

Hillside police chief demoted by mayor Demotion deepens ongoing friction between town officials, departments

By Elana Knopp Staff Writer

Mayor Angela Garretson has struck again.

The sudden demotion last week of Hillside Chief of Police Louis Panarese has left the already beleaguered township in the throes of yet another scandal.

According to Officer Mark Casterline, who has been with the Hillside Police Department for nine years, the demotion of Panarese from chief of police to captain is just the latest in a slew of negative incidents associated with Garretson. Garretson, a Democrat who was elected mayor of Hillside in 2014, appointed Captain Richard Floyd as acting chief to replace Panarese.

Panarese, 57, is a 32-year veteran of the police department and served as captain for six years before being appointed as chief of police. Floyd has been with the department for 26 years and served as captain since December 2014. Casterline believes that the demotion is directly connected to an email sent by Panarese.

"The mayor has been trying to to get him suspended since he sent that email," Casterline said.

The email, according to Casterline, was sent by Panarese to other officers in the department and was intended to boost morale within the department.

"He wanted to let the officers know that their complaints are not going unnoticed," said Casterline.

At time of publication, Union County LocalSource was unable to obtain a copy of the email.

According to Casterline, the police department has been besieged by problems and has been ignored by Garretson. "The township has failed to make pension payments on time and in full amounts," said Casterline. "Officers cannot retire or take pension loans. Ten percent of our salary is deducted for retirement. The township took our money and where did it go?"

The problems with pay persist.

"Not one department within the township is working under contract right now," said Casterline. He also stated that the department's building is in grave disrepair and that a new police car has not been purchased in ten years.

"You'd be extremely embarrassed if you drove by our department and saw our cars," said Casterline, citing exposed wires, dents and bald tires as just a few of the problems.

"An email should be the least of our worries, and yet the mayor is wasting township resources on attorney fees on fighting this issue. The problems I speak of is what's going to be the downfall of Hillside's public safety."

The email sent by Panarese culminated with insubordination charges being filed against him by Garretson. But according to Township Administrator Stephanie Bush-Baskette, the demotion was implemented because of a civil service test that must be given to potential candidates for the position of police chief and is completely unconnected to the Garretson's charges of insubordination.

"The disciplinary hearing is totally separate and apart from the civil service test," said Bush-Baskette. "The charges of insubordination is based on an email that Panarese sent to other officers in the department."

The last of the hearings was held this past Friday, and, according to Bush-Baskette, a final decision regarding the charges has not been made.

As of press time, Garretson was unavailable for comment.

Casterline says that former mayor Joseph Menza had waived the civil service test but, according to Bush-Baskette, the See HILLSIDE, Page 3

Merck demolishes two empty warehouses in Kenilworth

By Jennifer Rubino Staff Writer

A few years ago, Merck, located in Kenilworth, announced it would no longer utilize the manufacturing unit at the Kenilworth campus that had once belonged to Schering-Plough. Manufacturing at the site was halted after the two companies merged. The only remnants of the former production facility left standing were two warehouses, which have recently been demolished. But their removal does not mean that Merck is leaving town. According to Kenilworth Mayor Tony DeLuca, Merck has no intentions of leaving.

Merck is a significant taxpayer to the town, and residents can rest assured that the headquarters has no intention of relocating, said the mayor The two warehouse buildings were empty and needed to be removed. If anything, DeLuca sees this as a commitment to the town of Kenilworth.

"Merck wouldn't have bothered to get rid of these buildings unless they were committed to the town of Kenilworth," said DeLuca. "Merck headquarters considers Kenilworth its home." Merck's global headquarters was originally located in Rahway before moving to Whitehouse Station in 1992. The decision to move its headquarters from Whitehouse Station to See MERCK, Page 3

Hillside police demotion causes tension

test will be reinstated in about a month.

"I was surprised that the former mayor didn't do it," Bush-Baskette said.

The township has been beset by problems and has been catapulted into the public eye since Garretson's assumption of office. Mismanagement of personnel, chronic vacancies, serious budgetary issues, loss of monies and grants, neglect of infrastructure and a failure to negotiate contracts with township employees are just some of the grievances against Garretson.

An employee at the department who refused to be identified was brought to tears when asked about Panarese's demotion. "It's heartbreaking," she said. The unnamed employee said that she was afraid to say anything or to go on record. "They'll hang me out to dry," she said.

Vito Gagliardi Jr., attorney for Panarese, said that there was a unanimous vote in February 2013 when Garretson was on the council, appointing Panarese police chief.

"A unanimous vote installed him three years ago," said Gagliardi Jr. "And she gave three hours notice to Panarese informing him of his demotion," he said of the mayor.

According to Gagliardi Jr., Garretson sent a letter March 16 to Township Council members notifying them of the promotion of Captain Richard Floyd to Police Chief, effective that same day.

"Forget due process," said Gagliardi Jr. "There's no process. She gave no reason whatsoever. Presumably tomorrow she'll decide that someone else should be chief of police. She did this on a whim and without due process. She cannot undo what the council has done."

Panarese had been serving as chief until Floyd returned from vacation March 21. Now that Floyd is back, no one knows for sure who the acting police chief actually is.

"No one knows for sure who is acting police chief," Gagliardi Jr. said. "This should be a concern for every citizen of Hillside."

Gagliardi Jr. said the sequence of events seemed retaliatory.

referring to the mayor's actions against Panarese over the sent email, "But I can say it sure looks that way."

According to Casterline, Garretson has never implemented a Civil Service Test when it comes to sergeant and lieutenant captain positions.

"She's created this system where she has to interview people," said Casterline. "She conducts these backwards interviews. You basically have to kiss her ass to get a promotion."

The current controversy is the least of the department's issues, says Casterline, citing issues of pay, contracts, pensions, the dilapidated condition of the department's building and fleet of patrol cars, budgeting mismanagement, missing funds, and charges of unfair labor practices, which the department's union filed against the mayor.

"There is no cooperation between the township and the police department since the mayor has taken over," said Casterline. "They've been butting heads since she took over."

The mayor has been trying to get him suspended. The captain has to fight with her every step of the way," Casterline said of Panarese and Garretson. And, Casterline said, he believes that for the mayor, this is a personal vendetta.

"This is just a way for her to get back at him," Casterline said of Garretson's actions against Panarese. "She wants a public apology. I think she'll drop the charges if he publicly apologizes."

Casterline commented on the atmosphere that he believes Garretson has fostered.

"The mayor has created her own little universe," continued Casterline. "She does whatever she wants. It's a complete Mayor Garretson world over there."

According to Gagliardi Jr., if the issue of Panarese's demotion is not resolved, action will need to be taken. "I'm certain that if this is not clarified by council or by the prosecutor's office, we will litigate," said Gagliardi Jr.

Casterline believes, however, that Panarese will eventually regain his rightful position.

"Chief Panarese will be back to being chief again," he said.

Pair charged with providing drugs that led to overdose

The two people who allegedly provided a Linden man with the drugs that killed him last summer have been criminally charged in connection with the man's death, acting Union County Prosecutor Grace H. Park announced Monday, March 14.

Alexandria Marcino, 24, of Clark and Joseph Colatrella, 26, of Elizabeth are charged with first-degree strict liability for a drug-induced death and two related third-degree drug offenses in connection with the fatal overdose suffered by Bruce Jirinec Jr., 31, of Linden.

Jirinec was found dead in his home by a family member shortly before 11:30 a.m. on Thursday, Aug. 6, 2015; drug paraphernalia and narcotics were recovered at the scene.

The narcotics later were determined to have been acetyl fentanyl, a synthetic opioid similar to heroin, but more potent. A joint investigation involving the Union County Homicide Task Force and the Linden Police Department determined that Jirinec contacted Marcino regarding the drugs and acquired them from Colatrella mere hours before his death.

A search for the two defendants culminated Friday afternoon in Woodbridge, with members of the Clark and Union County police departments, and Union County Sheriff's Office assisting Homicide Task Force detectives in locating and arresting Marcino and Colatrella. Both defendants were lodged in Union County Jail on $75,000 bail.

First-degree crimes are commonly punishable by 10 to 20 years in state prison.

These charges are mere accusations. Each defendant is presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

Union County passport photos Free photos to be taken April 9 at Westfield Office

By Jennifer Rubino Staff Writer

Union County Clerk Joanne Rajoppi invites Union County residents to participate in Passport Day, scheduled for Saturday, April 9. Participants are encouraged to apply for a passport or renew their existing passport during extended hours, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. All county residents will receive a free passport photo on that day. The event will take place at the County Clerk's Office Annex in Westfield, 300 North Ave. E. No appointments are necessary, but all applicants must arrive by 1:30 p.m. The typical $10 photo fee will be waived for all applicants, including renewals and new applicants.

"Residents who don't have a U.S. passport should consider Passport Day for applying for their passport" Rajoppi said. "Travel plans can happen quickly, and some countries will not accept a U.S. passport with less than six months validity. It's more important than ever to check the expiration date on passports."

Rajoppi also recently noted that new standards will apply to driver's licenses regarding safety at airports and other federal facilities. The New Jersey deadline to implement these changes has been extended until October.

Passport Day was first established in 2008, to help travelers avoid last-minute issues. Budget cuts forced an end to the State Department's program but Rajoppi has continued to host an annual Passport Day. She believes it can also help families save money.

"My office provides an easy, convenient way to conduct your passport business," Rajoppi said. "Especially if you're traveling with a family, the free photo savings on Passport Day can add up to significant savings.

A large turnout is expected on April 9 to take advantage of this opportunity to save money and renew or apply for a passport. It's also important to make sure all passport information is currently up to date, for example, name changes. It would probably be wise to arrive early to avoid a long wait. It would also make sense to clear the schedule for the afternoon in case of any delays.

"I'm thinking about participating in Passport Day," said Kaitlyn Davies of Rahway. "I could only imagine how crowded it may be, but I will know for sure if I will attend closer to the date.

With spring and summer coming, it's that time of year for people to start planning a vacation. Taking advantage of Passport Day will ensure that Union County residents have a valid passport in time for travel plans. It also allows them to do so without having to pay a fee for the photo.

'A valid U.S. passport will enable you to board your flight whether traveling domestically or overseas. It provides you with peace of mind, regardless of your driver's license status," said Rajoppi. Having a valid U.S. passport allows for any last minute travel plans in addition to providing citizens with a form of identification that can be used for numerous purposes. It's just one way to reduce the amount of stress involved in some of these instances. Rajoppi has continued to offer this service to Union County residents as a way to help them save money in addition to encouraging them to apply for a passport.

New features on county voting app Preregister to vote or change party declaration on app

By Jennifer Rubino Staff Writer

A free mobile app called "Union County Votes" has just added a new feature that will allow 17-year-olds the opportunity to download a form that will allow them to pre-register to vote. A button to change party declaration was also recently added. County Clerk Joanne Rajoppi announced these changes, that are now available for all students in Union County.

"It's important to engage young adults in the electoral process and let their voices be heard," said Rajoppi, according to a recent press release. "With these new buttons, Union County Votes will provide a valuable service and help young adults to enhance their civics studies in high school during the excitement of a presidential election year.'

The new "Are you 17?" button is labeled with a "17" and a forward arrow to resemble a parkway sign. It will first prompt the user to answer several questions regarding their eligibility to vote and then provide them with a registration form. Once the form is completed, the individual will be registered to vote as soon as they turn 18.

"I wanted to add the feature for the 17-year-olds to help them get invested in the electoral process," said Rajoppi. "Pre-registering is just one way to do that."

The "Party Declaration" button is designed to provide voters a convenient way to access a Political Party Declaration Form, if they wish to change or declare their affiliation with a political party. According to New Jersey state law, voters must change their party no later than 55 days prior to a primary election in order to be eligible to vote in that election. Anyone unaffiliated with a political party can choose to declare their affiliation and vote in a primary election at any time prior to the election date.

"Voting in the primary election is especially important during a presidential election year," added Rajoppi. "I hope my ideas to add these features to the app will encourage people to participate in the voting process, especially primary elections. We want to give people the tools they need to vote."

The Union County Votes app is free to download for mobile devices. It is available in both English and Spanish, and it does not capture the user's personal data. It was first introduced in 2014 by Rajoppi to allow voters access to critical information, including emergency-related polling place changes and other alerts. There is also information about election results as well as a list of candidates.

"When the app was first introduced in 2014, it was the second of its kind in all of the United States," said Rajoppi. "It was first introduced with the intent of encouraging young people to get involved in the voting process."

Any Union County resident can confirm their registration and party affiliation status by using the "Am I Registered?" button on the Union County Votes app. There is also information provided about voting locations and applying to work at the polls.

Union resident wins Pokemon game championship

By Jennifer Rubino Staff Writer

Paul Chua of Union won first place and the title of Pokémon winter regional champion after a weekend of video game battles in Doswell, Va., during the weekend of Feb. 13 to 14. Along with the title, he also earned points that count toward a potential invite to the 2016 Pokémon World Championships in San Francisco this August. Players who achieve a top championship ranking following the U.S. national championships in Columbus, Ohio, this July will earn a spot with the best players from more than 30 countries.

Paul didn't advance to this level of playing overnight. It took many years of practice to achieve this level of proficiency. When he first started playing, he was so confused by the game he decided to take a break from playing.

"The first time I ever played a Pokémon video game was in 2003 when I was given a Game Boy Advance from a family friend which contained Pokémon Ruby," Paul said. "As I was pretty young, I had no idea what I was supposed to do in the game and stopped for a while. My interest in the game rekindled when I saw a commercial for the newest Pokémon games at the time, Pokémon Diamond and Pearl." After that, Paul was officially hooked on the Pokémon games, immediately buying the new games as they were released. He started participating in championships in 2010, and he's qualified for every World Championship since 2012.

"The competitions occur several times throughout the year," Paul said. "Every few months, they have a series of regional championships. The series correspond to the seasons, placing well at any of these events will earn the participant championship points. These points are needed to qualify for the world championships in August."

The top eight players are given incentives to travel to the national championships. The travel award provides free airfare and hotel accomodations. The ultimate prize for this competition is a $10,000 scholarship. There are also three age divisions: Junior, Senior, and Masters. Paul is playing his second year as a Master.

"My win at the winter regional championships in February at Virginia was definitely something shocking. This was my second year in the Masters division, and I was not expecting to win at all. I don't remember exactly how many games I have played to get to this level, but I can tell you that it took a lot of time, effort, and practice. This game involves a lot of prediction and planning ahead in order to gain an advantage in a match. The risk/reward factor of the predictions adds to the excitement of the game. Like many other games, luck plays a huge role. My experience of playing this game and going to these tournaments has been absolutely incredible. The social aspect is definitely one of my favorite parts," said Paul. "If I make it to the world championships, I'll get to meet people from all over the world. At almost every event you go to, you are welcomed by a community of friendly, good-natured people. In addition, you get a chance to talk to other players around your age that share common interests. I have met a lot of my friends from all over the world at these events. Now that the next set of regional championships is not until May, I think I am just going to relax a bit from these competitions and probably focus on school."

Paul is currently a junior at The Academy for Information and Technology in Scotch Plains. He says that in addition to luck and practice, strategy is also a very important technique for winning these games. The object of the game is to collect four to six Pokémon, but only four of the six can be selected to operate at a time. Aside from improving his skills and competing for the scholarship, the social aspect is another motivation for Paul.

"The Organized Play event series is perhaps the best example of how Pokémon has positively influenced millions of people worldwide for two decades. Bringing together trainers of all ages from all walks of life, events such as the winter regional championships provide an opportunity for players to connect to their local community and compete among friends in a supportive and fun environment," said J.C. Smith, senior director of consumer marketing for The Pokémon Co. International, in a recent press-release statement. "Thank you to all the players that participated in this tournament and congratulations to those that took home the esteemed title of winter regional champion. We look forward to following each trainer as they continue their journey through the championship series, culminating in what should the largest and most exciting world championships ever."

Players of all ages and skill levels are encouraged to participate in organized play events that guarantee competitors the opportunity to play in multiple rounds, no matter what their win-loss record is. For more information on future tournaments including dates, locations, prizes, and tournament rules and regulations, visit www.pokemon.com/play.

Information sought about missing Linden woman

Police from Linden and Monmouth County are seeking the whereabouts of Tyrita R. Julius, 41, of Linden, reported missing on March 8. She was last seen being dropped off at the Long Branch Train Station at approximately 7 p.m.

Linden detectives are working with other agencies and the NJ Transit Police Department, and using video footage to locate the woman.

On March 8, 2016, Julius went to lunch with a friend in Monmouth County. Julius did not have a car because her original vehicle was struck by several bullets last November when a gunman approached their vehicle and shot at her and her daughter while they were in the car. In that incident, her daughter suffered a graze wound but Julius was struck several times and hospitalized for a period of time. She has been undergoing physical therapy, according to family members.

The friend told police she dropped Julius off at the train station on March 8, for the ride back to Linden but she never arrived.

Linden Police have posted her photo on their Facebook page and circulated her information to police agencies statewide.

Julius is 5 feet 7 inches tall and weighs 150 pounds; she has brown eyes, black hair and a medium complexion. She was last seen wearing a black leather jacket, black and white snow camo cargo pants. She has a tattoo spelling "LOVE" on her right wrist and a tattoo of a butterfly on her right shoulder. She also has scar wounds from the shooting incident.

Anyone with information is asked to contact Linden Detectives Kenneth Mikolajczyk at 908-482-2512 or Michael Burnette at 908-474-8535.

The meaning of Easter

Sunday is Easter, the most important observance of the year for Christians, when the death and subsequent resurrection of Jesus Christ is commemorated. This event is of enormous theological significance and is celebrated by the more than 2.18 billion Christians around the world through a variety of customs.

Easter is actually the culmination of Lent, 40 days of preparation that begins on Ash Wednesday, when ashes from the palm trees blessed from the previous year's Palm Sunday are blessed again and placed on the head of participants with the accompanying words, "Remember that you are dust, and to dust you shall return." Lent, which is observed by many Christian denominations, continues with prayer, penance, repentance of sins, the giving of alms, atonement and self-denial. Lent is traditionally 40 days, as it commemorates the 40 days Jesus spent fasting in the desert, preparing for his ministry and being tempted by the Devil.

Holy Week begins at the end of Lent with Palm Sunday, when people remember how Jesus rode into Jerusalem on a donkey, the palms symbolizing the cloaks and small branches from trees put before him, not as a conquering king but as a prince of peace, as prophesied in the Old Testament. Wednesday is known as both Holy Wednesday, for when a woman anointed Jesus' head and feet with costly oil, and Spy Wednesday, because Judas Iscariot, one of the 12 Apostles, went to the Sanhedrin, a council of judges in ancient Israel, and offered to deliver Jesus to them in exchange for money. On Maundy Thursday, Jesus washed the feet of his Apostles to show that no master is greater than his servant. Jesus and his Apostles then had a Passover Seder, a Jewish ritual retelling the liberation of the Israelites from ancient Egypt, when the Lord passed over Egypt, killing every first born whose home was not marked with lamb's blood. For the Last Supper, Jesus inaugurated the New Covenant by blessing the bread and wine as his body and blood, the first Holy Communion.

Following his betrayal by Judas while praying in the Garden of Gethsemane that night, Jesus is arrested and turned over to Caiaphas, the high priest. The Sanhedrin condemn him to death and turn him over to the Roman governor, Pontius Pilate, who upon learning Jesus is from Galilee, sends him to King Herod, the ruler of Galilee. After questioning him but receiving no answer, Herod sends Jesus back to Pilate, who wants to release him crucified. On Good Friday, Jesus carries his cross to Golgotha, also called "the place of the Skull," where he is crucified along with two criminals. After six hours of suffering, Jesus cries out, "My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?" and gives up his spirit.

Wrapped in a clean linen shroud and buried in a new tomb owned by Joseph of Arimathea, a rock is rolled in front of the entrance. Forty hours later, when it was still dark on Sunday morning, Mary Magdalene went to the tomb and found the stone rolled away. After she had told Simon Peter, one of the 12 Apostles about what she saw, Mary later met Jesus, who later appeared to her and met with his disciples several times before he was called to Heaven on Ascension Thursday, 40 days later.

What does it all mean? We know that, according to Christian faith, Jesus was the son of God who was born of man to die for our sins. In a sense, his death freed humanity from the original sin each of us is born with, therefore saving humanity. We relive his last days, his "Passion," to bring alive the message of his suffering for us, of his faith in us and our faith in him. Easter allows us to relive this glorious mystery and show our appreciation through our prayers and devotion, something we have done for almost 2,000 years.

Today, Easter has evolved into more than just a religious holiday. Symbols from various cultures have become a part of the holiday, not out of disrespect but inclusion. Easter eggs, which children enjoy coloring and hiding almost as much as they love finding and eating, particularly if they contain or are made of chocolate, are a pagan tradition celebrating the return to spring and the emblem of germinating life. The Easter rabbit is another pagan symbol of fertility, a positive vestige from an earlier time. Good Friday and Easter Monday are bank holidays in the United Kingdom, whereas in Australia, Easter takes place in autumn and is associated with harvest time.

Whatever your custom or tradition, Easter is about rebirth and hope. This Easter, spend some time with family and friends. If you are religious, visit your church or place of worship. If you are not, find some tranquility within yourself. Everyone should use this holiday to be with others, see a local parade, visit a neighborhood park and be thankful for life; it is truly a blessing.

We wish everyone a happy Easter.

"Treated like Valued Customers"

LEFT OUT

BY FRANK CAPECE

The cookie shelf at the Acme in Kenilworth had two dwindling rows of Mallomars. For the dedicated followers of this delicacy, March is the end of the line of production, until it resumes in the fall. Some loyalists try storing up extra boxes in the freezer. But the marshmallow gets too hard and doesn't defrost well. You can buy extra boxes but by the second box, stale is setting in.

But this year there will be no problems from this corner. The words of Donald Trump, Bernie Sanders and Hillary Clinton about Nabisco products were ringing clear. A chunk of Nabisco production is moving from Chicago to Mexico. My boycott has begun.

I'll miss the 11:30 p.m. stash of two okay three or four — Mallomars but a stand is a stand. Think of the 600 U.S. citizen workers who are out of jobs. No big deal to the CEO of the Nabisco parent company, who brings home $21 million a year in salary.

Nabisco isn't the only villain. Avon announced last week that they were eliminating 2,500 New York jobs as they move their corporate headquarters to the United Kingdom. It's gotten to the point that we just seem to take these moves in stride.

Need to talk to "customer service" for Horizon Blue Cross Shield of New Jersey? Here's a news flash, the call isn't routed to an employee in Newark or elsewhere in the state. The operator informs that she "is in Asia."

Sometimes we just get caught in the crossfire. Subscribers to Comcast noticed no Nets games or Yankee winter programming. In fact Channel 64 has been wiped off the listings. The feud between Comcast and the Yes Network is getting pretty nasty. Yes has been taking out full-page ads in the Wall Street Journal and New York Times about the end of programming. Heck, Yes says they're on our side, charging, "How can Comcast get away with charging their customers more while giving them less." They say we need to be "treated like valued customers."

Comcast fired back, telling subscribers "Yes Network is demanding in excess of 30 percent price increase for a network that has very low viewership among our customers and which is already the most expensive regional See CONSUMERS, Page 15

Notes on the Philadelphia Flower Show

Last week I participated in an annual ritual of spring that involved a lengthy pilgrimage, followed by acts of homage at impressive shrines in the company of hundreds of other pilgrims. At the end of my journey, I returned home footsore, but spiritually renewed.

The scene of this religious devotion was, of course, the Philadelphia Flower Show. Its theme this year was "America's National Parks," which provided inspiration for the large and small exhibition gardens. Most of us have visited one or more national parks, but unless we work for the U.S. Park Service, the majority of us have no idea how many there are.

Fortunately the show designers were better informed. From the recreation of a burned-out section of Yellowstone National Park to the floral wonders of an orchid-strewn Hawai'i Volcanoes National Park, the range was enormous.

Orchids aside, it was not as flower-filled as some past shows. This is predictable, because national parks are generally about magnificent landscapes, rather than lush gardens. At the flower show, trees, shrubs, atmospheric decorations — such as bald eagles made of natural materials and artful hardscaping provided the sense of each place, with a special emphasis on native plants. There was nary a rose to be found in the entire Philadelphia Convention Center. This is not to say that flowers were absent; they were just not quite as plentiful or flashy as in past flower shows.

The one flowering-plant type that stood out was coneflower or Echinacea, a native prairie plant that has become incredibly fashionable over the past two decades. Coneflowers appeared in a good number of the display gardens, symbolizing natural, unforced all-American beauty.

Back in the day – say, 30 years ago – if you wanted a coneflower you bought Echinacea purpurea, or purple coneflower. It was the only widely available choice and it was a good one. In its natural state, purple coneflower

THE GARDENER'S APPRENTICE

BY ELISABETH GINSBURG

grows about 3 feet tall. In keeping with its membership in the Compositae, or daisy, family, the flowers look like big purple daisies with large, cone-shaped centers. Purple coneflower is easy to care for, doesn't mind a bit of dryness and tends to self seed. It's also a wonderful cut flower. The only downside is that it doesn't smell like much. Despite that, butterflies love it and after the blooms have faded, birds are drawn to those cone-shaped seed heads. In my opinion, any plant that attracts the gorgeous checkered fritillary butterfly and the colorful, perky goldfinch is pretty close to perfect.

But "perfection" is a relative term.

Plant breeders look at something like the purple coneflower and ask themselves why it can't be taller or shorter or more floriferous. They think about desirable characteristics and wonder if the plain old coneflower could smell better or bloom in an array of interesting colors and sprout double petals or variegated leaves.

As the result of all that thinking and subsequent plant breeding, the major retail plant catalogs list more than 40 Echinacea species, hybrids and cultivars, not counting collections. To deal with this you can either limit yourself to one or two catalogs or figure out in advance what you want.

The biggest news in Echinacea breeding in the last few years has been about fragrant cultivars in unusual colors. The leading breeders in this category have done extensive varietal selection and hybridizing, the latter often involving crosses between Echinacea purpurea and a yellowflowered species, Echinacea paradoxa. As is the current custom, new coneflowers are frequently introduced in themed groups or series. If you are looking for a nose-tickling coneflower, try petite Butterfly Julia, which features bright orange petals, or the taller orange-russet Tiki Torch, from Oregon's Terra Nova Nurseries. Either of these combines well with golden, spice-scented Harvest Moon, part of the Big Sky coneflower series. For a fragrant white, try White Swan, or Fragrant Angel, a pristine representative of the Prairie Pillars series. Lovers of the traditional purple-pink coneflowers will want to try Gemini Pink, with its broad, semi-flattened cone.

This trend toward fragrance was evident in the coneflowers at the Philadelphia show. One lovely mass planting of coneflowers featured a multitude of plants with blossoms in many shades of orange, peach, yellow, gold, purple and white. While not as flashy as previous years' displays of roses, snapdragons and delphiniums, the coneflowers had a simple allure. If butterflies and bees had been admitted to the main Exhibition Hall, I am sure they would have been as enchanted as the horticultural pilgrims who gathered around these descendants of prairie stalwarts.

The list of available Echinacea varieties and hybrids goes on and on. A number of fragrant varieties will be appearing on plant palates at a nursery near you this spring. A few good sources that offer free print catalogs include Bluestone Perennials, 7211 Middle Ridge Road, Madison, OH 44057, 800-852-5243, www.bluestoneperennials.com; and Klehm's Song Sparrow Farm and Nursery, 13101 E. Meanwhile, for the past series of months and going forward, there has been no reduction in costs to Comcast subscribers despite receiving less product. Not even a chirp from the state office of cable television over the profit issue. Consultant Steve Kagan estimates the cost for each subscriber for the Yes Network is $5.36 monthly. There are 900,000 Comcast subscribers, so you do the math as to the monthly savings to the cable giant.

When all the campaigning is over, 2016 may turn out to be the year the angry voter is starting striking back via the ballot box. Take the terrible lead problem in some of our school districts. You have to believe that everyone in Trenton has gotten the message and will find the money for lead testing. In Union County there are at least two districts with excessive lead content in the drinking water.

A while ago, then-U.S. Presidential candidate Robert Dole asked, "Where is the outrage?" It may be that 2016 will turn out to be the year it overflowed. With the outrage can come new unsettling knowledge. It turns out the beloved Mallomars have been produced in Canada for decades. It's the Oreo devotees who will now be getting their cookies from a foreign country.

Black swallowtail: New Jersey's official butterfly

If the Garden State were to gather together its official plants and animals, what an incredible assemblage it would be!

Eastern goldfinches flitting in the branches of a red oak tree, violets growing beneath and honeybees buzzing about. Blueberry bushes laden with ripe fruit, horses galloping in fields, and brook trout swimming in a freshwater stream. Nearby in the ocean, knobbed whelks. THE STATE WE'RE IN

BY MICHELE S. BYERS

The black swallowtail butterfly is a welcome new addition to this menagerie.

Thanks to recent bipartisan action by the state Legislature and Gov. Christie, the handsome black swallowtail is now New Jersey's official state butterfly.

How did this large black butterfly with distinctive yellow and blue markings flutter to the top of the butterfly heap, surpassing others such as the monarch, tiger swallowtail and spangled fritillary?

Its designation was largely due to the determined efforts of Jeannie Geremia of Flemington, a longtime leader in the Garden Club of New Jersey. Jeannie's fascination with black swallowtails began about 10 years ago, when she bought pots of rue, a garden herb, at a plant sale. Two plants had caterpillars munching their leaves, and Jeannie thought they might be monarch caterpillars. She decided to keep them in a cage until they revealed their identity.

Each formed a chrysalis, and eventually See BLACK, Page 16

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Consumer affairs issues

To the Editor

I have some comments regarding Christopher Hudak's letter published last week regarding Dunkin Donuts charging sales tax on items not subject to tax such as water and packaged coffee. I purchased two doughnuts for takeout at Dunkin and was charged the seven percent sales tax. The receipt in bold letters states "Eat in Order." I intentionally asked the sales clerk why I was charged sales tax for takeout and why receipt states "eat in." The clerk said he did not know why.

Sales tax for doughnuts is not charged at bakeries or supermarkets so I assume Dunkin Donuts is in error for this item also. Obviously the question is if the sales tax is being passed on to the state of N.J. or in the profits of Dunkin. But regardless, at the expense of customers.

Black swallowtail designated as state butterfly

two black swallowtails emerged. Jeannie was hooked. "I became enchanted with butterflies, and black swallowtails in particular," she recalled.

Years later, Jeannie learned through a magazine story on state butterflies that New Jersey didn't have one. "I was flabbergasted that New Jersey didn't have a state butterfly," she said. "I called Barbara Mullin (also of the Garden Club) and said, 'Let's launch a campaign to get one.'

In her view, the black swallowtail was the logical choice because it's found in all 21 counties - rural to urban - and lives its entire life cycle in New Jersey. Monarch butterflies, on the other hand, overwinter in Mexico and are already the official butterfly of several other states.

Sharon Wander, vice president of the North Jersey Butterfly Club, agrees the black swallowtail is a great choice because just about anyone interested in butterflies can attract this pollinator.

"You can plant common garden herbs like parsley, dill and fennel and it's very likely you'll attract adult black swallowtails to lay eggs," she said. Black swallowtails also like wildflowers in the carrot family, such as Queen Anne's lace and Golden Alexander.

The ease of attracting black swallowtails also makes them ideal for educational projects.

"In the classroom, teachers can bring in a caterpillar in the fall and the kids can watch it form a chrysalis, and then get to watch it hatch before the end of the school year," Sharon said.

But getting black swallowtails designated as New Jersey's official butterfly was not easy. Jeannie had to write the proposed legislation, find legislative sponsors and help get the bill moved into and out of committee. To rally support, the Garden Club of New Jersey, New Jersey Audubon and other partners launched a massive campaign, including a petition, letter-writing and testimony before the Legislature.

'I just kept at it constantly wherever I went," Jeannie said. "I just drove everybody crazy."

But it worked - legislators voted unanimously for the black swallowtail, and Gov. Christie signed the measure into law in January. As the weather warms, let's hope the newly hatched black swallowtails that grace our landscapes will receive more attention and appreciation from the public than ever before.

ANNOUNCEMENTS ACE class enrollment going on now through April 4

The Academy of Continuing Education in Cranford, which provides continuing education opportunities for people with disabilities, is now enrolling for classes running April 4 through May 27.

ACE is open to individuals with developmental and/or physical disabilities no longer enrolled in the public school system or specialized schools but who wish to continue their education or are looking for a unique and exciting alternative to traditional day support programs.

The curriculum for the April-May term includes math, music appreciation, time travel, jewelry design and merchandising, visual arts, reading and creative writing, theater and performance, career opportunities, media production and self-understanding.

Class sizes are small and students may take as many classes as they choose. For more information, call 908-354-3040, ext. 671 or email mmodero@caunj.org.

ACE is a program within Community Access Unlimited, a statewide Elizabethbased nonprofit providing support programs and services to adults with disabilities as well as youth served under the Department of Children and Families to enable them to live independently in the community, in areas including housing, vocational skills and life-skills training, education, advocacy and recreation.

Women sought for ovarian cancer research study

Researchers at Atlantic Health System's Carol G. Simon Cancer Center and Overlook Medical Center are looking for women to participate in an ovarian cancer study. Healthy, postmenopausal women, ages 50 to 74, are needed for an ongoing study aimed at increasing the effectiveness of ovarian-cancer screening.

Volunteers for the study would visit a local hospital once a year to have blood drawn and to answer a questionnaire. But some may be asked to return sooner for additional blood work or an ultrasound. New volunteers will be studied and quizzed for three to five years; there is no stipend for participating.

When treated in the earliest stages, the five-year survival rate for ovarian cancer is more than 90 percent; if found and treated in the later stages, the survival rate can be as low as 18 percent. Unfortunately, only 15 percent of cases are found at this early stage due to ovarian cancer's nonspecific symptoms and lack of early-detection tests.

The study has been under way since 2001. Atlantic Health System joined it in 2011 and currently has about 500 women participating. By the time this 15-year study is completed, about 30,000 women nationwide will have participated.

To volunteer, call 973-971-6491 or email ovarian.screening@atlantichealth.org.

EXPLORING DIFFERENT CULTURES — Valley Road School, in Clark, hosted its first International Day Diversity Fair on Jan. 26. Students and their families created booths that highlighted their culture and students learned about the multitude of cultures within the Clark community and outside it: Brazil, China, Germany, Italy, Greece, Poland, Ireland, and Portugal were all represented through visual displays and food, with visitors traveling to different cultures to taste Irish soda bread, Chinese dumplings, and Italian cookies. 'It was a very exciting event between the food, Portuguese dancing and information the students presented,' Mrs. Badillo, the event organizer and school counselor, said. All Valley Road School students had the opportunity to visit each booth the following day.

Max Sichel of Mountainside; and Victor Yu of New Providence.

The list recognizes full-time students who maintain grade-point averages of a minimum of 3.50 out of a possible 4.0 and have no grades below C. Founded in 1824, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute is located in Troy, N.Y.

Marta Sliwa, a resident of Linden, has recently been named to the dean's list at Boston University.

Each school and college at Boston University has their own criteria for the dean's list, but students generally must attain a 3.5 grade-point average on a 4.0 scale, or be in the top 30 percent of their class, as well as a full course load as a full time student.

Founded in 1839, Boston University is located in Boston, Mass.

BRINGING HISTORY TO LIFE -Students in Mrs. Tamburino's fourth grade class at the Frank K. Hehnly School in Clark recently researched, wrote about and dressed up as a historical figure to present an oral report. 'This lesson was a great opportunity for students to immerse themselves in history as figures who left their marks on the world,' Tamburino said. 'Not only did students utilize their research and writing skills, but they incorporated their speaking and listening skills through their presentations."

STUDENTS OF THE MONTH – Congratulations to the Linden Soehl Middle School February Students of the Month. Pictured with Principal Joseph Picaro, holding their student of the month awards, are sixth-graders Michael Granillo and Tatiana Burke; seventh-graders Anthony Asante-Danso and Tahirah Kelley; and eighth-graders Syrus Casanas and Tiajah Elliot.

SURPRISE FOR STUDENTS — On Monday, Feb. 22, students from Dr. Charles C. Polk Elementary School in Roselle visited the Statehouse in Trenton and had a surprise visit from Roselle Assemblyman Jamel C. Holley, who greeted them on their tour. A graduate of Polk himself, Holley gave the students a tour of the Assembly Democratic Caucus Room, also known as the 'War Room.' 'Hosting the Polk Elementary students and helping them to understand state and local government was an absolute honor for me,' Holley said.

SCIENCE TRIP — On Wednesday, Feb. 24, the fourth grade gifted and talented students from Roosevelt School in Rahway took a field trip to the Liberty Science Center to tour the Titanic exhibit, which featured more than 100 authentic artifacts in replicas of cabins and other areas of the famous ship. Upon entering the exhibition, students were drawn back in time to April 1912, when the ship embarked on its maiden voyage. They received a replica boarding pass, assumed the role of a passenger, and followed a chronological journey through life on the Titanic. Pictured are Anisha Subramanie and Mariel Woodson.

ELIZABETH NEWS

Elizabeth schools recognized by College Board The Gaston Caperton Honor Roll recognizes school districts for creating expanded

The Gaston Caperton Honor Roll recognizes school districts for creating expanded opportunities to higher education for traditionally underrepresented students by providing them with rigorous academic offerings and innovative college-preparation programs. Districts on the honor roll demonstrate significant and consistent growth in the number of underrepresented and low-income students taking college-level courses and applying to four or more colleges.

The College Board identified selected school districts by analyzing multiple data sets. School districts included had to demonstrate an increase in the number of underrepresented students who took the SAT and an AP course and exam, were on-track for college by scoring a 1550 or higher on the SAT or who scored a 3 or higher on an AP exam.

"Creating equity, setting high expectations, and achieving excellence is at the center of education at the Elizabeth Public Schools," said Elizabeth Public Schools Superintendent Olga Hugelmeyer. "We believe that all students can learn and achieve at high levels regardless of race, ethnicity, culture, neighborhood, household income, or home language, and I am proud that we have received a recognition validating that belief."

Elizabeth Board of Education President Charlene Bathelus said, "It is our goal to provide a quality education for all students. Appearing among only 130 districts in the entire country on this honor roll shows that we are making a great effort."

SUDOKU

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

HOROSCOPE

ARIES, March 21 to April 20

You presently ought to find yourself better able than usual to say exactly what's on your mind, with clarity and precision

TAURUS, April 21 to May 21

There are plenty of smaller to-do items directly or indirectly related to whatever issue(s) you shouldn't talk about which you can prudently and unobtrusively handle.

GEMINI, May 22 to June 21

Don't neglect to properly acknowledge any personal preferences or proclivities which may be just as important to your ultimate happiness than scoring a goal or winning anyone else's favor.

CANCER, June 22 to July 22

Remember those little things you used to derive so much personal, private bliss from? Revisit 'em, and see if they just might still sing to you.

LEO, July 23 to Aug. 23

You simply must be willing to look right under your nose, instead of too singlemindedly gazing out at the farthest horizon in hopes that's where the good times await you.

VIRGO, Aug. 24 to Sept. 22

You're trying to strike the appropriate balance between unapologetic self-interest and honorable interpersonal consideratenessand this is not as easy a piece of personal work as it sounds.

LIBRA, Sept. 23 to Oct. 23

You presently wield a superb capacity to address another individual in exactly the sort of language most likely to 'speak to them'.

SCORPIO, Oct. 24 to Nov. 22

To truly embrace the mystical wisdom of this special moment, you must also leave an open window for that which hasn't yet been identified, understood, or nailed down into tangible existence.

SAGITTARIUS, Nov. 23 to Dec. 21

Take the attitudinal temperature of those friends or allies likely to hold a relevant opinion on your latest moves.

CAPRICORN, Dec. 22 to Jan. 20

You may be totally justified in whatever irked, unruly, and/or antagonistic response you feel, given whatever thoughtless behavior or offensive platform someone else has thrust into your sphere-of-consciousness.

AQUARIUS, Jan. 21 to Feb. 18

You are allowed to let your heart roam a bit ahead into the future, especially if you need that occasional prophetic glimpse to keep your life-enthusiasms up.

PISCES, Feb. 19 to March 20

Chances are that whatever developments occur now will work to your advantage.

OUR HISTORY — The NJ Sea Grant Consortium visits third-graders at Linden School No. 1 for a discussion of the Lenape Indians and how they lived in New Jersey. From left, Christian Campo, Lindsay Bernero, Theresa Jonas, Glenn Allen and Al Avizius take part in the program, presented by Rose Higgins and Al Avizius. Students learned how the Lenape utilized the coast's natural resources, how they ate, dressed, hunted, fished, and created tools used to build fires. In a handson demonstration, students drilled holes using sticks and clam shells, and learned how to build fires with cedar planks and mullein sticks.

FRENCH COOKING — Linden's McManus Middle School French teacher Danie Orelien-Armstead collaborated with award-winning television producer and longtime Linden resident Sonia Armstead-Pittman and Councilwoman Gretchen Hickey, to bring the French unit on food to life with a French cultural cooking show. Hickey, whose son is in the class, provided the use of her kitchen as the stage area for the cooking show, allowing students to showcase the skills learned in class. Here, Kenneth Velarde, Patrick Hickey, Rodrigo Lisboa and Armstead-Pittman work as a team to make some French bread with bleu cheese melt.

A GREAT LEADER — New Linden High School Vice Principal David Walker has set out to lead by example as a 'servant leader' and has lately been making surprise appearances in various history classes. This month Walker stepped into the law and government class to deliver a lesson on the Dred Scott case, and also has plans to guest teach in Michael Pekosz's classroom to help students learn iMovie. Walker also co-teaches an AP U.S. history class and continues to build bridges between teachers and the school administration.

released on her own recognizance pending a court date.

March 12: At 3:19 p.m. police took a report of a burglary on Westfield Avenue. The incident is under investigation.

March 13: At 11:04 a.m. police arrested Kenneth Velez, 24, of Piscataway for shoplifting merchandise valued at $188.90 from the ShopRite Supermarket on Central Avenue. He was subsequently released on his own recognizance pending a court date.

March 13: At 11:23 a.m. police took a report of criminal mischief to a motor vehicle parked on Central Avenue. The incident is under investigation.

Kenilworth

March 13: At 2:55 p.m. the Kenilworth Police Department received a report of a motor vehicle crash on Galloping Hill Road and Washington Avenue. The crash sent both drivers to UMDNJ Hospital in Newark with injuries. One driver is 6 months pregnant and was admitted with serious injuries. As a result of the investigation, the driver of the other vehicle, Kaelin Infante, 20, of Union was arrested for driving while intoxicated and charged with assault by auto. She was later released pending a court hearing. Detectives obtained a search warrant for the arrestee's blood and are awaiting analysis for the presence of suspected controlled dangerous substances, according to police reports. Roselle Park

March 16: At approximately 8:06 a.m., police conducted a pedestrian stop on E. Westfield Avenue with Arben Ismajli, 37, of Roselle Park. He was arrested for an outstanding traffic warrant he was known to have out of Kenilworth Municipal Court for $1,000. A search incident to arrest revealed that Ismajli was allegedly in possession of heroin. He was processed and his bail was set at $5,000. He was unable to post bail and was lodged into the Union County Jail.

Linden

• March 18: At 11:35 a.m. Linden officers responded to Franklin Drive on a report of a suspicious man going ringing doorbells in the area. Arriving at the scene, the officers were directed to nearby Jersey Lanes. where they discovered Merino, 41, coming out of the men's room. While one officer was questioning him, another officer went into the bathroom where he reportedly discovered a plastic shopping bag in a stall that contained a pillowcase filled with cash and jewelry. Merino was found to have a contempt warrant out of Hillside and was placed under arrest. Detectives arrived on the scene and found a name in the bag of a resident on Essex Avenue. At the house, police allegedly found a broken glass pane in a front door and several rooms which appeared to have been ransacked. Through their investigation, they linked Merino to the burglary and charged him with burglary, theft, and criminal mischief; he was held on $75,000 bail at the Union County Jail pending a court date.

• March 20: At 3:57 p.m. police responded to Target on a report of a shoplifting. Loss prevention officers told police that they observed Tara M. Lassandro, 39, of Perth Amboy place 24 containers of Enfamil baby formula into a 20-gallon tote and attempt to leave the store without paying for the items. She was arrested for shoplifting and held on $2,500 bail, pending a court date.

ANNOUNCEMENTS Scholarships available through Beverly Jeanne Welsh Scholarship Fund

Applications for the Beverly Jeanne Welsh Scholarship Fund will be available through the guidance offices at Kent Place School, Oak Knoll School and Summit High School beginning April 1. The scholarship is open to young women who demonstrate financial need, are permanent residents of Summit and who currently attend or have graduated from one of these Summit high schools. It is available to students who will either enter college this fall, are currently enrolled as undergraduates, or who have completed an undergraduate degree and are seeking assistance for graduate or professional study.

Administered through Kent Place School, the scholarship will grant awards to local young women demonstrating the qualities valued by Kent Place: academic excellence, leadership, service to the community, citizenship and character.

A $1 million bequest from the estate of longtime Summit resident Evelyn Welsh endowed the Beverly Jeanne Welsh Scholarship Fund that provides the funds for the scholarships. The Welsh Scholarship Fund, which also provides financial aid for Kent Place students, honors the memory of Mrs. Welsh's daughter Beverly Jeanne, a 1952 graduate of Kent Place School.

Scholarship decisions are made by a selection committee that includes Jennifer Simpson, director of college advising at Kent Place School; Kent Place School Board President Jay McGraw; Laura Kaplan, director of guidance at Summit High School; and Kathleen Skiff, director of college counseling at Oak Knoll School of the Holy Child. Young women interested in applying for the scholarship should contact a member of the selection committee from their high school. Completed applications must be postmarked or returned to the applicant's guidance office by April 25. The selection committee will meet in May and decisions will be announced by June 10.

For more information, call 908-273-0900, ext. 275 or email simpsonj@kentplace.org.

CALENDAR Summit library to close for Easter on March 27

The Summit Free Public Library will be closed Sunday, March 27, for Easter. Library hours are Monday through Thursday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Friday and Saturday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Sunday, 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. The drive-up book drops located by the Cedar Street entrance are open 24/7 for the returns of all materials, including magazines, videos and compact disks. No overdue fines are charged for days when the library is closed. The library is located at 75 Maple St. on the corner of Morris Avenue. For more information, call 908-273-0350 or visit the website and catalogue at www.summitlibrary.org.

Summit Old Guard to meet March 29

Horace Corbin, owner of Watchung Communications and publisher of various local newspapers, including the Westfield Leader, will speak at 10:30 a.m. at the Tuesday, March 29 meeting of the Summit Old Guard at the New Providence Municipal Center, 360 Elkwood Ave., New Providence. A coffee hour starts at 9:15 a.m., followed by a 10 a.m. business meeting.

Corbin will discuss "Local and Regional Media: Their Present Situation and Future Possibilities." It's no secret that the print media has suffered mightily from the advent of the Internet. How long can the print medium survive and what will it look like in the days ahead? Corbin will present his views regarding the present state and future directions of local and regional media publishing with data compiled by the Westfield Leader, a 121-year-old business, as a model for analysis.

All active men age 50 and older are invited to attend the Old Guard's regular Tuesday morning meetings. Old Guard members participate in sports, bridge, hikes, trips, plays, concerts and other cultural events. Call Jim Hewitt at 908-233-5507 for more information or visit www.summitoldguard.org.

Attend a workshop about Summit library databases beginning March 31

The Summit Free Public Library will conduct a series of workshops called "You've Got Questions: We've Got Answers" to orient the public to subscription databases that the library provides free to its patrons. Patrons may take any or all of the workshop sessions.

• "Resources for Everyday Living" will be held in the library on Thursday, March 31. Need a product evaluation from Consumer Reports? Want to look up a medical condition or prescription drug? Or want a local newspaper article? Come with individual questions and librarians will show how to find the answers.

• "Feeling Stuck: There's a Tool for that: Jump-start your Career" will be held in the library on Thursday, April 21, and cover job and career database resources.

• "Get down to Business: Expand Your Customer Base" will cover business resources for sales, marketing and business growth.

All workshops are from 7 to 8 p.m. and are free and open to the public. Registration is required as space is limited. To register, call 908-273-0350, ext. 3. Details about upcoming programs can be found at www.summitlibrary.org. The Summit Free Public Library is located at 75 Maple St.

If you have your finger on the pulse of food trends, this dish is ubiquitous! Funny enough, I have been making a Spanish version of the tomato-based dish Shakshuka for years but discovered on my recent trip to Israel that it is a very common dish there as well. It has become famous here because of the Jerusalem Cookbook but here is a simplified version I created that can be whipped up at a moment's notice. I like it for breakfast, lunch or dinner. Enjoy!

Shakshuka

Ingredients

8 eggs, more if you like
2 28-oz. cans tomato sauce
2 Tbs. olive oil
2 onions, chopped
7 large garlic cloves, minced
2 cups cooked chick peas
2 tsp. cumin
2 tsp. ground coriander
1 1/2 tsp. salt
Steps

In a large frying pan over medium heat, heat up the olive oil.

Add in the chopped onions and saute for about 10 minutes until they are translucent. Add in the minced garlic and stir, making sure not to let them burn. About 3 to 5 minutes.

Add in the cans of tomato, stir and simmer the sauce for abut 10 to 15 minutes.

Add in the cumin, coriander, salt and simmer a few more minutes while stirring.

Very carefully, make little dents in the sauce and crack the eggs all around the top layer of the sauce.

Cover with a lid to expedite the cooking of the eggs but keep a close eye so that the yolks don't get too hard. Serve with sliced, fresh bread.

*Does not include pension and social security paid by the State on-behalf of the district.  Federal and State funds in the blended resource school-based budgets.

The information presented in columns 1 through 3 as well as the related descriptions of the per pupil cost calculations are contained in the Taxpayers Guide to Education Spending (formerly Comparative Spending Guide) and can be found on the Department of Education website: http://www.state.nj.us/education/guide/. This publication is also available in the board office and public libraries. The same calculations were performed using the 2015-16 revised appropriations and the 2016-17 budgeted appropriations presented in this advertised budget. Total Budgetary Comparative Per Pupil Cost is defined as current expense exclusive of tuition expenditures, transportation, residential costs, and judgments against the school district. For all years it also includes the restricted entitlement aids. With the exception of Total Equipment Cost, each of the other per pupil cost calculations presented is a component of the total comparative per pupil cost, although all components are not shown

Linden boys' basketball has a whole lot to be proud of Reaches TOC title game, nets 25 victories

By JR Parachini Sports Editor

TRENTON – Playing from behind was probably the first thing Linden wrote down that it did not want to have to do against favored St. Anthony.

Not only did St. Anthony make the game's first shot – a basket from the left side – but the Friars jumped out to a quick five-point lead.

That advantage grew to eight after the first eight minutes.

To Linden's credit, the Tigers came right back and whiscored St. Anthony in the second quarter to trail by only four at intermission.

Seeking to continue its comeback, Linden was derailed in the third quarter, failing to score double digits while St. Anthony really began to take control.

After Linden cut its deficit to 10 again, St. Anthony senior guard Asante Gist came right back to produce a 3-pointer that put the Friars up 13 going into the final quarter.

St. Anthony remained in total control in the fourth, with Gist hitting another 3-pointer to put the Friars ahead by 16 with less than five-and-a-half minutes remaining.

No matter what Linden did St. Anthony had an answer for it.

That's always – except for just one game – been the case in the Tournament of Champions.

Top-seeded St. Anthony went on to produce a dominant – almost leading from start to finish – 55-38 win over third-seeded Linden in Monday night's 28th annual boys' basketball Tournament of Champions championship game at Sun National Bank Center.

In the girls' TOC final that took place first, Non-Public, A state champion and top-seeded St. John Vianney of Holmdel defeated Group 2 state champ and third-seeded Manasquan 65-58 in double overtime. St. John Vianney has now won the most girls' TOC titles with seven.

Defending champion Manasquan, playing in the final for the third straight season and for the fourth time in the last five, was seeking its third TOC title.

Non-Public, B state champion St. Anthony finished 32-0 and captured its first TOC title since 2012. The Friars have won the most with 13 and are now 13-1 in the championship game in 14 TOC appearances.

St. Anthony's TOC overall record is 28-1, including a 25-game winning streak. The only loss the Friars suffered in TOC play was in the 1990 final to Elizabeth, which was the first of only four public school teams to win the event.

SPORTS

Linden won the Group 4 state championship for the fifth time overall and for the second time in three seasons. The Tigers saw a 25-6 season come to a close Monday night in Trenton as they fell to St. Anthony of Jersey City 55-38 in the Tournament of Champions championship game.

Tigers, Group 4 state champions, among best

Group 4 state champion Linden had an eight-game winning streak snapped and finished another fine season at 25-6. Unfortunately for the Tigers, their fifth Group 4 state championship season had to end in a loss in the TOC and for the third time to a parochial school.

Linden was appearing in its second TOC final and first in 10 years. The Tigers are now 5-5 in TOC play after winning two TOC games for the second time.

Camden in 2000 remains the last public school team to win the TOC.

St. Anthony head coach Bob Hurley has now guided the Friars to undefeated seasons eight times during his 44 seasons at the helm. His previous two TOC championship teams 2011 (31-0) and 2012 (32-0) were has last undefeated squads prior to this season.

When a team with very little expectations goes 25-6, reaches the Union County Tournament semifinals, wins the North 2, Group 4 sectional state championship for the fourth straight season and then wins the Group 4 state championship for the fifth time since 2000 and for the second time in three years, much is to be applauded.

Throw in the fact that Linden won two TOC games, including topping one-loss Non-Public, A state champion St. Augustine in the semifinals. Linden was the underdog against St. Augustine as it was against a senior-laden St. Anthony squad.

It might have been too much to ask Linden to have beaten both St. Augustine and St. Anthony back-to-back, but the Tigers were up to the task, gave it their best shot, and came away with a victory against one of those two very formidable foes.

Gist, who played on Roselle Catholic's 2013 TOC championship team three years ago as a freshman on the same court when the Lions downed St. Joseph's, Metuchen and junior Karl-Anthony Towns 65-49, led all scorers with a solid 16-point performance. Gist also became the first player to play on two different TOC championship teams.

Junior guard-forward Khalief Crawford paced Linden with a 13-point effort, while talented sophomore guard Tavon Jones, still with two big years ahead of him, poured in 12 for the Tigers.

After trailing 12-4 following the first eight minutes, Linden - which played its best basketball of the night in the second quarter - quickly cut the lead to three at 12-9, starting with a 3-pointer from Jones.

Behind two 3-pointers from junior point guard Joey Krempa and a free throw from reserve senior forward Fritz Moncion that capped an 8-4 Linden run, the Tigers managed to even the score at 16-16.

St. Anthony answered by scoring the final four points of the first half, including a 3-pointer at the buzzer by Gist, who proved clutch with his outside shooting for most of the contest.

St. Anthony began the fourth quarter with a 13-point lead and never looked back. The biggest Friar lead was 18 at 53-35 following a basket by junior guard R.J. Cole, who finished with 11 points. Also scoring in double digits for St. Anthony were senior guard Jagan Mosely and senior forward Idris Joyner, both netting 10 points.

Gist finished with a game-high four 3-pointers, while Crawford produced three for Linden.

The Tigers, who made 29 free throws against Atlantic City in their 54-45 Group 4 championship game win at Rutgers, were held to just two made free throws against St. Anthony Linden did not lose to a public school team this season and has only one loss to a public school team the past two seasons - last year's Group 4 semifinal loss to Paterson Eastside.

SPRING SEASON COMMENCES ON APRIL 1

The spring sports season is just a week away, commencing around the state of New Jersey on Friday, April 1.

No fooling.

For Union County baseball, the Union County Conference four-division alignment remains the same.

Cranford and Governor Live ingston tied for the Watchung Division championship a year ago, both 8-2 overall and 1-1 vs. each other.

GL also captured its third Group 2 state championhip when the Highlanders defeated Bernards 10-4 in the final played at Toms River South High School.

Johnson, Dayton and Union Catholic all finished 5-3 and tied for first in the Mountain Division, while Roselle Park won the Valley Division at a perfect 8-0 and Rahway the Sky Division at a perfect 7-0.

GL and Johnson were cochamps in the Watchung Division for Union County Conference softball, both 11-1.

Rahway won the Mountain Division at 10-2 and Benedictine Academy captured the Valley Division at 13-1.

This year, the conference is aligned with four divisions, including the Sky Division.
