legal entity capable of conducting the projects. As soon as that technicality is met, the H.H.F.A. will consider the applications.

"To give you some idea of the speed with which the federal agency can move on such applications," said the Senator, "let me describe the action taken on the very first project approved under this program. It came in the form of a request for demonstration funds for Detroit. Ten days after the application arrived, it was granted. This particular project is testing the attractiveness of improved bus service in one part of the city. The grant was made on March 28. Detroit has had augmented bus service for three weeks, and comprehensive field checks are under way."

"The Tri-State projects, it seems to me, are as carefully tailored to meet the standards of the federal transit program as the Detroit proposal was. For that reason I would say that the likelihood of approval is good."

Senator Williams also said that much depends on how the Tri-State projects are presented, individually or in a package. He said that some individual proposals might move faster than others.

Overlookers Hear Management Expert

Key members of Overlook Hospital's Administrative Staff last night heard Yale University authority Chris Argyris speak on "The Pathology of Organization" at a dinner meeting in the Hotel Suburban in Summit.

The program was one of a series conducted by Overlook to keep its staff up-to-date on the latest techniques and theories of management.

"With some 800 employees and an annual budget of $4,000,000, running Overlook is 'big business,'" commented Robert E. Heinlein, Overlook's Director. "Training and supervising our personnel effectively is of major importance to the hospital's operation."

"Although Overlook has operated in the black for several years now, by careful management, we were also able to cut down our per diem costs last year in contrast to the rising trend of hospital costs in years preceding," he added.

Earlier lecture sessions have been presented by the Society for the Advancement of Management and by Johnson and Johnson. Topics discussed have covered communications, employee counseling, delegation of authority, setting up of goals plus their instrumentation and evaluation.

In addition to his post as Professor of Industrial Administration at Yale University's School of Engineering, Mr. Argyris is a special consultant on Human Relations in Industry to many noted organizations including the Department of Health, Education and Welfare; the Food Foundation; the National Institute of Mental Health; the National Science Foundation; the United States Air Force.

He has served as Special Consultant in Human Relations, Executive Development and Organization to the governments of England, Norway, Sweden, Holland, France, Italy, Greece, and Germany, and has lectured at numerous executive programs at M.I.T., Cornell, Northwestern and McGill University, the Universities of Michigan and Virginia, among others.

Mr. Argyris is also the author of numerous articles and books including interpersonal competence and organizational behavior, Executive Leadership, Personality and Organization.

To Conduct Workshop

Dr. Donald Merachuk, Director of Special Services, Mrs. Stewart Murray, School Psychologist of the Union County Regional High School District No. 1 and Mr. Bernard Miller, Elizabeth School Psychologist, will conduct a workshop on in-service programs for teachers and parents at the annual Institute of the New Jersey Association of School Psychologists. This institute will be held at Fairleigh-Dickinson University, Rutherford-Campus on May 18.

Cornerstone Ceremony Announced

The new Saint Barnabas Medical Center has announced that Friday May 25th at 11:00 a.m. will be the time for its cornerstone laying ceremony. The gala event is timed to coincide with the arrival of the first shipment of bricks for the exterior walls. All walls and roofs will be completed by fall.

National, state and local dignitaries will partake in the festivities which begin the second phase of construction on this vitally needed health facility. All of the citizens of Springfield are invited to attend the impressive function, which will take place at the construction site located on Old Short Hills Road between Northfield and South Orange Avenues. Coffee and cake will be served.

Saint Barnabas, which has operated in the black for the past eleven years, announced that of the community campaigns to date, $1,500,000 has been raised. Of the $12,000,000 necessary to complete the new medical complex, it is interesting to note that all of the money so far invested in the structure were hospital funds; that not one penny has been borrowed and only $1,500,000 more is yet to be raised. The $1,500,000 raised by public donations is just the total for the seven communities that have already been covered. While this represents half of the entire total necessary from public subscriptions, there are still fourteen towns still to be covered.

The Campaign Office feels that based on these excellent results, the drive shall go well over the top without any difficulty.

Wesleyan Guild

The regular meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild will be held at the Springfield Methodist Church on Tuesday, May 15 at 8 p.m. At this time pledge services will be held and election of officers.

Plans for a June Garden Sale will be made. The incoming Vice President of Program Mrs. David Brecher will be in charge.

The outgoing officers will turn over all their materials to the new officers, who shall be installed on Tuesday evening April 15th at the Alpine Caterers in Maplewood.

W. Halsey Elected To Directorship

Warren W. Halsey, of 72 Denham Road, Springfield, was elected a director-at-large of the New Jersey Tuberculosis and Health Association at the association's annual meeting here May 9.

Mr. Halsey, former superintendent of Regional High School, was president of the statewide Christmas Seal agency from 1953-1955. He has served for many years as officer and director of the Union County Tuberculosis and Health League.

Frederick T. Vansant of Summit was elected president of the state tuberculosis association, Mr. Vansant succeeds Joseph A. Smith, M.D., superintendent and medical director of the New Jersey Hospital for Chest Diseases, Glen Gardner.

In 1960, New Jersey had 1,601 newly reported active cases of tuberculosis. The New Jersey Tuberculosis and Health Association and its affiliates are working with official health agencies to effect a statewide decline of at least 87 new active cases each year between now and 1970, Mr. Vansant reported. Such a decline, he said, would lower New Jersey's active case rate from 26.3 to 10.1 per 100,000 population, and would set the stage for the final steps in the eradication of tuberculosis.

A patent has been asked for the new design of the innards of shoes for males. The conventional inner sole of the bouncy shoe has been replaced by a piece of soft, flexible leather hand-sewn to the upper. Officials of the firm report that even after the outer sole has been stitched to the upper, the shoe still is so flexible it can be bent almost like a slipper — yet retains its style and fit as long as any conventional shoe. ## National Hospital Week

The doctor's little black bag -- the traditional symbol of American medicine -- follows a different path today than it did 50 years ago. Then it made most of its trips between the doctor's office and the patient's home; today it travels most frequently between the office and the hospital.

"The little black bag's altered path illustrates the changing patterns of medical practice -- the trend toward centralizing medical care in the hospital," according to Robert E. Heinlein, administrator of Overlook Hospital.

Medical care has shifted from the home to the hospital, and with the shift, a new ingredient has been added to patient care -- the highly technical methods resulting from the scientific revolution of the 20th century, he said.

The combination of science and individual patient care is the theme of National Hospital Week, May 6-12. This observance, originally celebrated as National Hospital Day, has been marked annually since 1953. Sponsored by the American Hospital Association, it is held each year during the week of Florence Nightingale's birthday (May 12).

The contents of the doctor's little black bag have changed only slightly in the last 50 years, but the changes again illustrate the trend toward the hospital, Mr. Heinlein said. Added to the bag are some new drugs -- particularly antibiotics and stimulants for starting stopped hearts. Subtracted are the equipment and instruments the doctor used at the patient's home for surgery, obstetrics and emergency treatment of injuries. Nowadays, the doctor admits surgical and obstetrical patients to the hospital and meets the injured patient at the hospital's emergency room.

The hospital has indeed become the community's center for health care. In the past 50 years, it has added laboratories, diagnostic x-ray machines, cobalt units, pharmacies, and a host of other facilities necessary for the patient's recovery. As new scientific equipment is developed and proven effective, it is added by hospitals to help save lives and combat disease. This dramatic progress has meant added years of life for many persons.

"Just as every medical service provided in the patient's home was accompanied by the individual care and attention of the doctor, every hospital service is administered individually to meet the needs of each patient," Mr. Heinlein said. Overlook's people are highly trained to provide the exact treatment or medication the doctor prescribes.

Individual concern for each patient is synonymous with hospital care, he said. The scientific services are necessary for the patient's speedy recovery, but hospitals also recognize the patient's need for emotional support. Overlook's staff strives to provide this support by means of individual and personal services for patients and their families.

The care provided in today's hospital scientifically exceeds that provided from the little black bag of 50 years ago, but the "tender loving care" which accompanied the doctor's visit is also still present at Overlook.

In conclusion, Overlook's director observed, "This combination of personal interest and scientific advances found in our hospital is summed up in this year's National Hospital Week theme -- 'Your Hospital... Uniting Science and Patient Care.'"

A Vote Is Sacred

The Scotch Plains-Fanwood Board of Education is planning on preparing another school referendum to offer to the residents of these two communities. Let us hope that this time every resident of both municipalities has an opportunity to vote on the measure.

In the past the Scotch Plains Board of Education has not opened the polls in the morning, as is the practice in general elections, thus depriving some residents of a chance to vote.

Many citizens do not return from work or from college in time to cast their ballots in the evening. Since most of us work outside of Scotch Plains and are away from the area all day, the only other time to vote is in the morning before leaving for work. In many other areas the polls are open as early as 7 a.m. in order to give all residents an opportunity to vote before going to work. In Scotch Plains and Fanwood a voter who was able to tarry as late as eight or even nine o'clock to cast his ballot before going to work would still find the polls closed, even at this hour.

It is a moot question whether a voter who knows that he will not be home in time to vote can obtain an absentee ballot. At any rate if the school issue is turned down, it would be mathematically impossible for the voter to obtain an absentee ballot for the second election unless it was delayed sufficiently to allow for the time limit required by law in the matter of absentee ballots.

Certainly it would be better to open the polls at 7 a.m. so that everybody could have an opportunity of voting. We brought up this matter before and were told that it would cost more money to keep the polls open longer. This doesn't seem like an adequate reason for depriving citizens of a chance to express their opinion on such an important matter as a new school.

After all, if residents are going to be asked to decide upon a school with an estimated cost that approaches a million dollars, surely a few hundred dollars could be spent in order to give everyone the chance to vote.

A vote is a sacred thing. Men have died for it. Let's not take it away from anyone because it cost a few dollars to keep the polls open.

Tests show it costs less to open the refrigerator door a few times for longer periods than it does to open it often for short periods.

Use a hand grater to scrape burned toast. The burned spots will rub off.

Patch a leaky garden hose with pliable roof paint.

When buying furniture a long-range plan based on your family's needs is your best guide. Don't be concerned about what's fashionable.

WINNER--Anthony Verlangieri of Springfield, a student at Jonathan Dayton High School, was awarded 4th place in the Ninth Annual Creative Chemistry Contest sponsored by the Lackawanna Subsection of the American Chemical Society. It was held on the Madison campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University on April 27 and 28.

Money Matters

By Donald H. Shafarman

This article is one in a series which will regularly appear in this newspaper dealing with investments and financial and estate planning. Periodically, Mr. Shafarman, who is President of Donan & Co., Inc., and a former practicing attorney, will devote a column to answering readers' questions. These may be sent to The Springfield Sun, Springfield, N.J.

With an increasing number of yesterday's high flying glamour stocks coming down to earth with a thud, more and more stock buyers are deciding to become long-term investors, and are casting about for an industry with which to sink or swim. While we feel that the selection of a company or companies in which to invest is of prime importance, we are in complete accord that, for long term investing, extremely critical appraisal should be given to the choice of industry. In this regard, we continue to favor investments in life insurance stocks for the growth investor. We base this upon several cogent reasons.

First and foremost, life insurance companies receive their income from two basic sources--providing insurance protection, and investing their policy reserves. Both of these income sources have been steadily growing due, in the first place, to increasing life expectancy, and, secondly, higher yields on investments. While we cannot predict how high investment yields can go, it's a safe bet that they will continue to far exceed the 2-1/2% to 3% guaranteed in the insurance contract. Further increases in life expectancy are even more certain.

With a predicted population in this Country of 212 million by 1970, and the average of insurance per family ever increasing due to inflation and a higher standard of living, there can likewise be little doubt that total life insurance in force will continue to zoom. This will be helped along by the growing use of insurance in pension and profit sharing plans, variable annuities, etc.

Life insurance companies also have some other, more subtle, factors working in their favor. For example, they have traditionally received preferential tax treatment from the government with the result that retained earnings can compound much faster than in other corporations. Also, operating costs have remained relatively stable due, in large part, to the use of electronic computers and data processing equipment. The list of reasons for our favoring life insurance stocks could be stretched and infinitum if we considered immunity from style changes, strikes, foreign competition, defense spending cut-backs, etc.

Looking back over past years, it is significant to note that the various life stock indices have fairly consistently outperformed the Dow Jones and other industrial stock averages. We do not feel we are going too far out on a limb when we predict this will be so in the future. It is impossible to say whether the feat of investing $1,000 in Beneficial Standard Life 22 years ago -- today worth about $2 million -- will again be duplicated. However, we are confident that an investment in carefully selected life insurance stocks or, alternatively, a well-managed mutual fund specializing in such investments, will bring the growth-minded investor extremely satisfying rewards in years to come.

That Route 22!!

An old philosopher used to say "Everybody talks about the weather, but no one does anything about it." Driving home along bumper-to-bumper Route 22, our lungs filled with exhaust fumes, we think the weather comment could just as well apply to our beloved highway.

We have heard all the complaints: The speed limit keep varying, slowing up traffic; the road is always repaired during the busy hours; there are trucks the size of railroad cars driving up and down the highway; it goes on like this ad infinitum.

Not too long ago, we had a private interview with Governor Hughes and we brought the question up to him. Any chance of having more repair work done at night so that the highway is not jammed during the hectic morning hours? We asked, "Not a bad idea," the governor replied. Like everyone else he recognizes the problem, but action comes slow.

When you consider the thousands of productive man-hours that are wasted every day by the ridiculous traffic snarls on Route 22, it seems a damned shame that action isn't taken soon. We'll leave it to the experts to make the suggestions. But action and "official" interest are needed at once.

Taking Care Of The Garden

By Ed Cardinal

We either get a flood or a drought, and these extremes can cause a lot of trouble in the garden. Many people have called about dead, or dying yews, and most cases can be traced back to the long rainy spell several weeks ago. Other plants have also suffered from too much rain, for this cuts off the oxygen supply to the roots, and the plants then start to lose vigor and die. Pruning severely, and aerating by plunging a fork several times around the root area, is about the only treatment worth while.

Q: What is the best way to water plants?
A: Use a root irrigator, a metal rod which attaches to the hose, and push this into the ground at the base of the plant. Leave the water turned on for a few minutes and move to the next plant. Another method is to plunge a fork into the ground several times and let the hose drip slowly for a few minutes. Root irrigators cost less than $3.00.

Q: How long shall I leave the water turned on when watering the lawn?
A: That is hard to answer. Leave the water on long enough to soak the ground for a depth of at least two inches. A timing device can be bought for less than $5.00 which shuts off automatically, and can be regulated for any number of gallons of water you may decide upon. It is a very handy item, and I use them in our garden center to save water and prevent overwatering.

Q: My lawn is loaded with dandelions. What shall I do?
A: Harmonic weed killers, wet or dry, will eradicate them. The regular granular forms can be applied with a spreader. Liquid forms are sprayed on with a spray device. The materials containing a combination of 2,4-D and 2,4-5T are effective on a wide range of weeds. Dry materials should be applied when ground is moist for best results. If foliage is damp from dew or watering the material will adhere to leaves better, and the kill will be sure.

Q: Are the weed and feed type of weed killer best?
A: I can't say they are best, but they are as good as other forms of dry materials, and they save time by applying both fertilizer and weed killer simultaneously. It is also less expensive this way.

Q: When planting azaleas shall I use lots of peat moss?
A: Not too much peat directly around the roots might cause them to die during extremely dry weather by absorbing moisture from the plants. Mix one part of humus, or Michigan peat to 4 parts of topsoil and you will have better results.

WINNER--Robert E. Witt of Springfield, a student at Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, was awarded 7th place in the Ninth Annual Creative Chemistry Society. It was held on the Madison campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University on April 27 and 28.

Beacon on Sports

CY JAMES

Al Brown has compiled a very commendable 11-6 record in the two seasons he has been responsible for the football fortunes of Governor Livingston Regional High School in Berkeley Heights. And, what's more, he has come up with winning teams in both seasons. That's quite an achievement for a coach taking over the reins at a brand new high school. In fact, Brown's record with the Highlanders stacks up very favorably against the record of any scholastic coach in Union County.

But personally Al will have to take a back seat to the guest speaker at the Highlander Booster Club's annual Varsity Lettermen's Dinner on May 22 at the Mountaineer Inn in Mountaineer when it comes to the matter of scholastic football coaching records.

Tom Harp, currently head coach at Cornell University, compiled enviable records while coaching Ohio schoolboys in Massillon and Carrollton. Harp won three Ohio football championships in four years at Massillon, which led to his appointment as backfield coach at the United States Military Academy at West Point.

But even this feat doesn't rate as Harp's greatest coaching accomplishment in the eyes of Ohio football fans. Massillon has been turning out championship football teams since the days of the legendary Paul Brown, now the coach of the professional Cleveland Browns. And Massillon has been a football hot-bed since the formation of the first professional leagues nearly a half-century ago. Winning state championships at Massillon has come to be expected so Harp caused no great eyebrow-lifting with his success there. It was at Little Carrollton High School that Harp really gained acclaim. There he took over a school team that hardly had been famed for its prowess on the football field and turned in an undefeated season. This led to his appointment to the prized coaching job at Massillon.

Although Harp spent three years as backfield coach at West Point before being appointed head coach at Cornell, he still was the youngest coach in the Ivy League last season. His first year at the helm of the "Big Red" gridder high above Cayuga's waters was far from a howling success, but the decimation of his highly regarded backfield by injuries early in the season was a big factor in the disappointing season.

Through his own playing at Miami University of Ohio and some 10 years of coaching schoolboys and collegians Harp has gained considerable football savvy. He should have plenty to say that will be of interest to schoolboy athletes and adults as well. Better plan on being at the Mountaineer Inn on May 22 and you better make your reservations with a Highlander Booster Club member or Russ Hunchar, Governor Livingston's director of athletics, right now!

GOVERNOR LIVINGSTON ADDING TRACK TO SPORTS PROGRAM

Russ Hunchar, Governor Livingston Regional's director of athletics, announced today that a sixth major sport is being added to the school's athletic program next spring.

The Highlanders are planning to introduce track and field in the spring of 1963 when the new athletic field is slated to be completed. The field will include top-notch facilities for track meets.

A track coach has not yet been appointed but Hunchar already has lined up six dual meets for the Highlanders first season on the cinders. It is also quite likely that Governor Livingston will compete in the Union County Conference and New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association meets. The Highlanders also will be eligible for, but probably won't compete in, the annual Union County Conference Relays.

Livingston Elks Sponsor Boxing Show For Charity

Exalted Ruler, Fred Amblelli, of Livingston Lodge #1855, B.P.O. Elks today designated Raymond Shaliss of 16 Crestmont Road, West Orange, current Chairman of the Lodge Youth Activities Committee, as General Chairman of the Charity Boxing Show to be staged by the Lodge on Wednesday evening, May 16, 1962 at the Essex County Park Commission's South Mountain Arena on Northfield Avenue, West Orange.

Application for sanction of the show, the first ever undertaken by the Livingston Lodge, has been submitted to the Amateur Athletic Union by General Chairman, Shaliss, and Promoter, Ralph Dougherty of Bloomfield, New Jersey.

$9,000 In Prizes

The 27 top golfers who will compete in the J.E. McAuliffe Memorial Professional Women's Golf Tournament at the Plainfield Country Club June 21-24 will vie for one of the biggest purses on the "Ladies PGA tour." The Muhlenberg Hospital Building Fund will receive all receipts from the tournament, which is sponsored by the Triangle Conduit and Cable Co. of New Brunswick, N.J.

The $9,000 offered in prize money for the 72-hole tournament is the fourth biggest payoff among the 19 tournaments scheduled for the lady pros this season.

The LPGA schedule released recently by Len Wirtz, tournament director, disclosed that only the Dallas Civitan Open, the Milwaukee Jaycee Open and the Carling Eastern Open in Worcester, Mass., exceed the McAuliffe Memorial in total purses offered.

The Plainfield tournament's first prize of $1,250 is second only to the $1,500 first prize offered by the Dallas and Wooster tournaments.

Spfld Man In Williams Judo Club

A growing interest in the art of self-defense without the use of weapons led last fall to the founding of the Williams College Judo Club which recently was held to Dartmouth at a home meet and topped the visitors, 105-50.

The meet provided a high-point in the brief history of the Club which hopes to add two more opponents to the schedule next year; Providence and North-eastern, where student interest has also led to the formation of Judo Clubs.

One of the charter members of the club is Ken Ryder of Springfield.

Ken is a graduate of Johnathon-Deaton Regional High School where he was the president of the National Honor Society. His home address is 18 Brook Street, Springfield.

FDU Playday

The Recreation Building of the Madison Campus, Fairleigh Dickinson University will be the scene for a College Playday on Monday May 7, at 4:00 p.m. The Playday will be sponsored by the Women's Recreation Association.

Students from The College of Saint Elizabeth and Drew University will participate.

The activities will include tennis, archery, softball and swimming. Mary Schuyler of South Orange, and Dolly Eastburn from Ventnor City, will be chairmen of the Playday. The Women's Recreation Association Board members will serve as hostesses. Barbara Rosenbaum from South Orange and Linda Braun from Short Hills will be in charge of tennis. Archery will be supervised by Sandy Staley, Summit, and Lilly Lee, New York. Patricia Sarafin of Elizabeth, Edie Armbricht of Washington, N.J., and Madeline Sansonnet of Plainfield, will be in charge of softball. Barbara Marrs from Bound Brook, New Jersey, and Carolyn Rowe from West Orange, will be in charge of swimming.

Tumbler Takes 2nd

Janette Hunt of 396 Parkwood Drive, Scotch Plains placed second in the New Jersey State girls, 12 years and under tumbling meet sponsored by the Elizabeth Turners Club in Elizabeth on Sunday, April 29.

Miss Hunt, age 11, was part of a delegation of eleven boys and girls from the Fanwood-Scotch Plains Y.M.C.A. who entered the competition. Janette took second in a group of over 40 girls from all over New Jersey with three near perfect runs of the 24 foot mats in a series of handsprings, tigt leaps, head springs, cartwheels, and walkovers. In 1960 she placed third in this same event in a similar competition held in Morrisstown, N.J.

Members of the Y8 tumbling team participated in the Free Exercise, tumbling, and parallel bar events, all performing well against top competitors.

The team, which works out for one hour, each week at the Fanwood-Scotch Plains Y.M.C.A., is under the direction of Duncan R. Smith and Edward B. Chen of

This Week's Ideas - for Sportsmen

If the fishing looks so good that you may not want to return to the car for lunch, here's an idea:

Take along a toastable sandwich, such as ham and cheese. When lunch time comes, build a very small fire in a safe spot. While it's burning down to coals, cut a finger-sized green branch about two feet long and with a "Y" fork on one end big enough to rest the sandwich on.

Toast the sandwich by holding it on the stick over the coals. Turn it over and around a few times, so it will be hot and toasted evenly. Toasted sandwiches taste better than cold ones on chilly days.

Another idea is to carry a package of "Nestlé's" Semi-Sweet Chocolate Morsels (available at grocers). These little chocolate pieces come in transparent bags which are very handy to carry in the fishing jacket. Sportsmen enjoy munching on these morsels while fishing.

Skating Guild Okays Committee

At their annual meeting in the White Oak Ridge Recreation Center in Short Hills last week, the MORRIS-ESSEX-UNION SKATING GUILD ratified the appointment of a Guidance Committee. To this Committee will be entrusted attainment of the objectives and administration of the activities of this popular group.

From a modest beginning in February of this year, the membership among men and women residing in the three counties and particularly in this area who enjoy rink ice and roller skating together has quadrupled.

The Guidance Committee includes, Donald H. Smith of Chatham, Mrs. Irene Wiman of Madison, Arthur Kendall of Livingston and Miss Joanne Evens of Mendham.

Speakers at the meeting were Ralph Evans of Short Hills and owner of the Ralph Evans Ice Skating School in Millburn, John Hanst, Engineer of the Essex County Park Commission and Mrs. Joan M. Hanst of the staff of the South Mountain Ice Arena, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Waxman of the staff of the Florham Park Roller Arena, all of whom extended their good wishes for the success of this fine skating club, the first of its kind hereabouts.

Two evenings a week the Guild features forward and backward amateur strategic skating by adults who can ice and roller skate without assistance. It also provided opportunities for making lasting friendships in the skating art for relaxation and enjoyment, but it sponsors no competition for proficiency test requirements.

The address of the club is P.O. Box 151, Berkeley Heights. Inquiries are welcome concerning this independent and congenial skating organization.

Pistol League Will Begin 13th Season

The Union County Civilian Pistol League will begin its thirteenth season of individual pistol competition on Tuesday, May 15, 1962, at the Pistol Range of The Union County Park Commission, off Kenilworth Boulevard, Cranford.

The season will run for sixteen weeks with shooting on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6:00 to 8:00 p.m.; a total of thirty-two shooting dates.

Twelve scores must be fired for record in order to qualify for awards. Sixteen scores may be fired for record, from which the twelve highest scores will be entered for the record. The choice of the shooting nights is unrestricted. A final shoot will be held at the end of the season.

The league is open to all interested shooters in either .22 calibre and/or center fire pistols or revolvers meeting the National Rifle Association's safety standards.

All pistol shooters are invited to join the league. Registrations may be made at the range.

Donald Dickey, Maplewood, is president of the League with Gil Linn, Millburn, vice-president; Richard Silverman, Union, Secretary-treasurer; Jacob Witry, Linden, statistical officer; and Fred Remington, Elizabeth; Richard Holst, Fanwood; Pete Hunter, Westfield; and John Hoffart, Union, as range officers.

Musical To Tryout At Paper Mill Playhouse For Broadway Run

TV's popular Betsy Palmer will belt out a song with the best of them when she stars in "Maggie," the musical opening at the Paper Mill Playhouse on May 22 for a five week run.

Among the eight numbers that Betsy will do is "Charm," which says that it's the most important thing a woman can have, and why. "What Every Woman Knows" another number that Betsy does with a little tilt of Scottish in her voice (the play is set in Scotland), is really the story of the delightful musical: Every woman knows that she's the secret of her husband's success—but she had better not let him know that. Among the other songs Betsy sings so well are: "A Long and Winding Wait" (for a husband) and "Smile for Me."

"Maggie," which is in rehearsal now, has added several important and talented people to the cast. Stuart Damon, of the original cast of "Irma La Douce" will appear as John Shand, Maggie's husband, and Claudia Morgan, daughter of Ralph Morgan and niece of Frank Morgan, will play the Countess. Miss Morgan has appeared in many important Broadway shows over the years. John Griggs, recently seen as the boss on the Joey Bishop TV show, will play one of Betsy's brothers. Others in the cast are Lovelady Powell, Jamie Rogers and Bryan Herbert. This will be Mr. Herbert's fourth show with Betsy, his most recent appearance with her being in "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," which was her musical debut.

"Maggie" will follow "Fiorello," which continues at the Paper Mill through May 20. The popular children's show series will offer the musical fable "Nicolino and Nicolette" on Saturday morning, May 12 at 11 a.m.

"Kiss Me Kate" Supplies Music, Plenty Of Action

Except for interludes of love-making and singing "Wonderbar," lovely Marion Marlowe and Andrew Gainey engage in verbal debates and toss each other around like wrestlers at Madison Square Garden. All this takes place for the better part of two hours in the wonderful musical comedy "Kiss Me, Kate" now at the Meadowbrook Dinner Theatre, Route 23.

In real life, however, these two are quiet, unassuming persons. Without bordering on a marital admiration society theme, they have the most sincere, highest regard for each other's great talents.

Miss Marlowe gives her leading man much of the credit for the success of the show. She was nervous on opening night and under a real personal strain since her grandfather, who lived with her, died just 10 days prior to the Meadowbrook opening.

Gainey, whose stage fights with Marion are part of the theme of Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew" incorporated in the show's fine plot, like Miss Marlowe is a "graduate" of the Arthur Godfrey show. "I appeared on the Godfrey Show B.M.," he smiled. "That's before Marion, in 1951."

Now the pair are a huge success in "Kiss Me, Kate" which fills the Meadowbrook with beautiful Cole Porter Music through May 20. The star and her leading Arrive at the terminal in time to check in without having to hurry. When making reservations for interline connections, allow enough time for your luggage to be transferred.

Page Morton, who has been among showbusiness' "Cinderella Girls" during the past two years, maintains that there is no easy path to lasting success in showbusiness.

The beautiful, statuesque brunette chanteuse, whose MGM album, "May You Always," is a top-seller, and whose "Page Morton Show" on radio is among the best-rated programs in that medium, says that it is axiomatic that young performers today develop skills, instead of just one, in order to give themselves a proper change of fame.

"The supply is so much greater than the demand for performers, that in order for a young performer to gain a foothold and get ahead, he or she must have several skills: the actor must also be able to sing or dance; the comedian must also be able to act or play a musical instrument. The more skills a performer has, the more jobs he will be able to land during his early, struggling days. Only by working can a performer hope to be 'discovered' and catapulted into fame and fortune; therefore each performer must gear himself to do many different things which will enable him to land those jobs on which to be 'discovered'."

Miss Morton's own rise to prominence proves her point. As a youngster she was trained to sing and to play piano.

When I first began to seek work in showbusiness I found that some nightclubs were unable to afford both a singer and a pianist, therefore my ability to accompany myself when I sang helped me get many jobs. Then, there were some jobs open only for pianists, other jobs only for singers. Because I could do both, I got more jobs, and eventually landed the one which brought me to the attention of the Chock Full O' Nuts Corporation, which now sponsors me on radio and television."

SIGHTS/SOUNDS: Anne Bancroft, who repeats her Tony Award-winning role in the soon-to-be screen version of "The Miracle Worker," will again display her singing and dancing versatility on NBC-TV's Perry Como Show Wednesday, May 23.

Maestro Ned Harvey, featured at Ben Maksud's Town and Country in Brooklyn, has been signed as entertainment director, emcee and orchestra leader for the months of June, July and August, at the Hotel Brickman, South Fallsburg, N.Y. It'll mark his 22nd year at that post for the upstate resort.

CBS-TV's Douglas Edwards will headline a new series of fall news extras.

"The Jetsons," a new, half-hour situation comedy series featuring an amiable family of animated characters who live the good life, about a century or so in the future, will debut on ABC-TV this fall. Show will be telecast on Sundays and will be produced by Hanna-Barbera Productions, who produce "The Flintstones."

LIVE WIRES: Decca Records just signed an exclusive contract with the Friars Four - singing group formerly known as The Rover Boys. Their first two sides for Decca, conducted by Hugo Winterhalter, are "Twenty-One Years" and "The Wonderful Things."

"The Fantasticks," the delightful off-Broadway production starring Gene Rupert, Eileen Fulton, Paul Giovanni, Donald Babcock, Charles Goff and a wonderful supporting cast, has just completed its two-year run at the Sullivan St. Playhouse. Show has also become an international success with replicas currently running in Stockholm and Belgrade and previous productions in London, Mexico City, Johannesburg, as well as a number of American cities. It is also the only off-Broadway show scheduled for the Seattle World's Fair.

Garry Moore just finished his 5,000th radio broadcast for CBS-Radiol.

George Fenneman subs for Art Linkletter on latter's "House

"Party" on CBS-TV from Wednesday, June 20 through Friday, July 6.

Dennis Weaver, whose "TV Tonight" variety series produced by Bob Banner Associates, has yet to be filmed for the coming season, will guest on "Password" over CBS-TV May 22.

RADIO-TV NEWSREEL: Walter Kerr, New York Herald Tribune drama critic, is the winner of the David Merrick Award, which was established by the famous theatrical producer to be given annually. The award consists of $1,000 to be given to the winning critic's favorite charity. Kerr's goes to Catholic University, Washington, D.C., where he studied, taught and met his wife, authoress-playright Jean Kerr.

Comedian-Jackie Mason, today's hottest comedian via his TV and nightclub appearances, and his hit record album, "I'm The Greatest Comedian In The World Only Nobody Knows It Yet," will have a one-man show at Carnegie Hall, Saturday, May 26.

Singer Bobby Rydell makes his screen debut in Columbia's "Bye

Bye Birdie."

NBC-TV's Chet Huntley now has a film studio on his New Jersey farm.

A unique, novel paper-mill for use at the tables of his Pen and Pencil Steakhouse, on East 45th St., in Manhattan, has been designed by veteran restaurateur John Bruno. It's a small replica of an old fashioned coffee-grinder. Bruno has had an assortment of copies created for use at tables in the three major dining rooms of his restaurant currently celebrating its silver anniversary.

Gale Gordon makes his initial appearance in the running role of John Wilson on "Dennis the Menace," Sunday, May 27, via CBS-TV.

Peggy King, the mother of a new baby boy, Jonathan, is back on CBS Radio's Richard Hayes show.

Cutting Corners Fractures Bones
NEW YORK (UPI) — High climbers fracture and otherwise hurt themselves when they fail to watch their step on ladders — or don't even use a ladder!

An investigation of the spurt in climbing accidents on the home front by a maker of kitchen essentials, BeautyWare, found personality types contributing to the accidents. Among those cited were the following:

—The amateur, including homemakers, who tries to reach something on an upper shelf by standing on a handy chair.
—The dare-devil, who upsets balance by trying to reach too far. This type, among homemakers, would rather stretch across a window to the other side when adjusting curtains on a rod than lug a heavy ladder, a few feet.

The acrobat, who perches precariously with her back to the ladder to escape the trouble of turning the ladder around.

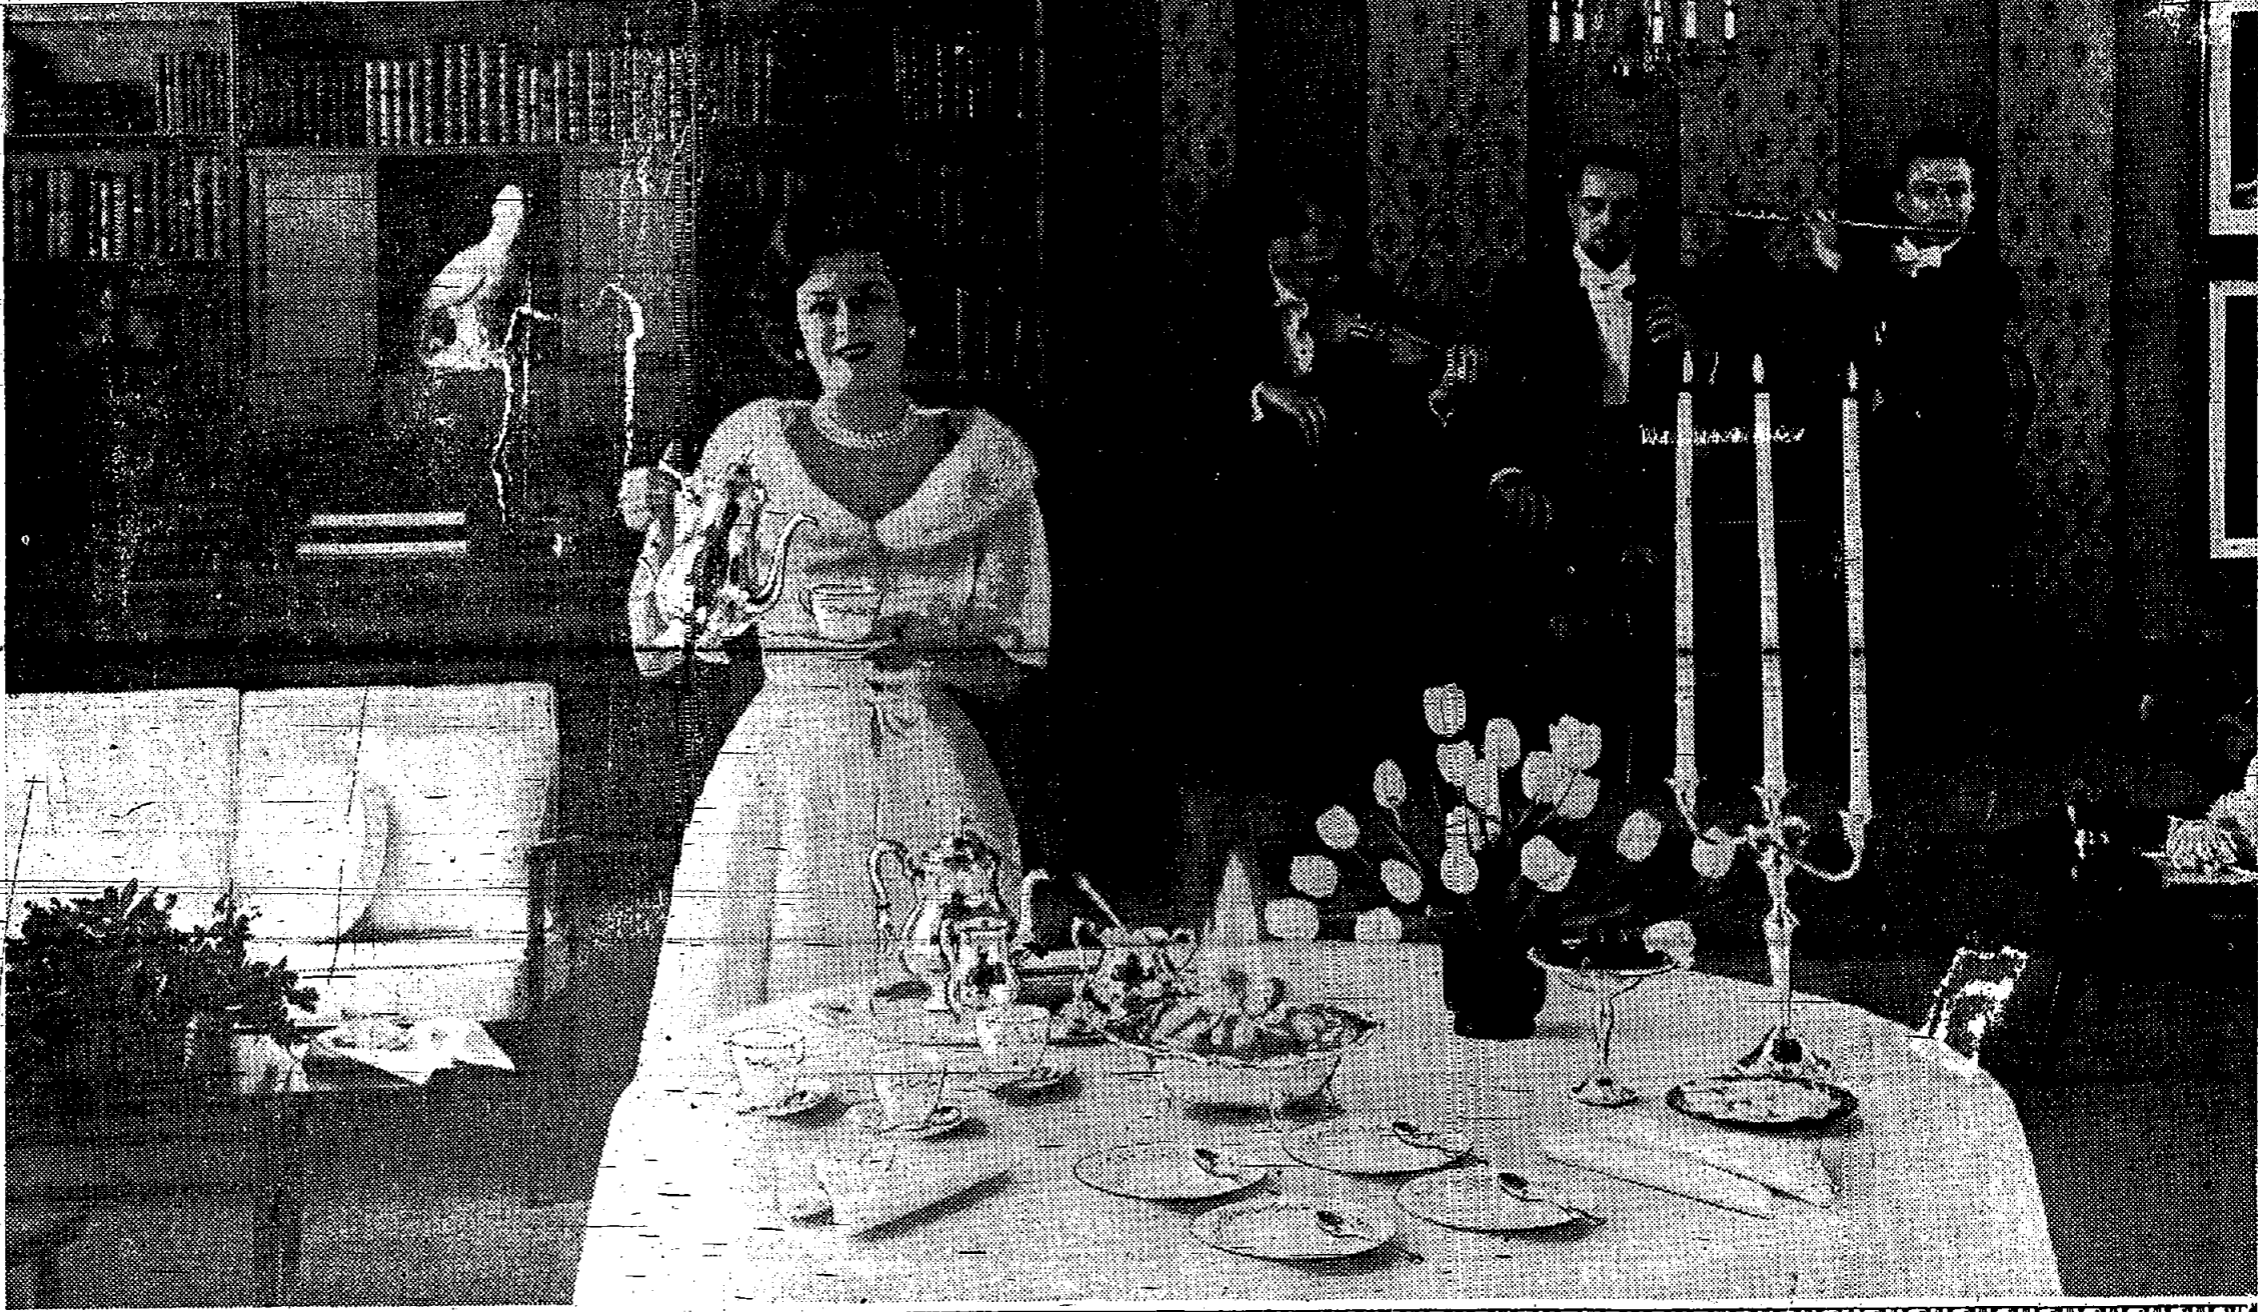

The ladder hopper, who steps from ladder onto a counter top. When luck is with her, she survives for the return trip. The moment of truth comes when her groping foot misses its mark.

The clutter bug, who uses the ladder steps for storage shelves when doing household chores such as shelf washing and retining.

Safe at Home
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Like the electric circuit into which it is plugged, the extension cord has no built-in warning system to tell you if you're forcing it to carry too heavy a load of electricity!

If you use an extension cord, the Rural Electrification Administration urges you to be sure it is big enough. A number 18 cord will safely carry a current of 10 amperes. That's enough for most lamps and smaller household appliances.

TV Renewals
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Three television shows which have been on the air a considerable length of time have been renewed.

Two Dayton Regional Grads Are Canada, Scotland Bound

Each year two students at Trenton State College are selected to participate in an exchange program with universities in Canada and Scotland. This year, for the first, both students are graduates of the same high school -- Jonathan Dayton Regional High in Springfield, and are in the same class, curriculum and society.

Miss Nancy Farrar of 796 Mountain Avenue, Berkeley Heights, and Miss Claire Longfield of 37 Colfax Road, Springfield, will spend the 1962-63 academic year amid new surroundings and new friends. Miss Farrar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Farrar of the same home address, will study at the Dundee College of Education in Dundee, Scotland. Miss Longfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Longfield of 37 Colfax Road, has been selected to study at the University of Saskatchewan, Canada.

As part of the program between Trenton State College and these institutions, a student from Scotland and Canada will spend a year on the New Jersey campus. Both women are sophomores majoring in English at Trenton State College. They are members of Iota Phi Sigma Sorority. In addition, Miss Farrar is a member of the Wesley Fellowship Group while Miss Longfield is treasurer of the Student Educational Association and her dormitory governmental board.

Park Comm. Gets Aviary

An outdoor aviary, donated by the Trillium Museum Association to the Union County Park Commission's Trillium Nature and Science Center, in the Watchung Reservation, was officially accepted by the park commission yesterday at a brief ceremony.

The new bird cage, designed by Jack Chard, Westfield, a Director of the Trillium Museum Association, is eight feet by twenty-four feet and is separated into three compartments. Each section has plenty of flying room and is covered with wire mesh and plexiglass or polycarbonate. The aviary is located adjacent to the Nature and Science Building.

The Trillium Museum Association previously donated two permanent animal cages, a sound movie projector and a public address system. The association is also responsible for arranging the Sunday afternoon program at Trillium.

The following people participated in the dedication program yesterday: Michael J. Regan, Elizabeth, president of The Union County Park Commission; Dr. Zigmund W. Wilchinsky, a director of the Trillium Museum Association.

HELEN SABO

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Chatelet, of 33 Cypress Terrace, Springfield, have returned from a vacation trip to Washington, D.C., with daughter Marlene. The family took in the Capitol sights while visiting relatives, and then went on to Arlington and Williamsburg, Va.

Congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lutz, of 1508 Fox Trail, Mountainside, on the birth of their son Frederick Karl on April 27 at Overlook Hospital. The new addition, eight ounces, joins a family that includes four-year-old sister Marlene. Grandparents in the area are Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Lutz, 24 Highlands Avenue, Springfield.

Six members of Cub Scout Den #3, Pack 172 Springfield, went on a guided tour of the Bristol Myers plant in Hillside during the recent vacation, escorted by moms, Mrs. Joseph Klein and Mrs. Norman Alexander. The lucky young men were Lee Adler, Howard Alexander, Larry Friedman, Michael Klein, Peter May and Arthur Starr.

Here's a "Happy Birthday" wish to Mrs. George Franklin of 11 Ruby Street, Springfield, mother of Sharolyn, Gwendolyn and George, whose special day was May 5. Also celebrating was Mrs. Franklin's father, Mr. Clem Anthony, of 7 Meckes Street, Springfield, whose birthday followed two days later.

The "Bow and Arrow" in West Orange was the scene of a gala affair last night, when the Springfield Chapter of CARH held their Donor Dinner. Last Wednesday evening Mrs. Jack Hager, outgoing President of the organization held a dinner for the officers at her home at 17 Archbridge Lane, at which Mrs. Hager was presented with a gold charm in appreciation for her efforts of the past year.

County Seeking Friendly Visitors

Men and women with time to spare, an interest in people and the desire to relieve the isolation of patients, homebound by multiple sclerosis, are being recruited throughout Union County this month.

The invitation to volunteer as "Friendly Visitors" comes from the Upper New Jersey Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society. Mrs. Asher Yaguda of Newark, chairman of the chapter's Patient Service Committee, defines the Friendly Visitor's duties as consisting of reading to the homebound multiple sclerosis patient, writing letters for him, encouraging him to re-develop old hobbies or interesting him in new hobbies, chatting about current affairs or "just paying a call" as one would on any friend.

"Even when the homebound MS patient is self-confident and has a devoted family," Mrs. Yaguda explains, "there is need for some link with the community. The psychological impact of this presently incurable disease is devastating to both the patient and his family. We are trying to help with our trained Friendly Visitors."

The training of volunteers, a one-day orientation course, is provided by the Patient Service Committee. Visiting assignments and visitor supervision are done by the chapter's social worker and the county's Friendly Visitor Committee.

The course for Union County Visitors will be held Thursday, May 24 at the Wesley Methodist Church in Roselle, N.J. A five-hour series of meetings throughout the day, it will begin at 9:45 a.m. It is open to all men and women interested in this growing and essential service for multiple sclerosis patients.

For further information call CR 3-5313 or write to the Upper New Jersey Chapter, National Multiple Sclerosis Society, 9 Clinton Street, Newark 2, N.J.

8th Grade Pupils To Go

On 4 Day Tour Thursday

Eighty eighth grade pupils of Florence M. Gaudineer School, Springfield, will participate in a four-day trip to Stokes State Forest beginning May 17 and ending May 20th.

The program, described as an experiment in outdoor education, will be conducted under the leadership of Stewart S. Mulvihill, science teacher; William Pfeifer, social studies teacher, and Roger B. Gawe, science-mathematics teacher, all at Gaudineer school. Dr. Robert Green, a faculty member of the New Jersey State School of Conservation at Stokes will also work with the group.

The students will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bender, Dr. and Mrs. Ben Yuckman, Mr. and Mrs. Louis

Celchaml, and Mrs. E.J. Landrigan, R.N., all parents of participating youngsters.

The trip will begin at the school with two buses leaving at 3 P.M. May 17. They are expected to return to the school at about 3 P.M. May 20.

The program will include numerous field trips, night astronomy and philosophy periods, lake ecology, a 5 A.M. birdwalk, and a 4:30 A.M. climb up Sunrise Mountain.

Social activities will consist of boating, movies, square dancing, and a campfire gathering.

The stay at Stokes will be concluded with an evaluation period.

While at Stokes, the students will live in cabins on the premises and meals will be provided in the dining hall. Students and their parents were responsible for the expenses connected with the trip.

A similar program at Stokes State Forest was held in June last year with 60 Gaudineer pupils taking part. This year's stay has been extended an extra day because of the success of last year's visit.

Splinters From The Board

By RICHARD E. WERNER

Chairman, Springfield Board of Education
Public Relations Committee

(Nothing that follows is to be considered as official opinion of the Springfield Board of Education.)

In line with the Board's approval of the expanded new mathematics program to begin in September, all teachers of mathematics and science in Gaudineer School, together with the principal and assistant principal, and seventh and eighth grades -- a program to be continued in the high school.

The new mathematics teams heavily on discovery and self-examination, of effecting a speedier, more accurate way to compute mentally, to apply the yardstick of logic more readily to this and other subjects, and in the process, to delve more deeply, to generalize, to hypothesize, and to be precise.

In the latter part of May or early June, an invitation will be extended to parents of the children involved to attend a meeting devoted entirely to the presentation of the new mathematics program. Mrs. Robert Oldhoff, mathematics teacher at Gaudineer School, will conduct the meeting.

The annual Kindergarten Round-up started today (May 3). Other dates are: May 10, 17, and 24; one day for each of the four schools having kindergarten classes. The Round-up is a formal registration at which time valuable information is received from the parent concerning each child.

We welcome the following new teachers to our school system: Miss Janet Stemmler, to teach physical education; Richard Garber, an art teacher, and Miss Adrienne Pollack, a lower grade teacher. We also extend our greetings to Mrs. John Schoch, RN, who has been employed as a part-time nurse, effective May 1, 1962.

In cooperation with the local colleges, we have again this school year accepted Junior and Senior Practicum students in each of our schools. There are eleven from Newark State Teachers College, three from Seton Hall University, and three from Montclair State Teachers College.

This procedure is valuable to us as a school system. Every year we need a few replacements or additions to our staff. Through this participation we have a first-hand opportunity to select these teachers through observation and train them in preparation for becoming a part of our organization.

Plans are being made for the second annual Science Program to be held at Stokes State Forest for eighth grade students of Gaudineer School. Among the parents who will attend this gathering in Mid-May will be board member Joe Bender, who will be able to give fellow board members a first hand accounting of the program.

The Building and Grounds committee is meeting currently to make plans for the improvement of James Caldwell School during the summer months. First order of business will be to modernize the heating system, and perhaps two classrooms. This will be a long range program, but eventually it is hoped to make that school as efficient as possible under the circumstances.

Ben Newswanger was elected to the council of the New Jersey Council of Education. We are extremely proud of our superintendent, and know that he will do his usual excellent job as a member of that group.

May we once again remind you that you are indeed welcome, and in fact, encouraged to attend meetings of our Board of Education. The next such meeting will be held May 15, at 8:00 P.M. in the James Caldwell School. Mark your calendar now, and come out to this meeting.

If you have any questions or comments concerning your Board of Education, please feel free to write to your columnist or any other Board member. We will be most happy to oblige.

Springfield

Library

The Springfield Public Library has been presented with one of the posters which have been widely distributed throughout town in observance of LAW DAY USA commemorated on May 1st. The purpose of these posters is to renew our respect for the law and to try to combat lawlessness; that is, to live under the rule of law.

The center panel of the poster prints President Kennedy's proclamation requesting the American people to dedicate themselves to "the ideals of equality and justice under law in their relations with each other as well as with other nations."

The first panel depicts King John of England who signed the Magna Carta in 1215 A.D. upon which English political and personal liberty is based. The Magna Carta in turn contributed to the U.S. system of law and justice.

The third panel shows the signing of the Constitution of the U.S. in 1787 followed shortly after by the Bill of Rights.

Books on display to support the poster's theme are: Appleby - "John, King of England"; a biography of the English King who signed the Magna Carta; Commager - "The Great Constitution, a Book for Young Americans"; Douglas - "A Living Bill of Rights"; Bedford - "The Faces of Justice"; Corwin - "The Constitution and What It Means Today"; and Brogan - "Citizenship Today".

In addition of these titles is a helpful group of small books known as the "Legal Almanac Series". They are designed to inform the layman in easy language on a wide variety of legal subjects (from sports and pets to making wills). The Library has about thirty of these little green books, few of which exceed 100 pages.

Besides books, there are career booklets which the Springfield Public Library has received from the New Jersey State Bar Association, "History in the Making; Make Law Your Career", as well as pamphlets prepared by the American Bar Association entitled "The Profession of Law".
