Improvement Sought For Baltusrol Top

Mail deliveries, improved Summit Rd. lighting, and bus service for residents of Baltusrol Top were pressed by members of Township Committee of Springfield at their regular meeting Tuesday, March 10, in Municipal Building.

All motions were introduced by Committeeman Philip Del Vecchio, who is a resident of that area himself.

Continuing his fight to have Springfield Post Office handle mail deliveries for the Top instead of the Mountain Side branch of Westfield Post Office, he announced he has such a position with 187 signatures of residents of the area. The names represent an 80 per cent response since only 117 homes are involved, he said.

Township Committee agreed to mail copies to its Congressional representatives - Senators Clifford Case and Harrison Williams and Congresswoman Florence Dwyer seeking support for the proposal and urging J. J. Doherty, director of the Philadelphia Regional U.S. Post Office to reconsider his decision rejecting the idea.

Committeeman Del Vecchio explained both the Springfield and the Westfield Post offices are agreeable to the plan, but they must have authorization to make the change.

A letter was also approved to be sent to Mountain Side urging Public Service Electric and Gas to survey Summit Rd. at High Point Dr. for improved illumination. Del Vecchio said that the location is at the mountain crest, especially at night, presents a hazard to those exiting from High Point Dr.

Letters were also directed to Mountain Side and Summit seeking cooperation for the establishment of a bus route with the participation of Somerset Bus Co. The proposed route, which would serve Baltusrol Top residents, would concern Mountain Side and Summit with the route including Summit Rd., Overlook Hospital, with a right turn to Lackawanna Railroad Station in Summit.

Caldwell Principal Won't Admit - Or Deny - Retirement

Persistent rumors of the June 30 retirement of Lucy Forsyth, principal of James Caldwell School, Springfield, were not denied by the principal herself this past week.

Approached by the SUN on whether such talk was true, the school official replied: "It will be time enough when Mr. Newslinger announces it" and added that she did not care to comment on the matter "right now."

These remarks by the principal lead the press to believe that the announcement is imminent since Newslinger, himself, is scheduled to leave the school system June 30 and would be in no position to make any such announcement at a later date.

The Springfield superintendent of schools wrote Feb. 14 of his own retirement and Springfield Board of Education accepted his resignation Feb. 18.

Mrs. Forsyth has been a member of the Springfield school system 40 years. Upon graduation from Trenton Normal School in 1924, she became a member of the teaching staff at Raymond Chisholm School, where she taught third and fourth grades. After 27 years service there, she assumed duties at James Caldwell as assistant to Superintendent of Schools Newslinger and in 1952 was named principal of Caldwell School.

SHAREY SHALOM VOTES

Temple OKs Call To Racial Justice

Last Thursday Temple Sharey Shalom held its second congregational meeting of the year. The members present voted to accept the temple's call to racial justice.

Two months ago the board of trustees unanimously voted such a call which they entitled "A STATEMENT REGARDING TEMPLE SHAREY SHALOM'S POSITION AND POLICY ON HUMAN RIGHTS."

It reads:

Recognizing the great struggle for equality and freedom in our own nation and in many other areas of the world, we members of Temple Sharey Shalom feel that a clear and positive statement regarding our stand for racial and religious justice for all persons is in order.

Temple Sharey Shalom has, since its inception, been dedicated to meaningful endeavors in the pursuit of social justice, and as taught and enjoined upon us by the prophets and by Jewish tradition, to labor ceaselessly for the improvement of the society in which we live.

Consistent with the above, we hereby state the following principles which we have previously supported and shall continue to support:

1. Our congregation and all its affiliate groups will not patronize or sponsor any activity at a place of public accommodation which discriminates against anyone because of race, religion, or ethnic origin.
2. Our congregation will pursue a policy of non-discriminatory relationship in our employment practices, with our suppliers and in all other areas relating to the administrative functioning of our temple and will attempt not to conduct business with those guilty of discriminatory practices.
3. Our congregation will continue its policy of not being a party to any restrictive covenant or gentlemen's agreement in the purchase, sale, rental or use of property.
4. Our congregation will continue to welcome as members, all Jews, regardless of their racial origins.
5. Our worship services, religious school curriculum, and adult education program will continue to reflect in prayer, program, and educational content, our efforts to achieve racial justice for all peoples.
6. Our congregation and affiliate groups will engage in efforts to establish positive and meaningful interpersonal relationships with all groups and individuals.
7. Our congregation will continue to actively cooperate with other organizations working for racial justice and human rights, and whose basic principles are in agreement with the aims and objectives set forth in this document. Cooperation with each such organization shall be subject to and consistent with general temple policy.
8. Our congregation will take initiatives to urge the formulation and implementation of policies on racial justice similar to the one herein approved in other institutions, agencies and associations within the Jewish community.
9. Consistent with our congregational policy heretofore stated, we urge our individual congregants to practice and apply the same high ethical and moral standards in their daily lives as specifically relates to the following areas:
  - A. We urge our members

Defense Tax Rate For 1964 Planned In Estimated At $7.03 Fadam Issue

Springfield Township Committee Tuesday March 10, authorized Township Attorney James M. Cawley to defend it in the taxpayers' suit fighting the proposed convalescent center at Fadam Farm.

This action was taken after the township attorney advised Township Committee Monday was the deadline for answering the suit.

Following the Township Committee meeting Tuesday, Township Attorney Cawley told the press Valco Inc. of Newark, the applicant for the convalescent center, has served both him and Irwin Weinberg, attorney for the plaintiffs in the case, notice of intervention.

Attorney Cawley said that Valco's application to intervene in the suit will be heard Friday (tomorrow) in Superior Court, Elizabeth Murray Simon, Newark attorney, has been representing Valco before the various municipal bodies in connection with the convalescent center plan.

The papers, consisting of 10 pages, cite conflict of interest, claim a Board of Adjustment deadlock Nov. 19 constituted a denial, claim none of the governmental agencies in approving Valco's application had before it any completed plans, and call classification of a convalescent center as a general medical or surgical hospital an improper classification, which can't be considered a special exception use.

The Fadam Farm property is located in an S-75 residential zone.

GOAL $6,300

Red Cross Drive Begins

The annual Red Cross Drive for Funds and Members was kicked off this week by the local Springfield Chapter, announced Dr. Robert Laurencelle, Fund Chairman. The Springfield Red Cross Fund Drive is reaching for the 1964 goal of $6,300 to meet the operating costs of services of the Springfield Chapter. Miss Claire E. Danneheimer, 74 Forest Drive, co-chairman of the drive officially opened the drive beginning with the 4th District and Short Hills Village.

Mr. Laurencelle announced that a three pronged approach is being employed in the fund drive. Neighborhood volunteers will be conducting door-to-door solicitations for funds and to acquaint the township with local Red Cross services. In neighborhoods where residents are frequently away and volunteer may pass a contribution envelope. Mail solicitation will be conducted in certain areas. The third area of solicitation will be through the business and professional district under the leadership of Mrs. Charles Sasse.

Mrs. Laurencelle called upon the citizens of Springfield to give full assistance and cooperation in support of the Fund Drive. "Open your door to the neighborhood solicitor; Give generously; and volunteer to give an evening to help in fund solicitation! Your Springfield Red Cross is YOU, and it can do only what you will let it do through your support," Mrs. Laurencelle concluded.

Mr. Laurencelle has served the local Red Cross Chapter as Vice-chairman, Disaster chairman, and Fund chairman. As a Red Cross volunteer he organized the kitchen to feed the staff workers at the Sabino Hall Sunday at the high school. He is chief draftsman for Schacht Steel Construction, one of the leading steel fabricators in the New York metropolitan area. In addition Mr. Laurencelle teaches drafting at Union County Vocational and Technical Institute. He lives at 111 Redwood Road with his wife Betty and their five children. All of the family have been actively helping Mr. Laurencelle in organizing the Fund Drive with even the youngest stuffing envelopes.

JFK Scholar Fund Off To Flying Start

A flying start inaugurated the campaign to raise $20,000 for the John F. Kennedy Memorial Scholarship Fund with approximately 20 pledges received during the first week.

Established to aid college-bound students, the Scholarship Fund will provide awards on the basis of need, citizenship, and scholastic ability. Appeals for this "Investment in the Future" are being made on a three-fold basis: to industrial and retail establishments; to civic, social, and fraternal groups; and to residents of Springfield and Keilworth.

Arthur Falkin, Member of the Springfield Township Committee and a member of the Scholarship Fund Committee, is implementing the appeal by a broadside mailing to industrial establishments. The mailing includes the tax deductible feature.

Also a mailing is being made by the Committee to all parents of Jonathan Dayton Regional High School students requesting contributions. Every member of the Springfield and Keilworth community is also urged to contribute.

Public acknowledgement of all pledges and monies received will be made by listing the names of all contributors in the local publications.

The concerted effort of the Scholarship Committee Fund is intended to provide educational advantages to deserving students who otherwise must forego such education due to financial reasons.

Contributions, which are tax deductible, should be mailed direct to: John F. Kennedy Memorial Scholarship Fund, Jonathan Dayton Regional High School, Springfield, N.J.

Pachlewski suggested investigation of a joint garbage collection program with neighboring communities and also joint or group purchasing of supplies to save money. Committee Chairman Falkin reported the township currently has a five-year garbage contract with a private concern which expires Dec. 31, 1965.

He said private collection, joint collection with other communities, and also composting are being studied. The basic problem is the dumping facility, controlled by those in the business, he pointed out. In connection with bulk buying with other municipalities, Falkin reported this is also under investigation, especially in the area of road stone.

The informal meeting Saturday was concluded in 45 minutes. Both Jay B. Bloom and Douglas C. Mattice, announced as Township Committee nominees for the Springfield Democratic Party in the April Primary, were in the audience. Also attending were various municipal departmental heads.

Dennis Heyeck On Marine Duty

Marine Private First Class Dennis Heyeck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Heyeck of 171 Baltusrol Ave., Springfield, N.J., is participating with the Second Battalion, Ninth Marines, in a coordinated United Nationalist Chinese amphibious exercise called "Operation Backpack" being conducted off the coast of Taiwan. Backpack is an exercise to test the amphibious capabilities and readiness of the forces of the Seventh Fleet and the Nationalist Chinese Navy. The exercise, with over 40,000 men and 140 units participating, will culminate in an amphibious assault on beaches of southern Taiwan, and will demonstrate the effectiveness of the United States Seventh Fleet to rapidly move a significant combat force to a troubled area in order to assist an ally.

Prior to the assault, aircraft of the Seventh Fleet will soften beach defenses. In addition, support ships will conduct anti-submarine warfare exercises and the area surrounding the beachhead will be cleared of any obstructions and mines. "Backpack" is similar to those exercises conducted periodically by units of the Seventh Fleet with SEATO and other allied nations in the Far East and coordinated amphibious war-simulations of southern Taiwan, and will demonstrate working relationships with allied nations.

Heart Fund Head Writes Letter To Spark Donations

Open letter to Springfield residents.

To the Editor:
One of the great difficulties encountered in organizing a National type charity drive, such as the one I am presently engaged in, namely the Heart Fund, is to find enough willing workers to sufficiently cover the Town to make a fund raising drive effective.

The method used in these drives is to find Captains, who turn find people to make the house to house collections so necessary to this type of drive. This system however has reached a point where too few people are willing to make house to house calls, asking their neighbors to contribute to this drive one month, and the same people going back again next month for a contribution to another charity drive. This becomes distasteful after a while, not only to the people who have to ask, but also to those who have to give.

However, the cause for which the drive is run does not change, the need for the research for any of the drives is as urgent as ever, and the need to raise money for this research is as urgent as ever, until the cure for a specific disease is found. Because of the reasons enumerated, I am having an addressed Heart Fund envelope delivered to every home in this town, through the fine cooperation of the Springfield Girl Scouts, whose Neighborhood Chairman, Mrs. Gertrude Del Vecchio, has the necessary organization to make this possible.

Now all that remains is for you, the public, to show the same generosity that I have found to be the case in previous drives which I have conducted. Please be generous and send in a contribution to the Heart Fund, for Heart Disease ranks our No. 1 Killer, and make sure that research, because of your contribution, can one day find a cure so that hundreds of thousands of lives may be saved and prolonged.

Sincerely,
Saul Freeman, Chairman
Heart Fund Drive

Stamp Collector Turns Hobby Into Business

Jim Root is in a fortunate situation...he is probably the only businessman in town who meets with competition.

By day, Root is an engineer with the Elizabethtown Consolidated Gas Company in Iselin and by night and weekends he combines a hobby with business by running a postage stamp dealership.

Root's stamp dealership at 41 Mountain Ave., Springfield evolved from his collection, which he started at the rather ripe age of 35 (for stamp collectors).

The hobby of "Kids and Kings" as it is called is practiced by close to fifteen million people alone in this country.

From King George V and Baron Rothschild to the kid on the corner who peels stamps from envelopes and buys by the packet at the dime store, the hobby of stamp-collecting has always been an institution.

Recalling a tenant in his home years ago who used to collect stamps, Root thought the hobby "was a silly thing to do". With this influence as well as his wife Orene's, who is also a stamp collector, he found he could not resist the temptation the pastime offered. He says a stamp show at Newark really gave him the spark to collect on a big scale.

Unlike many collectors who tend to specialize in one area such as rare or old stamps or a specific country, Root builds his collection from a broad prospective, collecting from all areas and time periods. This, he feels makes for an attractive balanced collection.

Root finds he can derive an education from collecting stamps since most of the issues commemorate a specific event or person of the contemporary scene or in past history.

Acquiring his stamps by the usual methods, Root buys from companies via mail, trades with other collectors, buys from dealers in New York and gathers them from the many envelopes he accumulates from friends and customers.

When queried on the value of a particular stamp collection, Root explained that the actual monetary value of most collections is about 20% of the actual catalog price.

A small bespectacled bookish looking man, Root has his quarters in a room at his apartment, has all of his stamps carefully catalogued so collectors know exactly what he has in stock. Strewn about a table are a stamp collector's tools: albums, magnifying glasses, paper hinges, tweezers.

Though he spends practically all of his free time now with his collection, Root looks forward to his retirement years when he plans to expand his dealership

He said he was so advised by Edward C. Tiller of the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders, who is director of Public Works for the county.

Del Vecchio indicated there has been some delay because of county personnel problems. He explained both the county engineer and assistant county engineer have been absorbed with many matters because of their forthcoming retirements and another key member of their department has been ill.

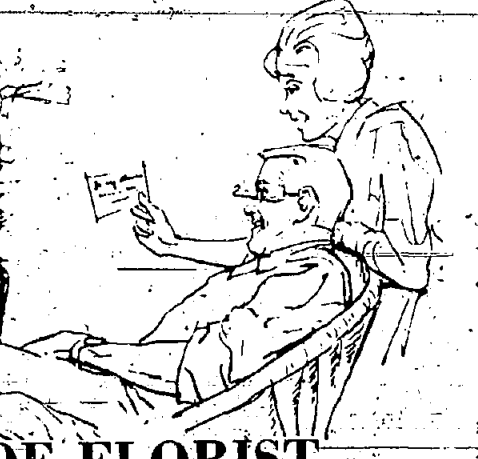

The township committeeman reported Tiller has told him a consulting engineering firm is scheduled to be engaged to design the bridge to expedite the program.

The Bombers defeated the Jets twice last week to dropped the contending Jets 3 games behind first place. Jimmy Sarokin and Rick Rawitz paced the two victories over the Jets. Rick Rawitz's game of 137 in the first game gave the Bombers a 300 game and an important victory.

DOG'S WORLD

Barkless Basenjis Rare... Linden Man Now Owns 6

One problem Frank Castellano doesn't come across, as barking dogs although six canine members can be found in his Linden home.

The dogs are of a rare breed in this country, the barkless basenji. Originally bred in Africa as hunters, the dogs came to this country in 1937 and have been recognized by the American Kennel Club since 1943. It is believed that this dog was bred from wild animals many years ago.

Castellano's dog family consist of Tanya, 2 1/2 year old mother of the rest. Brownie a one year old female was from Tanya's first litter and the four six week old pups are of her second litter.

After becoming interested in this quiet breed Castellano and his wife, Noreen bought Tanya from a breeder in Lakewood, New York. A male from the same litter as Tanya's mother is the pet of the King and Queen of Romania.

A member of the hound family, Tanya hunts birds with her master who is a member of a hunting club in Pattenberg. Tanya is the only Basenji used by a member of the club and does as well as any hound in hunting.

Having a keen sense of smell the Basenji makes a very good watch dog. Although they are barkless they can growl as loud as any other canine and make a noise similar to yodeling.

A friendly and playful breed the dogs get along well with the Castellano's three children; Kim, 3; Dale, 5; and Fran, 7. They are known to be "catlike" in their cleanliness and have no doggy odor. They make wonderful house pets even for apartment living.

The president of the Basenji Club of America was the first person to show this breed in America. The Castellano's do not show their dogs as they are strictly pets and breeding is only for an enjoyable hobby with them.

A dog of this breed can be worth as much as $300 but the Castellanos will be selling three of their four pups for about $75. They plan to keep a male from the new litter.

Both of Tanya's parents are American Champions and the father of the puppies is a champion. Standards of the breed calls for white feet, a white tipped-tail and a white chest. The most common colors for the Basenji is chestnut and white although there are tri-colored members of the breed.

The Castellano pets seem to be enjoyed by the neighbors as much as the family. They are quiet, clean friendly dogs and affectionate pets.

There are three main dog shows coming up in North Jersey for the spring season. The first will be held at the armory in Paterson, N.J. on March 21. This is sponsored by the Ramapo Kennel Club.

On March 22 the Northern New Jersey Kennel Club will hold a show at the Teaneck Armory.

On April 11, the Twin Brook Kennel Club will hold a show at the West Orange Armory. A newcomer to the showings, Coral Wood Robin, a Basenji hound pup from Paterson will be entered in the puppy match division.

Red Mill Causes The Excitement At Meadowbrook

Although the Meadowbrook Dinner Theatre management is delighted to bring back Dorothy Collins in "Fanny" April 2nd through the 26th, it's the opening of "Red Mill" on April 29th starring Pat O'Brien with outstanding comedian Coley Worth, that really has them excited. This beloved operetta, more completely expresses the lyricism and charm of shows of its original period than any other, with the exception of "The Merry Widow".

It's a musical written as musicals should be written. Featuring and highlighting music by the greatest composer of the early 1900's Victor Herbert. It's astounding pace is breath taking and the voices will be the finest ever assembled at the famed Cedar Grove restaurant. It was the long run of its time on Broadway in September 1906 and similarly stamped Chicago, Boston and every other city that it toured for years on end. It's successful revival 39 years later ran longer.

Kent Place School Hosts Dance Guest

The Greenwich Village motif featured candle lit tables with gay red checkered tablecloths and a modern-art display.

The general chairman for this dance was Eve Dearborn of Summit, the sophomore class President. Assisting with the plans were: decorations, Cynthia Titus, Summit; entertainment, Clara Lou Marx, Shrewsbury; refreshments, Pamela Bristol, Summit; and escorts, Pamela Schick, of Madison; Miss Florence Wolfe, headmistress, Miss Elizabeth Wilcos, head of the upper school, Mrs. Charles Alcock, Mrs. Andrew R. Skinnell and Miss Lucy Swift all of the Kent Place Upper School Faculty and the following parents were hosts and hostesses for this gala affair: Mr. and Mrs. John L. Flemming and Mr. and Mrs. Howard O. Holt, all of Summit.

Reduce Polluted Air, Says State

The New Jersey State Department of Health last week suggested to the Corps of Engineers of the U.S. Army ways to reduce air pollution and water pollution in and around the New York - New Jersey interstate waters and along the Atlantic coast.

Hadassah Sets Passover Theme

"Passover Around the World" will be the theme of the March 10th meeting of the Summit Chapter of Hadassah to be held at the Jewish Community Center at 8:30 p.m.

Mrs. Nathaniel Coyne will do a reading of the traditions and customs of Passover in many countries around the world. Mrs. Sidney Weitzner will provide the musical accompaniment for the narration.

Also on the program will be Mrs. David Shaltiel of Berkeley Heights. A native of Germany, Mrs. Shaltiel went to Israel during World War II and was cared for by Youth Aliyah. She will describe Passover in Israel.

The suggestions were made at a public hearing held by the Corps of Engineers in the Chamber of Commerce Building, 65 Liberty Street, New York, N.Y., on March 5. They were made by Alfred H. Fletcher, Director, Division of Environmental Health, New Jersey State Department of Health.

The hearing was concerned with elimination of drift and debris by removal and disposal of dilapidated structures and derelicts along the shores of New York Harbor and its tributary waters.

Mr. Fletcher noted debris is collected and burned openly on "Shooter's Island" just off the north shore of Staten Island at Mariners Harbor and not far from Elizabethport in New Jersey to the northwest and not far from Bergen Point in Bayonne, New Jersey which is to the east.

Sen. Case Asks For Space Views

Senator Clifford P. Case today disclosed that he has asked Governor Hughes for his comments on the recent report of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reaffirming its decision to locate a proposed electronics research center in the Boston area.

Under the law, our Space Committee may accept or express opposition to the report within 45 days of its submission. If the State is interested in pursuing the matter, I would welcome your comments on the findings of the report in this regard. In particular, any factual material to rebut the basis on which New Jersey was eliminated would be helpful.

Senator Case sent a similar letter to the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce which had submitted a proposal on behalf of the Southern Jersey-Philadelphia area.

The Senate Space Committee hearings on NASA fiscal 64-65 budget authorization bill began this week.

Lenape Garden Group To Meet

The Lenape Trail Garden Club will hold its March meeting at the home of vice president Mrs. Richard B. Frodge, 16 Little Wolf Rd., Summit, on Monday, March 16, 1964.

The text of the letter to Governor Hughes follows:

Dear Governor:

As you know, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration recently submitted to our Senate Aeronautical and Space Sciences Committee a report on its proposal for an electronics research center to be located in the Boston area.

This reaffirmation of its earlier decision is deeply disappointing to many of us who believe that such a center might most appropriately be located in New Jersey. I have a particular concern because of my efforts on the Committee to require not only satisfactory evidence of the need for such a center but also consideration of other possible sites, such as New Jersey, for its location.

Under the law, our Space Committee may accept or express opposition to the report within 45 days of its submission. The report deals at some length with the Princeton area as a possible site. If the State is interested in pursuing the matter, I would welcome your comments on the findings of the report in this regard. In particular, any factual material to rebut the basis on which New Jersey was eliminated would be helpful.

A copy of the NASA report is enclosed.

Sincerely,
Clifford P. Case
U.S. Senator

SIXTH ANNUAL CONCLAVE

Assemblyman Collins Deliver Young GOP Keynote Speech

New Jersey Assemblyman Lorse "Rip" Collins will deliver the keynote address before the Sixth Annual Convention of the Young Republicans of Union County, to be held Saturday at the Hotel Suburban in Summit, according to an announcement by Convention co-chairmen Donald W. MacDonald and Mrs. Kenneth Yates. Collins, a freshman member of the State Legislature's Lower House was one of four Union County Assemblymen who took office in last year's GOP sweep of the county.

The Assemblyman is an active Young Republican and received considerable support in his successful bid from the county-wide YR organization.

Following a business meeting and election of new officers, the YR's will host a public reception at the Suburban in honor of State Senator Nelson F. Stamler and other GOP legislators on the county, state and national level. Also expected to be on hand will be 1964 candidates for public office and for Delegate and Alternate Delegate seats to the Republican National Convention who were endorsed by the GOP Screening Committee last week.

The day's activities will conclude with a banquet which will feature an address by Congressman Steven B. Derouin from the Second Congressional District of New York, who will be introduced by Representative Florence P. Dwyer of New Jersey's Sixth District.

Mr. Donald, who is also Chairman of the Westfield Area Young Republicans, also announced that over two hundred people are expected to attend the function, establishing a new record attendance. Registration and banquet details may be obtained by contacting any area YR leader or Republican municipal official in Union County.

Running unopposed for the chairmanship of the organization is Frank H. Betz of Scotch Plains; past Chairman of the Westfield Area YR group.

BY JOHN T. CUNNINGHAM

Exactly 300 years ago this day, on the 12th of March, 1664, King Charles II of England affixed his approval on a land grant to his brother, James, Duke of York—and thus began the high-landed series of events on which New Jersey this year bases its Tercentenary.

Three months later—James in turn disposed of most of that March grant, and in his June deed bestowed the name "New Jersey." But that's another story; first James had to get the land himself.

ENGLAND FELT itself the rightful owner of all of North America, and the thought of Dutch colonies lodged between Virginia and Massachusetts irritated the crown. Even more, those Dutchmen ranked British merchants who hungrily dreamed of the fortunes to be made by trading with an enlarged New World under full English control.

Pushed and goaded by the merchants and by the Navy, the latter led by the Duke of York, Charles had little choice. Holland must go, by war if necessary, for in Charles' words, Englishmen would "pawn their estates to maintain a war."

Really, though, war seemed unlikely to the councillors gathered about the King. Charles himself declared that New Netherlands "did belong to England heretofore, but the Dutch drove our people out of it." King Charles erred; England probably had never set a man ashore on the Hudson River, but men beat on war are always notoriously weak in history.

EVENTS MOVED swiftly in the first days of March, 1664, although the activity in Whitehall Palace must have been carried out in utmost secrecy. Samuel Pepys, the inveterate diarist who recorded everything from secret court policy to scandalous court romances, made no mention of the dealings whereby James received his new land.

Another observer, however, wrote that the essential steps "occupied but four days, an unprecedented event."

The results of those secret March maneuverings are now clearly preserved in a hand-embossed parchment owned by the New Jersey Historical Society. This document, one of the key New Jersey papers, is a thing of beauty as well as information, for it is embellished with an engraved portrait of Charles and an ornate engraved border.

PATIENCE IS THE tool most required in understanding that document, for the hand-embossing is difficult to follow. Lauk introduces and closes the document. Worse, the entire 1,950-word paper contains not one mark of punctuation!

Charles saw the land now called New Jersey as nothing more than "part of the Mayne land of New-England." When he approved the March 12 transfer to "our dearest Brother, James Duke of York," he probably had only the vaguest notion of the territory involved.

Apparently trying to hem in New England authorities as well as aiming to dislodge the Dutch, Charles gave the Duke of York far more than New Netherlands. The March patent included land in Maine, part of Connecticut, "Martin (Martha's) Vineyards" and "Nantucket" (Nantuxet) Island and all the acreage southward to the Delaware River.

"Our said dearest brother" James received rights to extract any wealth that he could from "mines, minerals, quarries" and "fishings, hawking, hunting and fowling." He received, as well, "full and absolute power and authority to correct, punish, pardon govern and rule all such subjects—as shall from time to time adventure themselves" into any of the land.

IN RETURN FOR that right to seek fortunes and to rule with an iron hand, James could be asked to pay annually "fortie beaver" skins when they shall be demanded." Land went cheaply in those days, especially to "dearest brothers" of the crown.

The Duke of York and his Navy advisers acted promptly. James dispatched four ships, 400 men and a deputy governor to take over his new holdings. The fleet sailed westward in May, with commanding officer and deputy governor Robert Nicolls earnestly hopeful that he might do the Duke proud in the New World.

New Amsterdam succumbed in late August without firing a shot, although it stubbornly refused to recognize the correctness of King Charles' contention that Dutchmen had no right to live in New Amsterdam. Governor Nicolls assigned the name "Albany" to the region between the Hudson and Delaware Rivers and set about ruling the duke's domain.

POOR NICOLLS struggled vainly to do his job well, for already a tide of carelessness had begun in England. The year of 1664 was a time when land meant little in palaces.

And even as his own man was on the high seas bound for New Netherlands, the Duke of York called in Berkeley and Carteret in June.

N.J. Pavilion At Worlds Fair Reserved 53 Of 178 Days For Tercentenary Events

The New Jersey Tercentenary Pavilion at the New York World's Fair has already been reserved for the celebration of Tercentenary events for 53 of the 178 days of the 1964 Fair season, Tercentenary Commission Chairman Paul L. Troast announced.

The Commission, which administers the State's Tercentenary Pavilion at the World's Fair, is now planning the Opening Day ceremonies, set for April 22.

In the months that follow, a succession of local Tercentenary Committees will be sponsoring municipal days at the Fair, using the attractive performing arts area in the center of the New Jersey Tercentenary Pavilion as the focal point.

"The Spring months have been very heavily scheduled," Mr. Troast said, "with many communities planning on showing off their crack high school bands, drill teams, and choral groups. A number of towns are combining their programs at the New Jersey Tercentenary Pavilion with events on the World's Fair Corporation calendar for the same day." Mr. Troast added.

All those interested in representing New Jersey at the World's Fair are invited to write the New Jersey Tercentenary commission, State House, Trenton, which will act as a clearing house for the scheduling of local events at the Fair, and will coordinate the requests of performing groups with appropriate local Tercentenary Committees.

Among the towns so far scheduled are Hammonton, in Atlantic County; Rutherford, Glen Rock, River Edge, Ramsey, Oakland, Ridgewood, Tenafly, Teaneck and Englewood, in Bergen County; Willingboro Township, in Burlington County; Audubon and Gloucester City, in Camden County; Montclair in Essex County; Bayonne, North Bergen, and West New York, in Hudson County; Trenton, in Mercer County; Dover and Montville, in Morris County; Clifton, Ringwood and West Milford Township, in Passaic County; Plainfield, Rahway, Roselle and Summit, in Union County; and Washington Township, in Warren County.

In addition, Bergen, Sussex, and Union Counties are planning week-long celebrations at the Tercentenary Pavilion. The State Assembly man Loree Collins of Union County (R-Summit) introduced a bill to the Legislature which would permit local school authorities to "unhinder the hands of teachers" in coping with unruly situations in the classroom.

The bill would permit local school boards to authorize the use of "reasonable" corporal punishment by teachers. However it carefully spells out that such practice only be used where necessary to maintain discipline in class.

"We are not watching a show — my wife is watching her show!"

State Catholic Youth organization is scheduled for a Day, the State American Legion has a two-day program in prospect, and Westminster Choir College, Fairleigh Dickinson University, Centenary College for Women, Blair Academy, Stevens Institute, and the Boy Scouts of America are planning participation in the programs of the New Jersey Tercentenary Pavilion.

One of the most effective ways to keep all of baby's paraphernalia as sweet and clean as it should be is to station a basinful of a baking soda solution along with a cellulose sponge in the kitchen or nursery. This equipped, you're always ready for quick mop-ups of mishaps such as food spills on the highchair or spill-ups on floor, clothes or furniture. A prompt sponging with the soda solution, and spots and odors don't get a chance to develop. Use the solution, too, to erase fingerprint smudges on nursery woodwork. And since bicarbonate is pure food-grade, you can use it with complete assurance for wiping the rungs of the crib and playpen, the plastic mattress cover of crib, carriage or playpen, the crib bumper, or any other nursery item that comes within baby's reach or can find its way to baby's mouth. Washable toys can safely be dunked in it, too.

Volunteers Urged To Stand Ready

At the monthly meeting of the Executive Committee of the National Foundation, Edward L. Whelan, Chapter Chairman, commented on the success of the first of the Sabin Oral Sundays and urged all March of Dimes workers to continue in readiness to assist with volunteer help to the best of their ability on the two remaining Sundays.

He reminded the Committee that Dr. Albert Sabin's work on oral vaccine was financed by $1,190,392 in March of Dimes money contributed by the American people. He pointed out that the decline in polio since the advent of the Salk vaccine in 1955, also sponsored by March

Commercial Firms Lauded For 'SOS' Aid

The Union County Medical Society thanked a number of commercial firms today for their "invaluable aid in making the Sabin Oral Sundays campaign a success."

"A dairy provided us with ice cream cans for donations and a brewery distributed 90,000 flyers for us through taverns and liquor stores," Dr. Bernard Ehrenberg, chairman of the society's S.O.S. drive said.

"Four food chains put flyers in grocery bags; We received free space on 700 billboards throughout the county from advertising companies."

"Many firms also ran ads to promote the drive."

The Executive Director, Raymond Rath, reported that $2,050, had been spent since the beginning of the year on direct patient aid. One half of the total amount of $2,600 pledged to support the Birth-Defect Clinic at Babies Hospital, Newark, and the Arthritis Clinic in Jersey City, has been paid to date. He also reported that the public was becoming more aware of the availability of the clinics and that four children had been referred this month to Babies Hospital, and two to the Arthritis Clinic.

337,109 In Union County Participate In Sabin Oral Polio Vaccine Program

"Make-up Sunday" -- a second chance to participate in Union County's Sabin Oral Polio Vaccine program -- brought out 42,273 persons last Sunday.

This brought the total of those who participated in the county to 337,109, or 67.4 percent of the population. Some 2,000 institutionalized persons took the vaccine during the week and 292,836 participated in the program on March 1.

Dr. Bernard Ehrenberg, chairman of the Union County Medical Society's S.O.S. program, said, "I am very happy with the results."

"I was especially encouraged by the fine turnout of people who made-up Sunday. This group did not participate fully in the program on March 1."

"But our work has only begun. We have completed one-third of our program."

"We have two more feccings -- on April 12 and May 24. There are three kinds of polio and every person should take all three doses of Sabin to protect himself and his family against all three kinds of polio."

Incomplete figures indicated that the 30-year-old over age group represented more than 85 per cent of yesterday's attendance in contrast with 42.9 per cent on March 1. This age group represents 54.9 per cent of the county's population.

"I am glad to see that the mothers and fathers who made sure their children took the Sabin vaccine last week came out yesterday to take it themselves," Dr. Ehrenberg said.

"And they brought grandparents and grandmas."

Dr. Jack R. Karel, chairman of the S.O.S. Manpower Committee, again lauded the work of the volunteers who manned the nine sites.

"Once again, volunteer workers from all walks of life came through with flying colors, with
