Swim Pool Ordinance Adopted By Committee

Springfield Township Committee—December 27th unanimously adopted an ordinance appropriating $568,000 for the purchase of land and construction of a swimming pool at a special meeting in Municipal Building.

Among the members of the small audience who discussed the proposal were Kenneth Sklar, Harold Engelman, Henry Wright, and Joseph Seidel.

The measure provides $289,000 to purchase 14,067 acres of the Jenco tract north of Morrison Road, presently owned by Lester Robbins of the Robbins Construction Corp., Union, and provides $279,000 for the construction of the pool.

The aggregate sum of $28,000 is stipulated for down payments with bonds and notes to be issued in the amount of $540,000. Bonds for the property are to be issued in the amount of $274,754 and for the pool, in the amount of $265,246.

Actual selling price of the land is $280,000 and pool construction is $240,000 with the additional sums provided for cost to issue bonds and interest on notes, appraisal, surveys, legal, architect, and engineering.

Family-membership fee is presently $60 for the first year with maximum pool capacity to accommodate 1,100 families. Membership applications will be ignored on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Mayor Philip Del Vecchio announced that Township Committee is working on a six-month timetable and is hoping for a July 1st pool opening.

Immediate steps will be taken to consummate the sale of the property, engage an architect, issue bids and proceed towards construction.

Mary Strauss, a member of the Citizens Swimming Pool Committee, reported that in a recent talk with Robert D. Sisco of Livingston, pool consultant, he learned many other communities are also planning municipal pools for 1963 and recommended moving with great speed to secure a competent architect before the best ones are snatched up. Mayor Del Vecchio concurred that the good pool contractors will soon be committed.

Mayor Del Vecchio and Committeeman Vincent J. Bonadies both agreed that all taxpayers be informed of the pool by brochure and given equal opportunity to join. Members of the audience and Township Committee also felt the co-operation of the local newspaper should be sought in the announcement of future pool plans.

A companion ordinance, establishing rules and regulations for the pool, will soon be on the agenda of Township Committee.

Leaves Committee Committeeman Sibole Honored At Meeting

At its final meeting of 1962, held on December 27, Springfield Township Committee paid special tribute to Committeeman Russel Sibole as his term of office was coming to a close.

As the agenda came to an end, Republican Committeeman Arthur Falkin offered the following resolution honoring his retiring Democratic colleague:

"On behalf of the members of the Township Committee as well as all the residents of the township of Springfield, I would like to take this opportunity to offer a motion of commendation to an outstanding man, as well as an outstanding public servant, a man who has let his conscience be his guide and has always put his best foot forward on behalf of our community.

"I would move a rising vote of commendation on behalf of Russel W. Sibole as a symbol of our appreciation of his three years of devoted service as a member of the Township Committee."

Township Committee and all members of the audience gave the retiring official a resounding round of applause.

In acknowledging the compliment, Committeeman Sibole said he was leaving the Committee with "mixed emotions." It was a real experience he said, which he felt every man at sometime in his life should have. "I didn't have the stamina to go through it another three years," he continued, adding, "at this particular phase, I am a little disappointed in myself." He commented on Springfield being a wonderful place in which to live and bring up children and felt that it was a place of good government with each one doing as his own heart dictates and each believing that what he is doing is for the good of the community. As he thanked the Committee, he said he hoped he didn't give it "too hard a time."

Democratic Committeeman Vincent J. Bonadies, who has served with Committeeman Sibole several years also paid him tribute, noting that his contributions were "forthright and came from the heart."

Mayor Philip Del Vecchio concluded: "Russel, you've gone out in a blaze of glory tonight."

Other members of Township Committee deferred to the outgoing municipal official, who made the motion for adjournment.

Mayor Falkin Takes Post As Head Of Springfield Gov't

Committeeman Arthur M. Falkin took over the reins of municipal government at the organization meeting of Springfield Township Committee Tuesday in Municipal Building.

The committeeman was nominated to the post of chairman of Township Committee by Committeeman Philip Del Vecchio, who himself has held the position the past year. The motion for nomination was seconded by Committeeman Carmen S. Catapano. The vote was unanimously approved.

Committeeman Del Vecchio and Catapano had just been sworn into office by Township Clerk, Mrs. Eleonore H. Worthington. Both began three-year terms on the governing body. Committeeman Del Vecchio had just completed a one-year, unexpired term on Township Committee.

Chairman Falkin, who also assumes the title of mayor, named the following committees for 1963:

Department of Finance and Revenue—Carmen Catapano, chairman; Robert Hardgrove, Arthur Falkin; Department of Public Works—Philip Del Vecchio, chairman; Vincent J. Bonadies, Falkin; Department of Public Affairs—Bonadies, chairman; Del Vecchio, Catapano; Department of Public Safety—Hardgrove, chairman; Del Vecchio, Catapano; Department of Administration—Falkin, chairman; Bonadies, Hardgrove.

Ritual of business ran for the most part smoothly with majority of officials whose terms were expiring being re-appointed.

James M. Cawley was re-appointed as township attorney for 1963. Walter Kozub was renamed as township engineer for a one-year term. Benedict A. Harter was named to another term as township treasurer and Otto Fessler was returned as building inspector. Eugene Donnelly was appointed to a second term as court clerk.

First opposition was voiced by Township Committeeman Bonadies when Committeeman Del Vecchio nominated Mrs. Marie A. Smith as violations clerk for the year. Mrs. Smith was named to the office with Committeeman Bonadies abstaining in the vote. He also registered an abstention when Mrs. Smith was named as deputy tax collector with Committeeman Hardgrove offering her nomination.

Frederick J. Stefany was chosen as township auditor. Mrs. Patricia Heimbuch was designated to a two-year term and Committeeman Catapano to a one-year term on the Local As-

1963 Address To Township

Chairman Falkin's Address to Organization Meeting

The following is the address delivered by the newly elected chairman of Springfield Township Committee, Committeeman Arthur M. Falkin, at the annual organization meeting New Year's Day in Municipal Building:

Welcome to the organization meeting of your Township Committee and, may I wish you a healthy and happy new year.

It is with an acute sense of responsibility that I assume the chairmanship of the Township Committee.

The vote of confidence that you have displayed in our administration only makes us more keenly aware of the obligations that we bear and we assure you that we enter this new year with a renewed devotion to work for the future of our community.

Our policy of being responsive to the public opinion, which has been the pulchre of our success will be the keystone of our administration. Your town meetings will be open to everyone, and to all we extend an invitation to come out and be heard.

During the past year the efforts exerted by the Township Committee have prepared as well for 1963. We will set our goals, purposely high, and then strive to achieve our aim. Paramount in our minds at the moment is the successful culmination of the Township Swimming Pool. Towards this end we pledge ourselves, and it is our sincere desire that on a warm day early this summer the keyword in Springfield will be "Everyone in the pool."

We have made great strides in our Recreation Program and I wish to assure you that this is only the beginning—our Recreation Programming will more than ever reflect the will of the people—expanded facilities to cover all age groups and something more for the girls.

During 1962 we have brought up to date the equipment with which our departments serve you and we are confident that our services to our townspeople will be better than ever.

We have in the offing several major revisions to our administrative and legislative codes, which when enacted, will better prepare Springfield to meet the future. Specifically, revisions to the police and fire regulations are being considered. In addition, the master plan which the Planning Board has been working on for several months should be ready for enactment in the near future.

It is our intent to continue our progress in civil defense to better prepare us for emergencies, though we hope by being prepared we can prevent the consequences.

The impact of Route 78 is of major importance and we will continue to meet with the State Highway Department in order to ease the burden and better prepare Springfield for its effects.

Towards a better Community, we dedicate ourselves and with God's help and your continued confidence we will achieve our common goal.

Baby Crib Gift To Red Cross

A full size baby crib was donated to the Springfield Chapter of the American Red Cross by Mrs. Helen Sabo, 30 Hemlock Terrace. This generous gift is gratefully acknowledged by the Springfield Chapter and will be placed in the Red Cross Loan Closet for use by any resident in need of a crib.

The Red Cross Loan Closet is maintained by the Springfield Chapter as a service to the Township, and the medical equipment available is constantly in circulation. The large items and heavy equipment, costly to buy and difficult to rent from commercial firms, are especially in demand by those suddenly stricken with illness or temporarily disabled. Included in the Loan Closet equipment are a "tiny-tot" child's size wheel chair, a full size wheel chair, a walker much in demand and currently on loan; a modern hospital bed and mattress, an old style hospital bed, and numerous small items such as bed-pans and supports. The Springfield Chapter is proud of its well equipped Loan Closet and hopes to further expand its inventory to meet the needs of the Township and to increase service to those in need. Especially needed are another walker for the requests for the one in circulation are heavy, and small items such as modern, lightweight adjustable crutches to replace the outdated ones now available. Anyone wishing to donate such items should contact the Springfield Red Cross Headquarters, DR 6-1676.

Loan equipment may be borrowed from the Springfield Red Cross by calling the headquarters, DR 6-1676. If available, equipment will then be delivered to you by the Red Cross Motor Corp.

opposition when a change was made in the time of the regular township committee meetings. Meetings were designated as the second and fourth Tuesday of each month at 8:30 P.M. Committee-man Bonadies said he was opposed to the change, pointing out that the meetings have always been held at 8 P.M. He was told that the change was made because the majority of the members of Township Committee find it "inconvenient to be here at 8 P.M." and also a later time would make the meetings available to a greater number of residents. Vote on the question was four yes and one no, registered by Committee-man Bonadies.

The invocation was given by Rabbi Reuben Levine of Temple Beth Ahm and the benediction by the Rev. E. R. Oehling of St. James Church.

Drug Tax At Park Drugs

A new service to provide the average family with an annual record of drug purchases for federal income tax purposes is being started here by Park Drugs.

Jay Spurling, owner of the store, said the service will be provided without charge to customers.

The system, called Drug Tax, uses data processing equipment to keep a record of drug store purchases that may be deductible in computing federal income tax returns.

Jay Spurling said each customer will be assigned a code number -- in most cases the family telephone number.

Each purchase will be recorded on "memory" tapes, which later will be fed into computing equipment. At the end of the year, Drug Tax, Inc. will mail each registered customer a record of the total amount which may be deductible in computing the tax return.

"Many taxpayers," Jay Spurling said, "have not taken their proper deductions, or have not taken the full amount allowed, because they have not had proof of purchase or did not know what items are of a deductible nature." He indicated that literally hundreds of drug items may be deductible, and said the new Drug Tax system "should help our customers save money on their tax returns."

Former Businesswoman Passes Away; Social Queen At Turn Of Cen.

Miss Wynn, Was Famous For Dance And Dress Innovation

By JOYCE BOYLE

A 'riches-to-rags' story recently came to light when the help of Berkeley Heights Police Department was sought following the death of Miss Wilma Wynn of New York City, a former summer resident and landowner here.

Her life, once filled with glitter and gold, came to a lonely end in Bellevue Hospital, New York, last November 15th.

Berkeley Heights police were asked to check for any possible friends or relatives of the dead woman. An investigation into the neighborhood where she once lived lavishly failed to furnish clues.

Local police contacted the older residents of the area and it was thought that she might have a sister and nephew, but their whereabouts could not be determined.

It was reported New York City police could not come up with an answer either.

The search was abandoned and it is believed the body of the former flamboyant and famous ballroom dancer has been removed from the morgue and buried in potter's field.

The final days of the once beautiful and brilliant entertainer, who later conducted dancing schools both in Berkeley Heights and New York, were made known to the Beacon this week by her landlady for the past 16 years, Mrs. Irene Valik of New York.

Mrs. Valik said that she has just been informed by a public administrator that the body of the woman has probably been buried without ceremony. She said that no relatives or friends of the woman could be found.

In her later life, Miss Wynn stayed in seclusion, the devoted landlady said. In ill health the past year, and a person who never believed in hospitals or doctors, the woman never left her room. She refused to answer the telephone or even the door except for a handyman when he did her shopping for her, Mrs. Valik explained.

On November 13th, Mrs. Valik said she had spoken to her tenant through the window as the latter was lying in bed. The handyman had been away for plated the Beacon with a scrapbook which had belonged to Miss Wynn. It had been left in his home along with a million other of her things, he said.

When Mr. Weissman last saw Miss Wynn, it was in 1961, he said, and at that time she did not look to be a woman of her years. She appeared to be in her 50's, he said. He reported that she was never one to make friends. "Who her friends may be, I don't know," he said.

Old and yellowed newspaper clippings from the scrapbook give evidence that she led a life of glitter during her early days.

Covering a period from 1914 to 1916, the neatly-accumulated stories portray a life in the limelight and entertainment world. Miss Wynn did exhibition ballroom dancing and had held a position at the Hotel McAlpin in New York, entertaining the cafe society of that era. She also at one time was associated with the Hotel Astor there, clippings indicate. During the period she lived at 64 Riverside Drive in New York.

Mrs. Valik said that no one could be found to claim the body. There was a brother, Frank, she said, but expressed the possibility that he may already be dead.

Residents of Berkeley Heights recall the former dancer as a familiar figure. Many years ago, she operated a dancing school in the community and once owned considerable property in the Free Acres section. It is understood she once possessed half of Emerson Lane. Her landholdings here were gradually lost over the years.

She spent her summers at 251 Emerson Lane during the years many celebrities came to this area. A resident now living in one of her former homes is Irwin Weissman of 249 Emerson Lane. Mr. Weissman said she told him once that his home, a six-room frame dwelling, was the home of her maid. When Mr. Weissman purchased his property nine years ago, it eliminated the necessity of a sheriff's sale.

The Berkeley Heights resident sup-

Her dancing partner in 1914 was Ernest (Everett) Evans, a graduate of Washington University, St. Louis, and formerly of Little Rock, Ark. She danced in 1915 and 1915 with John Clay, whose real name was listed as Clarence Gerken.

News references called the dancers the "acknowledged rivals of Irene and Vernon Castle." Dances in their repertoire included the turkey trot, hesitation waltz, pouce cafe, maxixe parisienne, glowworm gavotte, one step, cake walk, cotton trot, and skating waltz.

Now it appears the reasons for Miss Wynn's retreat from mankind will remain a mystery.

To Hunt Wall St. Partner

ONE OF the leaders in the new American aristocracy of wealth—the professional dancers—sets is Miss Wilma Winn who has just returned to New York, believing it to be the open season for dancing partners there...

Baha'i Community Is Persecuted In Morocco

The Baha'i International Community, a Non-Governmental organization accredited to the United Nations, has appealed to the United Nations for help in stopping the persecution of the members of the Baha'i religion in Morocco.

A telegram has been sent to United Nations Secretary-General U Thant, urging him to explore the recent Moroccan Government's court case against 14 Baha'is. The case was concluded on December 17 and three of the defendants were sentenced to death, five others were sentenced to life imprisonment and another faces a term of 14 years imprisonment at hard labor. The other defendants were acquitted.

The Baha'i International Community states that the charges leveled against the Baha'is at the December 10 trial in Nador, Morocco were unfounded.

The Moroccan Government claims that the defendants were conspiring against the Government by winning converts to the Baha'i World Faith among the Moslem populace. The charges also included the accusation that the Baha'is are part of a political plot to overthrow the Government and that they attacked Islam (Morocco is a Moslem church state).

The Baha'i World Faith is a religion of peace. It shuns all things political. In fact one of its basic tenets is strict observance of the laws of all just governments. A Baha'i would be unfaithful to his religion if he worked against his country's interests or engaged in any subversive act. Baha'is live in 258 countries, territories and dependencies throughout the world and strive to contribute to the welfare and peace of their countries.

The Baha'is all over the world are snubbed and grieved over this miscarriage of justice by the Moroccan court that tried and sentenced our coreligionists; that persons should be persecuted, worse still, put to death for practicing their religion in this day of enlightenment, a setback to mankind's quest for individual justice.

Baha'is everywhere appeal to King Hassan of Morocco, a just Sovereign, to reverse the unjust court decision against our Baha'i brothers.

The Baha'i International Community bases its appeal to the United Nations on Articles II, IV and VII of the Convention of Genocide, to which the Moroccan Government is a signatory.

Article II states: "In the present Convention, genocide means any of the following acts committed with intent to destroy IN WHOLE OR IN PART a national, ethnical, racial or religious group such as:

- (a) killing members of the group;
- (b) causing serious bodily or mental harm to members of the group;
- (c) deliberately inflicting on the group conditions of life calculated to bring about its physical destruction in WHOLE OR IN PART...

Article IV states "persons committing genocide or any of the other acts enumerated in Article III shall be punished whether they are constitutionally responsible rulers, public officials or private individuals."

Article VIII states: "any contracting party may call upon the competent organs of the United Nations to take such actions under the Charter of the United Nations as they consider appropriate for the prevention and suppression of acts of genocide or any of the other acts enumerated in Article III."

Aliens Must Register Now

Dominick F. Rinaldi, District Director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service advised today that the annual alien-address report program is again under way.

According to Mr. Rinaldi, over 162,000 aliens reported their addresses last year in New Jersey. The number this year is expected to be slightly larger. Mr. Rinaldi attributes this anticipated increase to the presence of an increased number of refugees from Cuba in the state.

The Immigration official pointed out that the address reports are required by law and willful failure to comply with these requirements may lead to serious consequences.

Forms with which to make the reports are available at all Post Offices and Immigration and Naturalization Service Offices. It is an easy matter to fill out one of the cards and return it to the same office.

Mr. Rinaldi added that trained personnel will be on hand in all offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service to answer any questions the reporting aliens may have regarding immigration and naturalization matters. Sufficient trained personnel are not available to furnish this assistance in all Post Offices.

Onus of Short Hills. All profits are returned to the community by the Junior League Community Trust Fund.

N.J. Symphony News Report

Young virtuoso pianist Charles Rosen, who abandoned a career as a college professor to become a concert artist, will be soloist with the New Jersey Symphony in its second Suburban Subscription Series, to begin Wednesday night, January 16, Kenneth Schermerhorn, the orchestra's new musical director, will be conductor.

Performance will take place at Montclair High School on opening night (January 16); in Livingston High School Thursday, January 17; at Fairleigh Dickinson University in Rutherford Saturday, January 19; and in Millburn Senior High School Wednesday, January 23. Concerts begin at 8:30 P.M.

Mr. Rosen's brilliance in many fields has earned him the label of "phenomenon." Possessor of M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in French Literature, he is a Phi Beta Kappa summa cum laude graduate of Princeton. While doing research in Paris on a Fulbright Scholarship in 1952, he found time to make a recording of Debussy piano études that critics called "the definitive recording of these works for many years to come." Rosen was only 25 at the time.

Later becoming an Assistant Professor of the Humanities at M.I.T., Rosen resigned this post to pursue a musical career. His annual European tours have taken him before distinguished audiences as soloist with the Liverpool Philharmonic, London Symphony and BBC Symphony at the Cheltenham Festival. Igor Stravinsky recently invited Rosen to make the premiere recording of the Russian composer's new "Movements for Piano and Orchestra."

As a pianist Rosen is known for his spectacular technical mastery and his musical vitality and intelligence. He will play the Brahms Piano Concerto No. 1 Brahms Piano Concerto No. 1 orchestral selections. A Merck performance featuring the American concert debut of Margarete Bence, sensational young American mezzo soprano, will complete the Suburban Subscription Series of three orchestral appearances in each of four communities.

Lets Talk

By ANNE GETTER 273-3073

"The Party's Over... Let's call it a year!" I want to wish all of you a belated Happy, healthy, and prosperous New Year. May 1963 bring you what you want.

Two men were sleeping in a swamp. One man yelled "An alligator just bit my foot off!" The other said "Which one?" "How should I know," yelled the first. "They all look alike."

Incidentally, a good place to send items to me is to the paper, addressed to me. I have found that living "on the Top" makes for slow mail delivery.

Good luck to Miss Susan Caldwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Caldwell of 1915 W. Broad St., SCOTCH PLAINS, who recently pledged into a sorority at Beloit College, Beloit, Wis. She pledged Kappa Delta.

Mr. and Mrs. B.H. Moore, 92 Battell Ave., SPRINGFIELD, are having as Christmas guests, their daughter Colette and family (Mr. and Mrs. Earle Schlegel) who are in Springfield after 3-1/2 years in France. After brief visits in this area and Christmas in Trenton with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gade, (nee Arlette Moore) the Schlegels will jet back to La Rochelle, France.

Miss Carol Ann Walter of 12 Kipling Ave., SPRINGFIELD had a Christmas party with children from her 8th grade class including Lois Varkala, Shirley Crump, Carol Drabik, Kathy Piccone, Kathy Douglas, Kathy Bleith, June Etzold, Helene Borsky, Linda Smail, Phyllis Monaco, Stephen Cowles, Bobby Gartlan, David Kessler, Sam Castanova, Vernon Rondo, and Joe Sarno. They all had a real good time.

Some day I shall awake to find a world that's free from fear Where none shall dare to challenge All the things we hold so dear. Where man can stand with dignity On this and every shore Where peace on earth, good will toward men Shall guide us evermore.

L.M. See You.

State 1962 Statistics Show Unusual Trends

TRENTON—The net increase in New Jersey's population from births alone averaged 196 a day in 1962, Dr. Roscoe P. Kandle, State Commissioner of Health, reported today in a year-end report. There was an average of 363 births and 167 deaths a day, for a net gain of 196 a day, not counting migration from other places into New Jersey.

He said there probably will be 132,500 births to New Jersey residents in 1962, a two percent drop from the 135,320 recorded in 1961. The rate is expected to be 20.9 per 1,000 live births compared with 21.8 in 1962. In the last 82 years, the highest birth rates recorded in New Jersey were in 1916 (23.9), 1917 (25.1), 1918 (24.3), and in 1947

(23.9). There were fewer total births in those years because there were fewer total people, but the rates were higher. Since World War I was on in 1916-1918 and World War II barely over in 1947, the data suggest that wars may make our men vigorous, potent and assertive. The lowest death rate in New Jersey was recorded in 1954 when there were 9.6 deaths for every 1,000 persons. The rate in 1962 is expected to be 9.7. It was 9.8 in 1961. Shakespeare wrote that marriages are made in heaven. If so, heaven was a slightly busier place in 1962. Statisticians of the State Department of Health estimate there were 41,377 marriages in 1962 compared to the recorded number of 40,699 in 1961.

The rank order of the 10 leading causes of death was unchanged in 1962 over 1961. If the 1962 estimates stand up in the final count, the death rates of both heart disease and cancer, two major causes of death in New Jersey, will be slightly lower in 1962 than in 1961, although there will be a numerical increase in both.

If the 1962 estimates are confirmed, New Jersey will have had in 1962 90 fewer deaths from diabetes than in 1961. This marks the first time since 1958 there has been a reversal in the generally upward trend of this disease. The decline will be about seven percent.

The 339 deaths and the death rate from tuberculosis also hit a new low, with anticipated mortality rate of 5.3 per 100,000 population in 1962 compared with 389 deaths and a death rate of 6.3 per 100,000 in 1961.

Six Got Polio New Jersey in 1962 had the smallest number of polio cases in any year since records of this disease began to be kept in 1913. There were six cases in 1962, all Type 1 polio, and there was one death among the six. By way of comparison, there were 754 cases of polio and 47 deaths reported to the State Department of Health in 1952. There were 27 cases and one death in 1961.

The rather consistent decline in polio cases since the advent of vaccines attests to their effectiveness and to the fact that they are being largely used," Dr. Kandle said. "But people cannot afford to be complacent. Two of the 1962 cases were men whose wives and children had been vaccinated but they themselves had not. Three other cases occurred in communities which had a high level of protection."

"These cases illustrate the remarkable ability of the virus to seek out the unprotected," Dr. Kandle said. "It is wonderful to have safe and effective vaccines against polio but they cannot protect people who do not get vaccinated."

Hepatitis "Hepatitis continued to be a significant public health problem in New Jersey in 1962. There were 1,460 cases reported compared with 2,288 in 1961, but the 1962 total was still far above the 1960 figure of 441.

Evidence accumulated by law enforcement and public health personnel suggests that narcotic addicts may be another small, but significant reservoir of hepatitis. Addicts have a higher incidence of hepatitis than the general population. They inject themselves with some frequency and their technique and the source and sanitation of their needles often leave much to be desired, thus resulting in relatively frequent infection with hepatitis. Narcotic addicts have been found to be frequent paid donors to commercial blood banks because this is a ready source of money. Unless the blood bank has rigid standards for the acceptance of donors, addicts may show up with some frequency and give fictitious names to escape detection.

There is no legislation which governs the operation of blood banks, although recommended standards have been established by the National Institutes of Health and by the New Jersey Blood Bank Commission. The department has submitted to the Governor for his consideration suggested legislation which would authorize this Department to establish standards to govern blood banks.

Rabies The Laboratory of the Department determined that eight bats and one racoon referred to it during the year were rabid. This compares with seven rabid bats in 1961 and one in 1960.

The Veterinary Public Health Program estimates there are about 412,000 licensed dogs in New Jersey. The Program carries on a cooperative anti-rabies program with local health departments and in this cooperative venture 130,000 dogs were protected. Several thousand other dogs were undoubtedly vaccinated against rabies by private veterinarians in their offices. But there still may be upwards of 200,000 dogs that are not vaccinated against rabies. Their owners are trusting to luck. New Jersey has not had a reported rabid dog case since 1956 but with rabies being confirmed in bats throughout the state, dog owners who do not have their pets vaccinated are gambling with their health and that of humans also. The cases of polio among unvaccinated persons have already been cited. The same thing could occur with rabies in unvaccinated dogs. There is a large reservoir of unvaccinated dogs. If a rabies epidemic were to occur, the results could be devastating to both animals and humans.

Legislation 1962 was a year in which steps were taken to strengthen legislation which provides the basic authority to deal with public health problems.

The Legislature approved an amendment to the New Jersey Air Pollution Control law, upon recommendation of the Governor, to simplify procedures in enforcing the New Jersey Air Pollution Control Code. The Public Health Council after hearing, amended Chapter VIII to the State Sanitary Code to permit more realistic supervision of sanitary landfills in marshy areas, where the problem of disposal is different and more complicated than on dry ground.

In December, the Public Health Council held a public hearing on proposals to add a chapter to the State Sanitary Code to deal with mobile trailer parks and boarding homes for children. There are now model codes on these subjects which may be adopted by reference, but they have not been adopted in some municipalities in which there were significant problems. Inclusion of such chapters in the State Sanitary Code will make them enforceable by the State Department of Health as well as by local boards of health.

The Radiation Protection Commission held a hearing on proposed amendments to the Radiation Protection Code in New Jersey. The proposed amendments will bring the Code into conformity with requirements of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission and facilitate transfer to the State Department of Health of certain inspection functions which have hitherto been carried out by the Commission.

The Department also held a hearing in December on proposed regulations to require drug manufacturers and wholesalers to keep records such that drugs and materials used in them may be traced in case of sudden need. Although the great majority of manufacturers and wholesalers now keep such records, the Department has had experience with some that did not. There was no previous regulation to require the keeping of such records. The tracing of adulterated, or defective drugs is dependent upon the maintenance of records to indicate where a drug came from and where it went to.

Announcing... DRUG TAX A SERVICE TO TAXPAYERS

Ever wish, at income tax time, that you had a complete record of every cent you spent for drugs and drug products throughout the year—and how much of it was legally deductible?

That kind of a record could save you money. And that kind of a record can now be yours, every year, absolutely free of charge. This new service is called DrugTax. We are making it available to all of our customers immediately, free of charge, as another way of saying "thank you" for their patronage.

You would be surprised at the number of drug and medical supplies that can be of a deductible nature—items such as antiseptics, aspirin, cough and cold preparations, and hundreds of others.

Indeed, the American taxpayer has been losing millions of dollars annually because he hasn't been aware of how many drug items are legally deductible.

But you must be able to offer proof of purchase in order to claim such items in preparing your federal income tax return. And when you buy from us, you get that proof—in the form of an annual record, mailed in February.

Come in today and let us tell you more about DrugTax. And from now on, buy ALL of your drug and medical supplies from the store that gives you the free DrugTax record.

Come In 6th Palmer Pleased With Grapplers

On Saturday, the Dayton Regional Wrestling team participated in the 6th annual Interden Central Invitational Wrestling Tournament, in Flemington. Eleven varsity, and eleven junior varsity grapplers grappled for Regionals, and while only one Bulldog, Mark Mueller, went all the way to win his weight class title, Coach Herb Palmer was pleased with the experience that the wrestlers achieved in preparation for the opening match that was held against Plainfield yesterday. Regional placed sixth in the eight team tournament, while host school Hunterdon Central took the team title.

Dayton fared well in the first round, as eight of eleven wrestlers emerged with victories. After 98 pounder Jeff Karlin had been beaten 6-3, John Gardella won 8-4, Rich Lucariello, 115, and Pete Puntigam, 123, won on falls. Ron Puorro won 6-3, in the 130 pound class; Paul Isenburg, 136, was defeated 5-3, Tom Baker won 5-0 at 141, Bob Haas, 148, won 2-1, Larry Bellon at 157 pinned his opponent, Richie Basta lost 8-3 in the 168 pound class, and Tom Venice won 3-2 at 178. Heavyweight Richie Bittle was unable to wrestle due to illness.

The second round was a total loss as all eight Bulldogs were defeated. Upsets were administered to Rich Lucariello, who was seeded number one in his weight class, and Ron Puorro and Tom Venice, who were seeded second.

In the consolation round, to decide third and fourth place, Lucariello, Puorro, and Tom Baker won on decisions, giving Springfield a total of 18 points in the tournament.

Mueller's victory in the junior varsity tournament, came on a 7-2 decision over Joe Lavioia of Teaneck.

By ARNOLD MINIMAN

The Westfield Blue Devils helped spoil Dayton Regional's Watching Conference title hopes last Wednesday night at the Springfield gym, as they routed the Bulldogs 72-55. Jack Appgar led all scorers with 25 points, but the well-rounded Westfield five had four men in double figures, paced by giant Bob King's 22 markers and sophomore Bob Felner's 17.

The Blue Devils jumped to a 2-0 mark on a jumper by John Bannon and a King foul shot, before a set by Denny Francis made it 3-2. King hit another foul, and foul shots by Francis and Dave Bonislowski tied the score at 4-4. Bannon converted a foul but a layup by Francis gave Springfield a 6-5 lead. Felner hit his first jumper of the night to put Westfield ahead again, and a side shot by Appgar gave the Bulldogs their last lead, 9-7.

The Blue Devils then rallied off 9 straight points and had a 20-9 advantage at the quarter. Westfield rolled to a 26-9 margin before Bill Kretzer hit on a "jump shot," but Westfield was controlling the boards and made Springfield force its shots. King and Felner combined for 13 points in the second period, and Regional trailed 43-24 at the half.

Springfield outscored the Blue Devils 31-29 in the second half, but failed to maintain an attack against the King-infested defense. Appgar tallied 13 points in the third quarter, and 3 in the final eight minutes, but the rest of the offense could only manage 15 markers on 7-31, 1-3 shooting. Frank Monticello scored 10 points for Springfield, while Bonislowski and Kretzer had 9 and 8 respectively.

On Friday night the Bulldogs played their annual Alumni game, pitting past Dayton stars against this year's varsity unit. The varsity, paced by Appgar and Kretzer, won easily, 64-43.

The varsity jumped to a 4-0 lead on a set by Appgar and a jumper by Bonislowski, before a jump shot by alumnus Bill Benner put the "old men" on the scoreboard. Kretzer and Benner sunk two four-pointers for their respective sides before Denny Francis, who scored 8 points in the first quarter, came up with the play of the night. Denny scored on a perfect tap in after a shot by Bonislowski bounced high off the rim of the basket. The varsity led, 16-8, at the quarter.

Six consecutive free throws by Kretzer and Appgar gave the varsity a 22-8 margin, and an eventual 28-15 lead at the half. Benner and Appgar put on quite a show in the final period, matching shot for shot, but the overall varsity scoring punch gave Coach Swedish's team a 42-27 lead going into the final period. With the second team, led by Bruce Leidy, seeing extensive action in the final period, the varsity scored 22 points as they won the lopsided affair by 21 markers.

Jack Appgar was high scorer with 19 points, Bill Benner added 17 to lead the Alumni, while Bill Kretzer had 15 and Denny Francis, 10 points.

FINE HUNT—James Herrick Jr., 16, son of Police Sergeant and Mrs. James Herrick Sr. of 137 Parkway, Mountainside, is shown with the nine-point buck he shot with a single shot the first day of deer season near Morristown. This is the second deer the youth has shot since he began hunting when he was 10. He also shot an eight-point deer when he was 14 which the family had mounted. He was accompanied on this year's trip by his grandfather, Neil Clark of New Brunswick, who also got a deer, a four-pointer.

BROADWAY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bringing the Broadway theater slate up to date:

"Lord Pengo," thanks largely to star Charles Boyer, but partly to the urbane writing of the veteran S. N. Behrman, has caught on at the Royale Theater.

Boyer is one of the few stars with a genuine appeal and following. It would take a very bad script and production to cause the quick closing of a play in which he appeared.

Paul Gregory has given, as usual, a first-rate production to "Lord Pengo" and, while Behrman's script leaves me far from ecstatic, it is at least literate and has a certain elegance that is all too rare in the theater these days.

This is the story of a fantastic international art dealer and how his operations affect the lives of his clients, aside from revealing them of millions of dollars for art masterpieces.

"The Days of Duveen," dealing with the career of the late Lord Duveen, a Hungarian who achieved Britain's House of Lords.

Boyer gets good support from director Vincent Donohue and Agnes Moorehead (although this fine dramatic actress is really wasted in a mediocre role).

"Moby Dick" was a gallant try, but it was too special to survive the Broadway rat race. This was Orson Welles' adaptation of Herman Melville's famed novel of Captain Ahab's demonic search for the great white whale.

Welles conceived the imaginative treatment of the story as a rehearsal of a new script by a touring Shakespearean troupe of the late 19th century.

"Harold," by Herman Raucher, was a disastrous script. The starring of young Anthony Perkins, who is very hot in films right now, did not help this spasmodically funny but woefully disjointed and trite story.

There have been several John Brown dramas over the long years, but no dramatist seems to be able to put the old abolitionist freerooter on the stage in believable fashion.

Maybe the real story is so theatrical and fantastic as to defy adequate translation to the sometimes inadequate stage. Or, possibly, it needs the soaring dialogue of a truly fine poetic playwright with imagination.

By JIM BREETVELD United Press International REYKJAVIK, Iceland (UPI) — "TV or not TV," that is the question for Iceland today.

When most countries are discussing what programs should be produced on TV, Icelanders are pondering whether or not they should have television at all.

The issue has nothing to do with backwardness or underdevelopment, because the tiny island republic of Iceland is a giant in the world of culture. She became the first country in history to wipe out illiteracy and she achieved this 60 years ago.

The Icelandic civilization flourished during the Dark Ages when most nations were groping about for the fragments of European life, submerged in mass fear, poverty and ignorance.

Long before trial by jury was a reality in Britain, the early Viking settlers of the North Atlantic island were practicing a crude version of the democratic process of justice. The Icelandic Parliament, the Althing, is the oldest existing legislative body in the world, having been founded in 930 A.D. It still rules Iceland.

Icelanders speak Icelandic, the oldest and purest modern language in Europe. It was spoken throughout Scandinavia in Viking times. Icelandic literature, the only Scandinavian literature to flower in medieval times, helped to preserve the tongue in its purest form. It has changed so little in a thousand years that modern Icelanders can generally read and understand ancient literary works like the Eddas and the Sagas of the 12th and 13th centuries in the original. Most Icelanders also speak Danish and English, which they study in school as foreign languages.

In keeping with the strong literary tradition of Iceland, there are a large number of novelists, poets and playwrights, creating for their book-loving countrymen. Many of them receive direct government financial assistance. The most prominent writer in Iceland today is Halldor Laxness, whose novels of rural Icelandic life won for him the 1955 Nobel Prize for Literature.

Having a pure language like Icelandic has its drawbacks, too. In the Iceland National Theater's production of the musical "My Fair Lady," the producers had to create an Icelandic dialect to serve as "cockney" in the show. Icelandic does not have any dialects of its own. When the song "I Could Have Danced All Night" caused considerable giggling and glee in the audience, it was understandable. The winter night in Iceland is 20 hours long.

Many small cities in the country do not have high-quality frequency modulation (FM) broadcasting stations because FM is not supposed to be a generally profitable operation. But most of these FM-less small cities have one or two AM operations, which do not provide the quality high fidelity enthusiasts demand.

Homer Griffith, an old-timer in radio, believes that FM can be made to pay almost any place that AM does. He believes he has proved it with KAZZ, an FM station with 805 watts of effective radiated power (ERP) in Austin, Tex. It covers a radius of about 15 miles. The station had been on the air about four years when Griffith took it over last July 16. It had not previously made a profit; within 60 days Griffith had billings up 300 per cent.

He says he did this by promoting the station, not as FM, per se, but as he would any high quality station. He automated the station to cut down on overhead and subscribed to a top quality music service. KAZZ does not broadcast multiplex stereo.

Griffith went to International Good Music, Inc., Bellingham, Wash., for his music service. International Good Music packages and sells high fidelity programs on tape. It has three services — classical, semi-classical and standard popular. Griffith buys the semi-classical program. International Good Music programs from a library of 25,000 records. Each musical number is identified on the tape by a top-quality announcer who is not allowed to talk more than 10 seconds a number.

Griffith gets these programs on 14-inch reels that play at 7 1/2 inches per second. He records his local advertisements on automatic tape cartridges. The program tape and advertisements are played on automatic equipment. Once every hour a local announcer comes in with 10 minutes of news.

Within any five minute period that KAZZ is on the air — 8 A.M. to 10 P.M. — a listener can tune in and find out what time it is.

Griffith plans to install a one-kilowatt transmitter — increasing his effective radiated power about four times — before long. He is thinking about stereo FM, but not for a year at least.

KAZZ, he was a management consultant. During 35 years in radio, he has worked for WLW, Cincinnati; WLS and WBBM, Chicago; WSM, Nashville; WFAA, Dallas, and KNX, Los Angeles, among other AM stations.

He thinks that except for the clear-channel 50 kilowatt AM stations, all broadcasting in the United States will be on FM in a few years.

During the Cuban crisis, the government used the clear-channel AM stations

Too True — Paul Henning, producer of the "Beverly Hills Cop" television series premiering on CBS-TV, says it's harder to teach youngsters the alphabet these days because many of them think that "TV" always comes after "T."

A limited number of memberships are available in the Gardenstate Toastmasters Club, Dr. Raymond Constantian, Administrative Vice President, of 14 Springbrook Road, Springfield, announced today.

Dr. Constantian said men 21 years of age or older who are interested in public speaking are invited to visit the club which meets every Monday night, at 7:45 p.m. at the Community Building in Irvington.

In addition to speech training, Dr. Constantian said the Gardenstate Toastmasters Club provides experience in the conduct of meetings, helps members improve their grammar, and provides opportunities for speaking before various community groups and organizations.

The Gardenstate Toastmasters Club was chartered in 1952, and is a member of Toastmasters International. There are now more than 3500 Toastmasters clubs in 45 countries and territories throughout the free world. Since the formation of the first Toastmasters Club at Santa Ana, Calif., in 1924, more than three-quarter million men have participated in the Toastmasters program of self-expression and self-improvement.

Anti-Droop Tips For Yule Posies WASHINGTON (UPI)—Keep the holiday cut-flowers fresh by heeding these tips, suggests the American Society of Florists:

Place stems in deep warm water. Pour warm water into the container in which they will be arranged. Cut stem ends diagonally with a sharp knife. Remove all foliage below the water level. Add a commercial flower preservative to the water. Polysettias and euphorbias have a milky substance or juice which should be sealed into the stem by quickly dipping stem ends one to two inches into boiling water.

When stem ends get soft or decayed, recut the stems to remove that portion. When flowers wilt, recut stems and place in warm water.

David Aronson Ski Tow To Begin Soon

A 650-foot ski tow will be in operation at the Galloping Hill Golf Course, Kenilworth and Union, with the first substantial snowfall, it was recently announced by The Union County Park Commission.

The rope tow, a new winter sport facility, is located at the edge of the fairway at the #3 tee of the lower nine holes of the golf course. This particular site offers skiers a one-quarter mile downhill slope. The tow has an incline of 65 feet to the top of the slope. The area will be sighted to permit evening skiing.

The Commission has included many safety factors into the design to protect the public. The entire apparatus was designed and constructed by Commission workmen.

Rates for the use of the ski tow will be as follows: on weekday afternoons Monday through Friday, from 3:00 to 5:30 p.m. the rate will be 25 cents. All evenings, including Saturdays and Sundays, from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m. the fee will be 50 cents. A fee of 50 cents will also be charged on Saturdays from 10:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., and on Sunday afternoons from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m. The fee will entitle the skiers to use the tow during the hours of operation.

Special Services At Baptist Church Youth Week at Clinton Hill Baptist Church, located at 2815 Morris Avenue, began December 30 and concludes this week-end with special services which will be open to all young people in the area.

"That I May Know Him" (Phil. 3:10) is the 1963 theme of the Annual Youth Week. The Rev. John DeBrine, America's famed religious disc-jockey and one of America's outstanding youth leaders will be the speaker Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

This 37-year-old Baptist minister receives more than 100,000 fan-letters a year. He directs the Boston Youthtime non-sectarian Saturday night teenage rallies held in Park Street Church on the Boston Common. The average attendance of more than 1,000 includes high school and college delegations from all of New England.

We've Gotta Pay More...

Workers and their employers will pay higher social security taxes beginning this past Tuesday. By law, the tax rate on wages has increased on Jan. 1 from the former 3-1/8 percent each on workers and employers to 3-5/8 percent each. The self-employment tax rate has gone from the present 4.7 percent to 5.4 percent for 1963 earnings.

Social security taxes are collected on the first $4800 of wages or self-employment income. A worker who has wages of $4800 and also has income from a business pays only on his wages.

The new rates will, under present law, be in effect through 1965. Another increase is scheduled to go into effect in 1968, to 4-5/8 percent each for workers and their employers and 6.9 percent for the self-employed.

According to Ralph W. Jones, the Elizabeth social security district manager, these increases are to keep the system self-supporting and soundly financed. Jones said that based on actuarial estimates, these rates will provide ample funds for all payments set by present law.

Self-employed people pay their Federal income tax security taxes beginning this past Tuesday. When making returns on 1962 income, self-employed businessmen will pay the 1962 tax rate of 4. percent. The new rate applies to 1963 income, which, in most cases, won't be reported until 1964.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Horticulturists report that water plants prematurely take root in simple tubs to water all the plants at the same time each day until water runs out of the drainage hole in the bottom of the clay pot. Use warm water.

The "Howling Wilderness" Road

Mystery and isolation still lie heavily on Pahaquarry Township, least settled of all New Jersey municipalities. Rare is the visitor, particularly when winter closes its icy grip, and only 63 people claimed Pahaquarry as their home in the 1960 Census.

Pahaquarry nestles in a long strip between the Kittatinny Mountains and the Delaware River in Warren County, Northward through Sussex County a narrow road winds casually along the river bank to Port Jervis. Then the road cuts sharply across country northeastward to Kingston, N.Y., on the Hudson River 70 miles north of New York City.

Even today a journey from Pahaquarry to New York, via Port Jervis and Kingston, would provoke comment — yet more than 300 years ago Dutch adventurers hacked a road through a "howling wilderness" from Kingston (then Esopus) to reach Pahaquarry.

The lure was the copper ore that encrusted sandstone in the hills of Pahaquarry. Indians brought copper, or at least word of copper, to Esopus in about 1650. Through the river valleys from Esopus went the Dutchmen, following old Indian trails or hewing their own way. Here, for the picking, was the wealth that had brought them to a new world.

Those Dutchmen attacked the formidable rock of the Kittatinny Mountains. They dug well and they dug often, opening a seven-foot-high tunnel to a length of nearly 100 feet into the mountain, and then exploring from this at right angles for another 50 feet on either side. They sank at least two other inclined shafts to depths of 40 to 60 feet.

All of this, mind you, in the 1650's — some 10 years before the English controlled New Jersey, some 25 years before Philadelphia was founded. Every foot of stone was removed by hand and every pound of copper was extracted by raw manpower.

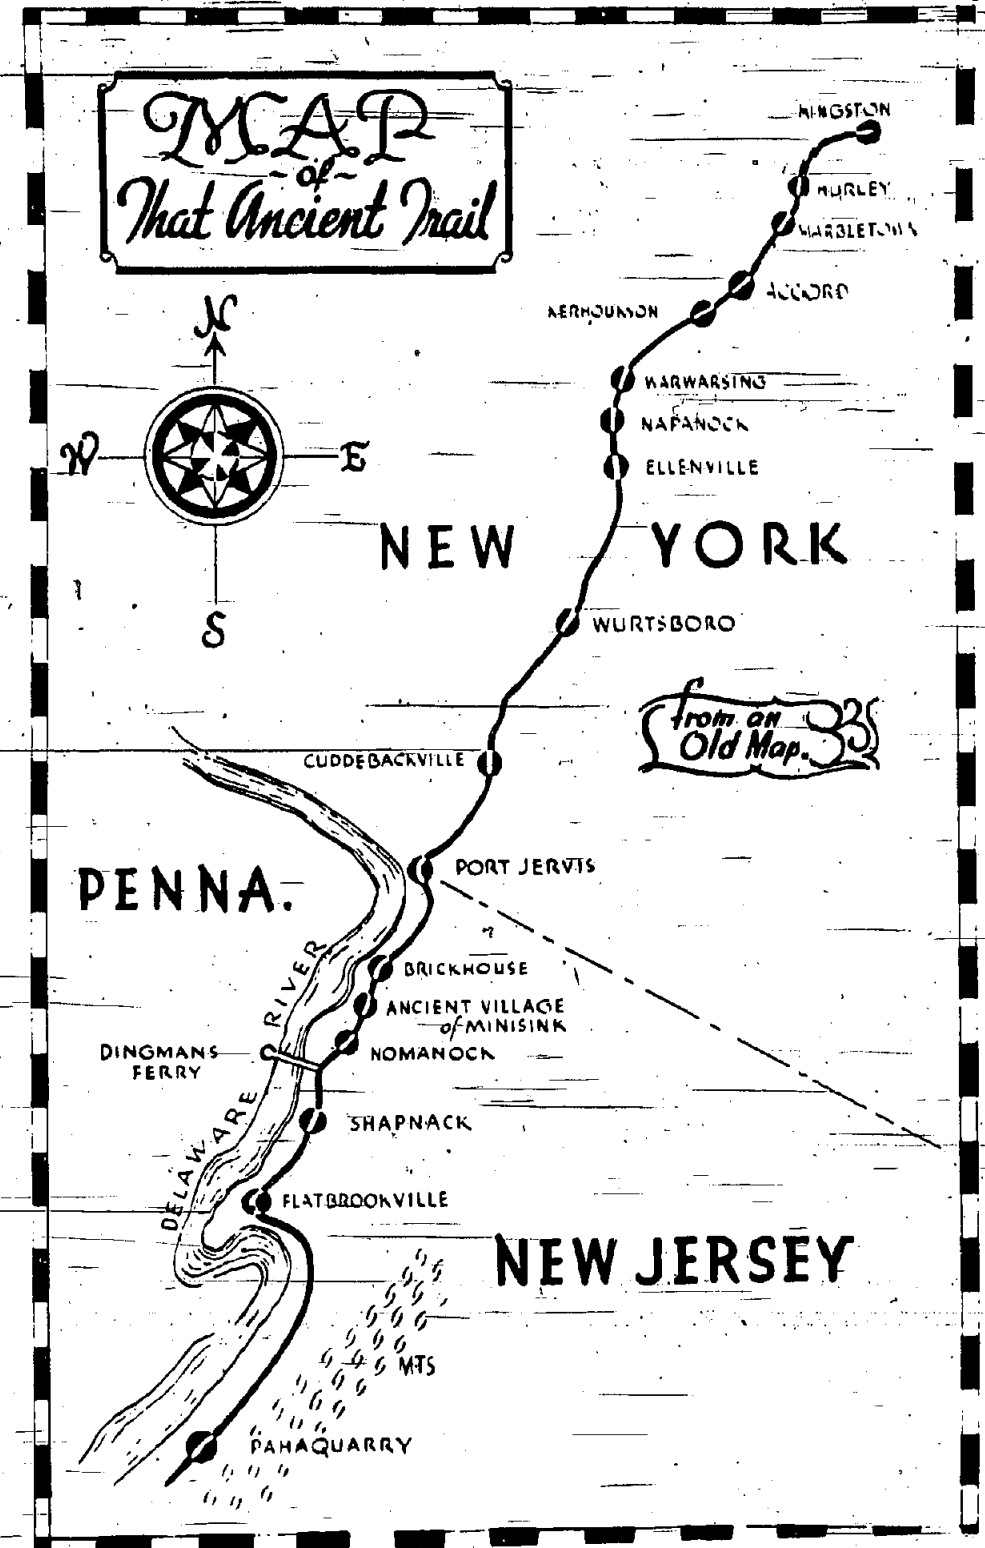

But copper in Pahaquarry and copper in Holland were two vastly different things. By the banks of the Delaware, the ore was so much stone; in the marketplaces beside Holland's canals it was easy to trade for gold.

Up the valley toward Esopus went the ore-burdened Dutch, widening and leveling their road as they went. Their "mine road" by 1659 stretched open and clear the full 104 miles from Pahaquarry to Esopus.

Some questions will always remain concerning the copper digging, but there is undeniable evidence that the mountains were mined extensively before New Amsterdam fell to the English in 1664. The mine openings remain, and records dated as early as 1729 tell of the mining, even then being enveloped by mystery and time.

The Dutch miners kept their ore secrets to themselves, for records indicate that they took their copper to Holland in 1659 without telling Governor Peter Stuyvesant, Directors of the Dutch West India Company promptly wrote Stuyvesant in some anguish. They had interviewed one Claes de Ruyter, as "a person who showed that he was not ignorant of it" and suggested that the governor investigate.

Stuyvesant investigated and learned only that there was indeed a copper mine in some vague area along the South (Delaware) River, but knowledge of the mining was vague.

Meanwhile, between 1659 and 1664 the mine road from Esopus to Pahaquarry grew ever more useful. Undoubtedly this was the first major improved road of any length in North America; the road, not the copper, would prove to be the lasting contribution of those first Dutchmen who ventured into the "howling wilderness."

Down that road came English settlers in the early 18th century. Down that road in December, 1776, came General Horatio Gates on his way from Saratoga with reinforcements for Washington's beleaguered army beside the Delaware. Later, President John Adams used the road as a fine shortcut between his Massachusetts home and Philadelphia.

Today, both road and the Dutch mines remain, plus several other holes dug in the 19th and early 20th centuries by Johnny-comelately copper hunters. The copper is still there, too, but is never likely to prove commercial, although geologists won't say so flatly.

So Pahaquarry settles back in the mystery of three centuries. Its 63 steady residents are not much more than the number of Dutchmen there in 1660; there must have been many diggers there, for a 100-foot-deep tunnel is not a matter for few hands, even ambitious Dutch hands.

Pahaquarry knows of Philadelphia, of course, and there is a road to (and from) New York. Nevertheless, when visitors come, they seek mainly to renew contacts with 300 and more years ago — and they come to travel "The Old Mine Road" northward through the beauty of the Warren and Sussex mountain-land.
