Site chosen for new Cranford skate park

By Paul Greulich Staff Writer

CRANFORD - After almost five years of intermittent discussion and debate, a plan to build a skateboard park in Cranford seems to have gotten its second wind with the Township Committee earmarking a 10,0000-square-foot site on Hillside Avenue for the project. Engineering Commissioner Mark Smith said this vacant township-owned space, which abuts only tennis courts and a rail line, is ideal for the park.

"From an engineering perspective, the various sites that had been proposed over the years were reviewed by the township committee," Smith said. "The best site See SKATE, Page 6

Union Police launch campaign aimed at catching drunk drivers

Township of Union law enforcement officers will be cracking down on drunk drivers as part of the summer 2009 "Over the limit, Under Arrest" campaign. It will run through Sept. 7.

Local and state law enforcement officers, including the Union Police Department, will conduct sobriety checkpoints, looking for motorists who may be driving while intoxicated.

A concentrated national effort, the campaign helps to raise awareness about the dangers of drinking and driving through high-visibility enforcement and public education tools, including posters, banners and mobile video display signs. Launched nationally in 1999, the program works to combat drunk driving during some of the busiest travel times of the year, including the summer months. As part of the initiative, the Division of Highway Traffic Safety provides grants to local law

Township of Union law enforcement officers will enforcement agencies throughout the state to conduct cracking down on drunk drivers as part of the sum- the two-week campaign.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration reports that nationally, drunk driving fatalities accounted for 32 percent of all traffic deaths in 2008. Last year in New Jersey, 152 people were killed as a result of alcohol-related crashes. The number represents 25 percent of the 590 traffic fatalities reported in the state last year. In addition, 56 of those alcoholrelated fatalities occurred during the summer travel season.

Fischer noted that in 2007, 205 people were killed as a result of alcohol-related crashes on New Jersey's highways, representing 28 percent of the 724 traffic fatalities reported in the state. In addition, 82 of those 2007 alcohol-related fatalities occurred during the summer travel season.

The New Jersey Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is currently investigating the case, but did not return calls by press time Tuesday.

Geminder said the municipality can only issue a summons for having unlicensed pets, which can result in a fine between $25 and $200 plus court costs.

"Every town has at least one 'cat lady." This woman had great affection for cats, but obviously her heart was bigger than her means," said Hillside police chief Robert Quinlan. "Cats multiply quickly (if not spayed and neutered), and she certainly couldn't take care of them all."

The specific soil and groundwater COCs identified at the Site, along with their approved remediation standards per the site Remedial Action Work Plan, are listed on the next page. Two sets of remediation standards are used with soil. The first set protects the groundwater from soil contamination that may migrate through the soil to groundwater, and the second set of standards is protective of human health from direct contact with soils (incidental ingestion, dermal contact, and inhalation of particulates or vapors). Merck continues to cooperatively work with NJDEP and USEPA to clean up environmentally contaminated areas to the appropriate standards.

Extent of Contamination

Surface soil COCs have been removed and have either been treated or placed under capped areas at the Site.

Introduction

Since 1990, when contamination was first identified at its site located in Rahway and Linden, Union County, New Jersey (hereafter referred to as the "Site"), Merck & Co. Inc. (Merck) has been proactively working with the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection (NJDEP) and the United States Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA) Region II. In 2008, NJDEP adopted regulations intended to inform the public of site cleanups. As a result, this fact sheet has been prepared to inform the public about ongoing environmental investigation and cleanup activities at the Site.

Site History

The Site is approximately 210 acres and is split roughly between the Cities of Rahway and Linden. Surrounding land use is primarily residential and industrial. The Site began operations in 1903 and continues to research. develop, and produce pharmaceutical products. The information box above identifies the property lots that make up the Site.

Merck has been implementing remedial actions pursuant to the Hazardous and Solid Waste Amendments (HSWA) permit issued by the USEPA in 1990 and 2000 and the Administrative Consent Order (ACO) signed by NJDEP and Merck in 1994. Site-wide environmental cleanup activities and investigations began in 1991 and continue through present day. The sources of contamination are attributed to the historical manufacturing and waste management operations at the Site.

Description of Contamination

The investigations identified contamination within the following media: surface soil, subsurface soil, surface water/sediment at Kings Creek, indoor/outdoor air, and groundwater.

Remedial measures are largely completed for all media except for groundwater (see Actions Performed to Minimize Impact to Public section).

Affected Environmental Media

Subsurface soil and groundwater contaminants of concern (COCs) consist primarily of volatile organic compounds (VOCs) and alcohols used in pharmaceutical research, manufacturing, and support operations, but also include metals, pesticides, and semivolatile organic compounds (SVOCs).

Engineering Commissioner Mark Smith said he is hopeful the bill will be approved.

The expectation and understanding is that it will be approved by the Senate and will go to the president for signing," Smith said. If approved, this money will go to Army Corps of Engineers to help them finish their feasibility study, a township for the millions of dollars still needed to move ahead with the at the head of their priorities in can't afford to wait for another actual flood control project itself. This undertaking, known as the Five-Phase Northeast Quadrant Stormwater Management Project, was initially estimated to cost about $9 million in 2000, before delays and cost overruns made the total price tag read closer to $25 million.

Despite the cost and length of document that will help qualify the the project, local Democrat and Republican officials have placed it curred. "Cranford citizens are very concerned about how another devastating flood would impact their homes and businesses," said Robinson. "We are working vigorously to make improvements that would help protect the town in the event of another significant flood, like the 2007 Nor'easter."

The challenge of funding and completing the flood project have brought out political tension between local commissioners.

Smith pointed out that the recent good news from Lance's office contradicts statements made in writing by Commissioner Dan Aschenbach. The committee's lone Democrat has criticized the Republican majority for developing negative relationships with higher levels of government and failing to solicit Lance's aid.

"Mr. Aschenbach's prognostication is once again woefully deficient," Smith said.

Aschenbach could not be reached for comment as of press time.

Library cards available

September is Library Card Sign-Up Month and Hillside Public Library wants to make sure that all children in Hillside have the smartest card of all - a library card.

Studies show that children who are read to in the home and who use the library perform better in school and are more likely to continue to use the library as a source of lifetime learning.

Activities at Hillside Public Library during Library Card Sign-up Month include a full complement of children's programs - story hour, arts and crafts and movies, including a special program on Sept. 15 at 4 p.m., where all children who bring a library card with them will receive a prize.

"A library card has always been the most important school supply of all," said Susan Lipstein, head of reference at the library. "

Getting a library card is easy ---parents can just come to the Circulation Desk with a driver's license or bill to show their current Hillside address and the card will be sent to their home.

Library Card Sign-up month is a time when the American Library Association and libraries across the country remind parents that a library card is the most important school supply of all.

For information, visit the library or call 973-923-4413.

What's the problem? Hillside Mayor Joseph Menza recently ordered a purchasing freeze and a limit on overtime pay in the township in order to curtail spending and prevent the municipality from falling deeper into debt. It's a sensible and longoverdue solution, but, as usual, the mayor's adversaries on Township Council are criticizing the move. Why?

Perhaps it's because council members have simply become so accustomed to opposing mayoral decisions and allowing differences of opinion to spill into lawsuits. Or maybe it's because saying "no" to departments heads' requests is actually more difficult than just approving every expense that comes along. Whatever the reason, it almost appears as though some officials would rather argue with the mayor than concede and save taxpayer dollars.

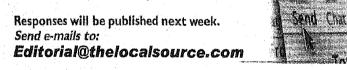

Councilman John Kulish said in a recent newspaper article that the town's "fiscal situation is not in dire straits.....We are not going to let the town just stop." Since when is a recession not dire; and how is saving money going to "stop" the town? Menza's talking about major expenditures, not purchases needed for day-to-day operations or emergencies. Kulish also insists that approving expenses is the job of the council, not the mayor.

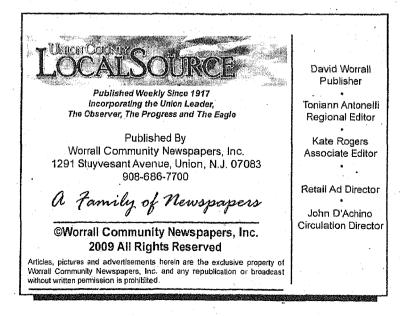

Again, if the end results is saving tax dollars, why make such a petty argument?

Nickel-and-diming expenditures is perfectly acceptable in a town where, according to the mayor, more money is owed than what's available in the municipal coffers. And let's not forget that Hillside is in no way immune to the ongoing recession. That alone should justify any money-saving measure township officials can employ.

We can recognize a good idea when we see one, and it's likely that residents can as well. The question is, can officials stop squabbling long enough to recognize it themselves?

What is your opinion about this subject?

Anonymous people doing judging

There are some anonymous people doing judging these days. In the age of transparency, it's interesting just how many decisions are made by deciding agencies most of us have never even heard about.

For Union County Judge William Wertheimer, the reports over the last few weeks of a private meeting." One of the attorneys bad joke to lawyers during a trial has brought him smack dab before the Advisory Committee on Judicial Conduct. Never heard of the group — it's a good bet neither have most citizens or lawyers for that matter.

The state court rules say their establishment is "to assist otherwise in fulfilling the administrative responsibilities of the court." The nine members appointed by the Supreme Court include retired judges, a few lawyers and citizen members "who do not hold public offices of any nature.'

In the case of Wertheimer, he will face retired Justice Alan Handler, ex-Judge Theodore Davis who is currently the appointed manager for the city of Camden. John Farmer Esq., the ex-attorney general and Richard Roper, the director of the Planning Department at the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey among others. An august group indeed.

Wertheimer's problems came about during a so-called "side bar" remark with attorneys, meaning their was no recording and it was made out of the hearing of jurors. The complaint against Wertheimer on Aug. 11 asserts that when a request for a postponement to attend a Passover seder was made, present who is Jewish found the remark so offensive he filed the complaint. The other attorney present later said according to the cient evidence to suspend Mr. "Judge NJ Law Journal Wertheimer never said anything that anybody in their right mind would consider insulting or anti . semetic." Wertheimer also apologized to the complaining attorney.

The Wertheimer matter will be played out in the public forum on the issue that "the administration of justice that brought the judicial office into dispute" according to the complaint.

A good bet is that the body won't consider that candor even bluntness by the judiciary in side bar discussion is helpful in applying justice. I recall one judge when there was a raised eyebrow, and referring to a counsel as "mister." were clear signs things weren't going well. Alas, even an apology doesn't spare this Judge the ordeal he is about to enter.

Sometimes the ordeal can be completely without transparency. Take the case of Rahway Councilman Bobby Akbar. According to newspaper accounts Akbar, a teacher, plead guilty to a simple assault charge.

His attorney was quoted, "the violation boiled down to making the judge quipped about a "bund noise in a public place by leaving a resident of Cranford.

parking lot burning rubber."

It's came to be a whole lot more. The 32-year fifth grade teacher has been suspended by the Rahway School Board with pay. The board has not commented on the decision for suspension or its length.

The Republicans in Rahway including activist Kevin Retcho are having a field day, calling on Akbar to resign. Retcho was quoted, "If the Rahway School found suffi-Akbar from the classroom it is quite obvious they feel a violation to rules of the system."

The anonymous. review approach has even hit acting U.S. Attorney Ralph Marra who lives in Union County. The Associated Press, the beneficiary of a leak, reported he is "facing an internal ethics investigation over public comments that may have helped his ex-boss (Chris Christie) campaign for governor."

At the time of the arrest of 44 in a federal corruption probe, Marra issued remarks allegedly considered "extra judicial comments."

There is a certain irony that the head of an office that has been routinely accused of leaking activities was now the target of a leak. The NY Times wrote, "A spokesman for Mr. Marra said Mr. Marra was unaware of any investigation."

Still investigations of side bar discussions, suspensions without hearings, and accusation by leak lead to the conclusion that there are some anonymous people who need some transparency themselves.

Issue is 'too important' to get wrong

Right now, there is great debate in Congress about how we go about dramatically reforming health care in this country.

Most congressional Democrats and Republicans agree: Health care costs have been skyrocketing for far too long, overwhelming the middle class and businesses during these difficult economic times.

For my part, I have been traveling throughout New Jersey's 7th Congressional District meeting with doctors, hospitals, senior citizens, small businesses and working families alike as part of a health care listening session.

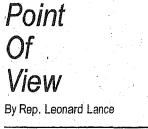

The feedback has been almost universally the same: we need real health care reform to reduce costs for families and small businesses in need while expanding access and increasing the quality of care in a way we can afford.

That's why I was so disappointed when last week the Democratic Leadership released its health care reform plan. The measure is a $1.5 trillion government takeover of health care that will lead to fewer jobs, higher taxes and less health coverage for New Jerseyeans.

Under the plan, the federal government would be responsible for ensuring that all people, regardless of income or the state of their health, have access to an affordable insurance plan. Individuals and employers would be mandated to get health coverage or face hefty penalties.

To help pay for this mandate in coverage, the Democrats' plan calls for raising taxes on many New Jersey individuals, families and small businesses to levels not seen since the 1980s.

It is no wonder that a broad coalition of job-creating groups representing chambers of commerce, small businesses, home builders and manufacturers have come out strongly against the proposed health care bill.

This type of mandated "public option" is nothing more than Washington-speak for a government-run health care where the federal government stands between doctors and patients and important life-saving treatments for patients are denied based solely on cost.

Most concerning to me is the fact that the Democrats' health care bill would increase, not reduce, our nation's burgeoning long-term health costs.

According to the non-partisan Congressional Budget Office, instead of saving the federal government from fiscal catastrophe, the Democrats' health care proposal would worsen an already bleak budget outlook, increasing deficit projections and driving the nation the official arbiter of the costs of legislation in Congress.

There is a better way.

The centrist alternative is a better way toward real reform without raising taxes on New Jersey's working families, adding to the federal debt or jeopardizing employerprovided health coverage.

The bill, known as the "Medical Rights and Reform Act," would mandate a fundamental principle the government should not come between patients and their doctors.

This act would protect all Americans' relationship with their doctors, the integrity of the medical profession and the right of Americans to choose the care they deem appropriate without federal delay or restriction.

To lower health care costs, the County.

act would foster state innovation through insurance market reforms. high-risk pools, community health networks and new association options for small businesses.

The bill also includes: lawsuit reforms to end the practice of defensive medicine and ensure fair compensation for injured patients; acceleration of health information technology programs to improve the quality of care and reduce errors; strong standards and processes to target waste, fraud and abuse; targeted prevention and wellness programs to address costly chronic diseases and promote healthy living; and greater tax incentives for individuals and small businesses to buy health insurance.

Our alternative plan expands access to Americans without health insurance by providing greater incentives to small businesses to cover their employees; encouraging state-centered insurance market reforms; giving low-income families the option to use public funds to purchase private health insurance plans; enhancing Health Savings Accounts; allowing young more deeply into debt. The CBO is adults to remain dependents on their parents' plans; and expanding rural health care programs.

I believe health care reform is too important to get wrong, and Americans deserve better solutions than those coming out of Washing-

Democrats should put aside their $1.5 trillion health care tax hike plan and take a hard look at the affordable and effective Medical Rights and Reform Act.

Together we can find real solutions to make health care more affordable in a fiscally responsible way.

KEEP PETS AWAY FROM MOLD

Most people know about the health risks associated with exposure to toxic black mold. Until recently, however, the risk for pets had not been adequately assessed. Veterinarians now recognize that small animals are at risk for the same pulmonary symptoms from exposure to the mold that humans are. The mold can lead to trouble breathing and can cause the capillaries in the lungs to burst, resulting in bleeding lungs. Exposure to the mold can be fatal. Smaller animals are at an even higher risk for worrisome symptoms than humans. Inexpensive mold detecting kits, which can be purchased at hardware stores, are very useful in homes where mold is suspected. Bring animals exhibiting signs of breathing difficulties to the veterinarian.

Dogs, cats, and other pets often are the first to get sick in a house or apartment that is mold infested. Mold can easily harm and kill dogs, cats, and other pets living in mold. . At T.L.C. PET DOCTOR we recommend routine checkups on all of your pets to screen for diseases. Questions or concerns can be addresses by coming to 1326 Stuyvesant Ave., Union or calling 908.686.7080. From surgery to basic nail clipping, we want to help ensure that your furry friend is as happy and healthy as can be. We provide complete companion animal care, including dental care, and x-ray services Our services include geriatric care radiology, wellness and preventive medicine, and many more. We provide exotic pet and bird medicine. as well as diagnostic services offered on site.

P.S. If your home has water damage and you own a cat, dog, or other curious animal who roams freely, take care to find and remove mold before your pet comes in contact with it. www.myvetonline.com/tlcpd

Notification of Environmental Investigation and Fact Sheet

Motiva Enterprises, LLC (Motiva) is investigating environmental conditions at 2031 Rt. 22 West, Union, NJ, tax block 4008 and lot 5.01 (the "property"). Under "Notification and Public Outreach" rules recently established by the NJDEP (N.J.A.C. 7:26E), this notification and fact sheet is being provided to all owners and tenants within 200 feet of the property boundary to promote awareness that an environmental investigation is being conducted at the property. No action on your part is needed.

A Gasoline station has operated at this property from about 1930 until present. The NJDEP has assigned it Preferred Identification Number 011054. The environmental investigation began in 1991.

During the course of this investigation, the petroleum-related constituents Benzene, Tertiary Butyl Alcohol (TBA), Tentatively Identified Compounds (TICs), and Lead, which potentially result from gasoline station operations, have been identified in groundwater above the NIDEP's Groundwater Quality Standards (GWQS). The non-petroleum-related constituent 1,1-Dichloroethene has also been identified in groundwater above GWQS. The following table shows a comparison of the most recent groundwater concentration ranges of the constituents to their GWQS. Groundwater concentrations are presented in micrograms per liter (μ g/L).

Table 1 – Most Recent Groundwater Concentration Ranges Compared to NJDEP's Groundwater Quality Standards (GWQS) (µg/L)

Constituent	Concentration Range	GWQS,
Benzene	ND to 49.7	1
TBA	ND to 118	100
TICs	ND to 2643	500
Lead	ND to 46.9	5
1,1-Dichloroethene	ND to 3.03	2

Non Detect

The areal extent of groundwater above GWQS has been fully determined. Groundwater impact extends approximately 90 ft to the south of the property boundary. Results of the investigation indicate that the non-petroleum related constituent in groundwater comes from an off-site source. It is not related to operations at this property.

No constituents are currently present in soil above the NJDEP Residential Direct Contact Soil Cleanup Criteria. The environmental investigation is proceeding in accordance with NJDEP requirements. Routine groundwater sampling is performed periodically. The NJDEP-approved remedy for this property is to monitor the natural decrease in groundwater concentrations through periodic sampling.

Information about the identified constituents can be found using the following online resources: http//www.atsdr.cdc.gov/toxfaq.html

http/www.cdc.gov/niosh/npg/default.html

A copy of reports submitted to the NJDEP related to the environmental investigation for this site will be made available to the Township of Union upon the Township of Union's request. If you have questions about the environmental investigation, you may contact Motiva at (877) 484-7948, or write to P.O. Box 250, Bedminster, NJ 07921. If you have questions about the NJDEP's "Notification and Public Outreach" rules, please contact the NJDEP Office of Community Relations at (609) 984-3081.

requirements. To our knowledge, there are no continuing sources (USTs) of petroleum impacts at the site.

Several VOCs and PAHs, as well as lead are present in soil and groundwater and are likely the result of petroleum releases Studies have also shown some VOCs in groundwater at the site that are not related to petroleum storage and use. Although solvents were used in small quantities at the site for general maintenance and cleaning, there were no documented releases of solvents at the site. Thus, the source of these solvents is likely from an upgradient area.

Arsenic present at the site may be related to naturally-elevated background conditions or the presence of historical fill.

Table 2 – Maximum Co Compared to NJ Grour
Volatil	e Organic Com	pounds (\	VOCs)

Arsenic (0.007 / 0.003)	Ļ	ad (0.05 /	/ 0.005)

Did the studies show any off- site impacts?

Only one VOC (benzene) and one metal (lead) have been found in groundwater above the NJDEP quality criteria outside the southern site boundary. The concentrations present offsite are lower than the highest detected on-site concentrations in Table 2.

Are these chemicals a risk to me?

Some of the chemicals found at the site are considered hazardous and may pose a risk to health and the environment under certain circumstances. The toxicity of these compounds depends on how people contact it, including the dose (how much), the duration (how long) and the pathway (how it gets in the body - like through breathing). According to published expert reports, someone exposed to a low dose (similar to those found at the site) for a short period will not likely experience health effects.

As discussed earlier, VOCs, PAHs, and lead were found in site soil. Soil impacts are all located under paved areas that limit human exposure to soils. VOCs and lead were found in groundwater near the property boundary and offsite. Groundwater is first encountered at approximately 5 feet to more than 20 feet below the ground surface. Although these constituents were found at concentrations higher than the NJDEP GWQS, it is noted that groundwater in the area of the site is not used for drinking water, thus exposure to these constituents is not expected.

Environmental Cleanup at the Site

TLD and the prior owners have been cleaning up the site since the 1980's. Activities completed include: removal of 27 USTs; removal of impacted soil; and removal of petroleum from monitoring wells. Future environmental studies are planned, including additional soil, groundwater, soil gas and indoor air sampling. Once these studies are complete, a summary report will be prepared and submitted to the NJDEP. Additional cleanup activities are expected, and will likely include removal or treatment of petroleum-impacted groundwater, and continued monitoring of groundwater.

Box 413, Trenton, NJ 08625-0413, Attention: Office of Community Relations

Tuscan/Lehigh Dairies, Inc., Union, NJ Preferred ID # 005372 Introduction

From 1997 until 2005, Tuscan/Lehigh Dairies, Inc. (TLD) operated a dairy at a 20-acre site located at 750 Union Avenue. The site is within Union Township (Block 2005, Lots 1 and 3; Block 1903, Lots 2 through 5) and Hillside Township (Block 107, Lots 2 and 3)

TLD is completing environmental studies to determine the extent of environment impacts and ways to address these impacts in accordance with New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection's (NJDEP) regulations. TLD has prepared this fact sheet to notify citizens in the vicinity of the site of its existence and the progress of the environmental studies and cleanup.

Brief History

The site originally included cow barns and pastureland, and was developed as a milk processing facility in approximately 1913. Over 86 years, the site grew to approximately 25 buildings. TLD purchased the property in 1997 and operated a milk, fruit drink, iced tea, and orange juice processing and packaging facility until 2005, when the operations ceased.

Environmental studies under the oversight of the NJDEP were begun by the prior owners in 1988. These studies were related to 27 underground storage tanks (USTs), which are now all closed. Additionally, other small surface spills were cleaned up throughout operation of the site. Minor impacts were observed at most UST areas. Petroleum was discovered "floating" on the groundwater table (separate phase petroleum) in the area of one UST that contained fuel oil (1989), and in a second area that had both fuel oil and gasoline USTs (2009). In both areas, studies identified where the petroleum was located, and a network of soil borings and monitoring wells were installed to sample soil, monitor groundwater, and remove the petroleum.

Results of Environmental Studies

Constituents detected at the site at concentrations above NJDEP non-residential soil remediation standards and Class II groundwater quality standards (GWQS) include volatile organic compounds (VOCs), polycyclic aromatic hydrocarbons (PAHs), and metals. The maximum detected concentrations of these constituents are provided below. Information about these chemicals can be found at http://www.atsdr.cdc.gov/tfacts70.html.

Table 1 - Maximum Concentrations of Constituents in Soll Compared to NJ Soil Non-Residential Soil Remediation Standards (in Parts per Million) Volatile Organic Compounds (VOCs) Benzene (80.6 / 4) Polycyclic Aromatic Hydrocarbons (PAHs) Benzo(b)fluoranthene (6.36 / 2) Benzo(a)pyrene (2.81 / 0.2) Benzo(a)anthracene (3.58 / 2) Dibenz(a,h)anthracene (1.24 / 0.2) Indeno(1,2,3-cd)pyrene (4.47 / 2) Metals Lead (1260 / 800)

The separate phase petroleum impacts found at the site are likely the result of releases from former USTs (which have now been removed from the site), and have not been found to extend beyond the property boundaries. Soil investigations and cleanup of impacted areas were performed between 1989 and 2009. As a result of these activities, many areas now meet NJDEP

UC chaplains help departments keep the faith

By Paul Greulich and Spencer Reiss

They are some of the most trusted spiritual leaders in the county, guiding police and fire departments through some of their darkest hours. But who are the official chaplains of Union County's finest, and what exactly do their duties entail? Union County LocalSource takes a closer look at thesmen of God.

Father John McGovern of St. Michael's Church in Cranford is one such man. McGovern is currently the official chaplain of the Cranford police and fire departments.

When asked what exactly is the role of chaplain for the police and fire departments Father McGovern replied "I don't have any specific duties. My job is to be available to anyone when they need counsel and guidance."

Chaplain for the police and fire departments is not a job that one would normally seek and apply for. Father McGovern became a chaplain for the Cranford police and fire departments by "showing interest and willingness," noting that "they have to respect you as a chaplain."

Local police and fire chiefs indicated calsource.com.

naming an official chaplain is not about endorsing a particular religion, but rather establishing a liason between the police and the public.

Chaplains may share the concerns of their congregation with police officials and bestow blessings to new pieces of equipment such as new fire engines.

Chaplains also stand ready for more difficult duties, serving the department in the event of a tragedy when a member of the spiritual community is needed to help give comfort to family members or brother officers.

In Hillside, Father Venantius Fernando of the Christ the King Church was recently appointed as the Police Department's first official Chaplain. Police Chief Robert Quinlan said that Fernando has demonstrated he is a friend to the department as well as the community as a whole, making him a natural choice for the role.

"This was a gesture to recognize him and express our gratitude for all his years of service," Quinlan said.

Burglary ring targets Union County's affluent

By John O'Reilly Staff Writer

An organized gang of burglars are robbing from the rich and keeping for themselves, said Union County Prosecutor Theodore J. Romankow.

The active criminals are believed to be responsible for 27 burglaries and two attempted burglaries across western Union County municipalities, mainly those with borders along Route 78.

The group mainly targets affluent neighborhoods, according to Romankow. Sixteen incidents occurred in Berkeley Heights alone, crimes means the multiple suspects

Mountainside and Springfield since last November.

The Prosecutor's Office estimated the value of stolen goods in the "tens of thousands" of dollars.

Officials in the Prosecutor's office said the suspects are likely working in pairs, rotating members for each job. They are also likely driving expensive cars, such as BMWs, to avoid raising suspicion in the neighborhoods they prey on.

No descriptions have been obtained as of yet, but investigators say the scope and frequency of the

with other reports from Westfield, have different backgrounds and genders.

The connected thefts have been catalogued from November 25, 2008 to Aug. 6. Most incidents begin with two people showing up at a local home between 4 p.m. and 10 p.m. Often the home is chosen because of signs the owners are away on vacation, like newspapers or mail piling up, said Romankow.

"The suspects likely ring the doorbell to see if anyone comes to the door," he said. " In some cases, when someone answered, the would-be burglars made up an excuse that they were looking for someone else and had come to the house in error."

If vacated, though, two of the thieves would barge into the house and target rooms where expensive jewelry would be kept.

A UCPO spokesperson said the burglars ignore televisions and computers and go straight to rooms like the master bedroom, where people typically keep their valuables.

They were in and out within five minutes, authorities added. If an alarm sounded, the suspects left immediately, always before police responded.

Officials said any tips of suspicious vehicles or persons should be reported to local police departments.

They added that if possible, witnesses should copy license plate numbers or distinguishing details of the suspects.

Anyone with information can call Union County Crimestoppers at 908-654-TIPS. Calls are confidential and a reward up to $5,000 is being offered for information leading to a suspect's arrest and indictment.

ACLU on hand as UC Freeholder Board apologizes

By John O'Reilly Staff Writer

At a packed Union County Freeholder's meeting last week, county officials issued a formal apology after several residents were silenced at a meeting for bringing up issues of nepotism regarding relatives of county freeholders.

The atonement at the Aug. 20 meeting came after the American Civil Liberties Union got involved, threatening a lawsuit unless an the June 25 Freeholder meeting in apology was issued over freedom of speech violations.

The prepared apology was read before the public comments portion of meeting by Chairman Alexander Mirabella.

"Comments regarding public employees, whether or not they are related to freeholders or others, will be allowed at this and all future meetings, as protected by the First Amendment," he read. "The board apologizes to any affected member of the public that was directed not to comment on employees at the June meeting,"

The incident he referred to was which vice chair Daniel Sullivan sparred with several county residents that mentioned nepotism and freeholder relatives.

Tina Renna, a frequent critic of the county government and head of ing about family members," Sulli- project attorney Bobby Conner said the Union County Watchdog Association, was thrown out of the meeting after scuffling with Sullivan.

"I will tell you one thing right now, do not mention my family," Sullivan said.

"I can't mention county employees that are related to you? They are county employees," Renna responded.

'That's right," he said.

Garwood resident Bruce Paterson was also silenced at the same meeting for questioned county hiring practices regarding relatives of freeholders.

"I am not going to tolerate talk-van said. "You...make accusations about people who cannot defend themselves and are just going to do their job.

"I will not tolerate that."

Paterson contacted the state ACLU, who requested the county apologize for unfairly stopping him from speaking on the subject of nepotism.

"People in the public have a voice and shouldn't be silenced," he said in a news release. "Questioning the government is a fundamental right, and I'm grateful that right was defended."

both the civil liberties group and Mr. Paterson were pleased with the apology and the county's promise to allow residents to speak about county employees regardless of their relations.

"Government shouldn't be shutting down speech regardless whether it's about nepotism or any other subject matter," said Conner. "We do hope things get better in Union County and as we said to them, we will just be watching to see how things go forward."

that are challenging. Occasional Noboby asked times that we wish never occurred. This occurred in my life, when, My opinion, over a period of four years, my weight ballooned from a fit 195 pounds to at its top, a whopping But. 270 pounds.

I didn't know it early on, but later found that much of this was due to a common condition called Sleep Appea.

I had always been fit, health conscious, and a participant in healthy eating habits, so my sudden weight gain surprised me. Not just the few pounds early on, over a month or two, but 20 pounds the first year, and then another ten to 15 over the next six months. I was watching my food intake, exercising consistently, so the gain was odd

During this period, I also noticed a lack of energy and didn't feel rested when I woke up in the morning, despite sleeping sometimes 12 hours per night. I felt tired all day, my muscles felt sore, I got sleepy at an early hour, and was out for hours.

The sleep didn't make a difference.

As my weight increased, so did my snoring. I never really snored loudly before, but that changed. And my deep draws of breath during a snore sometimes stopped for a moment or two, sometimes longer. The loud snoring caused my partner at the time, to either use headphones or sleep in another room.

My pride, and embarrassment due my weight, which had then reached 270 pounds, stopped me from doing many things. Going out with friends, to the beach or, to places I might be recognized.

However, because the snoring was so tough on my partner, I sought out a specialist.

After hearing my symptoms and noting that I had gained almost 50 percent of my body weight in just a few years, he ordered a sleep study for me at Trinitas Hospital Sleep Center. I didn't understand why at the time, because I was sleeping eight to ten hours per night. However, I learned that the study determines the quality of sleep and whether one has a sleeping disorder. In my case, I was diagnosed with Sleep Apnea.

Sleep apnea is very common, as common as adult diabetes, and icans, according to the National Institute of Health. Still because of the lack of awareness by the public and healthcare professionals, the vast majority remain undiagnosed and therefore untreated, despite the fact that this serious disorder can have significant consequences, and may even lead to death.

in only six hours of sleep-close to one per minute. In other words, I stopped breathing about once every minute for a moment. A normal person sleeps in the deepest part of sleep called R.E.M. for about 70 percent of their sleep. I was in R.E.M. for only 14 percent of my sleep.

Treatment for Sleep Apnea is simple - try to lose weight, and wear a prescribed sleep aid called a C-PaP machine. The C-PaP machine regulates breathing through the nose passages and keeps the mouth from interfering, This gives a nice easy flow of oxygen to the brain for optimum sleep, and eliminates the snoring. The first night I used the C-PaP I felt 100 times better than I had in years. Some people don't use the device because at first, its uncomfortable. But in time, one can get used to it.

The C-Pap was working, but the weight gain was my challenge. It was a tough time in my life, 5000 a lot of damage to my self confidence, and certainly my self image.

During this time I was suffering from Sarcoidosis, which made it impossible for me to exercise and L had to take the drug prednisone, which in it in itself, causes automatic weight gain.

I decided to take on one of my My test showed over 300 apneas biggest challenges in my life. Bigger than winning elections, being successful at business, bigger than anything. This was about my future, my confidence and healthmy life.

> I slowly started, with a doctor's direction, to work out and watch my diet. It took time, but weight started coming off as the sleep apnea and Sarcoidosis both lessened. My diet stayed consistent and I was able to return to regular exercise after a gamut of tests. I hung in there, and kept my determination and focus.

> After a long effort, I'm very happy to say that I am currently back to my old weight of 195 pounds. My current goal is to stay between 190 and 195. So remember, losing weight can be done, and if I did it, so can you.

HomeTowne set designer wins national award

By John O'Reilly Staff Writer SUMMIT' - Joe Amatucci loves working on television.

The self-employed electrical contractor always wanted to work in showbiz, and jumped at the chance to work on lighting and set design for HomeTowne TV, Summit's local access television channel.

A former student of video production, Amatucci's expertise helped add an extra touch of class to the well-produced channel, netting him a coveted Telly award for set design.

"The Telly Award is the industry leader in recognizing and honoring the very best in local, regional, and said producer Paula cable," Mooney. "It brings prestige, objective credibility and professionalism to HomeTowne Television."

Mooney produces HomeTowne Humor, the show that Amatucci won his award for. When comedian - and son of board of trustee member -- Michael Somerville, the host of Style TVs "Wingman" show, arrived, Mooney asked for a set reminiscent of a comedy club.

"It was kind of like brick and some antique stage lighting that was laying around. Behind the people it through the trouble of making elaborate sets for different shows," he said. "Either they have one set they use for everything or they just play a lot of government town hall meetings."

The producer liked it so much she sent it in as a nominee for a Telly, pleasantly surprising him.

Amatucci is a big part of that success. He took classes in college for television production, but said at the time it was too hard to break into the few available channels in the ultra-competitive arena of New Jersey and New York television. He turned down an offer to work at a Savannah, GA network and went to work as an electrician.

When a friend asked him to help on the lighting for Summit's network one year ago, he said he was ecstatic and brought professional quality know-how to the station.

HTTV President Fred Honold called him an "exceptional volunteer" and said he was to thank for an upgrade to the quality of many of the channel's shows.

Amatucci coordinates the other volunteers as well, raising the channel's volunteer base from 7 or 8 to 25 to 30 people over his year in service.

He hopes to continue raising the local access channel's stock, maybe with another impressive-looking Telly award next year for what he sees as a channel on the rise.

"This station really is outstanding compared to most," Amatucci said.

Linden resident shares his wisdom

By Spencer Reiss Correspondent

Loyal fans flocked to hear lifelong Linden resident, Dr. Therman E. Evans, author, motivational speaker, and senior pastor, speak at the Springfield Barnes & Noble book store Friday. Evans was in town to sign and promote his new book, "From Purpose to Promise Driven Life: A Prescription For Making the Difference You Were Born to Make."

"From Purpose to Promise Driven Life" is much more than a simple self-help book. In his writing, Evans takes the reader on a 49-day journey of personal transformation.

"I made a point of structuring the book so it would be a personal journey," Evans said. "I wanted to write a book that would lead to the liberation and maximization of the lives of my family, friends, and others."

Evans shows the reader practical ways to become proactive in handling his or her problems with a seven-step 49-day action plan for becoming a "promise-driven" person.

Many audience members shared experiences from their own lives, and how they felt the book had improved them as people. One audience member shared a personal anecdote, before explaining that with each chapter he read, he had a "wow" moment where he was able to relate the book's guidance to his own life.

Evans said he believes every person is the "writer" of his or her own life. He posed a rhetorical question to the audience -- "why would you write yourself in as a loser?"

The lesson was obvious. Each person is in control of the events in his or her life and choices are what define people. In addition, Evans stressed the importance of acting in a way that benefits others, as it is only through mutual cooperation that all lives can be improved.

When asked how his personal experiences impacted the development of the book, Evans replied they. "had a tremendous effect." He noted that as physician, businessman, and minister, he has had to make a strong connection between both spirituality and science, both of which play an important part in living his own "promise-driven life."

Grief. We all deal with it in different ways from crying to eating to sleeping and everything in between. While the world continues to grieve over the loss of the King of Pop this past June, Michael Jackson's family seems to have taken a different approach.

The Jackson brothers plan to mourn the untimely death of their brother Michael the only way they know how - by cashing in on his fame.

This past week, it was revealed that the A&E network is planning to air a new reality series focusing on the Jackson brothers, and the ways in which they are handling the passing of Michael. Before the pop icon's shocking death this summer, A&E had filmed an hour of a Jackson brothers reunion that Michael had refused to partake in. That footage has apparently become a stepping stone for the Jackson brothers' new reality series, and will air at some point within the next month or so, according to NBC.

While the deal is not a definite go, the actions of Michael's brothers speak for themselves. The late star has yet to be buried, and in the meantime his own family is in talks to appear on a series that documents not only Michael's death, but also issues plaguing the lives of the remaining Jackson sons - Tito, Jermaine, Jackie and Marlon.

The brothers, who without a doubt are very saddened by the loss of their youngest brother, admitted in July to not having spoken to Michael in quite some time due to his various drug addictions. It is clear they see yet another opportunity to use Michael's stardom to make some cash.

What ever happened to respecting the dead? If Michael did not want to appear on A&E's special Jackson brothers' reunion episode, it would seem that he would also be opposed to his brothers starring in a reality series that intimately comments on his life and death.

The Jackson family has a history of being not only iconic, but also tragic and plagued with drama. Michael's life and death demonstrate the toll his life in the limelight had taken on him, both physically and mentally. In the wake of Michael's death, the Jackson family has a chance to redeem themselves, and let him rest in peace after a life of fame, fortune and public turmoil.

So, instead of airing it out on national television, I suggest they should do just that - let him be.

THIS IS H.S. FOOTBALL

By JR Parachini Sports Editor

For the first time since the power points system was put in place back in 1975, the New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association has made some drastic changes.

The biggest one is that for the first time power points can be gained after losing to an opponent.

Those power points will be called "Residual Points" from a team a school loses to. For each win your opponent has that defeated you - not including your game - from the first eight games, you will receive the following: win = 1 point, tie = 0points, loss = 0 points.

Here's an example: Union defeated Elizabeth. Elizabeth's record is 6-2 and Union's record is 7-1. Elizabeth would earn a total of six points from the Union defeat - six "Residual Points."

Quality points will be given for a win or tie from the first eight games: win = 6 points, tie = 3 points, loss = 0 points.

Each school will receive Group Points from a team it defeated or tied from the first eight games: Group 4 = 4 points, Group 3 = 3 points, Group 2 = 2points, Group 1 = 1 point. Got it?

This should make for an even more interesting season once the playoffs get nearer.

Nick Gregorio is the new head football coach at Johnson. He is the only new head coach in Union County this season. A 1997 New Providence graduate who played for Frank Bottone, Gregorio spent the last two seasons as an assistant coach at Kean University.

Here's a list of upcoming non-game - scrimmages for today and Saturday:

Aug. 27 at Plainfield, 10 a.m. - Paramus Catholic.

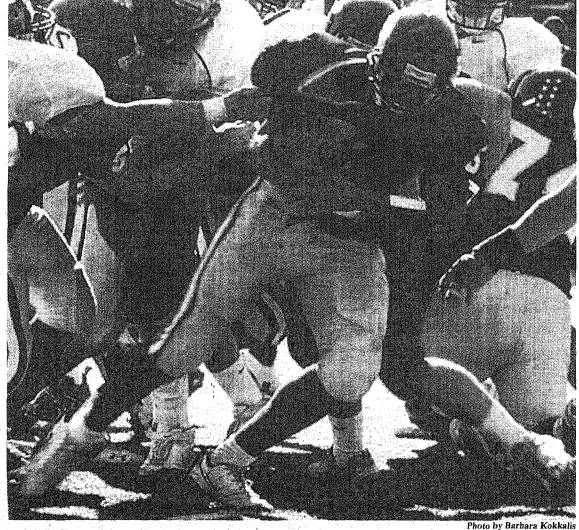

Aug. 29 at Union, 10 a.m. -East Orange Campus, Scotch Plains.

Aug. 29 at Westfield, 10 a.m. - Somerville.

Aug. 29 at Summit, 11 a.m. -Brearley, Dumont.

Aug. 29 at Linden, 6 p.m. -Livingston.

All scrimmage times and dates are subject to change without notification.

College projected grid seniors rated 'McCarthy Report' lists Union County's best for 2009 By JR Parachini 3-Elijah Lee, WR, (5-10, 175), Union: "It's going to be a wait-and-see

Sports Editor

One of the state's top independent talent evaluators is anxiously looking forward to another high school football season.

Dennis McCarthy of the "McCarthy Report" is counting the days before he gets a chance to see who might just become the next NFL player to come out of New Jersey.

McCarthy, a North Arlington resident now for 30 years, ranks players from all over the state, with his "McCarthy Report" now published professionally for 21 years.

His annual book is offered only to colleges, with as many as 75 big and small schools subscribing to it.

McCarthy, 67, has been scouting high school football players in New Jersey now for more than 50 years, going back to his days as a high school student at St. Joseph of the Palisades in West New York (the school closed this June) and continuing as an undergraduate student at Notre Dame, where he graduated from in 1965. McCarthy graduated from St. Joe's in June of 1960.

Beginning in 1994, he and his sons David and Ryan expanded the business to video taping players on an annual basis.

Below is his Top 10 pre-season Class of 2010 seniors from Union County, with each player's projected college positions:

McCarthy's Union County Top 10 seniors for 2009:

1-Matt Cardona, DL, (6-4, 250), Johnson: "He was injured a majority of last year and only played a little in the beginning, but we know him as a sophomore, that's when he came to prominence. He's a rangy kid. Probably because of his injury he hasn't reached his potential. He's a big-time prospect, gets to the quarterback and is very-athletic and very aggressive."

2-Trell Myers, QB, (6-3, 185), Linden: "I noticed him in the pouring rain at Elizabeth when he was a sophomore. He can throw the ball and he's a good size kid, he's got the height. He moves very well. Asad Abdul-Khaliq (former Elizabeth and Minnesota quarterback standout) is his coach.'

season for him. He's got to stay healthy."

Lee missed time in the beginning and end of last season because of a pre-season injury. When he played, he was nearly unstoppable at wide receiver

4-Max Machado, DB, (5-11, 175), Governor Livingston: "Allaround player, quarterback, safety, corner, probably project as a safety on the next level.3

5-Akmad Abdul-Razzaq, LB, (6-2, 230), Roselle: "He's a big inside linebacker and could possibly play outside also."

6-Willie Johnson, LB, (5-11, 215), Westfield: "He'll be a three-year starter at Westfield, a defensive end. He projects to be a linebacker on the next level and I wouldn't be shocked if he becomes an inside linebacker."

7-James Williams, RB, (5-8, 175), Plainfield: "Started off with a bang at Bergen Catholic (for two years) and had a good year at Plainfield last year. He should be their main cog at running back and they have a good quarterback in (junior) Tyrone Johnson. For a little guy he's a strong runner. He's fast and elusive and runs hard."

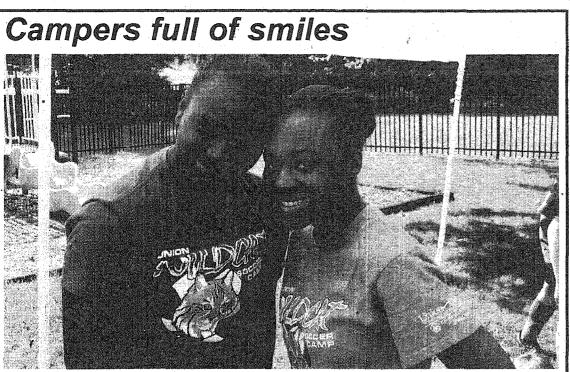

8-Lucas Santos, OL/DL, (6-4, 305), Elizabeth: "I saw him at the Linden game (last year) and he was dominant. He's a huge guy. Might he be more of an offensive lineman than a defensive lineman? That might be the case. He is a big guy. He's aggressive and he moves quite well."

9-Olsen Pierre, OL, (6-4, 280), Rahway: "A big kid. He would project to be a 1-AA player.'

10-Dwaine Dabney, RB, (6-0, 185), Summit: "He's a nice running back for John Liberato. He can turn the corner and has fairly good size. If he is the 10th prospect in the county, that's about right. He's a good player."

McCarthy said it's not a strong year for individual talent in Union County. "I don't know why, but it isn't," McCarthy said. "It's a cycle."

One of the top players to come out of Union County from last season and one of the best running backs to ever come out of Elizabeth is Pittsburgh true freshman RB Ray Graham. He is listed at 5-9, 185 and will be wearing uniform No. 34 for the Panthers this season.

Above, Union Wildcat Soccer Camp youngsters Brittany and Denyelle are all smiles. Below, campers Godwin, Priten, Joey and Kyle also pose for the camera during the final week of camp, which was held earlier this month at Biertuempfel Park in Union.

Youth hoops squad impresses

The Atlantic Arsenal 11's basketball team, sparked by the play of Matteo diMayorca of Summit, as it completed its inaugural season by capturing the Hoop Splash crown in Belmar.

The team captured its first tournament, - the Slamfest 1 - when held at Kean University in Union in April. The Atlantic Arsenal was led by the strong play of center Matt Heath of Scotch Plains and topteam scorer Nick Mele of Westfield.

In the May Daze Tournament in Pennsylvania where the club fought through four games, diMayorca got off to the fastest start in club history this spring was one of many team players who came through with an outstanding contribution in terms of rebounding and steals.

The squad also excelled by winning the Hunterdon Hoops Tournament and then entered its first-ever state tournament. In dramatic fashion, Atlantic Arsenal overcame a 21-point deficit with 11 minutes left to win a state game by one point.

Coach Bruno talks about pitching rule By JR Parachini

Sports Editor

The ramifications of the new high school softball pitching distance rule that will go into effect for the 2010 season is clear cut according to Cranford head coach Bob Bruno.

"The rich will get richer and the poor will get poorer," said Bruno.

The New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Association's Softball Committee just unanimously approved the National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS) rule to expand the pitching distance from 40 to 43 feet.

"We have three pitchers who have all been pitching from 43 feet during the summer," Bruno said. "Then you have kids on inner city teams that don't have that experience and they struggle enough to get the ball to the plate at 40 feet.

"This will make the elite teams better and the mediocre teams worse. Every conference will show that."

The expanded pitching distance is designed to create a better balance between offense and defense. Experimentation results from Florida and Oregon indicated more batted balls were hit into play.

"Our main thrust is getting the defense more involved," said Mary Struckhoff, NFHS assistant director and liaison to the Softball Rules Committee. "When more balls are hit into play, the defense is more involved in the game, thus enhancing skill development."

Cranford will have one of the top senior right handers in the state next season in Kelly Hardman, who is already used to pitching from 43 feet during summer season play.

"I don't know if the whole process was considered when they made this rule change," Bruno said. "I started on the Olympic level and then college.

"There will be an adjustment period for the hitters as well as far as a timing issue."

Hardman is 33-5 lifetime, including 8-1 as a freshman, 12-0 as a sophomore and 13-4 as a junior. She has won back-to-back county championship games and one sectional final.

"Kelly is interested in The College of New Jersey," Bruno said, "Seton Hall has shown some interest and said that she has to develop another pitch. Ramapo is very interested as well."

Cranford finished 20-4 this past spring and reached a state championship game for the first time in 10 years.

IRS lends a hand to small businesses

For many citizens, owning and running a successful business is part of the American dream. And while most Americans take the day off in celebration of Labor Day, the Internal Revenue Service is ready to assist the nation's small business owners and self-employed taxpayers.

Few business owners are tax experts and the IRS is prepared to help. Free publications, Internet resources and electronic services are available to make their work easier.

"Running a business is a big responsibility requiring long hours and the IRS wants to help ease the process for this hard working group of taxpayers," said New Jersey's IRS spokesperson Gregg Semanick. "Whether a person is just considering opening a business or has years of small business experience, IRS provides a wide range of tools and educational assistance to help the business owner succeed."

The small business section of IRS.gov provides a one-stop resource for information on starting, operating, or closing a busimess. On this site taxpayers can learn about employment tax requirements, make tax payments, find out how to set up and distribute retirement plans, view a streaming video of a small business tax work-shop and access free products such as a tax calendar or small business resource guide.

IRS.gov is also the gateway to a host of electronic services for small businesses including business e-file and the Electronic Federal Tax Payment System. E-Filing options include employment taxes, information returns, partnerships and corporations. EFTPS is an alternative to paying taxes by check or money order. Small businesses can make payments 24 hours a day, seven days a week using EFTPS.

The Small Business and Self-Employed Tax Center section of IRS.gov enables small business owners and self-employed individuals to access information using the A-Z Index for Business searching topics in alpha or category order such as business types, business expenses, and employees.

Over the past few years, The IRS.gov Web site has provided new options for communication between the IRS and small business owners and the self-employed. But IRS employees are still available by phone. For telephone assistance with tax issues, small businesses may call 800-829-4933.

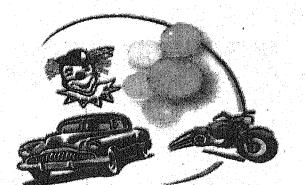

For information about the resources and services the IRS has for small business and selfemployed taxpayers visit www.irs.gov/smallbiz.
